- Employees who are unclear of the FLSA classification for their title should contact their Agency Payroll/Timekeeping Department.

5. Are there any limits to the deduction?

- Yes. There are currently limits to the maximum annual deduction. In 2025, the maximum annual deduction is $12,500 ($25,000 for joint filers). Refer to Form 1040 (Schedule 1-A)

- No. It only applies to federal income tax return. It does not apply to State and Local income tax returns. It does not apply to FICA (Social Security & Medicare), State, City, Yonkers, etc.

8. Is FLSA Comp Time used deductible on the federal income tax return?

- Yes, the premium component of FLSA Comp Time used is deductible on the federal income tax return. Refer to IRS Notice 2025-69.
- Note: For the purpose of these FAQ’s the Total FLSA Premium Component is the sum of the premium components of FLSA Comp Time Used and FLSA Overtime Paid.

9. Where can employees obtain the Total FLSA Premium Component amount to use as a deduction when filing their federal income tax return?

- NYCAPS Employee Self Service (ESS) will display the Total FLSA Premium Component amount for this Tax Year – which is a total of the FLSA Comp Time used and FLSA Overtime paid. Within the “Pay & Tax Information” tile in ESS, employees navigate to Pay Tax Information -> FLSA OT Inquiry screen. On this screen, employees can select the Tax Year for reporting. The amount to use for reporting is at the top of the screen and is labelled Total FLSA Premium Component.
- Note: NYCAPS Employee Self Service (ESS) provides both the FLSA OT paid to the employee and the value of FLSA Comp Time used by the employee during the reporting period.
  - The FLSA OT Premium Component represents the “and a half (.5x) portion of the FLSA OT “time and a half” (1.5x) paid to the employee.
  - The FLSA Comp Time Used Premium Component represents the value of the “and a half (.5x) portion of the “time and a half” (1.5x) previously earned by the employee and used.
  - The Total FLSA Premium Component is sum of the two amounts above and is the amount to use as a deduction when filing their federal income tax return.
- Employees should contact their Agency Payroll/Timekeeping Department, if they have any questions about the Total FLSA Premium Component amount.

10. If an employee does not have access to ESS, how can they obtain the Total FLSA Premium Component amount?

11. Where can an employee obtain the pay details of the FLSA OT Premium Component amount?

- In NYCAPS Employee Self Service (ESS), within the “Pay & Tax Information” tile in ESS, employees navigate to Pay Tax Information -> FLSA OT Inquiry screen. On the FLSA OT Inquiry screen, an employee can see the individual pay details (by earned date and pay date) and the types of qualifying FLSA overtime pay used in the calculation of the FLSA OT Premium Component amount. 12. What resources are available to Agency Payroll/Timekeeping Departments to support employees inquiries?

- Estubs: The FLSA OT Inquiry is available to authorized Estubs personnel. The inquiry provides:

- CHRMS: There are 2 CHRMS reports available to authorized users:
  - The PY22 – FLSA OT – Premium Component Summary report is available to authorized CHRMS personnel to see the premium component amount for any FLSA OT paid to their employees in the tax year. The Amount is what was paid to the employee (and is what the employee would see embedded within the Overtime summary on their pay stub). The FLSA OT Premium Component column represents the “and a half” portion of the qualifying FLSA OT pay.
  - The PY23 – FLSA Comp Time – Premium Component Summary report is available to authorized CHRMS personnel to obtain a listing of FLSA Comp Time premium component (“and a half”) amount for any FLSA Comp Time used and reportable in the tax year.
  - Note: Similar to Estubs (and ESS for the employee), both the premium component of FLSA overtime and FLSA Comp Time used are required by the employee – as the sum of both amounts can be used for the new federal tax deduction.
