Public Contact

- Kim Paribello, resident of Morley Avenue, spoke about the new DOT traffic pattern at the intersection of Richmond Rd and Morley Avenue. She cannot enter or exit her driveway safely or easily because of the lane changes and bollard installation in front of her driveway. The street is extremely narrow. Parking spots have been removed. Delivery drivers have nowhere to park. When Sanitation stops to pick up trash, cars are going through the dividers to get around the truck. Traffic agents were also having difficulty directing traffic with the new patterns.

- Susan Conlon reported that many residents have contacted the civic association to complain about the danger of the new traffic patterns. There are more back-ups than before. There are also new problems that didn't exist before. DOT needs to re-evaluate the design.

- Carol Donovan added that they have only received complaints about this new design. The intersection has become less safe than it was before. Crossing the street is impossible.

Community Board 3 will contact DOT to discuss the Morley Avenue Project and submit all feedback received to date.
