- They are removing coins on buses, but this won't happen until later in the year. When the information is available, they will advise.

- After the 13th ride, everything else for that 7-day period will be free.

The four stations mentioned, you will see the F train there rather than the M.
- Similarly, the M train will replace F trains at 21st Street Queensbridge, Roosevelt Island, Lexington Avenue 63rd, and 57th Street. Of those eight stations, those are the only ones affected. Other than that, the F and the M will remain. Go in the same routes they usually do towards their end and beginning point.
- Q & A

A board member spoke about the new bus stop for 101 on Borden Avenue right by the tunnel vent as it is dangerous, as you can't get to it. If you go across the street, there is no coordination with DOT. The cars coming around and the bus coming around you can't see when you are crossing. There is no traffic stop or anything crossing that street. It's a dangerous spot. She asked if the MTA and NYC Transit bothered to coordinate with DOT. This is setting up a dangerous situation there. This is near the Queens Midtown Tunnel Vent Shaft.

0:59:42 Mae Francke, Transportation Alternatives Provided a Presentation on Protected Bike Lanes in Sunnyside and Woodside:

- Reported they do public realm, street safety, public transit and safe streets advocacy in the city. They do a lot of work and grassroots organizing.

- They came to discuss a campaign that they've been building for a couple of months about creating a protected bike lane network in Sunnyside and Woodside.
- They shared some of their stories and their experience of the work they have been doing.
- They want to have a bike lane network so that people can ride safely in the streets.
- Mae Francke introduced Elmer, a resident of Sunnyside who spoke about the proposal.

Philip Leff presented their idea to create connected network of bike lanes that allow people to safely ride throughout Sunnyside, Woodside and beyond.

- They are focusing on this idea of a network. They have seen in the past that a lot of transportation planning is done on a corridor-by-corridor basis, which has benefits for people who live and pass through those corridors, but is not a network. This plan can get people to all parts of the neighborhood and beyond.
- 47th Avenue provides a direct connection from LIC all the way to the edge of Woodside. Greenpoint Avenue improves connections to north Brooklyn.
- 43rd Street is really a north-south spine that can go directly from the Kosciusko Bridge all the way to Astoria.
- On the eastern side, closer to Woodside, 69th Street up the hill towards Maspeth and Glendale, Middle Village and 39th Avenue, a continuation of the Bike Boulevard. This would provide safety for an unruly stretch of road and be a link and a connection that goes all the way from Flushing Meadows Corona Park to the 59th Street Bridge and into Manhattan.
- 43rd Street and Honeywell Street Bridge, Astoria is not far away. This can connect the two neighborhoods.
- Protected bike lanes would really be part of a comprehensive street plan to make these areas easier to walk to.
- 47th Avenue is a direct street all the way from Skillman Avenue by LaGuardia Community College, all the way to the new film studio and the cemetery. It is an uninterrupted street that does not have any bus routes, making it a perfect place for traffic calming. It also passes by IS 125 the tragic site where a student was killed by a reckless driver of a box truck.
- He spoke about 39th Avenue and 69th Street and the bike connection to 34th Avenue and Northern Blvd. This is about expanding access and opportunity.
- Greenpoint Avenue is a direct connection to Greenpoint and north Brooklyn, an unruly stretch of road.
- They are not transportation planners and are actively engaged citizens. They are here to initiate and to begin a dialogue with the professional planners. They are here to open the discussion and want to make sure that their goals are met with network connectivity and of travel through our neighborhood and beyond.
- These locations are not set in stone.
- Q & A

- Q & A

1:37:16 Melanie Marin, spoke about an Introduced Bill 1337-2025.

- This is a new bill that proposes the Department of Education to work in collaboration with the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to develop educational material on school vaccinations and the Department of Education plan to distribute these materials to all New York City Public School students including early childhood programs.
- The goal of these educational materials is to provide general information on how vaccines work, provide information on public health benefits of the vaccinations, as well as playing a role in disease prevention, the safety of vaccines, addressing misinformation of vaccines as well and where to obtain school required immunizations.
- This bill will require educational materials on school immunizations to be provided in English and the nine most common home languages spoken by students and any additional languages as determined by department.
- Not only would it address the current obstacles on access to vaccine information but help create additional health outcomes, including increasing health literacy among parents, improved health incomes, and strengthen herd immunity.
- She was there today to raise awareness of this bill and to advocate for support of this bill to not only improve the vaccination rates in public school classrooms by increasing and increasing cultural and linguistic and educational information available on school immunizations but creating a stronger healthier school community.
- Q & A

There is a publicly funded institution in Sunnyside Shines that has not been helpful in any meaningful way. This is an emergency where this business needs extra support and he was able to guide her to Small Business Services. A GoFundMe page has been set up.

- He spoke about failure to cooperate with the second circuit court's decision particularly the 108th's actions as well as the persecution of the execution of law. As the Chair and Manager, he said they are responsible and liable for all actions. Public authorities and their leasehold estates are your jurisdiction. Paid position or not will not negate negligence. Pursuant to 50-E, we will follow all the necessary appropriate file works for the Court of Claims and the Attorney General.
- He spoke about Article 77, Article 78 and Article 82, respectively.

1:58:23 Leticia Vasquez, stated she is a daughter of immigrants from Mexico and that a couple of weeks ago she saw a group for community members by 46th Street handing out whistles to alert community members to that they can alert whenever ICE was present in the community. Her pleas or call to action for CB 2 and community members that are listening to join forces as a community to work together to protect immigrants that have lived and worked here so hard for many years.

- Ryan Smith, Secretary
- Michael Zoorob, Treasurer
- Patrick Martinez, Parliamentarian

2:11:50 Treasurer's Report (Michael Zoorob)

- Provided an update to the Board's operational budget.
- This refers to two different things.
- There is the statement of needs process which is the city's budget where the Community Board has a formal role under the Charter to provide feedback to the City about our priorities that shape agencies allocations and funding.
- Separately there is the community board's budget that is about the operational budget of the board.
- The Community Board is functionally an agency of the city and so it has a budget that it received in appropriations, and the board decides how to allocate that budget.
- In our by-laws they do speak to this point that the Treasurer shall on a quarterly basis review and report to the board on its operational budget.
- Also to prepare a proposed operational budget in writing and submit it to the board for approval prior to each fiscal year.
- He believes the Board has never voted on its operational budget.
- He reported that he received from the office the of Q1 of fiscal year 2026. operational budget and how things have been spent and some information about allocations.

- He also discussed very preliminarily some thinking around the operational budget for the remainder of the fiscal year and into the coming years.
- There are three types of expenses in the community board's operational budget. The first is personal services, the second is rent for the board office, which is a separate thing and is handled separately from the other two and handled by a different agency.
- The third category is other than personal services (OTPS)
- The rent and personal services are the vast majority of the budget. The grand total allocated to CB 2 annually for the fiscal year 2026 is $416,000 and about two thirds is personal services, about 30% is rent.
- 4% $17,000 is other than personal services.
- There is a public website from the comptroller where you can get statistics about agencies including community boards. It is called Checkbook NYC.
- He discussed the purchase of a laptop and purchase of a desktop on July 14, 2025, and they're categorized as fiscal year 26 on the website and when he consulted with the office it was a fiscal year 25 expense.

Sheila Lewandowski stated that when she served on the executive committee with Denise and Lisa at different times, they actually did look into the OTPS and there were things about hiring consultants for Land Use and looking at the contracts for even the office equipment and what was left at the end of the year and how to best use it. She didn't want to leave it out there, that it has never happened before. It may not have been in the general minutes but was in the Executive and Budget Committee minutes.

Lisa Deller stated that we never reported to the full board we would have discussions with the office about spending or if there was extra money at year end how that would be spent. During Covid we had lots of conversations about technology. We had a more active collaboration with the office about that, but we never reported back. She thanked Michael for doing a good job.

Michael Zorob reported that a large chunk is already non-negotiable and accounted for. Such as filming board meetings and renting the space for CB 2 meetings is a big expense. These are essential to the functioning of the board, cleaning the office and hosting meetings on zoom also have quite a big expense and are likely to increase.

As of October, the OTPS actual available balance was listed as approximately $3,300. He spoke about codifying our principles for the budget process for voting and is requesting people who could work with him to help iron out a form for committee chairs to say what their thoughts are on the OTPS expenses.

It is a constrained environment; we can deliberate as a collective community board and have a conversation about this in the way that other boards are already doing.

He hopes to share some context and to build alignment on this whole thing and to think about fiscal year 2026, what does the current $3,000 apparently that is unallocated

Our board has experienced persistent zoom bombings both in the full board meeting and in committee meetings and having a webinar set up where not anyone can just unmute themselves is sorely needed. This may result in incurring additional expenses. We have an opportunity to weigh in but our opportunity is constrained.

He will work with the office on a write-up and there are a lot of expenses that he doesn't understand.

Q & A

2:42:03 District Manager's Report (Debra Markell Kleinert) provided the following update:

- Stated it is great to work together and to be collaborative and that it is great to have this dialogue and the input is important.
- She reported that the Pitney Bowes Stamp Machine is for mass mailings as we are required to mail notices to the community for public hearings as this is part of what the Community Board is supposed to do.
- She further explained that it has happened in the past where people had promised other entities money from the board. We are not a council office; we are not a community or a civic group.
- The Budget has always been collaborative with the Chair of the Community Board that is who the budget is always discussed with.
- Anyone who makes a request usually makes it through the Chair into the District Office. We get a new pot of money every July for the fiscal year which is from July to June. That is how we allocate money where the money is needed.
- We are allowed to buy swag so we can promote the Community Board.
- Many years ago, there was extra Council Money for a lot of things, where the Council body gave it to all the community boards equally and each board decided how to spend it.
- This is how we were able to come into the 21st Century because former CB 2 Chair, Lisa Deller and some of our former chairs were quite proactive, as well as current Chair, Anatole Ashraf, to make sure that we are technically savvy. We are still working on that, and she thanked Anatole Ashraf for it is very important. We are trying to work to do better.
- Money is allocated based on our purchase orders. If there is any type of swag, such as suggestions made by Morry Galonoy, Danielle Brecker and Dr. Rosamond Gianutsos such as bags, pens and little purses and buttons. We do not have discretionary money. There are boards that have gotten into a lot of trouble, and some boards had problems during that period of time which the $42,000 dollars was given as they purchased a car and were not allowed to do that.
- We do not have a check book. We do have a system called the FMS system and we can only move money and do so through the system.

- She explained that interns have to be paid. In the past we have had interns from LaGuardia Community College as they have a Co-op program. We are trying to get them to continue to do that.
- Debbie stated that we love new ideas; we always love working together and she wanted to congratulate everyone on the fact that CB 2 has never been in the red and that we have always managed our budget well.

2:50:51 Land Use & Housing (Anatole Ashraf provided the update):

- At the Land Use & Housing Committee's November Meeting, the committee voted to support the homeowner's application to the Landmarks Preservation Commission for a skylight replacement at 40-12 44th Street following a clear presentation of the scope and preservation considerations.
- We also agreed to write a letter endorsing Big Reuse and the Newtown Creek Alliance's proposal to serve as stewards of the Borden Avenue street end, a key access point to Dutch Kills.

- Phipps/Mega provided an update on construction. The Committee asked that they meet directly with the Phipps Tenant's Association regarding the request for Saturday operating hours before any decision is made.
- NYU Wagner students presented early work on a localized hazard mitigation plan for Long Island City.
- The Committee also discussed the forthcoming OneLIC Oversight Committee application process, expected soon from Council Member Won's office, and requested a future EDC presentation to clarify the status and potential uses of the DOE-controlled public site within the rezoning area.

2:51:50 Transportation Committee (Corey Hannigan provided the update)

- The Committee heard a presentation from Gil Lopez, Big Reuse and Willis Elkins from the New town Creek Alliance. We voted in favor of signing onto Land Use's letter and we will agree with that committee.
- We voted unanimously in favor of making the entire space public green space and request the city work with two organizations who have worked to reclaim this space from toxic dumpers and polluters and government negligence as well as the community members who have created a public good in the skate park. This small, neglected lot has a lot of potential for public use, and we are grateful that community stewardship has been offered.
- There was also a presentation on Greenpoint Avenue. Advocates working with Brooklyn CB 1 presented to us their proposal for Greenpoint Avenue and included an additional proposal for Greenpoint on our side to do a safety study and comprehensive safety redesign. This is an important connection for our two boroughs. The Committee voted unanimously to request the street safety improvement project including protected bike lanes from Greenpoint Avenue bridge and extending to and on Roosevelt Avenue all the way through our district.
- We saw the same presentation that TA presented tonight. We voted in favor with none opposed and one abstention. The Committee has already requested that many of these corridors be given protected bike lanes and street safety improvements and even included most of them in our budget request this year.
- We pressed DOT on the slow restriping of streets after repaving and pushed for Woodside Avenue to get its crosswalks back. Today, the outlines of the crosswalk finally went down, we expect to see it soon.
- We voted to request physical vertical barriers, separating the shared pedestrian and bike lane from the automobile onramp under the LIE at 43rd Street, that is where it approaches the K Bridge.
- There were some changes to the New York City Ferry that will make trips during rush hour from Hunters Point to Wall Street much faster.

2:54:18 Health and Human Services and Education and Unhoused and Shelter Committee (Lauren Springer)

- The Committee did not have a meeting in November.

- The next meeting is on December 8, 2025, at 6:00pm and it is virtual. There will be a presentation from Principal Lousi Garcia of Queens Technical High School and a presentation from Abbott House Community Partnership on Foster Parenting.

2:54:55 City Services & Public Safety Committee (Danielle Brecker)

- Announced the next City Services & Public Safety Committee Meeting will take place on Wednesday, December 10, 2025, at 6:30 pm.

2:55:18 Arts & Cultural Affairs (Karesia Batan)

- Last month, we had Flushing Town Hall about their open grant cycle which the deadline is December 18, 2025, but also on the status of their cultural mapping project which was funded by the state. They are in the process of creating a literal cultural map that lists all the arts and culture spaces and entities across the borough.
- If anyone knows of an entity that is not currently on their map, please check out their project on the Flushing Town Hall website.
- We also brought in the Naturally Occurring Cultural Districts New York organization. They are also creating a different but complementary type of mapping from an advocacy collaboration standpoint, and they showed us the beta version of it. Visit their website at www.nocdny.org. It is a visual version of LinkedIn specific to arts and culture and advocacy so you can see who is already signed up on there.
- Naturally Occurring Cultural Districts is something that we are trying to push forward as visibility standpoint specifically in the context of OneLIC because we do believe that this is a naturally occurring cultural district especially along the artery of 46th Avenue and we want to make sure that stands strong and visible throughout the entire development that is in the pipeline.
- We had a quick update about what is happening with Bliss Theater. The developer has been very responsive and cooperative with us and allowed her, Eric along with Christine, to go inside of the building. They have completed the demo inside and we have made a list of things that we want to preserve. They hired a third-party salvage company that has taken those items out along with other things and brought them back to their warehouse in Connecticut to restore them. We are in the process of making sure our list of things that we want brought back to us and implemented in whatever their next stage of design is.
- All were invited to attend the Arts & Culture Committee Meeting on Tuesday because there will be lots of exciting announcements including the borough-wide meeting that she co-hosted with the Borough President's Office and all the Arts & Culture Committees in Queens. There are exciting plans on the agenda and advocacy for arts and Culture.

Sheila Lewandowski reported that she and Karesia both attended a rally on the steps of City Hall with Council Member Eric Botcher who is the current chair for the Committee for Culture and the Arts and it's something that would be popular in this area as well and it was cosponsored with Keith Powers from Manhattan to do zoning specific to artist housing live work space. There is also another bill that she thinks will connect with that that is also being sponsored by Council Member Botcher for a kind of SRO-type housing, but these two things will connect.

Karesia reported there are two independent dedicated arts and culture committees, CB 1 and CB 2. She felt strongly about convening all the community boards with any committees that housed their arts and cultural activities on community Boards. Over half showed up to this meeting. There are arts in every community board district. There will be an update at her next meeting. They are trying to advocate how to get more artists involved and how all community boards can look at their bylaws such as ours. She referenced all the activities that CB 2 has done

3:00:52 Environment, Parks & Recreation (Carlos Castell Croke)

- Reported the committee did not meet last month due to the Thanksgiving Holiday.
- The Committee will not meet in December as it is Christmas.
- They will have a meeting in January.

3:01:11 Small Business and Local Economy (Anatole Ashraf provided the update)

No report as Morry Galonoy was excused.

3:01:12 Engagement & Inclusion (Amaurys Valdez)

- Announced that he is partnering up with 11 labs and a few other AI companies for a global hackathon. He wanted to encourage everyone in CB 2 and in Queens to come and participate in the hackathon. He describes a hackathon where they partner with various companies and basically have 6 hours or so to build an application using these services. It is a way for one to network, meet people who are like-minded and are into tech products and build an application that can be useful. He announced he would be one of the judges and encouraged all to participate.
- He spoke about a speaker that came in at the last meeting who is the director of NYC Mayor's Office from Criminal Justice, by the name of Dionne Logan and she spoke about the importance of creating housing and welcoming formerly incarcerated individuals and the obstacles she faces and how we can help.
- Announced the holiday food drive from November 25, 2025, through December 24, 2025. There are three drop-off locations, St. Raphaels Church, 35-20 Greenpoint Avenue, Church of St. Teresa's 52-20 45th Street, Woodside, and La Hornada at 47-09 30th Street.
- Announced the Coat Drive. We have a new partner which is Culture Lab which will be another drop-off location and thanked them for allowing us to do that.
- It is outdoors at 5-25 46th Avenue, LIC. Another partner is the GPK Foundation America 41-66 72nd Street Suite 1A, Woodside, NY.

- Announced from the Tech Committee that he and Randy Plemel will be working on the OneLIC Tracker website. If anyone is interested in helping, to reach out to him.

Karesia requested via the Engagement Committee if there was any way to table at some of the upcoming street lighting events and the Sunnyside Shines holiday market at Sunnyside Community Services, which would be a great opportunity for us to start introducing and reintroducing ourselves to the community and letting them know that they should apply for membership.

The meeting was adjourned.
