NEW YORK CITY WATER BOARD
NYC Water Board Meeting
10/15/20

1 [START RECORDING]

2 MR. ALBERT RODRIGUEZ: I'm gonna call, call
3 the roll now, and then after I call the role, 4 I'm just gonna make a short statement on, ,
5 taking votes from the board members for action 6 items so they're on the agenda today. Taking 7 the role, Chairman Carnie?

8 CHAIRMAN ALFONSO J. CARNIE: I am present.

9 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Carolina.

10 DR. DEMETRIUS CAROLINA: Present.

11 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez-Ketcham?

12 MS. EVELYN FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: I'm here.

13 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed?

14 MR. ADAM FREED: Present.

15 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin?

16 MR. JONATHAN E. GOLDIN: Present.

17 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Hsu? Member, member 18 Shaw?

19 MS. ARLENE M. SHAW: Present.

20 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Okay. Thank you. Mr.
21 Chair, we have a quorum for the meeting. Uh, 22 going forward for the action items on the 23 agenda, the protocol which I believe which 24 is best for us today is when we take, a vote for 25 action items, that each, member be called by

1 name to, to get their vote.

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Al, I was going 3 to suggest it. It's a great idea. Uh, it's 4 probably the easiest way to get it done. the 5 first item on the agenda, may I? Is it--

6 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yeah. We have a quorum.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: - -

8 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yeah, we have a quorum.

9 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: No, no that's it. Thank 10 you. We have, uh, two, two quick items. We 11 have minutes from the meeting of May 22 and 12 minutes from the meeting of June 19. We're 13 going to vote them separately. You've had a 14 chance to look at them. Thank you, Omar, for 15 getting all these things out to us. The May 16 22nd meeting, are there any, questions about 17 those minutes? Hearing none, , may I have a 18 motion, please, to approve.

19 MR. FREED: This is Adam. So moved.

20 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Adam. And the 21 second was from?

22 MR. DR. CAROLINA: : Carolina.

23 MS. SHAW: Arlene. Sorry.

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay. Al, you'll, you'll 25 figure that out. I will ask, Al, that you, uh,

1 poll the members.

2 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Mr. Member Carolina, how 3 do you vote?

4 DR. CAROLINA: Aye.

5 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez Ketcham,
6 how do you vote?

7 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Aye.

8 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed, how do you
9 vote?

10 MR. FREED: Aye.

11 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin, how do you
12 vote?

13 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

14 MR. RODRIGUEZ: And Member Shaw, how do you
15 vote?

16 MS. SHAW: Aye.

17 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Okay, thank you. Mr.
18 Chairman that motion was approved.

19 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, and 20 unanimously.

21 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes.

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: And the minutes of the 23 June 19th meeting are the next agenda item.
24 You've had a chance to take a look at those.
25 Are there any suggestions for revisions or?

1 Hearing none, may I have a motion, please, to 2 approve them.

3 MR. GOLDIN: So moved, Jon Goldin.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thanks, John. Is there a
5 second?

6 MR. FREED: This is Adam. I second it.

7 MS. SHAW: Second, Arlene Shaw.

8 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Adam, thank you very much.
9 Mr. Rodriguez, would you then poll the members?

10 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes, sir. Member Carolina,
11 how do you vote?

12 DR. CAROLINA: Aye.

13 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez-Ketcham,
14 how do you vote?

15 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Aye.

16 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed, how do you
17 vote?

18 MR. FREED: Aye.

19 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin, how do you
20 vote?

21 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

22 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Shaw, how do you
23 vote?

24 MS. SHAW: Aye.

25 MR. RODRIGUEZ: And Chairman Carney, how do

1 you vote on this resolution for approval?

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Aye.

3 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes that, that motion is 4 unanimately approved, Mr. Chairman.

5 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Terrific. Thank you. The 6 next agenda item, and Omar, I'm sorry, is the 7 Commissioner with us?

8 COMMISSIONER VINCENT SAPIENZA: I am, yes.

9 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Commissioner, how are you?
10 It's good to have you!

11 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: Chairman Carney, 12 it's good to be here. Thank you. This is - - 13 here.

14 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: There is, the next agenda
15 item is a presentation. It's the financial 16 update covering fiscal years 2020 and 2021. I
17 know that Joseph is with us. I haven't heard 18 Jeff Lynch yet. Are you there?

19 MR. JEFF LYNCH: Yeah, I'm here.

20 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Outstanding. Then you all 21 have the floor, and thank you very much all 22 three of you for being here.

23 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: Thank you. So, I
24 guess, Chair Carney, I'll get started, so good 25 morning, and good morning to all the board

1 members. Hope everyone is doing as well as can 2 be expected. I'll start the presentation, give 3 a bit of an overview where FY20 landed and our 4 current FY21 status and then turn it over to the 5 team to get into detail, so I guess this is 6 slide two, Omar, we're on.

7 MR. OMAR NAZEM: Okay.

8 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: So, where things 9 stand, in general, some hopeful signs, but 10 uncertainty still remains. System revenues for 11 Fiscal Year 20 in total and FY21 to date have 12 been steadier than expected, and the city is 13 incrementally reopening for business and 14 schools, though, you know, normal patterns of 15 activity are still likely aways away. We've all 16 seen in recent weeks some of the recent clusters
17 in Brooklyn and Queens that have shut things 18 down, so we're not expecting things to get back 19 to normal for a while. Operating capital
20 expenses for fiscal 20 were both below budget, 21 as we tightened our belt a bit, and again, 22 despite the encouraging signs, there's still 23 reason for caution, and risks remain on the 24 horizon. We'll go to slide three now, and I'll 25 just talk a bit about DEP's response during the

1 pandemic. So, since March, water and waste
2 water operations have been running normally.
3 There's been no impact to the quality or 4 quantity of the drinking water, or to the 5 availability of waste water treatment. The 6 majority of our workforce has been reporting to 7 their field assignments each day, and we've been 8 using social distancing and PPE, and for our 9 support staff, we've been using remote work
10 arrangements, which still remain in effect. DEP 11 is subject to the city-wide hiring pause and 12 furlough policy. It is not currently subject to 13 the possibility of changes to the size of its 14 workforce that performs functions funded by 15 utility revenues. Still, the city is looking at 16 all aspects of cost structure, and guidance from 17 the city could change in the coming months. As 18 mentioned earlier, the agency is implementing 19 expense savings and efficiencies. Cash 20 management procedures are in place to contain 21 discretionary expenditures during FY21, and we 22 have been discussing with our environmental 23 regulators whether portions of mandated capital 24 work can be re-prioritized in light of the 25 financial and logistical challenges presented by

1 COVID. So now, I'll turn it over to Chief
2 Financial Officer Joe Murin to get into details 3 on, on fiscal 20 and 21.

4 MR. JOSEPH MURIN: Thank you, Commissioner,
5 and good morning, Chair Carney.

6 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you. Thank you very 7 much, Commissioner.

8 MR. MURIN: Yeah.

9 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: Thank you.

10 MR. MURIN: And thank you, Chair Carney, and 11 good morning to Board members.

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you.

13 MR. MURIN: I'm going to go through and also 14 have where needed Omar and Jeff step in to speak 15 to their respective areas, but as you can 16 imagine COVID, and I'm on slide four of the 17 presentation now, the FY2020 review. So, COVID 18 19 has extensively, has had an extensive and 19 significant impact on the city during Fiscal 20 Year 2020. This, and I'm going to let Omar
21 speak to the revenue impact in terms of that, so 22 I'm going to turn it right over to him first.

23 MR. NAZEM: The punch line for Fiscal Year 20 24 is that cash operating revenues came in only 25 very slightly below budget. They were about

1 two-fifths of one percent below budget, or $16
2 million below on our $3.8 and change billion
3 dollar budget. We don't like to be below 4 budget, but if you look at where things were in 5 March and April during the worst of the 6 pandemic, I don't know that we would have 7 guessed at that time we'd come in so close to 8 budget, so I guess all things considered, this 9 was a pretty, a place, this was a good place to 10 wind up for the year, compared to where we were 11 in back in March and April. If you, if you look 12 at where we were back in March and April, we 13 were seeing year-over-year declines in revenues 14 of nearly 30 percent. We clawed those back in 15 May and June very nicely, which is how the year 16 finished. I would emphasize, just for the 17 people on the call, when I say cash operating 18 revenues, , emphasis on cash. It's a slightly
19 different presentation I'm talking about here 20 than what you see in the financial packet. The 21 reason for that is, we do our financials on an 22 accrual accounting basis whereas we report to 23 the Board on a cash basis, because that's what 24 drives the financial obligations the board is 25 really focused on when it sets the rate for the

1 year, but the two are very similar, and it's a 2 similar story between them. Bottom line, we 3 came in, and we came in right about at budget, 4 which was, all things considered, a pretty 5 decent outcome.

6 MR. MURIN: Thank you, Omar. And now on to,
7 and I'll pause for a moment to see if any of the 8 Board members have any questions for Omar on the 9 revenue for the year? End of 21? Okay, hearing 10 none, so for Fiscal Year 2020, operating and 11 maintenance expenses were below budget by $93
12 million, and that was primarily due to lower 13 spending on contracts, chemicals, occupancy
14 expenses and personnel expenses, much of it due 15 to tele-working and slowing down in hiring and 16 operations. Some of those things we may see on 17 an ongoing basis, as the pandemic continues.
18 Some of those things we expect to come back in 19 the coming year, as you know, as things get back 20 to normal. I will also say that on the capital 21 side, capital commitment were less than 22 expected, due to the city-wide delays in 23 processing contracts due to COVID-19. We had 24 originally been scheduled for about $2.5 billion 25 worth of capital commitments for Fiscal Year 20.

1 We ended the year just slightly above $1
2 billion in capital commitments, so there was a 3 significant delay in capital projects getting 4 out the door and being able to get committed.
5 We'll talk more about it as we get into 21. Now 6 skipping, going over next to slide five, which 7 is the FY 2021 review. If you, but, before I do 8 that, I'm just trying to modulate myself to the, 9 let me pause to see, does anybody have any 10 questions on the year-end for 2020 before we 11 continue? Okay. Hearing none. So, now we'll 12 look at Fiscal Year 2020 review. That's the 13 current year that we're in right now. So, we 14 took a very cautious financial posture for 15 Fiscal Year 2021, adopting a budget that is 13 16 percent smaller than the adopted budget for 17 Fiscal Year 2020. I'm going to let Omar speak 18 to cash revenue so far.

19 MR. NAZEM: Through, through October 13th, we 20 were ahead of plan year-to-date by a nice margin 21 of almost 11 percent, or $152 million. I don't 22 want to, I want to, I want to caveat that number 23 carefully, because when we set that number back 24 in June, we took a very cautious view of the 25 Fiscal Year, given the conditions in place, so

1 the headline budget we adopted was for the 2 year a 13 percent reduction against FY, the 3 budget we had initially for FY20, so we're 4 outperforming plan, but that baseline we're 5 measuring against is considerably lower than 6 what we had last year, was down by 13 percent.
7 Now, if you look through October 13, you have 8 year on year, forget budget, just cash on cash, 9 we're down more than five percent where we were 10 this time last year, $88 million, so we're doing 11 better than we expected. We took that 12 conservative outlook, but we are still down from 13 last year.

14 MR. MURIN: Okay, great. Thank you, Omar.
15 Now, going back, as well, on to the operations
16 and maintenance. Fiscal Year 2021, Operations 17 maintenance expense were re-certified by the 18 city's budget office and they were slightly 19 increased by $11 million, compared to what was 20 adopted previously. That was a combination and 21 is a net number of areas, smaller items, such as 22 some collective bargaining things that were 23 still pending for the agency, some adjustments
24 that we coordinated with OMB on, so nothing
25 significant in that end. On the capital

1 commitment front for construction contracts,
2 it's still challenging. The backlog of work
3 that I just referenced for Fiscal Year 20, we're 4 working through. We're expecting to be 5 registering about $2.5 billion for this year, as 6 well, and we think that's going to be, continue 7 to be a challenge, given the constraints that 8 the overall city is having with the processing 9 of contracts and payments, and we're working 10 closely with OMB and with the controller's 11 office is making sure that we can get all those 12 through as quickly as possible. However, it
13 does mean, as we displace work from Fiscal Year 14 20 that moved into Fiscal Year 21, work from 15 Fiscal Year 21 is being placed, displaced into 16 Fiscal Year 22 and having a ripple effect out 17 there, so that was the context of the earlier 18 statement about, where we were talking with our 19 regulators because given the constraints in our 20 ability to manage the magnitude of all those 21 capital projects, we're having to figure out how 22 we can best balance those, to both assure that 23 we're continuing to meet out mandated 24 requirements, but also being able to do our 25 basic work on state of good repairs,

1 particularly out in the wastewater treatment
2 plants and up at the reservoirs and the upstate
3 water infrastructure, as well as in city sewers
4 and water mains. I don't know if, Commissioner, 5 you want to add anything to that. I know it's 6 been something we've been spending a lot of time 7 on over the past few months.

8 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: No, I think you
9 covered it well, and we've been having some good 10 discussions with our regulators. No commitments 11 yet from them, but those discussions are 12 ongoing.

13 MR. MURIN: Okay. I'll pause again to see if 14 the Board members have questions regarding any 15 of those items?

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: None - -

17 MR. MURIN: Okay, hearing none, we're going 18 to flip, flip over to slide six, and I'm going 19 to turn it over to Jeff Lynch, Deputy 20 Commissioner for Customer Service.

21 MR. LYNCH: Hello, everybody. I'm going to 22 discuss the impact of COVID-19 on customer 23 payments quickly. We've seen an increase in 24 customer delinquencies since the beginning of 25 the pandemic. Receivable delinquent,

1 receivables delinquent by 180 days or more
2 have increased by about 20 percent through the 3 end of August, or by about $105 million compared 4 to the year before, which includes 15,000
5 accounts becoming newly delinquent past the 180
6 day mark, compared to the previous year. 10,000 7 of those newly, long-term delinquencies are 8 accounts that became delinquent beyond the 180
9 day mark after the start of the pandemic.

10 MR. MURIN: Thank you, Jeff--

11 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Jeff, before you, how do
12 we treat, what happens? When you're 180 days
13 delinquent, what, how does the, how does DEP 14 respond to that? What's the answer to how we 15 treat with it?

16 MR. LYNCH: I mean, we continue, Chair, to 17 work through payment agreements with people that 18 are, with customers that are delinquent and 19 continue to work through those. That mark is 20 just a longer-term mark for when we have, when 21 it's substantial. A 30-day notice, 30-day
22 delinquency is not quite the same as 180 days.
23 180 days signals to us there's a more serious 24 issue with the customer, and we do, do outreach 25 to them, as well, to make sure that they're

1 paying - - the best that we can.

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: But Jeff, what does that 3 mean? We do outreach to them, but how, how do
4 you treat with that? If you're 180 days
5 delinquent, what, what do we do? I mean, are 6 these bone crushing - - letters, or are we, and 7 how do we determine whether or not a delinquent
8 customer, 180 days is struggling to do the right
9 thing or whether that customer is just blowing 10 it off? How does that, how do we do that?

11 MR. MURIN: If I may add, Mr. Chair, one of 12 the things that we have, you highlight a problem 13 that we have, which is that, short of us sending 14 Dunning letters, and short of a lien sale, which 15 is actually when a person has reached a more 16 extensive time period having past due bills, 17 past 180 days, we have very little options. We 18 don't have the ability to do credit blemishing.
19 We don't have the ability to turn these accounts 20 over to collection agencies, and particularly in 21 this time and place, I don't necessarily say 22 that's where we want to be anyway. I think we 23 are, though, very concerned, and this is one of 24 the cautionary things that we are worried about 25 going forward, is if the economic downturn

1 continues, we could be seeing a significant 2 growth in the amount of these delinquencies, and 3 the other option that we then have is, as 4 delinquencies grow, it just means that those 5 good payers have to make up the balance, and it 6 could lead to us having to look for a larger 7 rate increase when we come to the Board in the 8 spring. At this time, and I think we want to 9 make clear is, when we talked back in June, 10 there was some discussion about us having to 11 consider a mid-year rate increase. We're not at 12 that point. We think we're still financially 13 sound, that we're going to be able to get 14 through Fiscal Year 21 in a very reasoned 15 manner. However, it is something that we're, 16 and why we're doing this update for the Board is 17 that we think there are concerns and we want to 18 be watching this very closely, and we think it 19 is going to have potentially implications for 20 when we do come in the spring and are talking 21 about what the rate is going to look like for 22 Fiscal Year 22.

23 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: So, let me ask you this,
24 then, and as well, what I would love to get is a 25 regular update of how that number is increasing.

1 The 180 day delinquency number, and 20
2 percent, is a big number. I don't, I don't want
3 the Board to be surprised if that, if you
4 understand where I'm going, - - to know--

5 MR. MURIN; Absolutely, absolutely. And just 6 so you know, we'll structure, between Omar and 7 Jeff, we have regular reporting that we do
8 internally that we could share with the Board, 9 as well, and we could give that data to you, so 10 that you could see it and be, you know, keep 11 apprised of it.

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: And would you, is that a 13 monthly accounting that you all do? Are you in 14 touch with each other every 30 days, every 15 15 days? How often do you look at that?

16 MR. MURIN: I mean, we track it as much as 17 daily if we had to, but I don't think we, we're 18 not quite at that point that we need to be doing 19 that, but we would be able to, I think probably 20 monthly would be the best way to start and that-

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: And that would be 23 terrific, Joe, if you could do that. If you
24 could just let us know if Omar could send to us, 25 because you are sending it to him, a monthly

1 update on what those numbers look like, that 2 would be, and going forward, beginning at the 3 end of this month, and then November, December, 4 January, if we could see those numbers, I'd be 5 very grateful.

6 MR. MURIN: Certainly.

7 MR. NAZEM: Absolutely.

8 MS. SHAW: Wait, this is Arlene. This is 9 Arlene. Can I just add something there. I'd 10 love to see the breakdown of what the 20 percent 11 is, like, you know, I'm probably, I'll probably 12 get crucified because I'm asking about landlords 13 and not renters, but it would be interesting to 14 see sort of what, and I don't know if you have 15 that granular detail, just given the way that 16 the water rate is structured, it'd be 17 interesting to see sort of what the breakdown is 18 with respect to who is in delinquency, whether 19 we're looking at single family homes versus 20 multi-units. You know, I just, because I'm sure 21 the impact of the eviction moratorium, the rent 22 not being paid may have some flow-through,
23 especially for smaller, smaller property owners, 24 so I don't know how granular the detail is with 25 respect to those delinquencies, but I think it's

1 also important to understand which of our 2 customers are being hit the hardest, and in that 3 180 days, right? Because I think that there's 4 just going to be some profound impact from the, 5 from the rent moratoriums or the non-payment of 6 rent that we should really be kind of 7 considering when we're looking at this.

8 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Great question, Arlene.
9 Thank you. That's terrific.

10 MR. MURIN: And Arlene, we could get, let us
11 go back and we'll see what we can get, but we do 12 have that detail. I don't want to suggest it's 13 not there. I think it's just a matter of how, 14 how much effort it takes and when, how quickly
15 we could get that turned around on a monthly 16 basis. I don't think it should be a problem, 17 but we'll, we'll structure something and run it 18 by the Board and see what level, how much or how 19 little is going to be productive for you to be 20 able to go through and digest and work with.

21 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you.

22 MS. SHAW: Thank you, because what I'm 23 concerned about, I think what I'm trying to 24 understand is, you know, I think, is 25 understanding what raising rates means to the

1 small, you know what I mean, the smaller land 2 lords and individuals homes, and you're sort of 3 talking about maybe people who are on fixed
4 incomes. You know, just that, that real, true 5 middle class that exists in New York. Just 6 understanding how all of the flow-through is 7 impacting them, especially if you're a small 8 landlord, so whatever you think sort of gives 9 that level of detail would be a--

10 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: We'd like to see. Thank 11 you, Arlene. That's terrific. It's a great 12 point, and the people on the phone get it.
13 Thank you

14 MR. MURIN: And we could definitely get you 15 all that, that information, in some form. We'll 16 get a few scenarios together and see which one 17 is going to work best for all of you, based on 18 your review. Okay, any more questions from the 19 Board before we move on? Not hearing any, I'm 20 going to move to on to slide seven, and I'm 21 going to turn this over to Olga Chernat, the 22 Executive Director for the New York City Water
23 Finance Authority.

24 MS. OLGA CHERNAT: Hi, thank you, Joe. Good
25 morning everyone. Let's talk a little bit about

1 the capital program funding, and as Joe said,
2 I'm on slide seven.

3 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay.

4 MS. CHERNAT: As many of you know, the 5 scheduled program is predominantly funded with 6 proceeds of long-term bonds. The Water
7 Authority has approximately $31 billion of debt
8 outstanding, and we annually issue about a 9 billion and a half of additional bonds, and this 10 does not include refunding bonds, which the 11 Water Authority issues through finance its 12 outstanding obligations to savings when the 13 market conditions allow. Obviously, because of 14 that, the amount of refunding bonds we issue 15 varies from year to year. Given the size of our 16 outstanding debt portfolio and the size of the 17 system's capital program, capital market access 18 and capital market health are very important for 19 us, both for program management of the 20 Authority's existent portfolio, as well as to 21 raise funds to fund capital expenditures of the 22 system. So, when the capital markets were 23 disrupted in March and April of this year in 24 response to the global pandemic and the efforts 25 to contain it, this was an utmost concern to us.

1 You can see this disruption on charts on slide
2 seven in the form of the sharp spike in interest
3 rates. Basically, the rates essentially tripled
4 in a very short amount of time. At the time, it 5 was seemingly overnight spike.

6 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Wow. Wow.

7 MS. CHERNAT: Fortunately, the Federal 8 Reserve and Treasury stepped in with a number of 9 liquidity and lending programs, as well as 10 market stabilization initiatives. The Federal 11 Government also passed a $2.2 billion CARES Act 12 and other stimulus programs, and all of these 13 efforts helped the markets to recover. The 14 chart here is a, is for a 10-year bond, but it's 15 still representative of the market conditions in 16 general, and you can see that, starting in June, 17 early June, the market has largely recovered, 18 although conditions for certain sectors, which 19 were hit by pandemic especially hard, such as 20 airport credit, for example, remain difficult.
21 We are actually lucky because we are an 22 essential service provider, so our credit was 23 in, and I will talk about this a little later, 24 is holding strong so far. Since the pandemic -
25 - measures have been put in place, the Water

1 Authority was in the market twice. In June,
2 we sold about $700 million of bonds, $270
3 million of which were refunding bonds, and more
4 recently, in September, we totally $650 million 5 of bonds, and more than half that issue was 6 refunding bonds. The current interest rate 7 environment continues to be very favorable to 8 the issuers, relative to historical conditions.
9 The borrowing rates continue to stay low.
10 However, the market is much more focused now on 11 credit quality, and we actually saw this in our 12 September transactions. Our spreads were 13 slightly wider, relative to our pre-COVID 14 spreads to benchmark, due to increased focus on 15 New York's specific credit issues and the high 16 levels of New York issuance in the market at 17 that time. The spread widening was even more 18 pronounced for other city bonds that priced 19 around the same time as our transaction. The 20 market concern with the credit quality was 21 justified because earlier this month, Moody's
22 actually downgraded rates on the city's general 23 obligation bonds one notch, taking it down from 24 Double A one to Double A Two, and even after the 25 downgrade Moody's capped its negative outlook

1 on the city's bonds. Moody's also downgraded
2 its rating on the state, New York State Jail
3 Bonds by one notch, from Double A Two to Double 4 A Three. So far, all three ratings on the 5 Authority bonds have been confirmed and we have 6 stable outlooks. However, the term of the 7 rating reports is very different now, and I
8 would say that, for the most part, the rating 9 agencies have taken a bit of a wait-and-see 10 approach. They're very closely monitoring the 11 impact of the pandemic on the state of the 12 economy. They're also looking at how our 13 revenues are performing, and at our overall 14 budget. They're paying close attention how 15 conservative we are in our budget assumptions,
16 and how the system is coping with the added 17 pressure of the rental payments to the city, and 18 how it is ultimately translating into debt
19 service coverage levels, so--, yes?

20 MS. SHAW: Just on that point, sorry, this 21 is Arlene. I've been having my own issues with 22 the rating agencies recently. So, question, do 23 you feel like, in your opinion, and if you can't 24 answer it, that's fine. It's more idiosyncratic 25 to the approach the rating agencies are taking

1 due to the lack of visibility on COVID, or do 2 you think, just listening to the fact that we 3 kind of had, we were on budget, we're on plan, 4 do you think the downgrades are more 5 idiosyncratic to what they can't predict or 6 because of actual performance of the agency?

7 MS. CHERNAT: Well--

8 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I'm not sure, I'm not sure
9 I understand the question, if you forgive me - -

10 MS. SHAW: Yeah, because what I've been 11 finding, yeah, because what I've been finding is 12 the rating agencies are kind of taking positions 13 because they don't know what's happening with 14 COVID--

15 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay, I got it.

16 MS. SHAW: --but they're being a bit
17 conservative--

18 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I got it, I got it.

19 MS. SHAW: --but it may not be as a result 20 of decreased financials or decreased 21 performance, because to hear that we're sort of 22 at-plan, but-

23 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Right, I hear you. You're 24 asking the question whether or not they're 25 simply being cautious.

1 MS. SHAW: Right.

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Are they backing off and 3 waiting to see what's going to happen? Got it, 4 got it.

5 MS. SHAW: Yeah, versus there are some true
6 financial concerns with the system over all.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Got it. Thank you.

8 MS. CHERNAT: And I would say that it's 9 probably a little bit of both, right? And 10 because no one knows how the situation with the 11 pandemic will develop and what the ultimate 12 impact will be, so they are definitely much more 13 cautious in their analyses, and their approach, 14 but they're also looking at the hard data and 15 the, the big factor in the stability in our 16 ratings is they're budgetarily conservative, and 17 Omar talked about this early in the presentation
18 that our assumptions, especially on the revenue 19 side were sufficiently conservative, and we 20 actually, you know, basically come in at the end 21 of the fiscal year very close to projections, 22 and that's a big positive for them. There is 23 definitely concern with the rental payments.
24 The city, as you know, didn't ask for any rental 25 payments over 17, 18, and 19. The system did

1 pay a rental payment to the city as requested 2 in Fiscal 2020, and that's another sort of on 3 one, on one hand point pressure, pressure point, 4 I'm sorry, and on another hand, I think that it
5 speaks to the system's, there is some budgeting
6 practices that it was able to make the payment 7 so late in the year. We obviously, no one, of 8 course, saw it coming in the beginning for the 9 Fiscal 2020 when the budget was put together, 10 and we were able to absorb it in our budget.
11 So, that, you know, that was, you know, another 12 testament to the strength of our budgeting
13 processes. But, yes. You know, I think there 14 is definitely a little bit of both in the 15 approach that the rating agencies are taking,
16 but we can add the data so far, the data
17 supports the stability of the ratings. There 18 are more concerns regarding this year and the 19 next couple of years because the financials
20 margins are definitely narrowing. So, to sum 21 up, I would say, I would probably echo the 22 cautionary words of the Commissioner that, you
23 know, so far so good, but by no means we're out 24 of the woods yet, and there is definitely kind 25 of more pressure and scrutiny on the ratings.

1 And that cautionary note actually probably 2 applies to the market in general, and the March 3 and April market this last time, we've recovered
4 from, but that's not to say there will be no 5 unforeseen market events going forward, and that 6 obviously remains a big concern for us.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I think, Olga, that I,
8 you're the expert here. I am not. It's Al
9 Carney, but I think that the November elections 10 will determine to a large extent where the 11 rating agencies will go with respect to outlook,
12 and I'm worried about that because I don't know 13 what it means. But I, and another part of my 14 life, I have to pay attention to that, and I, 15 and I'm concerned that the, the outcome of the 16 election is beginning to, to look directionally 17 predictable. I'm not sure that's correct, but 18 the rating agencies I think are sitting back and 19 rating to, to see what happens before we see 20 any, from their part, any real predictability.
21 But fingers crossed, we'll see where it goes.

22 MR. GOLDIN: Mr. Chairman, can I just add a 23 question and a, and a comment on the financing 24 issues?

25 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yes, sir. Of course.

1 MR. GOLDIN: Thank you. First of all,
2 thank you, Olga, for all of your hard work and 3 your clear presentation. Very much appreciated.
4 One comment that I have, and it is too
5 preliminary, I think, for this to be in the form 6 of a question, but it's a comment and it's 7 something that I think is worth paying attention
8 to, and it relates to Arlene's question about 9 the sort of general pessimism and whether that 10 creeps into ratings for instrumentality that 11 have more steady cash flows--

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Somebody, somebody's on,
13 somebody on the phone has a, you're moving 14 papers on a desk, and we can hear it.

15 MR. GOLDIN: So, so, thank you, Mr. Chair.
16 This question about whether entities that have a 17 relatively more secure flow of revenues may be 18 adversely affected by a general sense of concern 19 about COVID in the financing world, and the 20 point I wanted to make, which is, which is not a 21 question at this point, because I don't think 22 that the issue is sufficiently ripe to raise a 23 question, but I just wanted to make sure that 24 you and your staff are keeping track of it, is 25 something that has come up in a different

1 context and, namely, that is the question as 2 to whether the revenues issued by, sorry, the 3 revenues to which authorities and banks, - -
4 remote authorities at that, are entitled, can 5 be, can be grabbed if the main political entity
6 is in, is in financial extremist, which ends up 7 linking the two, the fates of the two, even if 8 there are pledged revenues to support one
9 entity, as opposed to sort of general
10 obligations, considerations for the other. And 11 in that regard, I just mentioned that the 12 authority, I hope, will take notice of a recent 13 decision by Judge Swain of the Southern District 14 of New York, who's sitting by designation in the 15 District of Puerto Rico in connection with the 16 bankruptcy of the, the filing of the 17 Commonwealth, I should say, under pro mesa 18 [phonetic], and Judge Swain has ruled that, that 19 the funds, that would otherwise be, that would 20 otherwise flow to the Puerto Rico Highways and 21 Transportation Authority and the Puerto Rico
22 Infrastructure Financing Authority are not 23 subject to a lien when they are, at the time 24 they are collected by the main polity, by the 25 Commonwealth. And therefore, that creates a lot

1 of interesting and complicated issues. At 2 this point, it's a District Court ruling. It's 3 on appeal before the First Circuit and I do not 4 know that the, the case is being brought by bond
5 insurers who are, who have insured the revenue 6 bonds because they have not been permitted to 7 have a stay, the automatic stay lifted so that 8 they can go after those revenues that would 9 otherwise be attributed to those agencies, and 10 to which those agencies would otherwise be 11 entitled, and so I just ask that, that the 12 folks, the relevant folks at the Authority just 13 make sure to keep track of that and think about 14 that and think about how that might affect any 15 disclosures that might need to be made. I 16 realize it's in a, it's in a different 17 jurisdiction, although it's by a judge who 18 normally is in the Southern District of New 19 York, but it obviously has a, will have 20 significant consequences in, for special revenue
21 bonds in, in other jurisdictions. I don't know
22 what those are, but I just wanted to make sure 23 that, that's on the radar screen of the 24 authority in terms of what, what's going on in 25 the market. And that's just a comment. I don't

1 expect any answers on that because it's a very 2 recent ruling, and, as I said, it's on appeal
3 and it's in a different court, but I just want 4 to make sure that there's focus on that. And 5 then, the question I want to ask is--

6 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Jon, Jon, it's Al. It
7 sounds like that's a question that should be 8 posed to, to the Senior Legal Counsel for the 9 Water Finance Authority. He or she is in a far 10 better position than those of us on this call to 11 understand the significance of, of your, it's 12 not a question, actually. You're right. Your 13 comment, but maybe Olga can put you on with 14 somebody who, or maybe it's Ms. Cohen. I, I 15 don't know the answer to that. I don't know who 16 the chief legal counsel is for the Water Finance 17 Authority, but it sounds like your comment is 18 one that should be raised with that person, and 19 then, later on, there, there can be, there can 20 be conversation about it. Does that make sense 21 to you?

22 MR. GOLDIN: Well, at this point, I don't 23 have a question. I'm raising it--

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I, I know, it's a comment.
25 I get it. I get it.

1 MR. GOLDIN: --so that Olga's aware of it
2 and can make sure relevant people are keeping 3 track of it. That's all.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay, cool. Cool.

5 MS. CHERNAT: And, and that's a - - comment, 6 bankrupt - - opinion and bank - - excuse me, of 7 the system is a big factor in our ratings, so 8 this is definitely something that we are 9 tracking, as well, and we, we have both our 10 internal legal team, as well as our co-bond 11 council team advising us on these matters.

12 MR. GOLDIN: Great. Thank you so much. I
13 just wanted to make sure that the, that there 14 was a focus on it, especially when you noted 15 that the city's rating had been changed and our 16 hadn't, and, and we obviously had historically 17 thought of the, and I assume continue to think 18 of the, the water bonds as bankruptcy remote, 19 but this obviously introduces complications, but 20 I just wanted to make sure that--

21 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Clearly.

22 MR. GOLDIN: --folks were watching it so 23 that the right disclosures could be made at the 24 right time. The question I had, which is on a 25 different track, which related to the amendment

1 of the, of the certificate with respect to the 2 rental payment is really just whether we can 3 ask, and whether we can expect from the Water
4 Board staff going forward, who do such a great 5 job of preparing materials for us and keeping us
6 informed in general, that unlike in the past 7 couple of years, that when, if and when the 8 certification as to the funding requirements to 9 the city are amended, that, that, the amended 10 certification be circulated to the Board
11 promptly upon receipt--

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Immediately upon receipt, 13 absolutely. Absolutely.

14 MR. GOLDIN: That was something that in the 15 last, in the last fiscal year, we did not find 16 out about until the subsequent year's rate 17 hearings because of a comment by, by an 18 interested part, and this year, I, I understand 19 that shortly after our, just from the packet 20 that we've gotten, I see that shortly after our 21 rates were set, there was an amendment to the 22 certificate. I would just request that going 23 forward, in the event of any kind of an 24 amendment, that it be circulated, that the 25 amendment be circulated forthwith to the members

1 so we're aware of, of what the allegations 2 are.

3 MR. NAZEM: We can do that, Jon. That's not 4 a problem. We'll make the Board promptly aware 5 upon requests or revised documentation with 6 respect to the rental. And I apologize for the 7 delay in notification last time. We'll do it 8 promptly going forward.

9 MR. GOLDIN: Thank you, Omar. Appreciate 10 it.

11 MS. CHERNAT: And that actually is a perfect 12 segue into the rental payment obligation, which 13 I guess Joe will cover, and that's on slide 14 eight.

15 MR. MURIN: And that's, thank you, Olga.
16 You touched on a lot of the topics that were 17 bulleted on the slide there. What I would point 18 to is, start with bullet three, which, as you 19 know, there were no rental payment requests back 20 in 2017, 2018 and 2019, but due to disruption
21 of, of COVID-19, the city did request a rental
22 payment of $128 million for Fiscal Year 2020, 23 and that is incorporated in the financial 24 statements that is in front of the board for 25 review now, and they have requested and

1 received, or are receiving the $137 million
2 for Fiscal Year 2021. These amounts were about 3 half of the allowable amount of the rental
4 payment, according to the lease. These amounts, 5 as Jon just pointed out were, came to us sort of 6 late in the game, so they were not part of the 7 Board's budget adoption previously. The Fiscal 8 Year 2020 payment was funded using debt service
9 savings, pre-paying less debt than in past 10 years, and by ending the year with a smaller 11 cash balance. The Fiscal Year 2021 rental
12 payment will require amending the Board's 13 budget, which is going to be, is before the 14 Board for today's consideration in one of the 15 resolutions. And I think as we discussed 16 yesterday during the Audit Committee for the 17 Joint Audit Committee Meeting, there is the 18 disclosure note that the 20 amount is in the 19 financial statement. The 2021 is disclosed, and 20 you know, I think as was discussed with the 21 auditors, there is the degree of probable and 22 estimable constraint in terms of predicting or 23 projecting what any future rental payment may or 24 may not be like. At this point in time, we have 25 no indication that there is going to be

1 additional requests from the city or, you
2 know, any more of the rental payment for Fiscal 3 Year 2021, but that's not to say that it still 4 is not out there as a risk, and I think that's 5 something that Olga has highlighted and also has 6 been noted by the rating agencies, as well.
7 I'll pause at this time to, yeah?

8 MR. FREED: Joe, yeah, this, this is Adam
9 Freed. Quick question. As you skip a couple 10 slides ahead and as you're projecting a need for 11 a water rate increase next year, wondering how 12 much of that increase, how that compares to the 13 increase of the rental payment of $137 million.
14 Kind of what percentage of the projected 15 increase that's needed to meet our needs can be 16 attributed to the rental payment?

17 MR. MURIN: I know that we also do have the,
18 the agencies, or the system's rate consultant Ed
19 Marcus at Amelock [phonetic] on. I don't know,
20 and I'll, I don't like to put Ed on the spot 21 like this, but I will, and Ed, if you don't have 22 an answer, we can always circle back for a 23 response.

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: No pressure, Ed. No
25 pressure at all.

1 MR. ED MARCUS: I was just clicking to try 2 to find the latest model very quickly, but if 3 you don't mind, I will take Joe's suggestion, 4 and if we could get back to the Board members, 5 I'd appreciate that.

6 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: That's perfectly fine.
7 Thank you very much.

8 MR. FREED: Yeah, that's great. And that'll
9 just, for me, just to make sure we're aware as a 10 Board, the public's aware of, and others that 11 this is a big factor.

12 MR. MURIN: Yeah, definitely. Thank you,
13 Adam. And unless there's any more question on 14 the rental payment or on Olga's presentation, 15 I'm going to move on to slide nine? And this 16 I'm going to turn over to Jeff Lynch again.

17 MR. LYNCH: I'll do an update here on the 18 lien sale for this year. Since 1996, DEP and 19 the Water Board have participated in the city's 20 annual lien sale, secured by delinquent water 21 and property tax bills, which generate as much
22 as 10 percent of the Board's annual revenue. It 23 began the, the pre-sale notification for this 24 year's lien sale in February. As many of you 25 know, it's been suspended three times at this

1 point, first in April, then again in 2 September, and then again in early October. I 3 apologize for the, it says November here. The 4 new date and the lien sale is November 3rd right 5 now and it's been, again, postponed to provide 6 additional customer relief in light of the 7 pandemic. Additionally, the current lien sale
8 authorization expires at the end of this, this 9 calendar year, so as it stands right now, we 10 don't have authorization for a lien sale in 11 calendar year 2021. The current expectation is 12 that the lien sale will be finalized during this 13 calendar year, but, but again, given the 14 uncertainty on the economy and due to the 15 pandemic, we have no assurance that the sale 16 will definitively occur before the end of the 17 year, and while we certainly are going to pursue 18 a reauthorization for next year, we, there is 19 uncertainty as to whether that will be 20 reauthorized for the, the next fiscal year.

21 MR. MURIN: And if I may, I'd like to add on 22 to what Jeff had said. This is, again, one of 23 the cautions that we're being very aware of, 24 because as referenced at the very first bullet, 25 you know, we have not had a situation where we

1 haven't had a lien sale since 2007, and back
2 then, when we did have the loss of a lien sale, 3 that was, I believe, the last time we had to 4 contemplate the, the issue of the possibility of 5 doing a mid-year rate increase. Because, the 6 immediate impact would not be felt in Fiscal 7 Year 21, but if we do not get a reauthorization
8 of the lien sale and it goes on for any extended 9 period of time, that reference point in the 10 first bullet of where it could be an impact of 11 as much as 10 percent of our revenue being lost 12 due to what we already highlighted, which is the 13 growing level of delinquency in payment. And 14 that's very, very concerning to us, because as I 15 also noted before, the lien sale is our most 16 productive enforcement tool we have at this 17 time, and it's a very constrained situation.
18 Right now, we want to balance our responsibility
19 to provide all of the residents and our rate 20 payers with the vital services and keeping that 21 as economically viable as possible, but it's 22 also critical that we do collect the revenues 23 that are essential to support both the 24 operations, as well as the capital program and 25 the debt that's necessary for the capital

1 program, so this is, this is very, very 2 concerning. We think we're going to be working 3 closely as the administration with the City
4 Council and be able to get that, but it's a very 5 difficult point right now, as we can all
6 understand, by elected officials to want to meet 7 the needs of their constituents and not, having 8 to be, imposing harsh, what some may perceive as 9 harsh collection measures on at risk home owners
10 and small, small property owners. I'll pause 11 there for any comments, questions from the 12 board.

13 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Joe, it occurs, it's Al.
14 It occurs to me that the Board needs to be aware 15 of, how shall I, of the measures that we take, 16 the measures we undertake to satisfy both sides
17 of that equation. On the one hand, we're 18 talking about water, and on the other hand, 19 we're talking about revenue. I, I recognize 20 that this is a difficult time, and the COVID 21 madness has taken us all to very, very difficult
22 places, but I would like for the Water Board 23 what measures you institute, what measures the 24 team must institute in order to satisfy both 25 sides of the equation, and I've not paid a lot

1 of attention to that, but it's becoming more
2 important to me, as I talk to people in New York
3 who are having huge financial difficulties.
4 Not, not our, not our fault, but, but it is 5 important to understand, I think we need an 6 ongoing understanding of, of how we are treating 7 with the, the need to collect the dollars, and 8 it's essential that we do that. I get it. From 9 people who are just unable to pay. I get it,
10 but can we spend some time, will you and Omar 11 spend some time with us on the phone next 12 meeting, we'll call one a special meeting if we 13 need to, talking about how we're going about 14 parsing those decisions as best we can.

15 MR. MURIN: Oh, definitely, Mr. Chair.
16 Definitely, and I think it's a very relevant, 17 and you're right on, on target in terms of what 18 we're grappling with here, in terms of 19 balancing, you know, keeping, keeping the rates 20 affordable while also being able to maintain the 21 system, and I, what I want to add is that it's 22 very, when you have a, such a large operation
23 where we're running, you know--

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Sure, sure.

25 MR. MURIN: --14 wastewater treatment plants

1 and, you know, operations all through up
2 state. The operations and maintenance becomes a
3 very hard area to say--

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Sure.

5 MR. MURIN: --that's where you can find
6 savings. We are looking at that, as we noted 7 earlier on. Then you're really in a difficult 8 situation of having to them balance it 9 predominantly on the capital program, and that 10 means deferring or cancelling critical projects,
11 or mandated projects as we've been talking 12 about, as well, in terms of working with our 13 regulators, and we're very wait-full, as well, 14 for what's going to happen post-November.
15 There's been a lot of talk in both sides of the 16 aisle about an infrastructure program that would 17 hopefully go towards, you know, critical water 18 and sewer--

19 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Sure.

20 MR. MURIN: --wastewater operations, as 21 well. The short answer is, we can engage with 22 you and make sure the Board is fully apprised as 23 to what some of the decision points are and how 24 we're going to go through that. I think the 25 other thing, too, and I think what Jeff is, what

1 he could speak to is the, the billing system,
2 which I think we also want to update the Board
3 on, as to where our status is with that. I
4 don't think we're ready for it at this meeting,
5 but that could be a follow-up meeting, as well.
6 So, Jeff, if you want to talk a little bit about 7 that.

8 MR. LYNCH: Well, and I was just going to 9 touch on quickly, part of what, what the chair
10 has raise dis how we work with customers here,
11 and I think we, the, the extension of the lien 12 sale has allowed us to do a great deal more of 13 outreach directly to our customers.

14 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay.

15 MR. LYNCH: The notices, the robo-calls, we 16 worked with, actually, for the first time,
17 worked with City Hall and the, the finance 18 department to do some live calls to folks that 19 were not as responsive to the, to the mail, 20 email and, and robo-calls.

21 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Sure.

22 MR. LYNCH: And we've done virtual events, as 23 well, virtual events where we do presentations 24 and, with finance department, walk through the 25 issues and refer people to, to our agents that

1 are waiting to work through our payment
2 agreements, so we've been very aggressive with 3 that. Actually, we, we've been able to work
4 out, this year, because of the Extension, we 5 have actually been able to work out a higher 6 percentage of, of the, of the accounts
7 receivable collect--

8 RECORDED VOICE: This meeting is being 9 recorded and/or transcribed.

10 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay.

11 MR. LYNCH: Additionally, as many of you
12 know, we do, at the recommendation of the mayor, 13 had lowered the interest rates for this, the 14 first quarter of this year to 3.25 percent and 15 five percent for the year. Folks are coming and 16 getting payment agreements from us are in that 17 category, but they also created a special zero 18 percent category for only the first quarter of 19 this year for folks that have a documented COVID 20 hardship that we're, and, and the Finance 21 Department verifies that for us, and then we, we 22 apply that zero percent for the first quarter.
23 So, there has been a, an aggressive outreach to 24 customers. We've worked a lot with electeds and 25 the extended lien sale window to resolve payment

1 agreements, and I just, I would remind you
2 that the payments agreements have, are 10 year 3 agreements.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yes.

5 MR. LYNCH: There's zero down payments, so
6 again, if somebody's a single family homeowners
7 or somebody owes, owes $1,500, that's again
8 extended over a 10-year period with zero percent 9 down in, in most cases, unless they've already 10 had a payment agreement and broken it. There 11 are a lot of things we're, we're doing on this 12 front here, as well Chairman, and we'll also 13 provide an update on the new billing system in 14 upcoming Board meetings.

15 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: And Jeff, don't, don't 16 misunderstand, I know how hard you're working 17 to, to, it's an equilibration. I mean, you're, 18 you're trying to figure out how best to do what, 19 what's correct for both the system and for the 20 rate payers. I'm real clear on that, and 21 grateful for, for your expertise. Just want to 22 make sure that you know and that staff knows 23 that, no matter how difficult you think this is 24 when you're in your office or at your home and 25 looking at your computer, this, this time in New

1 York's history is horrible for so many people.
2 To the extent that we can figure out how to be 3 more accessible and, and not necessarily less 4 demanding, but, but more understanding of what 5 it is that the, how people are suffering right 6 now, then we need to figure that out, if we can.
7 If we can. The end. I'm sorry, I, just I've 8 had a couple of experiences in the last two 9 weeks that just, I can't, I had no idea how, how 10 much people are, are suffering right now in New 11 York, and hospital situations, sitting in 12 emergency rooms talking to people who are, 13 nobody raised water as an issue, but money is 14 the issue, and we are, we just have to remember 15 to stay aware of those folks who are at the 16 bottom rungs of the ladder, if we can. That's, 17 I'm sorry, I get a little carried away
18 sometimes. Forgive me.

19 MR. MURIN: No, thank you, Mr. Chair. And 20 we definitely want to talk about those types of 21 measures that we can take, because we definitely 22 think that there are other things that we can be 23 doing, and we want, and we want to--

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: And I know you're working 25 hard on it, Joe, and I know you're coming up

1 with solutions, but as I said, it's an 2 equation about water on the one side and revenue 3 on the other, and we have to figure it out, but 4 thank you for trying. Thank you all for trying.

5 MR. MURIN: So, now, moving on to slide 10,
6 and I think Adam had sort of jumped ahead a 7 little bit, but it touches on water rate
8 projections. As of right now, the system's 9 current projection, and I want to emphasize this 10 is a projection for next year's water rate
11 increase is 6.1 percent. This estimate reflects
12 an increase from the projection of 3.8 percent 13 that we previously had for Fiscal Year 2022 that 14 was in place prior to COVID-19 pandemic due to 15 the reduction of the Board's revenue base as, 16 one, the result of the pandemic, as well as the 17 Board's decision not to increase water rates in 18 2021, so we will, you know, I want to remind 19 that the, I think the last projection for Fiscal 20 Year 21 was 3.8, which was deferred and to, with 21 the topic we just had, in light of the COVID and 22 affordability, I think we made the, the Board
23 made the wise decision to defer any rate 24 increase for Fiscal Year 21, so this is kind of 25 a catch up, but it's a little less than two of

1 the rates combined, and it is, I think, an 2 objective we'll work to try and keep this down, 3 but I also do want to caution that some of these 4 factors we're talking about could push this 5 higher, as well, so we do want to be aware that 6 there's an upward risk on this, as well. I open 7 the floor--

8 MR. GOLDIN: Thank you so much, Joe. A 9 quick, yeah, I just had a quick question on 10 that, and I appreciate the Chair's comments on 11 all the really hard work on the part of the 12 Water Board staff and DEP more generally. What, 13 what do we anticipate that 6.1 percent amounting 14 to in absolute, rather than relative terms. How 15 much, how much of a gap, ballpark, are we 16 talking? And I'm not asking for specific 17 numbers, but do we anticipate are we going to 18 need to close by virtue of, of that ballpark 6.1
19 percent increase?

20 MR. NAZEM: If you were to project, I mean, 21 where are, if you were to project where we are 22 versus planned with the outperformance, you 23 know, divided by the full year, it would be in 24 the ballpark of a $200 million revenue pick-up 25 the rate increase would work out on in projected

1 base. That would take you, let's say you came 2 in - - four with the outperformance of 3.6 on 3 the operating revenue side. Now, remember, we 4 were doing 3.8 two years ago, so it's still 5 clawing back to where we were, but we work on 6 this. If the outperformance picks up, it'll be 7 worth, in the ballpark of $200 million.

8 MR. GOLDIN: Thank you, Omar. And the one 9 other question I have, I don't know if it's for 10 you, but it may be, as well, is what does this 11 project in terms of what the system's lease 12 obligations will be for the, for the prospective 13 year?

14 MR. MURIN: You mean for the rental payment, 15 Jonathan?

16 MR. GOLDIN: Yes.

17 MR. MURIN: There, the assumption is that 18 with what the, what we paid for Fiscal Year 20 19 and 21 is the end of the lease increase, any 20 rental payment, so there is that risk is that if 21 there was that request for either an increase to 22 21, 21 or a request for 22, that would have to 23 be incorporated into and would impact this rate 24 or out-year rates.

25 MR. GOLDIN: And, thanks so much. I would

1 just say that this is something that came up
2 in the Joint Audit Committee Meeting, and I
3 would just mention it here, as well, that, that 4 I hope that we determined along with our 5 auditors and rate consultants, as we do that 6 budgeting, what the right way to treat that 7 potential liability is, especially given that it
8 has now changed in mid-course for two years in a 9 row, how that ought to be treated for accounting 10 purposes, and therefore what reserve, if any, 11 ought to be taken and so, I just want to make 12 sure that, that is factored into the budgeting 13 process appropriately, and then obviously would 14 be disclosed publicly for the purposes of our,
15 the debt we issue and the like, but I, I do hope 16 that, that conversation, and expect that, that 17 conversation will involve consultation between 18 the authority and the Water Board and will 19 hopefully also include the outside auditors to 20 get their perspective on what the appropriate 21 treatment is for budgeting purposes going 22 forward.

23 MR. FREED: Yeah, and this is Adam. I would 24 just echo--

25 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: This is Al. I'm sorry,

1 but Jon, thank you very much for raising it.
2 I think that the matter has been raised now with 3 the outside auditors. I believe that the 4 independent auditors are aware of the 5 circumstances that you are raising now, and I 6 think they have opined, at least I'm told that 7 they have opined, with regard to the sufficiency 8 of the reserves that we have taken, that we will 9 or will not take, depending entirely on their 10 point of view, I think they may need some more 11 time to think through that. Happy to have that 12 conversation with you, Jon, whenever we can.
13 But I, I think the auditors are now aware and 14 are looking at that matter. Adam, forgive me 15 for interrupting.

16 MR. FREED: No problem, and I was just going 17 to--

18 MR. GOLDIN: - - Mr. Chair, and I was just 19 saying that, that was, again, this is a point 20 that is a, not a, not ripe for a question at 21 this point, just to--

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I agree. I agree.

23 MR. GOLDIN: --be sure that the need to do 24 that is on folks' radar screen because, if we 25 think about the full extent of the potential

1 liability on the rental payment, it sounds
2 like that 6.1 percent could become a double-
3 digit increase, and we're talking about,
4 obviously, then, a much bigger number so I just,
5 I just want to make sure that it's accounted for 6 properly.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I think you're right.

8 MR. GOLDIN: I was not - -

9 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I know, and Joe's going
10 to--

11 MR. GOLDIN: - - doesn't require a response 12 right now.

13 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Joe's going to make sure
14 that doesn't happen, Jon.

15 MR. GOLDIN: I sure hope so.

16 MR. MURIN: I will make every effort. I
17 can't promise anything right now. I will, if I
18 may, before, Adam, you go, I think we had said
19 previously during, because as the auditor said
20 yesterday, there is the standard of estimable 21 and probable that the, you know, we don't meet 22 for having to be able to make it, as you said, 23 Jonathan, to put a reserve or accrual for this.
24 I think the point that we always strive to and I 25 think Olga spoke to, is just keeping the

1 financial statements as strong as possible
2 affords us the capability of being able to 3 withstand a - - contingency such as the rental 4 payment or anything else that may come along.
5 So that, I think, one of the things that gives 6 us the financial credibility as a system, and 7 the ratings that we're, we're getting from the 8 rating agencies right now. Just an aside there, 9 and I'll turn it now over to Member Freed.

10 MR. FREED: Yeah, thank you. I would just 11 urge us, given the large size of the rental 12 payments and the fact that, in the past two 13 years, they've returned, and I would not expect 14 a, a, you know, strong upswing in our economic 15 outlook in future years as we deal with the 16 economic fallout from the pandemic, that we just 17 err on the side of caution as much as possible 18 so we don't end up soaking up - - with even 19 larger increases than even we anticipate or they 20 anticipate, so just as we work with our auditors
21 and work with our own budget analysis and rate 22 consultants, I just urge us to be as 23 conservative as possibly on the return of the 24 rental payment, given the fact that we've seen 25 it now come back twice, and we don't know what

1 the next administration will choose to do or 2 who the next administration will be.

3 MR. NAZEM: Absolutely, and thank you.

4 MR. MURIN: Hearing now more other 5 questions, I will go to slide 11, and I think we 6 touched on all these, you know, I won't read 7 through each of the lines, other than go to the 8 bottom line, which is the total projected
9 expenses for the system that, when we adopted 10 the budget, and this is part of the resolution 11 in the Board's package, we were at a budget of 12 $3.321 billion, and now the amended budget that 13 we're, is for the Board's review is $3.315
14 billion, and this gets back to, I think, the 15 previous point that Omar had said, if we look at 16 the note at the bottom of the slide, that for 17 Fiscal Year 20, because it was $3.816 billion, 18 so it is still a budget that is significantly 19 below where we were just back a year ago, and 20 it's through our, you know, management of the 21 financials, of the system - - the DEP, the Water
22 Board's side and the Water Finance Authority 23 side that we're able to still keep up the 24 regular levels of operation and maintenance in 25 the system going along strongly. Any questions

1 before we go to the conclusion for this 2 presentation, which I'll turn over to the 3 Commissioner?

4 COMMISSIONER SAPIENZA: Thank you, Joe, and 5 thanks to all the Board for their input. I'll 6 make this really brief because we've discussed 7 all of these bullet items in detail during the 8 call, so as we said, you know, compared with 9 revenue projections, we did hopefully see the 10 worst of the pandemic in the spring, and Fiscal 11 Year 20 finished close to budget, as we said, 12 and 21 is ahead of the reduced estimates. We 13 talk about the rental payment and extensive 14 variance, but overall change so far is a modest 15 $6 million reduction through total revenue 16 requirement. Status of the lien sale and 17 delinquent water charges, as we talked about, 18 remain a bit uncertain, so we'll keep an eye on 19 that, and then finally, as businesses and 20 offices, schools gradually reopen, it's our 21 expectation that the economy will improve and 22 household incomes will go up and payments will 23 go up, but again, there is that uncertainty as, 24 when that will, how long it will take, so thank 25 you.

1 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you. Are we at 2 the next--

3 MR. MURIN: Yes.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: --the next agenda item?

5 MR. MURIN: Yes, I think we're at the 6 resolutions, Mr. Chair.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you very, very much.
8 Just, this is item five on the agenda. The, the 9 Joint Audit Committee of the Water Board and the 10 Water Finance Authority met yesterday, received 11 a terrific presentation from our new auditors,
12 Grant Thorne [phonetic]. Their first completed
13 audit for us. They have given us an unmodified 14 opinion, a so-called clean opinion.
15 Congratulations to Bob Baldacci [phonetic] and 16 his staff. Terrific job that they've done.
17 There are no material weaknesses in the 18 financial statements. The auditors were very 19 complimentary of both the Water Finance
20 Authority staff and also Omar Nazem. And Omar, 21 thank you very much for all the work that you 22 have done in support of the Water Board's 23 position with regard to the audit. We, as I
24 say, it's a clean opinion. The Water, I'm 25 sorry, the Joint Committee voted yesterday to

1 recommend to the Boards of both the Water
2 Finance Authority and to the Water Board
3 approval of the financial statements, and that 4 is the resolution that's before us now. Adam
5 Freed and Jon Goldin were both there yesterday.
6 Do you all have comments about the meeting or,
7 or about the audit?

8 MR. FREED: This is Adam, none from my 9 perspective.

10 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Adam, Jon?

11 MR. GOLDIN: This is Jon, none. Same, same 12 from my perspective, thank you.

13 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay, thanks, thanks very 14 much for both of you. So, barring other 15 comments, what I would like to have from this 16 Board is a motion to approve the financial 17 statements, to approve them ultimately for 18 release, as well. May I have that motion?

19 MR. GOLDIN: So moved.

20 MR. FREED: Yep, this is Adam. Second.

21 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: All right. Thank you both 22 very much. Will you poll the Board, Mr.
23 Rodriguez?

24 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes, sir. Yes, sir. Member
25 Carolina, how do you vote on this motion?

2 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez-Ketcham,
3 how do you vote?

4 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Aye. Aye.

5 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed, how do you
6 vote?

7 MR. FREED: In favor.

8 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin, how do you
9 vote?

10 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

11 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Shaw, how do you
12 vote?

13 MS. SHAW: Aye.

14 MR. RODRIGUEZ: And Chairman Carney, how do
15 you vote on this motion?

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Aye.

17 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Okay, the resolution has 18 been adopted. Thank you.

19 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Mr. Rodriguez, 20 and it has passed unanimously. Are there, the 21 next agenda item is number six, the approval of 22 the investment guidelines and financial year 23 2020 report. I, I don't know who gives that 24 report.

25 MR. NAZEM: - - this is Omar. I, I can give

1 the quick summary. The, the investment
2 guidelines, there's no change from last year.
3 In fact, there's no change in quite some time.
4 The guidelines, it's short version allow us to 5 buy conservative fixed-income securities. Even 6 within the range of what's permissible, our 7 practice for years has been to only buy short-8 term U.S. government Treasury securities.

9 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yes.

10 MR. NAZEM: So the least risky of the least 11 risky. That hasn't changed. We don't see that 12 changing. We did that in FY20 just as we did in 13 FY19, and it was a less profitable investment in 14 FY20. We still, we made money luckily. We made 15 $6.4 million in investment income last year,
16 which is the less than the FY19 number of $9.8 17 million. The, the major reason for that was 18 the, we, we buy most of our bonds in the second 19 half of the year, and if you look at what the 20 average yield was in second half of FY20 21 compared to FY19, it was a lot lower. It was 22 about 0.6 percent on a short, one-year Treasury, 23 compared to 2.4 percent the year before, which 24 is about a reduction of 75 percent in the 25 average yield. Now, the amount of investment

1 income we got was actually only down by one-
2 third, and the reason for that was, we had some 3 capital appreciation on the older bonds we 4 bought at higher yields that went up in value as 5 the market yields fell. So, we were making less 6 on the new stuff, but we had some new gains on 7 the old stuff that offset a lot of the 8 deterioration. So, 6.4 million was the number 9 for FY20, which actually compares favorably, if 10 you go back even further in history, it was just 11 down from FY19. But that's just the summary.
12 The portfolio made money last year, less than 13 19, more in line with prior years, and no change 14 expected in what we're actually buying, which is 15 those short-term U.S. Treasury securities.

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: So, we are voting on the,
17 we're going to approve, well we're going to vote
18 to improve the investment - -?

19 MR. NAZEM: You're voting to approve, both 20 keep the existing investment guidelines in place
21 for the next year, or for the current year,
22 rather, and you're voting to accept the FY20 23 investment report, which is a schedule of the 24 portfolio holding buys and sells and the 25 investment income number, so it's a two--

1 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you very much,
2 Omar. May I have a motion?

3 MS. SHAW: This is Arlene. So moved.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Arlene, thank you very 5 much. Is there a second?

6 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Evelyn second.

7 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you very much,
8 Evelyn. Mr. Rodriguez, would you poll the 9 members?

10 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes, Member Carolina, how do
11 you vote on this motion?

12 DR. CAROLINA: Aye.

13 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez-Ketcham,
14 how do you vote?

15 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Aye.

16 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed, how do you
17 vote?

18 MR. FREED: Aye.

19 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin, how do you
20 vote?

21 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

22 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Shaw, how do you vote
23 on this motion?

24 MS. SHAW: Aye.

25 MR. RODRIGUEZ: And Chairman Carney, how do

1 you vote on this motion?

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Aye.

3 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Thank you, sir. The motion
4 has been, the resolution has been approved.

5 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: It has been approved
6 unanimously again.

7 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes.

8 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: We are now at the 2021
9 annual budget. Is there a presentation or, I 10 mean we, we've, we've seen a summary. Omar, is 11 there something that you want to tell us about 12 this?

13 MR. NAZEM: Joseph has actually already 14 mentioned it, uh--

15 MR. MURIN: Yeah, the, the - - document is,
16 it's page 11 of the PowerPoint for anyone 17 following along, and then also, there's a 18 detailed schedule, the kind of detailed numbers
19 behind the resolution. That's in the online 20 packet, as well as in member's packets. The 21 blue and white page.

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yep. Thank you. Are 23 there questions? Hearing none, may I have a 24 motion, please to approve it.

25 DR. CAROLINA: So moved.

1 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Demetrius.

2 Is there a second?

3 MS. SHAW: Arlene seconds.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Arlene, thank you very
5 much. Thank you very much, Arlene. Mr.
6 Rodriguez, would you poll the members?

7 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yes, sir. Member Carolina,
8 how do you vote on this motion?

10 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Fernandez-Ketcham,
11 how do you vote?

12 DR. CAROLINA: Aye.

13 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Freed, how do you
14 vote?

15 MR. FREED: Aye.

16 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Goldin, how do you
17 vote on this motion?

18 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

19 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Member Shaw, how do you
20 vote?

21 MS. SHAW: Aye.

22 MR. RODRIGUEZ: And Chairman Carney, how do
23 you vote?

25 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Mr. Chairman, the

1 resolution has been unanimously adopted.

2 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Terrific. There is one
3 more agenda item. It is a presentation, no 4 Board action required, Water Demand Response in 5 New York City during COVID-19. There are two 6 people who are standing by to make the 7 presentation. Please, you've got, you've got 8 the floor, Ms. Licata [phonetic] and Erin Morey 9 [phonetic]

10 MS. ANGELA LICATA: Thank you very much.
11 This is Angela Licata speaking, and I'm glad you 12 mentioned Erin Moorey. I would like to 13 recognize the terrific work that she's done on 14 this topic, along with Amanda Cashman on her 15 staff, and Erin is going to jump in to 16 underscore any of the points that I'm going to 17 make today or to certain point out anything that 18 I may gloss over. In recognition of all of the 19 challenging topics that you've covered already 20 his morning, I do want to just cruise through 21 the material and hit the top notes for you. If 22 you would kindly recognize that the water demand 23 trends since the beginning of the pandemic have 24 really been a great interest to us, so we have 25 taken the time to really do a deep dive on this

1 information, supported by our Commissioner
2 Sapienza, and we wanted to give you a basic 3 understanding of that information today. So, we 4 are showing basically on slide two the overall 5 demand or, if you will, customer consumption of 6 our product, which is drinking water, from the 7 period of March 1 to August, the end of August,
8 and we do have September data, which I can cover 9 a little bit later, but this is basically a 10 volumetric from monthly trends that we're seeing 11 as compared with 2019 data, and you can see that 12 we have the redline, which is your 2020
13 consumption and 2019 is your black line.
14 Roughly, we are fairly consistent overall on a 15 volumetric basis, so nothing really 16 disconcerting when you're looking at it from 17 overall consumption. When you look at slide 18 three, we are showing basically that the 19 residential demand is staying fairly consistent 20 with slight upticks, whereas our non-residential 21 demand has shifted quite dramatically, so - - 22 that our six-month total is basically balancing 23 out because of the increases in the residential 24 that are offsetting the decreases in the non-25 residential consumption during that period. So,

1 moving to slide four, I'm sorry, slide four is 2 a cover page. Please turn to slide five where 3 you see that the meter billed residential demand 4 increased an average of 2.8 percent, as we were 5 just showing, and then you will just see, along 6 the X axis, the customer classes and how they 7 are utilizing water differently year-over-year 8 from 19 to 2020. You can see that the largest 9 gains were in the single family and two family
10 users and that the largest losses, all the way
11 to the right by about 10 percent for the mixed 12 residential and commercial. Moving on to slide 13 six, we are showing you a borough depiction of 14 consumption, and you can see that the meter-15 billed residential demand decrease, driven by 16 the single family declines, and that the 17 greatest losses were in Manhattan, and there 18 were certainly gains in the outer boroughs.

19 MALE VOICE: Oh, God. Oh.

20 MALE VOICE 2: Hello?

21 MS. LICATA: Okay. I don't think this is 22 telling us a story other than one that we've 23 known, but here is the information, and it's 24 shown nicely on the graphics, so slide seven, 25 we're showing you the meter-billed non-

1 residential demand decrease of an average of 2 28 percent, year-over-year, and we are showing 3 you the subsectors that gained or lost,
4 generally speaking, these are losses, so you can 5 see that the airports were down a tremendous 6 amount, by about 48 percent. You can see 7 schools and colleges, our universities are also 8 down by quite a bit. I'm trying to think what 9 else. Restaurants, obviously, so really, we're 10 seeing these sectors with the largest decreases, 11 and again, this is the six-month period, if you
12 will. We have seen recovery, so the starkest 13 declined occurred during the height of the 14 pandemic, and with the reopenings, we have seen 15 gains and recovery.

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Ms. Licata, it's Al
17 Carney. The, would you distinguish, help me 18 understand the difference between healthcare and 19 hospitals, just so I have a sense of, obviously 20 hospitals are down minimally. Healthcare down 21 minimally, but help me to know what those two 22 things mean.

23 MS. LICATA: Yeah, the hospitals are usually 24 private hospitals, and healthcare, I believe 25 are, and Erin, please chime in, are more of the,

1 the offices and medical practices. Is that 2 right?

3 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Oh, I see. Doctor's
4 offices? That sort of thing or, or, well, I'm 5 sorry, why don't you all help me to know, rather 6 than having me speculate.

7 MS. ERIN MOOREY: Yeah, I can jump in here,
8 Angela. This is Erin Moorey. So healthcare
9 includes, like, clinics and smaller outpatient 10 facilities, whereas hospitals are the larger 11 hospitals that we have in the city, yep.

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Got it. Okay. Okay.

13 MS. LICATA: So, turning to slide eight, we 14 thought it would be interesting to show the non-15 residential demand also, based on the meter-16 billed customers by borough, and again, you can 17 see the trend is, the largest losses are 18 occurring in Manhattan. However, there have 19 been some large losses in the Bronx, as well, 20 and that has mostly been as a result of 21 industrial users. And slide nine--

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I'm sorry, so industrial 23 businesses in the Bronx, I guess the non-24 residential users in the three, in the Bronx, 25 Brooklyn and Queens are all down an average of 1 25 percent probably. But what does that mean?

2 Does that mean people in the Bronx, and in 3 Brooklyn and in Queens, people are not working?
4 These businesses are closing? These are 5 restaurants and, and cottage industry type 6 places? What do the number really represent?

7 MS. LICATA: Yes. That is absolutely 8 correct.

9 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay.

10 MS. LICATA: It does represent a potentially 11 closed business.

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Sure.

13 MS. LICATA: Or an operation that has scaled 14 back and that the water demand at that location
15 has declined. And again--

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: That's huge.

17 MS. LICATA: Yeah, they're big, big numbers.

18 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yeah.

19 MS. LICATA: But again, we're seeing a 20 recovery, so we saw the steepest declines, and 21 we're giving you a six months' average, but we 22 have been somewhat impressed that there has been 23 recovery with the reopening.

24 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay. Well, thank you.

25 It's a, those are tough number, but if there

1 are, if you're seeing an upswing in the graph,
2 if the curve has actually gone positive, then 3 it, it amplifies the point I was making earlier, 4 that people are, are just in trouble, but this 5 is getting better, at least in those three 6 boroughs. That's a good thing.

7 MS. LICATA: Yeah, there has been some 8 recovery, and I'm going to temper that with a 9 little bit more sobering news from the summary 10 slide, so you'll definitely have--

11 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay, okay.

12 MS. LICATA: --something to take that away.
13 Sorry to dampen spirits. So, slide ten, if you 14 just bear with me, is really just a quick note 15 about the non-meter-billed demand trends, so 16 what we're seeing in our non-metered customers 17 is that they pretty much mirror the meter-billed 18 demands. Non-meter-billed residential demand 19 increased at the same time the non-residential 20 decreased. So, when I go to the summary slide, 21 what I'd like you to walk away with is an 22 understanding that the demand decreased sharply 23 in mid-March through May and began rebounding in 24 June, and there were even some moments in August 25 when I think we were actually even above our

1 2019 demand. So, residential demand increased 2 overall, and this is something that is 3 significant, and I do think relates to something
4 that you said earlier in the meeting, Manhattan
5 being the outlier. The borough demand in single 6 family customers in that borough certainly 7 decreased, but the other borough customers on 8 the residential side have increased, and we are 9 taking the next step to understand exactly where 10 those event occurred most dramatically. The 11 non-residential demand--

12 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: This is a very interesting
13 slide. The last point you make, increased 14 residential demand is not necessarily going to 15 increase revenue. That, that's an interesting 16 conclusion. It makes sense, based on your 17 bullet point, but I never would have gotten 18 there, which is to say that the sectoral trends
19 are nuanced, which is of course your title. It, 20 it's, this is a very interesting slide. Thank 21 you.

22 MS. LICATA: And that is essentially the 23 point that I wanted to leave you with. So, 24 we're going to be watching these trends very 25 closely. We're working closely with Jeff and

1 his team, and we're going to be sharing 2 information back and forth, and we'll be able to 3 update you on what we see as time unfolds.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you. Your overview,
5 your slide 12, I have just seen this for the 6 first time. Forgive me, I have not seen this 7 before. DEP's sustainable rate structure is a
8 holistic rate study that will analyze water - -, 9 yeah, that's, these two slides are very 10 interesting. Thank you. Thank you for taking 11 time to think these through and then to present 12 them to us. And now I'll stop talking because 13 this has already been the longest Water Board 14 meeting I've ever attended, but thank you. This 15 is, this is a great presentation. Thank you.

16 MR. FREED: And Angela, this is Adam. Thank 17 you. This is really fascinating. And I'm still 18 grappling with, and my head's whirling with the 19 implications of what all this shows us about the 20 patterns and the responses from the city 21 economically, geographically and whatnot from 22 the pandemic. I love looking at the sustainable 23 rate structure analysis summary which is, as 24 everyone on the Board and staff knows, is 25 something that's really close to my heart.

1 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yes.

2 MR. FREED: Would love maybe at the next 3 meeting, if we could dive a little bit more in 4 depth on this, and the update on the customer 5 billing system, because these two things are 6 really intricately linked on what we can do with 7 the findings of the rate structure analysis with 8 how the billing system is designed, just 9 understanding the timing of those, given that 10 this is a three-year study, at what point can we 11 anticipate results so we can begin thinking
12 about, as we think about future rate structures 13 and engaging the public in this, which is really 14 important, to make sure that they're engaged in 15 the analysis of the study that's going on as 16 educating and engaging the stakeholders, who are 17 ultimately paying the different rate structures 18 will be critically important.

19 MS. LICATA: Absolutely, yeah. We're firmly 20 committed to--

21 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: This is terrific.

22 MS. LICATA: --a robust public engagement
23 process. Tomorrow will mark our kick-off 24 internally, so we have been directed and we have 25 really hit the ground running on this study.

1 So, absolutely more to come. Omar has already 2 indicated that he would like a briefing for the 3 Board at the next meeting, and we will certainly 4 do so.

5 MR. FREED: Amazing, thank you so much for 6 both you and Omar for knowing that I was going 7 to ask that.

8 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Yes, we all knew you were 9 coming, Adam. We knew that you were going to be 10 there. Thank you so much for engaging on this.
11 This has been a terrific meeting. It has been a 12 long meeting, but, but we've covered, and 13 particularly, everything in this meeting was 14 important, of course, but this last presentation 15 was something that I will look forward to 16 getting more information about. Adam, thank you
17 for engaging on this, and I assume you will, you 18 will encourage Ms. Licata to do what you need 19 to have her do for the three-year study and 20 somebody has decided that we should have John 21 Phillip Souza on the, I'm sorry. I hope that 22 everybody has a great day.

23 MR. FREED: I actually think that was 24 Raymond Scott who was the, who orchestrated the 25 Looney Tunes.

1 [laughter]

2 MR. GOLDIN: I thought that there was not 3 going to be public comment during this, during 4 this meeting. I guess playing the Looney Tunes
5 theme may have been an implicit comment.

6 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Maybe an implicit comment.
7 Is there any other business to come before the 8 Board.

9 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Yeah, Mr. Chairman, it's Al
10 Rodriguez. It's come to my attention that I did 11 not ask you for your vote on the resolution 12 approving the minutes of May 22nd, 2020. How 13 did you vote on that?

14 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: I approved. I was an aye.

15 MR. RODRIGUEZ: Okay, thank you very much.

16 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Al. Thank you 17 very much. I want to thank everybody for 18 coming. May I have a motion please, if there is 19 no further business to come before the Board, 20 may I have motion, please to adjourn.

21 MR. GOLDIN: So moved.

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you very much, Jon.
23 Is there a second?

24 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Second, Evelyn.

25 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Thank you, Evelyn. Mr.

1 Rodriguez, do we have to poll the Board to 2 adjourn the meeting?

3 AR: Yeah, we might as well, yeah.

4 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Okay, all right.

5 AR: Mr. Carolina, do you, how do you vote
6 on the motion to end the meeting? Mr.
7 Carolina?

8 DR. CAROLINA: Aye.

9 AR: Ms. Fernandez-Ketcham, how do you vote?

10 MS. FERNANDEZ-KETCHAM: Aye.

11 AR: Member Freed, how do you vote?

12 MR. FREED: Aye.

13 AR: Member Goldin, how do you vote on this, 14 on the--

15 MR. GOLDIN: Aye.

16 AR: Ms. Shaw, how do you vote?

17 MS. SHAW: Aye.

18 AR: And Mr. Carney, how do you vote on 19 that?

20 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: Aye.

21 AR: All right.

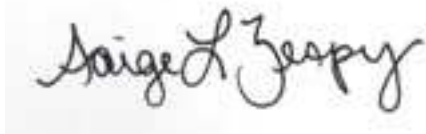

22 CHAIRMAN CARNEY: The meeting, the meeting
23 has been adjourned unanimously. Thank you all 24 for coming.
