2025 CoC Program NOFO - Next Steps

On December 8th, HUD officially withdrew the 2025 CoC Program NOFO. While this withdrawal gives us a moment to pause and reassess, we do not want to lose momentum in planning for how the NYC CoC can position itself to submit the strongest possible application once the revised NOFO is released. Please review the updated guidance and resources below.

Mental Health Resource Tool Kit

- When HUD issues a new NOFO, the NYC CoC will release an updated Intent to Renew survey to reconfirm each project's interest in participating.
- Our immediate focus will shift toward existing CoC-funded projects with contract end dates in Quarter 1 of 2026 (January–March).
- We encourage all renewal projects to continue internal contingency planning.

New Projects (including transition projects)

- The NYC CoC has confirmed receipt of all submitted new project applications and will begin reviewing and providing feedback in the coming weeks.
- If you are still working on a new project application, you now have until Tuesday, January 6th. However, we recommend submitting as early as possible to allow time for full review and substantive feedback. Extensions will be considered upon request.
- Once HUD issues a revised NOFO, the NYC CoC will share updated guidance on how applicants can strengthen their proposals in alignment with any new priorities.

The NYC CoC is excited to share the Tool Kit: Companion to Your Recovery, a resource guide for outpatient mental health resources compiled by the Patient-Family Advisory Council (PFAC) of the Payne Whitney Clinic of New York-Presbyterian Hospital (NYP). The PFAC consists of patients, family members, staff, and faculty of Payne Whitney, the psychiatric department of NYP.

The Tool Kit is a comprehensive directory of resources and information that anyone recovering from a mental illness can utilize. It originated due to the perceived lack of outpatient resources for patients facing mental health challenges.

We hope you will share the Tool Kit with program staff and participants in your agency! For more information, please email chw9025@nyp.org.
