THE CITY'S CONSTITUTION?

You can vote on that.

The New York City Charter is our city's constitution—an instruction manual for our local government. It describes how the city spends our tax dollars, the powers of our elected officials, and how decisions are made about changes to our neighborhoods.

On November fifth, New Yorkers across the five boroughs will vote on five ballot questions that could change our local elections, how police officers are held accountable, how the city budget is set, government ethics rules, and how land in the city is developed.

On November 5, 2019, you can vote on that.

The Federal Administration has finalized a new policy in immigration law that could limit legal immigration for working class immigrants.

The Public Charge rule will go into effect on October 15, 2019, and though several pending lawsuits may delay implementation, it is important to inform our communities of the potential impact.

Join us at our Queens Town Hall on Public Charge to learn more about "Public Charge", who it may affect, and how local organizations are supporting our immigrant communities.
