Moment of Crisis

THOUSANDS OF YOUNG PEOPLE WITHOUT A HOME

Each year, about 4.2 million young people in the U.S. face homelessness. Most don't choose this path. The reasons are complex and vary for each person.

Long-Term Support

SUSTAINABLE INDEPENDENCE

Our staff helps youth plan for their future with education, employment, and career planning. We support survivors of trafficking, LGBTQ+ youth, and young parents.

EDUCATION

We guide youth to educational and vocational opportunities that match their strengths and interests.

JOB READINESS

Our programs help youth develop the skills needed to join the workforce and achieve independence.

TRANSITIONAL HOUSING

In our Rights of Passage program, youth can stay up to 24 months to build life skills, gain financial literacy, participate in educational and vocational programs, and prepare for stable housing.
