NYC DOT Seeking Artists and Programming Partners for Summer Streets 2025

New York City Department of Transportation (NYC DOT) Commissioner Ydanis Rodriguez recently opened a call for artists to submit proposals for art installations and for programming partners to help shape Summer Streets 2025. Summer Streets is an annual celebration of New York City's most valuable public space – our streets, taking place on select Saturdays from the morning to the afternoon. Miles of NYC's streets are open in both directions for people to play, walk, and bike along while taking a break at the route rest stops to enjoy free activities.

Under the Adams Administration, Summer Streets has expanded its footprint to all five boroughs for the first time ever, as well as increased the hours of operation every year. These evolutions of the initiative were the first such expansions since the Summer Streets program was launched in 2009.

A quick reminder about the NYPD's Neighborhood Policing Program!

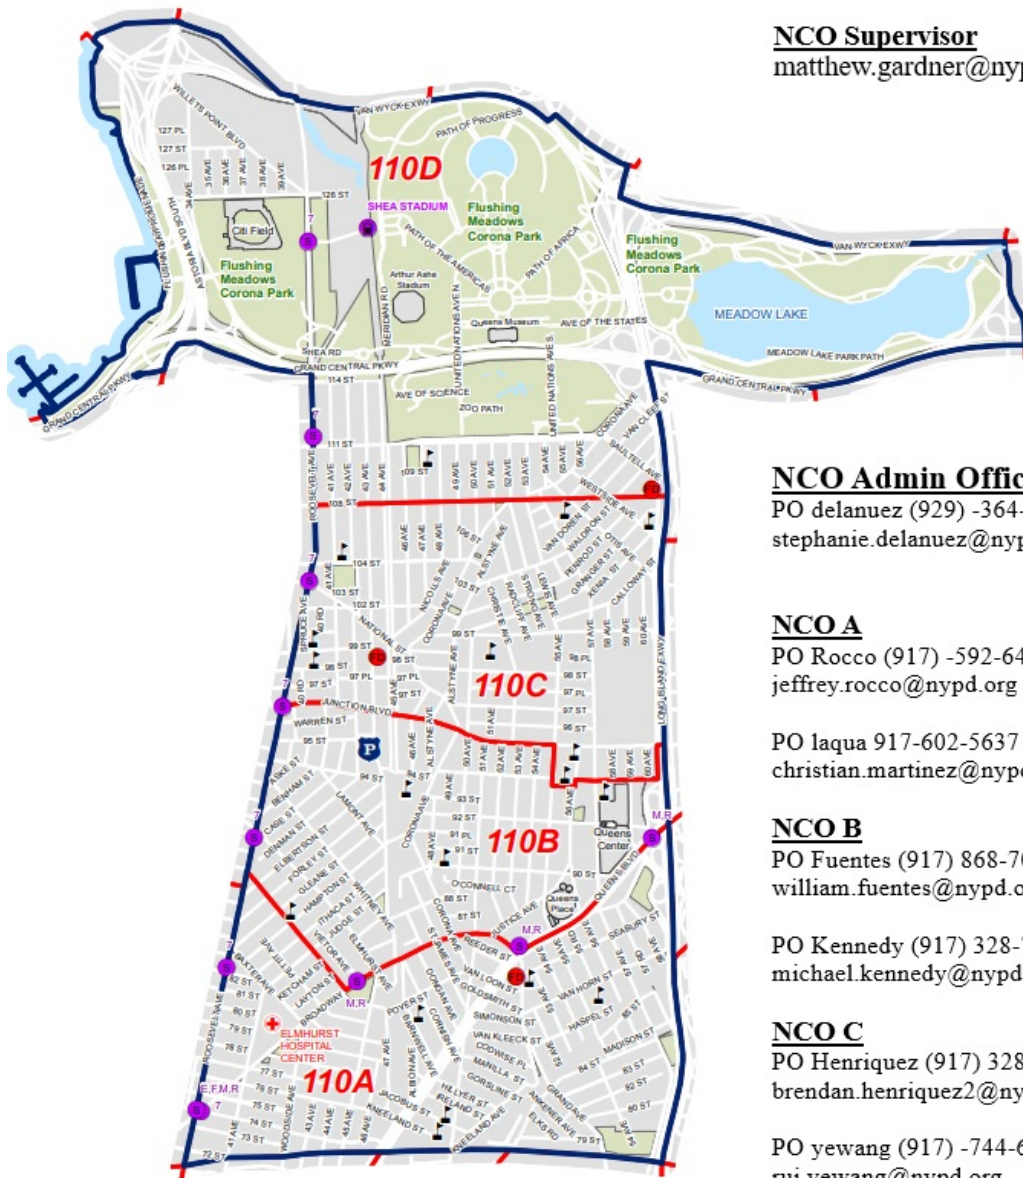

Neighborhood Policing is a comprehensive crime-fighting strategy built on improved communication and collaboration between local police officers and community residents.
