“As the City's central independent administrative law court, OATH's top priority is to make it as easy as possible for those who have been issued summonses from City enforcement agencies to have their day in court,” said OATH Commissioner and Chief Administrative Law Judge, Fidel F. Del Valle. “OATH recognizes that there are many reason why it may be difficult to attend a hearing in person so we have worked diligently to make it possible for recipients of the most commonly issued summonses to fight those summonses remotely by using OATH's Hearings Online, Hearings by Mail, Hearings by Phone or Video (webcam) Hearings. Through our Courtesy program, OATH is working to make sure that the City's senior residents know about these convenient hearing methods and how to utilize them effectively."

About OATH

The City's Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (OATH) is the City's independent administrative law court where nearly all City enforcement agencies file their summonses for hearings including the Departments of Sanitation (DSNY), Buildings (DOB), Health (DOHMH), Parks (DPR), Environmental Protection (DEP), FDNY, NYPD, Consumer Affairs (DCA), and the Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC), among many others.

Last year, OATH received more than 850,000 summonses from NYC enforcement agencies and conducted more than 310,000 hearings. OATH offers recipients of summonses convenient hearings options such as Hearings Online, Hearings by Phone, Hearings by Webcam and Hearings by Mail as well as in-person hearings which are conducted in all five boroughs.
