March 18, 2003

1. Budget Priorities Update

Committee reviewed budget requests and responses from city agencies. To give feedback to the agencies which were the following:

Afterschool- CSD 3 provides a Project Read program that is vital to students in grades 1st-5th and several other enriched programs that are of no cost to parents. Having these funds increased and maintain are crucial for student achievement. Based on the new federal law, No Child Left Behind, mandates that eligible children are mandated to receive educational support systems which take place afterschool. These funds must come from the district office.

Day Care Slots-We must continue lobby aggressively to maintain the current funding and not accept budget cuts. Early childhood education is a must for our CB7 families.

Head Start at PS 191-We need to keep pressure on Albany and Wash. DC to receive adequate funding to keep quality head start programs like PS 191 where more seats are needed.

2. DYCP Meeting on Jan. 22nd

The Joint Planning Committee held the meeting with Commission Jeanne B. Mullgrav and CB member from all over the city. An update was given about the Youth Development and Delinquency Prevention (YDDP) Request for Proposal. It was explained that focus groups, hearings and surveys were used in the process of forming/creating the RFPS'. A presentation about a new web site for the DYCD was demonstrated and will be ready by the fall.

3. CSD 3 Middle Schools

The Dept. of Education has granted District 3 to keep the middle school choice admissions policy that has been in place for over ten years and has been very successful. However, we are still face with more applicants than seats for the 2003-2004 year. What happens also is during the summer the district receives "over the counter student", families who move into our community and seek placement for a middle school seat. This population accounts for about 10-15% of applicants. With the District #3 office closing in June. Parents will now have to travel to 4360 Broadway at 187th Street to the new Region 10 office for serves.

4. West Side YMCA

Starting a new program with the Dept. Of Education called New Direction in which students from Park West HS will be busses to the Y to take classes in Leadership. On March 5 the Y and many of their students went to Albany to visit and lobby elected representatives.

1. 97th St Greenmarket between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues - Application for Street Activity Permit to operate on Fridays between April 3 to December 26, 2003. No opposition, general feeling of approval of this market were expressed. A resolution to approve this application was passed by the committee by a vote of Committee: 6-0-0-0 Public Members: 0-0-0-1.
2. Application #1129553 to construct and operate a newsstand adjacent to the subway entrance on the west side of Broadway between W.93rd and W.94th streets. This newsstand was configured narrower in depth than usual and wider in width to give enough area to operate to address the peculiarities of its position next to the subway entrance. A decision by the committee was deferred until prior to the full board meeting at which time the applicant would provide a rendering of the look of the proposed newsstand.
3. Frederick Douglass Circle reconstruction - speaking were Ed Benson from Central Park Conservancy, Savilla Jackson - Algernon Miller - Gabriel Koren who presented the project. A complete presentation of the design of the circle was presented. The design followed the alignment of the existing streets, gave a radius of 138 feet to allow 3 lanes of traffic around the circle, and included a traffic light plan to allow a phasing of signals, allowing a pedestrian only phase to allow pedestrians to move safely across the circle. Concerns were raised about traffic's ability to navigate the lanes to safely make needed turns. There were also concerns about traffic congestion increasing at this location. Residents of the Towers on the Park building on the NW corner of this intersection were most concerned with the reduction of the sidewalk area in front of their building and its effect on their ability to load and unload from the front of their building, a practice that has been common since the building was constructed. The Dept of Design and Construction considered many alternatives but there was no way to construct this circle in a different position or to narrow the street portion of the circle and still comply with street construction requirements. The location of the bus stop was moved westward down W.110 St to allow a spot where loading could be done but it is farther from the building than the old practice directly in front of the building. The committee felt all alternatives had been explored and the current design was the best plan that could be made for this location. The committee felt that after construction, some degree of flexibility in enforcement during non-rush hour periods could help accommodate the needs of the Towers residents. Regarding the design of the park within the circle, generally the design was well received. The primary concern expressed was that about the wall in the park and concerns for safety because of sight lines blocked by the wall. A resolution to approve the design was proposed and passed by a vote of Committee: 5-0-0-0 Non-committee board members: 1-0-0-0 Public Members: 3-0-0-0.
4. Jewish Community Center - 334 Amsterdam Ave. - application to DOT to install planters and a bike rack on the west side of Amsterdam Ave in front of the building and on the south side of W.76 St. on the side of the building. Neil Strandberg and Michitaka Yamaguchi presenting for JCC. Purpose of project is security to guard against a vehicle being intentionally driven into the building. Planters are 3ft deep by 6 ft wide by 3 ft high and weigh 6000 pounds each. They are positioned with 4 ft between each planter (slightly less on W.76 St.). Planters are positioned

2 ½ ft from the curb (rather than the usual regulatory 1 ½ ft) to allow the passenger doors of parked vehicles to open for exit. Planters will have evergreen shrubs growing about 1 ft high in each planter. One planter is positioned across part of the Amsterdam Ave. sidewalk at the south end of the JCC frontage as recommended by DOT to address the vulnerability imposed by the wide Amsterdam Ave. sidewalk. Directly north of that planter is a bike rack where pedestrian flow for that portion of the sidewalk is blocked by the planter. Since pedestrian flow was already blocked for that part of the sidewalk, the committee suggested adding 1 or 2 additional bike racks in that location as could be practically worked into the space. The committee also asked if additional lighting could be provided outside the building along Amsterdam Avenue since there is only one cobra type street lamp at the corner and this plan would preclude adding additional street lamps at the curb. The JCC agreed to look into providing some type of lighting on the building exterior. The committee passed a resolution approving this plan asking that the lighting be improved by a vote of Committee: 5-0-0-0 Non-Committee Board: 0-0-0-1 Public Members: 3-0-0-0.

5. 2nd Ave subway - With the Long Island Railroad eastside access to Grand Central Terminal scheduled to open in 2012, depositing many more passengers on the Lexington Ave subway line, the committee recognizes the need to plan and build for future transportation needs on the east side of Manhattan and passed a resolution supporting the building of the 2nd Ave subway by a vote of Committee: 5-0-0-0 Non-Committee Board: 0-0-0-1 Public Members: 3-0-0-0.

1. Presentation by KC Sahl, Administrator, Riverside Park.

Mr. Sahl presented photographs and diagrams of the adult equipment at 105th Street in Riverside Park. The equipment, which is being paid for by a private donor, Dorlene Kaplan, comprises “travel rings,” which are comparable to those used in a park in Santa Monica, CA. In addition, Mr. Sahl announced there would be a new concession operator for Hudson Beach Café.

2. Presentation of “The Gates of Central Park” by artists Christo and Jeanne- Claude

Presentation included photographs, diagrams and discussion of funding by the artists, as well as materials being used, research regarding environmental impact and length of time for exhibit.

The exhibit is scheduled to run for 16 days in February 2005. The artwork is being fabricated in 12-foot by 8-foot wide orange panels made up of strong nylon material. The exhibit, which will span the stone walls and gates of Central Park, will stand 16-feet high, affixed seven feet above the ground with poles made up of five-inch vinyl used in horse corrals that are able to withstand heavy winds and inclement weather. The artists’ engineer, Vince Davenport, attested to the minimal environmental impact of the design, citing the findings of an ornithologist hired by the artists.

The New York City Department of Parks and Central Park Conservancy have approved the project and there was no vote, nor resolution regarding same.

Rebuttals by members of the Sierra Club were made during the public session and included comments by Charles Lyman, Edgar Freud, Margaret Young and Diane Buybaum. Sierra Club member Olive Freud’s complaint concerned her dislike of the design and disagreement with the aesthetic validity of the artwork.

As with previous projects, the artists are raising money through the sales of their initial sketches, but will not receive funds through the commercial or retail sales of collateral materials.

3. Specialty Carts, West 72nd Street and West 87th Street Dog Runs

The Department of Parks put out an RFP to prospective vendors at various sites, three of which are in the CB7 district. No vendors responded to proposals for 72nd Street and 87th Street adjacent to the respective dog runs. There is no word as yet on the cart at Tucker Park.

1. Presentation by KC Sahl, Administrator, Riverside Park.

Mr. Sahl presented photographs and diagrams of the adult equipment at 105th Street in Riverside Park. The equipment, which is being paid for by a private donor, Dorlene Kaplan, comprises “travel rings,” which are comparable to those used in a park in Santa Monica, CA. The equipment in the California park was originally installed in the 1930’s and has since been upgraded. In addition, Mr. Sahl announced there would be a new concession operator for Hudson Beach Café.

2. Presentation of “The Gates of Central Park” by artists Christo and Jeanne- Claude

Presentation included photographs, diagrams and discussion of funding by the artists, as well as materials being used, research regarding environmental impact and length of time for exhibit.

The exhibit is scheduled to run for 16 days in February 2005. The artwork is being fabricated in 12-foot by 8-foot wide orange panels made up of strong nylon material. The exhibit, which will span the stone walls and gates of Central Park, will stand 16-feet high, affixed seven feet above the ground with poles made up of five-inch vinyl used in horse corrals that are able to withstand heavy winds and inclement weather. The artists’ engineer, Vince Davenport, attested to the minimal environmental impact of the design, citing the findings of an ornithologist hired by the artists.

The New York City Department of Parks and Central Park Conservancy have approved the project and there was no vote, nor resolution regarding same.

Rebuttals by members of the Sierra Club were made during the public session and included comments by Charles Lyman, Edgar Freud, Margaret Young and Diane Buybaum. Sierra Club member Olive Freud’s complaint concerned her dislike of the design and disagreement with the aesthetic validity of the artwork.

As with previous projects, the artists are raising money through the sales of their initial sketches, but will not receive funds through the commercial or retail sales of collateral materials.
