Agenda

Tyler Roosa spoke about the New York City Emergency Management Public Warning Program, which helps New Yorkers prepare for emergencies and helps when they occur.

Notify NYC is a subscriber-based program that provides information on sixteen different alerts. Some examples are weather, allergy levels, subway and travel disruptions, fireworks, utility work, air quality, mosquito spraying, pool and beach alerts. Alerts are available in fourteen different languages. All information is verified.

Sign up on the website and create an account, where you can customize your alerts. Call 311, and they can assist you with the sign-up, or download the mobile app. You can also text your zip code to 692692, and you will receive alerts.
