

La EP101: cómo hablar sobre el Parkinson en su comunidad

Parkinson's Disease 101 Workshop for Community Health Workers (CHWs)/ Promotores de Salud

For more information, please visit:
Parkinson.org/Promotores

Contact Marcelo Arroyave
Research Coordinator,
School of Medicine, CUNY
646 832 8997
marroyave@ccny.cuny.edu

The Parkinson's Foundation and CUNY School of Medicine offer an interactive workshop, Parkinson's Disease 101: How to Talk About Parkinson's in Your Community for Community Health Workers (CHWs) /Promotores de Salud. Participants will gain basic knowledge about PD, identify available resources, and establish talking points to help deliver PD education in their community. This in-person interactive program features a "train the trainer" component and combines expert-led lectures by a movement disorder specialist, engaging learning activities, and pre/post assessments. The program is FREE for CHWs and Promotores de Salud interested in learning about Parkinson's disease (PD) and includes a certificate of attendance.

Helpline: 1-800-4PD-INFO (473-4636)

Parkinson.org

