ABOUT SUNSET PARK

Background

Avenue NYC is a competitive grant program created by the NYC Department of Small Business Services to fund and build the capacity of community-based development organizations to execute commercial revitalization initiatives. Avenue NYC is funded through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program, which targets investments in low- and moderate-income neighborhoods.

Avenue NYC Commercial Revitalization grants provide multi-year commitments aimed at building the capacity of partner organizations to better understand neighborhood needs, develop impactful programs, and sustain their work in the community for at least three years.

The Commercial District Needs Assessment (CDNA) highlights a neighborhood's existing business landscape and consumer characteristics.

This CDNA features the commercial corridors of 3rd, 4th, 5th, 7th, and 8th avenues, 39th Street, and 65th Street in Sunset Park, and was conducted in partnership with Asian Americans For Equality, Brooklyn Chinese-American Association, and the Sunset Park BID between September 2021 and June 2022.

Key issues and opportunities identified through this assessment will help prioritize SBS-supported local investments, and serve as an informational and marketing resource for the neighborhood.

In This Report

Existing conditions, business data, and qualitative depictions of the neighborhood were gathered from more than 1,400 surveys and various stakeholder meetings with neighborhood merchants, shoppers, workers, property owners, and residents.

Located in South Brooklyn, Sunset Park is a culturally diverse neighborhood surrounded by Park Slope and Green-Wood Cemetery to the north, Borough Park to the east, Bay Ridge to the south, and Upper New York Bay to the west. Home to the eponymous public park, Sunset Park boasts historic row houses, a large concentration of industrial space, community-based organizations, and small businesses that cater to its multigenerational and immigrant community.

Before European settlement, the area was part of an important set of trails that traversed Brooklyn and enabled the Lenape Native Americans to form trade routes connecting to other areas. Sunset Park was primarily used for agriculture and farming until the middle of the 19th century. Transportation improvements, particularly the extension of the 5th Avenue elevated railroad through the neighborhood in 1893 and the opening of the subway along 4th Avenue in 1915, helped initiate development, with many middle-class row houses and multiple industrial centers developed in the 1890s through the 1920s. Home to waves of Scandinavian, Irish, and Italian immigrants, the neighborhood experienced a decline in the late 1940s and 1950s due to shifting industrial practices and the disruptive development of the Gowanus Expressway. Although Sunset Park was negatively impacted by redlining, suburbanization, and the decline of waterfront industry following World War II, new residents revitalized the community as it evolved from majority White to majority Latinx and Asian. Incoming immigrant communities included Puerto Ricans who settled in Sunset Park starting in the 1950s as well as Chinese, Mexican, Ecuadorian, and Dominican immigrants who began arriving in large numbers in the 1980s. The influx of new Chinese residents led to the formation of Brooklyn's first, and New York City's third, Chinatown along 7th and 8th avenues.

Sunset Park is home to several commercial corridors that each maintain a unique identity and serve a diverse clientele. 3rd Avenue remains an industrial hub and serves as the eastern border of the Southwest Brooklyn Industrial Business Zone. 4th Avenue, on the other hand, has an emerging retail presence. In the dense commercial core of the neighborhood, 5th Avenue from 39th Street to 65th Street has a high concentration of Latinx businesses and is home to the neighborhood's only Business Improvement District (BID). 7th and 8th avenues feature Brooklyn's Chinatown where residents and visitors can conveniently shop, dine, and access professional services from unique small businesses and entrepreneurs in Chinese and other languages. The neighborhood is easily accessible by subway via the D, N, and R trains as well as multiple bus lines and the NYC Ferry. In addition, the neighborhood is served by private bus routes that connect residents and employees to the other major Chinatowns in Manhattan and Queens.

Neighborhood Demographics

See more on page 16

Sunset Park is a densely inhabited neighborhood with a diverse and growing population of more than 101,000 residents. Historically it has been considered home to a wide array of middle-class immigrant communities. The neighborhood's residents are 45% Hispanic/Latinx, 39% Asian, 12% white, 2% African American, and 1% some other race. Reflecting the neighborhood's immigrant history, 54% of residents identify as foreign-born.

Future Opportunities

As Sunset Park's immigrant communities, particularly Asian and Hispanic/Latinx, continue to grow and thrive, the neighborhood is expected to maintain a diverse and vigorous consumer market. The neighborhood is receiving new investments that include the redevelopment of the Sunset Park branch of the Brooklyn Public Library and multiple new mixed-use affordable housing projects being developed along 4th Avenue. This growth and energy can be harnessed to ensure improvements in the quality of life for longtime residents and businesses. Civic-minded residents, community groups, and businesses are the heart of the neighborhood, forever setting Sunset Park apart.

KEY FINDINGS & OPPORTUNITIES

Strengths

- ▶ Long-standing small businesses throughout the district include many merchants who live and hire locally
- ▶ Planned and newly constructed residential and commercial developments are set to bring additional residents, businesses, and resources to the neighborhood
- ▶ Diverse small businesses reflect the neighborhood's multitude of cultural identities, particularly the rapidly growing Asian and Hispanic/Latinx communities
- ▶ Concentration of Asian health and professional services along 7th and 8th avenues serve a wide range of speakers of different languages and dialects
- ▶ Easily accessible by public transportation with three subway lines and multiple bus routes serving the neighborhood
- ▶ Nearby green spaces, including Sunset Park, Bush Terminal Piers Park, and the Green-Wood Cemetery, provide much needed open space in a bustling commercial and residential neighborhood
- ▶ Variety of building footprints, especially along 3rd and 4th avenues, allow for a unique mix of industrial and commercial businesses to coexist

Challenges

- ▶ Language barriers prevent some entrepreneurs and existing businesses from accessing public and private resources to help them start and grow their businesses
- ▶ Persistent sanitation issues, including overflowing litter baskets and illegal dumping, create unsanitary and unsightly conditions along the corridors
- ▶ Lack of guidelines on street vending regulations has led to tension between storefront businesses and street vendors, particularly on 7th and 8th avenues
- ▶ Lack of cultural anchors, such as theaters, museums, galleries, and community centers, leaves the community without central gathering spaces and masks the rich cultural activity in Sunset Park
- ▶ Lack of open spaces along the 7th and 8th avenue commercial corridors makes it challenging to host community events
- ▶ Crime and safety concerns, especially anti-Asian hate incidents, negatively impact the shopping experience and habits of both merchants and residents in the neighborhood
- ▶ Cash-only businesses and limited English proficiency of some merchants potentially hinder their ability to grow their business beyond their core clientele
- ▶ Traffic congestion, limited commercial loading zones, and double parking create dangerous conditions for pedestrians and bikers
- ▶ 3rd Avenue under the Gowanus Expressway suffers from poor lighting as well as noise and air pollution, creating unpleasant conditions for both merchants and shoppers and dividing the neighborhood from the waterfront

Lunar New Year Lion Dance Performance

Sidewalk Vending on 8th Avenue

Opportunities

- ▶ Create opportunities for merchants to grow their businesses, such as connecting them to M/WBE certification, financial and legal support, and new marketing channels
- ▶ Support activities to promote merchant collaboration, including partnering to host public street events and fairs
- ▶ Invest in supplemental sanitation to improve the cleanliness of the commercial corridors and address the litter and graffiti problems in the neighborhood
- ▶ Work with City agencies and street vendors to develop clear street vending regulations and guidelines
- ▶ Develop neighborhood wayfinding with local attractions and retail options to better market the neighborhood
- ▶ Foster collaboration between merchants and residents to address neighborhood needs
- ▶ Improve ongoing collaboration and coordination with the NYPD to prevent and respond to local incidents
- ▶ Develop workshops and programs, as well as explore grant opportunities, for storefront façade improvements for businesses
- ▶ Partner with City agencies and neighborhood stakeholders to develop solutions to alleviate vehicle congestion and pedestrian safety issues

What's Next?

To address these key findings and opportunities, multi-year Avenue NYC Commercial Revitalization Grants have been awarded by SBS to nonprofit organizations.

Streetscape Observations

3rd Avenue & 4th Avenue

- ▶ Due to a higher concentration of industrial businesses on 3rd and 4th avenues, cars often double park and cause congestion.
- ▶ Floating parking lane protects the bike lane, making it safer for riders.
- ▶ Variety of business footprints allows for industrial, commercial, and residential uses to coexist.

5th Avenue

- ▶ Broken sidewalks and missing curbs are prevalent.
- ▶ Abandoned Open Restaurant sheds are common.
- ▶ Street trees are in need of care along the corridor.

7th Avenue & 8th Avenue

- ▶ Overflowing trash cans and illegal dumping create unsanitary and unsightly conditions.
- ▶ Sidewalk vendors cause congestion on the sidewalk making it difficult to navigate the corridor.
- ▶ Sidewalks and tree pits are in good condition.
