

TLC

WorkWell coordinated with TLC to bring agencies together for an energetic interagency pickleball night featuring participants from TLC, OLR, and DDC. The event welcomed players of all skill levels, creating an inclusive environment where beginners received guidance from a coach while more experienced players jumped right into friendly competition.

Pour & Paint

Creativity took center stage at a paint pouring event hosted at TLC’s Long Island City office. Staff had the opportunity to explore fluid art techniques in a relaxed, hands-on setting that encouraged creativity and connection. Leadership joined in the fun as well—our Deputy Commissioner and Assistant Commissioner jumped right in, created their own unique pieces, and proudly posed with their finished paintings. Commissioner Do also stopped by to support the event. The event was filled with color, laughter, and a shared sense of accomplishment, demonstrating that wellness activities can bring employees and leadership together in inspiring and unexpected ways.

Culture of Health #5

Comprehensive, varied, integrated programs and activities.

TLC featured Tanya Scott, Lead Partner Liaison, as the instructor for Pour & Paint.
