

Metropolitan Hospital Center Learn With Us

Breast Health: What All Women Should Know

Anitha Srinivasan, MD, MPH, FACS will discuss breast health issues for women of all ages. She will talk about breast lumps, cysts and the important role you can play in early detection. Dr. Srinivasan will share her experience in breast cancer care. Learn about routine preventive care, surgical options and new developments.

Dr. Srinivasan is an Attending Surgeon at Metropolitan Hospital Center as well as an Assistant Professor at New York Medical College.

Friday, October 26, 2012
12 noon — 1 PM

Metropolitan Hospital Center
Conference Room 1B35

Light lunch will be served.

Free event. All are welcome.

Metropolitan Hospital Center hosts monthly informational sessions on important health topics impacting our community. Participants have the opportunity to meet doctors and clinical experts from various areas.