Biographical/Historical Information

The Office of the Mayor of New York City heads the executive branch of New York City government. The Mayor is responsible for the governance of all city agencies and offices, administers the city budget, and enforces the laws and statutes of the city. Since the consolidation of the boroughs in 1898, the Mayor has had jurisdiction over all five. The Office of the Mayor began as an appointed position when, in 1665, New York Governor Richard Nicolls appointed Thomas Willett as the first mayor of New York. Since 1834, the Mayor has been elected by a popular vote.

The following is a list of the Mayoral administrations of New York City:

Scope and Content Note

This collection consists of the records produced by the Office of the Mayor of the City of New York from 1827 to 1897 in the service of conducting official business. These records have been grouped together into one unit, but each series represents the administration of one of the Mayors for which the Municipal Archives holds the records.

The mayoral administrations included in this records series are the following:

1. Philip Hone, 1826-1827
2. William Paulding Jr., 1827-1829
3. Walter Bowne, 1829-1833
4. Cornelius Van Wyck Lawrence, 1834-1837
5. Aaron Clark, 1837-1839
6. James Harper, 1844-1845
7. Caleb Smith Woodhull, 1849-1851
8. Ambrose Kingsland, 1851-1853
9. Jacob Aaron Westervelt, 1853-1855
10. Fernando Wood, 1855-1858
11. Daniel F. Tiemann, 1858-1860
12. Fernando Wood, 1860-1862
13. George Opdyke, 1862-1864
14. Charles Godfrey Gunther, 1864-1866
15. John T. Hoffman, 1866-1868
16. Thomas Coman, 1868
17. Abraham Oakey Hall, 1869-1872
18. William F. Havemeyer, 1873-1874
19. Samuel B. H. Vance, 1874
20. William H. Wickham, 1875-1876
21. Smith Ely, Jr., 1877-1878
22. Edward Cooper, 1879-1880
23. William Russell Grace, 1881-1882
24. Franklin Edson, 1883-1884
25. William Russell Grace, 1885-1886
26. Abram S. Hewitt, 1887-1888
27. Hugh J. Grant, 1889-1892
28. Thomas F. Gilroy, 1893-1894
29. William L. Strong, 1895-1897

Not every Mayor is represented, and not all records from every Mayor are represented. The records of the earliest Mayors in this group are spotty, while the strength of this collection is with the papers of the later Mayors. These records are materials created in the service of the daily business of the Mayor's Office including: correspondence, reports, drafts, ephemera, and other materials. Other material includes official documentation of the City of New York that required the Mayor's approval, including: warrants, affidavits, applications for licenses, licenses issued, oaths of office, and petitions, among other material. The series entitled Unknown contains material produced by the Mayor's Office but is unable to be attributed to any specific Mayor. An archivist devised the folder titles from the materials contained within. Correspondence folders in particular contain materials that deal with a variety of different subjects.

Arrangement

The Office of the Mayor, Early Mayors' Records are arranged chronologically into thirty series based on each mayoral administration. Mayors who served for multiple non-consecutive terms will have more than one series.

Within these series, a staff archivist arranged materials by subject or department and then chronologically within those groupings. Researchers can assume that very little of the material retains any original arrangement. Materials within folders were arranged by a staff archivist in chronological order, except where doing so would interfere with any remnant of the original order of the material. Within most series, the folders are arranged alphabetically by subject and then chronologically within those subjects.

Series II: Philip Hone, 1826-1827

Date(s): 1826
Size (Extent): 2 folders
Biographical Information: Philip Hone was born in 1780 and rose to prominence as a wealthy auctioneer and an important member of New York's high society. He was elected Mayor by the Common Council on January 3, 1826 and was a Federalist at that time, but later became a Whig. Hone's diary is perhaps his most famous legacy, recording the social and political life of the changing city. He was a founder of the Mercantile Library Society and the first president of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company. Hone died in 1851.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by the administration of Philip Hone.
Arrangement: This series is arranged alphabetically by folder title.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 1 (master negative no. 10724).
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1201

Series III: William Paulding Jr., 1827-1829

Date(s): 1827-1829, undated
Size (Extent): 2 folders
Biographical Information: William Paulding, Jr. was born in 1790 in Westchester County and studied law in New York. He was elected as representative to Congress and held office as a Democratic-Republican from 1811 to 1813. He served in the War of 1812. Serving two non-consecutive terms as Mayor (1824-1825 and 1827-1929), Paulding saw the first gas lighting in New York City and the opening of the Erie Canal during his administration. He died in 1854.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by the second administration of William Paulding, Jr. Paulding's first administration ran from 1824-1825 and the Municipal Archives does not hold records from that administration.
Arrangement: This series is arranged alphabetically by folder title.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 1 (master negative no. 10724).
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1201

Series IV: Walter Bowne, 1829-1833

Date(s): 1827-1830
Size (Extent): 1 folder
Biographical Information: Walter Bowne was born in the town of Flushing in 1770, the descendant of John Bowne, champion of religious freedom in the colony of New York. Bowne served as a New York State Senator before becoming the 59th Mayor of New York City in 1829. During his administration, Bowne orchestrated a widespread quarantine for a cholera outbreak in 1832. Walter Bowne died in 1846.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by Walter Bowne's mayoral administration.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 1 (master negative no. 10724).

Series V: Cornelius W. Lawrence, 1834-1837

Date(s): 1835
Size (Extent): 1 folder
Biographical Information: Cornelius Van Wyck Lawrence, born in 1791 in Flushing, was the first popularly elected mayor of New York City and served for three consecutive one-year terms. Before his election as Mayor, Lawrence made his fortune as a merchant in New York, and was elected to Congress in 1834 as a Jacksonian Democrat. Under his administration, the great fire of 1835 destroyed more than 600 buildings in Lower Manhattan, and in 1837, a financial crisis caused great hardship for city residents. He died in 1861 and is buried in Bayside, Queens.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by Cornelius W. Lawrence's mayoral administration.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 1 (master negative no. 10724).

Series VI: Aaron Clark, 1837-1838

Date(s): 1837-1838
Size (Extent): 4 folders
Biographical Information: Aaron Clark was born in Massachusetts in 1787, grew up in Vermont, and was educated in New York State. He served in the war of 1812, served as clerk of the New York State Assembly from 1814-1820, and after a move to New York City, became involved in local politics, serving as Alderman before his election as Mayor in 1837. His terms were marked by financial depression and political controversy. Clark held frequent balls at his Leonard Street home, earning him the nickname the "Dancing Mayor". He died in 1861.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by Aaron Clark's mayoral administration, all dealing with a cholera quarantine.
Arrangement: This series is arranged chronologically.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 1 (master negative no. 10724).

Series VII: James Harper, 1844-1845

Date(s): 1844
Size (Extent): 2 folders
Biographical Information: James Harper was born in 1795 and elected Mayor of New York in April, 1844. A printer by trade, he and his brother John established Harper & Brothers, the predecessor to HarperCollins. Harper was elected Mayor as the American Republican Party candidate, although his platform was that of the anti-immigrant, anti-Catholic Know-Nothing Nativists. He established the modern New York Police Department in 1844. Harper also banned free-roaming pigs in New York City and began to deal with sanitation issues in the city. He died in 1869.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by James Harper's mayoral administration.
Arrangement: This series is arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Series VIII: Caleb S. Woodhull, 1849-1851

Date(s): 1847-1851
Size (Extent): 0.25 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Caleb Woodhull was born in 1792 and was elected Mayor in 1849 as a Whig. Woodhull was an attorney, having studied law at Yale University. He served in the War of 1812, and remained active in the militia until 1830. He became involved in New York City politics in 1836, serving on the Common Council and later as President of the Board of Aldermen. Woodhull died in 1866.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by Caleb S. Woodhull's mayoral administration.

Series X: Jacob A. Westervelt, 1853-1855

Date(s): 1853-1854
Size (Extent): 0.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Jacob Aaron Westervelt was born in 1800. He was a prominent shipbuilder with vessels his company built in use all over the world during his lifetime and after. He was elected to the Common Council in 1840, and then elected Mayor in 1853. Westervelt was notorious for reforming the Police Department during his administration, especially for introducing police uniforms. Westervelt also presided over the first world's fair in New York City, the Exhibition of the Industry of All Nations, in 1853. Westervelt died in 1879.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by Jacob A. Westervelt's mayoral administration. The papers consist primarily of court documents dealing with complaints against carriage drivers.
Arrangement: This series is arranged chronologically.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See roll 3 (master negative no. 10726).
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1203

Series XI: Fernando Wood, 1855-1858

Date(s): 1855-1876
Size (Extent): 2.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Fernando Wood was born in 1812. He was a successful shipping merchant and a Democratic congressman before he was Mayor. Wood was eventually named the Grand Sachem of Tammany Hall, and his association with the political machine influenced his view that New York City should side with the Confederacy in the Civil War, since the city profited from the cotton trade with the South. Wood also presided over the New York Police Riots, wherein a state police force attempted to oust Wood's city police force, arresting Wood in the process and wreaking havoc on the city. Wood served two terms, from 1855-1858 and from 1860-1862. Wood died in 1881.
Scope and Content: This series contains material generated by the first administration of Fernando Wood's mayoralty. These papers are primarily concerned with health quarantines, the police department, and the street department.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 3-7 (master negative nos. 10726-10730).

Series XVII: Thomas Coman, 1868-1869

Date(s): 1868
Size (Extent): 3 folders
Biographical Information: Thomas Coman was born in Ireland in 1836. Coman held positions as a printer, reporter, post office clerk, and later as an attorney, serving as a Magistrate for the New York City Police Court. He was a Tammany Democrat and served as President of the Board of Aldermen from 1868 to 1871. Coman served as acting Mayor of the city after Hoffman resigned from office to become New York State Governor. He served for only a few weeks, from December 1, 1868 to January 4, 1869. Coman was later indicted for conspiracy for his involvement in a Tweed Ring conspiracy. He died in 1909.
Scope and Content: This series contains a small amount of material generated by the mayoral administration of Thomas Coman.

Date(s): 1869-1872
Size (Extent): 1.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Abraham Oakey Hall was born in New York City in 1826. He was a reporter and an attorney who served four terms as the New York District Attorney before being elected Mayor in 1869. He presided over a variety of political clashes between Nativists and Tammany Hall supporters during his term. Notably, after his administration, he was the defense attorney for Emma Goldman in her trial in 1894. He died in 1898.
Scope and Content: This series contains miscellaneous material generated by the mayoral administration of A. Oakey Hall.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.

Series XIX: William F. Havemeyer, 1873-1874

Date(s): 1872-1874
Size (Extent): 12 cubic feet
Biographical Information: William Frederick Havemeyer was born in 1804 and initially worked in his family's sugar refining business. He made a fortune in sugar early and retired in his 30s, then entering politics. Havemeyer was Mayor in the 1840s on the Tammany Hall ticket, but in his third term in the 1870s, he ran as a Republican, opposed to Tammany due to the recent Boss Tweed scandal. Havemeyer died while in office in 1874.
Scope and Content: This series contains material generated by the third mayoral administration of William F. Havemeyer. Strengths of this series include Marine Court records (a civil court for small claims), financial records, correspondence, Marshall's applications, and applications for other city positions.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 17-30 (master negative nos. 10740-10753).
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1220-1238

Series XXV: Franklin Edson, 1883-1884

Date(s): 1883-1884
Size (Extent): 7 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Franklin Edson was born in Vermont in 1832. He worked as a distiller and produce merchant in New York City, and eventually became the president of the New York Produce Exchange. During his mayoral term, Brooklyn Bridge was dedicated, and the Municipal Building and the Croton Aqueduct were constructed. Edson was also instrumental in designating parkland for the major parks of New York City. He died in 1904.
Scope and Content: This series contains the records generated by the mayoral administration of Franklin Edson. The series deals with finance, public works, and the courts primarily, among many other subjects.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 1-17 (master negative nos. 07241-07257).
Separated Material: Oversize material was separated to flat file storage during processing.
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1310-1323, Drawer 50520 and 50536

Series XXVI: William R. Grace, 1885-1886

Date(s): 1885-1886
Size (Extent): 6.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: William Russell Grace (born 1832) was New York City's first Irish-American Catholic Mayor. His administration opposed Tammany Hall, and attempted to reform the Police Department, the system of patronage, and organized crime. During his second term, Grace received the Statue of Liberty from France. He died in 1904.
Scope and Content: This series consists of the records generated by the second mayoral administration of William Russell Grace. These records primarily consist of mayoral correspondence, records related to finance, and records related to the Department of Public Works.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 1-13 (master negative nos. 07321-07333).
Separated Material: Oversize material was separated to flat file storage during processing.

Series XXVII: Abram S. Hewitt, 1887-1888

Date(s): 1887-1888
Size (Extent): 19 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Abram S. Hewitt, born in 1822, was a teacher and lawyer, owner of the Trenton Iron Company, chairman of the Democratic National Convention, U.S. Congressman, and Mayor of New York City. Under his administration, Hewitt presided over the opening of Brooklyn Bridge, giving a famous speech on the date of its opening. He was famous for his work with Cooper Union and was called the Father of the New York City Subway system related to his work in the planning and financing of the construction of the system. Many buildings, parks, and landmarks bear his name around New York City and New York State. He died in 1903.
Scope and Content: This series contains the records generated by the mayoral administration of Abram S. Hewitt. Among other subjects and types of files, the series contains financial papers, correspondence, papers related to the Department of Health, the Department of Public Parks, the Department of Public Works, and the Department of Street Cleaning. There is a fair amount of material related to the New York Police Department, including captain's reports and licenses issued by the Police Department.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 1-41 (master negative nos. 07401-07441).
Separated Material: Oversize material was separated to flat file storage during processing.
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1337-1977, Drawer 50520 and 50536

Series XXVIII: Hugh J. Grant, 1889-1892

Date(s): 1889-1892
Size (Extent): 30.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Hugh Grant was born in 1858 and is the youngest Mayor to serve in the City of New York. Grant was a Tammany Hall Democrat who served as a City Alderman from 1883 to 1884, and as Sheriff of New York County from 1887 to 1888 before becoming Mayor in 1889. He is most famous for reorganizing city administration and beginning to put the city's electrical system underground. He died in 1910.
Scope and Content: This series consists of materials generated by the mayoral administration of Hugh J. Grant. The series includes correspondence, financial information, ephemera, reports and other material. The records cover subjects ranging from licensing of theaters to street cleaning to public health.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 1-51 (master negative nos. 07801-07851).
Separated Material: Oversize material was separated to flat file storage during processing.
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1378-1438, Drawer 50536

Series XXIX: Thomas Gilroy, 1893-1894

Date(s): 1893-1894
Size (Extent): 9.5 cubic feet
Biographical Information: Thomas Gilroy was born in Ireland in 1840. He was a Tammany Hall Democrat, and served as the Grand Sachem of that organization from 1890 and 1892. After serving as the campaign manager of Mayor Grant's campaign, he also served as the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works from 1889 to 1893. Of major significance during his administration was the Lexow Investigation of 1894 that revealed police corruption related to Tammany Hall. After his mayoral administration was over, Gilroy served as the President of the Twelfth Ward Bank. He died in 1911.
Scope and Content: This series consists of the records generated by the mayoral administration of Thomas Gilroy. The series cover subjects ranging from street cleaning, to licensing, to the finances of the city and comprises correspondence, reports, and other material.
Arrangement: This series is roughly arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically within those subjects.
Access: This series has been microfilmed. See rolls 1-20 (master negative nos. 07901-07920).
Separated Material: Oversize material was separated to flat file storage during processing.
Location: 31 Chambers St., Shelf 1439-1458, Drawer 50520 and 50536
