“ZR 23-633d Proposed Building base height does not comply with required minimum and maximums”

“ZR 23-633d Proposed Building Height does not comply with required maximums”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application for an extension of time to complete construction and an amendment to a variance, previously granted by the Board, to allow 20 additional dwelling units in the subject affordable-housing development; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 9, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on Jun 4, 2019, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Manhattan, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns with the population that would live in the affordable-housing development, the elimination of parking pursuant to recent zoning amendments, the size of the daycare facility, accessibility for people with disabilities and the reduction in the number of three-bedroom and four-bedroom apartments; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of Fort George Hill, approximately 155 feet south of the intersection of Nagle Avenue and Fort George Hill, in an R7-2 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 456 feet of frontage along Fort George Hill, between 46 feet and 27 feet of depth, 21,382 square feet of lot area and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since August 19, 2014, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the development of a 12-story mixed-used residential and community-facility affordable-housing building that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, rear yards and height and setback on condition that the following be the bulk parameters of the proposed building: a maximum of 12 stories, a maximum floor area of 142,195 square feet (6.97 FAR), a maximum residential floor area of 131,848 square feet (6.46 FAR), a maximum of 73 percent lot coverage, 113 dwelling units, a minimum of 57 parking spaces, a minimum rear yard depth of 10’-0”, and a maximum building height of 146’-1” with no setback, as reflected on the Board-approved drawings; and that substantial construction be completed in accordance with ZR § 72-23; and

WHEREAS, the time to complete construction having expired, the applicant now seeks an extension of time to complete construction and an amendment to increase the number of dwelling units from 113 dwelling units to 133 dwelling units; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that construction delays have occurred as a result of significant management changes and the buyout of an initial development partner and that no permits have been obtained or work done; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a detailed construction schedule indicating that approximately twenty-four (24) months are necessary to complete construction after funding is obtained; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that the proposed amendment is necessary to obtain financing for the subject affordable-housing development and reflect recent changes in the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development design guidelines and new requirements for supportive housing; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant notes that because of the lower-income tiers and the required number of supporting-housing units, which customarily require studios and one-bedroom apartments, additional dwelling units are necessary to accommodate a change in the required unit mix (increasing studio apartments from 0 to 20, increasing one-bedroom apartments from 50 to 61, maintaining 41 two-bedroom apartments and reducing three-bedroom apartments from 22 to 11); and

WHEREAS, the applicant accordingly proposes 20 additional dwelling units, for a total of 133 dwelling units; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that the proposed development, as amended, would stay within the bulk envelope of the approved variance and would, in fact, decrease the building footprint approximately 17'-0" by increasing the side yard to the north from 8'-0" to 25'-7" and decrease the building height from 146'-1" to 143'-0" while increasing the number of floors from 12 to 13 in order to provide storage units for residents; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that the proposed building continues to reflect the minimum variance necessary to afford relief because development costs have increased substantially since 2014 (including steel reinforcement, concrete and labor) while the affordable-housing program has changed to provide deeper affordability levels in such a way that the original unit count would not be viable; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the applicant provided an operational plan for the proposed daycare facility, indicating that the proposed daycare facility would be operated by the house of worship in the subject building but would also be available to residents of the proposed development and area residents, depending on availability, and the applicant notes that the removal of parking as a result of recent zoning amendments allows for a redesign of the lobby and enlargement of the proposed house of worship along with the inclusion of the proposed daycare facility on the second floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that the proposed development will comply with all applicable accessibility regulations, including those provided in the New York City Construction Codes; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant notes that the proposed development will not use Exterior Insulation and Finish System; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the site and surrounding area, the Board has determined that the requested extension of time to complete construction and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby reopen and amend the resolution, dated August 19, 2014, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to permit an extension of time to complete construction of thirty (30) months, expiring December 4, 2021, and an amendment to allow 20 additional dwelling units in the subject affordable-housing development; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received May 10, 2019"-Thirty-three (33) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT no Exterior Insulation and Finish System (EIFS) shall be used for the building;

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum of 13 stories (including mezzanine), a maximum floor area of 139,555 square feet (6.53 FAR), a maximum residential floor area of 127,422 square feet (5.96 FAR), a maximum of 68 percent lot coverage, 133 dwelling units, a minimum of one parking space, a minimum rear yard depth of 10'-0", and a maximum building height of 143'-0" with no setback, as reflected on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal No 277-13-BZ"), shall be obtained within thirty (30) months, by December 4, 2021;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved drawings shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted."

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an appeal challenging Permit Number 421485805-01-NB (the “NB Permit”), issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) on September 20, 2018, for a two-story plus cellar and sub-cellar building at the subject premises, anticipated to be leased, in part, by a Use Group 6 retail store operated as Target; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 7, 2019, after due notice in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 21, 2019, and then to decision on June 4, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Ottley-Brown conducted inspections of the subject site and the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is bounded by 82nd Street to the west, Ithaca Street to the south and Baxter Avenue to the east, in an R6 (C1-3) zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 167 feet of frontage along 82nd Street, 53 feet of frontage along Ithaca Street, 267 feet of frontage along Baxter Avenue and 23,439 square feet of lot area; and

WHEREAS, this appeal was filed on behalf of Queens Neighborhoods United, an unincorporated association of Queens residents and business owners (“Appellant”); and

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

WHEREAS, New Building Application Number 421485805 (the “NB Application”) was filed at DOB on May 24, 2017, on behalf of the property owner of the subject premises to construct a two-story plus cellar and sub-cellar building at the premises (the “Proposed Building”); and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Diagram (ZD1) filed in conjunction with the NB Application, dated September 13, 2017, summarizes that the Proposed Building would be occupied by Use Group 6 uses on all of the levels of the Proposed Building, including 23,138 square feet of “Building Code Gross Floor Area” and 20,132 square feet of “Zoning Floor Area” on the ground floor and 23,392 square feet of “Building Code Gross Floor Area” and 0 square feet of “Zoning Floor Area” in the cellar; and

WHEREAS, DOB issued the NB Permit on June 15, 2018; and

WHEREAS, on or around August 8, 2018, Appellant submitted a Zoning Challenge and Appeal (“ZRD2”), alleging, inter alia, that the NB Permit should be revoked because a 15-year lease recorded at the Office of the City Register indicating that “approximately 23,580 square feet of space in the aggregate” would be leased to the Target Corporation suggested that the Proposed Building would be occupied by a Use Group 10 department store that is not permitted at the subject premises as-of-right, not a Use Group 6 use; and

WHEREAS, DOB accepted the ZRD2 on August 29, 2018, and by letter dated August 30, 2018, notified the property owner and the filing representative of DOB’s intent to revoke the NB Permit for reasons set forth in an accompanying Notice of Objections unless sufficient information was provided to DOB within 15 days and ordered that all work at the premises stop immediately (the “Intent to Revoke Letter”); and

WHEREAS, objection number 1 of the Notice of Objections reads as follows:

1. The subject new development located within R6 overlay C1-3 Local Retail District area, the building contained as declared by applicant as retail use group 6 located at cellar and first floor (Schedule A submitted), as per submitted Zoning Analysis, and Approved Plans (under Objections Self Certified), or the first floor commercial retail calculated without counting cellar commercial retail area, of the pure Zoning Floor Area of the first floor even after taken all area deduction, it is already up to 18,706 sf. which is way over the maximum permitted in the C1-3 District of allowed 10,000 square feet, and by which of such first floor commercial retail under the use group 6 is contrary to Section 32-15 ZR, file amendment and revised plans to correct the space area; and

WHEREAS, on September 6, 2018, the property owner submitted revised plans and a revised Zoning Diagram indicating that all of the retail establishments in the Proposed Building would contain less than 10,000 square feet of commercial gross floor space and averring that “Retail Establishment A,” understood from publicly available information to be leased by the Target Corporate for operation as a Target store, would occupy 23,392 commercial gross square feet and 0 square feet of “Zoning Floor Area” in the cellar of the Proposed Building and 745 square feet of floor area on the first floor (together, the “Commercial Space”); and

WHEREAS, having accepted the property owner’s response to the Intent to Revoke Letter, DOB issued a Stop Work Rescind Order on September 10, 2018 and the NB Permit was re-issued on September 20, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the subject appeal was filed on or around October 18, 2018; and

WHEREAS, Appellant, DOB and the Target Corporation were all represented by counsel in this appeal; and

APPELLANT’S POSITION

WHEREAS, Appellant asserts that the NB Permit was unlawfully issued because it permits construction of the Proposed Building contrary to ZR §§ 31-00, 31-11 and 32-15; and

WHEREAS, those provisions read, in pertinent part, as follows:

§31-00 GENERAL PURPOSES OF COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS

The Commercial Districts established in this Resolution are designed to promote and protect public health, safety and general welfare. These general goals include, among others, the following specific purposes:

- (a) to provide sufficient space, in appropriate locations in proximity to residential areas, for local retail development catering to the regular shopping needs of the occupants of nearby residences, with due allowance for the need for a choice of sites;
- (b) [. . .]
- (c) [. . .]
- (d) to protect both local retail development and nearby residences against congestion, particularly in areas where the established pattern is predominantly residential but includes local retail uses on the lower floors, by regulating the intensity of local retail development, by restricting those types of establishments which generate heavy traffic, and by providing for off-street parking and loading facilities;

§31-11 C1 Local Retail Districts

These districts are designed to provide for local shopping and include a wide range of retail stores and personal service establishments which cater to frequently recurring needs. Since these establishments are required in convenient locations near all residential areas, and since they are relatively unobjectionable to nearby residences, these districts are widely mapped.

The district regulations are designed to promote convenient shopping and the stability of retail development by encouraging continuous retail frontage and by prohibiting local service and manufacturing establishments which tend to break such continuity;

C1 C2 C4 C5 C6 C8

Use Group 6 consists primarily of retail stores and personal service establishments which:

- (1) provide for a wide variety of local consumer needs; and
- (2) have a small service area and are, therefore, distributed widely throughout the City.

Public service establishments serving small areas are also included. Retail and service establishments are listed in two subgroups, both of which are permitted in all C1 Districts.

The *uses*1 listed in subgroup A are also permitted within a large-scale residential development to provide daily convenience shopping for its residents.

D. Public Service Establishments
[. . .]; and

WHEREAS, specifically, Appellant argues that the NB Permit is contrary to ZR § 31-00(d) because, Appellant alleges, Target stores generate heavy traffic and the locating of such store at the premises will frustrate existing traffic congestion in the surrounding area; contrary to ZR § 31-11 in that Target stores are regional, rather than local, shopping destinations and not suitable in C1 zoning districts; and contrary to ZR § 32-15 because, if Target is appropriately characterized as a Use Group 6 variety store, the Commercial Space contains more than 10,000 square feet of “floor area”; and

WHEREAS, Appellant asserts that Target is more suitably characterized as a Use Group 10 retailer, specifically, a department store, which is not a permitted use in a C1 zoning district, and that such interpretation is supported by ZR § 32-19, which states:

§32-19 Use Group 10

C4 C5 C6 C8

Use Group 10 consists primarily of large retail establishments (such as department stores) that:

- (1) serve a wide area, ranging from a community to the whole metropolitan area, and are, therefore, appropriate in secondary, major or central shopping areas; and
- (2) are not appropriate in local shopping or local service areas because of the generation of considerable pedestrian, automobile or truck traffic.

A. Retail or Service Establishments

Carpet, rug, linoleum or other floor covering stores, with no limitation on floor area per establishment

Clothing or clothing accessory stores, with no limitation on floor area per establishment Department stores

Television, radio, phonograph or household appliance stores, with no limitation on floor area per establishment

Variety stores, with no limitation on floor area per establishment

B. Wholesale Establishments

[. . .]; and

WHEREAS, Appellant particularly notes that ZR § 32-19 describes uses within Use Group 10 as large retail establishments that “are not appropriate in local shopping or local service areas because of the generation of considerable pedestrian, automobile or truck traffic” and that such description accurately describes Target, a retailer that, Appellant alleges, derives its clientele from a large geographical area; thus, the characterization of a Target store as a Use Group 6 variety store as-of-right at the subject site is inappropriate because the store will invite considerable pedestrian, automobile and truck traffic to an area that is already heavily congested; and

WHEREAS, Appellant concedes that some uses may be characterized as either Use Group 6 or Use Group 10, but notes that when listed in Use Group 10, uses such as variety stores, carpet, rug, linoleum or other floor covering stores and clothing or clothing accessory stores are permitted without a floor area limitation because larger stores serve the purpose of C4 zoning districts, “General Commercial Districts” that “provide for occasional family shopping needs . . . over a wide area” pursuant to ZR § 31-14, and C5 zoning districts, “Restricted Central Commercial Districts” that “serve the entire metropolitan region” pursuant to ZR § 31-15; and

WHEREAS, Appellant avers that the characterization of the a Target store as Use Group 10 is also supported by the legislative history of the 1961 Zoning Resolution, to wit, two studies commissioned by the City of New York prior to that resolution’s adoption: (1) “The Plan for Rezoning the City of New York” by Harrison Ballard & Allen (1950) (the “1950 Study”), which distinguished “Residence Retail Districts,” intended “to protect both residential and retail development against congestion . . . by regulating the intensity of retail development,” from “Commercial Districts,” meant to “provide sufficient space in appropriate locations for transactions of all types of commercial and miscellaneous service activities in beneficial relation to one another”; classified as Use Group 6 uses “needed for more or less daily shopping by persons residing nearby,” which would be permitted in both “Residence Retail Districts” and “Commercial Districts”; and classified as Use Group 9 retail uses “used for occasional shopping by persons residing at a considerable distances, and therefore serve an area ranging from several square miles to the whole metropolitan area,” which would be permitted in “Commercial Districts” and prohibited in “Residence Retail Districts”; and (2) “Zoning New York” by Voorhees Walker Smith & Smith (1958) (the “1958 Study”), which distinguished between C1 and C2 zoning districts designed to serve local needs, C4 zoning districts designed for the primary and secondary outlying shopping centers serving extensive service areas and C5 and C6 zoning districts that cater to the retail and commercial needs of the entire City and metropolitan region; and limited the size of establishments in C1 zoning districts because they are closely related to residential areas and larger establishments generate excessive pedestrian and vehicle traffic originating from outside of the immediate residential neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Appellant additionally contends that the NB Permit is based on an erroneous application of the definition of “floor area,” set forth in ZR § 12-10, to ZR § 32-15, which limits variety stores in Use Group 6 to “10,000 square feet of floor area per establishment”; and

WHEREAS, the definition of “floor area” provided in ZR § 12-10 states in relevant part:

“Floor area” is the sum of the gross areas of the several floors of a building or buildings, measured from the exterior faces of exterior walls or from the center lines of walls separating two buildings. In particular, floor area includes:

(o) any other floor space not specifically excluded.

However, the floor area of a building shall not include:

(1) cellar space, except where such space is used for dwelling purposes. Cellar space used for retailing shall be included for the purpose of calculating requirements for accessory off-street parking spaces, accessory bicycle parking spaces and accessory off-street loading berths [(the “Cellar Space Exclusion”)];

WHEREAS, Appellant asserts, therefore, that the portion of the Commercial Space located in the cellar was incorrectly deducted from the “floor area” calculation of the Commercial Space pursuant to the Cellar Space Exclusion because the exclusion is based on, and therefore, only applicable to, calculations of the “floor area of a building”; 2 and

WHEREAS, instead, Appellant argues that the phrase “per establishment,” utilized in ZR § 32-15, is distinct from the phrase “of a building,” utilized in the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” and must be given meaning, in particular, reference should not be made to Cellar Space Exclusion, which specifically relates to the “floor area of a building”; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellant asserts that the Commercial Space consists of 23,580 square feet of floor area located on both the ground floor and cellar level, far more than the 10,000 square foot floor area limitation set forth in ZR § 32-15 for variety stores permitted as-of-right in a C1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, Appellant argue that their suggested interpretation of ZR §§ 12-10 and 32-15 is consistent with those provisions’ respective purposes: the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” is meant to aid in calculating the allowable bulk and/or density of a particular building whereas ZR § 32-15, a use, rather than a bulk, restriction, is to be utilized in calculating the allowable size of an establishment, without reference to its location in a particular building; and

WHEREAS, Appellant suggests that, per the explicit language of the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area”—specifically, the introduction to the Cellar Space Exclusion which begins, “However, the floor area of a building shall not include . . .”—the Cellar Space Exclusion, as well as the other exclusions that follow, is applicable only when calculating the “floor area of a building” and because “floor area,” in this case, is being calculated “per establishment.”

2 “Building” is defined in ZR § 12-10, in relevant part, as any structure located within the lot lines of a zoning lot, permanently affixed to the land with one or more floors and a roof, bounded by open area or fire walls with at least one primary entrance, provides all the vertical circulation and exit systems required by the New York City Building Code without reliance on other buildings, including required stairs and elevators and contains all the fire protection systems required by the Building Code without reliance on other buildings, including fire suppression or fire alarm systems. Pursuant to ZR § 12-01(e) (‘Rules Applying to Text of Resolution’), “[a] ‘building’ or ‘structure’ includes any part thereof.”

MINUTES

the Cellar Space Exclusion is not applicable; and

WHEREAS, Appellant alleges that the permitting of the Commercial Space as a Use Group 6 use, despite the locating of over 23,000 square feet of the establishment in the cellar, is an absurd result that frustrates the statutory purpose of ZR § 32-11, which reserves C1 zoning districts for local retail, because it permits retail stores of unlimited size in cellars; and

WHEREAS, such an interpretation, the Appellant urges, allows for the locating of a destination retailer in a Local Retail district meant for local shopping, invites additional traffic to an already congested area and, ultimately, displaces existing local retailers; and

DOB'S POSITION

WHEREAS, DOB argues that, pursuant to ZR § 32-15, variety stores with less than 10,000 square feet of “floor area per establishment” are permitted as-of-right at the premises; that, pursuant to the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area,” space in the cellar may be excluded from the calculation of “floor area”; thus, the 23,392 square feet located in the cellar of the Proposed Building was properly excluded from the Commercial Space’s “floor area” and the NB Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, in support of its determination to issue the NB Permit, DOB cites Raritan Development Corp. v. Silva, 91 N.Y.2d 98 (1997), in which the New York Court of Appeals found that the prior text of the ZR § 12-10 “floor area” definition—which read in pertinent part, “However, the floor area of a building shall not include (a) cellar space” without qualifications—unambiguously excluded all cellar space, regardless of its use, from “floor area” and that DOB erred in interpreting the definition to only allow the exclusion of floor space in the cellar used for non-habitable purposes and insisting that a habitable room in the cellar of a two-family dwelling constituted “floor area”; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” was subsequently revised to read as it does today—allowing the exclusion of cellar space, “except where such space is used for dwelling purposes”—but that DOB is unaware of any case law or other authority contradicting the holding in Raritan, that is, that cellar space is to be excluded from calculations of “floor area” as defined in ZR § 12-10, unless it is otherwise expressly included; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Appellant does not dispute that the limitation on Use Group 6 variety stores set forth in ZR § 32-15 uses the defined term, “floor area,” meaning, as all uses of defined terms in the Zoning Resolution do, that the term is to be interpreted as it is defined in ZR § 12-10, including the portion that permits cellar space to be excluded from “floor area” calculations; and

WHEREAS, DOB acknowledges that the floor area limitation is “per establishment,” but argues that the straightforward and unambiguous meaning of the limitation is that it is to be applied individually to each Use Group 6 business enterprise (establishment) located in a building, rather than on all Use Group 6 uses in a building; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the term “floor area,” defined in ZR § 12-10 as “the sum of the gross areas of the several floors of a building or buildings,” includes all of the building’s various components, its floors as well as its establishments, therefore, “floor area of a building” cannot be calculated differently from the “floor area per establishment”; and

WHEREAS, DOB additionally asserts that its determination to issue the NB Permit is consistent with structure of the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area,” and in particular the Cellar Space Exclusion which, while excluding the cellar space for purposes of calculating “floor area,” expressly requires the inclusion cellar space “used for retailing” for purposes of calculating requirements for accessory off-street parking spaces, bicycle parking and off-street loading berths, demonstrating that the legislature is aware, first, that cellar space may be “used for retailing” and, second, that such space, while excluded from “floor area” calculations, should nevertheless be included for purposes of calculating the number of parking spaces, et al. an establishment must provide to mitigate its impact on the surrounding community; and

TARGET'S POSITION

WHEREAS, Target confirms that the corporation entered a lease to occupy the Commercial Space in the Proposed Building as a Use Group 6 variety store in compliance with ZR § 32-15 and states that the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area,” DOB’s consistent application of that definition and binding case law are all clear that cellar space used for retail purposes is not included in the calculation of “floor area”; and

WHEREAS, Target avers that the language of the Zoning Resolution is clear and unambiguous and that, because the Target store proposed in the Commercial Space will occupy less than 10,000 square feet of “floor area,” the NB Permit was properly issued for a Use Group 6 variety store at the subject premises; and

WHEREAS, Target notes that ZR § 12-10 (DEFINITIONS) starts, “Words in the text or tables or this Resolution which are italicized shall be interpreted in accordance with the provisions set forth in this Section,” thus, the use, in italics, of the term “floor area” with regards to the 10,000 square foot limitation on Use Group 6 variety stores set forth in ZR § 32-15 evidenced an intention for the term to be interpreted as defined in ZR § 12-10, the Cellar Space Exclusion included; and that DOB has consistently interpreted ZR §§ 32-15 and 12-10 to allow the exclusion of cellar space used for retailing from the “floor area” of other Use Group 6 variety stores, most notably, DOB recently approved the Zoning Resolution Determinations filed for two Target stores located within C1 zoning districts (500 East 14th Street, Manhattan, located in a C1-6A zoning district and containing 17,000 square feet of cellar space (DOB Control No. 45352, Approved with Conditions August 9, 2016); and 1201 Third Avenue, Manhattan, located in a C1-9 zoning district and containing 12,477 square feet of cellar space (DOB Control No. 55551, Approved with Conditions October 9, 2018)) and confirmed that cellar space for those stores may be excluded from the calculation of “floor area” pursuant to ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, Target acknowledges that the Zoning Resolution calculates space as “floor area” in a “building” and describes “establishments” as existing within buildings, but argues that nothing in the zoning text supports Appellant’s assertion that “floor area per establishment” should be calculated differently from “floor area of a building”; and

WHEREAS, Target states that while “establishment” is not a defined term in the Zoning Resolution, the word is used throughout the text to refer to individual stores, facilities or places of business located within a “building” and, since multiple “establishments” may be located within a single “building,” there is no rationale for calculating “floor area per establishment” differently than one would calculate the “floor area of a building,” specifically, ignoring the Cellar Space Exclusion and including such space in the calculation of “floor area per establishment,” but applying the Cellar Space Exclusion and excluding such space in the calculation of the “floor area of a building”; and

WHEREAS, Target argues that Appellant’s claims that the introductory text of ZR §§ 32-15 and 32-19 prohibit the issuance of the NB Permit are not supported by the case law, most notably Coalition for Community Preservation & Stabilization, Inc. v. Board of Standards & Appeals (Sup Ct, Queens County 1985), in which the Supreme Court upheld the Board’s determination that a Home Depot store was properly designated as an as-of-right Use Group 6 hardware store, and Applebaum v. Deutsch, 66 N.Y.2d 975 (1985), in which the Court of Appeals upheld a Board determination that a non-profit institution qualified as a community facility, rejected the Appellate Division dissenters’ position that “introductory statements at the head of the zoning resolution sections listing which uses constitute ‘community facilities’ are to be read as conditions precedent to granting a permit”; observed that “[t]he resolution itself provides that brief statements are inserted at the start of each ‘Use Group’ to describe and clarify the basic characteristics of the various uses listed” and, accordingly, held that such introductory statements are not conditions precedent to the granting of a building permit; and

WHEREAS, Target additionally notes that in certain locations within New York City, the Zoning Resolution explicitly includes cellar space when limiting the overall size of uses and establishments with reference to the defined term “floor area”; for example, pursuant to ZR § 111-13(a)(3) (Additional Use Regulations), Use Group 6A and 6C uses in “buildings” located in Subareas A1 and A3 of the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District and fronting on Chambers Street, Church Street, Greenwich Street, Hudson Street or West Broadway “shall be limited to 20,000 square feet of floor area on a zoning lot, including retail cellar space allotted to such uses...” and pursuant to ZR § 137-22 (Community Facility Use), certain ambulatory diagnostic or treatment health care facilities located within Special Coastal Risk Districts are limited “on any zoning lot to 1,500 square feet of floor area, including cellar space”; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Target states that the 23,392 square feet located in the cellar of the Proposed Building and intended to be occupied by a Use Group 6 variety store was properly excluded from the “floor area” calculation of Retail Establishment A, consistent with ZR § 32-15, which limits the size of Use Group 6 variety stores to “10,000 square feet of floor area per establishment,” and ZR § 12-10, which excludes from the calculation of “floor area” “cellar space, except where such space is used for dwelling purposes”; thus, the NB Permit was properly issued and the subject appeal should be denied by the Board; and

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of City Planning (“DCP”) submitted a letter, dated March 4, 2019, in support of DOB’s issuance of the NB Permit, stating that the size limitations stated in ZR § 32-15 are as to “floor area,” a term defined in ZR § 12-10 to explicitly exclude the area of a cellar, thus the cellar space in a retail establishment utilized for retailing is excluded from the calculation of the establishment’s “floor area”; and

WHEREAS, DCP states that the exclusion of cellar space from “floor area” and inclusion of cellar spaces for purposes of calculating accessory parking and loading requirements has been a feature of the Zoning Resolution since 1961, is intended to allow retail uses in cellar spaces while also limiting potential adverse parking and loading impacts of larger establishments and allows retail establishments that were typically larger in 1961, and that are limited to “floor area per establishment,” to locate on local commercial streets, minimizing dead commercial street frontage while also avoiding the negative visual impact of very large stores; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the characterization of the use as Use Group 6 variety store, DCP states that the Zoning Resolution regularly lists uses in more than one use group, allowing those uses in different zoning districts and implying that the use may be categorized under the Use Group permitted as-of-right in the zoning district in which the use is located—for example, doctor’s offices are included in Use Group 6 as professional offices permitted in commercial and manufacturing districts as well as in Use Group 4 as ambulatory diagnostic or treatment health care facilities, which may be located in residence districts; that the categorization of a use, while subject to DOB review and approval, is at the discretion of the permit applicant; and that retail models have evolved over time to serve the evolving needs of the public and the neighborhoods in which the retailers are located, to wit, DCP reports that there are currently 28 Target stores either planned or open in New York City ranging in size from 150,000 square feet in a shopping center in Staten Island to 18,000 square feet and these stores carry a large variety of merchandise characteristic of variety stores; and that DCP typically defers to DOB as to the categorization of uses, but there is, admittedly, little to distinguish a department store from a variety store in this instance; and

WHEREAS, DCP offers, as a comparison, “drug stores,” permitted without size limitation as Use Group 6 and which now include larger format stores that carry apparel, housewares, beach and outdoor furniture, hardware, groceries and home furnishings in addition to prescription drugs and suggests that retail models evolve to meet the changing needs of the communities in which they are located; and

WHEREAS, in reply to Target and DOB’s initial submissions, and prior to the initial hearing, Appellant claims that Raritan, cited by DOB, is inapposite to the subject appeal because the question in that case was whether cellar space utilized for dwelling purposes was to be included in the calculation for “floor area of a building” (in that case, a two-family residence), but that the question presented in this appeal is with regards to the calculation of “floor area per establishment”; that Appelbaum, cited by Target, “simply agreed” that a particular Board interpretation of prefatory language in a Use Group descriptions was “something less than ‘conditions precedent,’” but that, consistent with that decision, the Board “must rely on the introductory statements that describe U[se] G[roup] 6 for ‘guidance in interpreting the resolution,” 66 N.Y.2d at 977, and that both the express language and the intent of the Zoning Resolution are relevant in this appeal; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District regulations identified by Target in their submission in opposition to this appeal, Appellant claims that these regulations support Appellant’s argument that “floor area of a building” is distinct from “floor area per establishment” because the restriction set forth in ZR § 111-13(a)(3), which Appellant calls “a different kind of restriction on use,” is based on the total floor area dedicated to a particular use across a “zoning lot,” which could include several establishments and several buildings and that the provision “correctly clarifies that floor space in the cellar should be included when calculating the floor area of a ‘building’ that is dedicated to a particular use as it would otherwise be excepted from that calculation”; and

WHEREAS, Appellant additionally argues that the North American Industry Classification System (“NAICS”) defines “Variety Store” as:

Establishments primarily engaged in selling a variety of merchandise, such as inexpensive apparel and accessories, costume jewelry, notions and smallwares, candy, toys, and other items in the low and popular price ranges. These establishments generally do not carry a complete line of merchandise, are not departmentalized, do not offer their own charge service, and do not deliver merchandise; and

WHEREAS, Appellant alleges that Target carries a complete line of merchandise that is organized in departments and the corporation has its own charge service, therefore, it does not qualify as a “variety store” under the NAICS and, as the Zoning Resolution does not provide an alternative definition for “variety store,” Target cannot be classified as a Use Group 6 variety store at all, regardless of how much “floor area” it is intended to occupy at the premises; and

WHEREAS, Appellant avers that the question of whether Target is properly classified as a Use Group 6 variety store is similar to the question in the appeal filed and decided under BSA Cal. No. 74-93-A (112-20 Rockaway Boulevard, Queens) in which the Board considered whether DOB’s properly classified a proposed Home Depot as a Use Group 6A hardware store rather than a Use Group 16A or 17A “building materials dealer” and argues that the Board must rely, as it did in that case, on the introductory statements describing Use Group 6 uses to determine whether the development is properly characterized as Use Group 6; and

WHEREAS, in a submission following the initial public hearing, Appellant refers to certificates of occupancy issued to 12 developments throughout the City occupied in part by a Target store that include reference to a Use Group 10 occupancy³ and argues that the characterization of the store intended for the Commercial Space as a Use Group 6 variety store is, thus, incorrect and intended to mislead DOB; notes that the term “floor area” appears in the Zoning Resolution without “of a building” as a modifier, suggesting that not all “floor area” is “floor area of a building” and refers to ZR §§ 36-21 (General Provisions of Required Accessory Off-Street Parking Spaces for Commercial or Community Facility Uses), 36-62 (Required Accessory Off-street Loading Berths) and 36-711 (Enclosed bicycle parking spaces) as provisions that use “floor area,” not “floor area of a building,” as the basis for calculating those requirements; and asserts that the instruction in the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” to include cellar space used for retailing for purposes of calculating accessory off-street parking spaces, et al. is “a restatement of how to treat retail floor area in the cellar . . . a summary provided for the convenience of the reader, not a new rule”; and

WHEREAS, in their response to Appellant’s post-hearing memorandum, counsel for Target further states that Target may qualify as either a Use Group 6 variety store or a Use Group 10 department store and such designations are not mutually exclusive as the Zoning Resolution lists several uses in more than one use group, thereby allowing the uses in different zoning districts, and that in zoning districts in which only one use is allowed, a permit applicant has no choice but to choose the use permitted as-of-right—in this instance, such use was Use Group 6 variety store; and

WHEREAS, in response to Appellant’s post-hearing memorandum, DOB states that the characterization of certain Target stores in New York City as a Use Group 10 department store is irrelevant to the use group characterization of the store proposed to occupy the Commercial Space because it is both factually possible and lawful for a use to be classified as more than one use and/or to be listed in different use groups; that the relevant question in this appeal is whether the Commercial Space has more than 10,000 square feet of floor area; that because “variety store” is not defined in the Zoning Resolution DOB looked to the term’s plain meaning, notably, Merriam-Webster’s definition as “a retail store that carries a wide variety of merchandise of low unit value,” and determined, based on DOB’s experience and publicly available information, that Target stores satisfy that definition because they offer food items, cosmetics, hygiene products, toys, office supplies and housewares for sale; that NAICS classifies “general merchandise stores,” under which “variety stores” are listed as an illustrative example, separately from “department stores”; that the wide variety of merchandise offered for sale at Target serves a “wide variety of local consumer needs” and Targets are widely distributed throughout the City, satisfying both general characteristics ascribed to Use Group 6 uses in ZR § 32-15; that even in cases where Target is listed as a Use Group 10 use on certain certificates of occupancy, as in the CO for the Target located on Greenwich Street in Manhattan, and on Austin Street in Queens, it is categorized as a “variety store,” further justifying its characterization as a “variety store” at the subject premises; that the NAICS “variety store” definition cited by Appellants dates from 2008 and does not appear in the most recent NAICS manual, published in 2017, but that, nevertheless, Target stores match that “variety store” definition proffered by Appellant because it is primarily engaged in selling items “in the low and popular price ranges” and, to the extent the stores have departments, offer their own charge service and/or deliver merchandise, these features are not inconsistent with the definition, which states that variety stores “generally” lack such characteristics, thus implying that some variety stores may; that Target is distinguishable from famous department stores like Macy’s, Lord & Taylor, JC Penney and Bloomingdales, which are all generally much larger than the Target proposed for the Commercial Space and dedicate larger proportions of their floor space to clothing sales; that retail drug stores also have “departments” in the manner of labeled aisles, but are generally classified as Use Group 6B drug stores,” hence the presence of “departments” does not automatically render a retail use a Use Group 10 “department store”; that Appellant’s argument that “floor area per establishment” should include the cellar space as floor area and “floor area of a building” should not be non-sensical because all “floor area,” defined in ZR § 12-10 as “the sum of the gross areas of the several floors of a building or buildings,” is “of a building”; that the exception to the general exclusion of cellar space from “floor area” for cellar space used for dwelling purposes as well as the explicit inclusion of cellar space used for retailing for purposes of calculating accessory off-street parking requirements, among others, evinces the drafters’ ability and authority to make exceptions to what space should be exempt from calculations of “floor area”; that the 10,000 square foot floor area limitation on Use Group 6 variety stores” is with regards to “establishments” because the intent of the limitation was neither to limit the overall commercial space of the building in which the establishment was located, which could be done by a commercial floor area restriction, nor to necessarily limit vehicular traffic, since there are other Use Group 6 uses, such as supermarkets, with unlimited floor area per establishment that generate a higher accessory off-street parking requirement than a variety store⁴ and, therefore, are expected to attract more traffic; and

WHEREAS, counsel for the owner of the premises submitted a letter in opposition to this appeal, dated April 24, 2019, stating that the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” is unambiguous in its exclusion of cellar floor space from the “floor area” of an establishment for purposes of complying with the 10,000 square foot of floor area limit for Use Group 6 variety stores and providing a list of six Target locations in New York City with certificates of occupancy classifying Target as a Use Group 6 “retail” use⁵; and

WHEREAS, several elected officials submitted letters in support of this appeal citing concerns that the locating of a Target at the premises will adversely impact small businesses in the area that exemplify “local retail” because they are operated by local residents that serve neighborhood needs, encourage gentrification and displacement by raising rents, further crowd the already crowded 7 train and 4 In a C1-3 zoning district, Use Group 6 uses in Parking Requirement Category (“PRC”) B, such as variety store, are required to provide “1 [parking space] per 400 sq. ft. of floor area” and food stores in PRC-A are required to provide “1 [parking space] per 300 sq. ft. of floor area.” ZR § 36-21.

5 Those stores are located at (1) 50 West 225th Street, Manhattan (CO No. 103171933); (2) 500 East 14th Street, Manhattan (Temporary CO No. 121185519); (3) 815 Hutchinson River Parkway, Bronx (Temporary CO No. 220139516); (4) 145 Clinton Street, Manhattan (Temporary CO No. 121186938); (5) 6401 18th Avenue, Brooklyn (CO No. 3P0008032); and (6) 69-32 Austin Street, Queens (Temporary CO No. 400527505). Both the owner and Appellant identified the Austin Street, Queens, Target location to advance their arguments that Target stores are consistently characterized as Use Group 6 and Use Group 10, respectively. The referenced certificate of occupancy indicates both Use Group 6 “retail stores” and Use Group 10A “variety store” at the basement level and Use Group 10A “variety store” at the first floor.

exacerbate vehicular traffic in the area, in particular, further frustrate the ability of emergency vehicles to reach the Elmhurst Hospital Center located a few blocks away from the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the Board also heard hours of public testimony and received two letters in support and more than 150 additional letters in opposition to this appeal, citing concerns that the locating of a Target store at the subject premises will displace local small businesses, increase crowding on the subway, street traffic and travel times to Elmhurst Hospital and adversely impact the affordability of the area; and

DISCUSSION

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board finds that the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” is clear and unambiguous and that the use, in ZR § 32-15, of the defined term “floor area” in the “10,000 square feet of floor area per establishment” limitation on Use Group 6 variety stores requires the interpretation of that limitation in accordance with the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area”; that, consistent with the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area” and the Cellar Space Exclusion, 23,392 square feet of floor space in the cellar of the Proposed Building was properly excluded from the “floor area” of the Commercial Space as well as the Proposed Building; that the Commercial Space, a proposed Target store, contains less than 10,000 square feet of “floor area”; that the categorization of the Commercial Space as a Use Group 6 variety store is consistent with ZR § 32-15; and that, therefore, the NB Permit was lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that while the present wording of Cellar Space Exclusion is the result of an amendment to the text in 1999 subsequent to the Court of Appeals’ decision in Raritan, the precise portions of the text in question in this appeal have existed since the adoption of the Zoning Resolution in 1961—that is, the only phrases that distinguish the current Cellar Space Exclusion from the 1961 text are the additions of “except where such space is used for dwelling purposes” and “accessory bicycle parking spaces”⁶; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, a majority of the Board finds Raritan to be instructive in the subject appeal in its insistence that meaning not be imported into clearly written text and that where the statutory language is clear and unambiguous as it is in this case, reference to legislative history need not be made; and

⁶ In 1961, this portion of the text read:

However, the floor area of a building shall not include:

- (a) Cellar space, except that cellar space used for retailing shall be included for the purpose of calculating requirements for accessory off-street parking spaces and accessory off street loading berths;

argued by DOB and DCP, the reference to “cellar space used for retailing” in the Cellar Space Exclusion indicates that the drafters of the text were aware that cellar space could be utilized for retail purposes and the express requirement that such space be included for purposes of calculating parking requirements indicates both the drafters’ understanding that such space did not already constitute “floor area,” the unit of measure to which parking requirements are applied, see, e.g. ZR § 36-21, and the intention that such space, nevertheless, be included for purposes of providing, among other things, sufficient off-street parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board is, therefore, unconvinced that “floor area of a building” and “floor area per an establishment” are subject to different methods of calculation in light of the explicit text of the Zoning Resolution as well as the Board’s experience in interpreting that text; and

WHEREAS, the term “floor area”—and its definition of excluding cellar space not utilized for dwelling purposes—is consistently used throughout the Zoning Resolution and where the Zoning Resolution seeks to create or recognize an exception to the definition and include cellar space, the text is abundantly clear; and

WHEREAS, for example, ZR § 22-14 limits Use Group 4 ambulatory diagnostic or treatment health care facilities in R3-1, R3A, R3X, R4-1, R4A or R4B zoning districts to “1,500 square feet of floor area” and such uses in R3-1, R3A, R3X, R4-1 or R4A zoning district in lower density growth management areas to be limited “to 1,500 square feet of floor area, including cellar space”; ZR § 42-121 requires certain self-service storage facilities to provide industrial floor space “equal in floor area or cellar space to 25 percent of the lot area”; ZR § 63-01 defines a “FRESH food store” as a Use Group 6 food store containing “at least 6,000 square feet of floor area, or cellar space utilized for retailing”; and ZR § 111-13 limits certain uses in certain subareas of the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District “to 20,000 square feet of floor area . . . including retail cellar space allotted”; and

WHEREAS, adopting Appellant’s interpretation that the Use Group 6 variety store limitation of “10,000 square feet of floor area per establishment” includes cellar space used for retailing would not only be contrary to the ZR § 12-10 definition of “floor area,” particularly the Cellar Space Exclusion—which explicitly differentiates between cellar space “used for dwelling purposes,” which is to be included in “floor area,” and cellar space “used for retailing,” which is not mentioned as an exception to the Cellar Space Exclusion and “shall be included” for purposes of calculating required parking spaces and loading berths—but would also render superfluous the use of the phrase “cellar space” in addition to the defined term “floor area” in the above-referenced sections of the text; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board notes that because the drafters of the Zoning Resolution acknowledge situations, as described above, in which “cellar space” should be included in total area calculations where the drafters seek to limit the impacts of certain uses on the community, they could easily introduce similar modifications to the text of the Zoning Resolution to respond to changes in retailing, but have so far chosen not to do so except in the case of the Special Tribeca Mixed-Use District; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the proper use group categorization of the Commercial Space, anticipated to be occupied by a Target store, a majority of the Board finds that Target, which sells a variety of goods and merchandise, is properly categorized as a variety store and not a department store, which by virtue of its “floor area” being under 10,000 square feet is a Use Group 6 variety store, and not a Use Group 10 variety store, nor a Use Group 10 department store, which typically have larger branded boutiques, sell large home furnishings and appliances, and checkouts in each department; that Target’s categorization as a Use Group 6 at the subject premises is proper because, consistent with the characteristics of Use Group 6 uses set forth in ZR § 32-15, Target stores provide “a wide variety of local consumer needs” and with 28 locations located throughout all five boroughs, they are “distributed widely throughout the City”; additionally, as previously mentioned, the Commercial Space consists of less than 10,000 square feet of “floor area” and such use is permitted at the subject site as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, in any event, it became apparent over the course of public hearings that Appellant conceded that the subject Target store could be characterized as either a Use Group 6 variety store or a Use Group 10 department store; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that excluding cellar space used for retailing from the calculation of “floor area per establishment” could, hypothetically, permit stores of virtually unlimited size in a cellar that, because of their size, may be said to lack a “small service area,” and, thus, not meet the general characteristics of Use Group 6 uses as stated in ZR § 32-15, but a majority of the Board finds that the present language of the Zoning Resolution is clear as applied to the Commercial Space and that the proper body to address such potential occupancies, and decide whether or not such use is properly characterized as within Use Group 6, is the legislature through amendments to the relevant portions of the zoning text; and

WHEREAS, with regards to arguments made in support of this application to revoke the NB Permit because the locating of a Target store at the subject premises will increase traffic in the surrounding area, the Board notes that the subject application is for an interpretation of the Zoning Resolution regarding an as-of-right development, not a variance, wherein the Board must find, pursuant to ZR § 72-21(c), that a proposed development requiring variation of applicable zoning regulations “will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district . . .; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare”; and, second, that Use Group 6 variety stores, Use Group 10 variety stores and Use Group 10 department stores are in Parking Requirement Category (“PRC”) B, and, pursuant to ZR § 36-21, each use is required to provide 1 parking space per 400 square feet of “floor area,” suggesting that the traffic impacts of such uses were not considered by the drafters of the resolution to have been substantially different, despite Use Group 10 uses only being permitting as-of-right in C4, C5, C6 and C8 zoning districts; and Therefore, it is Resolved, that the instant appeal, seeking revocation of Permit Number 421485805-01-NB, issued by the Department of Buildings on September 20, 2018, is hereby denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Board’s Rules of Practice and Procedure and a special permit, pursuant to ZR § 64-92, to permit, in an R4 zoning district, the development of two two-family detached residences in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards that does not comply with the zoning requirements for minimum required distance between buildings, contrary to ZR § 23-711; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 5, 2017, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of the property owner by the Build It Back Program, which was created to assist New York City residents affected by Superstorm Sandy; and

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the City’s effort to rebuild residences impacted by Superstorm Sandy expeditiously and effectively, the Board, pursuant to 2 RCNY § 1-14.2, waives the following of its Rules of Practice and Procedure: (1) 2 RCNY § 1-05.1 (Objection Issued by the Department of Buildings); (2) 2 RCNY § 1-05.3 (Filing Period); (3) 2 RCNY § 1-05.4 (Application Referral); (4) 2 RCNY § 1-05.6 (Hearing Notice); (5) 2 RCNY § 1-05.7 (List of Affected Property Owners); (6) 2 RCNY § 1-09.4 (Owner’s Authorization); and (7) 2 RCNY § 1-10.7 (Proof of Service for Application Referral and Hearing Notice); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the subject application is exempt from fees pursuant to 2 RCNY § 1-09.2 and NYC Admin. Code § 25-202(6); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of Beach 111 Street, between Rockaway Beach Boulevard and Ocean Promenade, in an R4 zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 60 feet of frontage along Beach 111th Street, 100 feet of depth, 6,000 square feet of lot area and was formerly occupied by six single-family detached residences prior to Superstorm Sandy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks a special permit, pursuant to ZR § 64-92, to allow the development of two two-family detached residences with a distance of 11’-10” between the buildings, contrary to minimum required distance between buildings; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, the requirement for minimum distance between buildings is set forth in ZR § 23-711; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 64-92 provides:

In order to allow for the alteration of existing buildings in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards and for developments and enlargements in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit modification of Section 64-60 (DESIGN REQUIREMENTS), the bulk regulations of Sections 64-30, 64-40 (SPECIAL BULK REGULATIONS FOR BUILDINGS EXISTING ON OCTOBER 28, 2012) and 64-70 (SPECIAL REGULATIONS FOR NON-CONFORMING USES AND NON-COMPLYING BUILDINGS), as well as all other applicable bulk regulations of the Zoning Resolution, except floor area ratio regulations, provided the following findings are made:

- (a) that there would be a practical difficulty in complying with flood-resistant construction standards without such modifications, and that such modifications are the minimum necessary to allow for an appropriate building in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards;
- (b) that any modification of bulk regulations related to height is limited to no more than 10 feet in height or 10 percent of permitted height as measured from flood-resistant construction elevation, whichever is less; and
- (c) the proposed modifications will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area in consideration of the neighborhood’s potential development in accordance with flood-resistant construction standards.

The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with ZR § 64-92(a), the need to develop the two-family residences creates practical difficulties in complying with flood-resistant construction standards without the modification of the requirement for minimum distance between buildings and that waiving the same is the minimum necessary to allow for a building compliant with flood-resistant construction standards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the proposal does not include a request to modify the maximum permitted height in the underlying district; thus, the finding pursuant to ZR § 64-92(b) is inapplicable in this case; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, pursuant to ZR § 64-92(c), the proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood in which the residence is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area in consideration of the neighborhood's potential development in accordance with flood-resistant construction standards; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has reviewed the proposal and determined that the proposed reconstruction satisfies all of the relevant requirements of ZR § 64-92; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 18BSA062Q, dated November 20, 2017.

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally requests waivers, pursuant to § 1-14.2 of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure, of Rules §§ 1-07.3(b)(2) and 1-07.3(d)(2) to permit the filing of this application less than two (2) years after the expiration of the term of the special permit and more than 30 days after the time to obtain a certificate of occupancy, respectively; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the current operator of the PCE, 24 Hour Fitness, has operated at the subject site continuously since expiration of the term and the applicant would face substantial prejudice absent a waiver of the Board's Rules; and

WHEREAS, the decisions of the Deputy Borough Commissioner, dated January 16, 2018, acting on Department of Buildings (“DOB”) Application Nos. 520279626 and 520279635, read in pertinent part:

GCL 36, BC 502.1: The street giving access to proposed building is not duly placed on the official map of the City of New York therefore:

- A) No Certificate of Occupancy can be issued pursuant to Article 3, Section 36 of General City Law;
- B) Proposed construction does not have at least 8% of the total perimeter of building fronting directly upon a legally mapped street [or] frontage space contrary to Section 501.3.1 of the 2014 NYC Building Code; and

WHEREAS, this is an application to permit the construction of two (2) three- (3) story mixed-use commercial and residential buildings, each with two (2) residential units, with frontage on Herbert Street, an existing and improved road not duly placed on the official New York City map, contrary to General City Law (“GCL”) § 36; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 8, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on March 5, 2019, March 26, 2019, May 7, 2019, and June 4, 2019, and then to decision on June 11, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Staten Island, recommends disapproval of this application, citing concerns regarding the proposed development being inconsistent with neighborhood character and the substandard width of Herbert Street; and

WHEREAS, the subject sites are located on the north side of Herbert Street, east of Seguine Avenue, in an R3X (C1-1) zoning district and in the Special South Richmond Development District, on Staten Island; and

WHEREAS, the site is located approximately 142 feet east of the intersection of Herbert Street and the eastern record line of Seguine Avenue, a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, by communication dated February 26, 2019, the Office of the Staten Island Borough President states that Seguine Avenue is a final mapped street to an irregular width and there is a street setback line across the Seguine Avenue frontage; that Seguine Avenue is mapped, but title is not vested with the City, thus, the Corporation Counsel issued an Opinion of Dedication for the as-in-use width of 40 feet on January 5, 1981, to allow for public municipal street utilities or improvements within the designated public easement; the existing pavement for Herbert Street is substandard; there are opportunities to increase the width of the paved roadway to a 34 foot minimum with a nine- (9) foot wide commercial sidewalk and curb treatment—this will remove the dangerous “neck-down” that currently exists in the field and increase capacity for the throughput; being that the designated access to the off-street parking for the project is located directly in front of the property and through the center of the proposed building, no other curb cuts on adjoining properties should be permitted; and, the new parking lot should not be incorporated into the adjoining existing paved areas on other lots without a cross access easement; and

WHEREAS, the Plot Diagram submitted by the applicant and verified by the Staten Island Borough President’s Topographical Bureau on October 16, 2017, indicate that Herbert Street is unmapped, but was issued a Corporation Counsel Opinion, dated October 6, 1987, as in-use at a width of 40 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Herbert Street is paved to a width of between 29.5 feet and 35 feet and that the subject sites will be accessed by a proposed 18-foot wide curb cut; and

WHEREAS, the existing tax lot 1 has approximately 212 feet of frontage along Herbert Street and 103 feet and 103 feet of frontage along Seguine Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to subdivide tax lot 1 into three (3) tax lots: (1) tentative tax lot 1 with approximately 142 feet of frontage along Herbert Street and 103 feet of frontage along Seguine Avenue, which is not the subject of this application; (2) tentative tax lot 104 (31 Herbert Street) with 31 feet of frontage along Herbert Street and 103 feet of depth; and (3) tentative tax lot 105 (29 Herbert Street) with 39 feet of frontage along Herbert Street and 103 feet of depth; and

WHEREAS, tentative tax lots 104 and 105 are currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated October 23, 2018, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection (“DEP”) states that there are eight- (8) inch diameter City water main, ten- (10) inch diameter sanitary and 24-inch diameter storm sewers in Herbert Street at the subject location; the Drainage Plan NO: (R-1)/TD-5 (R-3), Lemon Creek Watershed, Sheet 7 of 11, dated July 2, 2010, shows ten- (10) inch diameter sanitary and 24-inch diameter storm sewer in Herbert Street east of the intersection with Seguine Avenue; the applicant has submitted a copy of the certified Site Connections Proposal (“SCP”) # 8377, which shows a six- (6) inch diameter sanitary connection and a six- (6) inch diameter storm connection; it is anticipated that the water connection to the eight- (8) inch diameter water main, the proposed sanitary and storm connections as per the SCP will be maintained by the owners/members of the Shop Owners Association and will not be maintained by the City of New York; and based on the foregoing, DEP has no objections to the subject application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the site will comply with all applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution and special district provisions, including, but not limited to, off-street accessory parking, as well as Lower Density Growth Management Area (“LDGMA”) requirements regarding the locations of Use Group 1 and 2 uses in mixed-use buildings and that the proposed mixed-use buildings will be fully sprinklered; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that a Builders Pavement Plan (“BPP”) proposing to increase the paved width of Herbert Street to between 30 to 32 feet directly in front of tentative tax lot 1, located immediately to the east of the subject site, was filed with the New York City Departments of Buildings and Transportation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally states that the proposed mixed-use buildings are consistent with the neighborhood character, which includes residential buildings and a dentist office across from the proposed buildings on Herbert Street; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 3, 2019, the Fire Department raised objections to the subject application regarding the access to the subject development concerning the street width and applications filed for adjoining lots formerly known as lots 41, 31 and 34, requested the applicant provide copies of the BPP, show on plans the location of proposed fire hydrants, elevation drawings of the proposed buildings, and provide the Fire Department connection and show a hydrant within 100 feet of the development, minimum curb to curb distance of 34 feet and full sprinklering of each building; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant represented that the applications for adjoining lots are not a part of the subject application, resubmitted the BPP, demonstrated the location of the fire hydrant, provided elevation drawings demonstrating the proposed buildings connected above the first floor, and modified the declaration in satisfaction to the Fire Department’s requirements and recommendations; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated June 2, 2019, the Fire Department stated no objection to the application; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship in developing the sites in strict conformance with the General City Law, the applicant states that, absent a waiver of the requirement that the buildings front on mapped streets, access to the proposed developments could only be achieved over separate lots and, even if such access was possible, the proposed buildings would still front on Herbert Street, which is not a final mapped street and such relief would still be necessary; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence to warrant approval of the application subject to certain conditions set forth herein.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the decision of the Department of Buildings dated January 16, 2018, acting on Department of Buildings Application Nos. 520279626 and 520279635, is modified by the power vested in the Board by Section 36 of the General City Law, and that this appeal is granted, limited to the decision noted above; on condition that construction shall substantially conform to the drawings filed with the application marked “April 18, 2019”-One (1) sheet; that the proposal will comply with all applicable zoning district requirements; and that all other applicable laws, rules, and regulations shall be complied with; and on further condition:

THAT the proposed mixed-use buildings shall each be fully sprinklered, as indicated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT prior to the issuance of this resolution, a restrictive declaration shall be recorded in the Office of the City Register of Richmond County (recorded June 14, 2019, Land Doc # 742210) against the subject tax lots substantially conforming to the form and substance of the following:

WHEREAS, the City of New York has not placed the portion of Herbert Street in front of the Subject Property ("Herbert Street Frontage") on the official map of the City of New York, and as such may, in the future, discontinue its maintenance of the Herbert Frontage.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application regarding the compliance of construction at the subject site with a special permit for the enlargement of an existing single-family residence, previously granted by the Board, under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03, on condition that removal of any existing exterior walls indicated to remain on the Board-approved drawings shall void the special permit; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 11, 2019, after due notice to the applicant and the property owners of record by certified mail, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown performed an inspection of the site and surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, on April 11, 2019, the Department of Buildings issued a full stop work order to the subject site; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 17, 2019, the Board notified the applicant that a commissioner had observed what appeared to be the complete demolition of the existing residence proposed to be enlarged, contrary to the Board’s grant; stated that, pursuant to ZR § 73-04, failure to comply with the Board’s conditions and safeguards constitutes a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and requested photographs demonstrating the retention of walls as indicated as “Existing Walls to Remain” on the Board-approved drawings, with the dimensions of the walls noted on the photographs and the photographs keyed to the plan sheets; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 7, 2019, the applicant states, in pertinent part:

We have been informed by the property owner and superseding project architect that during the course of construction, it was discovered that some of the pre-existing walls that were on the approved plans were not situated exactly as depicted; others were not sitting on any foundation; and others although on foundation would not be able to bear any load. All of which have compromised the Board's approval.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant did not submit any photographs; and

WHEREAS, by certified letter dated May 16, 2019, the Board informed the property owners and the applicant of a compliance hearing to be held on June 11, 2019, affording them the opportunity to provide evidence that the conditions of the Board's grant have not been violated, and stating that failure to attend the Board's compliance hearing or to submit a further response or evidence in advance may be deemed an admission that the Board's conditions have been violated and may subject them to revocation of the special permit and other appropriate enforcement action; and

WHEREAS, no evidence was submitted, and no one attended the hearing on behalf of the property owners to demonstrate compliance with the Board's condition; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board discussed the evidence in the record (including photographs and personal inspection by a commissioner and the Board's compliance officer) demonstrating the complete demolition of the existing residence, noted that the applicant has been in substantial violation of the Board's condition, and agreed with the applicant's statement that the special permit had been "compromised."

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the special permit granted by the Board of Standards and Appeals on February 28, 2017, under BSA Calendar Number 2016-1211-BZ, shall be and hereby is revoked.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings ("DOB"), dated December 16, 2016, acting on DOB Application No. 320215183, reads in pertinent part:

A physical culture establishment, as defined by ZR 12-10, is not permitted as of right in a C4-4A zoning district pursuant to ZR 32-10 and must be referred to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval pursuant to ZR 73-36; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located within a C4-4A zoning district, a physical culture establishment ("PCE") on the cellar level of a four- (4) story plus cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 11, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of Grand Street, between Graham Avenue and Humboldt Street, within a C4-4A zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 102 feet of frontage along Grand Street, 100 feet of depth, 10,181 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing four- (4) story plus cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(a) provides that in C1-8X, C1-9, C2, C4, C5, C6, C8, M1, M2 or M3 Districts, and in certain special districts as specified in the provisions of such special district, the Board may permit physical culture or health establishments as defined in Section 12-10 for a term not to exceed ten years, provided that the following findings are made:

- (2) that such use contains:
 - (i) one or more of the following regulation size sports facilities: handball courts, basketball courts, squash courts, paddleball courts, racketball [sic] courts, tennis courts; or

- programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction, aerobics or martial arts; or
- (iv) facilities for practice of massage by New York State licensed masseurs or masseuses.

Therapeutic or relaxation services may be provided only as accessory to programmed facilities as described in paragraphs (a)(2)(i) through (a)(2)(iv) of this Section; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(b) sets forth additional findings that must be made where a physical culture or health establishment is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building in certain commercial districts; and

WHEREAS, because no portion of the subject PCE is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, the additional findings set forth in ZR § 73-36(b) need not be made or addressed; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

- (1) the Board shall have referred the application to the Department of Investigation for a background check of the owner, operator and all principals having an interest in any application filed under a partnership or corporate name and shall have received a report from the Department of Investigation which the Board shall determine to be satisfactory; and
- (2) the Board, in any resolution granting a special permit, shall have specified how each of the findings required by this Section are made; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE occupies 6,988 square feet of floor space in the cellar with areas for exercise equipment and weights, yoga, reception, restrooms, and mechanical spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE began operation in 1999, as “Absolute Power,” and has the following hours of operation: Monday through Thursday, 5:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., Friday, 5:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the Board was in receipt of no testimony in objection to the subject application, and the applicant states that the PCE is located in the cellar, below commercial space on the first floor, and that no sound attenuation measures have been installed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because the PCE has operated at the subject site since 1999 and is consistent with the mixed-use character of the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because the PCE has operated at the subject site for almost 20 years, largely without incident, and anticipates that the benefits provided by the PCE will greatly outweigh any potential disadvantages to the community; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system are installed and maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated June 7, 2019, the Fire Department states that the premises is currently protected by a sprinkler system, which tested satisfactorily as per the Department’s Rules and Regulations; an application for the installation of a fire alarm system was filed and the system was tested and approved; and, the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect these premises and enforce all orders; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns regarding access to the subject PCE and whether PCE patrons shared the same lobby and elevators as residential tenants; and

WHEREAS, in response the applicant represented that the PCE patrons needing assistance share the elevator and lobby with residential tenants, but the elevators stop at residential floors only with keycard access; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 73-03, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 17BSA066K, dated July 13, 2017; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the PCE on the cellar level, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located within a C4-4A zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment on the cellar level of an existing four- (4) story plus cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked “May 23, 2019”-Five (5) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the PCE grant will expire on June 11, 2029;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT minimum 3 foot wide exit pathways shall be provided leading to the required exits and such pathways shall always be maintained unobstructed, including from any equipment;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also referencing this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2017-12-BZ”), shall be obtained within one (1) year, by June 11, 2020;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated November 15, 2018, acting on Department of Buildings (“DOB”) Application No. 321754669, reads in pertinent part:

1. Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-141 in that the proposed Floor Area Ratio exceeds the maximum permitted;
2. Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-141 in that the proposed Open Space Ratio is less than the minimum required; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 73-622 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of a two- (2) family detached dwelling to a single-family detached dwelling that does not comply with the zoning requirements for floor area ratio (“FAR”), and open space ratio (“OSR”), contrary to ZR § 23-141; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 19, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on April 30, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northwest corner of Avenue K and East 24th Street, in an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 60 feet of frontage along Avenue K, 100 feet of frontage along East 24th Street, 6,000 square feet of lot area, and is occupied by a two (2) story plus cellar two- (2) family detached dwelling

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an *enlargement*¹ of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

- (a) Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;

permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that this application located within an area in which the special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge a detached two- (2) family residence, as contemplated by ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert and both vertically and horizontally enlarge the building, resulting in a two- (2) story plus attic and cellar one- (1) family dwelling with 6,020 square feet of total floor area (1.0 FAR), an OSR of 0.58 (3,479 square feet of open space), a front yard on Avenue K with a depth of 13'-1-1/4" and a front yard on East 24th Street with a depth of 15 feet, two (2) side yards with widths of 21 feet and five (5) feet, and a detached garage in the northern side yard; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement would increase the floor area on the first floor from 1,762 square feet to 2,453 square feet, the second floor from 1,742 square feet to 2,420 square feet, and the attic from 0 square feet to 1,147 square feet; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum FAR of 0.50 is permitted (3,000 square feet) and a minimum OSR of 1.5 (4,500 square feet of open space based on a complying 0.5 FAR) are required pursuant to ZR § 23-141; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement includes a vertical and horizontal extension of the existing non-complying front yard along Avenue K and the Board notes that, pursuant to a 1930 Sanborn Map including the subject site provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying front yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided an analysis of single- or two- (2) family dwellings located within 400 feet of the subject premises within an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area") concluding that, of the 96 qualifying residences, 84 residences (88 percent) have an FAR of greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.25, and 14 residences (15 percent) have an FAR of 1.0 or greater; and

WHEREAS, with regards to open space ratio, the applicant demonstrated that, within the Study Area, 91 residences (95 percent) have an OSR less than 1.5, ranging from 1.45 to 0.38, and 16 residences (17 percent) have an OSR of 0.59 or less; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concern regarding the proposal of floor area in excess of 1.0 FAR (6,000 square feet) and while the Board notes herein that the plans submitted by the applicant do not include all floor area deductions available pursuant to applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Board confirms that the maximum FAR permitted pursuant to this approval is 1.0 (6,000 square feet of floor area); and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19BSA066K, dated December 6, 2018; and

WHEREAS, in light of the foregoing, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 73-622.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR § 73-622 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of a two- (2) family detached dwelling to a single-family detached dwelling that does not comply with the zoning requirements with regards to floor area ratio and open space ratio, contrary to ZR § 23-141; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above-noted, filed with this application and marked Received "April 11, 2019"-Eighteen-(18) sheets; and

WHEREAS, this is a remand under OTR Media Group, Inc. and OTR 945 Zerega LLC v. Board of Standards and Appeals of the City of New York, No. 158646/2016 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. County March 20, 2018), which instructs the Board to consider this interpretive appeal in light of the Board’s decision in 2368 12th Avenue, Manhattan, BSA Cal. No. 24-12-A (August 7, 2012) (the “2368 Case”); and

WHEREAS, for the reasons that follow, the Board denies this appeal; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 13, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on March 19, 2019, and June 25, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Sheta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

WHEREAS, the subject site contains a rooftop sign (the “Zerega Sign”) within 200 feet of an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, on March 27, 2008, the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) issued Permit No. 210039224 for the repair of the structural elements of the Sign and on April 21, 2008, DOB issued Permit No. 201143253 for the repair of the Sign itself, however, on January 31, 2013, DOB revoked the Permits based on its determination that the Sign was not established as a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, on September 13, 2013, under the subject calendar number, the Board upheld DOB’s determination that the then-appellant, the lessee of the sign, failed to provide evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign and denied the appeal, finding that DOB properly denied the Sign registration because the sign lessee has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Sign was established prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board agreed with DOB that nothing in a June 12, 1978 lease between Joma Manufacturing Company (of the Premises) and the advertising company provided a basis for the Board to determine when the Sign was actually constructed; the 1978 lease speaks to, at most, when the Sign could have been constructed; that the only other item of evidence that is somewhat contemporaneous with the 1978 lease is a July 15, 1980 Work Completion Notice, which suggests that the Sign construction was completed more than eight months after November 1, 1979, the required date of establishment in ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, on September 16, 2014, under the subject calendar number, the Board reopened the record by court remand for supplemental review of whether a sign at the subject site was a permitted non-conforming advertising sign in light of the Board's decision in BSA Cal. No. 96-12-A (the "12th Avenue case"), and, again, denied the appeal finding that, unlike the appellant in the 12th Avenue case, the appellant in the subject case did not submit a reconsideration or any similar document, which is viewed to be among the most valuable forms of evidence DOB accepts pursuant to TPPN 14/1988, and, because the Board found that the Sign was never established as non-conforming, it was unnecessary to determine whether the Zoning Resolution permitted its removal and reconstruction or whether the presumption of continuity impels the Board to find, based on the appellant's evidence, that the Sign was not discontinued; and

WHEREAS, on July 12, 2016, under the subject calendar number, the Board, again, reopened the record by court remand for supplemental review and found that, while the Zerega Sign may have continuously existed at the premises since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979, in light of a lease by Philip Morris to utilize the 1,585 square feet of floor area it rented on the ground floor of the Premises for any number of business operations, including the storage and distribution of tobacco products, even if the Sign was established as an advertising sign prior November 1, 1979, its advertising use was abandoned even if the Zerega Sign was established as an advertising sign prior November 1, 1979, its advertising use was abandoned and the Zerega Sign has not continuously been used for advertising purposes since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979; and

ISSUE PRESENTED

WHEREAS, the Board considers whether the off-site advertising use of the Zerega Sign has continued, uninterrupted for a period of two or more years, since November 1, 1979 (the "Establishment Date"); and

WHEREAS, for the purposes of this appeal, the Board assumes that appellant has demonstrated the existence of the Zerega Sign on the Establishment Date, and that the Zerega Sign was used for off-site advertising on the Establishment Date, thereby rendering it a legal "nonconforming use"; and

WHEREAS, because this is an appeal for interpretation, pursuant to ZR § 72-11, the Board "may make such . . . determination as in its opinion should have been made in the premises in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of" the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed and considered—but need not follow—DOB's interpretation of the Zoning Resolution in rendering the Board's own decision in this appeal, and the standard of review in this appeal is de novo; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board finds that appellant has failed to demonstrate the continuous use of the Zerega Sign for off-site advertising purposes, uninterrupted for a period of two or more years, since the Establishment Date; and

WHEREAS, in rendering its decision herein, the Board has considered (a) the history of the City's sign regulations, (b) the City's regulation of construction (including "legalizing" illegal work), (c) the inadequate evidence of the Zerega Sign's continuous off-site advertising, (d) the Board's prior decisions, and (e) the parties' positions (including DOB's explanation of its prior decisions); and

A. History of Sign Regulations

WHEREAS, since 1940, the City of New York has prohibited off-site advertising signs within 200 feet and within view of its parks and arterial highways, see Infinity Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 165 F. Supp. 2d 403, 406 (E.D.N.Y. 2001); and

WHEREAS, despite this prohibition and undeterred by the City's limited enforcement efforts, outdoor-advertising companies erected illegal arterial advertising signs between 1940 and 1979 in violation of the Zoning Resolution, see Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99 (2d Cir. 2010); and

WHEREAS, however, in 1979, facing an impending loss of millions of dollars in federal funding, the City amended the Zoning Resolution to grant "legal non-conforming use" status¹ to existing illegal arterial advertising signs in order to comply with the federal Highway Beautification Act, see Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99 (2d Cir. 2010); and

WHEREAS, in 2001, recognizing that "the outdoor advertising industry unquestionably employed creative methods to obtain building permits for arterial highway signs," the City created a sign-registration program for outdoor-advertising companies to increase oversight and improve enforcement of the Zoning Resolution's sign

regulations, Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99–100 (2d Cir. 2010); and

B. Legalization of Illegal Construction

WHEREAS, for more than a century, the City has regulated the construction of buildings and structures—including billboards—through its building code (the “Building Code”), see People ex rel. Van Beuren & New York Bill Posting Co. v. Miller, 161 A.D. 138, 139 (N.Y. App. Div. 1914); and

WHEREAS, a central feature of the Building Code’s regulatory scheme is that, before erecting a structure, a permit to do so must be obtained from DOB, see People ex rel. Van Beuren & New York Bill Posting Co. v. Miller, 161 A.D. 138, 140 (N.Y. App. Div. 1914); and

WHEREAS, this permit application process generally requires plans and specifications demonstrating compliance with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, to be submitted for review and approval by DOB; and

WHEREAS, if the permit application and DOB’s review indicate the proposed construction complies with applicable laws, a permit will issue; and

WHEREAS, in the ordinary course, construction then proceeds as authorized by this permit, and the construction is then “signed off” as compliant with the plans and specifications; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding this general framework, individuals sometimes violate the Building Code by performing illegal construction without a permit; and

WHEREAS, the Building Code provides that maintaining illegal construction is a continuing violation until the violation is cured; and

WHEREAS, after this occurs, the individual may opt to cure the violation by either removing or “legalizing” this illegal construction; and

WHEREAS, “legalizing” illegal construction—a term of art—involves procuring a permit for the already-built construction; and

WHEREAS, as such, a “legalization” application requires “as-built” plans and specifications demonstrating compliance of the illegal construction with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, to be submitted for review and approval by DOB; and

WHEREAS, if the “legalization” application and DOB’s review indicate the “as-built” illegal construction complies with applicable laws, the “legalization” application will be approved, a permit may issue, and the “as-built” illegal construction may be “signed off” as compliant with the plans and specifications; and

WHEREAS, if the “legalization” application or DOB’s review do not indicate the “as-built” illegal construction complies, the “legalization” application cannot be approved; and

WHEREAS, because of the 1979 amendment to Zoning Resolution, many previously illegal arterial advertising signs that had been erected without proper permits underwent this “legalization” process, which DOB later codified in OPPN 10/99, setting forth filing standards for which types of applications to file for different billboard typologies (depending, for instance, on whether electrical work had been involved to illuminate the sign); and

WHEREAS, as discussed throughout this appeal, in the 1980s, many outdoor-advertising companies availed themselves of the opportunity to “legalize” their signs where their construction complied with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, as amended in 1979; and

WHEREAS, however, not all arterial advertising signs could be legalized; and

WHEREAS, for instance, where an applicant cannot furnish evidence that an arterial-advertising sign existed as of the specified date, DOB denies an application to legalize an arterial-advertising sign as “legal non-conforming use”—a process that involves considering and weighing evidence, specified as having different weights of credibility in TPPN 14/88; and

WHEREAS, the denied applicant then faces two choices: removing the illegal sign structure or salvaging the illegal sign structure by converting it to lawful use as an accessory business sign; and

WHEREAS, the latter approach requires filing an application to “legalize” the newly converted accessory business sign structure with DOB to ensure compliance with applicable laws, including the Building Code (to review the safety of the illegal sign structure with construction standards) and the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, however, not all sign structures for newly converted accessory business sign structures can be legalized; and

WHEREAS, for instance, where an applicant cannot demonstrate that a business sign meets the Zoning Resolution’s “accessory use” definition, DOB denies the legalization application for failure to comply with applicable laws; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, this “legalization” process reflects an intricate interplay between the technical and procedural aspects of the City’s regulation of construction that requires a significant depth of expertise to administer; and

C. Evidence in the Record

WHEREAS, with this regulatory backdrop in mind, the Board next considers the evidence in the record but finds that appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Zerega Sign has been used continuously for advertising since 1979 because the record reflects a discontinuance of more than two years; and

WHEREAS, more specifically, an accessory business sign was lawfully established at the subject site in January 1987 when permits to install two accessory business signs with the text “Metro Self Storage” were issued to the owner of the building, Metro Self Storage; and

WHEREAS, use of the building for storage was a lawful principal use at the time; and

WHEREAS, the deed from 1985 corroborates that Metro Self Storage was the owner of the building at the time; and

WHEREAS, use of the building as self-storage is established by an application to convert the building to self storage, which resulted in a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, use of the building for storage was a lawful principal use; and

WHEREAS, converting the Zerega Sign's structure from use as an off-site advertising sign to an on-site accessory business sign reflected a change to a conforming use; and

WHEREAS, this accessory sign was in place for at least three years; and

WHEREAS, the owner applied in 1990, filling out an official PW1 form (Exhibit H, DOB, May 29, 2019) and certifying the description of work as follows: "to paint existing sign on existing structure variable copy Marlboro" and "to legalize the face of the existing sign;" and

WHEREAS, the application materials in the record also indicate that, in 1990, DOB scrutinized the legalization application for the accessory business sign—including a May 25, 1990, submission and a June 11, 1990, submission of DOB sign-off on additional information (Exhibit I, DOB, May 29, 2019); and

WHEREAS, the additional information form, provided by the owner in 1990, certifies:

"Philip Morris Marlboro business [is] occupying the first floor of the building."

"They have office space and storage for sales and distribution of cigarettes."

"See attached photos and rental payments attached."

WHEREAS, this Additional Information form thus presents credible evidence directly from the owner, which had contemporaneous knowledge of on-site conditions at the time, that Philip Morris had an active presence—both offices and storage—in the subject building in 1990; and

WHEREAS, this Additional Information form² also corroborates that DOB reviewed a complete set of application materials—including the referenced photographs and rental payments; and

WHEREAS, these legalization application materials were contemporaneous evidence supporting the actual presence of the then-existing business sign³; and

WHEREAS, although the record does not indicate whether the Philip Morris lease was presented to DOB along with the 1990 legalization application, DOB in this appeal presents credible analysis that the space-rental income constituted approximately 70 percent of the Zerega Sign's rental income—a further indicator of the likelihood that the Zerega Sign was accessory to Philip Morris's principal use;

² Additional Information forms customarily follow requests by DOB for further support of an application before a permit will issue and to resolve DOB objections to an incomplete application.

³ Had the Zerega Sign not existed as a business sign, the application would have been filed with work proposed instead of work to be legalized.

WHEREAS, with respect to appellant's specious assertions that a business sign may only be "accessory" to the principal use of a building, the Zoning Resolution says no such thing; and

WHEREAS, under the accessory use definition, an accessory use must be "clearly incidental" to a "principal use" located on the same zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, in this context, the use of the term "accessory" refers to the principal use to which a sign may be accessory, but not the building itself, as a building may contain many uses, each of which are entitled to have separate, and different, accessory uses; and

WHEREAS, contrary to appellant's assertions, the Zoning Resolution allows that a single building may contain more than one principal use, and an accessory business sign may accordingly be related to any principal use—so long as they are both located on the same zoning lot. See ZR § 12-10 (accessory use definition); and

WHEREAS, furthermore, where accessory business signs are permitted, each separate establishment is entitled to its own accessory business sign, see ZR § 42-50; and the Zoning Resolution does so by directing that each establishment be treated as though it were its own zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the 1991 map purporting to show all of Phillip Morris's warehouses at the time. (Exhibit 2, appellant, May 29, 2019), it is impossible to ascertain the criteria (such as size or ownership) used for inclusion on the submitted map when the listed warehouses servicing the City of New York were on Long Island and Westchester, and it is not inconsistent to believe that Philip Morris would have operated smaller staging and management areas closer to their delivery points—such as the facility at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, in 1990, the owner certified that Phillip Morris was using the subject site as "office space" and "for sales and storage of cigarettes," which corroborates that Phillip Morris used the subject site as a smaller staging and management area, rather than a full-building warehouse; and

WHEREAS, although there is no way for the Board to know whether this use of the building would have been sufficient for listing on the 1991 warehouse map, these activities were sufficient for DOB to accept the evidence of this activity as a principal use under the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, an accessory sign was lawfully established due to permits issued for accessory sign to Metro Self-Storage; and

WHEREAS, the accessory sign use was established by deed and application to change its use and certificate of occupancy for the same; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Z.R. § 52-61, a change from a non-conforming use to conforming use is an abandonment if it lasts for 2 or more years; and

WHEREAS, the accessory sign existed at the Premises for at least 3 years as evidenced by the owner's 1990 sign application to "repaint existing [1987 accessory business] sign" and to legalize the face of the existing sign; and

WHEREAS, the proof submitted in connection with the 1990 sign application was scrutinized by DOB and determined that it was a valid accessory as evidenced by the June 11, 1990, DOB signoff of the additional information form; and

WHEREAS, the owner stated to DOB that Phillip Morris occupied the first floor with office space and storage, on which were notes referring to attached pictures and rental payments; and

WHEREAS, this customarily follows a request from DOB for incomplete applications; and

WHEREAS, contemporaneous representations of the applicant for the sign, to recognize it as a business sign, were made to DOB to accept this characterization after requesting further info and DOB concluded "OK to consider as a business sign;" and

WHEREAS, DOB records do not indicate whether the "Phillip Morris" lease was sent to DOB, but does indicate their consideration of the space rental income, which was 70% of the sign rental income, and demonstrated to them that the Sign was is accessory; and

WHEREAS, the appellant attempted to show that the rental space was not in use as a warehouse by demonstration of a "Phillip Morris" distribution map—without any indication of what is required to be included in that distribution map—and does not dispel that "Phillip Morris" used the Premises as a staging area that would be smaller than a traditional warehouse; and

WHEREAS, DOB's criteria for a business sign is sufficient to issue a permit for an accessory sign and it is unreasonable for this Board to expect DOB to dig deeply into ownership tenant applicant records to issue a permit; and

WHEREAS, DOB entitled to rely on professionals' representations made in connection with application filings and DOB has rejected sign registration when evidence in their record established a sign as an accessory, and not advertising, use; and

WHEREAS, had the permit applicant, in 1990, had proof to establish the sign for advertising purposes, they would have done so; and

WHEREAS, the accessory business sign with text "Metro Self Storage" was installed in 1987 and was removed in 1990 for a "Marlboro" sign and constitutes abandonment; and

WHEREAS, the timing is further supported by a January 31, 1996, letter from Allied Outdoor, from George Newman, Chairman of the Board, to Metro Self Storage, containing hand notations on the letter regarding lease renewal, dated February 1996, that the "lease was changed to eight (8) years" and that "even with 8 y[ea]r lease" it is "due to expire [on] March 31 1998," consistent with the April 1990 application to legalize the "Marlboro" sign at the Premises; and

record indicates the use of the sign for advertising purposes was discontinued for more than two years and any legal non-conforming use of an advertising sign was therefore abandoned; and

D. Prior BSA Decisions

WHEREAS, the Board examined the acceptable proofs pursuant to the hierarchy of evidence under TPPN 14/1988—(1) Item (a): City agency records; (2) Item (b): records, bills, documentation from public utilities; (3) Item (c): other documentation of occupancy including ads and invoices; and (4) Item (d): affidavits—found substantial evidence to support DOB's determination that the alleged sign was accessory and that later affidavits contradicting earlier proofs, such as a permit to legalize an accessory business sign, unpersuasive. (BSA Cal. No. 68-13-A, January 13, 2014, "330 Bruckner Case"); and

WHEREAS, in the 330 Bruckner Case, the Board found substantial evidence to support DOB that sign was accessory: later affidavits contradicting earlier proofs are not persuasive and distinguishes permits and city agency records as the best proof, from affidavits as having the least probative value; and

WHEREAS, in contrast to the evidence in the record of this appeal, the sole proof provided to DOB in the 2368 Case was an affidavit stating that Hilfiger sign was accessory to use of space in the building for "storage, staging, and repair of display fixtures as well as administrative function related to such use"—without other materials; and

WHEREAS, DOB also provided explanations for rejecting registration for an alleged nonconforming advertising sign in light of evidence that established the sign's history as accessory; and (Flatbush Avenue.)

WHEREAS, in other instances, DOB accepted proof of the establishment of advertising signs based on ownership, occupancy, DOB permitting history, photographic evidence, and a lease with an outdoor-advertising company—none of which was refuted by evidence of discontinuance like in this appeal; and (Queens Boulevard, Laurel Hills Boulevard.)

WHEREAS, furthermore, it was unclear from appellant's assertions whether any of these locations were subject to so-called "sham" leases; and

WHEREAS, additionally, it would be unreasonable to expect DOB to investigate ownership, tenant records, and site history each time DOB issues a permit because a complete understanding of site conditions can only be gleaned through firsthand inspection and a plethora of private documents, most of which are in an owner or other private party's possession but never recorded; and

WHEREAS, the New York City Construction Codes provides that DOB may reasonably rely on the representations made by licensed design professionals (such as architects and engineers) during the application process, though DOB may investigate further when faced with complaints filed or other contradictory evidence comes to light; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the City’s brief in the Sievers Case and the Mazza & Avena Case, appellant does not explain their relevance in this appeal when it is undisputed that an enormous sign hawking cigarettes (rather than, for instance, gasoline sales) would have no relation to a small automotive service station and would not be “clearly incidental” to an automotive service station; and

WHEREAS, here, in contrast, the Zerega Sign advertised for Philip Morris, which carried out its business operations in “office space” and storage “for sales and storage of cigarettes” at the subject site, and accordingly was “clearly incidental” to a principal use at the subject site—as DOB found based on contemporaneous evidence through its review at the time; and

E. Parties’ Positions

WHEREAS, in reaching its decision set forth herein, the Board has considered all of the parties’ arguments on appeal, including those put forth by appellant and DOB, but ultimately finds appellant’s arguments unpersuasive; and

Appellant’s Position

WHEREAS, the Board has considered all of appellant’s arguments on appeal but finds them ultimately unpersuasive in light of the foregoing; and

WHEREAS, appellant asserts that, in the 2368 Case, the Board denied sign registration to two signs erected in 1999 that had been used as accessory signs for the sole building tenant, Tommy Hilfiger U.S.A., Inc; and (the “2368 Tenant”).

WHEREAS, appellant states that the appellant had argued that the 2368 maintained a lease for all of the space inside the premises for storage purposes, rendering two sign permits lawful as authorizing accessory signs; and

WHEREAS, appellant states that DOB refused to register the signs as accessory uses, instead finding that the appellant leased failed to demonstrate that the two signs were not advertising signs.

WHEREAS, appellant states that, in the 2368 Case, the Board identified two criteria for differentiating advertising and accessory signs: whether the principal use to which a sign is accessory is a “bona fide” commercial use and whether the sign directs attention to the principal use of the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, appellant asserts that, because of the 2368 Case, the Zerega Sign is an advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, first, appellant states that the Zerega Sign is an advertising sign because it is not related to any principal use at the subject site, given that the Owner leased less than 3 percent of the building’s floor space to Philip Morris for storage; and

WHEREAS, appellant states that the record indicates that there were instances where Allied Outdoor, which controlled the Zerega Sign, paid rent on behalf of Phillip Morris, that the Owner’s invoices for the space lease were sent to Phillip Morris care of Allied Outdoor’s corporate office, and that the space lease has a termination date concurrent with the sign lease; and

WHEREAS, appellant states that it is “not possible” to determine the amount of revenue Phillip Morris received because of the space lease but notes that the space lease indicates Phillip Morris paid $24,000 per year while Philip Morris paid Allied Outdoor $90,000–$113,718 per year, indicating that the advertising sign was itself a principal use; and

WHEREAS, second, appellant states that the Zerega Sign did not direct attention to the subject site because, assuming Phillip Morris actually used the storage space, the Zerega Sign contained no copy relating the on-site storage with the sale of cigarettes to customers because customers could not purchase cigarettes at the subject site; and

November 27, 2018

WHEREAS, first, appellant states that OPPN 10/99 is not a valid distinction between this appeal and the 2368 Case; and

WHEREAS, appellant states that, because the 2368 Case predates OPPN 10/99, the Board improperly applied OPPN 10/99 to the 2368 Sign; and

WHEREAS, appellant also submits that DOB’s “official policy” on accessory signs has consistently refused to recognize “sham” accessory signs, reflect as far back as a 1996, where the Board determined that a sign advertising cigarettes was not accessory to any on-site principal use in BSA Cal. No. 46-96-A, which was upheld in Mazza & Avena, Inc. v. Chin, 261 A.D.2d 546 (2d Dep’t 1999); and

WHEREAS, second, appellant argues that “there is no basis for treating a permit application as a functional equivalent of the requirement in ZR § 52-61,” which pertains to “the discontinuance of a nonconforming use; and

WHEREAS, in support of this argument, appellant points to DOB determinations where DOB has allegedly disregarded accessory permits in allowing sign registrations for advertising signs at 21-09 Borden Avenue, Queens, and 93-30 Van Wyck Expressway, Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, appellant presents no authority for the proposition that the Board—as an appellate body—is bound to follow any DOB determination, cf. ZR § 72-11 (recognizing de novo standard of review in interpretive appeals); and

February 27, 2019

WHEREAS, first, appellant states that “DOB’s argument that inaccurate permit applications be given precedence in the face of overwhelming contradicting facts is nonsensical;” and

WHEREAS, appellant notes that “the accessory permit applications indicated a display for Metro-Self Storage, Inc. (the owner of the building) but only later (in a separate section) clarifies that the actual purported accessory use was conducted by Phillip Morris;” and

WHEREAS, second, appellant dismisses “DOB’s attempts to distinguish the signs at 23-09 Borden Avenue and 93-30 Van Wyck Expressway undermine its argument regarding the evidentiary value of obtaining a permit;” and

WHEREAS, third, appellant submits that there are “clear distinctions” between the Zerega Sign and the 330

MINUTES

Bruckner Sign, namely that the 330 Bruckner Sign was related to the owner of the storage facility (N.Y. Bus Service) but that the Zerega Sign is related to a tenant (Phillip Morris); and

WHEREAS, appellant presents no authority for the proposition that ownership is a proper zoning purpose; and

WHEREAS, fourth, appellant states that “DOB materially misrepresents” the 2368 Case because appellant asserts that “the actual BSA finding in the 2368 Case was that even if the premises were used as a warehouse it would not have provided an adequate nexus for the accessory sign use;” and

WHEREAS, first, appellant states that there is “evidence that Philip Morris did not utilize the storage unit at the premises for business purposes” in the form of a 1991 map of Philip Morris warehouses that does not list the subject site and Philip Morris warehouse requirements that storage at the subject site would not meet; and

WHEREAS, second, appellant states that “a tiny warehouse space occupying a miniscule fraction of a building [cannot] qualify as a lot’s ‘principal use’” because, similar to 45-96-A, where 5 percent of lot area was insufficient to justify a principal use, any purported principal use at the subject site would constitute less than 5 percent of subject building’s floor area and would be similarly insufficient; and

WHEREAS, third, appellant states that the 2000 CPC Report “do not represent an accurate description of the law, but rather, are a description of the prevailing attitudes of various industry insiders”—rendering them “inconsequential to the central question of whether the [Zerega] Sign ever constituted a valid accessory sign pursuant to the Zoning Resolution;” and

WHEREAS, fourth, appellant states that the Board “made no effort during the hearing process to harmonize the facts of this case with prior DOB and BSA decisions;” and

WHEREAS, fifth, appellant states that, in the 2368 Case, “the Board identified two primary criteria for differentiating advertising and accessory signs: (a) that the principal use to which the sign is accessory is a bona fide business use or that the actual or anticipated revenue generated by the business on the zoning lot at least equals or exceeds the cost of purchasing or leasing and maintaining the sign or (b) that based on the definitions found in section 12-10 of the zoning resolution, the sign directs attention to the purported principal use of the zoning lot;” and

WHEREAS, appellant states that, using this analysis, the Zerega Sign was never an accessory use because the Zerega Sign “was not related to a bona fide business” when an outdoor advertising company, “which had control of the [Zerega] Sign, made the lease payments on behalf of Philip Morris” and the Zerega Sign “contain[ed] no copy that would direct attention to the premises;” and

WHEREAS, first, appellant asserts that the 2368 Case is “directly parallel to the case of the Subject Sign;” and

WHEREAS, second, appellant states that DOB fails to distinguish sign registrations at for the following locations: 50-01 Queens Boulevard, Queens; 58-58 Laurel Hill Boulevard, Queens; 370 Hamilton Avenue, Brooklyn; 217 East 17th Houston, Manhattan; 30 Prince Street, Brooklyn; and 40 Flatbush Avenue Extension, Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, appellant still presents no authority for the proposition that the Board—as an appellate body—is bound to follow any DOB determination, cf. ZR § 72-11 (recognizing de novo standard of review in interpretive appeals); and

WHEREAS, first, DOB states that, under the TPPN, approved alteration applications have significant probative value in determining whether a sign constitutes a non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, here, DOB states that, in 1987, DOB approved and issued permits for “accessory business roof signs and a roof structure on which to place them,” but there is no DOB record indicating approval for any advertising sign on the roof of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, because the TPPN considers “records of documentation from any City Agency” the best form of evidence, the approved alteration applications and permits demonstrate that Zerega Sign constituted an accessory use in 1987; and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that the 1987 Certificate of Occupancy indicates “offices and storage”—thereby corroborating that the Zerega Sign was related to the on-site principal storage use, which is also reflected in the space lease; and

WHEREAS, second, DOB states that this interpretive appeal is distinguishable from the 2368 Case and overcomes any rebuttable presumption that a large sign at a warehouse constitutes off-site advertising; and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that the OPPN 10/99 was not in effect when DOB issued the sign permits, that any “presumption that a sign is advertising at a warehouse does not overcome the presumption that a sign is accessory” when DOB has issued a permit authorizing an accessory sign, and that the facts here overcome any presumption of advertising set forth in OPPN 10/99; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that this appeal is strikingly similar to the 330 Bruckner Case, where the Board upheld DOB’s sign-registration denial to a sign that had an alteration application approved after “a full plan examination, including a rigorous fact-finding inquiry on the issue of the principal use of the Premises,” and issued a permit to legalize an accessory sign in 1981, which constituted evidence that the 330 Brucker Sign was related to the on-site principal storage use and demonstrated that any advertising use had been discontinued for more than two years; and

WHEREAS, DOB contrasts this appeal with the 2368 Case, where evidence in the record indicated that the warehouse at issue was not a legitimate principal use including the firsthand inspection and personal knowledge of the Board's commissioners who found the site "consist[ed] largely of empty space" with "a small amount of 'promotional material,'" which was corroborated by a dearth of "objective, independently verifiable evidence of warehouse operations" or evidence that revenue generated by the 2368 Sign was "clearly incidental to revenue generated from the use on the zoning lot to which it directs attention;" and

WHEREAS, here, DOB submits that the approved applications and permits for the Zerega Sign and the 330 Bruckner Sign both reflect administrative determinations that the signs were lawful accessory uses with incidental relationships to on-site principal uses; and

WHEREAS, third, DOB notes that its sign-registration denial for the Zerega Sign is consistent with its registration of an advertising sign at 21-09 Borden Avenue (where an accessory sign had never been installed) and an advertising sign at 93-30 Van Wyck Expressway (where 1987 permits for "legalizing advertising roof sign" had more probative value than 1971 applications for accessory business signs); and

WHEREAS, first, DOB submits that its determination "that the [Zerega] Sign was accessory for a continuous period of two or more years and that any non-conforming advertising use was discontinued is based on substantial evidence that distinguishes the [Zerega] Sign from the advertising signs at 2368 12th Avenue, Manhattan;" and

WHEREAS, DOB notes that DOB records "demonstrate that the [Zerega] Sign is accessory to a business at the premises;" and

WHEREAS, for instance, the 1986 Sign Application indicates that DOB approved accessory business sign permits for Metro Self Storage that would read "Metro Self Storage;" and

WHEREAS, DOB states that subsequent accessory sign applications were to "[r]epaint existing sign on existing structure" in 1990 and "[t]o legalize the face of the existing sign;" and

WHEREAS, the 1990 sign application includes a form that states: "Request approval of application of business sign as per rental payments of attached. This is a five story structure with the Philip Morris Marlboro business occupying the first floor of the building. They have office space and storage for sales and distribution of cigarettes;" and

WHEREAS, written on the 1990 sign application, there is a handwritten notation that states: "O.K. to consider as business sign [signature] 6/11/90;" and

WHEREAS, next, DOB notes that the "lease and rental agreements provided by appellant demonstrate that the [Zerega] Sign at the premises from 1988-1996 was accessory" based on storage-space rent that exceeds the cost of maintaining the Zerega Sign by 240 percent, consistent with OPPN 10/99, as well as the identification panel for Philip Morris placed at the main entrance of the subject site;

and

WHEREAS, second, DOB states that "appellant's examples demonstrate the Department's consistent practice in assessing whether a sign is legally non-conforming and whether it should be advertising or accessory" and sets forth its reasons for sign-registration determinations at 40 Flatbush Avenue Extension, Brooklyn; 50-01 Queens Boulevard, Queens, 58-58 Laurel Hills Boulevard, Queens; 370 East Houston Street, Manhattan; and 30 Prince Street, Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, third, DOB states that a determination that the Zerega Sign "was accessory, and not non-conforming advertising, is consistent with the Department and the Board's determination in 330 Bruckner Boulevard" because both signs were discontinued after the respective applicants submitted applications for accessory business signs related to storage facilities and were issued accessory-sign permits by DOB after "a rigorous fact-finding inquiry;" and

WHEREAS, fourth, DOB explains that "legalization" of nonconforming uses requires showing that the use was lawfully established and continuous pursuant to the Zoning Resolution as well as obtain a permit in accordance with the Administrative Code, paying any associated penalties before a permit will issue; and

WHEREAS, first, DOB states that 25 pieces of evidence submitted by appellant do not address "whether any non-conforming advertising use was discontinued for a period of more than two years;" and

WHEREAS, specifically, DOB states that the "1980 Tax photograph (circa 1983) and analysis" perhaps shows a sign structure but without any indication that the structure was used for an advertising sign and that the photo is from a collection "from 1983 to 1988;" and

WHEREAS, DOB also notes that the "1994 Electrical Application Y063803" for "connection of sign" is probative with respect to the presence of a sign but contains no information that would support that the referenced sign was used for off-site advertising; and

WHEREAS, DOB submits that "DOB Permit 201143253" from 2008 provides no information about whether the referenced sign was used for off-site advertising; and

WHEREAS, second, DOB notes that "appellant's evidence does not refute the Department's conclusion that Philip Morris maintained a business presence at the premises beginning in 1988 sufficient to support an accessory sign;" and

WHEREAS, DOB refutes that a 1991 map of Philip Morris warehouses or a 1999 Philip Morris warehouse-survey questionnaire indicate that the subject site was not used for a warehouse by Philip Morris; and

WHEREAS, DOB instead points to the 1990 sign application to "repaint existing [1987 accessory business] sign," which states that "Philip Morris Marlboro business [is] occupying the first floor of the building" at the subject site, where “[t]hey have office space and storage for sales and distribution of cigarettes”—indicating that Philip Morris maintained a principal use at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, third, DOB states that the “applicant’s accessory sign application rebut any claim that the sign at the premises continued as advertising” because, unlike in the 2368 Case, the “prior applicant’s statements were reviewed and accepted by the Department at the time in support of the accessory sign permits;” and

WHEREAS, fourth, DOB submits that its “review and determination of applications for registration as a non-conforming advertising sign is fact-based,” so DOB has been consistent with its past precedents with respect to sign registrations; and

CONCLUSION

WHEREAS, the Board has considered all of the arguments on appeal but finds them ultimately unpersuasive; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Zerega Sign has been continuously used for advertising purposes.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the decision of the Department of Buildings shall be and hereby is upheld and that this appeal shall be and hereby is denied.

WHEREAS, this is an application for extensions of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 25, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on June 25, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Ottley-Brown performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of Manhattan Avenue, between Powers Street and Grand Street, in an R6B zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 25 feet of frontage along Manhattan Avenue, 100 feet of depth, 2,500 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a building under construction; and

WHEREAS, on April 18, 2008, the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) issued New Building Permit No. 310058950-01-NB (the “New Building Permit”), authorizing construction of a six-story mixed-use residential and commercial building with 7,613 square feet of floor area (3.05 FAR)—5,483 square feet of residential floor area (2.2 FAR) and 2,130 square feet of commercial floor area (0.85 FAR)—with eight dwelling units and no accessory parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, on July 29, 2009, the City Council voted to adopt the Greenpoint–Williamsburg Contextual Rezoning, which rezoned the subject site from a C4-3 (R6 equivalent) zoning district to an R6B zoning district and rendered the subject building non-compliant with respect to residential floor area, commercial floor area, maximum building height, maximum wall height and maximum number of dwelling units; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since June 2, 2015, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted an application pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights and reinstated the New Building Permit, with related work permits necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, for four (4) years, expiring June 2, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the time to complete construction having expired, the applicant now seeks extensions of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, since 2015, construction has been delayed by funding issues but contends that substantial expenditures and substantial progress have been made toward completion of the subject building; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant submitted an updated field report, indicating that approximately 58 percent of construction has been completed and anticipating completion in October 2019; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the field report indicates that the following work is complete: substantially all of the concrete masonry unit block walls from the first story to the roof level; installation of part of the brick facades; installation of metal C-joists and decking with concrete slabs poured; installation of fire stairs and railing with concrete treads and stair decking; installation of interior metal framing; and plumbing, sprinkler, HVAC rough-ins and electrical work from the third floor to the fifth floor; and

WHEREAS, the field report also demonstrates that the following work remains: installation of utilities from the street to the subject building; completion of the brick facades; installation of a second staircase to the cellar; framing for the roof bulkhead; the remainder of the plumbing, sprinkler, HVAC rough-ins and electrical work; trenching for under-slab plumbing in the cellar; and removal of soil for under-slab work to commence; and

WHEREAS, with respect to expenditures, the field report states that, to date, approximately $1,435,317 has been expended with approximately $1,101,466 remaining to complete the work; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant submits that, because of the further expenditures incurred and the additional work completed that would have to be removed at significant expense, it would suffer a serious loss if the site were required to comply with R6B zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board expressed concern with the slow progress of construction, specifically with respect to increasing delays, noting that the updated field report shows a delay of four (4) months; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that it does not look favorably on stalled construction where, after years, there is no indication that the work will ever be completed; and

WHEREAS, the Board further notes that, under the common law, there may be instances in which circumstances may have changed such that the City's interest in present zoning outweighs the property owner's vested right, including abandonment where the intent to abandon and an overt act—or some failure to act—imply that the owner neither claims nor retains any interest in the subject matter of the abandonment, see Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 A.D.2d 10, 15 (2d Dept. 1976); and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspection of the site and surrounding area, the Board has determined that the requested extension of time to complete construction is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby reopen and amend the resolution, dated June 2, 2015, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: “to reinstate New Building Permit No. 310058950-01-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, for four (4) years, expiring June 2, 2023.”

WHEREAS, at a public hearing on June 25, 2019, the Board made a motion, for good cause, pursuant to § 1-12.6 of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure, to review its decision in the subject calendar number, dated July 17, 2018, issued September 7, 2018 (the “Resolution”); and

WHEREAS, the building permit issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) on September 27, 2017, under New Building Application No. 122887224 (the “Permit”), authorizes construction of a 55-story residential and community-facility building with 112 dwelling units and a total height of 668 feet (the “New Building”) by Amsterdam Avenue Redevelopment Associates, LLC (the “Owner”) on a development site with 110,794 square feet of lot area (the “Development Site”); and

WHEREAS, this is an appeal for interpretation under Section 72-11 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York (“ZR” or the “Zoning Resolution”) and Section 666(6)(a) of the New York City Charter, brought on behalf of the Committee for Environmentally Sound Development (“Appellant”), alleging errors in the Permit pertaining to (i) whether the Development Site complies with the Zoning Resolution’s “zoning lot” definition and (ii) whether ground-level open areas on the Development Site comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” regulations; and

WHEREAS, for the reasons that follow, a majority of the Board denies this appeal; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 27, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on June 5, 2018, and then to decision on July 17, 2018; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the New Building is inappropriate and out of context with the surrounding neighborhood, that no rational person could view the Development Site as a single lot and that a significant portion of the open space claimed is unavailable to the public; and

WHEREAS, 170 West End Avenue Condominium (the “Condominium”), a residential condominium located on the subject block outside the bounds of the Development Site and represented by counsel in this appeal, states that it takes no position with respect to the issues presented in this appeal insofar as they do not implicate the Condominium’s accessory parking and that 26 off-street parking spaces located behind the New Building are lawful and permitted under the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, New York State Assemblymember Richard N. Gottfried and State Senator Brad Hoylman submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the project fails to comply with the “zoning lot” definition because it is not comprised of whole tax lots and fails to comply with applicable “open space” regulations and that these compliance failures are an abuse of zoning regulations that render the New Building contextually out of scale; and

WHEREAS, New York State Assemblymember Linda B. Rosenthal, State Senator Brad Holyman and Comptroller Scott M. Stringer submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that creative interpretations of the Zoning Resolution slowly chip away at the quality of life and character of the City’s residential areas; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the New York City Council submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that divorcing zoning lots from the tax lots on a block makes ensuring compliance with the Zoning Resolution dramatically more difficult and that having zoning lot lines coincide with tax lot lines promotes clarity and transparency; and

WHEREAS, New York City Comptroller Scott M. Stringer submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Owner creatively interpreted the City's zoning regulations to create a tower on the Upper West Side by merging various tax lots to create one zoning lot and by claiming the neighboring property's open space as its own and that the City must do more to prevent the construction of inappropriately sited towers throughout the City and ensure that all development complies with the intent and letter of the law; and

WHEREAS, Manhattan Borough President Gale A. Brewer submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that interpreting the Zoning Resolution in such a way as to allow for the New Building is a mistake, makes for bad public policy and goes against the spirit and intent of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, New York City Council Member Helen Rosenthal submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Development Site runs counter to the most logical interpretation of the text of the Zoning Resolution in an unprecedented manner, that divorcing zoning lots from tax lot lines would make ensuring compliance with the Zoning Resolution dramatically more difficult and that the Development Site inappropriately counts inaccessible and unusable area as open space; and

WHEREAS, the American Institute of Architects New York Chapter submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that professionals that work on buildings, such as architects, need a predictable set of zoning rules in order to design and program buildings and that as-of-right zoning affords architects and their clients that predictability; and

WHEREAS, the Municipal Art Society of New York submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Development Site does not comply with the "zoning lot" definition because it contains two entire tax lots and small portions of four tax lots; and

WHEREAS, the Real Estate Board of New York submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that the City's as-of-right framework embodied in the Zoning Resolution is meant to encourage predictability in an industry where financing needs predictability, especially when market conditions can be unpredictable, that the Permit was only granted after an exhaustive DOB review, including a rigorous audit, and that this appeal is based on a faulty interpretation of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the New York Building Congress submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that granting this appeal would be unprecedented and clearly stifle current and future investment, that the process for reviewing and approving the Permit was transparent and consistent with the City's procedures and that two other buildings have been permitted to be built as-of-right on the same lot: 170 Amsterdam and 180 Amsterdam; and

WHEREAS, Landmark West! submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Permit is invalid because allowing the merger of portions of tax lots in order to take advantage of certain development rights relating to the merged lots is erroneous; and

WHEREAS, a practicing architect and planner submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that the Zoning Resolution regulates the real-estate industry in accordance with the City's public and planning policies, that the key to its success has been the ability it gives owners and builders to proceed with as-of-right development, that the Department of City Planning invests substantial resources in evaluating and updating the Zoning Resolution both to reflect its evolving planning goals for the City and to correct errors and inconsistencies in the text and that City Planning takes action to legislatively clarify or amend the text when it disagrees with an interpretation; and

WHEREAS, PNC Real Estate submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that zoning lot mergers have been considered "as of right" actions and that ensuring that the decisions of city government not be reversed is important to the lending and investment communities; and

WHEREAS, Association for a Better New York submitted testimony in opposition to this appeal, stating that upholding the Permit ensures a measure of predictability and confidence in the issuance of as-of-right building permits and that there is a consistent history of allowing partial zoning lot mergers; and

WHEREAS, the Sierra Club New York City Group submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Development Site does not comply with applicable "open space" requirements; and

WHEREAS, the West 68th Street Block Association Inc. submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the New Building will have negative impacts on light, air, infrastructure and other quality-of-life necessities in the community; and

WHEREAS, West End Preservation Society submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that the Development Site does not comply with the "zoning lot" definition because it consists of portions of tax lots; and

WHEREAS, a planner submitted testimony in support of this appeal, stating that zoning lots are composed of one or more tax lots and that there is insufficient data on zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board also received letters and heard testimony from neighbors, organizations and concerned members of the public in support of and in opposition to this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the subject block is bounded by Amsterdam Avenue, West 66th Street, West End Avenue and West 70th Street; and

WHEREAS, the subject block includes five buildings located at 140 West End Avenue, 150 West End Avenue, 160 West End Avenue, 170 West End Avenue and 180 West End Avenue (the "1960s Buildings") that were developed on a single parcel of land in the 1960s (the "Original Parcel"); and

WHEREAS, with DOB's review and approval of zoning compliance, said parcel of land was subdivided in April 1987 into two separate parcels that included partial tax lots: one improved with the 1960s Buildings and one unimproved (the “Unimproved Parcel”); and

WHEREAS, DOB issued certificates of occupancy to all the 1960s Buildings to reflect said subdivision that resulted in an improved parcel that included partial tax lots: DOB issued 140 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1989 and subsequently issued two certificates of occupancy; DOB issued 150 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1989 and subsequently issued six subsequent certificates of occupancy; DOB issued 160 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1990 and subsequently issued four certificates of occupancy; DOB issued 170 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1991 and subsequently issued three certificates of occupancy; and DOB issued 180 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1988 and subsequently issued four certificates of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the 1960s Buildings’ certificates of occupancy certify compliance with the Zoning Resolution and are binding and conclusive upon DOB as to all matters set forth therein—namely, that subdivision of the Original Parcel into two separate parcels that include partial tax lots complies with applicable zoning requirements—unless set aside, see New York City Charter § 645(3); and

WHEREAS, the Unimproved Parcel was merged in May 1987 with adjacent land parcels located at 162 Amsterdam Avenue, 170 Amsterdam Avenue and 200 West End Avenue, forming a larger parcel that was again enlarged in 2007 with land located at 200 Amsterdam Avenue to form a combined land parcel that included partial tax lots (the “Combined Land Parcel”); and

WHEREAS, DOB issued 170 Amsterdam Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 1987 reflecting the inclusion of partial tax lots and, after its rebuilding, issued a certificate of occupancy in 2018 during the pendency of this appeal; and

WHEREAS, DOB issued 200 West End Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 2011 reflecting the inclusion of partial tax lots; and

WHEREAS, DOB issued 180 Amsterdam Avenue a certificate of occupancy in 2017 reflecting the inclusion of partial tax lots; and

WHEREAS, 170 Amsterdam Avenue, 200 West End Avenue and 180 Amsterdam Avenue’s certificates of occupancy certify compliance with the Zoning Resolution and are binding and conclusive upon DOB as to all matters set forth therein—namely, that their parcels of land that include partial tax lots comply with applicable zoning requirements—unless set aside, see New York City Charter § 645(3); and

WHEREAS, in sum, DOB has issued 28 binding-and-conclusive certificates of occupancy to buildings on the subject block certifying that parcels of land that include partial tax lots comply with applicable zoning requirements; and

subdivided to form two separate land parcels, the first of which (occupied by 162 Amsterdam Avenue, 170 Amsterdam Avenue and 180 Amsterdam Avenue) was entitled “Zoning Lot 1” by the Declaration with Respect to Subdivision of Zoning Lot, City Register File No. 2015000209093, dated as of June 11, 2015 (the “Zoning Lot Declaration”); and

WHEREAS, the second land parcel, entitled “Zoning Lot 2” by the Zoning Lot Declaration, is the subject of this appeal: the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site is located on the west side of Amsterdam Avenue, between West 70th Street and West 66th Street, partially in an R8 (C2-5) zoning district and partially in an R8 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site has approximately 110,794 square feet of lot area, 153 feet of frontage along Amsterdam Avenue, 224 feet of frontage along West End Avenue, 100 feet of frontage along West 70th Street, 800 feet of depth and is improved with an existing 27-story building at 200 West End Avenue with work begun on the New Building at 200 Amsterdam Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site includes land within the tax-lot boundaries of 150 West End Avenue, 160 West End Avenue, 170 West End Avenue, 180 West End Avenue, 200 West End Avenue and 200 Amsterdam Avenue; and

WHEREAS, on September 27, 2017, DOB issued the Permit to allow construction of the New Building on the Development Site at 200 Amsterdam Avenue in accordance with the DOB-approved plans (the “Plans”), and Appellant commenced this appeal on October 27, 2017; and

WHEREAS, on September 7, 2018, the Board issued the original resolution for this appeal; and

WHEREAS, on March 14, 2019, in The Committee for Environmentally Sound Development v. Amsterdam Avenue Redevelopment Associates LLC, No. 153819/2018, the Supreme Court of the State of New York vacated the Board’s original resolution and remanded to the Board for further consideration; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 12-10 (italicized words in original to indicate defined terms) defines a “zoning lot” as follows:

A “zoning lot” is either:

- (a) a lot of record existing on December 15, 1961 or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto;
- (b) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more contiguous lots of record, located within a single block, which, on December 15, 1961 or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto, was in single ownership;
- (c) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet, located within a single block, which at the time of filing for a building permit (or, if no building permit is required, at the time of the filing for a certificate of occupancy) is under single fee ownership and with respect to which each party having any interest therein is a party in interest (as defined herein); or

- (d) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet, located within a single block, which at the time of filing for a building permit (or, if no building permit is required, at the time of filing for a certificate of occupancy) is declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one zoning lot for the purpose of this Resolution. Such declaration shall be made in one written Declaration of Restrictions covering all of such tract of land or in separate written Declarations of Restrictions covering parts of such tract of land and which in the aggregate cover the entire tract of land comprising the zoning lot. Any Declaration of Restrictions or Declarations of Restrictions which individually or collectively cover a tract of land are referred to herein as “Declarations”. Each Declaration shall be executed by each party in interest (as defined herein) in the portion of such tract of land covered by such Declaration (excepting any such party as shall have waived its right to execute such Declaration in a written instrument executed by such party in recordable form and recorded at or prior to the recording of the Declaration). Each Declaration and waiver of right to execute a Declaration shall be recorded in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register or, if applicable, the County Clerk’s Office of the county in which such tract of land is located, against each lot of record constituting a portion of the land covered by such Declaration.

A zoning lot, therefore, may or may not coincide with a lot as shown on the official tax map of the City of New York, or on any recorded subdivision plat or deed.

Parcels within City-owned tracts of land located in Broad Channel within the boundaries of Community Board 14 in the Borough of Queens that were numerically identified for leasing purposes on maps filed in the Office of Borough President prior to December 15, 1961, may be considered as individual lots of record as of September 10, 1981.

- (e) For purposes of the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof:
- (1) Prior to issuing a building permit or a certificate of occupancy, as the case may be, the Department of Buildings shall be furnished with a certificate issued to the applicant therefor by a title insurance company licensed to do business in the State of New York showing that each party having any interest in the subject tract of land is a party in interest (as defined herein); except that where the City of New York is a fee owner, such certificate may be issued by the New York City Law Department; and

- (2) A “party in interest” in the tract of land shall include only (W) the fee owner thereof, (X) the holder of any enforceable recorded interest superior to that of the fee owner and which could result in such holder obtaining possession of all or substantially all of such tract of land, (Y) the holder of any enforceable recorded interest in all or substantially all of such tract of land which would be adversely affected by the development thereof and (Z) the holder of any unrecorded interest in all or substantially all of such tract of land which would be superior to and adversely affected by the development thereof and which would be disclosed by a physical inspection of the tract of land.
- (f) For purposes of the provisions of paragraph (d) hereof:
- (1) Prior to issuing a building permit or a certificate of occupancy, as the case may be, the Department of Buildings shall be furnished with a certificate issued to the applicant therefor by a title insurance company licensed to do business in the State of New York showing that each party in interest (excepting those parties waiving their respective rights to join therein, as set forth in this definition) has executed the Declaration and that the same, as well as each such waiver, have been duly recorded; except that where the City of New York is a fee owner, such certificate may be issued by the New York City Law Department;
- (2) The Buildings Department, in issuing a building permit for construction of a building or other structure on the zoning lot declared pursuant to paragraph (d) above or, if no building permit is required, in issuing a certificate of occupancy for such building or other structure, shall accept an application for same from and, if all conditions for issuance of same are fulfilled, shall issue same to any party to the Declaration;

- (3) By their execution and recording of a Declaration, the parties to the Declaration, and all parties who have waived their respective rights to execute such Declaration, shall be deemed to have agreed that no breach by any party to the Declaration, or any agreement ancillary thereto, shall have any effect on the treatment of the tract of land covered by the Declaration as one zoning lot for purposes of this Resolution and such tract of land shall be treated as one zoning lot unless such zoning lot is subdivided in accordance with the provisions of this Resolution; and

- (4) A “party in interest” in the portion of the tract of land covered by a Declaration shall include only (W) the fee owner or owners thereof, (X) the holder of any enforceable recorded interest in all or part thereof which would be superior to the Declaration and which could result in such holder obtaining possession of any portion of such tract of land, (Y) the holder of any enforceable recorded interest in all or part thereof which would be adversely affected by the Declaration, and (Z) the holder of any unrecorded interest in all or part thereof which would be superior to and adversely affected by the Declaration and which would be disclosed by a physical inspection of the portion of the tract of land covered by the Declaration.

A zoning lot may be subdivided into two or more zoning lots, provided that all resulting zoning lots and all buildings thereon shall comply with all of the applicable provisions of this Resolution. If such zoning lot, however, is occupied by a non-complying building, such zoning lot may be subdivided provided such subdivision does not create a new non-compliance or increase the degree of non-compliance of such building.

Where ownership of a zoning lot or portion thereof was effected prior to the effective date of this amendment, as evidenced by an attorney’s affidavit, any development, enlargement or alteration on such zoning lot may be based upon such prior effected ownership as then defined in the zoning lot definition of Section 12-10. Such prior leasehold agreements shall be duly recorded prior to August 1, 1978.

Prior to the issuance of any permit for a development or enlargement pursuant to this Resolution a complete metes and bounds of the zoning lot, the tax lot number, the block number and the ownership of the zoning lot as set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) herein shall be recorded by the applicant in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register (or, if applicable, the County Clerk’s Office) of the county in which the said zoning lot is located. The zoning lot definition in effect prior to the effective date of this amendment shall continue to apply to Board of Standards and Appeals approvals in effect at the effective date hereof; and

“Open space” is that part of a zoning lot, including courts or yards, which is open and unobstructed from its lowest level to the sky and is accessible to and usable by all persons occupying a dwelling unit or a rooming unit on the zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 25-64 provides, in relevant part: Restrictions on the use of open space for parking and driveways are set forth in this Section, in accordance with the provisions of Section 23-12 (Permitted Obstructions in Open Space). . . .

- (c) In R6, R7, R8, R9 and R10 Districts without a letter suffix, driveways, private streets, open accessory off-street parking spaces, unenclosed accessory bicycle parking spaces or open accessory off-street loading berths may not use more than 50 percent of the required open space on any zoning lot. The provisions of this paragraph, (c), shall not apply to Quality Housing buildings; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 23-12 states, in relevant part: In the districts indicated, the following obstructions shall be permitted in any open space required on a zoning lot:

- (e) Driveways, private streets, open accessory off-street parking spaces, unenclosed accessory bicycle parking spaces or open accessory off-street loading berths, provided that the total area occupied by all these items does not exceed the percentages set forth in Section 25-64 (Restrictions on Use of Open Space for Parking); and

ISSUES PRESENTED

WHEREAS, there are two issues¹ in this appeal: (i)

1 Appellant also requests revocation of the Permit; however, Appellant has not presented the Board with a timely, signed final determination from DOB refusing to revoke the Permit as required by the Board’s Rules of Practice and Procedure. See 2 Rules of the City of New York (“RCNY”) § 1-06.3(a). Furthermore, as discussed herein, Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Permit violates any applicable provision of law, so the Board need not—and does not—whether the Development Site complies with the Zoning Resolution's "zoning lot" definition and (ii) whether ground-level open areas on the Development Site comply with the Zoning Resolution's "open space" requirements; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that this appeal should be granted because the Development Site does not comply with the requirements of the "zoning lot" definition of ZR § 12-10 and because the ground-level open areas on the Development Site do not meet the "open space" definition and applicable zoning requirements under ZR §§ 12-10, 25-64 and 23-12; and

I. ZONING LOT

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the Development Site does not comply with the "zoning lot" definition because it does not consist of lots of record, meaning entire tax lots as shown on the official tax map of the City of New York; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that paragraph (d) of the "zoning lot" definition requires that the lots to be merged by declaration into a single zoning lot must be "lots of record" and that "lot," "of record" and "lot of record" are undefined by the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that "lot of record" in subdivision (a) of the "zoning lot" definition means "a lot as shown on the official tax map" and that lots shown on the tax map are entire tax lots, the dimensions of which generally correspond with deeds of ownership recorded in the City Register's Office; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that "of record" in subdivisions (b), (c) and (d) has the same meaning: tax lots shown on the official tax map; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the Development Site does not consist of a series of tax lots, but of disparate, isolated bits and pieces of tax lots strung together with narrow threads made up of other bits and pieces of lots; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that portions of the various tax lots that make up the Development Site are not, themselves, "lots," as the term is used in the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the parts of the tax lots were also not "of record" prior to the creation of the Development Site and that, for something to be "of record," it must be recorded; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that 609 Bayside Drive, Queens, BSA Cal. No. 229-06-A (Jan. 13, 2009), identified by the Owner as supporting the Owner's position, is distinguishable from the Development Site because Breezy Point's lots were unique, were established prior to December 15, 1961, and does not stand for the proposition that a partial tax lot is a lot of record; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that, for two or more lots to be declared a zoning lot, they must be contiguous for a minimum of 10 linear feet and they must be "lots of record" consider revocation of the Permit in this appeal.

pursuant to paragraph (d) of the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the Development Site does not consist of "two or more lots of record" because the phrase "two or more" necessarily indicates that fractions of tax lots are not permitted under paragraph (d) of the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that, because the Development Site is not composed of entire tax lots, it does not meet paragraph (d) of the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the Development Site is also not an "unsubdivided" "tract of land" because an unsubdivided tract of land is a single lot of record, meaning a single tax lot; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the Department of City Planning's Zoning Handbook translates "a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record . . . within a single block" from the Zoning Resolution into "plain English" as "a tract of land comprising a single tax lot or two or more adjacent tax lots within a block"²; and

WHEREAS, Appellant concludes, therefore, that an "unsubdivided tract of land" is equivalent to a single lot of record, which is equivalent to a single tax lot; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the passing reference to "parts of tax lots" in a DOB Memorandum issued by Irving E. Minkin, P.E., Acting Commissioner, dated May 18, 1978 (the "Minkin Memorandum"), entered into the record by the Owner in this appeal, is unavailing because elsewhere it references "Tax Lot(s)" and states "as shown on the Tax Map of the City of New York"; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the phrase "parts of tax lots" does not appear in the "zoning lot" definition or anywhere else in the Zoning Resolution and that such language cannot be imported into the text by interpretation; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellant states that, because the Development Site includes parts of tax lots, it is neither an "unsubdivided" "tract of land" nor does it "consist[] of two or more lots of record" and, accordingly, does not meet paragraph (d) of the "zoning lot" definition; and

II. OPEN SPACE

WHEREAS, Appellant states that ground-level open areas on the Development Site do not meet the "open space" definition and do not comply with zoning regulations for permitted obstructions; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the "odd bits, pieces and strips of open space” do not meet the “open space” definition because said areas are not “accessible to and usable by” residents of the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that ZR § 23-151 only provides for the quantity—not quality—of open space but that the ground-level open areas are not “usable” in any meaningful sense as the word is used in the “open space” definition, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that ZR § 78-52 gives indication of the intended use and purpose of required unobstructed open space by requiring that, in large-scale residential developments, “common open space” “shall include both active and passive recreation space providing a range of recreational facilities and activities” and “be landscaped”; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that parking spaces³ and driveways that exist on the Development Site “may be presumed” to be accessory parking for occupants of residential buildings located on the same block but not within the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that, because the existing parking spaces are accessory to and used by persons occupying dwelling units off the Development Site, said parking spaces cannot also be used by persons occupying dwelling units on the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that, although generally driveways and open accessory parking spaces are permitted obstructions in required open space under ZR §§ 23-12 and 25-64, portions of the driveways and parking spaces located on the Development Site are actually accessory to residential buildings off the Development Site, contrary to the “accessory use” definition in ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellant states that the Development Site’s ground-level open areas do not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” requirements; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that this appeal should be denied because the Development Site meets DOB’s currently-in-effect “historical interpretation” of the “zoning lot” definition of ZR § 12-10 and because the ground-level open areas on the Development Site meet the “open space” definition and applicable zoning requirements of ZR §§ 12-10, 25-64 and 23-12; and ³ Appellant also states that the existing parking spaces are not a joint facility under ZR § 25-52 that would be a permitted obstruction under ZR § 23-12. DOB states that the Plans neither reflect that accessory parking spaces are to be provided for the New Building nor propose or show existing open parking spaces on the Development Site. The Owner states that it is exploring the establishment of a joint parking facility in the rear yard area. However, the Board is only considering the issues presented as they pertain to construction authorized by the Permit pursuant to the Plans approved for the New Building, which do not propose a joint facility.

A. “Historical Interpretation”

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Development Site complies with DOB’s currently-in-effect “historical interpretation” of paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition because it complies with the Minkin Memorandum; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Minkin Memorandum is currently applicable to construction applications and that the Minkin Memorandum reflects a “longstanding, plausible, and consistent” interpretation of the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Minkin Memorandum summarizes the applicability of 1977 zoning amendments, which added paragraph (d) to the “zoning lot” definition, regarding what constitutes a zoning lot, and notes that the Minkin Memorandum states that “a single zoning lot, which may consist of one or more tax lots or parts of tax lots”; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that this interpretation that a zoning lot may consist of parts of tax lots is supported by the “zoning lot” definition of ZR § 12-10, which states that a zoning lot “may or may not coincide with a lot as shown on the official tax map of the City of New York”; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, since a zoning lot has not historically needed to coincide with a tax map, it seems that tax lots could be bifurcated by zoning lot lines; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that, while Appellant’s proffered interpretation that zoning lots cannot include partial tax lots promotes clarity and transparency, the Development Site complies with DOB’s currently-in-effect “historical interpretation” of paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition; and

B. “Current Interpretation”

WHEREAS, after issuance of the Permit and during the pendency of this appeal, DOB also declares that its 40-year-in-effect “historical interpretation” of the “zoning lot” definition—pursuant to which an untold number⁴ of permits and certificates of occupancy have been issued—is purportedly “incorrect”; and

WHEREAS, however, Appellant explicitly asserts that the Board should not consider DOB’s draft Buildings Bulletin on zoning lots or, more significantly, DOB’s “current interpretation” in this appeal:

[T]he DOB draft bulletin is not now before the Board. . . . If and when the bulletin is adopted and appeal is brought before it, the Board may then—and only then—consider DOB’s interpretation that zoning lots must consist of entire tax lots (emphasis added); and

WHEREAS, at no point in this appeal did DOB void or supersede any of its submissions to withdraw its above position on the validity of its “historical interpretation”; and

WHEREAS, in contrast to DOB’s statements and positions throughout this appeal, the Minkin Memorandum was issued contemporaneously with the 1977 amendment to the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, this closeness in time indicates the individuals drafting and reviewing the Minkin Memorandum had firsthand knowledge of the context surrounding the 1977 amendment to the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, additionally, throughout this appeal, DOB has expressed a significant amount of uncertainty as to whether it will proceed with releasing this allegedly corrected “current interpretation” through a draft Buildings Bulletin⁵; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board discussed and heard extensive testimony about the draft Buildings Bulletin; one commissioner noted that the draft Buildings Bulletin was “a very important point by DOB,” but another commissioner noted that the record did not make it “certain that they will change their position on” their interpretation of the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, in response to concerns expressed by the Board’s commissioners about whether it was certain to go forward, DOB declined—on numerous occasions—to give a clear response, instead describing the draft Buildings Bulletin as “out there and as a draft” and “a potential interpretation” DOB “is considering”; and

WHEREAS, the Board also heard testimony about “DOB’s practice to prepare draft bulletins to get comments internally” or to solicit “limited external review”; and

WHEREAS, notably, the Board’s commissioners heard and considered testimony that the draft Buildings Bulletin “may not see the light of day”; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, DOB’s general counsel noted that the “current interpretation,” wherein zoning lots would have to align with tax-lot boundaries, would be a “fairly significant change” because, among other things, “since 1978, that has not been [DOB’s] position”; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding the likelihood (or unlikelihood) of the issuance of the draft Buildings Bulletin, DOB states that the Minkin Memorandum is an erroneous interpretation of the “zoning lot” definition and that, because of a need to clarify the requirements for forming zoning lots, DOB is in the process of writing a Buildings Bulletin to set forth the administrative procedures and forms required to create and verify the formation of a zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, under its purportedly corrected “current interpretation,” the Minkin Memorandum is erroneous because the “zoning lot” definition indicates that zoning lots cannot consist of partial tax lots, because partial tax lots cannot be lots “of record,” because the evidence previously relied upon by DOB (that zoning lots can consist of partial tax lots) is erroneous and because interpreting zoning lots to only allow tax lots in the entirety makes for good public policy by promoting clarity and transparency; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that “lots of record” refer only to complete tax lots because a Declaration of Restrictions must be recorded “against each lot of record constituting a portion of the land covered by such Declaration” under paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that complete tax lots are the only types of lots that a Declaration can be recorded “against”; and

WHEREAS, DOB has furnished no evidence to substantiate this proposition; and

WHEREAS, instead DOB relies on its own bare assertion that a lot of record “must” only be a complete tax lot—rather than a recorded parcel; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the 1961 “zoning lot” definition did permit zoning lots to contain partial tax lots, though the 1977 amendment added a requirement that zoning lots may only contain entire tax lots; that this explains the Minkin Memorandum’s error; that the term “unsubdivided” refers to a single tax lot and that the “may or may not coincide” language reflects that a zoning lot may consist of two or more complete tax lots; and

WHEREAS, despite the foregoing, the Board’s commissioners considered DOB’s uncertainty about the draft Buildings Bulletin’s “see[ing] the light of day” in conjunction with DOB’s clear statements that it seeks to have the Board uphold the Permit as indication that DOB’s actual position in this appeal is that the Development Site complies with the currently-in-effect “historical interpretation” of paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition and the Minkin Memorandum because, otherwise, DOB would be taking the unlawful position that the Board should uphold an invalid permit that was issued contrary to the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, insofar as DOB has represented throughout this appeal that the Permit does not comply with the “zoning lot” definition under DOB’s purportedly corrected “current interpretation,” it is unclear by what authority DOB could issue illegal building permits that purport to authorize construction contrary to law, cf. N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 28-105.8 (“The issuance or granting of a permit shall not be construed to be a permit for, or an approval of, any violation of any of the provisions of this code or of any other law or rule. Permits presuming to give authority to violate or cancel the provisions of this code or other law or rule shall not be valid.”); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellant has advised the Board against considering DOB’s draft Buildings Bulletin or its “current interpretation,” and throughout this appeal, DOB has argued inconsistently that a zoning lot may include parts of tax lots (under DOB’s “historical interpretation”) but also that a zoning lot may not include parts of parts of tax lots (under DOB’s purportedly corrected “current interpretation”), and the Board has considered both

WHEREAS, DOB states that, according to the Plans, the Development Site provides the required 77,643 square feet of open space for residents of the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that ground-level open areas comply with the “open space” definition of ZR § 12-10 because they will be “accessible to and usable by” residents of the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, contrary to Appellant’s analogy to the “common open space” provision of ZR § 78-52, which requires “active and passive recreation space” for large-scale residential developments, the general “open space” definition, which is applicable to the Development Site, contains no such requirement; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Appellant’s analogies to ZR §§ 136-324 and 141-33 similarly fail because they contain specific requirements for “publicly accessible” open space and for “special” open space, which are distinct from the general definition of “open space”; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that driveways are permitted obstructions in required open space under ZR §§ 23-12 and 25-64; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that ZR § 25-64 adds the limitation that driveways and other specified permitted obstructions “may not use more than 50 percent” of the open space required; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the Plans indicate that the Development Site’s open space contains 12.6 percent permitted obstructions, which is less than the 50 percent maximum; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Appellant would add the word “accessory” before word “driveways” in ZR §§ 23-12 and 25-64 but that neither provision states “accessory driveways,” while providing that other obstructions (bicycle parking spaces, off-street loading berths and open off-street parking spaces) must be accessory, suggesting that driveways need not be “accessory” to qualify as permitted obstructions under ZR §§ 23-12 and 25-64; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, according to the Plans, no accessory parking spaces are proposed for the New Building and that, to the extent parking spaces would be proposed in the rear yard of the New Building, the Plans would need to be revised to reflect their existence with their legality to be demonstrated by the Owner; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at the first hearing regarding whether non-compliance with “open space” provisions would render the Permit invalid, DOB states that open space requirements must be satisfied at the time of permit issuance and during the final inspection prior to the issuance of a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at the second hearing regarding the status of the parking, DOB states that the parking in the Development Site’s open space is lawful permitted parking accessory to 170 West End Avenue because the 26 parking spaces located on the Development Site were lawfully established prior to 1961 as accessory parking spaces serving 170 West End Avenue; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB states that the Development Site’s ground-level open areas comply with applicable “open space” requirements of ZR §§ 12-10, 25-64 and 23-12; and

OWNER’S POSITION

WHEREAS, the Owner states that this appeal should be denied because the Development Site, which includes parts of tax lots, meets the “zoning lot” definition of ZR § 12-10 and because ground-level open areas on the Development Site meet the “open space” definition and applicable zoning requirements of ZR §§ 12-10, 25-64 and 23-12; and

I. ZONING LOT

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the Development Site complies with paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition because it is an unsubdivided tract of land that was “declared to be a tract of land to be treated as” a single zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that a “lot of record” may be something other than a tax lot and that a zoning lot may be an unsubdivided portion of land that does not correspond to lots of record; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the City’s first zoning regulations, the Building Zone Resolution (1916), as amended through 1960, originally defined “lot” as synonymous with a development plot—any plot of land that could or would be developed—and subsequently clarified its definition to be “a parcel or plot of ground which is or may be occupied by a building and accessory buildings including the open spaces required by this resolution”; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the reports Plan for Rezoning the City of New York (Oct. 1950) by Harrison, Ballard & Allen and Zoning New York City: A Proposal for a Zoning Resolution for the City of New York Submitted to the City Planning Commission (Aug. 1958) by Voorhees Walker Smith & Smith evince a clear distinction between zoning lots and tax lots intended to allow real-estate developers wide latitude and flexibility in distributing bulk across a parcel of land, delineated from surrounding parcels by the boundaries of a zoning lot, not a tax lot; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the comprehensive amendment to the Zoning Resolution (1961) codifies this flexibility while protecting the lawful status of existing buildings and of tracts of land that would be rendered non-complying by implementation of this comprehensive amendment; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, in 609 Bayside Drive, Queens, BSA Cal. No. 229-06-A (Jan. 13, 2009), as upheld in Golia v. Srinivasan, 95 A.D.3d 628, 630 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012), treatment by DOB and by the Board of a plot of land in the Breezy Point Cooperative as a separate zoning lot distinct from the cooperative’s larger, single tax lot indicates that a partial tax lot can be a “lot of record” as referenced in the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, as added in 1977, paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition allows for the complex assemblage of contiguous parcels of land to be declared a single zoning lot and does not contain any requirement that said parcels correspond to entire tax lots; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, as used in the “zoning lot” definition, an “unsubdivided” tract of land refers to something other than a single lot of record and something other than two or more lots of record; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that there are few, but scant, instances where the Zoning Resolution uses the term “tax lot” and that these references generally refer to recording requirements or perform a tracking function associated with (E) designations’ environmental restrictions; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the Minkin Memorandum indicates that a “single zoning lot . . . may consist of one or more tax lots or parts of tax lots” and that “boundaries of such zoning lot may or may not coincide with its comprising tax lots”; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that tax lots and zoning lots serve different purposes: tax lots are established to identify owners to whom tax bills may be sent and zoning lots are delineated for applying zoning regulations to a parcel of land; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at the first hearing regarding the meaning of “lot of record,” the Owner states that the more reasonable meaning of “lot of record” is either its historic and common meaning as a lot that, if located within the City of New York, has been recorded in the office of the City Register or as a lot shown on DOB’s records as available for development or already developed; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that a memorandum issued by Department of City Planning Counsel William Valletta (Dec. 28, 1987) (the “Valletta Memorandum”) shows that “lot of record” does not equate to “tax lot” and that a zoning lot may contain a partial tax lot because it takes care to use general expressions such as “constituent parts of a zoning lot” and “the lot or its other constituent” when describing a lot of record, suggesting that tax lots are not the sole unit of measurement; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at the second hearing regarding whether paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition allows for parts of “lots of record,” the Owner states that a zoning lot may be composed of both whole and partial “lots of record,” even assuming that “lot of record” means a tax lot as used in paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition because an “unsubdivided” “tract of land” can include a single whole “lot of record” or a combination of whole and partial “lots of record”; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Owner concludes that the Development Site complies with paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the Development Site provides the required amount of open space because, as approved by DOB, the Development Site must provide a minimum of 77,642 square feet of open space, that 86,972 square feet of open space is provided by ground-level open areas and that the ground-level open areas comply with the “open space” definition of ZR § 12-10 because they will be “accessible to and usable by” residents of the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, the Owner refers to a private agreement between all parties in interest on the Development Site, which states that “all owners and permitted occupants of any buildings within the Combined Zoning Lot, a non-exclusive right of access to the Vacant Land Parcel, but only to the extent necessary for the Vacant Land Parcel to constitute ‘open space’ under the Zoning Resolution,” as evidence that occupants of the Development Site are assured access; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the ground-level open areas are usable, that ZR § 78-52, cited by Appellant, has no applicability to the Development Site since this provision only applies to large-scale residential developments and that there is no minimum dimension requirement applicable to the Development Site’s open space; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that 16,157 square feet of the Development Site classified as open space (18.58 percent) is obstructed by driveways, which complies with the 50 percent maximum permitted by ZR §§ 25-64 and 23-12; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that there are no open accessory off-street parking spaces obstructing the Development Site’s open space and that eliminating the disputed parking area (approximately 6,623 square feet) from the open space calculations would not reduce the Development Site’s open space below the 77,642 square feet required; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Owner states that ground-level open areas meet the “open space” definition of ZR § 12-10 and that obstructions within the Development Site’s open space are permitted under ZR §§ 25-64 and 23-12; and

WHEREAS, because this is an appeal for interpretation, pursuant to ZR § 72-11, the Board “may make such . . . determination as in its opinion should have been made in the premises in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of” the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed and considered—but need not follow—DOB’s interpretation of the Zoning Resolution in rendering the Board’s own decision in this appeal, and the standard of review in this appeal is de novo; and

WHEREAS, however, a majority of the Board finds that Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Development Site does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “zoning lot” definition, and the Board unanimously finds that Appellant has failed to demonstrate that ground-level open areas on the Development Site do not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” requirements; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board⁶ finds that the Development Site meets paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition based upon the record in this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution sets forth varied purposes, from “regulating the density of population” to “provid[ing] freedom of architectural design, in order to encourage the development of more attractive and economic building forms,” “promot[ing] the most desirable use of land and direction of building development in accord with a well-considered plan,” “promot[ing] stability of residential development,” and “conserv[ing] the value of land and buildings,” see ZR § 21-00; and

WHEREAS, by structuring the “zoning lot” definition with paragraphs (a)–(d) connected by “either . . . or,” the Zoning Resolution affords substantial flexibility in defining and redefining the boundaries a “zoning lot” and specifically allows that “[a] zoning lot may be subdivided into two or more zoning lots,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, here, strictly applying and interpreting the “zoning lot” definition turns on whether the Development Site meets paragraph (d); and

WHEREAS, at the outset, the text of paragraph (d) states in part that a zoning lot is “a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record”; and

WHEREAS, in other words, paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition requires only that a zoning lot be an “unsubdivided” “tract of land” or a “tract of land” “consisting of two or more lots of record”; and

WHEREAS, this text provides neither definitions of the terms “tract of land,” “unsubdivided” or “lots of record” nor reference to “tax lots”; and

WHEREAS, as surface land, the Development Site is “land,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, as discussed herein, a majority of the Board concludes that—based upon the record in this appeal—the Development Site is a “tract of land” that is “either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record” for the purposes of the Zoning Resolution when considering the text with regard to the following: (a) the location and demarcation of the land in question; (b) the purposes of delineating the land in question; (c) the assemblage and constituents of the land in question; (d) the evidence in the record; and (e) the position presented by a minority of the Board; and

A. Location and Demarcation

WHEREAS, the following pertinent part of the “zoning lot” definition relates to the location and demarcation of the land in question:

A “zoning lot” is . . . (d) a tract of land . . . located within a single block, which at the time of filing for a building permit . . . is declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one zoning lot for the purpose of this Resolution . . . Each Declaration . . . shall be recorded in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register . . . against each lot of record constituting a portion of the land covered by such Declaration. . . .

[A] complete metes and bounds of the zoning lot, the tax lot number, the block number and the ownership of the zoning lot as set forth in paragraph[] . . . (d) herein shall be recorded by the applicant in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register [(underlined emphasis added)]; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site is “land” “located within a single block,”⁷ ZR § 12-10, bounded by Amsterdam Avenue, West 66th Street, West End Avenue and West 70th Street, as illustrated on Zoning Map 8c,8 which map is incorporated into the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site has been “declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one zoning lot for the purpose of this Resolution,” ZR § 12-10, as evidenced by the Zoning Lot Declaration; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Lot Declaration contains a metes and bounds description of the Development Site, referred to therein as Zoning Lot 2, in Exhibit I:

Description of Zoning Lot 2

All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate, lying and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, Bounded and Described as follows:

⁶ As indicated by the Board’s vote and as discussed further herein, a minority of the Board finds that Appellant has shown that the Development Site does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “zoning lot” definition. (It is undisputed that the Development Site does not comply with paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) of the “zoning lot” definition.)

WHEREAS, contrary to assertions made by Appellant and DOB, it is clear from the record in this appeal that the Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement may be recorded against “Partial [Tax] Lot[s]” in light of the Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement’s Recording and Endorsement Cover Page and continuation pages; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, as set forth in the Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement, there is a single legal description with dimensions set forth in “metes and bounds” for the Development Site, which description has been recorded in the Office of the City Register, ZR § 12-10 (final paragraph of “zoning lot” definition); and

B. Purposes of Delineation

WHEREAS, turning again to ZR § 12-10, the following text pertains to the purposes of delineating the land in question:

A “zoning lot” is . . . (d) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet . . . , which . . . is declared to be a tract of land to be treated as one zoning lot for the purpose of this Resolution.

A zoning lot, therefore, may or may not coincide with a lot as shown on the official tax map of the City of New York, or on any recorded subdivision plat or deed [(underlined emphasis added)]; and

WHEREAS, as one specifically delineated land parcel, described by metes and bounds, the Development Site is “a” single “tract of land,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, no categorical rule appears in the provisions of the Zoning Resolution that a “tract of land” need be a complete tax lot; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Lot Description and Ownership Statement indicates that the Development Site is a land assemblage involving multiple owners and multiple tax lot numbers; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Lot Declaration indicates that, as a whole, the Development Site is “to be treated as one zoning lot for the purpose of” the Zoning Resolution, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Lot Declaration indicates that the Development Site has been subdivided from the Combined Land Parcel⁹ but, as a result of said subdivision,¹⁰ the Development Site in and of itself constitutes a single, unified tract of land; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution expressly provides that a zoning lot “may not”—and, in fact, the Development Site does not—“coincide” with a lot shown on the City’s tax map, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the record in this appeal indicates that the phrase “may not coincide with a lot as shown on the official tax map” does not refer only to tax-lot boundaries traversing the interior of a zoning lot comprised of two or more complete, abutting tax lots sharing tax-lot boundaries, and there is affirmative evidence—including DOB-issued certificates of occupancy indicating that other parcels located on the subject block that include partial tax lots comply with applicable zoning regulations—that a zoning lot’s perimeter “may not coincide” with tax-lot boundaries in accordance with the plain meaning of that phrase, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the record in this appeal—including the Valletta Memorandum, which describes zoning lots as the basis for the application of the bulk provisions of the Zoning Resolution, and the Department of City Planning’s A Survey of Transferable Development Rights Mechanisms in New York City (Feb. 26, 2015), which describes tax-lot boundaries as unrelated to any land-use purpose—also indicates that the Zoning Resolution and the City’s tax map serve different purposes and that “not coincid[ing]” with tax-lot boundaries does not prevent a tract of land from complying with paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition or other applicable zoning regulations, which are based on the size, location and orientation of a “zoning lot,” not its constituent tax lots; and

C. Assemblage and Constituents

WHEREAS, with respect to ZR § 12-10, the following part of the “zoning lot” definition relates to the assemblage and constituents of the land in question:

A “zoning lot” is . . . (d) a tract of land, either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet [(underlined emphasis added)]; and

WHEREAS, because of the either-or construction the text employs, the Development Site need only be one of the following: “unsubdivided” or “consisting of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of ten linear feet,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, Appellant would urge these to be mutually exclusive categories; and

WHEREAS, reading the entirety of the “zoning lot” definition, it is clear that its paragraphs may overlap: a paragraph (a) “lot of record” that existed in 1961 may also thereon shall comply with all of the applicable provisions of” the Zoning Resolution, nothing in the record indicates that the zoning-lot subdivision evinced by the Zoning Lot Declaration contravened any applicable zoning provision. Insofar as Appellant alleges such non-compliance with respect to applicable “open space” regulations, as discussed herein, the Board finds no merit in this contention.

⁹ The Board expresses no opinion as to the Combined Land Parcel or other tracts of land that are not before the Board in this appeal.

¹⁰ Consistent with the “zoning lot” definition, which states that zoning lots “may be subdivided into two or more zoning lots, provided that all resulting zoning lots and all buildings today be a paragraph (c) unsubdivided tract of land; and

WHEREAS, similarly overlapping, tax lots may—in some instances—be “lots of record” under the “zoning lot” definition,¹¹ ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, however, it does not follow that all “lots of record” are complete tax lots or that only complete tax lots are “lots of record,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, the “zoning lot” definition specifically refers to different types of lots: “a lot as shown on the official tax map,” “a lot as shown . . . on any recorded subdivision plat,” “a lot as shown . . . on any recorded . . . deed,” “[p]arcels . . . that were numerically identified for leasing purposes on maps filed in the Office of the Borough President” and a “tax lot”; and

WHEREAS, for a lot to be considered “of record” under the Zoning Resolution, it must have been “legally recorded,” City Planning Commission Report No. N 810406 ZRQ (August 12, 1981)¹²; and

WHEREAS, it is undisputed in this appeal that complete tax lots are “legally recorded” lots, id.; and

WHEREAS, were complete tax lots the only lots considered by the Zoning Resolution to be “lots of record,” ZR § 12-10, it would be wholly unnecessary for the Zoning Resolution to further refer to lots “on any recorded subdivision plat or deed”; and

WHEREAS, Appellant’s complete-tax-lots-only interpretation of the phrase “lots of record” would render the Zoning Resolution’s specific statement about lots “on any recorded subdivision plat or deed” wholly redundant because the only “lots of record” would be the previously described “lot as shown on the official tax map”; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, for the phrase “recorded subdivision plat[s] or deed[s]” to have any meaning, “lots of record” must be an umbrella category in which complete tax lots are included, though not to the exclusion of other recorded lots; and

WHEREAS, Appellant urges that an “unsubdivided” “tract of land” must be a single “lot of record”—essentially a legally recorded lot; and

WHEREAS, “unsubdivided” is not defined and is subject to several interpretations, including but not limited to Appellant’s assertion that “unsubdivided” means that a tract of land has never been subdivided on the tax map of the City of New York; and

WHEREAS, the use of the term “unsubdivided” may also refer to situations where the boundaries of a tract of land are merged for zoning purposes with those of an adjacent parcel, thereby creating a single land assemblage aggregated for development purposes with a single metes and bounds description; and

WHEREAS, even assuming that an “unsubdivided” “tract of land” means a single “lot of record,” the Development Site is itself a single lot of record and accordingly meets Appellant’s proffered interpretation of an “unsubdivided” “tract of land”; and

WHEREAS, it is undisputed in this appeal and the record reflects that the Development Site has a single metes and bounds description set forth in a plethora of recorded documents provided by Appellant; and

WHEREAS, it is also undisputed in this appeal and the record further reflects that the Development Site is a single lot shown on a number of maps recorded in the Office of the City Register provided by Appellant; and

WHEREAS, various recorded documents in the record—including the Zoning Lot Declaration and legal instruments—indicate that the Development Site in and of itself constitutes, in the aggregate, a single tract of land with multiple owners and parties in interest, which tract is ultimately described around its perimeter by metes and bounds as one specifically delineated, unified land parcel; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Zoning Lot Declaration declares, in satisfaction of paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition, that the Development Site is treated as one zoning lot for the purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Development Site is “unsubdivided” for zoning purposes, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, it is undisputed in this appeal that the Development Site is described or shown on a number of documents and maps recorded in the Office of the City Register as “consisting of two or more” legally recorded lots; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Development Site does not “consist[] of two or more lots of record contiguous for a minimum of 10 linear feet,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, based on the record in this appeal and consistent with paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition, as a single land assemblage aggregated for the purpose of developing the New Building in compliance with the Zoning Resolution, the Development Site is itself—for the purposes of the Zoning Resolution—“either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, considering all of the evidence in the record, the interpretation herein is consistent with the City’s longstanding administration of zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, the discussion herein is consistent with the Board’s own prior precedent in 609 Bayside Drive, Queens, BSA Cal. No. 229-06-A (Jan. 13, 2009), as upheld in Golia v. Srinivasan, 95 A.D.3d 628, 630 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012), insofar as an “unsubdivided” “tract of land” is not necessarily governed by tax-lot boundaries and may refer to

WHEREAS, City Planning Commission Report No. N 0760226 ZRY (July 13, 1977) (the “CPC Report”), filed in connection with the text amendment that introduced paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition, states: “[W]here two or more adjacent properties have a property interest, they shall jointly declare and record their parcels as a single zoning lot for development purposes”; and

WHEREAS, CPC Report continues:

[A] single zoning lot can be created from adjacent, differently held parcels through the filing and recording of a declaration of single zoning lot status executed by all parties having a defined interest in the parcels in question, such recording of a declaration of single zoning lot status executed by all parties having a defined interest in the parcels in question, such recording to be against each tax lot constituting a portion of the land covered by such declaration and to be in the Office of the City Register. . . . The declaration would declare the several parcels to be one zoning lot, and this zoning lot would remain integral, notwithstanding any party’s breach of a provision of the declaration or any agreement ancillary thereto, until such time as the zoning lot is subdivided in accordance with existing zoning lot subdivision rules. These rules preclude any subdivision’s creating-noncompliance with any applicable provisions of the zoning. The recorded declaration will put all persons on notice that the several parcels in question have been constituted as one zoning lot (the recording of the declaration will eliminate the current problem of not being able to determine from the public record whether a building has been built in part on the basis of development rights applicable to land on which the building is not physically located). The amendment as proposed thus protects the City’s interest in avoiding overbuilding, and provides private parties with certainty based on which they can protect their own interest. When a declared zoning lot has to be subdivided creating potential non-compliance, it is necessary to record a restrictive declaration constituting an enforceable covenant running with the land in perpetuity restricting all properties within each newly subdivided portion in accordance with the terms and agreement as originally set forth in the declared zoning lot [(emphasis added)]; and

WHEREAS, consistent with the CPC Report, the Development Site contains adjacent “parcels” that have been “jointly declare[d] and record[ed] . . . as a single zoning lot for development purposes,” id.; and

WHEREAS, by being recorded, the Zoning Lot Declaration “put[s] all persons on notice that the several parcels in question have been constituted as one zoning lot,” id.; and

WHEREAS, the Minkin Memorandum—while not conclusive insofar as the interpretation memorialized therein could conflict with the Zoning Resolution and insofar as the standard of review in this appeal is de novo—states that “a single zoning lot . . . may consist of one or more tax lots or parts of tax lots,” and a majority of the Board credits this interpretation as being consistent with the “zoning lot” definition, as discussed herein; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board does not credit Appellant or DOB’s dismissal of the Minkin Memorandum as setting forth an “incorrect” interpretation, rather than an alternative interpretation equally supported by a plain reading of the text, because, as discussed above, the Development Site does consist of parts of tax lots but is also “unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the Board does not credit DOB’s unsubstantiated assertion that tax lots are the only lots that can be recorded against, which appears to be DOB’s main argument as to why “lots of record” can only mean complete tax lots, because the record contradicts this statement; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with the Minkin Memorandum, since 1987, DOB has issued 28 binding-and-conclusive certificates of occupancy to buildings on the subject block certifying that parcels of land that include partial tax lots comply with applicable zoning requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Development Site includes land within the tax-lot boundaries of 150 West End Avenue, 160 West End Avenue, 170 West End Avenue, 180 West End Avenue and 200 West End Avenue, which have received 21 certificates of occupancy since 1987 certifying that parcels of land that include partial tax lots comply with applicable zoning requirements; and

WHEREAS, notably, in 2018, during the pendency of this appeal, DOB issued 170 Amsterdam Avenue a certificate of occupancy certifying that the Combined Land Parcel’s subdivision—the exact subdivision that formed the Development Site—into two parcels of land that include partial tax lots complies with applicable zoning requirements; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding the history of development on the subject block and the issuance of said certificates of occupancy, DOB has argued in this appeal that the purpose of the draft Buildings Bulletin—which a majority of the Board is unconvinced will ever “see the light of day”—is to correct a purportedly erroneous interpretation of the “zoning lot” definition reflected in the Minkin

Memorandum; and

WHEREAS, it is unclear by what authority DOB could apply the draft Buildings Bulletin's purportedly corrected interpretation (that zoning lots cannot consist of partial tax lots) to the Development Site when DOB has issued certificates of occupancy on the subject block—some covering the very tract of land at issue in this appeal—certifying that the opposite proposition (that zoning lots can consist of partial tax lots) complies with applicable zoning requirements, see New York City Charter § 645(3); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based on the record in this appeal, a majority of the Board is unpersuaded by DOB's assertions that the Minkin Memorandum is "incorrect" or that only complete tax lots can be "lots of record," ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, in A Survey of Transferable Development Rights Mechanisms in New York City 5–6 (Feb. 26, 2015), the Department of City Planning states:

Zoning lot mergers . . . combine contiguous tax lots within a block, eliminating lot lines for zoning purposes and allowing the free movement of floor area within the merged zoning lot. . . .

Because ZLMs don't otherwise allow for exceptions to bulk or other regulations, and because they don't allow any buildings or developments that couldn't happen as of right anyway, the city has not found it necessary to restrict or regulate ZLMs beyond the recording requirement and regulations to curb what might be considered extreme uses of the measure.

Regulation beyond that may prove problematic. Tax lot lines reflect historic ownership patterns but typically do not relate to any land use purposes. Restrictions on the ability to merge them into unified zoning lots would give land use effect to tax lot lines, often without an obvious underlying land use rationale. That may present legal and administrative difficulties [(emphasis added)]; and

WHEREAS, the interpretation herein would not "give land use effect to tax lot lines," id.; and

WHEREAS, the Valletta Memorandum describes a zoning lot as "the essential building block on which the bulk calculations of the Zoning Resolution were intended to be calculated"; and

WHEREAS, according to the Plans, the zoning calculations for the New Building have been computed based on the Development Site; and

E. Minority Position

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board finds that the meaning of "lot of record" and its relationship to the Development Site is dispositive as to whether the Development Site complies with the "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that a "lot of record," though undefined in the Zoning Resolution, is an entire tax lot; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that, within the Borough of Manhattan, "of record" refers to being recorded with and maintained by the Office of the City Register; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that the "zoning lot" definition itself uses "record" in a number of instances: "a written instrument executed by such party in recordable form and recorded at or prior to the recording of the Declaration," "any recorded subdivision plat or deed," "any enforceable recorded interest superior to that of the fee owner," "any enforceable recorded interest in all or substantially all of such tract of land," "any unrecorded interest in all or substantially all of such tract of land," "the same, as well as each such waiver, have been duly recorded," "their execution and recording of a Declaration," "any enforceable recorded interest," "the holder of any enforceable recorded interest," any unrecorded interest," "prior leasehold agreements shall be duly recorded" and "a complete metes and bounds of the zoning lot, the tax lot number, the block number and the ownership of the zoning lot as set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) herein shall be recorded by the applicant in the Conveyances Section of the Office of the City Register (or, if applicable, the County Clerk's Office) of the county in which the said zoning lot is located," ZR § 12-10 (underlined emphasis added); and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that, in each instance, recording evinces the act of depositing an official document with the appropriate authority, which in the Borough of Manhattan is the City Register; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes, however, that "lot of record" as used in the "zoning lot" definition dates to 1961, before the "zoning lot" definition was amended to allow for the recording of declarations with respect to zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that there is no indication in the record in this appeal of any other instances of recording that would lead to the conclusion that "lots of record" does not refer to tax lots "as shown on the official tax map of the City of New York," ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that Appellant has demonstrated that, in 1961, there was no other formal record for any kind of land use and that the only form a "lot of record" could take was as a tax lot; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that this interpretation is further evidenced by the requirement that, under paragraph (d), a zoning lot may "consist[] of two or more" tax lots and that such language contains no suggestion that a zoning lot may "consist[] of" parts of "two or more" tax lots; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that, if a tract of land is "unsubdivided," it cannot include parts of tax lots; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that there is a connection between the purposes served by zoning lots and tax lots because, for decades, the City has required that newly created tax lots comply with all applicable zoning regulations under Section 11-203 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board notes that interpreting the “zoning lot” definition to require whole tax lots and disallowing parts of tax lots furthers the City’s interest in ensuring zoning compliance; and

WHEREAS, a minority of the Board finds that, based upon the foregoing, the Minkin Memorandum sets forth an erroneous interpretation of the “zoning lot” definition that should no longer be followed because a “lot of record” is an entire tax lot; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, a minority of the Board finds that, because the Development Site includes partial tax lots, the Development Site does not comply with the “zoning lot” definition and that this appeal should be granted on that basis alone; and

Conclusion

WHEREAS, based upon the foregoing, a majority of the Board finds that, as a single land assemblage aggregated for the purpose of developing the New Building in compliance with the Zoning Resolution, the Development Site is a “tract of land” that is “either unsubdivided or consisting of two or more lots of record,” consistent with paragraph (d) of the “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, a majority of the Board finds no basis to grant this appeal with respect to Appellant’s assertion that the Development Site does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “zoning lot” definition; and

WHEREAS, the Board unanimously finds that ground-level open areas on the Development Site comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” requirements under ZR §§ 12-10, 25-64 and 23-12; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 12-10 defines “open space,” in pertinent part, as follows:

“Open space” is that part of a zoning lot, including courts or yards, which is open and unobstructed from its lowest level to the sky and is accessible to and usable by all persons occupying a dwelling unit or a rooming unit on the zoning lot. . . . ; and

WHEREAS, the Plans indicate that there will be ground-level open areas on the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, there is no basis to import requirements from non-applicable provisions in strictly applying and interpreting the text of the generally applicable “open space” definition; and

WHEREAS, the evidence in the record, including the Plans, which illustrate no physical barriers to the Development Site’s occupants, and a private agreement between parties in interest on the Development Site, assures that these ground-level open areas are “accessible to and usable by” residential occupants of the Development Site; and

WHEREAS, the Board credits DOB’s testimony that an inspection will be performed prior to the issuance of a certificate of occupancy to ensure that actual conditions continue to conform to the Plans with respect to open space;

and

WHEREAS, the Plans indicate that these ground-level open areas will be “open and unobstructed from its lowest level to the sky”; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that these ground-level open areas on the Development Site meet the “open space” definition; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 25-64 provides, in relevant part: Restrictions on the use of open space for parking and driveways are set forth in this Section, in accordance with the provisions of Section 23-12 (Permitted Obstructions in Open Space). . . .

(d) In R6, R7, R8, R9 and R10 Districts without a letter suffix, driveways, private streets, open accessory off-street parking spaces, unenclosed accessory bicycle parking spaces or open accessory off-street loading berths may not use more than 50 percent of the required open space on any zoning lot. The provisions of this paragraph, (c), shall not apply to Quality Housing buildings; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 23-12 states, in relevant part: In the districts indicated, the following obstructions shall be permitted in any open space required on a zoning lot:

(f) Driveways, private streets, open accessory off-street parking spaces, unenclosed accessory bicycle parking spaces or open accessory off-street loading berths, provided that the total area occupied by all these items does not exceed the percentages set forth in Section 25-64 (Restrictions on Use of Open Space for Parking); and

WHEREAS, the Development Site’s ground-level open areas contain driveways¹³; and

WHEREAS, the Plans indicate that not “more than 50 percent of the required open space” on the Development Site is used by driveways; and

WHEREAS, there is no basis to import the word “accessory” into these provisions where the text describes some permitted obstructions as “accessory” but not others; and

WHEREAS, the text does not describe driveways as “accessory”; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the driveways located in the ground-level open areas are permitted obstructions under ZR §§ 25-64 and 23-12; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds no basis to grant this appeal with respect to Appellant’s assertion that the Development Site does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” requirements; and 13 Insofar as the record includes discussion of parking, the Board expresses no opinion because the Plans, under which the Permit was issued, do not reflect parking in the ground-level open areas.

WHEREAS, the Board has considered all of the arguments on appeal, but a majority of the Board finds them ultimately unpersuasive; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding the above, DOB is tasked with administering and enforcing the Zoning Resolution for over one million properties within the City of New York, see ZR § 71-00; in furtherance of this mission, the New York City Charter and the New York City Construction Codes—as well as other sources of legal authority—provide DOB with wide latitude to develop and employ new techniques for the effective enforcement of the City’s Zoning Resolution; and nothing herein shall be deemed an abrogation of DOB’s enforcement authority with respect to developing techniques that ensure the lawful use and development of buildings within the City; and

WHEREAS, however, for the foregoing reasons and based on the record in this appeal, a majority of the Board finds that Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Development Site does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “zoning lot” definition, and the Board unanimously finds that Appellant has failed to demonstrate that ground-level open areas on the Development Site do not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s “open space” requirements.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the permit issued by the Department of Buildings on September 27, 2017, under New Building Application No. 122887224, shall be and hereby is upheld and that this appeal shall be and hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is a compliance hearing on two variances, previously granted by the Board; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 2, 2016, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on November 15, 2016, February 14, 2017, April 25, 2017, May 2, 2017, July 18, 2017, September 26, 2017, December 12, 2017, March 6, 2017, March 27, 2018, May 1, 2018, August 7, 2018, November 8, 2018, February 5, 2019, April 9, 2019, and June 25, 2019, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over 600 McDonald Avenue since June 24, 1997, when, under BSA Calendar Number 1-96-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the proposed second-story enlargement to an existing non-complying one-story building used as a school on condition that all work substantially conform to the Board-approved plans and on further condition that screening and fencing be maintained in accordance with the Board-approved plans; that landscaping be maintained in accordance with the Board-approved plans; and that fire-safety measures be maintained in accordance with the Board-approved plans; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over 317 Dahill Road since May 14, 2002, when, under BSA Calendar Number 56-02-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the construction of a four-story, with cellar, school building on condition all work substantially conform to the Board-approved plans and on further condition that fire-protection measure be provided in maintained in accordance with the Board-approved plans; and

WHEREAS, the owner of 600 McDonald Avenue subsequently sought a variance, under BSA Calendar

Number 17-14-BZ, to construct a two-story enlargement to the existing school building, which was withdrawn; and

WHEREAS, however, during the course of hearings on BSA Calendar Number 17-14-BZ, it came to light that there were substantial non-compliances with the variances granted under BSA Calendar Numbers 1-96-BZ and 56-02-BZ; and

WHEREAS, more specifically, it appeared that large-scale private events unrelated to any educational program were being held in these school buildings on a nightly basis, causing significant disruption to the surrounding residential neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, these disruptions included large amounts of vehicular and pedestrian traffic, improper disposal of food waste, and late-night noise; and

WHEREAS, an inspection performed by the Department of Buildings corroborated that, during the summer, while the schools were closed, receptions were being held in the “school cafeteria area” that “had nothing to do with the school”; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 26, 2016, the Fire Department states that it objects to the illegal use of the school cafeteria at 600 McDonald Avenue and the adjacent 317 Dahill Road, as a confirmed commercial banquet hall with commercial catering; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 26, 2016, the Fire Department states that, at the Board’s request, it has conducted an inspection of the premises, which resulted in the issuance of a violation order for operating contrary to the certificate of occupancy (“Catering observed”); and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 14, 2018, the Fire Department states that it performed two inspections that resulted in the issuance of five violations on April 9, 2018, and, witnessing an event being held at the time of inspection with no Temporary Public Assembly permit, resulted in four criminal summonses, two new violation orders, and one FDNY summons; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 5, 2018, the Fire Department states that, after a reinspection of open violation orders, some open violation orders were dismissed; and

WHEREAS, during the course of hearings, the Board afforded the property owners the opportunity to demonstrate compliance with its grants; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the hosting of unrelated events, the applicant pursued and achieved a change to the zoning district to allow the primary use as a banquet hall with commercial catering on an-as-of-right basis in compliance with underlying zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, with respect to fire-safety concerns, the owners presented evidence that Temporary Public Assembly permits had been procured and that fireguards had been hired and were stationed during events,

WHEREAS, by letter dated February 4, 2019, the Fire Department states that its Bureau of Fire Protection had conducted an inspection on January 23, 2019, where access was granted as an event was taking place; that inspectors dismissed six outstanding violation orders with one violation order enforced to discontinue use of a meeting hall as a banquet hall; and that the Fire Department would continue to inspect the premises until the use is discontinued or a Public Assembly permit is obtained; and

WHEREAS, with respect to parking issues, the owners presented a parking study demonstrating that commercial events held at the sites did not result in the potential for adverse parking impacts; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant supplied an operational plan on parking, trash storage, and trash handling to demonstrate that events would no longer disrupt the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Board directed that that there be no deliveries of any kind made on Dahill Road, which is residential in character; that all deliveries shall be made from McDonald Avenue, which is commercial in character; that there shall be no obstruction of the sidewalk on either McDonald Avenue or Dahill Road is permitted by any fenced areas on the public sidewalk without obtaining a revocable consent; that all trash shall be stored on site, in refrigerated trash storage areas, that shall be emptied from the McDonald Avenue side; that all banquet event trash shall be removed from the site within one hour of event closure by a private carting company; that all trash pickup shall be from the McDonald Avenue side; that valet parking shall be provided for the banquet facilities’ events for a minimum of 50 automobiles for all events; that automobiles shall be parked on the off-site lot first before any on-street parking occurs; that entry to the banquet halls shall be from McDonald Avenue and Avenue C at the location of the women’s entrance; that school buses shall be parked off street in a parking lot; and that parking areas to accommodate bus and banquet parking shall be provided with long-term leases that run for the life of the uses; and

WHEREAS, ultimately, however, the record reflects that the owners have failed to comply with the Board’s grants by hosting nightly events wholly unrelated to any school use and instead are primarily using portions of the subject buildings as banquet facilities with commercial catering; and

WHEREAS, with the recent change in zoning district, the Board notes that, to legalize the banquet facilities, the owners must amend the Board-approved plans to reflect actual use as a banquet hall, which use now conforms to the underlying zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports that the applicant will bring the subject buildings into compliance, with certain safeguards and conditions set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby close this compliance hearing and does hereby reopen and amend the resolutions, dated June 24, 1997, and May 14, 2002, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: “on further condition:

procedural method recommended by staff (either a letter of no objection, a letter of substantial compliance, or an amendment) according to the scope of changes and the as-built conditions, within three months;

THAT because the Board was unaware at the time of its grants that the two buildings are connected underground and rely on each other for kitchens, the plans must be amended accordingly with any other changes to be reflected on the plans;

THAT the applicants must apply to amend the certificates of occupancy to reflect the after-hours use of the school buildings for banquet facilities (and obtain a public assembly permit for this by demonstrating compliance with all applicable provisions of the New York City Building Code and Fire Code);

THAT there be no deliveries of any kind made on Dahill Road, which is residential in character;

THAT all deliveries shall be made from McDonald Avenue, which is commercial in character;

THAT there shall be no obstruction of the sidewalk on either McDonald Avenue or Dahill Road is permitted by any fenced areas on the public sidewalk without obtaining a revocable consent;

THAT all trash shall be stored on site, in refrigerated trash storage areas, that shall be emptied from the McDonald Avenue side;

THAT all banquet event trash shall be removed from the site within one hour of event closure by a private carting company;

THAT all trash pickup shall be from the McDonald Avenue side;

THAT valet parking shall be provided for the banquet facilities' events for a minimum of 50 automobiles for all events;

THAT automobiles shall be parked at the off-site parking lot first before any on-street parking occurs;

THAT entry to the banquet halls shall be from McDonald Avenue and Avenue C at the location of the women's entrance;

THAT school buses shall be parked off street in a parking lot;

THAT parking areas to accommodate bus and banquet parking shall be provided with long-term leases that run for the life of the uses;

THAT all of the above conditions must be complied with within one year and an additional six months, in light of the current state of emergency declared to exist within the City of New York resulting from an outbreak of novel coronavirus disease, by October 26, 2021;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT all of the Board's conditions shall appear on the certificates of occupancy;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted."

WHEREAS, with respect to parking issues, the owners presented a parking study demonstrating that commercial events held at the sites did not result in the potential for adverse parking impacts; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant supplied an operational plan on parking, trash storage, and trash handling to demonstrate that events would no longer disrupt the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Board directed that that there be no deliveries of any kind made on Dahill Road, which is residential in character; that all deliveries shall be made from McDonald Avenue, which is commercial in character; that there shall be no obstruction of the sidewalk on either McDonald Avenue or Dahill Road is permitted by any fenced areas on the public sidewalk without obtaining a revocable consent; that all trash shall be stored on site, in refrigerated trash storage areas, that shall be emptied from the McDonald Avenue side; that all banquet event trash shall be removed from the site within one hour of event closure by a private carting company; that all trash pickup shall be from the McDonald Avenue side; that valet parking shall be provided for the banquet facilities’ events for a minimum of 50 automobiles for all events; that automobiles shall be parked on the off-site lot first before any on-street parking occurs; that entry to the banquet halls shall be from McDonald Avenue and Avenue C at the location of the women’s entrance; that school buses shall be parked off street in a parking lot; and that parking areas to accommodate bus and banquet parking shall be provided with long-term leases that run for the life of the uses; and

WHEREAS, ultimately, however, the record reflects that the owners have failed to comply with the Board’s grants by hosting nightly events wholly unrelated to any school use and instead are primarily using portions of the subject buildings as banquet facilities with commercial catering; and

WHEREAS, with the recent change in zoning district, the Board notes that, to legalize the banquet facilities, the owners must amend the Board-approved plans to reflect actual use as a banquet hall, which use now conforms to the underlying zoning regulations; and record supports that the applicant will bring the subject buildings into compliance, with certain safeguards and conditions set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby close this compliance hearing and does hereby reopen and amend the resolutions, dated June 24, 1997, and May 14, 2002, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: “on further condition:

THAT the applicant shall file with the Board, using the procedural method recommended by staff (either a letter of no objection, a letter of substantial compliance, or an amendment) according to the scope of changes and the as-built conditions, within three months;

THAT because the Board was unaware at the time of its grants that the two buildings are connected underground and rely on each other for kitchens, the plans must be amended accordingly with any other changes to be reflected on the plans;

THAT the applicants must apply to amend the certificates of occupancy to reflect the after-hours use of the school buildings for banquet facilities (and obtain a public assembly permit for this by demonstrating compliance with all applicable provisions of the New York City Building Code and Fire Code);

THAT there be no deliveries of any kind made on Dahill Road, which is residential in character;

THAT all deliveries shall be made from McDonald Avenue, which is commercial in character;

THAT there shall be no obstruction of the sidewalk on either McDonald Avenue or Dahill Road is permitted by any fenced areas on the public sidewalk without obtaining a revocable consent;

THAT all trash shall be stored on site, in refrigerated trash storage areas, that shall be emptied from the McDonald Avenue side;

THAT all banquet event trash shall be removed from the site within one hour of event closure by a private carting company;

THAT all trash pickup shall be from the McDonald Avenue side;

THAT valet parking shall be provided for the banquet facilities’ events for a minimum of 50 automobiles for all events;

THAT automobiles shall be parked at the off-site parking lot first before any on-street parking occurs;

THAT entry to the banquet halls shall be from McDonald Avenue and Avenue C at the location of the women’s entrance;

THAT school buses shall be parked off street in a parking lot;

THAT parking areas to accommodate bus and banquet parking shall be provided with long-term leases that run for the life of the uses;

THAT all of the above conditions must be complied with within one year and an additional six months, in light of the current state of emergency declared to exist within the City of New York resulting from an outbreak of novel

coronavirus disease, by October 26, 2021;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT all of the Board’s conditions shall appear on the certificates of occupancy;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.”

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings, dated December 2, 2015, acting on DOB Application No. 121185181 reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 93-42(a): Proposed base height exceeds height permitted;
2. ZR 93-42(b): Initial setbacks not provided as required;
3. ZR 93-42(c): Portion of building above 150’ occupies greater percentage of lot area than is permitted; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in a C6-4 zoning district, the Special Hudson Yards District, the Farley Corridor Subdistrict B and the Central Blocks Subarea B2, the construction of a 25-story hotel building that does not comply with ZR §§ 93-42(a), (b) and (c); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 5, 2016, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on May 17, 2016 and then to decision on July 12, 2016; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Hinkson, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Montanez and Commissioner Chanda performed inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 4, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application subject to the following conditions, which the applicant agreed to by letter dated April 6, 2016: (1) no curb cuts will be located on the site’s West 31st Street frontage; (2) if feasible, at least 2 street trees with 5’ by 10’ tree pits that include planted shrubs and perennials will be planted along West 31st Street in front of the proposed development; (3) the owner will work with Community Board 4, Manhattan and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey (“Port Authority”) to gain the Port Authority’s permission to build a sidewalk in the roadway along the Dyer Avenue and West 31st Street frontages and that, pending agreement with the Port Authority, the developer will fund the construction of that sidewalk; (4) the developer will construct the building in accordance with façade elevations dated September 11, 2015, as may be modified in connection with the BSA’s review and approval of the subject variance application; (5) the developer will seek to negotiate a reasonable license agreement for Support of Excavation (SOE) with the adjacent landowner, the Fashion Institute of Technology (“FIT”); (6) there shall be no illuminated signage at the top of the building; (7) the developer will regularly communicate with FIT concerning construction deliveries; (8) the owner will communicate with FIT’s Office of Communications and External Relations regarding move-in and move-out days; and (9) the developer will regularly communicate with the construction manager of the Manhattan West Project; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is comprised of two lots, Lot 55 and Lot 50 (the “Subject Site”), and is located on the south side of West 31st Street, between Dyer Avenue and 9th Avenue, in a C6-4 zoning district, in the Special Hudson Yards District, the Farley Corridor Subdistrict B and the Central Blocks Subarea B2, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, Lot 55 has approximately 42 feet of frontage along West 31st Street, 92 feet of frontage along Dyer Avenue and is occupied by a four-story mixed use commercial and residential building that will be demolished for the construction of the project proposed herein; Lot 50, adjacent to and immediately south of Lot 55, has approximately 41 feet of frontage along Dyer Avenue. 20 feet of frontage along a roadway leading to the Lincoln Tunnel (the “Roadway”) and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the Subject Site has 5,049 sq. ft. of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a 25-story hotel with 95,906 sq. ft. of floor area (19.0 FAR), a wall height in excess of the maximum permitted pursuant to ZR § 93-42(a), no setbacks, contrary to ZR § 93-42(b), and a floorplate that covers 94.2 percent of the lot area, contrary to the maximum of 70 percent lot area coverage permitted for portions of a building above 150’-0” pursuant to ZR § 93-42(c); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, pursuant to ZR § 72-21(a), the Subject Site’s narrow width, limited lot area, and multiple street frontages from which any building thereon must be set back are unique physical conditions that create a practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in conformance with the underlying district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Subject Site is the only lot in Central Blocks Subarea B2 and one of only two lots in the Farley Corridor Subdistrict B with a width of less than 45 feet and lot area of less than 6,000 sq. ft., and that it is the only lot in Farley Corridor Subdistrict B that also has frontages on three streets; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further submits that the Subject Site has a maximum permitted floor area ratio (“FAR”) of 19.0 and that a building compliant with the applicable maximum base height requirements of ZR § 93-42(a), setback requirements of ZR § 93-42(b) and tower lot coverage requirements of ZR § 93-42(c) that also took advantage of the full floor area available at the Subject Site would be 17-stories taller than the current proposal, have substantially higher construction costs and that the limited floor plate of the floors in the tower—the portion of the building above the base height and set back 15’ from the Roadway and 20’ from both Dyer Avenue and West 31st Street—would accommodate fewer rooms per floor because a disproportionate share of those floors would be devoted to the building core; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that the aforementioned unique physical conditions at the Subject Site create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with the applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, per ZR § 72-21(b), there is no reasonable possibility that the development of the site in conformance with the Zoning Resolution will bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided a financial analysis for (1) a 42-story tower with 95,921 sq. ft. of zoning floor area (the “As-of-Right Development”) and (2) the subject proposal; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that only the subject proposal would provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the As-of-Right Development contains 199 hotel rooms: 11 hotel rooms per floor on the 2nd floor through the 10th floor; amenity space on the 11th and 12th floors; mechanical and storage space on the 13th floor, the first floor of the tower, to allow for the transitioning of the building core to the narrower footprint of the tower floors above; 4 hotel rooms per floor on the 14th-38th floors; and mechanical space on the 39th floor through the 42nd floor; and

WHEREAS, the subject proposal has 220 hotel rooms: mechanical space on the 2nd floor, 11 hotel rooms per floor on the 3rd floor through 22nd floor, mechanical space on the 23rd floor, and hotel amenity space on the 24th and 25th floors; and

WHEREAS, the provided financial analysis indicates that the total development costs for the As-of-Right Development would be $6,795,000 more than the total development costs for the subject proposal and that the As-of-Right Development does not produce enough income to allow the applicant to realize a positive return while the subject proposal, with 21 more hotel rooms, contains sufficient value to be financially feasible for the applicant; and

WHEREAS, upon review of the applicant’s submissions, the Board has determined that because of the site’s unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that several hotel, residential and commercial projects are currently in development in the surrounding area, and that the proposed 25-story building would be of a similar height and bulk to these planned developments, as well as those buildings already existing in the area, and therefore will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property and will not be detriments to the public welfare, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that this action will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, with regards to ZR § 72-21(d), the applicant represents that the metes and bounds of Lot 55 have not changed since at least the enactment of the 1961 Zoning Resolution and that Lot 50 was acquired by the owner in order to combine it with Lot 55 and allowing for a development with a larger floor plate, thus, though the Subject Site was assembled by the owner, the assemblage has had the result, as intended, of lessening the hardship of developing on Lot 55 alone; and

WHEREAS, in light of the above, the Board finds that, consistent with ZR § 72-21(d), the hardship herein was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, supported by the provided financial analysis, the applicant represents that the capitalized value of the subject proposal is only $257,000 more than its total development costs, representing a minimally feasible positive return, and, thus, the subject proposal is the minimum needed to provide relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(e), that the subject proposal is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment (EAS) CEQR No. 14BSA151M, dated June 8, 2016; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Water and Sewer Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; and Construction; and

WHEREAS, the Board recommends that an “E” designation for hazardous materials be placed on the site as part of the approval; and

WHEREAS, the “E” designation requires an environmental review by the New York City Office of Environmental Remediation (“OER”) which must be satisfied before DOB will issue building permits at the Subject Site; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environmental that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

Therefore it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 and grants a variance to permit, in a C6-4 zoning district, the Special Hudson Yards District, the Farley Corridor Subdistrict B and the Central Blocks Subarea B2, the construction of a 25-story hotel building that does not comply with ZR §§ 93-42(a), (b) and (c), on condition that all work will substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received June 8, 2016”- Nine (9) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: lot coverage of 94.2 percent above the height of 150’ and no setbacks, as indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT an E designation (E-390) is placed on the site to ensure proper hazardous materials remediation;

THAT the above condition shall be listed on the Certificate of Occupancy;

THAT prior to DOB’s issuance of any building permit, OER shall issue a Notice to Proceed or a Notice of No Objection pursuant to the site’s E designation (E-390);

THAT prior to DOB’s issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy, OER must issue a Notice of No Objection or a Notice of Satisfaction;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 72-23;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 12, 2016.

The resolution has been amended to correct part of the 9th WHEREAS which read and a floorplate that covers 87.4 percent of the lot area, ... MINUTES

Proposed two story two family dwelling is in the bed of a mapped street. Comply with Section 35 of the General City Law, refer to the Board of Standards and Appeals for an Administrative Appeal; and

WHEREAS, this is an application to permit the construction of a building within the bed of a mapped street, contrary to General City Law (“GCL”) § 35; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 5, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on January 29, 2019, and July 16, 2019, and then to decision on that date;

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of 181st Street, between 144th Avenue and North Conduit Avenue, in an R3A zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 50 feet of frontage along 181st Street, 4,707 square feet of lot area and is currently vacant; and

WHEREAS, the site is partially located within the bed of 144th Road, a street between Farmers Boulevard and 181st Street and mapped to a width of 60 feet, but unimproved west of the subject site and not in use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop the existing lot with a new two- (2) story two- (2) family dwelling within the bed of a mapped, but unimproved portion of 144th Road; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the proposed two- (2) family dwelling will comply and conform with all applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, including but not limited to those relating to yard requirements, permitted height and required off-street parking; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 16, 2018, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection (“DEP”) states that the applicant provided a topographical survey, dated August 31, 2017, that shows the distance of 155.5 feet from the terminal manholes of the ten- (10) inch diameter sanitary sewer and the distance of 407 feet from the fire hydrant on the six- (6) inch diameter City water main to the lot line of lot 56 in 144th Road; in addition, the applicant submitted a revised site plan of proposed conditions, dated February 7, 2018 (the “Site Plan”), that shows part of the 60-foot wide easement on the property between 181st Street and Farmers Boulevard; in addition, the letter describes the proposed 35-foot wide sewer corridor/easement in lot 56 and adjacent lot 62, shown on the Site Plan; adjacent lot 62 is not part of this application; as per New York City Department of Finance (“DOF”), lots 56 and 62 are owned by different owners; the proposed sewer corridor/easement must be within lot 56 and must be as requested by DEP; and, DEP requires the applicant to submit a survey/plan showing the 35-foot wide sewer corridor/easement for the installation and/or reconstruction of the future sewers, or the applicant has the option to amend the drainage plan; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represented that the construction of a 35-foot sewer corridor would result in a very narrow home with a width of 15 feet and requested to revise the drainage plan; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated February 7, 2019, DEP states that, based on DEP maps, sewers and water mains do not cross the subject property and there is a ten- (10) inch diameter sanitary sewer and a six- (6) inch diameter City water main in the bed of 144th Road, outside of the limits of lot 56; the Amended Drainage Plan South East Queens Part 1, Sheet 33 of 33, dated May 15, 2008, for the subject site, calls for a future ten- (10) inch diameter sanitary and 24-inch diameter storm sewers in the bed of 144th Road between 181st Street and Farmers Boulevard; the applicant submitted a letter, dated January 25, 2019, and a site plan, along with the request to amend the drainage plan; the request to amend the drainage plan included tributary area plan and hydraulic calculations within 144th Road; DEP’s Drainage and Modeling found that the plans and information submitted by the applicant are sufficient to amend the drainage plan; and, based on the above, DEP has no objection to the subject application; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated February 21, 2017, the New York City Department of Transportation (“DOT”) states that, according to the Queens Borough President’s Topographical Bureau, 144th Road at this location is mapped for 60 feet and the City does not have title; they reviewed all pertinent documents submitted to DOT and the improvement of 144th Road at this location, which would include a taking of tax block 13089, lot 56, is not presently included in DOT’s Capital Improvement Program, but this does not preclude a change in the program in the future; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 30, 2017, the Fire Department states that they reviewed the subject application and, provided the City has no intention of acquiring the property that forms the unbuilt portion of the mapped street, they have no objection to the subject application, provided the building is fully sprinklered on all floors; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to GCL § 35, it may authorize construction within the bed of a mapped street subject to reasonable requirements; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has determined that the applicant has submitted adequate evidence to warrant this approval under certain conditions.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals modifies the decision of the Department of Buildings, dated August 27, 2015, acting on New Building Application No. 420816503, by the power vested in it by Section 35 of the General City Law to grant this appeal, limited to the decisions noted above on condition that construction shall substantially conform to the drawings filed with the application marked “Received July 10, 2019”-One (1) sheet; and on further condition:

1. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 24-11 in that the proposed floor area ratio (FAR) exceeds the permitted . . .
2. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 24-11 in that the proposed lot coverage is greater than the maximum permitted . . .
3. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 24-34 in that the subject corner property only proposes one front yard at 10’-0” . . .

5. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 24-521 in that the proposed building height exceeds the maximum permitted height . . . ; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R5 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing building that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yards, side yards and building height, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35(a) and 24-521; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of the Project Witness Holocaust Education and Resource Center (the “Educational Facility”); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 14, 2017, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 13, 2018, May 1, 2018, August 7, 2018, October 23, 2018, February 26, 2019, and June 4, 2019, and then to decision on July 16, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda,

Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, New York State Senator Simcha Felder, New York State Assembly Member Steven H. Cymbrowitz, New York State Assembly Member Simcha Eichenstein, New York City Council Member David G. Greenfield, New York City Council Member Chaim M. Deutsch, New York City Council Member Mark D. Levine, New York City Council Member Kalman Yeger and local residents and organizations submitted testimony in support of this application, and some local residents submitted testimony in opposition to this application, citing traffic and neighborhood-character concerns; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located at the southeast corner of 19th Avenue and 47th Street, in an R5 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 22 feet of frontage along 19th Avenue, 105 feet of frontage along 47th Street, 2,322 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a two-story, including basement, community-facility building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing building to a four-story, including basement, community-facility building with a total of 7,452 square feet of floor area (3.21 FAR), lot coverage of 82 percent, a front yard with a depth of 10’-0” along 19th Avenue, a side yard with a width of 6’-0” perpendicular to 47th Street and a building height of 38’-4”;

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, at the subject site, a community-facility building may have a maximum of 4,629 square feet of floor area (2.0 FAR) under ZR § 24-11, lot coverage may not exceed 60 percent under ZR § 24-11, corner lots must have two front yards with minimum depths of 10 feet under ZR § 24-34, corner lots must have two side yards with minimum depths of 11 feet under ZR § 24-35(a) and buildings may not exceed 35 feet in height under ZR § 24-521; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, in fulfilling its educational mission, the Educational Facility partners with numerous other educational institutions, including the City’s public school system, to provide instruction and programs that comply with the New York State Department of Education’s curricular requirements as well as college-level curricula; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Educational Facility, as an educational institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board must grant an educational or religious institution’s application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the Educational Facility's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted a study detailing the Educational Facility's programmatic requirements (the "Programmatic Needs Report"); and

WHEREAS, the Programmatic Needs Report demonstrates that the existing building is insufficient to meet the Educational Facility's program, which requires two classrooms, an archive, a library, interview and webinar spaces and an auditorium to be consolidated into one building in order to provide crucial adjacencies between the program's educational elements; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, because of the narrowness of the subject site, an as-of-right development would consist of a community-facility building with a width of 4'-0" and a length of 86'-2", which could not possibly meet the Educational Facility's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes that the proposed building would fulfill the Educational Facility's program by locating a conference room and exhibition space with webinar space and an interview room adjacent to an open office space in the basement; an auditorium, a research area and administrative office on the first floor; two classrooms on the second floor; and a library and archives on the third floor; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Educational Facility's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, because the Educational Facility is a non-profit organization and the proposed building is needed to further its programmatic mission, demonstrating that the proposed variance is necessary to realize a reasonable return from the subject site is unnecessary; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the proposed building would not alter the character of the surrounding area, impair the use of neighboring properties or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant surveyed the surrounding area and submitted a study demonstrating that there are a number of buildings in the vicinity with 2.4 FAR to 4.0 FAR and heights ranging from 36 feet to 81 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the property immediately to the rear of the subject site is occupied by a manufacturing building with full lot coverage and that the adjacent site would be occupied by another community-facility building, neither of which would be adversely affected by the proposed building's height or yards; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant submitted a photographic streetscape study and aerial views demonstrating that the proposed building will comport with the built character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, with respect to traffic and in response to community concerns, the applicant provided a report demonstrating that the maximum number of trips would be on Fridays from 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. with a total of 107 persons, which would result in a total of 2-3 buses visiting the subject site during periods of peak demand, that a number of the Educational Facility's affiliated institutions are located within walking distance and that the applicant's proposal would not have any significant adverse effects on traffic; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns and questions from the Board regarding the possibility of providing an open stair and reducing the incursion of the proposed building into required yards, the applicant submitted evidence demonstrating that a second means of egress must be enclosed in order to comply with the New York City Building Code; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship—notwithstanding common ownership of the subject site with an adjacent property; and

WHEREAS, the applicant posits that the Board has no authority to consider common ownership of adjacent property in this application and attempts to characterize the Board's inquiry as turning on the ZR § 12-10 "zoning lot" definition; and

WHEREAS, however, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion under ZR § 72-21 and authorizes the Board to prescribe conditions and safeguards to address a variance's potential adverse effects under ZR § 72-22, so the Board's review of this application need not be confined to the standards applicable to as-of-right construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant has presented no court decision standing for the proposition that the Board may not consider self-created hardship in this application, especially where an educational institution refuses to consider alternative design solutions that would potentially mitigate impacts on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, to the contrary, in Pine Knolls All. Church v. Zoning Bd. of Appeals of Town of Moreau, 5 N.Y.3d 407, 414 (2005), the Court of Appeals of New York held that a zoning board's denying a house of worship the exact expansion sought "was not a denial of permission to expand" but rather "the functional equivalent of imposing mitigating conditions on the grant of an application—a practice explicitly approved in Cornell University"; and

WHEREAS, Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68

N.Y.2d 583, 594 (1986), itself explicitly overturned court decisions “demand[ing] a full exemption from zoning rules for all educational and church uses” that effectively “render[ed] municipalities powerless in the face of a religious or educational institution’s proposed expansion, no matter how offensive, overpowering or unsafe to a residential neighborhood the use might be”; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, it is appropriate for the Board to consider the issue of self-created hardship in this application; and

WHEREAS, in support of the contention that common ownership of an adjacent property does not create the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship, the applicant revised the Programmatic Needs Report to demonstrate why the Educational Facility’s program could not be addressed by merging the subject site with the adjacent site and developing a larger building with the Educational Facility and a house of worship as two separate principal uses; and

WHEREAS, the Programmatic Needs Report analyzes four scenarios: merging the subject site with the adjacent site and developing an as-of-right community-facility building; merging the subject site with the adjacent site and developing a community-facility building that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, height, front yards and side yards; merging the subject site with the adjacent site and developing a community-facility building that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, height and front yards; and the proposed scenario (maintaining the subject site as a separate zoning lot from the adjacent site and developing each independently); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that merging the subject site and developing an as-of-right community-facility building would not meet the Educational Facility’s programmatic needs because a combined zoning lot would have 43’-6” of frontage along 19th Avenue, 105’-2” of frontage along 47th Street, two front yards with depths of 10’-0” each, side yards with widths of 8’-9” and 8’-0” and a building with a width of 25’-6” and a length of 86’-0”—a building that could not accommodate the programmatic needs of both the Educational Facility and a house of worship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that merging the subject site with the adjacent site would potentially implicate self-created hardship because the subject site is a corner lot, which requires two front yards and two side yards, and the adjacent site is an interior lot, which requires a rear yard; and

WHEREAS, by merging the subject site with the adjacent site, the combined zoning lot would become one corner lot, removing any rear yard requirement—a problematic proposition because portions of community-facility buildings are allowed to obstruct rear yards under ZR § 24-33; and

WHEREAS, the applicant accordingly asserts that merging the subject site with the adjacent site would eliminate the ability of the adjacent site to build into its rear yard as of right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the Programmatic Needs Report demonstrates that the second and third scenarios would not alleviate any of the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship and would instead exacerbate these conditions such that locating the Educational Facility and a house of worship in the same building would be detrimental to both uses—and, crucially, would result in a taller, larger building with increased non-compliance in order to support their programmatic needs because of duplicative space required to separate the uses in a secure manner; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, based on these considerations, the Programmatic Needs Report amply supports its position that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship were not self-created; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site, as reflected in the Programmatic Needs Report; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 16BSA100K, dated July 15, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated February 1, 2018, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse effects with respect to architectural or archaeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 18, 2019, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection (“DEP”) states that an (E) designation for hazardous materials shall be assigned to the subject properties to ensure that testing and mitigation will be provided as necessary before any future development or soil disturbance and that further hazardous materials assessments shall be coordinated through the Mayor’s Office of Environmental Remediation; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated July 11, 2017, DCP states that an (E) designation for hazardous materials

(No. E-543) has been assigned to the subject properties; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 19, 2019, DEP states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with respect to air quality and that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with respect to noise on condition that a composite window-wall attenuation noise attenuation of 28 dBA shall be required for all building facades and that an alternate means of ventilation shall be required and incorporated into the building design and construction; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R5 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing building that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yards, side yards and building height, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35(a) and 24-521; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received February 7, 2019”-Fourteen (14) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 7,452 square feet of floor area (3.21 FAR), maximum lot coverage of 82 percent, a front yard with a minimum depth of 10’-0” along 19th Avenue, a side yard with a minimum width of 6’-0” perpendicular to 47th Street and a maximum building height of 38’-4”, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT use of the subject site (Lot 165) shall remain separate from the adjacent site (Lot 166) in perpetuity and the sites shall not be combined;

THAT a composite window-wall attenuation noise attenuation of 28 dBA shall be required for all building facades;

THAT an alternate means of ventilation shall be required and incorporated into the building design and construction;

THAT an (E) designation for hazardous materials (No. E-543) shall be placed on the subject properties to ensure that testing and mitigation be provided as necessary before any future development or soil disturbance and that further hazardous materials assessments shall be coordinated through the Mayor’s Office of Environmental Remediation;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2016-4153-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by July 16, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Brooklyn Borough Commissioner, dated December 20, 2016, acting on of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) Application No. 321048451, reads in pertinent part:

Proposed physical culture establishment (PCE) not permitted as of right in R6B and C4-3A zoning districts per ZR 22-10 and ZR 32-10, therefore approval from Board of Standards and Appeals required to allow proposed PCE use; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to legalize, on a site located partially within an R6B zoning district and partially within a C4-3A zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment (“PCE”) contrary to ZR §§ 22-10 and 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 17, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on July 16, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of two (2) form letters in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and 15th Street, partially within an R6B zoning district and partially within a C4-3A zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 75 feet of frontage along Fifth Avenue, 218 feet of frontage along 15th Street, 20,373 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing three- (3) story plus cellar mixed-use commercial and residential building; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since October 3, 2000, when, under BSA Cal. No. 11-00-BZ, the Board granted a special permit, pursuant to ZR § 73-36, to permit the operation of a PCE on portions of the cellar and first floor of an existing mixed-use building on condition that all work substantially conform to plans as they apply to the objections, filed with the application; there be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board; the hours of operation be limited to Monday to Friday, 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m., and Saturday and Sunday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.; all individuals practicing massage at the premises possess valid New York State licenses for such practice which licenses be prominently displayed at the premises; fire protection measures, including a fire alarm system, a smoke detection system, and an automatic wet sprinkler system, all connected to a Fire Department-approved central station, be provided and maintained; the special permit be limited to a term of ten (10) years, to expire on October 3, 2010; the conditions appear on the certificate of occupancy; the development, as approved, be subject to verification by DOB for compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under the jurisdiction of the Department; and, substantial construction be completed and a new certificate of occupancy be obtained within two (2) years, by October 3, 2002; and

WHEREAS, on or around April 30, 2003, the subject site was rezoned as part of the Park Slope Rezoning, replacing the C4-3 zoning district with a C4-3A zoning district, and reducing the distance by which the commercial district extended from Fifth Avenue, from 200 feet to 100 feet, resulting in a portion of the PCE existing in an R6B zoning district, wherein a special permit pursuant to ZR § 73-36 is not available; thus, the applicant seeks the subject relief; and

WHEREAS, a subsequently filed application, under the subject calendar number, for an extension of term of the special permit, was withdrawn when it was determined that the application could not proceed due to the Park Slope Rezoning; and

WHEREAS, the existing PCE, which continues to operate as Harbor Fitness, occupies 8,947 square feet of floor area on the first floor with the PCE entrance and areas for reception, offices, training, warm-up and cardio exercises; and 9,905 square feet of floor space in the cellar with locker rooms with saunas, restrooms and showers, and weight training areas; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, pursuant to ZR § 72-21(a), the history of PCE use at the site since 2000 and the excessive cost of renovating the space to permit a conforming commercial use are physical conditions that create a practical difficulty in complying with the existing zoning regulations because such compliance would require costly renovations to the commercial unit in which the PCE is now located and the current configuration of the space would further frustrate as-of-right uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE has continuously operated at the site since the special permit approval in 2000; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the hardship involved with configuring the space for an as-of-right use, which the applicant anticipates would require the creation of smaller rooms throughout the existing space, the applicant represents that renovation of the subject PCE space is frustrated by low ceilings, immovable support columns and a lack of an internal elevator, representing significant construction costs to a potential commercial tenant, and, further, the building’s slope of the street and side street entrance, as opposed to the main commercial thoroughfare of Fifth Avenue, are factors that make the site less attractive to potential tenants and patrons; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the history of the use of the site, in part, as a PCE and physical layout of the existing space are unique conditions that create unnecessary hardship and practical difficulty in developing the site in conformance with applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, in satisfaction of ZR § 72-21(b), the applicant states that there is no reasonable possibility that a conforming development at the site will bring a reasonable return and, in support of that contention, submitted financial analyses for (1) an as-of-right commercial use (the “AOR Scenario”) and (2) the subject legalization; and

WHEREAS, the financial analyses submitted with the application conclude that only the subject legalization will generate a reasonable return, in line with the minimum desirable return expected from comparable development, while the AOR Scenario, requiring a conversion of the existing PCE space to a “vanilla box” without on-site parking or a tenant yet identified, would result in a return below the minimum feasible; and

WHEREAS, upon review of the record, the Board finds, in accordance with ZR § 72-21(b), that due to the history of the PCE use at the site and the site’s unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that a development in strict conformance with applicable zoning requirements will provide a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the subject legalization will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development or adjacent properties and will not be detrimental to the public welfare in accordance with ZR § 72-21(c); specifically, the PCE is wholly contained within an existing building on a busy commercial thoroughfare, has operated at the site continuously for about two (2) decades and the PCE use is consistent with other commercial uses and mixed-use buildings in the area, which, primarily, are residential buildings with commercial uses on lower floors; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 11, 2018, the Fire Department states that the fire alarm system and sprinkler systems have been inspected by units in the Bureau of Fire Prevention and found to be satisfactory; the Licensed Public Place of Assembly unit (“LPPA”) visited the subject site and issued violation order #E499048 for failure to obtain an operating permit; the Fire Department recommends that the Board render a decision on the application; and, if approval is given for this application, the Fire Department will enforce the violation order if found that the applicant of record fails to obtain approvals of the Alteration Type I (Alt. I # 321048451) and Place of Assembly application (PA #321057235); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject legalization will neither alter the essential character of the neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents, and the Board finds, that the hardship claimed as grounds for the variance was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title in accordance with ZR § 72-21(d); and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the subject legalization is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief because it is the only scenario that provides a reasonable return in line with the minimum desirable return expected from comparable development; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject legalization is the minimum necessary to afford the owner relief; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Environmental Assessment Statement (“EAS”) Short Form, CEQR No. 17-BSA-070K, dated January 20, 2017; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project, as currently proposed, would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Water and Sewer Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Negative Declaration, with conditions as stipulated below, prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91

THAT the term of the grant will expire on July 16, 2029;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT accessibility shall be provided pursuant to the standards set forth in applicable accessibility laws, including but not limited to Chapter 11 of the NYC Building Code, the 2009 American National Standards Institute (ANSI) A117.1 and Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT fire safety measures shall be maintained as indicated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT minimum 3 foot wide exit pathways shall be provided leading to the required exits and such pathways shall always be maintained unobstructed, including from any equipment;

THAT the above conditions shall be listed on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2017-20-BZ”) shall be obtained within one (1) year, by July 16, 2020;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE occupies 823 square feet of floor space in the cellar level, 904 square feet of floor area on the first floor and 3,617 square feet of floor area on the second floor and includes areas for reception, lockers, restrooms and exercise activities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE began operation in January 2009, as “Sedona Fitness for Women,” and has the following hours of operation: Monday through Saturday, 5:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., and Sunday, 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, while the PCE is located in a commercial building, and has operated at this location without reports of noise issues, sound attenuation measures have been installed to ensure that sound levels in other areas of the building do not exceed 45 dBA, including sound emanating from any sound system; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because the PCE is located on a busy commercial thoroughfare in an existing commercial building and located in an area characterized by buildings that are either fully occupied by commercial uses or are occupied by commercial uses on the lower levels; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because the PCE has operated in this location since January 2009 without complaint and anticipates that the PCE will be an asset to the community; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system will be installed in the building and an approved fire alarm system is installed and maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 12, 2019, the Fire Department (“FDNY”) states that these premises are currently protected by a fire alarm system that has been inspected and accepted by the Department; an inspection was performed by the Bureau’s Licensed Public Place of Assembly (“LPPA”) Unit and violations were issued for various infractions of the Fire Code and a re-inspection is being performed; the revised plans were reviewed and are acceptable and the Department has no objection to the Board’s rendering a decision on this application as the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect the premises and enforce any outstanding violation orders; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns regarding the appearance of a parking area in the rear of the building; and

WHEREAS, in response the applicant represented, and the Fire Department confirmed, that the area in the rear is an emergency egress passage and agreed to a condition that a four- (4) foot wide unobstructed walkway be maintained in that area to serve emergency egress purposes; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 73-03, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 18-BSA-107Q, dated March 7, 2018; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the PCE on the cellar level, first and second floors, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated November 15, 2017, the New York City Department of City Planning’s Waterfront and Open Space Division represents that the proposed project will not substantially hinder the achievement of any Waterfront Revitalization Program (“WRP”) policy and that this action is consistent with WRP policies; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 19, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on June 25, 2019, and July 23, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was in receipt of two (2) form letters in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of East 24th Street, between Avenue I and Avenue J, in an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along East 24th Street, 100 feet of depth, 4,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing two- (2) story plus cellar single-family dwelling with an FAR of 0.55 (2,204.14 square feet of floor area), an OSR of 1.26 (2,777 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 4’-1-1/2” and 8’-9” and a rear yard with a depth of 27’-3-1/8”; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an *enlargement*¹ of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

- (a) Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width

- of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
 - (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins. Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that this application located within an area in which the special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge a detached single-family residence, as contemplated by ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to both vertically and horizontally enlarge the building, resulting in a two- (2) story plus attic, cellar and sub-cellar single-family dwelling with an FAR of 1.0 (4,000 square feet of floor area), an OSR of 0.57 (2,261 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 4'-1-1/2" and 8'-9" and a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet at the first floor and 25 feet above; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement would increase the floor area on the first floor from 1,223 square feet to 1,707 square feet, the second floor from 981 square feet to 1,566 square feet, and the attic from 0 square feet to 727 square feet; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum FAR of 0.50 is permitted (2,000 square feet of floor area), and a minimum OSR of 1.5 (3,000 square feet of open space based on a complying 0.5 FAR), two (2) side yards with minimum widths of five (5) feet and 13 feet of total side yard, and a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet are required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461 and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement includes a vertical and horizontal extension of the existing non-complying northern side yard and the Board notes that, pursuant to a 1950 Sanborn Map including the subject site provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying side yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided an analysis of single- or two- (2) family dwellings located within 400 feet of the subject premises and within an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area") concluding that, of the 84 qualifying residences, 67 residences (80 percent) have an FAR of greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.3, and 9 residences (11 percent) have an FAR of 1.0 or greater; and

WHEREAS, with regards to open space ratio, the applicant demonstrated that, within the Study Area, 78 residences (93 percent) have an OSR less than 1.5, ranging from 1.48 to 0.36; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the rear yard depth, the applicant provided an analysis of rear yard conditions on the subject block, demonstrating that 28 dwellings located on interior lots (90 percent) have rear yards with a depth of less than 30 feet, with rear yard depths ranging from 29 feet to zero (0) feet, including the dwelling adjacent to the subject site, which has a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet; and

WHEREAS, over the course of hearings, the Board raised concern that the proposed building was too tall for the neighborhood and also requested that the applicant provide a deeper rear yard above the first floor; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant amended the plans to reduce the total height of the building to 35 feet and reduced the rear yard extension above the first floor to provide a 25-foot rear yard depth at the second floor and above; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 18-BSA-038K, dated September 28, 2019; and

WHEREAS, in light of the foregoing, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 73-622.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR § 73-622 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the enlargement of a single-family detached dwelling that does not comply with the zoning requirements with regards to floor area ratio open space ratio, side yards and rear yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461 and 23-47; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above-noted, filed with this application and marked Received “July 18, 2019”-Sixteen (16) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum of 1.0 FAR (4,000 square feet of floor area), a minimum OSR of 0.57 (2,261 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with minimum widths of 4’-1-1/2” and 8’-9” and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 20 feet at the first floor and 25 feet above, as illustrated on BSA-approved plans;

THAT the removal of exterior walls and/or joists in excess of those indicated on the BSA-approved plans is prohibited and shall void the special permit;

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated October 20, 2017, acting on New Building Application No. 121190059, reads in pertinent part:

ZR 23-662 Proposed street wall height along portions of the Avenue of the Americas frontage is below the minimum base height of 60 feet, contrary to ZR 23-662, paragraph (c)(1), and requires a variance from the Board of Standards and Appeals under ZR 72-21.

ZR 111-20 Proposed total floor area ratio exceeds the 5.0 FAR permitted in Area A1, contrary to ZR 111-20, paragraph (a), and requires a variance from the Board of Standards and Appeals under ZR 72-21; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in a C6-2A zoning district, within the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District and the Manhattan Core, the development of a seven-story, with cellar, mixed-use commercial and residential building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area and minimum street wall height, contrary to ZR §§ 23-662 and 111-20; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 26, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on August 21, 2018, November 8, 2018, March 26, 2019, May 21, 2019, and July 23, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Manhattan, recommends disapproval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a triangular lot located on the northwest corner of White Street and Sixth Avenue, in a C6-2A zoning district, within the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District and the Manhattan Core, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 70 feet of frontage along White Street, 119 feet of frontage along Sixth Avenue, 3,835 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an attended parking lot for up to 42 vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the site is located adjacent to a subway tunnel that runs along the site's Sixth Avenue frontage; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to "vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done," ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the applicant originally proposed to develop an eight-story, with cellar, mixed-use commercial and residential building with 23,059 square feet of floor area (6.01 FAR), including 20,618 square feet of residential floor area and 2,441 square feet of commercial floor area, 10 dwelling units, seven residential accessory parking spaces, and a curb cut located approximately 40 feet from the intersection of White Street and Sixth Avenue; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing and as discussed herein, the applicant revised this application to comply with parking and curb-cut regulations and eliminated one story from the building originally proposed, thereby decreasing the floor area of the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now proposes to develop a seven-story, with cellar, mixed-use residential and commercial building with 20,300 square feet of floor area (5.29 FAR), including 17,994 square feet of residential floor area and 2,306 square feet of commercial floor area, nine dwelling units with two accessory parking spaces, a minimum height of 15'-2" of the portion of the street wall along Sixth Avenue, and a curb cut located approximately 51 feet from the intersection of White Street and Sixth Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the following are unique physical conditions inherent in the zoning lot that create practical difficulties and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in strict compliance with applicable zoning regulations: small lot area and irregular shape; and

WHEREAS, with respect to uniqueness, the applicant surveyed the surrounding area and submitted a study demonstrating that, of 176 lots in the vicinity, the subject site is one of eight sites with less than 5,000 square feet of lot area, of which five are too small for independent development, leaving two other sites that are potentially similarly situated; and

WHEREAS, this uniqueness study also demonstrates that the subject site's shape is one of six sites with less than 4,000 square feet of lot area and an irregular triangular or trapezoidal shape with adjacent acute interior angles; and

WHEREAS, drawings furnished by the applicant reflect that an as-of-right development would consist of a seven-story mixed-use building that complies with bulk and parking regulations and would contain 19,154 square feet of floor area (5.0 FAR), including 16,489 square feet of residential floor area and 2,306 square feet of commercial floor area and nine dwelling units; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence demonstrating that the subject site's small lot area and irregular shape would beleaguer this as-of-right development by reducing usable area, by creating circulation constraints and hard-to-furnish acute corners in room interiors, and by increasing façade costs; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, an architectural diagram illustrates that an as-of-right building on a similarly sized lot with a rectangular shape would contain substantially more usable interior space; and

WHEREAS, in support of the applicant's originally proposed eight-story development, the applicant furnished a voluminous number of studies pertaining to the subject site's adjacency to a subway tunnel and the subway tunnel's asserted impact on the subject site, including a geotechnical report, a subway-tunnel uniqueness study, foundation plans, a foundation cost comparison, and supplements to the applicant's construction cost estimates and financial feasibility study; and

WHEREAS, however, as discussed at hearing, based on its expertise in the field of engineering, the Board is unpersuaded that the subject site faces practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship from its adjacency to a subway tunnel because the subject site's soil conditions would require micropiles regardless of the presence of a subway tunnel, thereby belying any hardship associated with a vibration isolation system or the cost of concrete; and

WHEREAS, the Board also directed the applicant to remove the originally proposed automatic parking system from this application because of its cost and disturbance of the integrity of the first-floor commercial space and the second-floor and third-floor apartments by segmenting these areas into odd configurations; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing and as discussed at hearing, the Board finds that the above unique physical conditions create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, because of the above unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility of realizing a reasonable return from developing the subject site in strict conformance with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a financial feasibility study demonstrating that an as-of-right development—consisting of a building with a complying 5.0 FAR—would result in a substantial loss on investment but that the proposed 5.29 FAR building would yield a return consistent with the minimum end of the range of acceptable market returns; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant notes that, even were construction costs reduced by approximately $2 million to exclude vibration isolation system and concrete costs, the return reflected by the proposed development would only rise a minimal amount and still reflects the low end of a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, because of the above unique physical conditions, there is no reasonable possibility that development in strict conformity with applicable zoning regulations would bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant studied the surrounding area, finding that the other three corners of the intersection on which the subject building fronts contain lots that permit an as-of-right maximum FAR of 6.02 and, further, that within 200 feet of the subject site, there are four (4) buildings with FARs ranging from 6.0 to 23.7; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further furnished an illustrative visibility study demonstrating that the massing of the proposed building comports with the built character of its environs; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 22, 2019, the Fire Department states that, if the Board grants a variance with respect to parking, plans for the automated parking system must be filed with and approved by the Fire Department and DOB's Office of Technical Certification and Research; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, more specifically, the applicant notes that the subject site was created by the 1930 southward extension of Sixth Avenue that cut through the subject block; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit productive use of the site, as reflected in the financial feasibility study; and

WHEREAS, in particular, in response to questions from the Board, the applicant submitted evidence that a 5.0 FAR building with only a setback waiver would not result in a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, over the course of hearings, the applicant revised the project to reduce the extent of the FAR waiver sought, from 6.01 FAR to the proposed 5.29 FAR, and eliminated the need for waivers of zoning requirements relating to parking and curb cuts; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment ("EAS") CEQR No. 18BSA058M, received July 18, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning, and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design and Visual Resources; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Water and Sewer Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated March 22, 2019, the Landmarks Preservation Commission represents that the project would not result in adverse impacts with respect to architectural or archaeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 2, 2019, the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that it has determined that the proposal would not result in either potential significant adverse noise or air quality impacts on condition that windows be installed with sound attenuation of 35 dBA in an enclosed condition with alternative means of ventilation; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated May 23, 2019, the Department of Parks and Recreation states that the proposal would not have any adverse impact with respect to shadows; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 10, 2019, DEP recommends that, based on prior on-site or surrounding-area land uses that could result in environmental contamination, an (E) designation (No. E-544) for hazardous materials shall be placed on the site to ensure that testing and mitigation will be provided as necessary before any future development or soil disturbance and that further hazardous-materials assessments shall be coordinated through the Mayor's Office of Environmental Remediation; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated July 16, 2019, the Department of City Planning's Waterfront Open Space Division states that the proposal will not substantially hinder the achievement of any Waterfront Revitalization Program policy; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type I Negative Declaration determination prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in a C6-2A zoning district, within the Special Tribeca Mixed Use District and the Manhattan Core, the development of a seven-story, with cellar, mixed-use commercial and residential building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area and minimum street wall height, contrary to ZR §§ 23-662 and 111-20; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received July 22, 2019”-Thirteen (13) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 20,300 square feet of floor area (5.29 FAR), including 17,994 square feet of residential floor area and 2,306 square feet of commercial floor area, and a minimum height of 15’-2” of the portion of the street wall along Sixth Avenue, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT plans for any automated parking system shall be filed and approved by the Department of Buildings and Fire Department prior to the start of construction;

THAT windows shall be installed with sound attenuation of 35 dBA in an enclosed condition with alternative means of ventilation;

THAT an (E) designation (No. E-544) for hazardous materials shall be placed on the site to ensure that testing and mitigation will be provided as necessary before any future development or soil disturbance, and further hazardous-materials assessments shall be coordinated through the Mayor’s Office of Environmental Remediation;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2017-298-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by July 23, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i) of the Board's Rules

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks an amendment to legalize interior alterations to the site, including the replacement of the interior repair shop space to offices, and to remove incidental painting from the certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant does not propose to enlarge, extend or relocate the existing accessory building, which has existed in its current dimensions and location on the site since the Board's original grant of the variance in 1922, and, instead, proposes to legalize interior alterations the existing building as is permitted pursuant to ZR § 11-412; and

WHEREAS, over the course of public hearings, the Board raised concerns regarding the nature of use at the subject site—a garage for the storage of cars for sale by a nearby dealership as well as readying of cars for sale by said dealership—and sought clarification; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant represented that the nearby dealership uses the garage as so stated and agreed to conditions restricting the use of the site specific to the preparing of cars for sale by the dealership and prohibiting the use of the site from cars not to be sold by the dealership or already sold by the dealership; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 5, 2019, the Fire Department states that a review of their records indicates that the subject site is current with its permits for the storage of combustible liquids and fuel storage, and the Bureau of Fire Prevention has no objection to the application; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that the requested waiver of the Board's Rules, reinstatement of the variance and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby waive § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i) of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure and, pursuant to ZR §§ 11-411 and 11-412, reinstates and amends a previously-granted variance to permit, on a site located within an R5 (C1-2) zoning district, the operation of a garage with motor vehicle repair shop, offices and storage and lawful uses accessory thereto, on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this

Repairs or incidental alterations may be made and in appropriate cases the authorizing agency may permit structural alterations, extensions or enlargements limited to the zoning lot that was granted a variance, exception or permit prior to December 15, 1961. However, the use of any building or other structure shall not be extended, and the building or other structure shall not be enlarged, in excess of 50 percent of the floor area of such building (or size of such structure) occupied or utilized by the use on December 15, 1961, and, except as otherwise provided in Article VII, no structural alterations, extensions or enlargements shall be authorized for a new non-conforming use authorized under the provisions of Section 11-413 (Change of use); and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the 69 square foot addition to the existing accessory building, which contained approximately 1,609 square feet of floor area, is less than 50 percent of the floor area of the building occupied by such use on December 15, 1961, and, thus, the legalization complies with ZR § 11-412; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 16, 2018, the New York City Department of City Planning ("DCP"), Staten Island Office, states that, at the subject site, zoning requires a curb cut to be located lot less than 50 feet from the intersection of any two (2) street lines, both in Residential Districts regarding group parking facilities (ZR

§ 25-63) and Commercial Districts (ZR § 36-53); the 28-foot wide curb cut does not meet this requirement as it is within 19.5 feet of the intersection of Hylan Boulevard and Arbutus Avenue; DCP recommends that this 28-foot curb cut be eliminated from the "proposed conditions" plans for safety and in order to increase compliance with zoning to the greatest extent possible—eliminating this curb cut would not limit vehicular circulation as the adjacent existing curb cut on Arbutus Avenue already provides ingress and egress from that portion of the site and complies with the requirement in the Special South Richmond Development District that limits curb cuts on arterial roads such as Hylan Boulevard; and, DCP recommends that full curbs and sidewalks be constructed according to the applicant's plans (without the 28-foot curb cut) to resolve inaccuracies in the applicant's plans, facilitate safe pedestrian and vehicular access and circulation, and comply with zoning to the greatest extent practicable; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant amended the plans to remove said 28-foot curb cut; and

WHEREAS, over the course of public hearings, the Board raised concerns regarding the presence of tire storage on the proposed plans and the maintenance of the site free of debris and with fencing in good condition; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant amended the plans to remove tire storage from the site and provided pictures demonstrating the site clean of debris and the fencing replaced with solid vinyl fencing in satisfaction of the Board; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 26, 2019, the Fire Department states that a review of their records indicates that the subject site is current with its permits for the storage of combustible liquids, leak detection equipment, underground storage tank and the fire suppression (dry-chemical) system; the accessory repair facilities were also inspected and found to be in compliance with the Fire Department rules and regulations and the agency has no objection to the subject application; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that the requested waivers of the Board's Rules, reinstatement of the variance and amendment are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby waive § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i) of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure and, pursuant to ZR §§ 11-411 and 11-412, reinstates and amends a previously-granted variance, issued on May 12, 1931, under BSA Cal. WHEREAS, over the course of hearings, the Board was in receipt of testimony and, upon Board recommendation, complaint logs from residential tenants of the subject site and raised concerns regarding said complaints of noise and vibration disturbance from the PCE operation to residential tenants above the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, in response, the PCE engaged a sound engineer to evaluate the impact to the residential units during music and weight drop testing in the PCE space who recommended that music be played only by non-wall mounted speakers and thick dimpled rubber mats be installed and maintained under the existing flat rubber mats; and

WHEREAS, the PCE subsequently provided photos of the installed mats and sound limiter on non-wall mounted speakers and the Board was in receipt of no additional complaint logs nor testimony in opposition to the subject application; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 73-03, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southwest corner of 146th Avenue and 231st Street, in an R3-1 zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along 146th Avenue, 100 feet of frontage along 231st Street, 4,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing single-family detached residence; and

For a complying or non-complying building existing on December 15, 1961, or in R2X, R3, R4 or R5 Districts on June 30, 1989, and containing residential uses, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an enlargement, a change of use or (in the case of a mixed building) an extension, provided that such enlargement, change of use or extension shall not create any new non-compliance or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance except as provided in this Section.

In the districts and for the buildings for which an open space ratio is required, the open space ratio permitted under this Section shall not be less than 90 percent of the open space ratio required under the applicable bulk regulations set forth in Article II or III of this Resolution. In the districts and for the buildings to which a maximum lot coverage applies, the maximum lot coverage permitted under this Section shall not exceed 110 percent of the maximum lot coverage permitted under the applicable bulk regulations set forth in Article II or III of this Resolution. In all districts, the floor area ratio permitted under this Section shall not exceed the floor area ratio permitted under such regulations by more than 10 percent. In R2X, R3 or R4 Districts, the additional floor area permitted pursuant to this Section may be computed using a base floor area ratio including the floor area permitted under a sloping roof with a structural headroom between five and eight feet when such space is provided in the building; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the applicant submits that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing residential building that existed on June 30, 1989, as contemplated in ZR § 73-621; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant furnished certificates of occupancy for the subject building from 1954 and 1970; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing residence from 1,986 square feet of floor area (0.5 FAR) to 2,181 square feet of floor area (0.55 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, floor area may not exceed 2,000 square feet (0.5 FAR) under ZR § 23-142; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant represents that the proposed floor area does not exceed the floor area permitted as of right by more than 10 percent; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed building as enlarged is consistent with the built character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the

applicant submitted a photographic streetscape study and a neighborhood land-use study demonstrating that the modest enlargement at the rear of the subject building fits in with the built conditions of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, by determination dated October 5, 2018, DOB states that it has “no objection to this community residence being occupied as a one family dwelling (J-3/R-3) occupancy group, based on DOB memo issued March 10, 1980 by Commissioner Irwin Fruchtmann, P.E., for this altered building application”; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19BSA035Q, dated September 17, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-621 and 73-03 to permit, in an R3-1 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, contrary to ZR § 23-142; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received July 19, 2019”-Seven (7) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: floor area shall be limited to 2,181 square feet of floor area (0.55 FAR), as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2018-149-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by July 23, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, July 23, 2019.

623, 73-03 and 72-21 to permit, in an R5 zoning district, the development of a five-story, with cellar, residential building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, front yards, height and setbacks, side setbacks and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 23-142, 23-22, 23-45, 23-631, 23-632 and 25-251; and

WHEREAS, this application is filed on behalf of WellLife Network Inc. (the “Applicant”), a not-for-profit developer of affordable housing whose mission is to provide housing and shelter for low-income populations and those in need of supportive social services; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant has provided housing and support services to over 2,000 individuals in the City of New York and on Long Island; has operated its diverse affordable-housing programs for more than 36 years; and has also partnered with CSD Housing, LLC, a development consultant, to ensure the practicability and feasibility of developing the proposed building in accordance with the Applicant’s mission; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 26, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearing on June 11, 2019, and then to decision on July 23, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Ottley-Brown performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, residents of the surrounding area submitted testimony in support of this application and in opposition to this application, citing concerns with parking, the size of the proposed building, privacy for adjacent residences, crime, litter, overcrowding of schools, property values and neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of Cypress Avenue and 59th Street, in an R5 zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 218 feet of frontage along Cypress Avenue, 42 feet of frontage along 59th Street, 18,546 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an unfinished three-story building slated for demolition; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant proposes to develop a five-story, with cellar, residential building with 45,075 square feet of floor area (2.43 FAR); 66 dwelling units; front yards with depths of 17’-1” along the northern portion of 59th Street, 1’-0” along the eastern unbuilt portion of 59th Street and 10’-0” along Cypress Avenue; along Cypress Avenue, a street wall height of 37’-9” with a setback of 12’-6” and a building height of 47’-9”; along 59th Street, a street wall and building height of 47’-9” without setback; no side setback for the portion of the building above 33’-0”; and 13 off-street accessory parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns and at the Board’s request, the proposed site plan reflects a number of changes from its original design, including the following: a densely landscaped buffer area with tall trees and lower-lying bushes to the west of the proposed building to serve as a visual amenity to neighboring residents and to ensure residents’ privacy; a residential-style metal picket fence wrapping around the western portion of the subject site without gates; and street trees within the bed of 59th Street along the entire perimeter of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant also modified the design of the subject building to comply with zoning regulations for open space and planting and to reduce the height of the building from six stories to five stories; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant represents that, at the subject site, floor area may not exceed 23,182 square feet (1.25 FAR) under ZR § 23-142; there may be no more than 31 dwelling units under ZR § 23-22; front yards must have minimum depths of 10 feet or, where the depth exceeds 10 feet, a minimum depth of 18 feet under ZR § 23-45; street wall heights may not exceed 30 feet with a minimum setback of 15 feet above the street wall and a maximum height above base plane of 40 feet under ZR § 23-631; there must be a side setback of at least 7’-4.5” at 33 feet above base plane under ZR § 23-632; and 28 accessory off-street parking spaces are required under ZR § 25-251; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-623 provides:

For developments or enlargements of Quality Housing buildings in which at least 50 percent of the dwelling units are income-restricted housing units, or at least 50 percent of its total floor area is a long-term care facility or philanthropic or non-profit institution with sleeping accommodation, the Board of Standards and Appeals may modify the underlying bulk regulations, other than floor area ratio, provided that in no event shall such building height or the number of stories therein exceed those set forth in paragraph (b) of Section 23-664 (Modified height and setback regulations for certain Inclusionary Housing buildings or affordable independent residences for seniors), and provided that the Board finds that:

- (a) there are physical conditions, including irregularity, narrowness or shallowness of lot size or shape, or topographical features that create practical difficulties in complying with the bulk regulations for Quality Housing buildings and would adversely affect the building configuration or site plan;
- (b) the practical difficulties of developing on the zoning lot have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title;
- (c) the proposed modifications will not unduly obstruct access of light and air to adjoining properties or streets;
- (d) the proposed scale and placement of the development or enlargement relates harmoniously with the surrounding area; and
- (e) the requested modification is the least amount necessary to relieve such practical difficulties.

The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submitted evidence that 50 percent or more of the dwelling units in the proposed building constitute “income-restricted housing units” under the Zoning Resolution because 100 percent of said units are proposed as permanently income-restricted; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant further notes that the proposed building does not exceed total height or the number of stories set forth in ZR § 23-664(b); and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the subject site has an irregular shape that constrains floorplates and creates practical difficulties in complying with applicable bulk regulations for Quality Housing buildings; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant submitted as-of-right drawings demonstrating that a complying building would have limited floorplates that would only support a total of 26 dwelling units and have an adversely affected site plan because of zoning regulations for front yards, height and setback, side setbacks and parking; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the above physical conditions create practical difficulties in complying with applicable bulk regulations for Quality Housing buildings that adversely affect an as-of-right building’s configuration or site plan; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the above practical difficulties are not self-created; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties inherent in developing the zoning lot have not been created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the proposed building will not unduly interfere with the provision of light and air to adjacent sites or streets; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant notes that the proposed building provides a landscaped buffer area with a depth of 20 feet along the western lot line and that the proposed site plan is arranged to place the massing of the proposed building closer to the unimproved portion of 59th Street with additional landscaping located along the eastern lot line in the form of a planting area as well as the provision of street trees; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant notes that the subject site is adjacent to open cemeteries to the north, east and south that will not have light or air adversely affected by the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed modifications will not unduly obstruct access of light and air to adjoining properties or streets; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the proposed building maintains a harmonious relationship with the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant notes that the proposed building is surrounded by cemeteries on three sides, that the unimproved portion of 59th Street serves as an additional buffer between the subject site and surrounding uses and that the landscaped area along the western lot line with decorative fencing ensures that the privacy of adjacent residences will be maintained while providing a visual amenity to residents of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant submitted a study of the surrounding area demonstrating that the height of the proposed building is consistent with the built character of residential buildings in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant also modified the design of the proposed building to remove the rooftop parapet, employing a decorative open railing to reduce the visual impact of the proposed building’s height; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed scale and placement of the proposed building relates harmoniously with the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that the requested modifications are the least necessary to relieve the above practical difficulties; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant submitted a study detailing its programmatic needs as a developer of affordable housing (the “Programmatic Needs Report”) and drawings for an as-of-right building that reflect that the proposed modifications are the minimum necessary to afford relief; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the Applicant further submitted evidence that neither increasing the depth of the front yard along the unimproved portion of 59th Street nor providing additional sub-grade parking spaces would be feasible; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the requested modifications are the least necessary to relieve the above practical difficulties; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that the beneficial use of the proposed building will outweigh any potential disadvantages to the community at large; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant submitted a parking study demonstrating that the proposed building will have a peak parking demand of 13 spaces during the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., which will be accommodated by the 13 off-street accessory parking spaces proposed; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant further notes that, because of the distance of the subject building from public transit, the Applicant proposes a shuttle to transport passengers to public transit that will operate with increased frequency during periods of peak demand and that will further provide access to overflow parking at a lot located at 450 Wyckoff Avenue, Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submitted a draft restrictive declaration to be recorded against the subject property that provides, in pertinent part, that “[a] shuttle service will be provided from the Premises to public transportation, which will operate with peak and off-peak hours” to ensure the continued operation of the proposed shuttle service; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk and parking regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk and parking regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that there are unique physical conditions inherent in the subject site—namely its irregular shape—that create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable bulk regulations by constraining the floorplates of an as-of-right building; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that an as-of-right building would only accommodate 26 dwelling units for use as affordable housing, which would not meet the Applicant’s programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant provided the Programmatic Needs Report, detailing its programmatic needs as a developer of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the Programmatic Needs Report demonstrates that the Applicant must build a minimum of 66 units of affordable housing in a development with a total floor area of approximately 45,074 square feet (2.43 FAR) to meet its programmatic needs and satisfy public financing criteria and related regulatory and policy guidelines; and

WHEREAS, primarily, however, the Applicant relies on an extension of the deference afforded educational and religious institutions under the law of the State of New York as to zoning, known as the Cornell Doctrine, that obviates the need for the Board to find “unique physical conditions,” ZR § 72-21, to not-for-profit affordable developers seeking bulk waivers to facilitate the development of projects that provide 100 percent affordable housing to low-income earners for the life of the building; and

WHEREAS, Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 NY2d 583 (1986) holds that, while zoning boards retain discretion, educational or religious institutions’ land use applications are generally to be granted unless they can be shown to have a net negative impact on the health, safety or welfare of the community, though general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood, for instance, are insufficient grounds upon which to deny such applications; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submitted a thorough analysis of the origins of the Cornell Doctrine demonstrating a natural link between public policies aimed at protecting houses of worship and schools and those aimed at facilitating the development of housing for low-income earners, people with disabilities and the formerly homeless; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the Applicant asserts that the provision of affordable housing, much like that of educational institutions and houses of worship, is in furtherance of the public health, safety, welfare and morals and a fundamental interest of the state, as evidenced by a 1965 amendment to the New York State Constitution that authorized the legislature to provide for “low rent housing and nursing home accommodations for persons of low income as defined by law,” New York Constitution, article XVIII, § 1; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that both New York City and State have long recognized the importance of accessibility to safe and high-quality affordable housing, as further evidenced by the New York State Tenement House Act of 1901, which banned the construction of dark and poorly ventilated tenement buildings and required that newly constructed tenement buildings be built with outward facing windows in every room, open courtyards, indoor toilets and fire safeguards; the Multiple Dwelling Law of 1929, which established proper housing standards requiring sufficient light, air, sanitation and protection from fire hazards essential to the public welfare; the New York City Housing Authority, created in 1934 to provide housing for low- and moderate-income residents and currently the largest public housing authority in North America; the Mitchell-Lama Housing Program, created by the New York State Legislature in 1955 to provide affordable rental and cooperative housing to moderate- and middle-income residents; and the Loft Law, an article of the Multiple Dwelling Law enacted in 1982 requiring residential conversions of commercial and manufacturing buildings to comply with minimum housing standards in order to ensure the health and safety of the buildings’ residential tenants; and

WHEREAS, in the 1980s, the federal government expanded the availability and use of Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers, utilized by very low-income families, the elderly and the disabled to acquire safe housing in the private housing market, and introduced the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit program, which gives state and local agencies authority to issue tax credits for costs associated with the acquisition, rehabilitation or construction of rental housing for low-income earners, while New York City Mayor Edward Koch’s administration initiated and enforced tax foreclosures on properties that were one year or more in tax arrears in an effort to increase public revenue after the fiscal crisis of 1977—an act that made the City of New York the largest owner of land within the City of New York with title to more than 100,000 vacant and partly occupied apartments—and eventually designated $5.1 billion in city and federal funds to rebuild entire neighborhoods as part of Koch’s Ten-Year Affordable Housing Plan (1986-1996); and

WHEREAS, in the 1990s, New York City Mayors David Dinkins and Rudolph Giuliani’s administrations extended the City’s commitment to Mayor Koch’s affordable housing plan, which led to the rehabilitation and development of over 180,000 units between 1987 and 2000; and

WHEREAS, New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg's administration also made commitments to creating and preserving affordable housing with the New Housing Marketplace Plan (July 2003), which originally committed $3.4 billion to build and preserve 68,000 affordable housing units by 2008, but doubled its goal in February 2006 with $7.5 billion dedicated to build and preserve 165,000 affordable housing units over the next ten years; and

WHEREAS, in 2014, current New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio introduced the Housing New York, a five-borough ten-year plan aiming to create and preserve 200,000 affordable housing units by 2024 through, among other initiatives, encouraging the development of affordable housing on underutilized public and private sites, promoting housing for seniors and the formerly homeless and creating the Mandatory Inclusionary Housing program, which, per ZR § 24-92, was "established to promote the creation and preservation of housing for residents with varied incomes in redeveloping neighborhoods and to enhance neighborhood diversity and thus to promote the general welfare," (emphasis added) and requires that a certain proportion of new housing developed in connection with certain zoning actions be permanently affordable; and

WHEREAS, in spite of these professed policy goals, the Applicant asserts that the City of New York is in the midst of an affordable housing crisis due to, among other things, incredible population growth; a demand for low- and moderate-income affordable housing units that outpaces the supply of those units and, relatedly, a rise in residential rents that outpaces income growth; the steady decrease in the number of rent controlled and rent stabilized (collectively, "rent regulated") units; and the aversion of residents located near proposed low-income affordable housing developments to such projects out of fear that such developments will decrease area property values and adversely affect the neighborhood's quality of life, a response that often leads to the abandonment of those projects; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant notes that the New York City Rent Guidelines Board, charged with establishing rent increases for the dwelling units subject to the Rent Stabilization Law, found that, since 1994, nearly 250,000 units of rental housing have been removed from rent regulation protection, resulting in a net loss of 16 percent of the total stock of rent regulated affordable housing units from 1994 to 2012; in addition, many buildings, for which the regulatory requirement to be available at affordable rents has expired, have opted out of affordability programs and opted, instead, to pursue market rate or homeownership options, leading to a loss of another 68,000 units of affordable housing from the four largest subsidy programs; and

WHEREAS, in furtherance of their submission that the provision of affordable housing for low-income earners is generally, like education and free exercise of religion, in furtherance of the public health, safety, welfare and morals, the Applicant notes that when residents have to spend a large percentage of their income on housing, less money is available for those residents' other basic living needs like food or healthcare, which can lead to negative health outcomes, particularly for people with disabilities; the insufficient supply of low-income affordable housing also results in overcrowded housing and familial instability, necessitating frequent moves and increases in the rate of homelessness; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that providing low-income affordable housing units sufficient to meet the demand, thereby meeting residents' most basic need for shelter, enables residents to more actively participate in the local economy, acquire other life essentials like nutritious food and medicine, access more stable employment opportunities and altogether improves residents' quality of life; and

WHEREAS, when such housing is provided by mission-based not-for-profit institutions, in particular, the Applicant avers that these positive outcomes are more assured because of the developer's focus on the residents rather than financial profit and because the mission of the not-for-profit housing developer is to build, manage and maintain affordable housing and not package it for resale or for the building's future "upside" potential, as would be the goal for a for-profit developer; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that additional methods of facilitating the development of affordable housing for low-income residents, such as the proposed extension of the Cornell Doctrine herein, are necessary to close the gap between the supply and demand for low-income affordable housing since, unlike market rate or mixed-income (market rate units combined with affordable units at varying degrees of affordability) housing development projects, low-income affordable housing can only be developed in reliance on government grants and subsidies and on adequate unit counts that facilitate economies of scale; and

WHEREAS, while the Board recognizes that the record does not reflect any instance in which New York State courts have declined to extend or apply the Cornell Doctrine to a 100 percent low-income affordable housing development, the Board notes instances in which New York State courts have applied the doctrine with the flexibility and factual specificity inherent in land use decisions including Matter of Unitarian Universalist Church of Central Nassau v. Shorten, 63 Misc 2d 978 (Sup Ct Nassau County 1970) (ruling that a day care center housed in an existing church, but operated by a separate not-for-profit corporation, was religious activity protected by the First Amendment because it shared a site with a house of worship and did not require a special permit, the application for which was denied, both because the Village zoning ordinance necessitating the special permit conflicted with and hindered State law and policy that favored the creation of facilities suitable for the care of pre-school and primary school aged children);

McGann v. Village of Old Westbury, 186 Misc 2d 661 (Sup Ct Nassau County 2000) aff'd 293 AD2d 581 (2d Dept 2002) (off-site Roman Catholic cemetery constituted a “religious use” entitled to deference based on, among other things, evidence that cemeteries are places of worship in their own right in Roman Catholic theology); East Hampton Library v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Village of East Hampton, 31 Misc 3d 1231(A), 2011 NY Slip Op 50921(U) (Sup Ct Suffolk County 2011) (land use applications filed to facilitate a library operated by the University of the State of New York were entitled to educational deference both because the library was chartered by an institute of higher education and because it provided numerous instructional programs, classes, lectures and lessons, which are all educational in nature); and

WHEREAS, the Board additionally notes instances in which the Board, itself, has extended the Cornell Doctrine to permit the enlargement of hospitals associated with degree-granting educational institutions, including New York Presbyterian Hospital (BSA Cal. No. 325-12-BZ) (June 11, 2013), Mount Sinai Hospital (BSA Cal. No. 170-13-BZ) (September 10, 2013), Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases (BSA Cal. No. 183-11-BZ) (June 19, 2012), and St. Barnabas Hospital (BSA Cal. No. 246-08-BZ) (May 19, 2009); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the purpose of the extension of the Cornell Doctrine in the context of facilitating the development of housing units affordable for extremely low-, very low- and low-income earners is that in the absence of the requested bulk waivers, the Applicant is unable to provide enough units to make the development financially viable and will ultimately create zero affordable housing units; mixed-income housing developments, in contrast, utilize market rate and moderate-income housing units to subsidize the low-income units, often obviating any need for government assistance in the form of financial subsidies or zoning relief; and

WHEREAS, thus, the Board finds that its cabining of the extension of the Cornell Doctrine to facilitate only the development of 100 percent low-income affordable housing for the life of the development will not create a slippery slope because the extension is so narrowly defined both in terms of the use for which it may be applied and the emergency the deference is meant to address—the crisis-level insufficiency of housing units in New York City that are actually affordable for low-income earners; and

WHEREAS, according to the Association for Neighborhood and Housing Development (“ANHD”), an umbrella organization of 100 not-for-profit affordable housing development groups serving New York City, in 2015, extremely low- to low-income earners (those earning 10-100 percent area median income (“AMI”)) made up 67 percent of New York City’s population with extremely low-income earners (those earning 10-30 percent AMI) constituting 27 percent of New York City’s population overall, very low- to low-income earners (those earning 40-80 percent AMI) making up 30 percent of New York City’s population overall and low moderate-income earners (those earning 90-100 percent AMI) making up only approximately 9 percent of New York City’s population overall; and

WHEREAS, thus, extremely low- to low-income residents, 57 percent of New York City’s residents, suffer the most from the housing crisis and developments proposed to provide low-income affordable housing are most often subjected to strong opposition by existing residents, in much the same way that protectionist residents oppose houses of worship and educational facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Board recognizes the natural link between the public policy initiatives that have been put in place over decades by various levels of government aimed at supporting and defending religious and educational institutions and the development of buildings designed to facilitate those institutions’ goals and that similar public policy initiatives have been aimed at housing the homeless and the underprivileged and encouraging the provision of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the provision of affordable housing, especially low-income housing that is truly affordable, has been a major priority for New York City, State and federal administrations; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board finds unequivocally, that to prevent abuse—i.e., reliance on the Cornell Doctrine to facilitate projects that include any amount of market rate housing or less than 100 percent affordable housing for low-income persons for the life of the building—the extension of the doctrine must be restricted to (1) not-for-profit entities, (2) with an extensive history of developing and managing 100 percent low-income affordable housing, (3) for developments with restricted rents that are, in their entirety, targeted to extremely low-, very low- and low- income earners, (4) that will remain rent-restricted to such earners for the life of the development; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board states that the expansion of the Cornell Doctrine considered herein would not be available for projects that will not remain 100 percent affordable for the life of the development (i.e. are only required to remain affordable subject to a termed regulatory agreement) or to for-profit developers where only a portion of the development will qualify as low-income affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the expansion of the Cornell Doctrine, for cases like this application is one way to respond to the clear housing emergency presently facing New York City; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Board notes that the expansion of the Cornell Doctrine considered herein is intended to balance the need for affordable housing and the extreme shortage of units in New York City directed to households at or below 60 percent AMI with the potential impact of such developments on the surrounding community; and

WHEREAS, in this case the Applicant has a very long history of developing and managing 100 percent affordable housing for low-income New Yorkers and its primary focus

as an institution is in providing and maintaining this kind of low-income housing; it is also important that under this application, the proposed housing will remain affordable for the life of the development, otherwise bulk variances would not be appropriate because they last for the life of the building; and

WHEREAS, therefore, for all of the reasons set forth herein, the Board finds that it is appropriate to extend the Cornell Doctrine to this application as proposed herein; and

WHEREAS, because the Board finds that the Applicant, as a not-for-profit developer of 100 percent low-income affordable housing to be kept affordable to low-income earners for the life of the development, is entitled to deference similarly afforded to educational and religious institutions under the law of the State of New York as to zoning, the Applicant is able to rely on its programmatic needs in support of the subject variance application; and

WHEREAS, as with religious and educational institutions, not-for-profit entities that wish to avail themselves of this extension of the Cornell Doctrine to not-for-profit 100 percent low-income housing developments will be required to demonstrate that the waivers requested are directly related to the public policy goal justifying the expansion and the entity's programmatic needs—to wit, the provision of 100 percent low-income housing units—and that the waivers requested are the minimum necessary to ensure a viable project that meets State and City requirements for subsidies; and

WHEREAS, further, the Applicant has not demonstrated a practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship resulting from a unique physical condition at the site that could support the grant of additional waivers to support a programmatic preference that falls outside of the provision of affordable housing for low-income earners; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that the proposed building has been designed based on its experience in developing low-income affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant asserts that an as-of-right development at the site, consisting of 26 units instead of the 66 proposed in this application, is untenable because buildings with such low low-income affordable unit counts are unlikely to be funded and, without such funding, built; additionally, by constructing more units, the Applicant is able to obtain government funding from additional sources and, thus, develop a 100 percent affordable supportive housing project for low-income earners at the site; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant's consultant asserts that the per unit cost of the as-of-right development at the site is exceptionally high and fails to meet the income-to-expense ratio that makes obtaining financing for the development—and thus, its eventual construction and operation—possible; and

WHEREAS, based on the above, the Board finds that because the subject proposal is a 100 percent low-income housing development that will remain affordable to low-income households for the life of the building, that the project is proposed to be developed by an experienced not-for-profit developer and because the waivers requested are directly related to the public policy goal of the provision of 100 percent low-income housing units, the subject proposal is entitled to deference under the herein expanded Cornell Doctrine, hence no finding of unique physical conditions, practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship need be found; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant states that, because the Applicant is a not-for-profit organization and the variance is necessary to accommodate its mission to provide affordable housing, the Board need not find that there is no reasonable possibility that strict conformity with applicable zoning regulations would bring a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that the proposed development would not affect neighborhood character or impair the use or development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Applicant provided a neighborhood character study demonstrating that the subject site is an irregularly shaped lot uniquely situated at the edge of the subject neighborhood with cemeteries located along three of its sides and that the height of the proposed development comports with other residential buildings in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns and questions from the Board, the Applicant also modified the design of the proposed development by reducing the building height and replacing the proposed rooftop parapets with open railings to reduce the vertical massing; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the Board's accessibility concerns regarding a ramp originally proposed at the rear entrance of the building, the Applicant submits that the above height reduction was enabled by placing the first story at grade to increase the accessibility of the building design without the need for a ramp, which in turn allowed further shifting of the building mass away from surrounding residences toward the unbuilt portion of 59th Street so as to decrease the building's visual bulk; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant further notes that the subject site's adjacency to the unbuilt portion of 59th Street provides additional spacing from surrounding uses; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant also proposes a densely landscaped buffer area with tall trees and lower-lying bushes to the west of the proposed building to serve as a visual amenity to neighboring residents and to ensure residents' privacy; a residential-style metal picket fence wrapping around the western portion of the subject site without gates; and street trees within the bed of 59th Street along the entire perimeter of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Applicant submits that the proposed site plan would allow the unbuilt portion of 59th Street to remain closed to address residents' traffic concerns, the parking study indicates that the parking demand will be accommodated on-site and will be further addressed by use of a shuttle service, residents of the proposed building will be members of the community and will not increase crime, fencing and landscaping will address privacy concerns and will be maintained to prevent any accumulation of litter, there are expected to be 10–15 families with school-age children residing in the building which would not result in overcrowding of schools in the area, productive use of the subject site is expected to enhance the community and attendant property values and the Applicant's experience as a non-profit developer of affordable housing demonstrate its support and commitment to the community; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submits that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the Applicant submitted evidence that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site, as reflected in the Programmatic Needs Report; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 19BSA040Q, dated July 23, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated July 24, 2018, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC") represents that the proposed project would not result in any adverse impacts on architectural or archaeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated December 4, 2018, LPC represents that the proposed project would not result in any adverse impacts with respect to shadows; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 10, 2019, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts in regards to noise on condition that the proposed project's HVAC equipment comply with the New York City Noise Code, that a composite window-wall attenuation of 31 dBA be required for the south, west and east building facades and that an alternate means of ventilation be required and incorporated into building design and construction; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-623, 73-03 and 72-21 and that the Applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-623, 73-03 and 72-21 to permit, in an R5 zoning district, the development of a five-story, with cellar, residential building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, front yards, height and setbacks, side setbacks and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 23-142, 23-22, 23-45, 23-631, 23-632 and 25-251; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received July 23, 2019"-Fifteen (15) sheets; and on further condition:

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated October 17, 2018, acting on New Building Application No. 520328244, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed roof parking . . . is contrary to section 44-11 of the NYC Zoning Resolution and requires a special permit from the Board of Standards and Appeals pursuant to ZR 73-49”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-49 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-1 zoning district, parking on the roof of a proposed accessory parking garage, contrary to ZR § 44-11; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 7, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on May 21, 2019, June 4, 2019, July 16, 2019, and then to decision on July 23, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Staten Island, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of South Avenue, in an M1-1 zoning district, in Staten Island; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 557 feet of frontage along South Avenue, 666 square feet of frontage along Teleport Drive to the south, 502 feet of frontage along Teleport Drive to the west, 373,838 square feet of lot area and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since February 26, 2019, when, under BSA Calendar Number 2018-107-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the development of a mixed-use community-facility and commercial building for use as a school (Use Group 3) on the first, third, fourth and fifth floors that does not comply with zoning regulations for use on condition that the applicant work with the Department of Transportation to ensure school safety and make whatever changes are recommended by the Department of

Transportation to improve and ensure the safety of school children; that, at the fourth floor, the corridor that gives onto the School's elementary classrooms designated 415, 416, 417 and 421—illustrated on sheet BSA-204 of the Board-approved drawings—be separated with double doors that swing in the direction of egress that are locked and equipped with panic hardware to meet applicable fire-egress requirements so as to ensure and provide security and isolate that corridor of the School building; that the gate on the loading berth be kept closed during all arrivals and departures of children; that elevator S2 be dedicated to school use without access by other tenants in the building; that security controls as indicated on the Board-approved drawings be implemented; that sound attenuation be installed in the school building, as indicated on the Board-approved plans; and that traffic improvement measures be implemented, as described in Tech Memo 002; and

In C2-1, C2-2, C2-3, C2-4, C4-1, C4-2, C4-3, C4-4, C7, C8-1, C8-2, C8-3, M1-1, M1-2, M1-3, M2-1, M2-2 or M3-1 Districts, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit the parking or storage of motor vehicles on the roof of a public parking garage with a total of 150 spaces or less and, in all districts, the Board may permit modifications of the applicable provisions of Sections 25-11, 36-11 or 44-11 (General Provisions) so as to permit accessory off-street parking spaces to be located on the roof of a building. As a condition of permitting such roof parking, the Board shall find that the roof parking is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of adjacent areas.

The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area, including requirements for setback of roof parking areas from lot lines, or for shielding of floodlights; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a two-story parking garage with a total of 415 accessory off-street parking spaces, 135 of which are proposed as roof parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking garage would constitute an accessory use and would not have a limitation on its hours of operation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that there are no residential uses in the vicinity and that roof parking would not result in any adverse effects on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 23, 2019, the New York City Department of Transportation (“DOT”) states that it has no concerns about roof parking proposed on the garage; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 23, 2019, DOT further states that the parking garage entrance and exit shall be moved to Teleport Drive so that they do not interfere with school uses; stop bars, stop markings and stop signs shall be added inside the proposed street level parking lot; separate left turn and right turn lanes shall be provided for traffic exiting from Teleport Avenue to South Avenue to reduce delays and queuing during peak hours of use; a sidewalk shall be added on the east side of the driveway from the proposed South Avenue parent entrance to the proposed Corporate Commons Three with sidewalks aligning with crosswalks and pedestrian ramps; the applicant shall provide more detailed site plans of the Teleport campus which must show the widths of the roadways, sidewalks, moving lanes and parking lanes and locations of the existing and proposed accessible ramps inside the Teleport campus, which plan shall include the sidewalks mentioned above; additional sidewalks shall be constructed throughout the campus so that students can safely walk a direct route from the existing Metropolitan Transit Authority bus stop to the proposed school entrance; the design of the proposed roadway from Teleport Drive to South Avenue along the existing SIBFL field and the proposed soccer fields presents safety concerns that shall be addressed by replacing perpendicular parking on the west side of the roadway with parallel parking to reduce the number of complicated vehicular movements taking place in this space, and the proposed parent drop off and pickup area presents safety concerns; and the parent drop off and pick up area shall be reconfigured so students do not have to cross a driveway, curb cut or other vehicular path between the loading zone and school entrance because of safety concerns presented by the existing U-turn for parent vehicles on Teleport Drive shown on the circulation map; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board regarding the feasibility of reorienting the entrance to the parking garage as suggested by DOT, the applicant submitted a letter dated May 24, 2019, in which the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey states, “At this time, we are not able to approve your request to use Port Authority property, neither Teleport Drive nor the area behind Corporate Commons One parking lot for an entrance or exit for your parking garage”; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 22, 2019, the Fire Department states that it objects to DOT's recommendation of installing a new sidewalk from South Avenue to the building entrance; that the sidewalk being recommended through the parking lot, along the vehicle entry, fronting on South Avenue would have an adverse effect on the Fire Department's apparatus; that the sidewalk would obstruct the fire apparatus route between the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and the building owner; that the department apparatus, specifically the Tower Ladder, would hinder maneuverability of such apparatus that needs wide turning radii with a smooth surface to operate; and that the Fire Department accordingly requests that the proposed DOT recommendation not be adopted; and

WHEREAS, in response to traffic safety concerns, the applicant revised the site plan for the proposed development to include additional traffic control and safety measures, including stop bars, stop signs, crosswalks, speed tables and “school zone” signs at the requested locations with additional signage posted at the central South Avenue parking entrance prohibiting student drop offs and pickups; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that dropping off students along South Avenue is prohibited and has not occurred with respect to other schools that have been located adjacent to the subject site in Corporate Commons One and Two for years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that there will be limited overlap between school arrivals (7:00 a.m. to 8:00 a.m.) and departures (2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.) and commuter’s arrivals and departures during standard business hours; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, in accordance with conditions imposed by the Board under BSA Calendar Number 2018-107-BZ, it will continue to work with the Department of Transportation to ensure school safety at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed roof parking is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed roof parking will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is part of the Teleport Site A project that is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor’s Office of Environmental Coordination, as lead agency, has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and documented relevant information about the project in Technical Memorandum 002 (“Tech Memo 002”) dated September 24, 2018, to determine whether proposed changes to the previously approved Teleport Site A project would result in any significant adverse environmental impacts that were not previously addressed in the December 2016 Teleport Site A Environmental Assessment Statement (“Teleport Site A EAS”; CEQR No. 16DME013R, ULURP No. 170156PPR and ULURP No. 170157ZCR) or in Technical Memorandum 001 (“Tech Memo 001”), dated June 29, 2017; and

WHEREAS, Tech Memo 002 concludes that the proposed project is not expected to result in any significant adverse environmental impacts that had not been previously identified in the Teleport Site A EAS or subsequent Tech Memo 001, and the conclusions in the December 9, 2016

Negative Declaration remain valid; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-49 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby adopt the findings of Tech Memo 002 dated September 24, 2018 prepared by the Mayor’s Office of Environmental Coordination in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-49 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-1 zoning district, parking on the roof of a proposed accessory parking garage, contrary to ZR § 44-11; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received July 15, 2019”-Fifteen (15) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2018-180-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by July 23, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

Buildings (“DOB”), acting on a sign registration application, states in pertinent part:

The Department of Buildings is in receipt of additional documentation submitted in response to the Deficiency Letter from the Sign Enforcement Unit and in connection with the application for the registration of the above-referenced arterial advertising sign. This sign was remanded to the Department for reconsideration of Arterial Registration in by the Honorable Michael D. Stallman in Index No. 100394/2013. You assert that ‘the signage was legally established as of 1979 pursuant to the then applicable Zoning Resolution Section 42-53 (now Section 42-55).’ Unfortunately, the documentation submitted in support of your assertion, an undated photo showing the back of a sign structure, is inadequate to support the registration of the sign and as such, the sign is rejected from registration. Based on the evidence provided, you have not established that the above sign is: 1) exempt from the City’s registrations; 2) allowed as-of-right; or, 3) legally established as a nonconforming use. Accordingly, this sign location will be subject to enforcement action 30 days from the issuance of this letter; and

WHEREAS, this is an appeal for interpretation under Section 72-11 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York (“ZR” or the “Zoning Resolution”) and Section 666 of the New York City Charter, brought on behalf of Outfront Media LLC (“Appellant”), alleging errors in the above determination pertaining to whether an advertising sign at the subject site is exempt from the City’s regulations, permitted as of right, or lawfully established as a non-conforming use under the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located in an M1-2 zoning district and includes land less than 10 feet from and within view of the Major Deegan Expressway, an arterial highway designated in Appendix H of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, an advertising sign located at the subject site has a single sign face with a height of 19’-6”, a width of 48’-0”, and 936 square feet of surface area; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on November 8, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on February 5, 2019, and then to decision on August 6, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Appellant commenced this appeal on August 28, 2017; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the subject sign constitutes a lawful non-conforming use and should be registered as a lawful arterial-advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, Appellant states that the subject sign was established as a lawful non-conforming use as of November 1, 1979, under ZR § 42-55, as evidenced by the following:

“a copy of a letter from the Conrail Real Estate Department dated November 30, 1977, referencing approved sign application nos. 13579 and 13580 by Transportation Displays, Inc., an outdoor advertising company and corporate predecessor of [Appellant], for the display of advertising signage at the Premises” (internal definition omitted); “a copy of application no. 13579 dated July 28, 1977 and approved by Conrail on November 30, 1977, describing the signage at issue, including its placement on the Premises”; “a June 23, 1978 TDI memorandum referencing applications including those noted above”; “additional correspondence dated November 16, 1982 with respect to TDI sign licenses including those referenced above”; “a letter from AMNI America dated February 27, 1989 referencing the approved application noted above for signage ‘which has been in service since July, 1977’”; “available photographs of the Premises,” including “Google Maps photographs from 2011 through 2018; Historic Aerials photographs from 1980, 2004, 2006, 2008, 2009 and 2010; and a NY City Map photograph from 1996”; and

WHEREAS, DOB refutes that the evidence furnished by Appellant demonstrates that the subject sign was constructed prior to November 1, 1979, noting that none of the photographs submitted show the face of the subject sign and many are of such poor quality that determining the presence of any sign structure is not possible; and

WHEREAS, DOB also submits that, instead, Appellant’s evidence demonstrates the subject sign has been impermissibly reconstructed or structurally altered after 1979, contrary to ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, in response, Appellant requests withdrawal of this appeal.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby permit this appeal to be withdrawn.

WHEREAS, detached and semi-detached single- or two- (2) family residential dwellings are permitted at the subject site provided the zoning lot contains a minimum lot width of 25 feet, a minimum lot area of 2,375, one (1) side yard with a minimum width of eight (8) feet and two (2) accessory parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a two- (2) family attached residence with no side yards and one (1)

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the floor area, balconies, rear yard, front yard, height and setback comply with underlying zoning requirements and the Board makes no determination herein and, as such, the Department of Buildings must ensure that the proposal complies with the underlying zoning requirements for floor area, balconies, rear yard, front yard, height and setback, including floor area at the second floor, a portion of which may be under a sloping roof; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done”; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the subject site’s narrow lot width, small lot area, vacancy and ownership in isolation of adjoining lots are unique physical conditions that create practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship in developing the site in compliance with the underlying district regulations; and

WHEREAS, in support of this assertion, the applicant submitted a uniqueness study demonstrating that within 400 feet of the subject site (the “Study Area”), the subject site is one (1) of only three (3) sites out of a total 104 sites located within the Study Area (three (3) percent) that has a narrow lot width of 20 feet or less and is not owned or used in conjunction with an adjoining property and, further, the subject site is the only vacant property owned independently of, and, thus, cannot be developed in conjunction with, adjacent lots; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the subject proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood, will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property and will not be detrimental to the public welfare and submits that, on the subject block, there are no buildings with a front wall width of less than 20 feet and, within 400 feet of the subject site and within an R4-1 zoning district, 84 single- and two- (2) family residences out of the 104 total such residences in the

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the subject proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood nor impair the use or development of adjacent properties, nor will it be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that between 1975 and 1980, the City of New York acquired the subject site and adjoining tax lot 49, then in common ownership, and subsequently sold them to separate property owners; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the hardship was not created by the owner or a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents, and the Board finds, that the subject proposal is the minimum variance necessary to afford relief, in satisfaction of ZR § 72-21(e); and

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2018-33-BZ”) shall be obtained within four (4) years, by August 6, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s);

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
- (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building’s non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that this application located within an area in which the special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge a detached single-family residence, as contemplated by ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to both vertically and horizontally enlarge the building, resulting in a three- (3) story plus cellar single-family dwelling with an FAR of 1.0 (2,999 square feet of floor area), an OSR of 0.58 (1,745 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 6’-11” and 1’-4” and a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet at the first and second story and 29 feet at the third story; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement would increase the floor area on the first floor from 944 square feet to 1,211 square feet, the second floor from 809 square feet to 1,255 square feet, and the attic from 0 square feet to 533 square feet; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum FAR of 0.50 is permitted (1,500 square feet), a minimum OSR of 1.5 (2,250 square feet of open space based on a complying 0.5 FAR), two (2) side yards with minimum widths of five (5) feet and ten (10) feet of total side yard², and a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet are required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-32, 23-48, 23-461 and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement includes a vertical and horizontal extension of the existing non-complying northern side yard and the Board notes that, pursuant to a 1940 Department of Finance tax photo showing the subject site and provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying side yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided an analysis of single- or two- (2) family dwellings located within 400 feet of the subject premises and within an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area") concluding that, of the 131 qualifying residences, 117 residences (89 percent) have an FAR of greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.12; and

WHEREAS, with regards to open space ratio, the applicant demonstrated that, within the Study Area, 123 residences (94 percent) have an OSR less than 1.5, ranging from 1.48 to 0.38; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the rear yard depth, the applicant provided an analysis of rear yard conditions on the subject block, demonstrating that 25 dwellings located on interior lots (66 percent) have a rear yard with a depth of less than 30 feet, with rear yard depths ranging from 28 feet to 11 feet, including the dwellings adjacent to the subject site, which have rear yards with depths of 22'-11" and 18'-2"; and

WHEREAS, over the course of hearings, the Board raised concern that the proposed building should provide a greater rear yard depth above the first story; and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant provided a survey demonstrating that the dwellings adjacent to the subject site have rear yards with depths of 22'-11" and 18'-2" and, in this instance, a rear yard of 20' at all levels is contextually appropriate; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 18BSA111K, dated March 19, 2018; and

WHEREAS, in light of the foregoing, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 73-622 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a), 5-02(b)(2) and 6-15 of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes the required findings under ZR § 73-622 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the enlargement of a single-family detached dwelling that does not comply with the zoning requirements with regards to floor area ratio, open space ratio, side yards and rear yards, contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461 and 23-47; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection above-noted, filed with this application and marked Received "July 18, 2019"-Fourteen (14) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a maximum FAR of 1.0 (2,999 square feet of floor area), a maximum OSR of 0.58 (1,745 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with minimum widths of 6'-11" and 1'-4" and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 20 feet at the first and second story and 29 feet at the third story, as illustrated on BSA-approved plans;

THAT the removal of exterior walls and/or joists in excess of those indicated on the BSA-approved plans is prohibited and shall void the special permit;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed pursuant to ZR § 73-70, by August 6, 2023;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal. No. 2018-39-BZ"), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by August 6, 2023;

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for a waiver of the Board’s Rules of Practice and Procedure and reinstatement of a variance, pursuant to ZR § 11-411, previously granted by the Board, which expired on April 8, 2007; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 6, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Manhattan, recommends approval of the application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of one (1) form letter in support of this application and one (1) form letter in opposition to this application, citing concerns regarding traffic and congestion; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of East 39th Street, between Lexington Avenue and Third Avenue, in an R8B zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 25 feet of frontage along East 39th Street, 99 feet of depth, 2,469 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing three-(3) story plus cellar office (Use Group (“UG”) 6) building; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since June 7, 1955, when, under BSA Cal. No. 933-54-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the extension of business use to the adjacent building, located on tax lot 55, to permit openings between the subject site and adjacent building on lot 55, and to permit a rear extension of the building on lot 55 and reduction of the rear yard, all as shown on plans filed with the application, for a term of 10 years, to expire on June 7, 1965, on condition that the building not be increased in height or area; in all other respects comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; and, all permits be obtained, all work completed and a certificate of occupancy be obtained within one (1) year, by June 7, 1956; and

WHEREAS, on January 19, 1960, under BSA Cal. No. 933-54-BZ, the Board amended the variance to permit a change in occupancy of the third floor of the subject site, from two (2) apartments to office space, and the upper three (3) floors of the adjacent building on tax lot 55, from six (6) apartments to offices, for a term of 20 years, to expire on January 19, 1960, on condition that the work be done in accordance with plans filed with the application; all laws, rules and regulations applicable be complied with; and, all permits, including a certificate of occupancy, be obtained and all work completed within one (1) year, by January 19, 1961; and

WHEREAS, on January 19, 1960, under BSA Cal. No. 347-59-A, the Board granted an appeal and modified the decision of the Borough Superintendent with respect to Class 3 construction, stairways and live load, on condition that the work be done in accordance with plans filed under BSA Cal, No, 933-54-BZ, dated November 9, 1959; the floors be made adequate and approved by the Department of Buildings, to support a 50-pound live load with an additional allowance of 12 pounds for partitions; the combined buildings be equipped throughout with a one- (1) source sprinkler system; and, all laws, rules and regulations applicable be complied with and a certificate of occupancy be obtained; and

WHEREAS, on November 14, 1962, under BSA Cal. No. 347-59-A, the Board amended the 1960 resolution by adding that the combined buildings be equipped throughout with a one- (1) source sprinkler system as previously required, except that the sprinklers may be omitted from the second floor of the subject site, 144 East 39th Street, substantially as shown on revised drawings, on condition that the area from which sprinklers are omitted be adequately protected by carbon tetrachloride globules held in place with fusible links; and, other than as amended the resolution be complied with in all respects; and

WHEREAS, on April 8, 1997, under BSA Cal. No. 28-96-BZ, the Board, pursuant to ZR §§ 11-411 and 11-412, reinstated the expired variance, issued June 7, 1955, under BSA Cal. No. 933-54-BZ, as amended through January 19, 1960, which permitted office uses on the third floor of the existing three- (3) story building, legalized a greenhouse structure at the rear of the third floor level of the premises, which increased the floor area of the non-conforming office use by approximately 200 feet, and amended the variance to reflect a reduction in the size of the zoning lot to eliminate the adjacent building at 146 East 39th Street, tax lot 55, on condition that all work substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objections, filed with the application; the variance be limited to a term of ten (10) years, to expire on April 8, 2007; the conditions appear on the certificate of occupancy; the development, as approved, be subject to verification by the Department of Buildings for compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under the jurisdiction of the Department; and, a new certificate of occupancy be obtained within one (1) year, by April 8, 1998; and

WHEREAS, on December 18, 2001, under BSA Cal. No. 28-96-BZ, the Board amended the variance to legalize approximately 117 square feet then used as a greenhouse located at the rear of the third floor, on condition that the premises be maintained in substantial compliance with the existing and proposed plans submitted with the application; the premises be maintained in compliance with all applicable provisions of the Administrative Code with respect to fire safety and prevention; the premises remain graffiti free at all times; the conditions appear on the certificate of occupancy; the development, as approved, be subject to verification by the Department of Buildings for compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under the jurisdiction of the Department; and, substantial construction be completed by December 18, 2005; and

WHEREAS, the prior term having expired, the applicant now seeks a reinstatement of the variance, first issued in 1955, pursuant to ZR § 11-411; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 11-411 states:

Where no limitation as to the duration of the *use*1 was imposed at the time of [the variance authorized by the Board of Standards and Appeals pursuant to the 1916 Zoning Resolution], such use may be continued. Where such use was authorized subject to a term of years, such use may be continued until the expiration of the term, and thereafter, the agency which originally authorized such use may, in appropriate cases, extend the period of continuance for one or more terms or not more than 10 years each. The agency may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects of such use on the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in addition, because this application was filed more than ten (10) years after the expiration of the term, the applicant requests a waiver, pursuant to § 1-14.2 of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure (the "Board's Rules"), of § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i), to permit the filing of this application; and

WHEREAS, § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i) of the Board's Rules requires a demonstration by the applicant that the use has been continuous since the expiration of the term, that substantial prejudice would result without such a waiver and that the use permitted by the grant does not substantially impair the appropriate use and development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that the site has operated continuously since the expiration of the term and provided evidence including directory listings for the subject third floor office, photographs of the subject site from the street, Department of Finance assessments and contracts and plans related to interior renovations at the subject site to continuously cover the entire period from 2007 through the date of the application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally states that substantial prejudice would result without a waiver of the § 1-07.3(b)(4)(i) of the Board's Rules represents that, absent the subject waiver to permit filing of the application, it will be required that the third floor of the building be converted to a conforming use and would prevent the tenant from providing valuable educational services; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the office use permitted by the Board's grant does not impair the appropriate use and development of adjacent properties because it is consistent with the historical use of the site and commercial uses in the nearby surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also seeks to legalize interior alterations to the site, including the installation of an elevator and relocation of partitions and represents that there have been no changes to the approved floor area of the existing building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant does not propose to enlarge, extend or relocate the existing building and, instead, proposes to legalize minor renovations to the existing building as is permitted under ZR § 11-412; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that the requested waiver of the Board's Rules and reinstatement of the variance are appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby waive § 1-07.3(b)(3)(i) of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure and, pursuant to ZR § 11-411, reinstates and amends a previously-granted variance, issued June 7, 1955, under BSA Cal. No. 933-54-BZ, as amended through December 18, 2001, under BSA Cal. No. 28-96-BZ, to permit, on a site located within an R8B zoning district, the third floor of the subject site to be used as office (UG 6), on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received May 16, 2019"- Seven (7) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT this grant shall be limited to a term of ten (10) years, to expire on August 6, 2029;

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated October 16, 2017, acting on New Building Application No. 421554008, reads in pertinent part:

“ZR 73-49 Roof top parking on proposed accessory off-street parking structure contrary to regulations in the zoning district as indicated”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-49 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-1 zoning district and the Special College Point District, parking on the roof of a proposed accessory parking garage; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 13, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on November 20, 2018, February 5, 2019, March 26, 2019, May 7, 2019, and then to decision on August 13, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Queens, recommends approval of this application with the recommendation that traffic enter the subject site from Petracca Place or Whitestone Expressway and exit via Whitestone Expressway; and

WHEREAS, the Queens Borough President submitted testimony in support of this application, recommending that the applicant consider using Petracca Place as the entry point and the Whitestone Expressway service road as an exit for the proposed parking garage; and

WHEREAS, residents of the surrounding area submitted testimony in support of and in opposition to this application, citing concerns with illumination, the massing of the proposed building, air pollution, and privacy; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of the Whitestone Expressway, in an M1-1 zoning district and the Special College Point District, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 25 feet of frontage along the Whitestone Expressway, 279 feet of frontage along 15th Avenue, 119,903 square feet of lot area and is vacant; and

In C2-1, C2-2, C2-3, C2-4, C4-1, C4-2, C4-3, C4-4, C7, C8-1, C8-2, C8-3, M1-1, M1-2, M1-3, M2-1, M2-2 or M3-1 Districts, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit the parking or storage of motor vehicles on the roof of a public parking garage with a total of 150 spaces or less and, in all districts, the Board may permit modifications of the applicable provisions of Sections 25-11, 36-11 or 44-11 (General Provisions) so as to permit accessory off-street parking spaces to be located on the roof of a building. As a condition of permitting such roof parking, the Board shall find that the roof parking is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of adjacent areas.

The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area, including requirements for setback of roof parking areas from lot lines, or for shielding of floodlights; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a four-story parking garage with a total of 334 accessory off-street parking spaces, 58 of which are proposed as roof parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that roof parking would not result in any adverse effects on the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submits that the proposed parking garage incorporates a number of design features that will shield car headlights and prevent roof surface lighting from spilling over the site of the roof: two light poles supporting light fixtures placed 12’-6” above the roof center at the center of drive aisles; and a 3’-9” parapet surrounding the roof; the location of the roof parking surface 44’-0” above grade, set back 110’-0” from the adjacent R2A zoning district to the north of 15th Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant supplied roof lighting diagrams showing that the roof parapet is sufficiently tall to shield car headlights and that the two light poles are below visibility levels from both sidewalks and residences’ second-floor windows along 15th Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that proposed roof lighting design allows for consistent lighting while restricting light spread within the parking garage’s roof and meeting applicable Building Code minimum lighting requirements for open parking lots; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board about alternative lighting schemes, the applicant also supplied a lighting report indicating that the proposed lighting design would provide more uniform light with less impact than an alternative incorporating wall packs and bollard lights because parapet wall lighting would be blocked by automobiles while also increasing visible glow caused by light reflection; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking garage complies with applicable bulk regulations and would constitute an accessory use with the following hours of operation: Monday to Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the roof parking is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of adjacent areas; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board about community concerns, the applicant proposes a dense landscaped buffer between the north wall of the proposed parking garage and the residences located along 15th Avenue, including a row of mixed evergreen and deciduous shrubs in front of a row of evergreen trees along with an ivied wall trellis at the north wall of the proposed parking garage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also proposes to screen openings at the east and west of the proposed parking garage; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board about the community board's recommendation, the applicant notes that entry to and exit from the proposed parking garage will occur via a 25'-0" wide driveway from the Whitestone Expressway west service road and that emergency access would be available from Petracca Place, a 40'-0" wide street to the west of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, after seeing these revisions, residents from the surrounding area submitted testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed roof parking is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed roof parking will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 18BSA049Q, dated October 23, 2017; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated November 15, 2018, the New York City Department of City Planning's Waterfront and Open Space Division represents that the proposed project will not substantially hinder the achievement of any Waterfront Revitalization Program ("WRP") policy and that this action is consistent with WRP policies; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR

§§ 73-49 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-49 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-1 zoning district and the Special College Point District, parking on the roof of a proposed accessory parking garage; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 9, 2019"-Seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT rooftop parking shall close no later than 6:30 p.m.;

THAT landscaping shall be provided and maintained in top condition as represented to the community and illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal No 2017-288-BZ"), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by August 13, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, August 13, 2019.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated March 23, 2018, acting on New Building Application No. 321191802, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed numbers of Required Accessory Off-Street Parking Spaces are contrary to ZR 25-23 and 25-251”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 to permit, in an R6 zoning district, a reduction of existing parking spaces for income-restricted housing units, contrary to ZR §§ 25-23 and 25-251; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 4, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 12, 2019, April 23, 2019, June 4, 2019, August 6, 2019, and then to decision on August 13, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, New York City Council Member Antonio Reynoso submitted testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on Boerum Street, between Graham Avenue and Humboldt Street, in an R6 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 300 feet of frontage along Boerum Street, 200 feet of frontage along Humboldt Street, 340 feet of frontage along Johnson Avenue, 62,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by three 3-story residential buildings on Tax Lot 10 that contain 42 income-restricted housing units with 18 accessory off-street parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a nineteen-story residential building with 100,609 square feet of floor area, totaling 138,200 square feet of floor area at the subject site (2.23 FAR), and a total of 90 off-street accessory parking spaces, 65 of which are proposed to be located at the subject site with the remaining 25 parking spaces to be located at 222 Johnson Avenue; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, a total of 108 parking spaces are required, 90 of which would be accessory to new dwelling units in the proposed development and 18 of which would be accessory to existing income-restricted housing units; and

For zoning lots within the Transit Zone with buildings containing income-restricted housing units in receipt of a certificate of occupancy prior to March 22, 2016, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit a waiver of, or a reduction in, the number of accessory off-street parking spaces required for such income-restricted housing units prior to March 22, 2016, provided that the Board finds that such waiver or reduction will:

- (a) facilitate an improved site plan;
- (b) facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing, where a development includes new residential floor area on the zoning lot;
- (c) not cause traffic congestion; and
- (d) not have undue adverse effects on residents, businesses or community facilities in the surrounding area, as applicable, including the availability of parking spaces for such uses.

Factors to be considered by the Board may include, without limitation, the use of the existing parking spaces by residents of the zoning lot, the availability of parking in the surrounding area and the proximity of public transportation. The Board may impose appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the applicant submits that the subject site is located within the Transit Zone, see Appendix I of the Zoning Resolution, and is occupied by three existing three-story buildings on Tax Lot 10 that received certificates of occupancy in 1983 and that contain low-income dwelling units that meet the ZR § 12-10 “income-restricted housing units” definition because “[a]ny dwelling unit for which the applicable number of required accessory off-street parking spaces was established pursuant to the provisions of Section 25-25 (Modification of Requirements for Income-Restricted Housing Units, Affordable Independent Residences for Seniors or Other Government-Assisted Dwelling Units) as such Section existed between December 15, 1961, and March 22, 2016, shall be considered an income-restricted housing unit”; and

WHEREAS, more particularly, the applicant submits that these certificates of occupancy demonstrate that, during the existing buildings’ construction, accessory parking was provided under ZR § 25-25, which required parking for 45 percent of dwelling units subject to a federal rent-subsidy program; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction would allow for an improved site plan

because, in order to provide a total of 108 off-street parking spaces, additional two-car parking stackers would be necessary in the cellar with unenclosed three-car parking stackers at grade that would prove unsightly and inefficient and that would adversely affect the site plan; and

WHEREAS, on the other hand, the proposed parking reduction provides attended parking in the cellar (42 spaces) with 23 parking spaces at ground level and 25 accessory parking spaces located off site at 222 Johnson Avenue, and the proposed site plan allows drivers to enter the subject site by curb cut on Boerum Street to the attendant booth at the first floor, where an attendant will be tasked with parking the vehicle accordingly; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will facilitate an improved site plan; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction would facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a restrictive declaration to be recorded against the property that will ensure that at least 28 percent of dwelling units in the proposed development will be provided and maintained as affordable housing (with a minimum of 20 percent of the development's total dwelling units at 60 percent Area Median Income); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that none of the 18 existing off-street accessory parking spaces are currently utilized or have been for years, so the proposed parking reduction would not result in additional vehicles searching for on-street parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the subject site is located within the Transit Zone and is well served by public transit, including four subway lines; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that the proposed parking reduction would not result in increased traffic congestion because the applicant proposes to accommodate all parking demand generated by the proposed development on site; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a parking demand study showing that demand generated by the existing buildings and proposed development is 65 parking spaces, which are proposed to be provided on site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking facility will provide attended parking to ensure efficient operations and accommodate queuing vehicles, which will prevent vehicle's backing up onto Boerum Street; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will not cause traffic congestion; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction will not result in adverse effects on the surrounding area, including availability of parking, because the proposed parking reduction does not displace any currently utilized on-site parking spaces and meets all parking demand for the proposed development and existing buildings on site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits the proposed attended parking facility thus keeps on-street parking spaces available for residents, businesses, and community facilities in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will not have undue adverse effects on residents, businesses or community facilities in the surrounding area, as applicable, including the availability of parking spaces for such uses; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Board's comments at hearing, the applicant provided a draft restrictive declaration to ensure that the proposed parking reduction would facilitate the preservation or creation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also increased the amount of parking proposed to ensure that parking demand would be met on site; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 5, 2018, the Fire Department states that the applicant shall comply with Fire Department requirements for automated parking systems; the applicant shall file plans of the existing and proposed parking stackers with the Bureau of Fire Prevention, Technical Management Unit; and that the use of parking stackers classifies the space as high-pile storage, and that the requirements for protection of these parking stackers include the following items and may require other additional fire protection not listed: installation; garage specifications; fire rating, sprinkler, and standpipe (including high-piled storage sprinkler system); ventilation (including carbon monoxide detection, smoke purge, and smoke control); heat, flame, and smoke detection; fire alarm response; garage fire alarm shutdown sequence of operations; garage emergency shutdown sequence of operations; vehicle lift markings; control panel; visual devices; lighting; firefighter staging areas; vehicle prioritizing, retrieval, and spacing; emergency shutdown; monitoring; maintenance; restrictions; emergency power; signage; hydraulic fluids; fire extinguishers; security; garage heat, flame, and smoke detection systems; Fire Department Fire Alarm Inspection Unit inspection; and Fire Department visit upon completion of installation; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed parking reduction is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed parking reduction will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 18BSA122K, dated August 8, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 permit, in an R6 zoning district, a reduction of existing parking spaces for income-restricted housing units, contrary to ZR §§ ; on condition that all work, site conditions and operations shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 12, 2019"-Twelve (12) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the number of off-street accessory parking spaces illustrated on the Board-approved drawings shall be provided as follows: 90 total parking spaces, with 65 spaces on site and 25 spaces at 222 Johnson Avenue;

THAT the parking layout shall be subject to review and approval by the Department of Buildings;

THAT DOB shall verify that the rear yard equivalent relocation complies with applicable zoning regulations;

THAT the applicant shall comply with Fire Department requirements for automated parking systems, including that the applicant shall file plans of the existing and proposed parking stackers with the Bureau of Fire Prevention, Technical Management Unit; and that the use of parking stackers classifies the space as high-pile storage, and that the requirements for protection of these parking stackers include the following items and may require other additional fire protection not listed: installation; garage specifications; fire rating, sprinkler, and standpipe (including high-piled storage sprinkler system); ventilation (including carbon monoxide detection, smoke purge, and smoke control); heat, flame, and smoke detection; fire alarm response; garage fire alarm shutdown sequence of operations; garage emergency

DECLARATION, made this ____ day of _____, 2019, by SPG Boerum LLC ("Declarant") having an office at 38 East 29th Street, New York, New York, 10016.

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 to permit, partially in an R6 zoning district and partially in an R6 (C1-3) zoning district, a reduction of existing parking spaces for income-restricted housing units, contrary to ZR §§ 25-23 and 25-251; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 4, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 12, 2019, April 23, 2019, June 4, 2019, August 6, 2019, and then to decision on August 13, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 1, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, New York City Council Member Antonio Reynoso submitted testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the block bounded by Johnson Avenue, Humboldt Street, Boerum Street, and Bushwick Avenue, partially in an R6 zoning district and partially in an R6 (C1-3) zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 400 feet of frontage along Johnson Avenue, 200 feet of frontage along Humboldt Street, 400 feet of frontage along Boerum Street, 200 feet of frontage along Bushwick Avenue, 80,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by three residential buildings on Tax Lot 1 that contain 79 income-restricted housing units with 34 accessory off-street parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a seven-story mixed-use commercial and residential building resulting in 168,578 square feet of total floor area (2.169 FAR), with 160,676 square feet of residential floor area (1.909 FAR) and 7,902 square feet of commercial floor area (0.26 FAR), and a total of 88 off-street accessory parking spaces, 46 of which are to be accessory to the proposed development with the remaining 25 parking spaces to be accessory to an off-site residential building under construction at 159 Boerum Street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, a total of 80 parking spaces are required, 46 of which would be accessory to new dwelling units in the proposed development and 34 of which would be accessory to existing income-restricted housing units; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-433 provides:

For zoning lots within the Transit Zone with buildings containing income-restricted housing units in receipt of a certificate of occupancy prior to March 22, 2016, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit a waiver of, or a reduction in, the number of accessory off-street parking spaces required for such income-restricted housing units prior to March 22, 2016, provided that the Board finds that such waiver or reduction will:

- (a) facilitate an improved site plan;
- (b) facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing, where a development includes new residential floor area on the zoning lot;
- (c) not cause traffic congestion; and
- (d) not have undue adverse effects on residents, businesses or community facilities in the surrounding area, as applicable, including the availability of parking spaces for such uses.

Factors to be considered by the Board may include, without limitation, the use of the existing parking spaces by residents of the zoning lot, the availability of parking in the surrounding area and the proximity of public transportation. The Board may impose appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the applicant submits that the subject site is located within the Transit Zone, see Appendix I of the Zoning Resolution, and is occupied by three existing three-story buildings on Tax Lot 1 that received certificates of occupancy in 1983 and that contain low-income dwelling units that meet the ZR § 12-10 “income-restricted housing units” definition because “[a]ny dwelling unit for which the applicable number of required accessory off-street parking spaces was established pursuant to the provisions of Section 25-25 (Modification of Requirements for Income-Restricted Housing Units, Affordable Independent Residences for Seniors or Other Government-Assisted Dwelling Units) as such Section existed between December 15, 1961, and March 22, 2016, shall be considered an income-restricted housing unit”; and

WHEREAS, more particularly, the applicant submits that these certificates of occupancy demonstrate that, during the existing buildings’ construction, accessory parking was provided under ZR § 25-25, which required parking for 45 percent of dwelling units subject to a federal rent-subsidy program; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction would allow for an improved site plan because, in order to provide a total of 80 off-street parking spaces, additional two-car parking stackers would be necessary in the cellar with unenclosed three-car parking stackers at grade that would prove unsightly and inefficient and that would adversely affect the site plan; and

WHEREAS, on the other hand, the proposed parking reduction provides attended parking in the cellar (88 spaces) with 63 spaces accessory to the proposed development and 25 spaces an off-site residential building under construction at 159 Boerum Street, and the proposed site plan allows drivers to enter the subject site by curb cut on Johnson Avenue to the attendant booth at the first floor, where an attendant will be tasked with parking the vehicle accordingly; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will facilitate an improved site plan; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction would facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a restrictive declaration to be recorded against the property that will ensure that at least 28 percent of dwelling units in the proposed development will be provided and maintained as affordable housing (with a minimum of 20 percent of the development’s total dwelling units at 60 percent Area Median Income); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will facilitate the creation or preservation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the 34 existing off-street accessory parking spaces have been underutilized for years, so the proposed parking reduction would not result in additional vehicles searching for on-street parking; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the subject site is located within the Transit Zone and is well served by public transit, including four subway lines; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant notes that the proposed parking reduction would not result in increased traffic congestion because the applicant proposes to accommodate all parking demand generated by the proposed development on site; and

provided on site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking facility will provide attended parking to ensure efficient operations and accommodate queuing vehicles, which will prevent vehicle’s backing up onto Johnson Avenue, and that the proposed parking facility has been designed with a long ramp and reservoir spaces adjacent to the attendant’s booth; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will not cause traffic congestion; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed parking reduction will not result in adverse effects on the surrounding area, including availability of parking, because the proposed parking reduction does not displace any currently utilized on-site parking spaces and meets all parking demand for the proposed development and existing buildings on site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits the proposed attended parking facility thus keeps on-street parking spaces available for residents, businesses, and community facilities in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed parking reduction will not have undue adverse effects on residents, businesses or community facilities in the surrounding area, as applicable, including the availability of parking spaces for such uses; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Board’s comments at hearing, the applicant provided a draft restrictive declaration to ensure that the proposed parking reduction would facilitate the preservation or creation of affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also increased the amount of parking proposed to ensure that parking demand would be met on site; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 7, 2018, the Fire Department states that the applicant shall comply with Fire Department requirements for automated parking systems; the applicant shall file plans of the existing and proposed parking stackers with the Bureau of Fire Prevention, Technical Management Unit; and that the use of parking stackers classifies the space as high-pile storage, and that the requirements for protection of these parking stackers include the following items and may require other additional fire protection not listed: installation; garage specifications; fire rating, sprinkler, and standpipe (including high-piled storage sprinkler system); ventilation (including carbon monoxide detection, smoke purge, and smoke control); heat, flame, and smoke detection; fire alarm response; garage fire alarm shutdown sequence of operations; garage emergency shutdown sequence of operations; vehicle lift markings; control panel; visual devices; lighting; firefighter staging areas; vehicle prioritizing, retrieval, and spacing; emergency shutdown; monitoring; maintenance; restrictions; emergency power; signage; hydraulic fluids; fire extinguishers; security; garage heat, flame, and smoke detection systems; Fire Department Fire Alarm Inspection Unit inspection; and Fire

Department visit upon completion of installation; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed parking reduction is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed parking reduction will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 18BSA125K, dated August 8, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-433 and 73-03 to permit, partially in an R6 zoning district and partially in an R6 (C1-3) zoning district, a reduction of existing parking spaces for income-restricted housing units, contrary to ZR §§ 25-23 and 25-251; on condition that all work, site conditions and operations shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 12, 2019"-Thirteen (13) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT there shall be a minimum of 88 off-street accessory parking spaces, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the parking layout shall be subject to review and approval by the Department of Buildings;

THAT DOB shall verify that any rear yard equivalent relocation complies with applicable zoning regulations;

THAT the applicant shall comply with Fire Department requirements for automated parking systems, including that the applicant shall file plans of the existing and proposed parking stackers with the Bureau of Fire Prevention, Technical Management Unit; and that the use of parking stackers classifies the space as high-pile storage, and that the requirements for protection of these parking stackers include the following items and may require other additional fire protection not listed: installation; garage specifications; fire rating, sprinkler, and standpipe (including high-piled storage sprinkler system); ventilation (including carbon monoxide detection, smoke purge, and smoke control); heat, flame, and smoke detection; fire alarm response; garage fire alarm shutdown sequence of operations; garage emergency shutdown sequence of operations; vehicle lift markings; control panel; visual devices; lighting; firefighter staging areas; vehicle prioritizing, retrieval, and spacing; emergency shutdown; monitoring; maintenance; restrictions; emergency power; signage; hydraulic fluids; fire extinguishers; security; garage heat, flame, and smoke detection systems; Fire Department Fire Alarm Inspection Unit inspection; and Fire Department visit upon completion of installation;

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

WHEREAS, this is an application for the renewal of building permits associated with a previously granted common law vested rights application, which reinstated Department of Buildings (“DOB”) Permit No. 302056343-01-NB and all related permits necessary to complete construction for a period that expired on March 31, 2019; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 10, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Ottley-Brown performed inspections of the subject site and surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East 13th Street, between Avenue J and Avenue K, within an R5 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along East 13th Street, 100 feet of depth, and 4,000 square feet of lot area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop the site with a five- (5) story mixed-use residential and community facility building (the “Building”), with 10,778 square feet of floor area (2.69 floor area ratio (“FAR”)) (8,600 square feet of residential floor area (2.15 FAR) and 2,178 square feet of community facility floor area (0.54 FAR)), eight (8) dwelling units and no accessory parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the site was formerly located within a C4-3 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Permit No. 302056343-01-NB, the new building permit authorizing construction of the Building in accordance with C4-3 zoning district regulations (the “Permit”), was issued by DOB on December 29, 2005, and all excavation and foundation wall construction was completed prior to April 5, 2006; and

WHEREAS, on April 5, 2006 (the “Enactment Date”), the City Council voted to adopt the Midwood Rezoning amendment (C 060130 ZMK), which changed the zoning for the subject premises from a C4-3 zoning district to an R5 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, while the completion of 100 percent of the Building’s foundations vested the project as-of-right under ZR § 11-331, due to financial hardship, the applicant did not complete construction within two (2) years and obtain certificates of occupancy for the Buildings, as required by ZR § 11-332, and the Permit lapsed by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since March 31, 2015, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted an application recognizing a common law vested right to continue construction of the Building, reinstated all of the permits necessary to complete construction of the Building and granted an extension of time to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy for a term of four (4) years, which expired March 31, 2019; and

WHEREAS, however, as of March 31, 2019, construction was not completed and a certificate of occupancy had not been issued; therefore, on that date, the previously reinstated Permit lapsed again by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks further renewal of building permits associated with the previously granted common law vested rights application; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a lawfully-issued permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 AD 2d 10 (2d Dept 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner’s rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested “and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause ‘serious loss’ to the owner,” and “where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance”; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 AD 2d 308 (2d Dept 1990) “there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess ‘a vested right’”. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action”; and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the applicant obtained a permit to construct the Building and performed certain work prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant states that the work it performed constitutes substantial construction, in that, prior to the Enactment Date, it constructed 100 percent of the foundation, completed all footings and foundation walls, and constructed the elevator pit in the proposed cellar and, since the Board's 2015 approval, substantial construction progress has been made to complete the Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the total expenditure paid toward the construction of the Building prior to the Enactment Date is $296,408 ($236,612 in hard costs and $59,796 in soft costs), or approximately 15 percent, out of the $1,920,000 cost to complete, an additional $51,356 has been expended, including $49,131 in soft costs, since the Enactment Date, and 95 percent of the development of the subject site was completed by March 31, 2019; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the Board examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally represents that serious loss would occur absent an extension of time to complete construction because at the subject site, pursuant to R5 zoning district regulations, two (2) side yards would be required and, as such, the building would require complete demolition to comply with such requirement; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that it would suffer a serious loss if the site was required to comply with the R5 district regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that complying with the R5 district regulations would result in a serious economic loss for the applicant; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building has accrued to the owner of the premises.

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that a one (1) year renewal of building permits lawfully issued before the Enactment Date is appropriate with certain conditions, as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that this application made pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights requesting a reinstatement of Permit No. 302056343-01-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, is granted for one (1) year from the date of this grant."

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Appeal granted.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated January 29, 2019, acting on ZRD1 Control No. 45305 (the “Determination”), reads in pertinent part:

The applicant’s request that the Department of Buildings (the “Department”) determine that the regulated medical waste (“RMW”) transfer facility at 100-02 Farragut Rd., BK, is a Use Group (“UG”) 16(D) motor freight station pursuant to Zoning Resolution (“ZR”) § 32-25 is hereby DENIED.

Pursuant to ZR § 42-15, “Use Group 18 consists primarily of industrial uses which . . . involve considerable . . . hazards to public health or safety . . . and . . . normally generate a great deal of traffic, both pedestrian and freight.” Here, the freight (i.e., the RMW) that will be transferred at the facility is governed by Title 15 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law (“ECL”), Title 14 of the New York State Public Health Law (“PHL”) and the rules promulgated pursuant to those titles.

Considering the dangerous nature of such RMW and also its concentration at the facility, the proposed use “involve[s] considerable . . . hazards to public health or safety.” ZR § 42-15. Moreover, the applicant states that the facility’s New York State Department of Environmental Conservation permit allows “35 truck trips per day.” Such a volume of truck trips constitutes “a great deal of [freight] traffic.” ZR § 42-15. Therefore, the proposed RMW transfer facility meets both criteria of a UG 18 use as set forth in ZR § 42-15 and is within UG 18(B), “storage or miscellaneous uses, open or enclosed.”

In conclusion, because the RMW transfer facility is a UG 18 use and such uses are not allowed in

C8-1 zoning districts (pursuant to ZR § 42-15), job no. 321114450 is denied. WHEREAS, this is an appeal for interpretation, under Section 72-11 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York (“ZR” or the “Zoning Resolution”) and Section 666(6)(a) of the New York City Charter, brought by owner of the subject site, which includes the operation of a regulated medical waste (“RMW”) transfer facility (the “Appellant”), alleging errors in the Determination by DOB, dated January 29, 2019, that a RMW transfer facility is a Use Group (“UG”) 18 use, as defined in ZR § 42-15; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 32-25 reads:

WHEREAS, DOB Technical Policy and Procedure Notice # 2 of 1991, dated March 28, 1991, reads in pertinent part:

“For the purposes of this Notice, a Solid Waste Transfer Station shall be defined as a building wherein solid waste is received for the purpose of subsequent transfer to another location or facility. Reduction in volume, baling or sorting may occur at a Transfer Station. Transfer Stations shall be classified in Use Group 18 of the Zoning Resolution and in Occupancy Group D-2 of the Building Code;” and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southeast corner of Farragut Road and East 100th Street, in a C8-1 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 13,235 square feet of lot area, and is occupied by an existing one-story building with approximately 6,000 square feet of floor area, of which approximately 1,334 square feet is used to receive, ship and weigh packaged RMW before the packages are delivered to a final destination where the RMW is disposed; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Buildings issued the Determination on January 29, 2019, concluding that the subject RMW transfer station constitutes a UG 18 use and, as such, is not permitted as of right in the subject C8-1 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant commenced this appeal on March 18, 2019, and seeks a determination that the RMW transfer facility does not constitute a UG 18 use; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on July 16, 2019, and then to decision on September 10, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the issue before the Board is whether a regulated medical waste transfer station is a UG 18 use, as defined by ZR § 42-15; and

Discussion

WHEREAS, because this is an appeal for interpretation, pursuant to ZR § 72-11, the Board “may make such . . . determination as in its opinion should have been made in the premises in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of” the Zoning Resolution; and Whereas, the Board has reviewed and considered—but need not follow—DOB’s interpretation of the Zoning Resolution in rendering the Board’s own decision in this appeal, and the standard of review in this appeal is de novo; and

WHEREAS, as discussed herein, and based on its review of the Zoning Resolution Use Group classifications and their prefatory language, the operation at the subject site, state regulations relating to the handling of medical waste, and the arguments presented by the Appellant and by DOB, the Board finds that the subject RMW transfer station is not a UG 18 use; and

WHEREAS, UG 18 uses, as defined by ZR § 42-15, “either involve considerable danger of fire, explosion or other hazards to public health or safety, or cannot be designed without appreciable expense to conform to high performance standards with respect to the emission of objectionable influences;” and

WHEREAS, the DOB states that, given the mere possibility of imperfect operation of the RMW transfer facility, the potential for harm—a possible leak or spill of the sealed RMW resulting in an infectious disease contamination risk—establishes that the use involves considerable danger; and

WHEREAS, the subject site operates pursuant to a permit by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (“DEC”), pursuant to 6 NYCRR Parts 360-366 and 369, which sets controls and limits on the operation of the site with respect to the amount, type and manner of handling RMW; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is occupied by two separate entities, a RMW transfer station (1,334 square feet of floor area) and an ambulette minor repair facility (2,694 square feet of floor area) with accessory offices (972 square feet of floor area); and

WHEREAS, there is no mechanical equipment associated with the RMW transfer station except handcars, rollers, scales and monitors, and equipment typically used to transfer and weigh packages; normal operating hours are Monday through Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.; no processing, treatment, or disposal of RMW occurs at the subject site and the RMW transfer facility’s operation is limited to receiving, shipping and weighing sealed packages of RMW before the packages are placed into truck trailers and removed from the site to be delivered to a final destination where the RMW is ultimately disposed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally states that, in accordance with DEC regulations, the RMW is received and shipped in small, sealed, hard-sided containers, which are not opened or processed at the site, and there is no on-site treatment, sorting, bailing, processing, disposal, or compacting; and

WHEREAS, the use at the subject site does not generate or manufacture RMW and is distinguishable from an operation involved in the manufacture or generation of RMW, such as a solid waste management facility; and

WHEREAS, however, pursuant to ZR § 32-10, et. seq., the uses permitted as-of-right in the subject C8-1 zoning district include, but are not limited to, uses that may involve the generation, handling, and processing of medical or biohazardous waste such as ambulatory diagnostic or treatment health care facilities, veterinary medicine for small animals, medical or dental laboratories for research or testing, animal hospitals, animal crematoriums, and human crematoriums; and

WHEREAS, the Board also notes that the RMW that is handled by operator of the transfer station is the type that may be generated by an individual in a household, at an urgent care clinic or doctor office, at a college or university, or any location where medical staff or services are present; and

WHEREAS, the subject site receives a maximum of 330 tons of RMW per month that arrives to the facility, after the generator of the RMW has placed it in a puncture-proof bag or sealed container, and is stored at the subject site for a limited duration of time where it is thereafter placed onto another truck and taken elsewhere for treatment and disposal; and

WHEREAS, the subject site collects and organizes the unopened and sealed containers of RMW and there is no opening of the sealed containers, nor is there sorting or treatment of the RMW at the site; and

WHEREAS, the operation at the subject site is consistent with Use Group 16 uses, as the subject site operates as a business for the storage of RMW containers for collection and transportation, and, because RMW is a good transported in bulk by truck and for profit, a majority of the Board finds that the transferring RMW is an activity involving freight; and

WHEREAS, the operation at the site generates approximately 17 truck trips per day, but is permitted to generate 35 trips per day; and

WHEREAS, by comparison, the City Environmental Quality Review Technical Manual states that densities that result in fewer than 50 peak hour vehicle trips are unlikely to produce significant traffic impacts; and

WHEREAS, although DOB argues that there is serious danger involved in connection with the operation of the site, given the potential for contamination should the safety protocols and DEC regulatory procedures be violated, the Board does not find that the subject RMW transfer facility involves either considerable danger of fire, explosion, or other hazards to public health or safety, or cannot be designed without appreciable expense to conform to high performance standards with respect to the emission of objectionable influences, nor does the use normally generate a great deal of traffic, pedestrian or freight; and

WHEREAS, the operation of this RMW transfer station at the subject site is inconsistent with the prefatory language of ZR § 42-15, given that the site does not open, sort, treat, dispose of, nor generate medical waste, and is simply concerned with the transfer and transient storage of boxed or sealed items; and

Appellant’s Arguments

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the RMW transfer station operation at the site is limited to the pick-up and transfer of sealed packages that arrive to and leave from the subject site in the same packaging, are never opened, and are simply weighed and stored until they are transferred to a truck trailer, then taken away to a disposal facility; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant argues that the use of the site, including the ambulette repair facility, operates as a motor freight station; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the Appellant states that the controls and required permitting of the operation at the site

by DEC ensures the RMW is maintained in sealed containers and is neither treated nor processed on-site and, as such, the potential hazards of the transportation of RMW does not involve the level of potential environmental and public health risks associated with UG 18 uses; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant represents that DEC also places regulations on the generation of RMW—including controls on the types of RMW for transfer and requirements for labeling, weighing, radioactive material testing, and sealing—which eliminate the risk of contamination before the RMW has arrived at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant states that the operation is further distinguishable from a UG 18 solid waste transfer station, as defined in DOB Technical Policy and Procedure Notice # 2/91, in that the subject site does not perform reduction in volume, baling or sorting of RMW; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant represents that, with 17 truck trips per day, the site does not generate a great deal of traffic, as per ZR § 42-15, and argues that the site generates much less vehicular traffic than UG 16 uses including laundries, car washes, packing and crating establishments for all uses, and automotive uses, and, further, generates no pedestrian traffic; and

WHEREAS, DOB maintains that the use at the subject site constitutes a UG 18 use in that it involves considerable danger and analogizes the operation to an explosives storage facility, which requires a permit from, and is regulated by, the New York City Fire Department; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that transfer stations and explosives storage facilities, when perfectly operated, pose no danger to the public, but, because of the danger to the public when not perfectly operated, are classified as UG 18 and argues, as such, that the potential of harm to the public due to the possibility of an accident at the RMW transfer facility establishes that the use involves considerable danger; and

WHEREAS, DOB points to the contents of the RMW and argues that an accident at the subject site would pose a risk of infectious disease contamination and threaten the health of the public; and

WHEREAS, DOB further argues that the subject operation is not a motor freight station and states that the use of specialized containers for solid waste does not transform a solid waste management facility into a motor freight station; and

WHEREAS, further, DOB states that unlike traditional freight, which is a thing transported for economic value, RMW, or waste generally, does not have value and cannot be considered as “freight”—the compensation is in the act of disposal and not the waste itself; and

Conclusion

WHEREAS, because the Board's determination is limited to the evidence in the record regarding the question of whether the subject RMW transfer station operation at the subject site constitutes a UG 18 use, it is unnecessary determine in this appeal which UG 16 use the operation in question constitutes; and

WHEREAS, as discussed at hearing, in the absence of a text amendment to the Zoning Resolution, DOB could clarify the parameters of RMW transfer stations that would not be classified as a UG 18 use through the issuance of a Buildings Bulletin consistent with the Board's determination herein; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that the subject RMW transfer facility does not constitute a UG 18 use.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals grants the appeal, and the decision of the Department of Buildings, dated January 29, 2019, acting on ZRD1 Control No. 45305, shall be and hereby is reversed.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated January 30, 2019, acting on Alteration Application No. 121188222, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed height of street wall does not comply with ZR 24-522”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R7-2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for height and setback, contrary to ZR § 24-522; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of The Reece School (the “School”), a not-for-profit education corporation chartered by the New York State Board of Regents; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 10, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of East 104th Street, between Fifth Avenue and Madison Avenue, in an R7-2 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 50 feet of frontage along East 104th Street, 101 feet of depth, 5,045 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a five-story, with cellar, community-facility building used as a school; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing building from 20,905 square feet of floor area (4.14 FAR) to 25,471 square feet of floor area (5.0 FAR) with a building height of 101’-2½” without setback; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, the maximum street wall height permitted is the lesser of six stories or 60 feet, after which a 20 foot setback is required with the remainder of the building subject to a sky exposure plane of 2.7 to 1 (vertical to horizontal) under ZR § 24-522; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational facility, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board is to grant an educational or religious institution’s application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the School’s proposed enlargement is necessary to accommodate the School’s programmatic needs and that the School’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a comprehensive report on the School’s programmatic needs, demonstrating an enrollment of approximately 130 students, the necessity of small student-to-staff ratio in classrooms to provide a supportive and nurturing learning environment with separate spaces for individual and small-group instruction and activities with mandated services based on each student’s needs (including speech and language, counseling, occupational therapy, and physical therapy), and access to healthy-living and arts programs (including general science with horticulture, creative arts, physical education, and music); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that currently, in attempting to meet the School’s programmatic needs and enrollment, a library and a staff lounge have been converted into a classroom with occupational-therapy programs’ displacing related service providers from offices, relegating some educational services to hallways and corners of the gymnasium; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submitted the School’s master schedule and architectural drawings evidencing the current utilization of each classroom and converted space throughout a typical week; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that an as-of-right enlargement would result in an additional five stories with a setback of 20 feet but a maximum building height of 122 feet, constraining floorplates within the enlargement to sizes

ranging from 2,054 square feet to 2,270 square feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided architectural diagrams demonstrating that floorplates of these sizes would be inefficient—and would require constant movement between floors for students with disabilities—and would thereby fail to accommodate the School’s programmatic need to provide each student with an individualized education; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the applicant analyzed and detailed the deleterious effects that the School’s current facility as well as a complying building form have on the School’s programmatic needs based on the School’s educational mission and projected occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement alleviates these constraints by facilitating the needed creation of an enhanced occupational-therapy and physical-therapy support space, five additional classrooms, a music room, a tutoring room and offices for behavioral support specialists and clinicians; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the School’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the School is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the School’s programmatic needs with adequate space, facilities and organization; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement reflects a modest increase in the massing of the existing building and would not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or impair the use or development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant surveyed the surrounding area, finding that the proposed educational use is consistent with the vibrant mix of uses in the vicinity—including community facilities, residences, and commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement is substantially shorter than an as-of-right building height, which is permitted to rise to 122 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that buildings in the vicinity range in height from five to 15 stories and submitted evidence demonstrating that the proposed enlargement is consistent with the surrounding area’s built environment; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 4, 2019, the Fire Department states that it has no objection to this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to accommodate the School’s programmatic needs by providing adequate floorplates that would not compromise the School’s program, as reflected above and in the School’s programmatic-needs report; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-092M, dated February 19, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R7-2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for height and setback, contrary to ZR § 24-522; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received August 29, 2019”-Seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum building height of 101’-2½” without setback, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the above condition shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2019-34-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by August 6, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other

- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
- (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing detached single-family residence, as contemplated in ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the existing single-family residence is a three- (3) story plus cellar detached building with 0.73 FAR (2,913 square feet of floor area), 100% OSR (2,932 square feet of open space), a front yard along Avenue N with a depth of 14'-11", a front yard along East 27th Street with a depth of 14 feet, and two (2) side yards with widths of 33 feet and 5'-6"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to horizontally enlarge the single-family detached residence resulting in a three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence with 0.91 FAR (3,633 square feet of floor area), 74% OSR (2,672 square feet of open space), a front yard along Avenue N with a depth of 14'-11", a front yard along East 27th Street with a depth of 14 feet, and two (2) side yards with widths of 20 feet and five (5) feet; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum of 0.5 FAR (2,000 square feet of floor area) is permitted and a minimum of 150% OSR (3,000 square feet of open space) is required pursuant to ZR § 23-141; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the floor area at the first floor from 1,068 square feet to 1,328 square feet, the second floor from 1,068 square feet to 1,328 square feet, and the attic/third floor from 777 square feet to 978 square feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed single-family residence as enlarged is consistent with the built character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant surveyed single- and two- (2) family residences within 400 feet of the subject site and in an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area"), finding that, of the 127 qualifying residences, 112 residences (88 percent) have an FAR greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.28, and 14 residences have an FAR of 0.91 or greater; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a lot coverage study demonstrating that, within the Study Area, 112 lots (88 percent) have 33 percent or greater lot coverage, consistent with the 33 percent lot coverage proposed at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement includes a horizontal extension of the existing 14-foot front yard along East 27th Street and represents that, pursuant to a 1950 Sanborn Map including the subject site, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, argues that the front yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, the Board takes no position as to the lawfulness of the existing front yard or any enlargement within the front yard, which cannot be waived under ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, DOB must ensure that any enlargement within the existing front yard complies with zoning regulations applicable to front yards; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-127K, dated May 8, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 0.91 FAR (3,633 square feet of floor area) and a minimum of 74 OSR (2,672 square feet of open space), as illustrated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT removal of existing joists or perimeter walls in excess of that shown on the Board-approved plans shall void the special permit;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No. 2019-86-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by September 10, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;

Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement includes an extension of the existing non-complying 1'-3" foot front yard along East 27th Street, decreasing the degree of non-compliance, and, pursuant to a 1950 Sanborn Map including the subject site provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying front yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No.19-BSA-128K, dated May 8, 2019; and

ACTION OF THE BOARD – Application granted on condition.

THE VOTE TO GRANT –

Affirmative: Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta and Commissioner Scibetta.....5

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated January 20, 2017, acting on Alteration Type I Application No. 122910449, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed subdivision and reduction in lot area of development previously approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals is contrary to BSA resolution under Cal. No. 132-04-BZ and must be referred back to the Board;” and

WHEREAS, this is an application to reopen and amend a variance, previously granted by the Board, which permitted commercial use on the ground floor of a proposed seven- (7) story, mixed-use building, to facilitate the transfer of 11,234 square feet of development rights appurtenant to the subject site by the owner of the site to several potential contiguous lots; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 21, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on November 8, 2018, February 5, 2019, July 16, 2019, and September 17, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Manhattan, opposes this application unless the applicant promises to withdraw the waiver to convert the community facility to residential and will maintain the community facility use in perpetuity; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is a triangular-shaped lot located on the northeast corner of East Houston Street and Avenue B, within an R8A zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 292 feet of frontage along East Houston Street, 49 feet of frontage along Avenue B, 7,901 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing seven- (7) story plus cellar mixed-use commercial, community facility and residential building containing 36,329 square feet of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since November 9, 2004, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance (the “Variance”), pursuant to ZR § 72-21, to permit, in a then-R7-2 zoning district, commercial use on the ground floor of the proposed seven- (7) story plus cellar mixed-use commercial, community facility and residential building, on condition that any and all work substantially conform to drawings as they apply to the objection, filed with the application; the premises be maintained free of debris and graffiti; any graffiti located on the premises be removed within 48 hours; the ground floor commercial space not be occupied by an eating and drinking establishment or a bar; the conditions be noted in the certificate of occupancy; all signage comply with regulations applicable to a C1 zoning district; the approval be limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; the approved plans be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and the Department of Buildings ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 9, 2014, the Board permitted a modification to the Board-approved plans to permit an increase in the floor area of the site, from 2.85 to 3.82 residential floor area ratio, 4.05 to 4.30 total floor area ratio, in light of the 2009 rezoning which changed the zoning district from an R7-2 to an R8A; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally requests an amendment to reflect the existing building floor area, 4.60 floor area ratio (“FAR”) (36,329 square feet of floor area), in excess of the Board’s approval; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed transfer of development rights is consistent with the New York Court of Appeals’ decision in Bella Vista v. Bennett, 89 N.Y.2d 565 (1997), setting forth the parameters of Board review of requests for the transfer of development rights from sites for which a variance has been previously granted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the transfer of the unused development rights from the subject site is not in conflict with the Variance; and

WHEREAS, with regards to the as-built conditions, the applicant submits that the building was overbuilt approximately 1,600 square feet more than approved in the Variance but that 738 square feet of floor area remained at the time of the grant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the Board made all of the findings required pursuant to ZR § 72-21 in approving the Variance; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant states that the excess floor area did not exist at the time of the original variance grant in 2004 and submitted a statement from a financial consultant stating that a development with a total of zoning floor area of 36,329 square feet, consisting of residential zoning floor area of 26,441 zoning square feet, commercial zoning floor area of 4,132 square feet and community facility zoning floor area of 5,756 square feet would not result in an excessive return on investment and is consistent with 2004 Variance; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the applicant states that an amendment to the Variance to facilitate the transfer of the unused development rights from the subject site to a larger development site does not undermine the integrity of the Board's earlier findings with regards to ZR §§ 72-21(b) or 72-21(e); and

WHEREAS, specifically, as stated above, the applicant submits that, at the time of the variance, the subject site was located within an R7-2 zoning district and, as such, the subject excess development rights did not yet exist; and

WHEREAS, the differences in timing and the then-applicable zoning support the conclusion that the use of the subject site's unused development rights was not foreseeable by the owner or the Board; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board finds that the proposed transfer does not implicate or affect the basis for its findings pursuant to ZR § 72-21, specifically the (b) and (e) findings, at the time that they were made; and

WHEREAS, this application supersedes the modifications previously approved by letter on April 9, 2014; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that the proposed amendment is appropriate with the conditions set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, adopted on November 9, 2004, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to permit the merger of the subject site with contiguous parcels on Block 384, in Manhattan, and the associated modifications to the BSA-approved site plan; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked 'Received August 28, 2019'-Nine (9) sheets; and on further condition:"

THAT there shall be no conversion of the second floor community facility use to residential use;

THAT the premises shall be maintained free of debris and graffiti;

THAT any graffiti located on the premises shall be removed within 48 hours;

THAT the ground floor commercial space shall not be occupied by an eating and drinking establishment or a bar;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT all signage shall comply with regulations applicable to a C1 zoning district;

THAT all conditions from the prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board shall remain in effect;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal. No. 132-04-BZ"), shall be obtained within one (1) year, by September 17, 2020; and

THAT DOB shall ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted."

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for renewals of building permits associated with previously granted common law vested rights applications, which reinstated Department of Buildings (“DOB”) Permit Nos. 20092252801-NB, 20092261701-NB, 20092262601-NB, 20092260801-NB, 20092255501-NB and 20092256401-NB and all related permits necessary to complete construction for a period that expired on June 2, 2019; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on these applications on September 17, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is known as Villanova Heights and is formerly known as the Chapel Farm Estate; it is located in the Riverdale section of the Bronx and is comprised of an eight (8) lot portion of a 15-acre site which contains a total of 15 lots, 12 of which, including the subject site, comprise a Major Development (the “Major Development”) which vested pursuant to statute (of the 12 lots which comprise the Major Development, six (6) are complete and six (6), the subject site, are not complete); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located south of West 253rd Street, west of Fieldston Road, north of West 250th Street, and east of Iselin Avenue, in the Bronx, within an R1-2 zoning district and also within a Special Natural Area District (the “SNAD”); and

WHEREAS, the lots which comprise the subject site are located on the arcing portion of Grosvenor Avenue that begins at West 250th Street and terminates at Iselin Avenue as well as on that portion of Goodridge Avenue which extends east from Grosvenor Avenue between West 250th Street and West 252nd Street; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is proposed to be developed with six (6) single-family homes (the homes are referred to collectively herein as the “Buildings”); and

WHEREAS, the subject site complies with a prior version of the SNAD regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that Permit Nos. 20092252801-NB, 20092261701-NB, 20092262601-NB, 20092260801-NB, 20092255501-NB and 20092256401-NB, the new building permits authorizing construction of the Buildings in accordance with R1-2 and then-applicable SNAD zoning district regulations (collectively, the “Permits”), were issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) on December 2, 2004, and all excavation and foundation construction was completed prior to January 21, 2005; and

WHEREAS, on February 2, 2005 (the “Enactment Date”), the City Council voted to adopt the Special Natural Area District amendment, which affected the SNAD regulations and resulted in non-compliances; and

WHEREAS, as of that date, the applicant had obtained permits for the homes and had completed and backfilled 100 percent of the Buildings’ foundations, such that the right to continue construction was vested pursuant to ZR § 11-331, however, due to financial hardship, the applicant did not complete construction within two (2) years and obtain certificates of occupancy for the Buildings, as required by ZR § 11-332, and the Permits lapsed by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since April 24, 2007, when, under BSA Cal. No. 20-07-BZY through 31-07-BZY, the Board granted applications recognizing statutory vested rights to complete construction, reinstated all of the permits necessary to complete construction and extended the time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy, pursuant to ZR § 11-332, and renewed the Permits for a term of two (2) years, to expire on April 24, 2009; and

WHEREAS, on June 15, 2009, and June 22, 2011, by letters, the Board renewed the Permits and extended the time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy for two- (2) year periods, the latter of which to expire on April 24, 2013; and

WHEREAS, on July 9, 2013, under BSA Cal. No. 111-13-BZY through 119-13-BZY, the Board granted applications recognizing statutory vested rights to complete construction, reinstated all of the permits necessary to complete construction and extended the time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy, pursuant to ZR § 11-332, and renewed the Permits for a term of one (1) year, to expire on July 9, 2014; and

WHEREAS, on June 2, 2015, under the subject calendar numbers, the Board granted applications recognizing common law vested rights to continue construction of the Buildings, reinstated all of the permits necessary to complete construction of the Buildings and granted an extension of time to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy for a term of four (4) years, which expired June 2, 2019; and

WHEREAS, however, as of June 2, 2019, construction was not completed and certificates of occupancy had not been issued; therefore, on that date, the previously reinstated Permits lapsed again by operation of law; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks further permit renewals to complete the work and obtain certificates of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that when work proceeds under a lawfully-issued permit, a common law vested right to continue construction after a change in zoning generally exists if: (1) the owner has undertaken substantial construction; (2) the owner has made substantial expenditures; and (3) serious loss will result if the owner is denied the right to proceed under the prior zoning; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Putnam Armonk, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 52 AD 2d 10 (2d Dept 1976), where a restrictive amendment to a zoning ordinance is enacted, the owner’s rights under the prior ordinance are deemed vested “and will not be disturbed where enforcement [of new zoning requirements] would cause ‘serious loss’ to the owner,” and “where substantial construction had been undertaken and substantial expenditures made prior to the effective date of the ordinance”; and

WHEREAS, however, notwithstanding this general framework, as discussed by the court in Kadin v. Bennett, 163 AD 2d 308 (2d Dept 1990) “there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess ‘a vested right’”. Rather, it is a term which sums up a determination that the facts of the case render it inequitable that the State impede the individual from taking certain action”; and

WHEREAS, the New Building Permits were lawfully issued prior to the Enactment Date; and

WHEREAS, work completed prior to the Enactment Date constituted substantial construction and substantial expenditures as stated in 20-07-BZY through 31-07-BZY and the statutory renewals thereof; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the applicant claimed that, since the July 9, 2013 grant, and prior to its expiration, it has continued construction of the Buildings and related infrastructure at the site in that it (1) performed site-wide installation of infrastructure, including electrical, fencing of common areas, irrigation and partial landscaping and (2) performed infrastructure work including grading/site preparation for 5310 and 5300 Grosvenor Avenue, as well as the installation of gas line connections for 5030 and 5040 Goodridge Avenue; and

WHEREAS, after June 2011, the applicant expended approximately $8,921,405, including soft costs, and the applicant states that, between July 1, 2014, and June 2, 2019, it has expended $23,997,000 in additional construction expenditures; and

WHEREAS, as to serious loss, the inquiry examines not only whether certain improvements and expenditures could not be recouped under the new zoning, but also considerations such as the diminution in income that would occur if the new zoning were imposed and the reduction in value between the proposed building and the building permitted under the new zoning; and

WHEREAS, the applicant additionally represents that serious loss would occur absent an extension of time to complete construction because at the subject site, five (5) of the six (6) buildings are complete and, absent the subject relief, certificates of occupancy for all six (6) buildings could not be obtained and the cost of the development could not be recouped; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant states that it would suffer a serious loss if the site was required to comply with the SNAD regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board agrees that complying with the current SNAD regulations would result in a substantial reduction of the market value of the site and cause the applicant a serious economic loss; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the Board has reviewed the representations as to the work performed and the expenditures made both before and after the Enactment Date, the representations regarding serious loss, and the supporting documentation for such representations, and agrees that the applicant has satisfactorily established that a vested right to complete construction of the Building continues to accrue to the owner of the premises; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested three- (3) year renewals of building permits lawfully issued before the Enactment Date are appropriate with certain conditions, as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that these applications made pursuant to the common law doctrine of vested rights requesting reinstatement of Permit Nos. 20092252801-NB, 20092261701-NB, 20092262601-NB, 20092260801-NB, 20092255501-NB and 20092256401-NB, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain certificates of occupancy, are granted for three (3) years from the date of this grant.”

WHEREAS, the building permit issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) on June 7, 2017, as amended and reissued April 11, 2019, under New Building Application No. 121190200 (the “Permit”), authorizes construction of a 39-story residential and community-facility building with a total height of 776 feet (the “New Building”) by West 66th Sponsor LLC (the “Owner”) on a zoning lot with 54,687 square feet of lot area; and

WHEREAS, this is an appeal for interpretation under Section 72-11 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York (“ZR” or the “Zoning Resolution”) and Section 666 of the New York City Charter, brought on behalf of the City Club of New York and certain members (“CC Appellant”) and on behalf of Landmark West! (“LW Appellant”) (collectively, “Appellants”), alleging errors in the Permit pertaining to whether the floor-to-ceiling heights of “floor space used for mechanical equipment” in the New Building complied with the “floor area” definition of ZR § 12-10 in effect before May 29, 2019, and whether the New Building complies with applicable bulk-distribution regulations for zoning lots located in the Special Lincoln Square District in accordance with ZR § 83-34; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 12-10, entitled “Definitions,” provides in pertinent part:

[T]he floor area of a building shall not include:

...

(8) floor space used for mechanical equipment, except that such exclusion shall not apply in R2A Districts, and in R1-2A, R2X, R3, R4, or R5 Districts, such exclusion shall be limited to 50 square feet for the first dwelling unit, an additional 30 square feet for the second dwelling unit and an additional 10 square feet for each additional dwelling unit. For the purposes of calculating floor space used for mechanical equipment, building segments on a single zoning lot may be considered to be separate buildings; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 82-34, applicable in the Special Lincoln Square District and entitled “Bulk Distribution,” states:

Within the Special District, at least 60 percent of the total floor area permitted on a zoning lot shall be within stories located partially or entirely below a height of 150 feet from curb level.

For the purposes of determining allowable floor area, where a zoning lot has a mandatory 85 foot high street wall requirement along Broadway, the portion of the zoning lot located within 50 feet of Broadway shall not be included in lot area unless such portion contains or will contain a building with a wall at least 85 feet high coincident with the entire street line of Broadway; and

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on West 66th Street, between Columbus Avenue and Central Park West, in the Special Lincoln Square District (the “Special District”), located partially in a C4-7 zoning district and partially in an R8 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 350 feet of frontage along West 66th Street, 201 feet of depth, 175 square feet of frontage along West 65th Street, 54,687 square feet of total lot area (35,105 square feet in a C4-7 zoning district and 19,582 square feet in an R8 zoning district), and is occupied by a two-story building and the New Building, which is under construction; and

WHEREAS, in 15 East 30th Street, Manhattan, BSA Cal. No. 2016-4327-A (Sept. 20, 2017) (“15 East 30th Street”), the Board denied an interpretive appeal, finding that DOB appropriately permitted “floor space used for mechanical equipment” to be deducted from floor area without regard to floor-to-ceiling height, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, on June 7, 2017, DOB issued the Permit, authorizing construction of the New Building, originally proposed as a 27-story residential and community-facility building with a total height of 292 feet on a zoning lot with 15,021 square feet of lot area; and

WHEREAS, on April 11, 2019, DOB reissued the Permit, as amended, authorizing the taller New Building on a larger zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, Appellants commenced this appeal in May 2019 under BSA Calendar No. 2109-89-A and under BSA Calendar No. 2019-94-A, challenging the Permit; and

WHEREAS, on May 29, 2019, the City Council approved with modifications a citywide text amendment generally providing that neither mechanical spaces taller than 25 feet nor mechanical spaces within 75 feet of one another would be deducted from floor area; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this appeal on August 6, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on September 10, 2019, and then to decision on September 17, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, there are two issues presented in this appeal: (1) whether, at the time of the Permit’s reissuance, spaces in the New Building designated to be “used for mechanical equipment” count as floor area under ZR § 12-10 and (2) whether the New Building, which is situated on a zoning lot that is divided by zoning district boundary lines, complies with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District under ZR § 82-34; and 1

DISCUSSION

WHEREAS, because this is an appeal for interpretation, the Board “may make such . . . determination as in its opinion should have been made in the premises in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of” the Zoning Resolution, ZR § 72-11; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed and considered—

1 There is no dispute that vesting under ZR § 11-33 is not before the Board in this appeal. On the other hand, as discussed at hearing, a timely third issue has not been presented by Appellants regarding whether the amount of floor space used for mechanical equipment in the New Building is excessive or irregular, and Appellants’ discussion of mechanical space in the New Building in their initial filings instead center on the volume and floor-to-ceiling heights of mechanical spaces. However, based on the lack of clarity about LW Appellant’s ability to procure a final determination from DOB, testimony corroborated by DOB that a subsequent final determination would be refused, and Appellants’ requests to proceed separately, the Board finds it appropriate to address this third issue, regarding (3) whether the architectural and mechanical plans for the New Building show sufficient mechanical equipment in the area identified as mechanical space to justify floor-area deductions, in a subsequent decision. See ZR § 72-11 (Dec. 15, 1961) (authorizing the Board “on its own initiative” to “review any . . . order, requirement, decision or determination of the Commissioner of Buildings, [and] of any duly authorized officer of the Department of Buildings”). Accordingly, on September 17, 2019, the Board reopened the appeal filed by LW Appellant under BSA Calendar No. 2019-94-A to receive additional testimony only with respect to this third issue, which is not decided herein and is set for a continued hearing on December 17, 2019.

but need not follow—DOB’s interpretation of the Zoning Resolution in rendering the Board’s own decision in this appeal, and the standard of review in this appeal is de novo; and

WHEREAS, as discussed herein, (A) the Board finds that Appellants have not substantiated a basis to warrant departure from its decision in 15 East 30th Street in that the Zoning Resolution in effect prior to May 29, 2019, did not regulate the floor-to-ceiling heights of “floor space used for mechanical equipment” in exempting such mechanical space from floor-area calculations, ZR § 12-10; (B) the Board finds that Appellants have failed to demonstrate that the New Building’s zoning lot does not comply with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District under ZR § 82-34; and (C) the Board has considered all of the parties’ arguments on appeal, including those summarized below; and

A. Height of Mechanical Spaces

WHEREAS, Appellants contend that the Zoning Resolution in effect prior to May 29, 2019, regulated the floor-to-ceiling heights of “floor space used for mechanical equipment” in exempting such mechanical space from floor-area calculations, ZR § 12-10; however, the Board finds that Appellants have not substantiated a basis to warrant departure from its decision in 15 East 30th Street; and

WHEREAS, the Board considered this exact issue in 15 East 30th Street and determined that, “based upon its review of the record, the definition of ‘floor area’ set forth in ZR § 12-10 and the Zoning Resolution as a whole, the Board finds that the Zoning Resolution does not control the floor-to-ceiling height of floor space used for mechanical equipment”; and

WHEREAS, in 15 East 30th Street, DOB presented testimony that “the Zoning Resolution does not regulate the floor-to-ceiling height of a building’s mechanical spaces,” and the Department of City Planning (“DCP”) also submitted testimony stating that “there are no regulations in the Zoning Resolution controlling the height of mechanical floors”; and

WHEREAS, Appellants present no persuasive reason for the Board to depart from its prior consideration of this issue, and the record further supports the Board’s interpretation of the floor-area definition in 15 East 30th Street; and

WHEREAS, the record reflects no evidence characterizing the Residential Tower Mechanical Voids Text Amendment, CPC Report No. N 190230 ZRY (April 10, 2019), as a mere clarification rather than a change in law, as asserted by Appellants; and

WHEREAS, instead, the accompanying report states that “[t]he [Zoning] Resolution does not specifically identify a limit to the height of such [mechanical] spaces,” while the text amendment itself explicitly limits the height of mechanical spaces that are exempt from floor-area calculations, see CPC Report No. N 190230 ZRY (April 10, 2019); and

WHEREAS, the Residential Tower Mechanical Voids

Text Amendment’s attendant environmental review also characterizes the “No-Action Scenario” as allowing the development of buildings with mechanical spaces ranging from 80 to 90 feet in height, while the “With-Action Scenario” would limit mechanical spaces to heights from 10 to 25 feet; and

WHEREAS, lastly, DCP’s Residential Mechanical Voids Findings: Building Permits Issued b/w 2007 and 2017 R6 through R10 Districts (Feb. 2019) (“Residential Mechanical Voids Findings”), about mechanical spaces’ floor-to-ceiling heights, which Appellants assert is a study of typical floor-to-ceiling heights for mechanical spaces, is not relevant to the Board’s decision in 15 East 30th Street because Residential Mechanical Voids studies floor-to-ceiling heights, while 15 East 30th Street determined such floor-to-ceiling heights were not regulated to qualify as floor-area-exempted “floor space used for mechanical equipment,” ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that Appellants have not substantiated a basis to warrant departure from its decision in 15 East 30th Street in that the Zoning Resolution in effect prior to May 29, 2019, did not regulate the floor-to-ceiling heights of “floor space used for mechanical equipment” in exempting such mechanical space from floor-area calculations, ZR § 12-10; and

B. Bulk Distribution

WHEREAS, the Board finds that Appellants have also failed to demonstrate that the New Building’s zoning lot does not comply with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District under ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, the subject zoning lot is wholly located within the Special District, which was established and designed to “conserve [this area’s] status as . . . a cosmopolitan residential community,” ZR § 82-00(a), and “to promote the most desirable use of land in this area and thus to conserve the value of land and buildings, and thereby protect the City’s tax revenues,” ZR § 82-00(f); and

WHEREAS, because the subject zoning lot is partially located in an R8 zoning district and partially located in a C4-7 zoning district, the Zoning Resolution treats the subject site as a zoning lot divided by a district boundary; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution contains special provisions for zoning lots divided by district boundaries,² see ZR § 77-00, and “[w]henver a zoning lot is divided by a boundary between two or more districts and such zoning lot did not exist on December 15, 1961, or any applicable subsequent amendment thereto, each portion of such zoning lot shall be regulated by all the provisions applicable to the district in which such portion of the zoning lot is located,” ZR § 77-02; and

WHEREAS, there is no dispute that the Zoning Resolution’s split-lot provisions apply “on a regulation-by-regulation basis,” Beekman Hill Ass’n v. Chin, 274 A.D.2d 161 (1st Dep’t 2000); and

² Such zoning lots are commonly called “split lots.”

WHEREAS, however, Appellants contend that the New Building's zoning lot does not comply with the Zoning Resolution's split-lot provisions with respect to the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations, see ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, more specifically, Appellants contend that the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations and tower regulations, ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36, are intended to operate together—always, and only, together—such that the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations do not constitute “provisions applicable to the [R8] district in which . . . such portion of the zoning lot is located,” ZR § 77-02; and

WHEREAS, there is no dispute that the New Building is located on a split lot for purposes of the tower-coverage regulations and that the New Building complies with the Special District's applicable tower-coverage regulations, see ZR § 82-36; and

WHEREAS, Appellants, the Owner, and DOB vigorously dispute whether the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations apply to the R8 portion of the subject site, see ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution provides that “[w]ithin the Special District, at least 60 percent of the total floor area permitted on a zoning lot shall be within stories located partially or entirely below a height of 150 feet from curb level,” ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, from this provision, it is clear that the bulk-distribution regulations apply “[w]ithin the Special District”—in other words, throughout the Special District without qualification or regard to subdistrict, street frontage, or underlying zoning district; and

WHEREAS, nothing about the text of the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations evinces an intent to link inextricably these bulk-distribution regulations with tower-coverage regulations; and

WHEREAS, nowhere in the text of this first sentence is there a cross-referenced citation to the Special District's tower-coverage regulations or to the bulk-distribution or tower-coverage regulations found at ZR §§ 23-65, 33-45 or 35-64, see ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, in comparison, the text of the second sentence contains provisions applicable to a specifically defined area (“along Broadway”), ZR § 82-34, and the Special District's tower-coverage regulations contain similarly delineated areas (“Subdistrict A” and “Block 3”), ZR § 82-36; and

WHEREAS, on the other hand, the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations applicable to the New Building contain no such qualification—providing only the blanket applicability of “[w]ithin the Special District,” ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, there is no basis to import the qualifications suggested by Appellants into the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations where the text describes other regulations as applicable in specifically defined areas (“along Broadway,” “Subdistrict A,” and “Block 3”) in other instances, ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36; and

WHEREAS, the Board has considered evidence presented by Appellants but finds it unconvincing at best: for instance, Regulating Residential Towers and Plazas: Issues and Options, DCP No. 89-46 (Nov. 1989) (“Regulating Residential Towers and Plazas”), and the timing of an unrelated same-day text amendment to ZR § 23-651 provide no support for Appellants' assertion that the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations always and only apply together with the Special District's tower-coverage regulations; DCP's Regulating Residential Towers and Plazas says no such thing, and the timing of unrelated text amendments provides no guidance whatsoever; and, if anything, DCP's Regulating Residential Towers and Plazas reflects that the City rejected an outright height limitation of 275 feet within the Special District, favoring the more flexible bulk controls set forth in ZR § 82-00; and

WHEREAS, while the Board has heard and considered all of Appellants' arguments, Appellants have presented no persuasive basis to find the applicability of the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations unclear, so the Board declines Appellants' invitation to delve further into the legislative history “in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of” the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations in this appeal, ZR § 77-11; and

WHEREAS, Appellants contend that this literal interpretation (“[w]ithin the Special District” means “throughout the Special District”) leads to absurd results that gut the purported purpose of the Special District's bulk-distribution—to whitt, reducing the height of buildings; and

WHEREAS, however, nothing in the record indicates that this literal interpretation reflects a mistake or scrivener's error in drafting the 1994 text amendment to the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations; and

WHEREAS, the record instead reflects testimony and credible evidence in the form of architectural diagrams and examples of buildings in the vicinity indicating that such a result is not absurd and that, instead, the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations do operate to reduce the height of buildings in the Special District—only not to the extent Appellants wish; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board examined a number of examples of buildings in the Special District constructed before and after the enactment of the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations in 1994, finding the pre-1994 buildings generally exceeded the heights of post-1994 buildings on similarly sized zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, the Board also compared buildings constructed inside and outside the Special District, finding that post-1994 buildings outside the Special District generally exceeded the heights of post-1994 buildings inside the Special District on similarly sized zoning lots; and

WHEREAS, this discrepancy in building height before and after the enactment of the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations and this discrepancy inside and outside the Special District both lend credence to DOB and the Owner's assertion that the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations—as interpreted herein—do operate to reduce the height of buildings in the Special District; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board further noted that floor plates the size of those in the New Building—a recent architectural development that results in less floor area being used per floor and that allows for taller towers in zoning districts without height limits—could not have been anticipated in 1994 when the City amended the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations, but the Board also observed that Appellants’ height concerns in this appeal appear focused not on the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations but rather on the height of mechanical spaces in the New Building—a separate issue settled in 15 East 30th Street and addressed above; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that Appellants have failed to demonstrate that the Zoning Resolution treats the New Building’s zoning lot as a split lot with respect to the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations and that Appellants have failed to demonstrate that the New Building’s zoning lot does not comply with the bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District under ZR § 82-34; and

C. Parties’ Positions

WHEREAS, in reaching its decision set forth herein, the Board has considered all of the parties’ arguments on appeal, including those put forth by Appellants, DOB, and the Owner, but ultimately finds Appellants’ arguments unpersuasive; and

Appellants’ Position

WHEREAS, the Board has considered all of Appellants’ arguments on appeal but finds them ultimately unpersuasive in light of the foregoing; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that this appeal should be granted because, at the time of the Permit’s reissuance, “196 vertical feet of purported mechanical space in the midsection of” the New Building would not be “used for mechanical equipment” and is not “customarily accessory to residential uses,” therefore should be included as “floor area” as defined in ZR § 12-10, and because the New Building does not comply with the bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District, see ZR § 82-34; and

Appellants: Height of Mechanical Spaces

WHEREAS, Appellants state that “196 vertical feet of purported mechanical space” in the New Building do not comply with the ZR § 12-10 “accessory use” definition because “these floors” are not “customarily found in connection with residential uses”; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that this issue is not settled by the Board’s 15 East 30th Street decision, where the appellant in that appeal failed to provide any evidence or expert opinion that mechanical space in that building was “irregular”; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that, however, since the Board’s resolution of that appeal, DCP studied mechanical space in 796 residential buildings constructed between 2007 and 2017 in R6–R10 zoning districts, finding that “[o]nly a few TOB [tower-on-base] buildings had a mechanical floor below the highest residential floor (exclusive of cellars),” that “their typical height was 12–15 feet” and that “[l]arger mechanical spaces were generally reserved for the uppermost floors of the building in a mechanical penthouse, or in the cellar below ground,” Residential Mechanical Voids Findings; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that DCP’s Residential Mechanical Voids Findings shows that the New Building’s mechanical space, with an aggregate height of 229 feet throughout the New Building, is anomalous—not customary—because of its height; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the Owner’s argument that the mechanical spaces do not constitute a “use” under the Zoning Resolution is unpersuasive because these spaces are “designed,” “arranged,” “intended,” “maintained” and “occupied” for mechanical equipment, though Appellants assert their use is better characterized as increasing the New Building’s height; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that mechanical spaces in the New Building are not “floor space used for mechanical equipment,” ZR § 12-10, because they are unnecessary since no mechanical equipment requires floor-to-ceiling heights of 48 feet to 64 feet; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that, accordingly, mechanical spaces in the New Building do not qualify as “floor space used for mechanical equipment” that is exempt from floor-area calculations, ZR § 12-10; and

Appellants: Bulk Distribution

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the New Building does not comply with the Zoning Resolution’s split-lot provisions and the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations under ZR §§ 82-34, 77-02 and 33-48; and

WHEREAS, first, Appellants state that the text “[w]ithin the Special District” is vague, and the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations do not apply in districts where, as Appellants contend, no towers are permitted; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that, here, interpreting the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations to distribute “at least 60 percent of the total floor area” across the entirety of the subject zoning lot “below a height of 150 feet from curb level,” ZR § 82-34, runs contrary to the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations’ purpose; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that proper application of the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations requires the total floor area of the tower and base to be equal to the total floor area permitted in the portion of the subject zoning lot located in the C4-7 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that including floor area from the R8 portion of the zoning lot, which floor area is located below a height of 150 feet from curb level, as well as floor area from the C4-7 zoning district does not have the effect of reducing the floor area, and ultimately the height of the tower, which Appellants assert, is the intent of the bulk-distribution regulations; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the proffered interpretation by DOB and the Owner actually results in a base with a total of 48 percent of the total floor area and a tower with 52 percent of the total floor area where, Appellants assert, the legislative intent was otherwise; and

WHEREAS, second, Appellants state that the subject zoning lot does not comply with the Zoning Resolution's split-lot provisions, which state that "each portion of such [split] zoning lot shall be regulated by all the provisions applicable to the district in which such portion of the zoning lot is located," ZR § 77-02, because residential towers are not permitted in the R8 district and are in the C4-7 district, hence the bulk-distribution regulations of ZR § 82-34 cannot apply in an R8 district; and

WHEREAS, third, Appellants state that the phrase in ZR § 82-34 "[w]ithin a Special District" differentiates the applicability of the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations from the generally applicable bulk-distribution rule, set forth in ZR § 23-651(a)(2), and does not make ZR § 82-34 applicable to the R8 portion of the subject zoning lot; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the legislative history indicates that "[w]ithin a Special District" does not apply to the R8 portion of the subject site because in its consideration of the Special Lincoln Square District, see CPC Report, No. N 940127 (A) ZRM (Dec. 20, 1993) (the "1993 CPC Report") and Special Lincoln Square District Zoning Review (May 1993) (the "1993 DCP Lincoln Square Review"), the Department of City Planning studied six sites (including part of the subject zoning lot before its merger into the larger subject zoning lot) where development may occur, and none of the six were located in the 5.3 percent of the Special District located in an R8 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the 1993 CPC Report, and the 1993 DCP Lincoln Square Review, do not support the Owner's argument that the bulk-distribution rule should apply to the entire zoning lot because they refer to both the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations and the tower-coverage regulations in tandem as conjunctive "urban design" controls; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the 1993 CPC Report's reference to "throughout the district" contrasts with the text amendment's other location-specific controls—such as "along Broadway," "for the Bow Tie sites" and "on the Mayflower block"—that do not apply here; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the 1993 CPC Report notes that the tower-on-a-base rules were meant to confine building height to "the low-30 stories" in order to prohibit another Millennium Tower, id. at 19, described in the 1993 DCP Lincoln Square Review as "an extreme case [that] will rise to 46 stories or 525 feet in height, with only 42 percent of its bulk located below 150 feet. This is largely due to almost 125,000 square feet of movie theater uses, which create hollow spaces that substantially add to the mass and height of the building," id. at 14; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, Appellants state that, even if "[w]ithin a Special District" could be read to apply to the R8 portion of the subject site, ZR § 82-34 must not be interpreted to eviscerate legislative intent; and

WHEREAS, additionally, because the tower-coverage and bulk-distribution text of ZR § 23-651 is substantially similar and "identical in concept," to the bulk distribution text of ZR § 82-34 and the tower-coverage text of ZR § 82-36 Appellants state that there is clear legislative intent that ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 must be applied together; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the chart in ZR § 23-651 relates general tower-coverage to general bulk-distribution regulations by increasing the amount of floor area that must be located below a level of 150 feet as tower coverage increases, thereby ensuring a constant tower height regardless of tower coverage or lot area, but Appellants provide no evidence or explanation for the absence of such a chart from the Special District's bulk-distribution and tower-coverage regulations, see ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that DCP's Regulating Residential Towers and Plazas supports this contention because it states that "[a] potentially effective approach [to reducing the height of new buildings] could be to require that a minimum percentage of the total floor area of the zoning lot be located at elevations less than 150 feet above the curb level," and "[i]n some instances, an appropriate relationship might be established by coupling other envelope controls, such as a minimum tower coverage, with a lower minimum percentage for the proposed Packing-the-Bulk regulations," id. at 27; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, Appellants state that, because ZR § 23-651 and ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 purportedly share "a common history and purpose," as suggested by their contemporaneous CPC reports, ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 must be applied together, see 1993 CPC Report and CPC Report No. N 940013 ZRM (Dec. 20, 1993) (pertaining to tower-on-base regulations for high density districts); and

WHEREAS, additionally, Appellants state that ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 only apply to towers, which are not permitted for residential use, but are for community facility uses, in R8 zoning districts; and

WHEREAS, in post-hearing submissions, Appellants argue that the Owner's failure to illustrate a hypothetical building subject to R8 height-and-setback regulations where the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations would have an impact indicates that the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations are pointless because "that Rule is doing no work at all" here; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that a hypothetical community-facility tower permitted in the R8 portion of the subject site is also unavailing because there was no legislative intent to limit the height of community-facility towers and because the community facility tower regulations at ZR § 24-54(a) predate the 1994 amendments at issue and are not relevant to whether the 1994 amendments to the tower-coverage and bulk-distribution regulations must apply together throughout the Special District; and

WHEREAS, additionally, Appellants state that the text of ZR § 82-34 is ambiguous, and Appellants reiterate that the legislative history indicates that ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36

must be applied in tandem to the C4-7 portion of the subject site only and not include the R8 portion for bulk-distribution purposes, since tower coverage, ZR § 82-36, applies only to the C4-7 under the split lot rules; and

WHEREAS, Appellants state that the Zoning Resolution's calculations that relate tower-coverage regulations to bulk-distribution regulations, as indicated in the chart in ZR § 23-651, similarly dictate that development cannot mathematically exceed the "low-30 stories" referenced in the legislative history of ZR § 82-34, and Appellants submitted a spreadsheet without zoning citations purporting to demonstrate that "the parameters [on lot area, bulk distribution, tower coverage, and the percentage of floor space that does not count as floor area] embody a mathematical limit that, not coincidentally, is in the low-30 stories"; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, Appellants state that the literal reading of ZR § 82-34 urged by DOB and the Owner does not control in this appeal because it leads to the absurd result of increasing the amount of floor area located more than 150 feet above curb level which results in a taller tower than was contemplated by the Zoning Resolution's drafters; and

WHEREAS, lastly, Appellants state that it is not plausible that ZR § 82-34 was meant to apply to the R8 portion of the subject site because there is no evidence of such intent; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, Appellants submit that the New Building violates the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations, see ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that this appeal should be denied because, at the time of the Permit's reissuance, the Zoning Resolution did not regulate the floor-to-ceiling heights of floor space used for mechanical equipment and because the New Building's zoning lot complies with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District; and

DOB: Height of Mechanical Spaces

WHEREAS, DOB states that notwithstanding an amendment to the Zoning Resolution effective May 29, 2019, it is undisputed that the New Building's foundation had been completed by that time, so the New Building is allowed to proceed with construction as of right under ZR § 11-33; and

WHEREAS, DOB, however, disputes that the Zoning Resolution in effect before May 29, 2019, regulated floor-to-ceiling height of mechanical spaces in buildings, as asserted by Appellants; and

WHEREAS, instead, DOB notes that the Zoning Resolution specifically excluded "floor space used for mechanical equipment" from floor-area calculations under the "floor area" definition, ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the New Building's mechanical space constitutes an "accessory use," ZR § 12-10; and

that mechanical space is not a "use" because mechanical space is a "purpose for which a building . . . may be designed, arranged, intended, maintained or occupied" as well as an "activity . . . operation carried on, or intended to be carried on, in a building," ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, in particular, the mechanical space is "either a purpose for which the [New Building] is designed or an activity or operation carried on in the [New Building]"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that the New Building's mechanical space meets the ZR § 12-10 "accessory use" definition because it is located on the same zoning lot as the related principal residential and community-facility uses; because it is incidental to the principal use by virtue of comprising significantly less floor space than the floor area of the principal uses; because mechanical equipment is customarily found in connection with residential and community-facility uses on a similar scale to the New Building's mechanical space; and because the mechanical space is in common ownership with the principal residential and community-facility uses; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, additionally, the Board considered this exact issue in 15 East 30th Street and determined that, "based upon its review of the record, the definition of 'floor area' set forth in ZR § 12-10 and the Zoning Resolution as a whole, the Board finds that the Zoning Resolution does not control the floor-to-ceiling height of floor space used for mechanical equipment"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, in so determining, the Board specifically credited DOB's technical review of the amount and size of mechanical equipment, and there is no reason to reach a different determination in this appeal; and

WHEREAS, DOB has reviewed and approved the New Building's mechanical equipment and "found that the amount of equipment proposed was sufficient to justify its exemption from floor area as it was serving the principal use"; and

DOB: Bulk Distribution

WHEREAS, DOB states that the New Building complies with the bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District; and

WHEREAS, DOB cites to ZR § 82-64, which states that "[w]ithin the Special District, at least 60 percent of the total floor area permitted on a zoning lot shall be within stories located partially or entirely below a height of 150 feet from curb level,"; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that therefore ZR § 82-64 applies throughout the Special District without regard to the underlying district designations, so the New Building's zoning lot is not treated as a split lot subject to ZR § 77-00 for the purposes of the bulk-distribution regulations of ZR § 82-64; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that, instead, the New Building's zoning lot is allowed 548,543 square feet of floor area, of which more than 60 percent (329,126 square feet) is located below a height of 150 feet from curb level in accordance with ZR § 82-64; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that it is undisputed in this appeal that since the zoning lot is a split lot for purposes of tower-coverage regulations, the New Building complies with applicable tower-coverage regulations, ZR § 82-36; and

WHEREAS, DOB states that Appellants' arguments that the New Building is on a split lot for purposes of ZR § 82-34 are unpersuasive because the Zoning Resolution considers split lots on a regulation-by-regulation basis; unlike ZR § 82-36, which only applies to the portion of the subject site in a C4-7 zoning district, ZR § 82-34 applies equally to the entirety of the subject site without regard to the underlying zoning district designations; and there is no basis to conclude that ZR § 82-34 was intended as a modification to general tower-on-a-base provisions of ZR § 23-651(a)(2) whereby ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 only operate together, like the provisions of ZR § 23-651; and

WHEREAS, in post-hearing submissions, DOB reiterates that ZR § 82-34 clearly applies throughout the Special District, and as such no reference to the legislative history is necessary to determine legislative intent; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that this appeal should be denied because, at the time of the Permit's reissuance, the Zoning Resolution did not regulate the floor-to-ceiling heights of floor space used for mechanical equipment and because the New Building's zoning lot complies with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District; and

Owner: Height of Mechanical Spaces

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, notwithstanding an amendment to the Zoning Resolution effective May 29, 2019, it is undisputed that the New Building's foundation had been completed by that time, so the New Building is allowed to proceed with construction as of right under ZR § 11-33; and

WHEREAS, the Owner, however, disputes that the Zoning Resolution in effect before May 29, 2019, regulated the floor-to-ceiling heights of mechanical spaces in buildings, as asserted by Appellants; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Owner notes that the Board considered this exact issue in 15 East 30th Street and determined that, "based upon its review of the record, the definition of 'floor area' set forth in ZR § 12-10 and the Zoning Resolution as a whole, the Board finds that the Zoning Resolution does not control the floor-to-ceiling height of floor space used for mechanical equipment"; and

WHEREAS, the Owner notes that, in that appeal, DOB had taken the position that "the Zoning Resolution does not regulate the floor-to-ceiling height of a building's mechanical spaces," and DCP had also submitted testimony stating that "there are no regulations in the Zoning Resolution controlling the height of mechanical floors"; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that there is no reason for the Board to depart from its prior consideration of this issue and notes that there is now further support for the Board's interpretation of the "floor area" definition; and

WHEREAS, the Owner disputes Appellants' characterization of the text amendment as a mere clarification rather than a change in law; and

WHEREAS, the Owner notes that the resolution accompanying the zoning text amendment, City Planning Commission Report No. N 190230 ZRY (April 10, 2019) states that "[t]he [Zoning] Resolution does not specifically identify a limit to the height of such [mechanical] spaces," when the text amendment explicitly limits the height of mechanical spaces that are exempt from floor-area calculations; and

WHEREAS, the Owner notes that the attendant environmental review also characterized the "No-Action Scenario" as allowing the development of buildings with mechanical spaces ranging from 80 to 90 feet in height, while the "With-Action Scenario" would limit these mechanical spaces to heights from 10 to 25 feet; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that mechanical spaces in the New Building need not comply with the Zoning Resolution's "accessory use" definition, contrary to Appellants' assertions that mechanical spaces of such height are not "customarily found in connection with" mechanical spaces; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that a mechanical space is neither a "use" nor an "accessory use" under ZR § 12-10 because the Zoning Resolution defines a "use" as "(a) any purpose for which a building or other structure or an open tract of land may be designed, arranged, intended, maintained or occupied; or (b) any activity, occupation, business or operation carried on, or intended to be carried on, in a building or other structure or on an open tract of land" and defines an "accessory use" as "use which is clearly incidental" to a principal use; and

WHEREAS, instead, the Owner characterizes mechanical space as "building infrastructure used for the operation of any type of building . . . similar to many other areas within a building, such as elevator shafts or stairwells, elevator or stair bulkheads, or exterior wall thickness"; and

WHEREAS, assuming mechanical space is appropriately classified as an accessory use, the Owner states that there is no reason in this appeal to depart from the Board's consideration of the specific issue in 15 East 30th Street, where the Board determined that the floor-to-ceiling height of mechanical space was not relevant to its classification as an accessory use and where DCP had submitted testimony that, "regardless of its floor-to-ceiling height, any space which is devoted to accessory residential mechanical equipment is considered to be a legal accessory use"; and

WHEREAS, contrary to Appellants' arguments regarding the characterization of DCP's citywide analysis of mechanical spaces, the Owner notes that DCP's Residential Mechanical Voids Findings and the record in 15 East 30th Street both demonstrate with ample examples that mechanical spaces with similar heights to those in the New Building are "customarily found in connection" with the New Building's principal uses, and there is no reason to find that “floor space used for mechanical equipment” contemplates an analysis of volume or height to be “clearly incidental” to a principal use under ZR § 12-10; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Owner submits that mechanical spaces in the New Building complied with the Zoning Resolution in effect before May 29, 2019, under the Board’s interpretation set forth in 15 East 30th Street; and

Owner: Bulk Distribution

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the New Building’s zoning lot complies with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the Zoning Resolution provides that “[w]ithin the Special District, at least 60 percent of the total floor area permitted on a zoning lot shall be within stories located partially or entirely below a height of 150 feet from curb level,” ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that the New Building’s zoning lot complies with this provision because the total floor area allowed on the subject zoning lot is 548,543 square feet, comprised of 421,260 square feet (12.0 FAR) in the C4-7 zoning district and 127,283 square feet (6.5 FAR) in the R8 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that ZR § 82-34 applies to all zoning lots in the Special District, regardless of underlying zoning district designations, so 60 percent of the total floor area on the subject zoning lot (329,126 square feet) must be located below 150 feet above curb level; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, because the DOB-approved drawings for the New Building reflect “at least 60 percent of the total floor area . . . below a height of 150 feet from curb level,” the New Building’s zoning lot complies with ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that Appellants’ argument that ZR § 82-34 only applies to the portion of the subject site within a C4-7 zoning district is unpersuasive because ZR § 82-34 applies to zoning lots throughout the entire Special District, regardless of the underlying district designations, because ZR § 82-34 states “[w]ithin the Special District” without qualification; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that Appellant’s argument that the Zoning Resolution’s split-lot provisions require bulk calculations by zoning district is unavailing because the split-lot provisions apply “on a regulation-by-regulation basis,” Beekman Hill Ass’n v. Chin, 274 A.D.2d 161 (1st Dep’t 2000); and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that ZR § 82-34 applies with equal force in the portion of the subject site in the C4-7 zoning district as in the R8 zoning district—so the New Building’s zoning lot is not treated as a split lot with respect to ZR § 82-34; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, on the other hand, because tower-coverage regulations differ for the portion of the subject site in the C4-7 zoning district from the R8 zoning district, the New Building’s zoning lot is treated as a split lot for the purposes of tower-coverage regulations under ZR § 82-36, which does not apply to the portion of the subject site in an R8 zoning district, see also ZR § 33-48;

WHEREAS, the Owner states that it is undisputed in this appeal that, the zoning lot is a split lot for purposes of the tower-coverage regulations, and the New Building complies with the applicable tower-coverage regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that Appellant’s argument that “[w]ithin the Special District” is a reference to tower-on-a-base regulations of ZR § 23-651 is unpersuasive because tower-on-a-base regulations do not apply in C4-7 zoning districts; because there are major differences between tower-on-a-base regulations and ZR § 82-34, such as the absence in the Special District’s bulk-distribution regulations of applicability only to wide-street frontage; ZR § 82-34 contains no cross reference to ZR § 23-651 or other manner of incorporation or modification; while, in contrast to ZR § 82-34, ZR § 82-36 specifically modifies the tower regulations set forth in ZR §§ 33-45, 35-64 and 23-65; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that Appellants’ arguments that the legislative history of the Special District mandates the concurrent operation of ZR §§ 82-24 and 82-36 is unavailing because the six development sites studied by the Department of City Planning in the C4-7 zoning district are irrelevant to the application of the ultimately adopted regulations; because the City Planning Commission further noted that the ultimately adopted regulations “would sufficiently regulate the resultant building form and scale even in the case of development involving zoning lot mergers”; and because the legislative history materials characterize ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 as “complementary,” not inextricably linked; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, ultimately, Appellants take issue with the Zoning Resolution as it exists, which is beyond the purview of this appeal; and

WHEREAS, in post-hearing submissions, the Owner notes that the Zoning Resolution explicitly defines its provisions’ applicability, indicating that “[w]ithin the Special District” means what it says: ZR § 82-34 applies throughout the entire Special District; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Owner notes numerous other instances where the Zoning Resolution qualifies its provisions’ applicability in the Special District—such as to certain subdistricts, certain street frontages, certain zoning districts and certain enumerated exceptions—indicating that the absence of similar qualification in ZR § 82-34 indicates that the bulk-distribution regulations do apply throughout the Special District; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that there is no qualification in ZR § 82-34 that it only applies to towers and not to development subject to height-and-setback regulations, such as the portion of the New Building located in the R8 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that there is no merit to Appellants’ contention that “[w]ithin a Special District” merely highlights the minor differences between ZR § 23-651 and ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 because, when the Zoning

Resolution modifies underlying zoning district regulations, it specifically states so through the use of cross references; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, unlike ZR § 23-651, ZR §§ 82-34 and 82-36 are separate sections in the Zoning Resolution that are applied separately and do not, by their express language, apply to the same zoning districts; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, because the language of the text of ZR § 82-34 is clear and unambiguous, its plain meaning constitutes the best evidence of legislative intent, and no examination of legislative history is necessary to determine legislative intent; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, notwithstanding the clarity of the text, Appellants' analysis of the legislative history is fatally flawed because soft sites studied in conjunction with the 1994 amendments do not override ZR § 82-34's applicability throughout the Special District, because the predictability of the 1994 text amendments' applicability was the subject of wide dispute and because any unpredictable—but lawfully compliant—results must be addressed legislatively by amending the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, contrary to Appellant's contention that DOB's interpretation of ZR § 82-34 increases the height of the New Building, the height of the New Building is actually reduced by having 60 percent of its total floor area located below 150 feet above curb level, and ZR § 82-34 operates as intended, even if not to the extent Appellants would prefer; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the Owner provided comparative architectural diagrams showing that, without the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations, a 43-story, 839-foot tower could be developed on the subject zoning lot or a 30-story, 470-foot community-facility tower could be built in the R8 portion of the subject zoning lot; however, with the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations, only the 39-story, 775-foot New Building on the subject zoning lot or a 350-foot, 22-story community-facility tower in the R8 portion of the subject zoning lot are allowed; and

WHEREAS, the Owner states that, additionally, the Zoning Resolution contains no express limitation on the number of stories permitted in the Special District, and the City Planning Commission specifically rejected a special-district-wide height limitation of 275 feet; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Owner submits that the New Building's zoning lot complies with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District and that this appeal should be denied; and

WHEREAS, the Board has considered all of the arguments on appeal but finds them ultimately unpersuasive; and

WHEREAS, in response to concerns from Appellants and the community regarding the height of development within the City, the Board notes that, while it has the power "to hear and decide appeals from and to review interpretations of this Resolution" under ZR § 72-01(a), the Board does not have the power to zone, see City Charter § 666; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, insofar as Appellants or members of the community take issue with provisions of the Zoning Resolution—or absence thereof—as enacted, that grievance falls outside the scope of the Board's authority to review this appeal; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that Appellants have not substantiated a basis to warrant departure from its decision in 15 East 30th Street in that the Zoning Resolution in effect prior to May 29, 2019, did not regulate the floor-to-ceiling heights of "floor space used for mechanical equipment" in exempting such mechanical space from floor-area calculations, ZR § 12-10, and the Board finds that Appellants have failed to demonstrate that the Zoning Resolution treats the New Building's zoning lot as a split lot with respect to the Special District's bulk-distribution regulations and that Appellants have failed to demonstrate that the New Building's zoning lot does not comply with bulk-distribution regulations applicable in the Special District under ZR § 82-34.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the building permit issued by the Department of Buildings on June 7, 2017, as amended and reissued April 11, 2019, under New Building Application No 121190200, shall be and hereby is upheld and that this appeal shall be and hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the building permit issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), issued on April 8, 2016, Alteration Type I Application No. 421196921 (the “Permit”), permits the alteration of an existing building resulting in a vertically and horizontally enlarged three-story building containing a Use Group 6A “Retail Store,” a Use Group 3A “Nursery” (for children ages 6 months to 2 years), and a Use Group 3A “Day Care” (for children from ages 2 years to 6 years); and

WHEREAS, this is an appeal for interpretation, under Section 72-11 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York (“ZR” or the “Zoning Resolution”) and Section 666(6)(a) of the New York City Charter, brought by Beni Rachmanov (the “Appellant”), alleging errors in and seeking complete revocation of the Permit for failure to comply with Building Code and zoning requirements relating to easements, zoning district boundaries, open area, and height; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 33-48 states:

“Special Provisions for Zoning Lots Divided by District Boundaries

C1 C2 C3 C4 C5 C6 C7 C8

In all districts, as indicated, whenever a zoning lot is divided by a boundary between districts, or is subject to other regulations resulting in different height and setback regulations, or whenever a zoning lot is divided by a boundary between a district to which the provisions of Section 33-45 (Tower Regulations) apply and a district to which such provisions do not apply, the provisions set forth in Article VII, Chapter 7, shall apply”; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 33-293 states:

C1 C2 C3 C4 C5 C6 C7 C8

In all districts, as indicated, along such portion of a side lot line of a zoning lot in a Commercial District that coincides with a rear lot line of a zoning lot in an adjoining Residence District, an open area at curb level of at least the width set forth in the following table shall be provided along such boundary within the Commercial District. Such an open area shall not be used for accessory off-street loading, or for storage or processing of any kind”; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 33-25 reads:

Minimum Required Side Yards

In all districts, as indicated, no side yards are required. However, if an open area extending along a side lot line is provided at any level, it shall be either:

- (a) at least eight feet wide at every point; or
- (b) at least five feet wide at every point, with an average width of eight feet, such average being the mean of the width of the open area at its narrowest point and its width at its widest point, provided that:
 - (1) such widest point shall be on a street line;
 - (2) no portion of a building shall project beyond a straight line connecting such two points; and
 - (3) in the case of a zoning lot bounded by a side lot line extending from street to street, such average shall be computed and such open area shall be provided as though each half of such side lot line bounded a separate zoning lot.

Permitted obstructions pursuant to paragraph (a) of Section 33-23 (Permitted Obstructions in Required Yards or Rear Yard Equivalents), shall be permitted in such open areas.

WHEREAS, ZR § 33-01 reads in pertinent part:

Applicability of this Chapter

The bulk regulations of this Chapter apply to commercial buildings, community facility buildings or buildings used partly for commercial use and partly for community facility use, on any zoning lot or portion of a zoning lot located in any Commercial District, including all developments or enlargements; and

WHEREAS, ZR 12-10 reads in pertinent part:

Open Space

“Open space” is that part of a zoning lot, including courts or yards, which is open and unobstructed from its lowest level to the sky and is accessible to and usable by all persons occupying a dwelling unit or a rooming unit on the zoning lot.

Open space may, however, include areas covered by roofs, the total area of which is less than 10 percent of the unroofed or uncovered area of a zoning lot, provided that such roofed area is not enclosed on more than one side, or on more than 10 percent of the perimeter of the roofed area, whichever is greater.

Open space may be provided on the roof of:

- (a) a community facility building;
- (b) a building containing residences, provided such roof area is not above that portion of such building that contains dwelling units or rooming units;
- (c) a non-residential building, other than a community facility building, provided such non-residential building abuts other buildings, any one of which contains residences"; and

WHEREAS, ZR 33-431 reads in pertinent part:

"For community facility buildings or buildings used for both community facility use and commercial use, when mapped within R4, R5, R5A or R5B Districts, the maximum height of a front wall shall be 35 feet or three stories, whichever is less, and the height above street line shall be 35 feet and, when mapped within R7-2 Districts, the maximum height of a front wall shall be 60 feet or six stories, whichever is less"; and

WHEREAS, ZR 33-42 reads in pertinent part:

In all Commercial Districts, the following obstructions shall be permitted and may thus penetrate a maximum height limit or sky exposure planes, as set forth in Sections 33-43 (Maximum Height of Walls and Required Setbacks), 33-44 (Alternate Front Setbacks) or 33-491 (Limited Height Districts):

[. . .]

- (f) . . . However, such restrictions on location shall not apply to elevator or stair bulkheads (including shafts or vestibules), provided the aggregate width of street walls of such bulkheads within 10 feet of a street wall, facing each street frontage, times their average height, in feet, does not exceed an area equal to four times the width, in feet, of the street wall of the building facing such frontage"; and

Procedural History

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of Main Street, between 71st Road and 71st Avenue, within a C1-2 (R4) zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 64 feet

of frontage along Main Street, 100 feet of depth, 5,428 square feet of lot area, and is proposed to be occupied by a three-story plus cellar mixed-use commercial (first floor) and community facility (second and third floors) building; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Buildings issued the Permit on April 8, 2016, and the Appellant submitted challenges questioning the approval of its issuance; in response, DOB, from May 2, 2016 to October 15, 2018, issued notices of intent to revoke the Permit and approvals along with associated objections; in response to the various objections and Notices of Intent to Revoke the Permit; after the Permit applicant made several revisions, DOB granted approval on April 6, 2018, and the final application was signed off on March 14, 2019, and, on March 18, 2019, DOB issued a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, on May 15, 2017, the Appellant filed BSA Cal. No. 2017-147-A, and on November 20, 2018, the Appellant filed BSA Cal. No. 2018-183-A, and seeks a determination revoking the Permit and certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on May 21, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on September 17, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and Issues Presented

WHEREAS, the issue before the Board is whether the Appellant has demonstrated that DOB erred in issuing the permit with respect to determinations made regarding easements, zoning district boundaries, open space, and height; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board considers the Appellant's arguments with respect to whether (i) zoning lot is divided by district boundary lines, (ii) the building complies with zoning requirements for open area along its southern lot line, and (iii) the height of the building complies with underlying zoning requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that DOB erred in finding proper egress and access to a public way through the right of way easement; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that a private right way should not be used for an exit discharge; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that restrictions on "processing," as mentioned in ZR § 33-293, should also bar means of egress, parking, drop offs, and storage, and, as such, should not serve to provide compliance egress; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that DOB erred in applying the Zoning Resolution provisions and improperly issued the permit as the subject site is located in a split zoning lot, some of which lies within the R4 zoning district when the district boundary line is measured from the sidewalk; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that DOB erred in requiring no open space along the southern side lot line and ZR § 33-25 requires eight feet of open space at every point from grade to the sky; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that the City Environmental Quality (“CEQR”) Technical Manual provides that open space that is not publicly accessible or is available only to limited users and is not available to the public on a regular or constant basis is defined as “private” and, as such, the rooftop children’s playground cannot satisfy zoning requirements relating to required open space; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that DOB erred in issuing the permit as the building height and bulkhead exceed the maximum sky exposure plane in the subject zoning district; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that the Building is above the permitted three stories; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant alleges that the rooftop contains a surface area, at most, of 3,361 square feet, 33-1/3 percent of the area of the roof is 1,120 square feet, and, relying on Building Code definitions of structure, as opposed to zoning regulations relation to floor area, including the street front bulkhead (677 square feet), rear bulkhead (520 square feet), and parapet walls (617 square feet), the total of all structures calculated are at minimum 1,814 square feet and exceed 1,120 square feet; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that they properly issued the permit and this appeal should be denied; and

WHEREAS, the DOB states that the building contains one means of egress directly onto Main Street and one discharging through an easement area which leads to Main Street; the means of egress through the easement area complies with the exit discharge requirements of BC § 1027.6, as the easement area is an exit discharge and provides direct and unobstructed access to a public way (Main Street), thus, the building provides a sufficient means of egress; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the means of egress through an easement area may at one time in the future be obstructed does not prevent DOB from finding a sufficient means of egress and there is no requirement for the owner to provide evidence that a hypothetical future violating condition would never occur; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the subject site is not located within a split zoning lot, is entirely within zoning district boundaries, and the provisions of Article 7, Chapter 7 of the Zoning Resolution do not apply; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the open area along the southern side lot line, measuring approximately eight feet by four feet, may be enclosed within the subject building by providing a doorway, and would increase the floor area by approximately 33 feet, and is a correctable error should the Permit applicant file an Alteration Type I application to reflect such amendment; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the provisions of ZR §§ 33-291 and 33-293, apply to requirements relating to yards at or below curb level; and

WHEREAS, the DOB states that ZR § 33-22 reads in pertinent part, “[i]n all Commercial Districts, the level of a yard or of a rear yard equivalent shall not be higher than curb level. However, this Section shall not be construed to require that natural grade level be disturbed in order to comply with this requirement”; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that because the grade levels have not been disturbed at all by the work done under the Permit, and since the subject building maintains the requisite open areas along the applicable side lot lines, the Zoning Resolution does not require disturbance of the yards to bring the areas to curb level and the building complies with zoning requirements relating to yards and open areas; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the subject building is three, not four, stories high; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the cellar, as per ZR § 12-10, does not count as a story and the roof is neither a story; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that BC § 504.3 states that structures on rooftops, including bulkheads and parapet walls less than four feet in height, “...shall not be included in the building height of the building or considered an additional story unless the aggregate area of all such structures exceeds 33 1/3 percent of the area of the roof...”; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the subject building’s rooftop has 3,640 square feet of area and proposed structures on the roof (the street front bulkhead, the rear bulkhead, and the parapet walls) cover an aggregate area of 741.5 square feet—significantly less than the 33-1/3 percent of the area of the roof (1213 square feet)—and the roof does not count as a story; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the building contains a single elevator and stair bulkhead located within ten feet of the street wall which penetrates the sky exposure plane, but satisfies the conditions of ZR § 33-42(f) and are permitted obstructions; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the bulkhead, extends nine feet in average height above the third floor roof, penetrates approximately four feet above the height of the start of the sky exposure plane at 35 feet, the street wall width of the Building is 53.30 feet while the street wall width of the obstruction is 17 feet; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that pursuant to ZR 32-42(f), the bulkhead street wall frontage (17 feet) times the average height of the penetrating bulkhead (4 feet) is approximately 68 square feet, which is less than four times the width of the Building street wall (53.30 feet), or 213.20 square feet, and, accordingly, the elevator and stair bulkheads, are permitted obstructions pursuant to ZR § 33-42(f); and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the children’s rooftop playground is not open space, as defined by ZR § 12-10, and, as such, is not required to comply with zoning requirements related to open space; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that ZR § 12-10 requires open space be “accessible to and usable by all persons occupying a dwelling unit or a rooming unit on the zoning lot”; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the Building is a mixed-use commercial and community facility building, does not propose any residential dwelling or rooming units, and does not have any zoning open space requirements relating to the rooftop playground; and

WHEREAS, the DOB argues that the utilization of a CEQR term to redefine open space, a term already defined in the Zoning Resolution, is improper, as the Zoning Resolution contains a full definition of the term open space, CEQR focuses on the general public’s accessibility to land that has been set aside for the protection or enhancement of the natural environment, and the utilization of a CEQR term to redefine a term already defined in the ZR is improper and does not trigger CEQR analysis; and

Discussion

WHEREAS, because this is an appeal for interpretation, pursuant to ZR § 72-11, the Board “may make such . . . determination as in its opinion should have been made in the premises in strictly applying and interpreting the provisions of” the Zoning Resolution; and WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed and considered—but need not follow—DOB’s interpretation of the Zoning Resolution in rendering the Board’s own decision in this appeal, and the standard of review in this appeal is de novo; and

WHEREAS, the Board nonetheless finds that Appellant has failed to demonstrate that the Permit was not validly issued and should be revoked; and

WHEREAS, the Appellant has presented no basis to conclude that the easement area used for egress is obstructed or remains impeded, or is used for “processing,” and the Board defers to DOB as this is an enforcement issue within the province of the Department of Buildings; and

WHEREAS, as to the zoning district boundaries, the provisions of ZR § 77-00, “Special Provisions for Zoning Lots Divided by District Boundaries,” do not apply; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located in a C1-2 within R4 zoning district, with a depth shown as 90 feet from 71st Road; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 76-132 states “[i]n case of parallel streets, where a boundary line extends parallel to the long dimension of the block and no dimension is shown, such boundary line shall be considered to coincide with the center line of the block”; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 76-132, the boundary line at the subject site that coincides with the center line of the block is 90 feet from 71st Road, with the measurements taken from “street line,” not the street edge of sidewalk curb as the appellant suggests; and

WHEREAS, tax lot 132 falls entirely within 90 feet of the street line of 71st Road and, as such, the subject site sits wholly within the C1-2 overlay in the R4 zoning district; and with the subject C1-2 zoning district, no side yards are required; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution distinguishes between yards and open area, which is an undefined term; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 33-25 does not require, but permits, a yard within the subject C1-2 zoning district subject to restrictions, and, as such, an eight-foot side yard is not required along the southern side lot line; and

WHEREAS, the open area along the southern side lot line may be enclosed within the subject building by providing a doorway, is a correctable error, and the Permit must applicant file an Alteration Type I application to reflect such amendment; and

WHEREAS, as an open area is provided along the northern side lot line, though none is required, ZR § 33-293 applies; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 33-293, the northern side lot line must provide with at least 8' open area at curb level and a 10' open area is provided at the subject site coincident with a right of way; and

WHEREAS, as the open area along the northern side lot line is also a side yard, the level of yard rules set forth in ZR § 33-22 apply, and such open area shall not be higher than curb level; and

WHEREAS, the rear lot line, shared with side lot line, must comply with ZR § 33-291 with a minimum of eight feet of depth of open space “not higher than curb level”; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution does not require the disturbance of the subject site’s natural grade; and

WHEREAS, the right of way is at natural grade and should not be disturbed to meet side yard open area requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Building is a non-residential community facility building and does not have an open space requirement; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 12-10, the cellar is not a story and the building is three, not four, stories in height; and

WHEREAS, the roof is not a story, as defined by the Zoning Resolution, and CEQR provisions and definitions relating to the roof and open space are of no import as the building is as of right and is not subject to environmental review under CEQR or SEQRA; and

WHEREAS, as to height, the sky exposure plane is measured from the “street line,” and the subject zoning district permits a maximum height of 35 feet above the street line;

WHEREAS, the elevator and stair bulkhead, as well as a maximum of four-foot-high parapet walls, are permitted obstructions, as per ZR §§ 33-42(f) and (j), and the subject building complies with the lesser of 35 feet or three stories restriction of ZR § 33-461; and

WHEREAS, including a four-foot-high parapet, the subject zoning district permits a total height of 39 feet and the subject building, including its parapet, does not exceed the maximum height; and

WHEREAS, lastly, the Board has considered all of the arguments raised by Appellant, many of which regard challenges to DOB objections that were accepted by DOB, but ultimately finds them to be without merit; and

Conclusion

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the Appellant has not substantiated a basis to demonstrate that the Permit is invalid and should be revoked.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Department of Buildings permit, issued on April 8, 2016, Alteration Type I Application No. 421196921, is hereby upheld and this appeal shall be and hereby is denied.

WHEREAS, the decisions of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated December 18, 2017, acting on New Building Application Nos. 520367264, 520367273, 520367237, 520367246, and 520367255 read in pertinent part:

- A) No Certificate of Occupancy can be issued pursuant to Article 3, Section 36 of General City Law;
- B) Proposed construction does not have at least 8% of the total perimeter of building(s) fronting directly upon a legally mapped street or frontage space contrary to section 502.1 of the 2014 NYC Building Code”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under General City Law (“GCL”) § 36 to permit construction of five two-family residences that do not front on a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 16, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on September

17, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Scibetta performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 3, Staten Island, recommends disapproval of this application and raised concerns that waivers of GCL 36 are opportunities to defy zoning protections that ensure lower density and set controls for development that do not burden services and infrastructure; stated that the deliberate creation of private roads to squeeze in additional homes for the sole reason of enlarging profit does not validate the GCL hardship finding; and argued that private roads are not required to meet New York City criteria for width and parking, and once a private community is developed there is no oversight by any New York City or State agency for homeowners associations to maintain their obligations, to the end that private communities foster problems that involve their internal community and surrounding streets and communities; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northwest corner of Nello Court and Sprague Avenue, between Hylan Boulevard and Surf Avenue, in an R3X zoning district and in the Special South Richmond Development District, on Staten Island; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 211 feet of frontage along Nello Court, 140 feet of frontage along Sprague Avenue, 29,378 square feet of lot area, and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, tax lots 215 and 220 were formerly occupied by two residences fronting on Sprague Avenue, a mapped street, that were demolished by the applicant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to subdivide the subject site into five separate zoning lots and construct five two-family residences, accessed by a proposed private road, Nello Court, which is not duly placed on the official map of the City of New York; and

WHEREAS, Nello Court would have a width of approximately 34 feet and would be accessible from Sprague Avenue, a mapped street paved to a width of approximately 30 to 35 feet; and

WHEREAS, General City Law Section 36(2) reads in pertinent part:

“2. A city having a population of one million or more. . . . No certificate of occupancy shall be issued in such city for any building unless a street or highway giving access to such structure has been duly placed on the official map or plan, which street or highway, and any other mapped street or highway abutting such building or structure shall have been suitably improved to the satisfaction of the department of transportation of the city in accordance with standards and specifications approved by such department as adequate in respect to the public health, safety and general welfare for the special circumstances of the particular street or highway, or, alternately, unless the owner has furnished to the department of transportation of such city a performance bond naming the city as obligee, approved by such department, to the full cost of such improvement as estimated by such department, or other security approved by such department, that such improvement will be completed within the time specified by such department. . . . Where the enforcement of the provisions of this section would entail practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship, and where the circumstances of the case do not require the structure to be related to existing or proposed streets or highways, the applicant for such a certificate of occupancy may appeal from the decision of the administrative officer having charge of the issuance of certificates of occupancy to the board of standards and appeals or other similar board of such city having power to make variances or exceptions in zoning regulations, and the same provisions are hereby applied to such appeals and to such board as are provided in cases of appeals on zoning regulations; and¹

WHEREAS, the site was previously occupied by existing residences fronting on Sprague Avenue, a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the subject may be developed with two or three residences fronting on Sprague Avenue; and

WHEREAS, Sprague Avenue contains at least approximately 11 other lots that are of similar sizes to the two or three lots that may be developed on the subject site with residences fronting on Sprague Avenue, consistent with the typical lot frontage and depth found on Sprague Avenue; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant briefed the applicability of area-variance standards; and

WHEREAS, for comparison, GCL § 81-b provides in pertinent part:

“4. Area variances. . . . (b) In making its determination, the zoning board of appeals shall take into consideration the benefit to the applicant if the variance is granted, as weighed against the detriment to the health, safety and welfare of the neighborhood or community by such grant. In making such determination the board shall also consider:

- (i) whether an undesirable change will be produced in the character of the neighborhood or a detriment to nearby properties will be created by the granting of the area variance;
- (ii) whether the benefit sought by the applicant can be achieved by some method feasible for the applicant to pursue, other than an area variance;
- (iii) whether the requested area variance is substantial;

- (iv) whether the proposed variance will have an adverse effect or impact on the physical or environmental conditions in the neighborhood or district; and
- (v) whether the alleged difficulty was self-created, which consideration shall be relevant to the decision of the board of appeals, but shall not necessarily preclude the granting of the area variance.”; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that an as-of-right development of two or three lots fronting on Sprague Avenue would utilize approximately only 42 percent of the floor area available on the lot and, as such, would be out of context with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the lot configuration, represented as a deep, narrow lot, however, is typical of 11 other sites fronting on Sprague Avenue; and

WHEREAS, it was not demonstrated whether layouts of other dwellings in the neighborhood similar to those herein proposed were constructed as-of-right or, alternatively, occurred by a waiver through the BSA, Department of Buildings or are non-compliant conditions predating the adoption of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the benefit sought by the applicant, development of the site with residential dwellings, can feasibly be achieved through as-of-right development with dwellings fronting on the mapped street, Sprague Avenue, and does not require an area variance or other relief from the requirements of the General City Law; and

WHEREAS, the applicant’s claimed hardship, as-of-right development potential of the site resulting in two or three dwellings, versus the ability to develop five dwellings not fronting on a mapped street and fronting on the new proposed “Nello Court,” is a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the proposed development fronting on Nello Court is not consistent with the nearby development and the benefit sought by the applicant, the development of residences, can be achieved with two or three as-of-right dwellings that conform to underlying zoning provisions and front on Sprague Avenue, a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the proposed development is designed to require relief under GCL § 36, where development opportunities consistent with development of the area provide frontage on a mapped street are consistent with the character of the neighborhood and nearby properties; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, the development of the site with dwellings fronting on a mapped street does not entail practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant argues that the dimensional characteristics of the site pose a practical difficulty and hardship in that development fronting on Sprague Avenue allows less than 50% of the lots and development capabilities, and states that, if three lots are developed fronting Sprague Avenue, the homes would be impractically deep and would be significantly out of context with the homes fronting Sprague Avenue and Loretto Street; and

WHEREAS, the ability to develop all of the floor area available on a zoning lot is a choice, not an entitlement, afforded to the developer; and

WHEREAS, contrary to the applicant's assertion, the as-of-right lots could be developed to utilize all of the available floor area and comply with underlying bulk regulations, without requiring a waiver of the General City Law, in accord with the context of larger dwellings within the immediate vicinity of the site, including those on Sprague Court; and

WHEREAS, the Board is not evaluating the marketability of one potential development against another, but only whether the requirement that the dwellings front on a mapped street would entail practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board does not agree that the ability to realize a greater development potential, through a waiver of the General City Law, constitutes practical difficulty or an unnecessary hardship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant, additionally, failed to demonstrate that the circumstances of the case do not require the structure to be related to existing or proposed streets or highways, as required for a waiver of General City Law § 36; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Standards and Appeals is not a planning board with the authority to review and approve site plans, subdivisions or plats, as contemplated by General City Law §§ 27-a and 32; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that this approval is not eligible for relief under GCL § 36 and that the applicant has not substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby deny this application.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated August 12, 2019, acting on Alteration Application No. 321787483, reads in pertinent part:

1. Lot coverage and floor area is contrary to ZR 23-142;
2. Minimum required front yard is contrary to ZR 23-45;
3. ...
4. Side setback for tall buildings is contrary to ZR 23-632;

5. Required parking is not provided contrary to ZR 36-21.

6. Aggregate street wall contrary to ZR 23-463.

7. Street Tree Planting contrary to ZR 26-41; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R5 (C2-3) zoning district, within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the conversion and enlargement of an existing building that would not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, floor area, front yards, side setbacks, parking, aggregate street-wall width, and street-tree planting, contrary to ZR §§ 23-142, 23-45, 23-632, 36-21, 23-463, and 26-41; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of HASC Center, a non-profit educational organization (the “Educational Facility”); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 20, 2018, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on April 23, 2019, July 16, 2019, and August 13, 2019, and then to decision on September 17, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the local council member submitted testimony in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, residents of the surrounding area submitted testimony and in support of this application, citing concerns with traffic and the residential character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on Avenue M, between McDonald Avenue and East 2nd Street, in an R5 (C2-3) zoning district, within the Special Ocean Parkway District, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 224 feet of frontage along Avenue M, 100 feet of frontage along McDonald Avenue, 100 feet of frontage along East 2nd Street, 22,400 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a two-story building under construction; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert and enlarge the existing two-story building to a three-story community-facility building with 48,681 square feet of floor area (2.17 FAR), lot coverage of 78 percent, a front yard with a depth of 10’-8” along McDonald Avenue, no front yards along Avenue M or East 2nd Street, a side setback of 17’-9” above the second story, two accessory off-street parking spaces, aggregate street-wall width of 213’-4”, and 12 street trees; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, at the subject site, lot coverage may not exceed 55 percent under ZR § 23-142, floor area may not exceed 29,822 square feet under ZR § 23-142, three front yards must have minimum depths of 10 feet under ZR § 23-45, a side setback progressing from 30 feet to 49 feet would be required above the second story under ZR § 23-632, a minimum of 45 off-street accessory parking spaces are required under ZR § 36-21, aggregate street-wall width may not exceed 185 feet under ZR § 23-463, and 17 street trees under ZR § 26-41; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the Educational Facility, as an educational institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board is to grant an educational or religious institution’s application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the Educational Facility’s proposed enlargement is necessary to accommodate the Educational Facility’s programmatic needs and that the Educational Facility’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a comprehensive report on the Educational Facility’s programmatic needs, demonstrating that the Educational Facility current operates its program out of five locations but needs to consolidate its operations to increase efficiency and the efficacy of its programs, and detailing the constraints the Educational Facility’s program would face with as-of-right development; and

WHEREAS, the Educational Facility’s program centers around the formulation of an enrollee’s life plan, a State requirement, which needs centralized confidential meeting space to allow key staff to participate on a frequent basis, and a habilitation program as either day habilitation or community habilitation, depending on enrollees’ life plans; and

WHEREAS, the Educational Facility further needs to provide full accessibility to its enrollees, which in turn necessitates larger spaces to accommodate wheelchairs; and

WHEREAS, an as-of-right development would not accommodate the Educational Facility’s program because it would require the elimination of agency maintenance, case management, community habilitation, human resources, information technology, mail, quality assurance, and training, which would need to locate off site and would negatively affect the effectiveness of on-site programming; and

WHEREAS, instead, the proposed building would accommodate the Educational Facility’s program—including day habilitation, vocational training, therapy, community habilitation, case management, intake, and self-directed services, all in a centralized location—by allowing, among other things, classrooms with a flexible environment to accommodate various learning styles and with flexible barriers to facilitate larger group activities and more individualized activities; a computer lab; a sensory or quiet room to accommodate certain enrollees’ environmental needs; and private spaces for confidential life-planning and other sensitive meetings; and

WHEREAS, the report on the Educational Facility’s program needs also indicates that the proposed building allows the entire program to be located in a single building; that locating the day habilitation programs on a single floor allows space flexibility to use dining areas as a single-event space; that the adjacency of day habilitation programs reduces redundant services (such as laundry); and that the location of medical services and vocational training in the same building as day habilitation allows more efficient services and reduces potential transportation impacts caused by shuttling between separate facilities; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the School’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the Educational Facility is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the Educational Facility’s programmatic needs with adequate space, facilities, and organization; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the proposed enlargement will not alter neighborhood character; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a study of the surrounding area, finding that the proposed community-facility use is consistent with the vibrant mix of surrounding land uses and that the proposed enlargement is consistent with the neighborhood’s built environment; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant notes that the surrounding area includes elevated train tracks, four- to six-story residential buildings along with two- to three-story residential buildings, and industrial buildings; and

WHEREAS, with respect to street-wall width, the applicant submits that the originally proposed building includes stone water tables, planting, and a masonry design that minimizes the visual impact of the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant reduced the height of the proposed building to comply with applicable zoning regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also provided a draft restrictive declaration to ensure that the proposed parking reduction will not negatively affect the surrounding area by providing a shuttle service running during peak hours to facilitate employees' travel from the subject site to nearby off-street parking lots, while the two proposed accessory off-street parking spaces would ensure that the vans would always have parking available at the subject site during waiting periods; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board, the applicant revised the façade design to incorporate a variety of masonry treatment without a living wall, breaking up the apparent massing of the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to allow productive use of the site, as reflected in the Educational Facility's report on programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS") CEQR No. 18BSA140K, dated July 31, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated January 24, 2018, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission represents the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts on architectural or archaeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 17, 2019, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to air quality and that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to noise on condition that the proposed project HVAC equipment be required to comply with the New York City Noise Code, that a composite window-wall noise attenuation of 35 dBA be required for the northern, southern, and western building facades, and that an alternate means of ventilation is required and shall be incorporated into building design and construction; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 21, 2018, DEP states that it has reviewed the EAS and Phase I and determined that a Phase II Environmental Site Assessment is necessary to identify/characterize the subject site; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated July 16, 2019, DEP concurs with the July 11, 2019 memorandum's recommendation prepared on behalf of the applicant that an (E) designation (E-545) be placed on the site for hazardous materials pursuant to ZR § 11-15 for the subject site and states that the (E) designation shall ensure that testing and mitigation will be provided as necessary before any further development or soil disturbance; and

WHEREAS, further hazardous materials assessment shall be coordinated through the Office of Environmental Remediation; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R5 (C2-3) zoning district, within the Special Ocean Parkway District, the conversion and enlargement of an existing building that would not comply with zoning regulations for lot coverage, floor area, front yards, side setbacks, parking, aggregate street-wall width, and street-tree planting, contrary to ZR §§ 23-142, 23-45, 23-632, 36-21, 23-463, and 26-41; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 29, 2019"-Fifteen (15) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 48,681 square feet of floor area (2.17 FAR), maximum lot coverage of 78 percent, a front yard with a minimum depth of 10'-8" along McDonald Avenue, no front yards along Avenue M or East 2nd Street, a side setback of at least 17'-9" above the second story, a minimum of two accessory off-street parking spaces, a maximum aggregate street-wall width of 213'-4", and at least 12 street trees, as illustrated on the Board-approved

Such extensions from the Board will not be unreasonably conditioned or withheld, provided that Mortgagee demonstrates continued good-faith efforts to effect a cure.
7. Failure to effect such cure may result in the revocation of a building permit or Certificate of Occupancy, as well as any other authorization or waiver granted by the Board, including but not limited to, the Application; and
8. In the event that (a) the Declarant elects to abandon the Application or (b) the underlying zoning district is changed such that the relief provided by the Application is no longer required, this Declaration may be cancelled by the recordation of a Notice of Cancellation at the City Register's Office against the Premises, and upon the filing of such Notice of Cancellation, this Declaration shall automatically cease, extinguish, and be void and of no further force or effect.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Declarant has made and executed this Declaration as of the date hereinabove written;

WHEREAS, this is an application, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, to establish the right to continue construction and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), acting on New Building Application No. 122985029 (the “New Building Application”), before the effective date of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, which have lapsed as a result of such amendment; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 6, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on October 3, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of West 39th Street, between Avenue of the Americas and Fifth Avenue, in an M1-6 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 88 feet of frontage along West 39th Street, 25 feet of frontage along West 38th Street, 198 feet of depth, 11,159 square feet of lot area and is to be occupied by a 27-story, with cellar, commercial building for use as a transient hotel (the “Hotel Building”); and

WHEREAS, on February 8, 2018, DOB determined that the Hotel Building would comply with all applicable zoning regulations and issued building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application beginning in July 2018 and culminating in the issuance of a new-building permit on October 31, 2018; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated April 8, 2019, DOB represents that building permits associated with the New Building Application were lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, effective December 20, 2018 (the “Effective Date”), the City amended the Zoning Resolution such that use of the Hotel Building as a transient hotel is no longer permitted as of right, see ZR §§ 42-111, 42-32, and 74-803; and

WHEREAS, because not “all work on” the Hotel Building’s “foundations had been completed prior to” the Effective Date, the building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application “automatically lapse[d]” on the Effective Date and “the right to continue construction . . . terminate[d],” ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks to establish the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, and to renew building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application; and

WHEREAS, “[u]nder New York law, a property owner has no right to an existing land-use benefit unless that right has ‘vested.’ In New York, a vested right can be acquired when, pursuant to a legally issued permit, the landowner demonstrates a commitment to the purpose for which the permit was granted by effecting substantial changes and incurring substantial expenses to further the development. Town of Orangetown v. Magee, 88 N.Y.2d 41, 47, 643 N.Y.S.2d 21, 665 N.E.2d 1061 (1996). In order to gain the vested right, the landowner’s actions relying on a valid permit must be so substantial that the municipal action results in serious loss rendering the improvements essentially valueless,” Cine SK8, Inc. v. Town of Henrietta, 507 F.3d 778, 784 (2d Cir. 2007) (internal quotation marks omitted); see generally Zahra v. Town of Southold, 48 F.3d 674, 681 (2d Cir. 1995) (recognizing a “protectible ‘property interest’ in a benefit that affects land use—i.e. a building permit, certificate of occupancy, zoning variance, excavation permit or business license”); and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding this general framework, “there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess a vested right,” Estate of Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308, 309 (N.Y. App. Div. 1990) (internal quotation marks omitted); and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the record shows that the owner of the subject site obtained lawfully issued permits to construct the Hotel Building in accordance with the New Building Application before the Effective Date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, before the Effective Date and in accordance with the building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application, the owner had effected substantial construction to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant submits that excavation work for the New Building had been completed by the Effective Date, including removal of all soil (approximately 10,000 cubic feet with a minor amount replaced along West 38th Street to form a staging ramp that provides construction access to the New Building’s foundations); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the following foundation work had been completed by the Effective Date: “18 of 18 soldier piles at the street line on the 39th Street side; 4 of 4 soldier piles at the street line of the 38th Street Side; 48 of 48 underpins; 28 of 28 street tiebacks; 10 of 10 soil tiebacks; 100% of lagging at the street line completed; 100% of the walers and corn braces for street and sidewalk reinforcement installed; 80% of the rat slab poured; full rebar release and 15% of steel delivered to the site; [and] 19 East 38th Street lot regraded and ramped for use as a staging area for deliveries and machinery”; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that this construction represents 93 days—out of a total projected 686 days—of work required to complete the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant supplied additional evidence of construction progress prior to the Effective Date with daily photographs and further details about the amount of concrete used in the installed mat; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, before the Effective Date and in accordance with the building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application, the owner had effected substantial construction to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, before the Effective Date, substantial expenses had been incurred, totaling approximately $13 million (11.4 percent) of the total development cost of $117 million; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that these costs include construction costs (excavation and foundation, site safety and security, dewatering, general conditions, generator, and construction-manager fee), financing costs and fees, soft costs (including for architect, engineer, and surveys), insurance, taxes, and an obligated termination fee; and

WHEREAS, assuming acquisition and demolition costs are properly included, the applicant submits that, as of the Effective Date, the owner had spent approximately $61 million (39 percent) of the total development cost of $156 million; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, before the Effective Date, the owner had incurred substantial expenses to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, if the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building were denied, the owner would suffer serious loss—that is, substantial economic harm; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant submits that redesigning the partially constructed Hotel Building into an office building would require a four-year delay (18 months for site design and permitting and 30 months for construction), would require redesign to use a side core instead of a central core (requiring redesign, partial demolition, and rebuilding of existing foundations), ultimately would lead to annual losses between $1.9 million and $5.9 million, totaling $13 million in losses over a five-year period, and would result in a sales price reduced to $77 million, resulting in a total loss of approximately $97 million; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant submitted further evidence detailing the design differences between the Hotel Building and an office building—including the Hotel Building’s structural design with large concrete columns on an irregular column grid aligned with guest-room layouts and 9’-4” floor-to-floor heights versus an office building’s steel structural system that would allow flexible, open floor plans and maximum window exposure and 11’-0” to 12’-0” floor-to-floor heights; and

WHEREAS, the applicant supplied further financial evidence that redesigning the Hotel Building into an office building would include at least $250,000 in hard costs to repurpose existing foundations and approximately $5.3 million in soft costs for engineers, architects, consultants, and associated costs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submits that, over a seven-year period, redesigning the Hotel Building to an office building would result in a revenue loss of $219 million and a net loss in cash flow of more than $36 million (comparing total development costs) and, alternatively, a loss of more than $51 million (comparing revenues, operating expenses, and net cash flow); and

WHEREAS, because of the substantial nature of the financial losses pertaining to redesigning the partially constructed Hotel Building into an office building set forth above, it is unnecessary for the Board to determine the full extent of the economic harm that would be inflicted were common-law vested rights denied herein; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, if the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building were denied, the owner would suffer serious loss in the form of substantial economic harm; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the establishment of a right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant renewal of building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby grant this application, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, to establish the right to continue construction and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings, acting on New Building Application No. 122985029, before December 20, 2018, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, for four (4) years, expiring October 3, 2023.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 3, 2019.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated August 22, 2018, acting on DOB Alteration Type I Application No. 123550291, reads in pertinent part:

“ZR 32-10, ZR 73-36; BSA: Proposed ‘Physical Culture Establishment’ is not permitted As-Of-Right per section ZR 32-10 and is referred to the Board of Standards and Appeals for a special permit under ZR 73-36;” and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located partially within a C6-2 zoning district and partially within a C6-2M zoning district, a physical culture establishment (“PCE”) on a portion of the cellar level and first floor (located entirely within the C6-2M portion of the lot) of an existing six- (6) story plus cellar and sub cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 19, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on May 21, 2019, and October 3, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 5, Manhattan, recommended approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of testimony from residential tenants of the subject building in opposition to this application, citing concerns over noise and vibration disturbance caused by the operation of the PCE; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is bounded by West 14th Street to the north and West 13th Street to the south, between Avenue of the Americas and Fifth Avenue, partially within a C6-2 zoning district and partially within a C6-2M zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 50 feet of frontage along West 14th Street, 125 feet of frontage along West 13th Street, 18,070 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing six- (6) story plus cellar and sub cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(a) provides that in C1-8X, C1-9, C2, C4, C5, C6, C8, M1, M2 or M3 Districts, and in certain special districts as specified in the provisions of such special district, the Board may permit physical culture or health establishments as defined in Section 12-10 for a term not to exceed ten years, provided that the following findings are made:

- (1) that such use1 is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and
- (2) that such use contains:
 - (i) one or more of the following regulation size sports facilities: handball courts, basketball courts, squash courts, paddleball courts, racketball [sic] courts, tennis courts; or

- (ii) a swimming pool of a minimum 1,500 square feet; or
- (iii) facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction, aerobics or martial arts; or
- (iv) facilities for practice of massage by New York State licensed masseurs or masseuses.

Therapeutic or relaxation services may be provided only as accessory to programmed facilities as described in paragraphs (a)(2)(i) through (a)(2)(iv) of this Section; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(b) sets forth additional findings that must be made where a physical culture or health establishment is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building in certain commercial districts; and

WHEREAS, because no portion of the subject PCE is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, the additional findings set forth in ZR § 73-36(b) need not be made or addressed; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

- (1) the Board shall have referred the application to the Department of Investigation for a background check of the owner, operator and all principals having an interest in any application filed under a partnership or corporate name and shall have received a report from the Department of Investigation which the Board shall determine to be satisfactory; and
- (2) the Board, in any resolution granting a special permit, shall have specified how each of the findings required by this Section are made.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE occupies 2,488 square feet of floor space on a portion of the cellar level with two (2) exercise rooms, and spaces for lockers, showers and restrooms; and 3,033 square feet of floor area on a portion of the first floor with an exercise room, and spaces for reception, retail, lockers, showers and restrooms; and

WHEREAS, the PCE opened on January 28, 2019, as “Fithouse,” and operates daily, from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, while noise abatement measures are provided in the PCE space to ensure that the sound level in other portions of the building do not exceed 45dBA, including sound emanating from any sound system, the exercise studios of the PCE are constructed with sound attenuating acoustical wall partitions and batt insulation, the applicant provided evidence of acoustical inspections and testing performed over several periods to identify and resolve excessive noise and vibration impacts associated with the operation of the PCE; and

WHEREAS, in response to recommendations made by the applicant’s acoustical consultant, the PCE installed and maintains a sound limiter on the exercise studio music and microphone sound levels and represents that the sound attenuation measures maintained in the PCE space resolved complaints over noise and vibration; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because the PCE is located in an existing commercial space on the ground floor and cellar level of an existing building, typical of developments located in the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood and will maintain a sound limiter on the studio music and microphone levels so as to cause no disturbance to neighbors as a result of noise or vibration; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system—including area

smoke detectors, manual pull stations at each required exit, local audible and visual alarms and a connection of the interior fire alarm to an FDNY-approved central station—will be maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 9, 2019, the Fire Department stated that an application was filed with DOB for a new fire alarm system (Alt II 123488109) in the tenant space, and the Department requires a fire alarm system to be installed; the second means of egress from the tenant space is through the residential portion of the premises to West 13th Street at the cellar and first floors; the application was disapproved and the Department will assist the applicant to expedite for approval; the premises have a sprinkler system that has been inspected and tested satisfactory to Department standards; and, the Department has no objection to the Board rendering a decision on the application as the Bureau of Fire Prevention will inspect these premises; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the operation of the PCE will not interfere with any public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-030M, dated September 7, 2018; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the PCE on a portion of the cellar level and first floor, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located partially within a C6-2 zoning district and partially within a C6-2M zoning district, the operation of a proposed physical culture establishment on a portion of the cellar level and first floor of an existing six- (6) story plus cellar and sub cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received May 2, 2019”-Six (6) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the PCE grant will expire on January 28, 2029;

THAT the PCE shall be operated and maintained so as to cause no disturbance to neighbors as a result of noise or vibration;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT accessibility shall be provided pursuant to the standards set forth in applicable accessibility laws, including but not limited to Chapter 11 of the NYC Building Code, the 2009 American National Standards Institute (ANSI) A117.1 and Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system—including area smoke detectors, manual pull stations at each required exit, local audible and visual alarms and a connection of the interior fire alarm to an FDNY-approved central station—shall be maintained as indicated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT minimum 3 foot wide exit pathways shall be provided leading to the required exits and such pathways shall always be maintained unobstructed, including from any equipment;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also referencing this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2018-143-BZ”), shall be obtained within one (1) year, by October 3, 2020;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited objection(s);

THAT the approved plans will be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all of the applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

“ZR 32-10, ZR 32-31: a physical culture establishment is permitted in this district only by special permit of the Board of Standards and Appeals. Resubmit application for review if permission is granted by BSA;” and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located within a C4-2 zoning district, a physical culture establishment (“PCE”) on portions of the first and second floors of an existing two- (2) story with cellar commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 3, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of one (1) form letter in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the southwest corner of 18th Avenue and 65th Street, located within a C4-2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(a) provides that in C1-8X, C1-9, C2, C4, C5, C6, C8, M1, M2 or M3 Districts, and in certain special districts as specified in the provisions of such special district, the Board may permit physical culture or health establishments as defined in Section 12-10 for a term not to exceed ten years, provided that the following findings are made:

- (1) that such use is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and
- (2) that such use contains:
 - (i) one or more of the following regulation size sports facilities: handball courts, basketball courts, squash courts, paddleball courts, racketball [sic] courts, tennis courts; or

Therapeutic or relaxation services may be provided only as accessory to programmed facilities as described in paragraphs (a)(2)(i) through (a)(2)(iv) of this Section; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(b) sets forth additional findings that must be made where a physical culture or health establishment is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building in certain commercial districts; and

WHEREAS, because no portion of the subject PCE is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, the additional findings set forth in ZR § 73-36(b) need not be made or addressed; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

- (1) the Board shall have referred the application to the Department of Investigation for a background check of the owner, operator and all principals having an interest in any application filed under a partnership or corporate name and shall have received a report from the Department of Investigation which the Board shall determine to be satisfactory; and
- (2) the Board, in any resolution granting a special permit, shall have specified how each of the findings required by this Section are made.; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will occupy 2,981 square feet of floor area on the first floor with areas for the PCE reception, office, storage and locker room; and 14,165 square feet of floor area on the second floor with exercise spaces and locker rooms; and

WHEREAS, the PCE is proposed to operate as “Blink Fitness,” with the following hours of operation: Monday through Saturday, 5:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and, Sunday, 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, while the PCE is located within a commercial building, sound attenuation materials are maintained within the PCE to ensure that sound levels in other portions of the building do not exceed 45 dBa, including that emanating from any sound system; these measures include: batt insulation in demising walls of the PCE and rubber flooring in various areas of the PCE; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because the PCE will be located in an area with comparable commercial buildings containing commercial uses including pharmacies, banks, cafes and other commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, weight reduction, body building and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because it will be located entirely within an existing commercial building at a commercially developed intersection; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system, including a connection of the interior fire alarm system to an FDNY-approved central station, will be maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 26, 2019, the Fire Department states that applications for the fire alarm systems and public assembly space must be filed with DOB prior to the occupancy of the space; the premises are protected by a wet sprinkler system, for which a hydrostatic pressure test was performed on July 8, 2019, and tested satisfactory; the Department has no objection to the application and the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect these premises and enforce all applicable rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the operation of the PCE will not interfere with any public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-100K, dated March 8, 2019; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the PCE on portions of the first floor and second floor, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located within a C4-2 zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment on portions of the first and second floors of an existing two- (2) story with cellar commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 2, 2019"-Six (2) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system, including a connection of the interior fire alarm system to an FDNY-approved central station, shall be maintained as indicated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT minimum 3 foot wide exit pathways shall be provided leading to the required exits and such pathways shall always be maintained unobstructed, including from any equipment;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also referencing this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal. No. 2019-42-BZ"), shall be obtained within one (1) year, by October 3, 2020;

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated January 10, 2019, acting on New Building Application No. 220458813, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed Use Group 4 Church / Community Center . . . is contrary to the underlying zoning requirements for: i. ZR 24-11 (floor area); ii. ZR 24-11 (lot coverage); iii. ZR 24-34 (front yards); iv. ZR 24-35 (side yards); v. ZR 24-521 (height of front wall and required setbacks); and vi. ZR 25-31 (parking)”;

and
WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R3A zoning district, the development of a community-facility building for use as a house of worship that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height of front wall and setbacks, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521, and ZR § 25-31; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of Co-Op City Church, a nonprofit religious institution (the “Religious Institution”); and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on September 19, 2017, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on February 13, 2018, April 17, 2018, December 11, 2018, February 12, 2019, April 9, 2019, June 4, 2019, July 16, 2019, October 22, 2019, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 10, Bronx, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northeast corner of Boller Avenue and Erskine Place, in an R3A zoning district, in the Bronx; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along Boller Avenue, 190 feet of frontage along Erskine Place, 40 feet of frontage along Hunter Avenue, 7,660 square feet of lot area, and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since June 8, 2004, when, under BSA Calendar Number 7-04-BZ, the Board granted a variance to permit the construction of a community-facility building for use as a house of worship on condition that the site be maintained free of debris and graffiti and that any graffiti located at the site be removed within 48 hours; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 23, 2006, the Board allowed minor changes to the Board-approved drawings to eliminate the approved sub-cellar because of unforeseen soil conditions and the significant cost of

addressing such conditions; and

WHEREAS, on August 19, 2008, the Board granted a three-year extension of time to complete construction; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 18, 2016, the Board allowed minor changes to the Board-approved drawings, reducing the floor area of the approved building; and

WHEREAS, because no construction proceeded under the Board's grant, the variance lapsed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now proposes to develop a three-story community-facility building for use as a house of worship (the "Proposed Building") with 18,904 square feet of floor area (2.47 FAR), 100% lot coverage, no front yards or side yards, a 47'-6" front wall along Boller Avenue, a 38'-0" front wall along Hunter Avenue, and no parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, at the subject site, floor area may not exceed 7,660 square feet (1.0 FAR) under ZR § 24-11, lot coverage may not exceed 60% under ZR § 24-11, a front yard must have a minimum depth of 15'-0" under ZR § 24-34, side yards must have minimum depths of 8'-0" under ZR § 24-35, front walls may not exceed a height of 25'-0" with building height governed by a 1:1 sky exposure plane under ZR § 24-521, and one parking space is required for every 10 persons of rated occupancy in the largest assembly room under ZR § 25-31; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant requests the relief set forth herein; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to "vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done," ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the applicant, as a religious institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board is to grant an educational or religious institution's application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the Proposed Building is necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's programmatic needs and that the Religious Institution's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a study on the Religious Institution's programmatic needs (the "Programmatic Needs Report"), which indicates that the Religious Institution's program requires sufficient space for approximately 200 congregants, educational services for 70 children, an after-school program, tutoring services, communal dinners for 125 people, lunches and recreation programs for 100 seniors, counseling services, and a daycare program; and

WHEREAS, the Programmatic Needs Report indicates that developing the subject site as of right would result in a building with an approximately 12'-0" wide building that would not accommodate the Religious Institution's program because there would be insufficient floor area to accommodate a sufficiently sized sanctuary; lot coverage requirements would reduce floorplates and similarly constrain the needed worship space and eliminate other programs (dinner, lunch and recreation, after-school program, counseling, and daycare); yard requirements would eliminate classrooms and counseling offices; height requirements would essentially eliminate the third floor with its classrooms and office, interfering with daycare and after-school programming; and on-site parking would greatly reduce the size of the sanctuary and would displace other elements of the Religious Institution's program; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the Religious Institution's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the Religious Institution is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's programmatic needs with adequate space for its congregants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the Proposed Building would not alter neighborhood character, substantially impair adjacent properties, or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant studied the surrounding area, finding the neighborhood consisting mostly of residential uses with a large parking garage located across Hunter Avenue to the east; and

WHEREAS, with respect to bulk, the applicant notes that there are high-rise buildings in a nearby R6 zoning district and that the parking garage has a height of six stories; and

WHEREAS, as to parking, the applicant submitted a parking demand study indicating that the nearby parking garage contains sufficient unused capacity (between 200 and 500 unused parking spaces on weekends) to meet parking demand generated by the Proposed Building, anticipated to be 42 vehicles on Sundays; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also supplied a letter from the parking garage indicating that its facilities are available to congregants to park; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, the parking demand study indicates that, during periods of peak demand, hundreds of parking spaces are available on the street in the unlikely event that the parking garage reaches full capacity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further submits that most congregants live within walking distance: 51% of congregants live within ¼ mile of the subject site, 70% live within one mile, and 87% live within 1 ½ miles; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the applicant proposes to operate a shuttle van to further reduce parking demand generated by the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship, and nothing in the record indicates otherwise; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's program, as reflected in the Programmatic Needs Report; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement ("EAS"), CEQR No. 18BSA020X, dated December 4, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on land use, zoning and public policy; socioeconomic conditions; community facilities; open space; shadows; historic and cultural resources; urban design; natural resources; hazardous materials; infrastructure; solid waste and sanitation services; energy; transportation; air quality; greenhouse gas emissions; noise; public health; neighborhood character; or construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated May 3, 2018, the Landmarks Preservation Commission represents that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with respect to architectural or archaeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated December 17, 2018, the Department of City Planning represents that the proposed project will not substantially hinder the achievement of any Waterfront Revitalization Program policy and determines that the project is consistent with WRP policies; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated June 14, 2019, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) states that the applicant must provide the data logs downloaded from the noise meter and the field data sheets (spot traffic count and other field observations) for noise measurement performed April 2, 2019; explain why the 20-minute noise measurements were sufficient for the proposed project location (i.e., number of trains passed by versus the number scheduled for peak train hours, generally recommending one-hour measurements for rail facilities); provide noise calculations supporting the values in the form of a spreadsheet; provide cumulative noise impact calculations; and demonstrate that the proposed acoustical fence in the back of the playground could attenuate any impacts on the upper floor of three-story residential buildings in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment, on condition that the applicant shall continue to work with the Department of Environmental Protection to obtain satisfactory sound attenuation as a result of the rooftop play area, train noise, and bus noise; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant the exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Conditional Negative Declaration based on the foregoing condition prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R3A zoning district, the development of a community-facility building for use as a house of worship that would not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, front yards, side yards, height of front wall and setbacks, and parking, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-34, 24-35, 24-521, and ZR § 25-31; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received May 15, 2019"—19 sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 18,904 square feet of floor area (2.47 FAR); a maximum of 100% lot coverage; no front yards or side yards; a 47'-6" front wall along Boller Avenue; a 38'-0" front wall along Hunter Avenue; and no parking spaces, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT acoustical fencing be installed as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT any modifications requested by the Department of Environmental Protection as to acoustical attenuation

shall be made;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2017-244-BZ”), shall be obtained within four years, by October 22, 2023;

THAT with respect to the Conditional Negative Declaration, the applicant shall continue to work with the Department of Environmental Protection to obtain satisfactory sound attenuation as a result of the rooftop play area, train noise, and bus noise;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

WHEREAS, the term having expired, the applicant now seeks a reinstatement and a waiver of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure to allow the late filing of this application; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board considered concerns expressed by Community Board 17 and heard credible testimony from area residents, who painted a picture of a site maintained in total disregard for the surrounding area—with chained-up dogs, illegally stored debris, litter, oil leaks, and unsanitary sidewalks; and

WHEREAS, three of the Board's commissioners and the Board's compliance officer performed inspections of the site, and the record reflects photographic evidence corroborating community concerns; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has also been the subject of enforcement action by the Department of Buildings and is subject to a stipulation under OATH Index No. 162525, noting that "inspections conducted by agents of the Commissioner . . . revealed that the premises has been used [for] boat repair and storage, automobile repairs, contractor's yards, and for junk salvage storage" and that "the premises is therefore subject to closure pursuant to . . . the Padlock Law"; and

WHEREAS, the Fire Department states in a letter dated December 19, 2018:

On December 14, 2018 members of the Bureau of Fire Prevention visited the above noted premises to conduct an inspection of the motor vehicle repair shop. During the course of our inspection, we had contacted Battalion 58, Ladder 174, the Department of Buildings Emergency Response Team (DOB ERT) and the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation (NYS DEC) to assist in our inspection.

Based on our inspection the following conditions were found:

- 1) Accumulation of debris of rubbish/combustible waste at the rear yard
- 2) Unlawful storage of portable gas cans with a capacity of more than 2 ½ gallons
- 3) Failure to provide fire extinguishers throughout
- 4) Failure to provide approved covers for opened junction boxes
- 5) Illegal storage of portable fueled equipment (kerosene space heater)
- 6) Illegal storage of portable LPG (propane) containers
 - a. Eleven—20lbs
 - b. One—5lbs
 - c. Two—30lbs.
 - d. Six—33.5lbs

- 7) Illegal storage of flammable gas containers
 - a. Three—100lbs.

The above noted gas containers have been confiscated by the fire department's HAZ-Mat unit. The Bureau of Fire Prevention has written three criminal summonses and one FDNY summons (formerly known as Notice of Violations) for these premises.

The New York City Fire Code limits the amount of LPG and flammable gases that may be stored at a specific site. If premises require more than one permissible amount, the owner or his representative must obtain a permit from the fire department and have qualified personnel with a certificate of fitness, issued by the fire department, on site. There were no qualified personnel on site at the time of our inspection.

Violations and summonses were also issued by the DOB ERT and NYS DEC . . . Violations issued by DOB ERT were for illegal construction blocking means of egress. Violations issued by NYS DEC were for the improper storage and containment of motor oil. It was observed that motor oil was leaking from the containers and seeping into the public sewer system.

It is our recommendations to the Board, if any extension of the term of the variance is issued that as a conditions of the variance that the owner install a fire alarm system and a sprinkler (high-hazard) system, all individuals using flammable and combustible gases be certificate of fitness holders and permits obtained from the fire department for storage and use of such gasses.; and

WHEREAS, the Fire Department states in a letter dated February 7, 2019, that it recommends "that at a minimum a sprinkler system be installed at these premises and that the open ceiling be protected by a one-hour rated ceiling construction"; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated March 25, 2019, the applicant states that "pursuing the current variance is not economically or logistically feasible" but requests "that the board adjourns this case until the end of the calendar year at which time I will withdraw my application for the variance"; and

WHEREAS, no request to withdraw this application has been made, nor was evidence proffered demonstrating any meaningful attempts to comply with the safeguards and conditions imposed by the Board in granting the variance; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the site and surrounding area, the Board has determined that the requested reinstatement is inappropriate and that the applicant has not substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby deny this application.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated November 9, 2018, acting on New Building Application No. 321682639, reads in pertinent part:

“ZR 44-21: the number of accessory parking spaces that shall be provided for Use Group 4A ambulatory diagnostic or treatment health care facility use do not comply with ZR 44-21”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-44 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-1 zoning district, a reduction in the number of accessory off-street parking spaces required for an ambulatory diagnostic or treatment facility (Use Group 4), contrary to ZR § 44-21; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 19, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on August 13, 2019, October 22, 2019, and then to decision on October 29, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 5, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of Wortman Avenue, between Pennsylvania Avenue and Sheffield Avenue, in an M1-1 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along Wortman Avenue, 95 feet of depth, 3,800 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a parking lot and trailer; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a new three-story, with cellar, community-facility building for use as an ambulatory diagnostic or treatment facility (Use Group 4) with 8,347 square feet of floor area; and

WHEREAS, an as-of-right development of this size requires 28 parking spaces under ZR § 44-21; and

WHEREAS, however, the applicant proposes no parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, the applicant asserts that the total elimination of parking for the proposed development is lawful under ZR § 44-23 but provides no DOB decision to that effect; regardless, this special-permit application is not an interpretive appeal, cf. ZR § 72-11, and the Board’s review of this application need not be confined to the standards applicable to as-of-right construction; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-44 provides, in pertinent part, that:

In the districts indicated, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit a reduction in the number of accessory off-street parking spaces required by the provisions of Section 36-21 or 44-21 (General Provisions) for ambulatory diagnostic or treatment facilities listed in Use Group 4 and uses in parking requirement category B1 in Use Group 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14 or 16 to the applicable number of spaces specified in the table set forth at the end of this Section, provided that the Board finds that occupancy by ambulatory diagnostic or treatment facilities listed in Use Group 4 or uses in parking category B1 is contemplated in good faith on the basis of evidence submitted by the applicant. In such a case the Board shall require that the certificate of occupancy issued for the building within which such use is located shall state that no certificate shall thereafter be issued if the use is changed to a use listed in parking category B unless additional accessory off-street parking spaces sufficient to meet such requirements are provided on the site or within the permitted off-site radius.

with wide discretion to “permit specified [parking] modifications” “[i]n harmony with the general purpose and intent of this Resolution and in accordance with the provisions set forth in this Chapter,” ZR § 73-01, and the Board’s determination herein is subject to and guided by ZR §§ 73-01–73-04; and

WHEREAS, the Board may reduce the required parking for an ambulatory diagnostic or treatment facility (Use Group 4) at the subject site from one space per 300 square feet of floor area to one space per 600 square feet of floor area—thereby reducing parking from 28 spaces to 14 spaces for the proposed development; and

WHEREAS, however, the Board must also find that “the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large such ... modification of ... parking ... regulations at the particular site are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community by the grant of such special permit. In each case the Board shall determine that the adverse effect, if any, on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood of such ... modification of ... parking ... regulations will be minimized by appropriate conditions governing location of the site, design and method of operation,” ZR § 73-03(a); and

WHEREAS, for years, in determining applications for parking reductions, the Board has generally required parking-demand studies prepared by traffic and parking engineers to be based on data supplied by the Department of Transportation because of this expert agency’s strong credibility with respect to traffic and parking and because of the overall reliability and accuracy of this data source; and

Whereas, on numerous occasions, at multiple hearings, the Board requested that the applicant provide a set of drawings illustrating that 14 parking spaces would be provided on site; and

Whereas, the applicant refused; and

Whereas, the applicant also failed to demonstrate parking demand of fewer than 14 parking spaces; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board discussed the lack of credibility of the applicant’s parking-demand studies: the first study claims a demand of 36 spaces (more than zoning requires), and the second study claims a demand of 5 spaces; and

WHEREAS, the first study utilizes standard Department of Transportation methodology and analytical data in reaching its conclusion that demand exceeds zoning requirements by 8 spaces; and

WHEREAS, on the other hand, the second study uses an unconventional methodology with an erratic data set that results in a scattered array of outlier results; and

WHEREAS, the Board heavily relies on Department of Transportation modal split and analytical data in considering applications and only in rare circumstances allows applicants to rely on data that looks at the specific operations of a proposed facility; and

WHEREAS, even assuming both studies had equal credibility, the applicant would have merely demonstrated parking demand of 21 spaces—far in excess of the 14 spaces requested by the Board; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board explained its longstanding policy that parking demand be met on site as a safeguard that ensures that “disadvantages to the community at large” be “outweighed by the advantages to be derived by community” with “adverse effects ... minimized,” ZR § 73-03(a); and

WHEREAS, in response, the applicant furnished anecdotal evidence—a single set of Board-approved drawings and a few resolutions (out of 46 applications since 1998)—that the applicant asserts means the Board has misrepresented its own policy and instead has a policy of facilitating total parking waivers under ZR § 44-23; and

WHEREAS, contrary to the applicant’s claims, the Board’s longstanding policy that parking demand be met dates back at least five years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant wholly mischaracterizes the decisions in those resolutions, which are distinguishable from the applicant’s proposed development of a new building on a lot as large as the subject site; and

WHEREAS, in the resolutions furnished by the applicant and the associated Board-approved drawings showing no on-site parking, for instance, one site had an existing 28-foot-wide office building to be enlarged where adding on-site parking would be physically impossible and where parking demand was demonstrated to be only 10 parking spaces; another site reflected an L-shaped existing office building with 20 feet and 24 feet of frontage with an existing medical practice to be enlarged where adding on-site parking would be physically impossible and where parking demand was demonstrated to be only 3 parking spaces; and a third was a 25-foot-wide lot where it would be impossible to provide a parking garage along with required fire stairs, two means of egress, and an elevator lobby to the office building above and where parking demand was demonstrated to be only 4 spaces (because of the operation of a related practice within close walking distance); and

WHEREAS, notably, the fourth application involved an existing building to be converted to ambulatory care where the applicant committed to providing the balance of parking demand at an off-site location; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also refused to acknowledge examples of any of the numerous instances where the Board has required parking demand to be met on site and required drawings to demonstrate that parking demand would be; and

WHEREAS, of 46 cases decided since 1998, it appears there were only two other cases where a further parking waiver were issued by DOB under ZR §§ 44-23 or 36-23 after the Board granted a parking reduction—one of which provided parking on site, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings, the other of which provided partial parking demand on site with the remainder provided through off-site spaces; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant’s assertions about Board policy are self-serving and not credible in light of the Board’s actual practices; and

WHEREAS, lastly, the Board notes that the applicant’s refusal to provide the drawings requested essentially eviscerates the Board’s ability to review this application; and

WHEREAS, in other cases, the Board takes a critical eye and may find room for the addition of further parking spaces where it finds that parking demand or an absence of on-street parking justifies the need; and

WHEREAS, here, however, the applicant’s refusal deprives the Board of that crucial review process; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the site and surrounding area, the Board has determined that the requested parking reduction is not appropriate and that the applicant has not substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that this application shall be and it hereby is denied.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated September 6, 2018, acting on Alteration Type I Application No. 321621624, reads in pertinent part:

1. “Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-141 in that the proposed floor area ratio exceeds the maximum permitted;
2. Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-141 in that the proposed open space ratio is less than the minimum required;
3. Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-461 in that the proposed side yard is less than the minimum required; and
4. Proposed plans are contrary to Zoning Resolution Section 23-47 in that the proposed rear yard is less than the minimum required”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing two- (2) story plus cellar and attic single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio (“FAR”), open space ratio (“OSR”), side yards, and rear yards contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on June 25, 2019 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on August 13, 2019, and October 29, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East 24th Street, between Avenue I and Avenue J, within an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along East 24th Street, 100 feet of depth, 4,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing two- (2) story plus cellar and attic single-family detached residence and existing garage; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an enlargement of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

- (a) Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and

- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
- (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins. Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing detached single-family residence, as contemplated in ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the existing single-family residence is a two- (2) story plus cellar and attic single-family detached residence with 0.73 FAR (2,915 square feet of floor area), 89% OSR (2,593 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 9'-9-1/2" and 4'-2-1/2", and a rear yard with a depth of 24'-2-1/4"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to vertically and horizontally enlarge the single-family detached residence resulting in a two- (2) story plus cellar and attic single-family detached residence with 1.0 FAR (3,999 square feet of floor area), 58% OSR (2,321 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of nine (9) feet and 4'-2-1/2", and a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet at the first floor, 24'-2-1/4" at the second floor, and 24'-8" at the attic; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum of 0.5 FAR (2,000 square feet of floor area) is permitted, a minimum of 150% OSR (3,000 square feet of open space assuming a complying 0.5 FAR) is required, two (2) side yards, each with minimum widths of five (5) feet and a minimum of 13 feet of total side yards are required, and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 6, 2019 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on October 29, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Scibetta performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of East 22nd Street, between Avenue M and Avenue N, within an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet of frontage along East 22nd Street, 100 feet of depth, 4,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing two- (2) story plus cellar single-family detached residence; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an enlargement of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

- (a) Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
- (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-105X, dated March 19, 2019; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(b) sets forth additional findings that must be made where a physical culture or health establishment is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building in certain commercial districts; and

WHEREAS, because no portion of the subject PCE is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, the additional findings set forth in ZR § 73-36(b) need not be made or addressed; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

- (1) the Board shall have referred the application to the Department of Investigation for a background check of the owner, operator and all principals having an interest in any application filed under a partnership or corporate name and shall have received a report from the Department of Investigation which the Board shall determine to be satisfactory; and
- (2) the Board, in any resolution granting a special permit, shall have specified how each of the findings required by this Section are made.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE occupies 3,821 square feet of floor space on the cellar level with a fitness area, restrooms, showers, storage and office space; and 608 square feet of floor area on the first floor with the PCE entrance; and

WHEREAS, the PCE began operation in April 2019, as “F45 Training Dumbo,” with the following hours of operation: Monday through Friday, 4:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because is located within an existing commercial building and does not anticipate the PCE to generate any significant additional traffic; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because it is located entirely within an existing building and most of the patrons walk or use mass transit to access the PCE; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that, while the PCE utilizes a sound system including the use of amplified microphones, the PCE has been operating without incident; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system are maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated October 25, 2019, the Fire Department states that these premises are protected by a combined suppression system (standpipe and sprinkler) and fire alarm system which have been tested to the satisfaction of the Fire Department; and, after reviewing revised plans showing the exit passageways from the cellar space to exit stairs leading to Adams Street and Pearl Street, in addition to the main entrance on Prospect Street, the Fire Department has no objection; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the operation of the PCE will not interfere with any public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-139K, dated May 30, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the term of the special permit has been reduced to reflect the period of time the PCE operated without Board approval; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the

PCE on portions of the first floor and cellar level, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located within an M1-6 zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment on portions of the first floor and cellar level of an existing ten- (10) story plus cellar commercial building, contrary to ZR § 42-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received October 28, 2019"-Six (6) sheets; and on further condition:

3. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 23-461(a) in that the proposed side yards are less than required;
4. Proposed plans are contrary to ZR 23-47 in that the proposed rear yard is less than 30’-0””; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio (“FAR”), open space ratio (“OSR”), side yards, and rear yards contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2019 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was in receipt of four (4) form letters in support of this application and one (1) form letter in opposition to this application, citing concerns that the proposed enlargement will not be consistent with the character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of East 24th Street, between Avenue M and Avenue N, within an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

1. any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
2. any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
3. any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins. Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing detached single-family residence, as contemplated in ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the existing single-family residence is a three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence with 0.60 FAR (2,400 square feet of floor area), 123% OSR (2,952 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 3'-9" and 13'-11", and a rear yard with a depth of 34'-7"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to horizontally enlarge the single-family detached residence resulting in a three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence with 0.83 FAR (3,318 square feet of floor area), 72% OSR (2,375 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with widths of 3'-9" and 9'-3", and a rear yard with a depth of 20 feet at the first floor and 25 feet above; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum of 0.5 FAR (2,000 square feet of floor area) is permitted, a minimum of 150% OSR (3,000 square feet of open space assuming a complying 0.5 FAR) is required, two (2) side yards, each with minimum widths of five (5) feet and a minimum of 13 feet of total side yards are required, and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the floor area at the first floor from 1,048 square feet to 1,582 square feet, the second floor from 911 square feet to 1,401 square feet, and maintain the third floor with 442 square feet of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed single-family residence as enlarged is consistent with the built character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant surveyed single- and two- (2) family residences within 400 feet of the subject site and in an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area"), finding that, of the 96 qualifying residences, 68 residences (71 percent) have an FAR greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.06 and 18 residences have an FAR of 0.83 or greater; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted an open space ratio study, demonstrating that 84 lots (88 percent) within the Study Area have an open space ratio less than 150%, ranging from 148% to 52%, and 21 lots have an open space ratio of 72% or less; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a rear yard study demonstrating that, on the subject block, 18 interior lots (55 percent) have rear yards with depths less than 30 feet, ranging from 20 feet to 29 feet, and six (6) lots have rear yards with a depth of 20 feet; and

side yard, and, pursuant to a 1930 Sanborn Map including the subject site provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying side yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19BSA107K, dated March 17, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73622 and 7303 to permit the enlargement of an existing three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio (“FAR”), open space ratio (“OSR”), side yards, and rear yards contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received October 31, 2019”-Twelve (12) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 0.83 FAR (3,318 square feet of floor area), a minimum of 72% OSR (2,375 square feet of open space), two (2) side yards with minimum widths of 3’-9” and 9’-3”, and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 20 feet at the first floor and 25 feet above, as illustrated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT removal of existing joists or perimeter walls in excess of that shown on the Board-approved plans shall void the special permit;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2019-61-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by November 19, 2023;

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated October 9, 2019, acting on DOB Alteration Type I Application No. 123655400, reads in pertinent part:

“ZR 32-10, ZR 73-36: Proposed “physical culture establishment” in a C4-6A zoning district is contrary to ZR 32-10 and requires a special permit from the New York City Board of Standards and Appeals (BSA) per ZR 73-36; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located within a C4-6A zoning district and in the Upper West Side/Central Park West Historic District, the operation of a physical culture establishment (“PCE”) on a portion of the first floor of an existing 16- story with cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 3, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with a continued hearing on November 19, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 7, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of three form letters in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of West 72nd Street, between Amsterdam Avenue and Columbus Avenue, within a C4-6A zoning district and in the Upper West Side/Central Park West Historic District, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 50 feet of frontage along West 72nd Street, 102 feet of depth, 5,109 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing 16-story with cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(a) provides that in C1-8X, C1-9, C2, C4, C5, C6, C8, M1, M2 or M3 Districts, and in certain special districts as specified in the provisions of such special district, the Board may permit physical culture or health establishments as defined in Section 12-10 for a term not to exceed ten years, provided that the following findings

are made:

- (1) that such use is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and
- (2) that such use contains:
 - (i) one or more of the following regulation size sports facilities: handball courts, basketball courts, squash courts, paddleball courts, racketball [sic] courts, tennis courts; or
 - (ii) a swimming pool of a minimum 1,500 square feet; or
 - (iii) facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction, aerobics or martial arts; or
 - (iv) facilities for practice of massage by New York State licensed masseurs or masseuses.

Therapeutic or relaxation services may be provided only as accessory to programmed facilities as described in paragraphs (a)(2)(i) through (a)(2)(iv) of this Section; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(b) sets forth additional findings that must be made where a physical culture or health establishment is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building in certain commercial districts; and

WHEREAS, because no portion of the subject PCE is located on the roof of a commercial building or the commercial portion of a mixed building, the additional findings set forth in ZR § 73-36(b) need not be made or addressed; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-36(c) provides that no special permit shall be issued unless:

- (1) the Board shall have referred the application to the Department of Investigation for a background check of the owner, operator and all principals having an interest in any application filed under a partnership or corporate name and shall have received a report from the Department of Investigation which the Board shall determine to be satisfactory; and
- (2) the Board, in any resolution granting a special permit, shall have specified how each of the findings required by this Section are made.; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE occupies 3,974 square feet of floor area on the first floor with the PCE reception, exercise studio, and areas for restrooms and showers, office and storage; and

WHEREAS, the PCE began operation on January 4, 2019, as “Orangetheory Fitness,” and operates daily from 5:00 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE operator retained sound engineers to conduct acoustical testing in the PCE space to assess and mitigate the potential noise impact from the PCE operations, recommending that the applicant maintain stud track isolation at the top and bottom stud tracks to reduce the possibility of impact vibration entering the walls and traveling up the studs; and all riser penetrations between the spaces be sealed with non-hardening caulk such as silicone to prevent airborne noises from traveling between the units; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that attenuation measures are maintained within the ceiling, walls and floor of the PCE to prevent noise and vibration disturbance to other portions of the building and submitted photographs demonstrating the installation of such measures throughout the PCE space; these measures include: suspended spring-hung sound barrier ceiling with two layers of gypsum board; a spring isolator and six-inch sound attenuation blankets; stud track isolation system maintained within the walls; the rowing machines and treadmills are maintained above a platform comprising of a rubber mat followed by multiple layers of plywood on top of neoprene isolators; and, five inches of pads are maintained throughout the free-weight area and behind the rowing machines; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because PCE use at the subject site is consistent with the character of the immediate surrounding area, which includes a mix of compatible uses including offices, banks, retail stores, eating and drinking establishments and other PCEs; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain facilities for classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, weight reduction, body building and aerobics; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because the sound attenuation measures maintained within the PCE ensure no adverse effects are caused from the operation of PCE at the premises or within the surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system, including connection of the interior fire alarm system to an FDNY-approved central station, is maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated October 31, 2019, the Fire Department states that the premises are protected by a combination fire suppression system (standpipe and sprinkler) and fire alarm system with a central office connection, which have been tested satisfactory according to Fire Department rules and regulations; based on the foregoing, the Department has no objection to the application, and the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect these premises and enforce all applicable rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS, by Certificate of No Effect (“CNE”) “CNE-19-31380,” issued July 29, 2019, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission (“LPC”) approved work consisting of exterior alterations at the ground floor storefront of the West 72nd Street facade, including the installation of an orange-and-red-finished dimensional aluminum letters (“Orangetheory”) attached to a metal channel within the transom; white vinyl-applied signage (“FITNESS”) at the transoms and graphics at the display windows and doors; and a metal blade sign and armature featuring a raised orange splat logo at the eastern stone pier; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 73-03, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the term of the grant has been reduced to reflect the period the PCE operated without approval from the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19BSA109M, dated March 25, 2019; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, legalizing the conditions of a PCE on a portion of the first floor, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to legalize, on a site located within a C4-6A zoning district and in the Upper West Side/Central Park West Historic District, the operation of a physical culture establishment on a portion of the first floor of an existing 16- story with cellar mixed-use residential and commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked “Received October 29, 2019”- (4) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the term of the PCE grant will expire on January 4, 2029;

THAT sound attenuation measures shall be maintained to ensure no disturbance to neighbors;

THAT there will be no change in ownership or operating control of the PCE without prior application to and approval from the Board;

THAT accessibility shall be provided pursuant to the standards set forth in applicable accessibility laws, including but not limited to Chapter 11 of the NYC Building Code, the 2009 American National Standards Institute (ANSI) A117.1 and Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, as reviewed and approved by DOB;

THAT a sprinkler system and an approved fire alarm system—including connection of the interior fire alarm system to an FDNY-approved central station—shall be maintained as indicated on the Board-approved plans;

THAT minimum three foot wide exit pathways shall be provided leading to the required exits and such pathways shall always be maintained unobstructed, including from any equipment;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also referencing this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2019-63-BZ”), shall be obtained within one year, by November 19, 2020;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited objection(s);

WHEREAS, in addition, the applicant submits that sound-attenuation measures have been provided within the space so as to not disturb other tenants in the building including two zero-clearance doors in the interior PCE to block sound from entering elevator shafts; sheetrock on interior PCE areas near the air ventilation shaft; and overlaid mass loaded vinyl added to prevent sound from traveling to the hallway; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Board notes that the PCE must maintain sound-attenuation measures to prevent disturbance to adjacent residences; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not adversely impact the privacy, quiet, light, and air in the neighborhood because PCE use is consistent with the vibrant commercial area in which it is located, it is fully contained within an existing building, and the subject site is well served by public transit; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the PCE use is so located as not to impair the essential character or the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the PCE provides facilities for boxing-based classes, instruction and programs for physical improvement, body building, weight reduction, and martial arts; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible for issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that the PCE is fully sprinklered and that an approved fire alarm—including area smoke detectors, manual pull stations at each required exist, local audible and visual alarms and connection to an FDNY-approved central station—has been installed in the entire PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 1, 2019, the Fire Department states these premises are protected by fire suppression systems (standpipe and sprinkler), which have been tested and found to be satisfactory according to Fire Department rules and regulations; the Department also finds that these premises do not require a fire alarm system; based on the foregoing, the Department has no objections to the application, and the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect these premises and enforce all applicable rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS, in response to the Board’s comments, the applicant submitted a Landmarks Preservation Commission (“LPC”) Certificate of No Effect (“CNE”) No. 19-25159 issued on September 14, 2018 permitting the installation of one condensing unit on existing dunnage of a one-story rear extension and installation of three through-window HVAC louvers and constructing nonbearing partitions and finishes, as well as mechanical, plumbing, electrical and HVAC work and revised plans to provide an existing and proposed first floor plan showing egress from the building as well as BSA standard notes regarding accessibility; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed special permit use will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, on October 23, 2012, under BSA Cal. No. 86-12-BZ, the Board granted a special permit, pursuant to ZR §§ 73-63 and 73-03, to permit the enlargement of an existing two- (2) story non-residential building containing PCE use, which created non-compliance with regards to floor area, contrary to ZR § 23-142, on condition that any and all work substantially conform to plans, as they apply to the objections, filed with the application; the bulk parameters of the proposed enlarged building be a total floor area of 27,291 square feet and a floor area ratio of 4.2, as illustrated on BSA-approved plans; the approval be limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; substantial construction be completed within four (4) years, by October 23, 2016; and the DOB ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted; and

WHEREAS, the previous term of the special having expired, the applicant requests the subject relief; and building, but a review of Fire Department records shows that the fire alarm system for the PCE space was inspected and approved; in addition, the fire suppression systems (standpipe and sprinkler) were inspected and tested satisfactory to the Department standards; and that the Department has no objection to the Board rendering a decision on this application, as the Bureau of Fire Prevention will continue to inspect the premises and enforce any outstanding violation orders; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to ZR § 73-03(f), the applicant has satisfactorily demonstrated compliance with the conditions of the previous term and the Board finds that the circumstances warranting the original grant still obtain; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that a ten (10) year extension of the term of the special permit is appropriate, with the conditions set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals reopens and amends the resolution, dated November 4, 1998, as amended through September 25, 2007, so that, as amended, this portion of the resolution reads: “to grant an extension of the term of the variance for a term of ten (10) years, to expire on November 4, 2028, on condition that the use and operation of the site shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked ‘Received September 12, 2018’-Six (6) sheets; and on further condition:

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application for an amendment to a variance, previously granted by the Board, to change the Board-approved site plan to permit the merger of the subject zoning lot with an adjacent parcel, thereby creating an entirely new zoning lot and facilitating the transfer of the School’s unused floor area; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 26, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northwest corner of Second Avenue and East 20th Street, in an R9A (C1-5) zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 62 feet of frontage along Second Avenue, 79 feet of frontage along East 20th Street, 4,898 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a three-story and eight-story community-facility building with 27,492 square feet of floor area (5.61 FAR) used as a school (the “School”); and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since May 12, 2009, when, under the subject calendar number, the Board granted a variance to permit the development of the subject building on condition that the bulk parameters of the building be a 38’-3” street wall height on the northern 20’-0” of the subject site’s frontage along Second Avenue, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings; that any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the School requires review and approval by the Board; that issuance of a permanent certificate of occupancy be conditioned on the issuance by the Department of Environmental Protection of a Notice of Satisfaction or

Notice of No Objection for the Remedial Closure Report; that a composite window–wall attenuation to achieve 39 dBA be required on the fifth-floor façade adjacent to the rooftop play area; that windows with an OITC rating of at least 31 dBA be installed on the east façade (Second Avenue frontage); that windows with an OITC rating of at least 26 dBA be installed on the south facade (East 20th Street frontage); and that central air-conditioning be provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks an amendment to change the Board-approved site plan to permit the merger of the subject zoning lot with an adjacent parcel, thereby creating an entirely new zoning lot and facilitating the transfer of the School’s unused floor area; and

WHEREAS, under Bella Vista Apartment Co. v. Bennett, 89 N.Y.2d 465, 471 (1997) (“Bella Vista”), the Board “retain[s] the power of review over these kinds of proposals to preserve coherent land use determinations and adherence to the zoning plan itself”; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that this application is consistent with Bella Vista in light of the following factors:

1. the lapse of time between grant of the original variance and the application to amend;
2. whether the lots to be merged were under separate ownership when the variance was granted;
3. whether the redevelopment of the adjacent parcel was known to be anticipated when the original variance was granted so that the property owner should have foreseen the market for use of the variance site’s unused development rights;
4. whether the Board ascribed value to the unused development rights as part of its review of the financial analysis as to hardship;
5. whether amendment of a variance to facilitate a transfer of unused development rights undermines the integrity of the Board’s earlier findings; and
6. whether the transfer would involve any changes to the approved building associated with the proposed lot merger and transfer; and

WHEREAS, first, the applicant states that this application has been filed approximately ten years after the Board’s grant of a variance, indicating that the proposed zoning-lot merger was not part of the School’s long-term plan at the time of the original application; and

WHEREAS, second, the applicant states that the subject site and adjacent parcel have been maintained as separate, unrelated sites without common ownership or control, as reflected in the submitted ownership-history chart and associated deeds; and

WHEREAS, third, the applicant states that, at the time of the Board’s grant, the School could not have foreseen a market for use of the subject site's unused floor area because the subject site and adjacent parcel have remained relatively unchanged, while the proposed zoning-lot merger instead reflects a then-unanticipated eventuality that has arisen as circumstances have changed; and

WHEREAS, fourth, the applicant states that, because the School is a non-profit institution, financial hardship was not relevant to the Board's grant, which instead considered the constraints that as-of-right development would pose to the School's programmatic needs separate from any financial rationale; and

WHEREAS, fifth, the applicant states that this application would not undermine any of the Board's findings because the School contemplated and affirmed—both during the original application and today—that its unused floor area was and is not necessary to enable the School's to meet its programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, last, the applicant states that no changes to the School's building are proposed in this application; and

Whereas, at hearing, the Board requested and received confirmation that the School was aware that any future application to the Board for any increase in the maximum permitted floor area beyond that allowed by applicable zoning regulations would be considered a self-created hardship that would undermine the basis for the Board's grant; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board has determined that the requested amendment is appropriate with certain conditions as set forth below and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby reopen and amend the resolution, dated May 12, 2009, so that as amended this portion of the resolution shall read: "to grant an amendment to change the Board-approved site plan to permit the merger of the subject zoning lot with an adjacent parcel, thereby creating an entirely new zoning lot and facilitating the transfer of the School's unused floor area; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received November 26, 2019"—one (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT any future applications to the Board shall not allow for an increase in the maximum permitted floor area, which the Board would view as a self-created hardship;

That the following shall be the bulk parameters of the building: a 38'-3" street wall height on the northern 20'-0" of the subject site's frontage along Second Avenue, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

That any change in the use, occupancy, or operator of the School requires review and approval by the Board;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal No 316-08-BZ"), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by November 26, 2023;

THAT all conditions from prior resolutions not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted."

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated April 12, 2011, acting on Department of Buildings Alteration Type I Application No. 320288602, reads in pertinent part:

“The proposed enlargement of the existing residence in an R3-2 zoning district:

1. Increases the degree of non-compliance with respect to one side yard and is contrary to sections 23-461 & 54-31 of the Zoning Resolution;
2. Creates non-compliance with respect to floor area and floor area ratio and is contrary to section 23-141 of the Zoning Resolution;
3. Creates non-compliance with respect to open space and lot coverage and is contrary to section 23-141 of the Zoning Resolution;
4. Creates non-compliance with respect to rear yard and is contrary to section 23-47 of the Zoning Resolution;” and

WHEREAS, this is an application under Z.R. §§ 73-622 and 73-03 to permit, in an R3-2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing three- (3) story plus cellar single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio (“FAR”), open space, lot coverage, side yards, and rear yards contrary to Z.R. §§ 23-142, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that since the filing of this application, the Zoning Resolution has been amended and the text formerly found at ZR § 23-141, setting forth the maximum floor area ratio, minimum required open space and maximum lot coverage permitted in an R3-2 zoning district, is now found in ZR § 23-142; thus the Board treats the citation to ZR § 23-141 in DOB’s objection as a citation to ZR § 23-142; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 23, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on July 23, 2019, August 13, 2019, and November 26, 2019, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 15, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was in receipt of two form letters in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an *enlargement*1 of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

1 Words in italics are defined in Section 12-10 of the Zoning Resolution.

- (a) Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (b) R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- (c) within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

- (1) any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
- (2) any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
- (3) any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins. Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing detached single-family residence, as contemplated in ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the existing single-family residence is a three-story plus cellar single-family detached residence with 0.64 FAR (2,575 square feet of floor area), 56.3% of open space (2,254 square feet of open space), 43.7% of lot coverage (1,746 square feet of lot coverage, two side yards with widths of 3'-9-1/2" and 9'-2-3/4", and a rear yard with a depth of 49'-9-3/4"); and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum of 0.5 FAR (2,000 square feet of floor area) is permitted, a minimum of 65% of open space (2,600 square feet of open space) is required, a maximum of 35% lot coverage (1,400 square feet of lot coverage) is permitted, two side yards, each with minimum widths of five (5) feet and a minimum of 13 feet of total side yards are required, and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-142, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the floor area at the first floor from 1,043 square feet to 1,735 square feet, the second floor from 950 square feet to 1,609 square feet, and the third floor from 582 square feet to 643 square feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed single-family residence as enlarged is consistent with the built character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 11BSA081K, dated April 4, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application to reopen and rehear a previously decided appeal to consider substantial new evidence not available at the time of the initial hearing pursuant to § 1-12.5 of the Board’s Rules of Practice and Procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 10, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on that same date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Scibetta performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the site is located on the southwest corner of Zerega Avenue and Bruckner Boulevard, in an M1-1 zoning district, in the Bronx; and

BACKGROUND

A. Procedural History

WHEREAS, the site is occupied by a five-story commercial building with a rooftop sign structure containing a rooftop sign (the “Zerega Sign”) within 200 feet of an arterial highway; and

WHEREAS, on March 27, 2008, the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) issued Permit No. 210039224 for the repair of the structural elements of the Sign and on April 21, 2008, DOB issued Permit No. 201143253 for the repair of the Sign itself, however, on January 31, 2013, DOB revoked the Permits based on its determination that the Sign was not established as a non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, on September 13, 2013, under the subject calendar number, the Board upheld DOB’s determination that the then-Appellant, the lessee of the sign, failed to provide evidence of the establishment of an advertising sign and denied the appeal, finding that DOB properly denied the Sign registration because the sign lessee has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Sign was established prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, specifically, the Board agreed with DOB that nothing in a June 12, 1978 lease between Joma

Manufacturing Company (of the Premises) and the advertising company provided a basis for the Board to determine when the Sign was actually constructed; the 1978 lease speaks to, at most, when the Sign could have been constructed; that the only other item of evidence that is somewhat contemporaneous with the 1978 lease is a July 15, 1980 Work Completion Notice, which suggests that the Sign construction was completed more than eight months after November 1, 1979, the required date of establishment in ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, on September 16, 2014, under the subject calendar number, the Board reopened the record by court remand for supplemental review of whether a sign at the subject site was a permitted non-conforming advertising sign in light of the Board's decision in BSA Cal. No. 96-12-A (the "12th Avenue case"), and, again, denied the appeal finding that, unlike the appellant in the 12th Avenue case, the Appellant in the subject case did not submit a reconsideration or any similar document, which is viewed to be among the most valuable forms of evidence DOB accepts pursuant to TPPN 14/1988, and, because the Board found that the Sign was never established as non-conforming, it was unnecessary to determine whether the Zoning Resolution permitted its removal and reconstruction or whether the presumption of continuity impels the Board to find, based on the Appellant's evidence, that the Sign was not discontinued; and

WHEREAS, on July 12, 2016, under the subject calendar number, the Board, again, reopened the record by court remand for supplemental review and found that, while the Zerega Sign may have continuously existed at the premises since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979, in light of a lease by Philip Morris to utilize the 1,585 square feet of floor area it rented on the ground floor of the Premises for any number of business operations, including the storage and distribution of tobacco products, even if the Sign was established as an advertising sign prior November 1, 1979, its advertising use was abandoned even if the Zerega Sign was established as an advertising sign prior November 1, 1979, its advertising use was abandoned and the Zerega Sign has not continuously been used for advertising purposes since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, on July 12, 2016, under the subject calendar number, the Board denied this appeal, which had returned to the Board pursuant to an Order of the Supreme Court of New York, New York County (the "Court"), filed in OTR Media Group, Inc. v. Board of Standards and Appeals of the City of New York (Index No. 101422/2013) on May 6, 2015, annulling the Board's decision, dated September 16, 2014, and remanding the matter for a determination by the Board that a sign at the subject premises has (1) continuously existed at the premises since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979, and (2) has continuously been used for advertising purposes (the "2016 Resolution"); and

WHEREAS, the application was originally filed on February 12, 2013, challenging DOB's revocation of two permits (Permit Nos. 210039224 and 201143253) based on DOB's determination that the Sign had not been established as a legal non-conforming advertising sign; and

WHEREAS, by decision dated September 24, 2013, the Board denied the appeal, concluding that the Appellant had failed to meet its burden of demonstrating that the Sign was established prior to November 1, 1979, the relevant date for legal nonconforming status, pursuant to ZR § 42-55; and

WHEREAS, the application was remanded to the Board pursuant to stipulation for the limited purpose of considering whether to distinguish the subject appeal from a prior appeal for signs located at 2284 12th Avenue (BSA Cal. Nos. 96-12-A and 97-12-A); and

WHEREAS, the Board subsequently held a public hearing and voted to add three additional recitals to the resolution dated September 24, 2013, distinguishing the subject case from the facts of 2284 12th Avenue, but otherwise, maintained its decision to deny of the appeal; and

WHEREAS, on April 15, 2015, the Supreme Court annulled that revised determination and remanded the matter to the Board for determinations on whether the Sign was used continuously at the subject site since being legally established prior to November 1, 1979, and whether the Sign had continuously been used for advertising purposes; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with the Court's order, the Board held five public hearings on the second remand and, in the 2016 Resolution, concluded that, though the Sign had continuously existed at the premises since its establishment prior to November 1, 1979, it had not continuously been used for advertising purposes; and

WHEREAS, the 2016 Resolution was challenged pursuant to Article 78 of the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules, annulled and the matter was again remanded, pursuant to an Order of the Court, filed in OTR Media Group, Inc. v. Board of Standards and Appeals of the City of New York (Index No. 158646/2016) on March 16, 2018, to the Board for further consideration in light of the Board's decision in 2368 12th Avenue, Manhattan (Block 2005, Lot 32) (BSA Cal. No. 24-12-A) (the "2018 Remand"); and

WHEREAS, an application to reconsider the application pursuant to the 2018 Remand was filed with the Board on or around June 7, 2018; and

WHEREAS, an application for a request to rehear, pursuant to the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedures § 1-12.5, was filed on or around June 8, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the 2018 Remand was restored to the Board's public hearing calendar and heard on the same dates as the application to request a rehearing; and

WHEREAS, on March 19, 2019, the Board granted the request for a rehearing to consider substantial new evidence not available at the time of the initial hearing pursuant to § 1-12.5 of the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure, finding that the five New York State Department of Transportation photographs (the "NYSDOT photos") submitted by DOB constitute substantial new evidence that was not in DOB's possession prior to the 2016 Resolution and constitute the only clear photographs of the subject site prior to 2005 and refute evidence previously proffered into the record on this appeal; and

B. History of Sign Regulations

WHEREAS, since 1940, the City of New York has prohibited off-site advertising signs within 200 feet and within view of its parks and arterial highways, see Infinity Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 165 F. Supp. 2d 403, 406 (E.D.N.Y. 2001); and

WHEREAS, despite this prohibition and undeterred by the City's limited enforcement efforts, outdoor-advertising companies erected illegal arterial advertising signs between 1940 and 1979 in violation of the Zoning Resolution, see Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99 (2d Cir. 2010); and

WHEREAS, however, in 1979, facing an impending loss of millions of dollars in federal funding, the City amended the Zoning Resolution to grant "legal non-conforming use" status¹ to existing illegal arterial advertising signs in order to comply with the federal Highway Beautification Act, see Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99 (2d Cir. 2010); and

WHEREAS, in 2001, recognizing that "the outdoor advertising industry unquestionably employed creative methods to obtain building permits for arterial highway signs," the City created a sign-registration program for outdoor-advertising companies to increase oversight and improve enforcement of the Zoning Resolution's sign regulations, Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. City of New York, 594 F.3d 94, 99–100 (2d Cir. 2010); and

C. Legalization of Illegal Construction

WHEREAS, for more than a century, the City has regulated the construction of buildings and structures—including billboards—through its building code (the "Building Code"), see People ex rel. Van Beuren & New York Bill Posting Co. v. Miller, 161 A.D. 138, 139 (N.Y. App. Div. 1914); and

WHEREAS, a central feature of the Building Code's regulatory scheme is that, before erecting a structure, a permit to do so must be obtained from DOB, see People ex rel. Van Beuren & New York Bill Posting Co. v. Miller, 161 A.D. 138, 140 (N.Y. App. Div. 1914); and

WHEREAS, this permit application process generally requires plans and specifications demonstrating compliance with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, to be submitted for review and approval by DOB; and

WHEREAS, if the permit application and DOB's review indicate the proposed construction complies with applicable laws, a permit will issue; and

WHEREAS, in the ordinary course, construction then proceeds as authorized by this permit, and the construction is then "signed off" as compliant with the plans and specifications; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding this general framework, individuals sometimes violate the Building Code by performing illegal construction without a permit; and

WHEREAS, the Building Code provides that maintaining illegal construction is a continuing violation until the violation is cured; and

WHEREAS, after this occurs, the individual may opt to cure the violation by either removing or "legalizing" this illegal construction; and

WHEREAS, "legalizing" illegal construction—a term of art—involves procuring a permit for the already-built construction; and

WHEREAS, as such, a "legalization" application requires "as-built" plans and specifications demonstrating compliance of the illegal construction with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, to be submitted for review and approval by DOB; and

WHEREAS, if the "legalization" application and DOB's review indicate the "as-built" illegal construction complies with applicable laws, the "legalization" application will be approved, a permit may issue, and the "as-built" illegal construction may be "signed off" as compliant with the plans and specifications; and

WHEREAS, if the "legalization" application or DOB's review do not indicate the "as-built" illegal construction complies, the "legalization" application cannot be approved; and

WHEREAS, because of the 1979 amendment to Zoning Resolution, many previously illegal arterial advertising signs that had been erected without proper permits underwent this "legalization" process, which DOB later codified in OPPN 10/99, setting forth filing standards for which types of applications to file for different billboard typologies (depending, for instance, on whether electrical work had been involved to illuminate the sign); and

WHEREAS, as discussed throughout this appeal, in the 1980s, many outdoor-advertising companies availed themselves of the opportunity to "legalize" their signs where their construction complied with applicable laws, including the Zoning Resolution, as amended in 1979; and

WHEREAS, for instance, where an applicant cannot furnish evidence that an arterial-advertising sign existed as of the specified date, DOB denies an application to legalize an arterial-advertising sign as "legal non-conforming use"—a process that involves considering and weighing evidence, specified as having different weights of credibility in TPPN 14/1988; and

WHEREAS, the denied applicant then faces two choices: removing the illegal sign structure or salvaging the illegal sign structure by converting it to lawful use as an accessory business sign; and

¹ Generally, the Zoning Resolution requires that a nonconforming use be "lawful" before a zoning change with which the use no longer complies, see ZR § 12-10 (nonconformity definition); however, the 1979 text amendment conferred "legal non-conforming use" status on then-illegal off-site advertising signs, see ZR § 42-55.

MINUTES

WHEREAS, the latter approach requires filing an application to “legalize” the newly converted accessory business sign structure with DOB to ensure compliance with applicable laws, including the Building Code (to review the safety of the illegal sign structure with construction standards) and the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, however, not all sign structures for newly converted accessory business sign structures can be legalized; and

WHEREAS, for instance, where an applicant cannot demonstrate that a business sign meets the Zoning Resolution’s “accessory use” definition, DOB denies the legalization application for failure to comply with applicable laws; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, this “legalization” process reflects an intricate interplay between the technical and procedural aspects of the City’s regulation of construction that requires a significant depth of expertise to administer; and

PARTIES’ POSITIONS

WHEREAS, DOB argues that TPPN 14/1988 identifies “records or documentation from any City Agency,” as the first category in order of preference of evidence to demonstrate the existence of a sign; and

WHEREAS, while other governmental records are not listed within the TPPN, both the Department and the Court that remanded this matter to the Board in 2015 recognized that the examples cited in the TPPN are intended as “guidelines” and “examples” and not meant to be a complete and exhaustive list; and

WHEREAS, to the extent New York State maintained in its normal course of business photographic records of signs along the highway, such records are at least as strong as any City Agency record; and

WHEREAS, DOB submits and relies on five NYSDOT photographs, certified by the along with an April 17, 2018 New York State Department of Transportation Document Certification letter, as being “a true and complete copy of New York State Department of Transportation’s photolog images taken of Interstate 95 North (a/k/a Cross Bronx Expressway) in the vicinity of 945 Zerega Avenue, the Bronx, New York during the time period of 1978–1995; and

WHEREAS, DOB argues that the NYSDOT photos are a business record and constitute the best form of evidence to determine the existence of the Sign; and

WHEREAS, The NYSDOT photographs represent the presence, or lack thereof, of the Sign on the following dates: June 28, 1978, June 18, 1981, May 7, 1985, October 20, 1990, and May 16, 1995; and

WHEREAS, in the 1978, 1981, and 1985 NYSDOT photos, neither the Sign, nor sign structure, are visible on the subject site; and

WHEREAS, DOB argues that the NYSDOT photos constitute proof that the Sign is not entitled to non-conforming use status, pursuant to Z.R. § 42-55(c)(2), which states, in part, that “any advertising sign erected, structurally altered, relocated or reconstructed between June 1, 1968, and November 1, 1979 . . . shall have legal non-conforming use status pursuant to Section 52-83, to the extent of its size existing on November 1, 1979,” and it must be determined that the Sign did not exist on November 1, 1979, and, as such, is not an established non-conforming use; and

WHEREAS, the NYSDOT photos establish a higher form of proof than the Owner’s 1978 lease, which only proves a right to occupy, and the 1980 Work Completion Notice; and

WHEREAS, the Owner rejects the probative value of the NYSDOT photos, in light of DOB TPPN 14/1988, first arguing that they are not substantial new evidence and have always been available, and, second, characterizing them as not meeting the standard of evidence equivalent to City Agency or public utility records, and must be considered as equal to the same status as bills indicating the use within the building; and

WHEREAS, the Owner argues that the 1978 NYSDOT photo is of no probative value as to the Zerega Sign’s legal establishment as a non-conforming advertising sign because it predates the relevant November 1, 1979, date; and

WHEREAS, the Owner further argues that the 1981 NYSDOT photo, assuming it be viewed in the same light as a business record, is rebutted by a July 15, 1980, Allied Outdoor work completion notice, stating “[t]his is to advise you that on 6/12/80 the Outdoor Advertising Display located at 945 Zerega Ave., Bronx was completed” and bears only the following information, “Product: Supermarket Type: Paint X;” and

WHEREAS, the 1985 NYSDOT photo cannot serve to prove a consecutive two-year period of discontinuance or abandonment and, taken at an equal value to the Owner’s business records, a November 18, 1978 Premier Roofing Co. Inc. Specifications and June 12, 1978 lease, have been rebutted; and

WHEREAS, considering the NYSDOT photos as a of tertiary probative value, a 1983 NYC Tax Photo and 1980 Work Completion Notice should serve to demonstrate the existence of the sign on the November 1, 1979, establishment date; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds the NYSDOT photos are conclusive evidence that the sign was not erected on November 1, 1979; and

WHEREAS, further, the NYSDOT photos demonstrate that, even if the presence of the sign had been established, the use of the sign for advertising use was discontinued or never existed for a period of two or more years; and

WHEREAS, the only evidence submitted by the Owner to rebut the evidence presented in the NYSDOT photos is a work completion order considering it established, as well as out-of-focus and blurry tax photos taken at a distance where there is little, if any, indication that what is being shown is a bulkhead, dunnage or framing for a sign, or the sign itself; and

WHEREAS, the Owner does not rebut the evidence of the lack of a sign in the 1978 and 1981 photos, but argues that the Board should not consider this evidence; and

WHEREAS, the NYSDOT photos are the only evidence clearly showing the roof of the subject building on the November 1, 1979, establishment date and conclusively show the absence of a sign or sign structure, advertising, accessory business sign, or otherwise; and

WHEREAS, unlike the NYSDOT photos that are certified by NYSDOT, the NYC tax photos, which are blurry at best, do not provide evidence of a date certain with which to prove the existence or absence of the sign; and

WHEREAS, while the Owner argues that the NYSDOT photos are evidence that has always been available, nothing prevented the Owner from submitting the same to evidence the Zerega Sign's existence on November 1, 1979, or its continued use as an advertising sign thereafter; and

WHEREAS, based on the foregoing, the Board finds that Owner has failed to demonstrate that the Zerega Sign has been established on November 1, 1979.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the decision of the Department of Buildings shall be and hereby is upheld and that this appeal shall be and hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application, under ZR § 81-621, to establish the right to continue construction of a building containing a transient hotel and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), acting on New Building Application No. 121190816 (the “New Building Application”), before the effective date of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, which would lapse as a result of such amendment; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 10, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of East 48th Street, between Fifth Avenue and Madison Avenue, in a C5-2.5 zoning district, within the Special Midtown District, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 50 feet of frontage along East 48th Street, 25 feet of frontage along East 47th Street, 201 feet of depth, 7,532 square feet of lot area and is to be occupied by a 29-story commercial building used as a transient hotel (the “Hotel Building”); and

WHEREAS, on January 20, 2017, DOB determined that the Hotel Building would comply with all applicable zoning regulations and issued building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application beginning in January 2017 and culminating in the issuance of a new-building permit on July 20, 2017; and

WHEREAS, effective August 9, 2017 (the “Effective Date”), the City amended the Zoning Resolution such that use of the Hotel Building as a transient hotel is no longer permitted as of right, see ZR § 81-621; and

WHEREAS, because “a temporary certificate of occupancy for the entire” Hotel Building would not “have been granted prior to January 31, 2020” (the “Lapse Date”), the building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application would automatically lapse, ZR § 81-621; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks to establish the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, under ZR § 81-621, and to renew building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 81-621 states, in pertinent part:

However, after August 9, 2017, development of a building containing a transient hotel shall be permitted under the regulations which were in effect prior to August 9, 2017, if a new building application for such development was filed at the Department of Buildings after June 9, 2016, and a partial permit for such application was issued by the Department of Buildings on or prior to July 20, 2017, and a temporary certificate of occupancy for the entire building has been granted prior to January 31, 2020. In the event that such temporary certificate of occupancy has not been granted prior to such date, and an application is filed prior to such date, pursuant to this Section, with the Board of Standards and Appeals, the Board may permit the new building permit to be renewed for a term of one year upon the following findings:

- (1) that the applicant has been prevented from completing such construction by hardship or circumstances beyond the applicant’s control;
- (2) that the applicant has not recovered all or substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred in construction, nor is the applicant able to recover substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred through development that conforms and complies with any applicable amendment to this Resolution; and
- (3) that there are no considerations of public safety, health and welfare that have become apparent since the issuance of the permit that indicate an overriding benefit to the public in enforcement of the special permit provisions of this Section.

In the event that the Board permits the renewal, the temporary certificate of occupancy shall be obtained by no later than January 31, 2021; and

WHEREAS, as a preliminary matter, the record shows that the owner of the subject site filed the New Building Application after June 9, 2016; obtained lawfully issued permits to construct the Hotel Building in accordance with the New Building Application on and before July 20, 2017; and would not have obtained a temporary certificate of occupancy for the entirety of the Hotel Building by the Lapse Date; and

WHEREAS, first, the applicant contends that circumstances beyond its control have prevented it from completing construction; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant furnished a construction schedule and a project delay tracker, reflecting that there was an unanticipated encroachment by an adjacent building’s underpinning into the subject site and that a concrete subcontractor misjudged the amount of labor required to erect the Hotel Building’s concrete superstructure and ultimately went out of business, leaving concrete work uncompleted; and

WHEREAS, these circumstances resulted in months of delay, notwithstanding the applicant’s efforts to mitigate; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the applicant has been prevented from completing such construction by hardship or circumstances beyond its control; and

WHEREAS, second, the applicant notes that it has not recovered substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred in construction, submitting that only minor change orders from the Hotel Building have been recovered because the hotel operator is obligated to pay them; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that it would not be able to recover substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred through development in conformity with the Zoning Resolution because of the extent of construction progress (at least 83 percent completed), financial commitments incurred specific to a transient hotel, and associated commitments to the Hotel Building’s form and specific build-out—rendering conversion of the partially constructed Hotel Building to conforming office use financially infeasible; and

WHEREAS, with respect to contractual commitments, should the Hotel Building be abandoned, the applicant states that it would be obligated for damages of $18 million to the hotel operator and that the applicant would be unable to repay principal and accrued interest totaling approximately $94 million; and

WHEREAS, with respect to lost hard costs and soft costs the applicant would face by adapting the partially constructed Hotel Building to office use, the applicant states that interior finish work (demising walls, interior partitions, plumbed and fitted-out bathrooms with fixtures, the core, and amenity space) would be removed; that design work would be redone; that HVAC, plumbing, electrical, and fire-safety systems would be removed from hotel rooms; and that hotel-specific components (including model-room buildout, bathroom fixtures, shower doors, vanities, mirrors, fabric wall panels, and guestroom signage) totaling nearly $5 million would be lost; and

WHEREAS, with respect to converting the partially constructed Hotel Building to office use, the applicant notes that there would be significant additional work, including structural reinforcement and compliance with heightened requirements of an updated New York City Energy Conservation Code that could significantly affect the existing design of the façade and fenestration; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the applicant has not recovered all or substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred in construction, nor is the applicant able to recover substantially all of the financial expenditures incurred through development in conformity with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, third, the applicant submits that no considerations of public safety, health, or welfare have become apparent since the issuance of building permits associated with the New Building Application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that there has been no change in circumstances with respect to the surrounding area or the proposed plans for the Hotel Building, which does not give rise to any concerns about the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also analogizes this standard to ZR § 11-332(b), which is only pertinent after extensions totaling six years from the date of a zoning amendment, and contrasts this application, which was filed two years after the Effective Date and in advance of the Lapse Date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, should this application be denied, the applicant would face a serious risk of bankruptcy—without any corresponding benefit to the public—because of the magnitude of the losses that would be incurred in attempting to reconfigure the partially constructed Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that there are no considerations of public safety, health and welfare that have become apparent since the issuance of the permit that indicate an overriding benefit to the public in enforcement of the special-permit provisions of ZR § 81-621; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the establishment of a right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, under ZR § 81-621, and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant renewal of building permits authorizing work associated with the New Building Application.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby grant this application, under ZR § 81-621, to establish the right to continue construction of a building containing a transient hotel and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings, acting on New Building Application No. 121190816, before the effective date of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, which would lapse as a result of such amendment, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a temporary certificate of occupancy, for one year, expiring January 31, 2021.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, December 10, 2019.

Alteration Application No. 121189221, reads in pertinent part:

1. ZR 24-36 Rear Yard: Proposed rear yard above the first story is less than 30’; contrary to ZR 24-36.
2. ZR 24-11 Lot Coverage: Proposed exceeds 70%; contrary to ZR 24-11

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R8B zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of existing buildings for use as a house of worship that does not comply with zoning regulations for rear yards, lot coverage, base height, and height and setback, contrary to ZR §§ 24-36, 24-11, 24-50, and 23-662; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of Beit Yousef of New York City, a religious institution (the “Religious Institution”); and

WHEREAS, Community Board 8, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, a resident of the surrounding area provided testimony in opposition to this application, citing concerns with any incursion into the rear yard; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of East 73rd Street, between Lexington Avenue and Third Avenue, in an R8B zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 60 feet of frontage along East 73rd Street, 102 feet of depth, 6,130 square feet of lot area, and is occupied by a five-story, with cellar, commercial building used as a parking garage and a five-story, with cellar, residential building; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since 1978 when, under BSA Calendar Number 81-78-A, the Board granted a variance of the Multiple Dwelling Law to permit an increase in height and number of stories of an existing converted dwelling; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to convert the existing buildings into a single building used as a house of worship (the Proposed Building) and enlarge the Proposed Building as follows: on Lot 31 from a non-complying building height of 75’-6” (roof) and 89’-10” (elevator car shaft) to 75’-6” (roof) and 94’-2” (elevator core), maintaining a non-complying base height of 75’-6”, increasing the extent of the encroachment into the rear yard on floors two through five and leaving a 7'-0" rear yard on floors one through five, increasing lot coverage from 84% to 94%, and increasing floor area from 17,232 square feet (4.2 FAR) to 17,510 square feet (4.3 FAR); and on Lot 30 reducing from a building height of 47'-7" to 43'-1", maintaining the non-complying 37'-6" base height, decreasing the first-floor rear yard from 21'-6" to 3'-0", increasing the second-floor rear yard from 21'-6" to 25'-11", decreasing the third-floor rear yard from 30'-10" to 25'-11", removing the penthouse, decreasing lot coverage from 68% to 63% and decreasing floor area from 5,800 square feet (2.84 FAR) to 4,041 square feet (1.98 FAR); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that Lots 31 and 30 will be merged into a single zoning lot, increasing lot coverage from 79% to 83% and decreasing floor area from 23,032 square feet (3.76 FAR) to 21,551 square feet (3.52); and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, at the subject site, building height may not exceed 75'-0" under ZR §§ 24-50 and 23-662; base height must be a minimum of 55'-0" under ZR §§ 24-50 and 23-662; no rear yard is required up to a 23'-0" height with a minimum 30'-0" rear yard above under ZR §§ 24-36; lot coverage may not exceed 70% under ZR § 24-11; and floor area may not exceed 31,263 square feet (5.1 FAR) under ZR §§ 24-112; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to "vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done," ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the applicant, as a religious institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board is to grant an educational or religious institution's application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the Proposed Building is necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's programmatic needs and that the Religious Institution's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a study on the Religious Institution's programmatic needs (the "Programmatic Needs Report"), which indicates that the existing buildings would not accommodate the Religious Institution's program because they lack sufficient space for the Religious Institution's 775 congregants, averaging to 432 required seats for weekly services in the main sanctuary; and

WHEREAS, converting the existing buildings to a house of worship and combining them into a single building as of right would fail to meet the Religious Institution's program because an as-of-right building would only provide 306 seats in the main sanctuary (228 seats at the sanctuary level and 78 seats at a balcony level), which could not be located on the first floor because of required spaces for entrance areas and elevators (including a new, oversized elevator to comply with the New York City Building Code at the rear); and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, other than seating capacity, there would be no programmatic distinction between an-as-of-right building and the Proposed Building but that the Proposed building is necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's program; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the Religious Institution's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the Religious Institution is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the Religious Institution's programmatic needs with adequate space for its congregants; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the Proposed Building would not alter neighborhood character, substantially impair adjacent properties, or be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted streetscape illustrations demonstrating that the proposed enlargement of the existing buildings (including mechanical equipment) would have minimum visibility from the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the conversion would eliminate a non-conforming parking garage and replace this non-conformity with a use that is more consistent with surrounding land uses and R8B zoning districts; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the built environment, the applicant submitted a study of the surrounding area, finding that nine buildings on the subject block contain non-complying rear yards and lot coverage; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant revised this application to provide a refrigerated trash room, to eliminate the potential for use of the lower-level roof (other than mechanical equipment), to prohibit sound amplification on any roof level, and to limit use of the upper roof to before 9:00 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also studied potential effects of rooftop noise but found no potential for adverse impacts on nearby residences; and

WHEREAS, in response to community concerns, the Board noted at hearing that rear-yard incursions up to a 23'-0" height are allowed as of right and that there is already an existing car elevator extending into the rear yard proposed to be removed and relocated to the other side of the Proposed Building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship, and nothing in the record indicates otherwise; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site, as detailed in the Religious Institution's Programmatic Needs Report, noting that an as-of-right building could not be designed in such a way to provide sufficient seats in the main sanctuary because of the required additional elevator and other interior spaces on the first floor; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type I action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.4; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment ("EAS") CEQR No. 19BSA098M, received November 21, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on land use, zoning, and public policy; socioeconomic conditions; community facilities; open space; shadows; historic and cultural resources; urban design and visual resources; natural resources; hazardous materials; water and sewer infrastructure; solid waste and sanitation services; energy; transportation; air quality; greenhouse gas emissions; noise; public health; neighborhood character; or construction; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated October 16, 2018, the Landmarks Preservation Commission ("LPC") represents that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to historic and cultural resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 13, 2019, the Department of Transportation ("DOT") states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to transportation:

based on a Level 1 (Project Trip Generation) Screening Assessment, the proposed project would generate fewer than 50 vehicle trips during the weekday morning and afternoon and Saturday peak hours and that a detailed traffic analysis is not warranted; based on a Level 2 (Trip Assignment) Screening Assessment, a Saturday midday peak hour (372 pedestrian trips) would be generated along the north sidewalk of East 73rd Street but that the sidewalk would operate at Level of Service B in the with-action condition; and, because the project is located in Transit Zone 1, the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to parking; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated October 30, 2019, the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states the following: based on the results of the mobile and stationary-source noise analyses performed, the proposed project—including the rooftop terrace—would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to noise; and, based on the results of the mobile- and stationary-source air quality analyses performed, the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts with regard to air quality; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type I Negative Declaration determination prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617 and § 6-07(b) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1977, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R8B zoning district, the conversion and enlargement of existing buildings for use as a house of worship that does not comply with zoning regulations for rear yards, lot coverage, base height, and height and setback, contrary to ZR §§ 24-36, 24-11, 24-50, and 23-662; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received November 19, 2019"—21 sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be limited to the following: on Lot 31 a building height of 75'-6" (roof) and 94'-2" (elevator core), a base height of 75'-6", a 7'-0" rear yard on floors one through five; on Lot 30 a base height of 37'-6", a second-floor rear-yard depth of 25'-11", a third-floor rear-yard depth of 25'-11"; and lot coverage of 83% on the zoning lot, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located partially within an R3-2 (C4-1) zoning district and partially within an R3-2 zoning district, the operation of a physical culture establishment (“PCE”) on portions of the cellar level and first floor of an existing two-story plus cellar commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on December 10, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 13, Queens, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Queens Borough President also recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board was also in receipt of one form letter in support of this application and one form letter in opposition, citing concerns over traffic congestion and the absence of available parking at the shopping center; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is bounded by Union Turnpike to the south, 255th Street to the west and 260th Street to the east, partially within an R3-2 (C4-1) zoning district and partially within an R3-2 zoning district, in Queens; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since October 19, 1976, when, under BSA Cal. No. 437-76-BZ, the Board granted a special permit, pursuant to ZR § 73-35, to permit within an existing shopping center, the conversion of a retail store into an amusement arcade, for a term of one year, on condition that the work substantially conform to drawings filed with the application; the hours of operation be limited to 10:00 AM to 11:00 PM, Monday through Saturday, and 12 noon to 8 PM, on Sunday; the owner provide adult supervision and security at all times; the amusement machines be restricted to games of skill; there be no games of chance; no food or beverage be sold on the premises; there be no loitering, gambling or prizes awarded; all laws, rules and regulations applicable be complied with, and substantial construction to be completed within one year, by October 19, 1977; and

WHEREAS, the proposed PCE will be located in the portion of the subject site wholly within a R3-2 (C4-1) zoning district; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will occupy 9,880 square feet of floor space on a portion of the cellar level with mechanical space, storage, pool equipment, and pool support structure; and 9,885 square feet of floor area on a portion of the first floor with areas for a swimming pool (2,085 square feet), reception, changing area, office, storage and restrooms; and

WHEREAS, the PCE is proposed to operate, as “Goldfish Swim School,” and will operate from 10:30 AM to 1:00 PM and 4:00 PM to 8:00 PM, Monday through Friday; 8:30 AM to 7:30 PM, Saturday; and, 11:30 AM to 6:30 PM, Sunday; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE use will neither impair the essential character nor the future use or development of the surrounding area because it will be located in an area characterized by commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the PCE is so located as to not impair the essential character or future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the PCE will contain a 2,085 square foot large swimming pool; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the subject PCE use is consistent with those eligible pursuant to ZR § 73-36(a)(2) for the issuance of the special permit; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Investigation has performed a background check on the corporate owner and operator of the establishment and the principals thereof and issued a report, which the Board has deemed to be satisfactory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the PCE will not impact the privacy, quiet, light and air of the neighborhood because PCE will be located in an existing commercial space in a shopping center; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that a sprinkler system and approved fire alarm system, including a connection to the building’s interior fire alarm will be maintained within the PCE space; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated December 9, 2019, the Fire Department recommends that a fire alarm system be installed in the PCE space and connected to the premises current fire alarm system; non ammonia-based fire extinguishers be installed outside of the space storing the pool chemicals; the use of an ammonia-based fire extinguisher system is prohibited due to the hazard which occurs when chlorine is mixed with ammonia or acids—the combination of ammonia and bleach produces dangerous chlorine gas; and, if the applicant is in agreement with the recommendations, the Fire Department has no further objection to the application, as the Bureau of Fire

Prevention will continue to inspect these premises and enforce all applicable rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS, at hearing, the Board raised concerns regarding community concerns over the lack of available parking at the shopping center and directed the applicant to prevent PCE patrons from parking in the R3-2 portion of the site; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, the hazards or disadvantages to the community at large of the PCE use are outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the Board finds that the proposed operation of the PCE will not interfere with any public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, therefore, the Board has determined that the evidence in the record supports the requisite findings for the special permit pursuant to ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Checklist action discussed in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-134Q, dated May 23, 2019; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record, the Board finds that the requested special permit, permitting the proposed PCE on portions of the cellar level and first floor, is appropriate, with certain conditions as set forth below.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-36 and 73-03 to permit, on a site located partially within an R3-2 (C4-1) zoning district and partially within an R3-2 zoning district, the operation of a proposed physical culture establishment on portions of the cellar level and first floor of an existing two-story plus cellar commercial building, contrary to ZR § 32-10; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received May 21, 2019"-Seven (7) sheets and "September 10, 2019"-One (1) sheet; and on further condition:

THAT all conditions from prior resolution not specifically waived by the Board remain in effect;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plan(s) and/or configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.”

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, this is an application, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, to establish the right to continue construction and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), acting on Alteration Application No. 321197272 (the “Alteration Application”), before the effective date of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, which have lapsed as a result of such amendment; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 23, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on October 3, 2019, and December 17, 2019, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of Ryerson Street, between Flushing Avenue and Park Avenue, in an M1-2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 356 feet of frontage along Ryerson Street, 100 feet of depth, 35,483 square feet of lot area, and is to be occupied by a ten-story, with cellar, commercial building for use as a transient hotel (the “Hotel Building”); and

WHEREAS, on November 28, 2018, DOB determined that the Hotel Building would comply with all applicable zoning regulations and issued building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application beginning in September 2017 and culminating in the reissuance of an alteration permit on December 11, 2018; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 24, 2019, DOB represents that building permits associated with the Alteration Application were lawfully issued; and

WHEREAS, effective December 20, 2018 (the “Effective Date”), the City amended the Zoning Resolution such that use of the Hotel Building as a transient hotel is no longer permitted as of right, see ZR §§ 42-111, 42-32, and 74-803; and

WHEREAS, because not “all work on” the Hotel Building’s “foundations had been completed prior to” the Effective Date, the building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application “automatically lapse[d]” on the Effective Date and “the right to continue construction . . . terminate[d],” ZR § 11-331; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant seeks to establish the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, and to renew building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application; and

WHEREAS, “[u]nder New York law, a property owner has no right to an existing land-use benefit unless that right has ‘vested.’ In New York, a vested right can be acquired when, pursuant to a legally issued permit, the landowner demonstrates a commitment to the purpose for which the permit was granted by effecting substantial changes and incurring substantial expenses to further the development. Town of Orangetown v. Magee, 88 N.Y.2d 41, 47, 643 N.Y.S.2d 21, 665 N.E.2d 1061 (1996). In order to gain the vested right, the landowner’s actions relying on a valid permit must be so substantial that the municipal action results in serious loss rendering the improvements essentially valueless,” Cine SK8, Inc. v. Town of Henrietta, 507 F.3d 778, 784 (2d Cir. 2007) (internal quotation marks omitted); see generally Zahra v. Town of Southold, 48 F.3d 674, 681 (2d Cir. 1995) (recognizing a “protectible ‘property interest’ in a benefit that affects land use—i.e. a building permit, certificate of occupancy, zoning variance, excavation permit or business license”); and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding this general framework, “there is no fixed formula which measures the content of all the circumstances whereby a party is said to possess a vested right,” Estate of Kadin v. Bennett, 163 A.D.2d 308, 309 (N.Y. App. Div. 1990) (internal quotation marks omitted); and

WHEREAS, as noted above, the record shows that the owner of the subject site obtained lawfully issued permits to construct the Hotel Building in accordance with the Alteration Application before the Effective Date; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, before the Effective Date and in accordance with the building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application, the owner had effected substantial construction to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant submits that the following work had been completed by the Effective Date: cornice work (100 percent), roof abatement (100 percent), bulkhead restoration and coating (90 percent), demolition of interior partitions (92 percent), asbestos abatement (96 percent), façade restoration and coating (81 percent), window replacement that includes replacement of steel window frames (91 percent), fabrication and delivery of custom-made structural steel (42 percent), and framing for interior hotel partitioning (18 percent); and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that this construction represents 1,014 days—out of a total projected 2,457 days—of work required to complete the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant supplied further explanation that the above work is appropriately included in this application, given the flexibility of the common-law doctrine of vested rights and the work’s necessity for the adaptive reuse and enlargement of the existing building; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, before the Effective Date and in accordance with the building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application, the owner had effected substantial construction to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, before the Effective Date, substantial expenses had been incurred, totaling approximately $21,323,747 (42 percent) of the total development cost of $50,828,525; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that these costs include construction costs (elevator, sprinkler, site logistics, including scaffolding, hoist, and security, demolition, asbestos abatement, façade, windows, steel, electric, fire alarm, and fixtures) and soft costs and irrevocable commitments (including preconstruction, legal and professional fees, architect, engineer, other consultants, civil, environmental, marketing, filing representative, permits and related fees, insurance, taxes, developer, and interest); and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, before the Effective Date, the owner had incurred substantial expenses to further development of the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted evidence that, if the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building were denied, the owner would suffer serious loss—that is, substantial economic harm; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant submits that redesigning the partially constructed Hotel Building into an office building would cause the following: increased costs to establish a stable office asset (including leasing costs to attract tenants) of $15 million more than that required to establish an operating transient hotel; a reduction in net operating income annually, totaling $42 million in losses over an 11-year period; a reduction in profit from $92 million to $50 million ($42 million total) over an 11-year period; and a reduced valuation from $55 million for the Hotel Building to $44 million for an office building; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant submitted further evidence clarifying the substantial economic harm posed by the prospecting of abandoning the partially constructed Hotel Building and proceeding with an office building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also clarifies that the difference of approximately $2 million between the partially constructed Hotel Building and an office building reflects the cost of removing installed partitions, the cost of such partitions, and the cost of already-purchased steel for elevator work, which would only be useful for the Hotel Building; and

WHEREAS, because of the substantial nature of the losses pertaining to abandoning the partially constructed Hotel Building and proceeding with an office building, it is unnecessary for the Board to determine the full extent of the economic harm that would be inflicted were common-law vested rights denied herein; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the record reflects that, if the right to continue construction of the Hotel Building were denied, the owner would suffer serious loss in the form of substantial economic harm; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the establishment of a right to continue construction of the Hotel Building, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant renewal of building permits authorizing work associated with the Alteration Application.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby grant this application, based on the common-law doctrine of vested rights, to establish the right to continue construction and to renew building permits lawfully issued by the Department of Buildings, acting on Alteration Application No. 321197272, before the effective date of an amendment to the Zoning Resolution, which have lapsed as a result of such amendment on December 20, 2018, as well as all related permits for various work types, either already issued or necessary to complete construction and obtain a certificate of occupancy, for four (4) years, expiring December 17, 2023.

THAT the subject zoning lot is screened along any rear lot line or side lot line adjoining a residence district, as illustrated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT landscaping, as shown on the BSA-approved plans, shall be maintained in first-rate condition and replaced as needed;

THAT all signage shall comply with C2-2 zoning district regulations and be limited to that indicated on the BSA-approved plans;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal. No. 2017-231-BZ”), be obtained within four (4) years, by December 17, 2023;

THAT substantial construction shall be completed in accordance with ZR § 73-70, by December 17, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to specifically cited and filed DOB/other jurisdiction objection(s) only;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated March 22, 2018, acting on New Building Application No. 320911242, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed Use Group 2 residential use in an M1-1 district does not conform to the use regulations of Section 42-10 et seq. of the Zoning Resolution and must be referred to BSA”; and contrary to ZR § 42-10; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 8, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on April 23, 2019, June 25, 2019, September 10, 2019, and December 17, 2019, and then to decision on the same date; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, Commissioner Sheta, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 6, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application on condition that the first floor be put to commercial use; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the south side of Degraw Street, between Van Brunt Street and Columbia Street, in an M1-1 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 35 feet of frontage along Degraw Street, 100 feet of depth, 3,500 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an open parking lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to construct a four-story mixed-use commercial and residential building; and

WHEREAS, residential use is not allowed at the subject site under ZR § 42-10, so the applicant seeks relief from strict compliance with the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, however, as discussed herein, the Board cannot provide this relief because its review reveals that the record does not support each and every one of the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21, which constitute conditions precedent to the Board’s exercising discretion to grant a variance; and

WHEREAS, the applicant posits that the subject site, which reflects the merger of two lots in common ownership, is beleaguered by unique physical conditions that cause practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with the Zoning Resolution’s use provisions; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant cites the following: its underdeveloped condition; its narrow width and small size; its interior location; and the immediate adjacency, along both of its side lot lines, of non-conforming residential buildings; and

WHEREAS, as a preliminary matter, these physical conditions must be unique—not generally applicable to the zoning district or surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a study alleging that the above conditions are unique because, out of 41 sites in the vicinity, 6 sites have a similar width and depth, but the subject site is the only one not located on a corner with two street frontages or located next to non-conforming residences; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the uniqueness study and office use, the applicant artificially disregards consideration of offices located outside the subject zoning district—essentially disregarding “the neighborhood,” ZR § 72-21(a), in its analysis; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also claims that the above physical conditions create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the following buildings with 3,500 square feet of floor area (1.0 FAR) could be developed as of right: a one-story commercial office building and a one-story manufacturing building

WHEREAS, as the Board discussed at hearing, however, the applicant fails to analyze how the above physical conditions render these as-of-right developments inadequate; and

WHEREAS, notably, the applicant’s arguments hinge on generally applicable market conditions; and

WHEREAS, however, general market conditions might warrant legislative relief in the form of an amendment to applicable zoning regulations, but market conditions are inappropriate to consider relief in a particular case because they are shared throughout the area; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, the Board notes that the proposed building undercuts the applicant’s own arguments that commercial use cannot be located immediately adjacent to residences: the proposed building is itself mixed use, with residences located immediately above commercial office use; and

WHEREAS, the proposed building’s inclusion of commercial office use also undercuts the applicant’s assertions that the subject site is unsuitable for commercial offices, which could be developed as of right; and

WHEREAS, throughout the City, mixed-use buildings with ground-floor retail or office use are a popular building typology that enliven streetscapes and further undercut the applicant’s allegations that commercial and residential use are generally incompatible; and

WHEREAS, as to the applicant’s arguments about the size of the floorplates, the plans do not corroborate the applicant’s assertions, so it instead appears that there might be an alleged hardship related to the amount of floor area in the as-of-right buildings—though this is completely unrelated to the proposed residential use (nor has the applicant proposed a building that conforms with use regulations but does not comply with floor-area regulations); and

WHEREAS, the Board finds no basis for allegations that an as-of-right commercial office building with a width of 35 feet and a depth of 100 feet is of an insufficient size, especially given that it has no stair core; and

WHEREAS, as to the usability of the as-of-right commercial offices for a small business because of expansion needs, the applicant’s arguments are not credible, given that approximately 89 percent of the City’s businesses have fewer than 20 employees; and

WHEREAS, for comparison with the applicant’s hardship analysis, the above uniqueness study includes 445 Carroll Street, where a three-story commercial office building with a caretaker's apartment is being developed; and

WHEREAS, 445 Carroll Street reflects a nearly identical building program to the proposed building, which would also be allowed as of right, though the applicant has refused to provide any analysis of this as-of-right option requested by the Board—thereby undercutting the applicant's claims that strict compliance with applicable use regulations presents unnecessary hardship; and

WHEREAS, additionally, the record reflects that the way offices are configured and used has changed over time, and recently there has been an increased flexibility in office layouts, which lend themselves to smaller development sites; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above physical conditions are not unique, nor do they create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also argues that, because of the above physical conditions, conforming development would not result in a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant supplied a financial feasibility study alleging that as-of-right developments—consisting of one-story commercial office building and a one-story manufacturing building—would result in a substantial loss on investment but that the proposed mixed-use building would yield a modest return; and

WHEREAS, however, throughout the course of hearings, the applicant revised the financial feasibility study numerous times to partially address the Board's comments; however, whenever one comment (for instance, regarding residential townhouse comparable) was addressed, other areas would be revised (such as removing office income) without explanation such that previously static, unobjectionable assumptions had changed—thereby undercutting the credibility of the entire report; and

WHEREAS, ultimately, it appears that the applicant seeks to develop the subject site to its highest and best use, regardless of mutually beneficial zoning regulations, which does not show that a variance is warranted; and

WHEREAS, although the applicant alleges that the Board's analysis herein and the increasingly rigorous review the Board has undertaken over the past few years in considering variance application reflects a deviation from Board policy in the 1980s, the Board is entitled to change course, especially since it now recognizes that variances are to be sparingly granted based on substantial evidence supporting each and every one of the required findings, see Matter of Cowan v. Kern, 41 N.Y.2d 591, 595 (N.Y. 1977) (“The [board] may refuse to duplicate previous error; it may change its views as to what is for the best interests of the [town] More importantly, the board, after [] reflection, could find that previous awards had been a mistake that should not be again repeated. Certainly, the board was not bound to perpetuate earlier error.”); and

WHEREAS, for the foregoing reasons, the Board does not find that the evidence in the record supports each and every one of the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the decision of the Department of Buildings, dated March 22, 2018, acting on New Building Application No. 320911242 shall be and hereby is upheld and that this application is hereby denied.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated July 2, 2019, acting on New Building Application No. 520383709, reads in pertinent part:

“ZR 23-461 The proposed home does not provide the minimum side yard along one side lot line contrary to ZR 23-461”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R3-1 zoning district, the development of a single-family, detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for side yards, contrary to ZR § 23-461; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on November 26, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on December 17, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Scibetta performed an inspection of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 2, Staten Island, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on Titus Avenue, between New Dorp Lane and Ina Street, in an R3-1 zoning district, in Staten Island; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 25 feet of frontage along Titus Avenue, 101 feet of depth, 2,533 square feet of lot area and is vacant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a two-story, with cellar, single-family residence with 1,516 square feet of floor area (0.59 FAR) and side yards with depths of 1'-0" to the north and 9'-1" to the south; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, at the subject site, side yards must have a minimum depth of 5'-0" under ZR § 23-461; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the applicant requests the relief set forth herein; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that there are unique physical conditions that create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations—namely, the subject site's narrowness, vacant condition, and encumbrance by a sewer easement; and

WHEREAS, in support of the uniqueness contention, the applicant studied the surrounding area, finding that, of 8 vacant interior lots, 2 are used as private driveways for access to residences, 4 are held in common ownership with potential for development with adjacent parcels, and 1 is similarly sized but unencumbered by a sewer easement; additionally, the applicant notes that of 12 lots, 8 are already developed with existing residences, 1 is large enough to develop notwithstanding the easement, and the subject site is the only remaining site encumbered by a sewer easement that cannot be developed as of right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that an as-of-right development results in a building width of 10'-11", which is not a viable for a use as single-family residence; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above unique physical conditions create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, because this application proposes a single-family residence, no showing need be made with respect to realizing a reasonable return; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed development would not alter the essential character of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted a study of the surrounding area, finding it characterized by a mix of housing typologies with at least 12 residences with side yards between 0 feet and 3 feet; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board at hearing, the applicant submits that an easement on the subject site prevents its removal and development as of right because of the presence of an active sanitary sewer; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 28, 2019, the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that an inspection of a 15" sanitary sewer running through the easement on the subject site was performed in the presence of a DEP representative and that the sanitary sewer revealed that the sewer was active at the time of investigation; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also furnished a study of building widths in the vicinity, demonstrating that, of 54 single- and two-family residences along Titus Avenue from New Dorp Lane to Ina Street, building widths range from 14 feet to 46 feet with an average width of approximately 21 feet—consistent with the modest proposed width of 14'-11"; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship and are instead caused by the subject site's unique physical conditions; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the applicant submitted evidence that the subject site has existed in its current configuration since at least 1937; that the sewer easement has existed since 1923; and that the subject site has not been held in common ownership with adjacent parcels since 1961; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site and only reflects a shift in the required side yards necessitated by the presence of the sewer easement; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 20BSA009R, dated July 22, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R3-1 zoning district, the development of a single-family, detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for side yards, contrary to ZR § 23-461; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received November 29, 2019"-Five (5) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a side yard with a minimum depth of 1'-0" to the

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated September 19, 2018, acting on Department of Buildings Application No. 321846071, reads in pertinent part:

“The proposed enlargement does not comply with the following sections of the zoning resolution:

1. Proposed floor area is contrary to ZR: 23-141;
2. Proposed open space ratio is contrary to ZR: 23-141;
3. Proposed side yards are contrary to ZR: 23-461;
4. Proposed rear yard is contrary to ZR: 23-47; [. . .]”¹; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 to permit, in an R2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing two-story plus cellar single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio (“FAR”), open space ratio (“OSR”), side yards, and rear yards contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on July 16, 2019 after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on December 10, 2019, and December 17, 2019, and then to decision on that date; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 14, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of East 22nd Street, between Avenue J and Avenue K, within an R2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 40 feet

of frontage along East 22nd Street, 100 feet of depth, 4,000 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing two-story plus cellar single-family detached residence; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-622 provides that:

The Board of Standards and Appeals may permit an enlargement of an existing single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence within the following areas:

- a. Community Districts 11 and 15, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- b. R2 Districts within the area bounded by Avenue I, Nostrand Avenue, Kings Highway, Avenue O and Ocean Avenue, Community District 14, in the Borough of Brooklyn; and
- c. within Community District 10 in the Borough of Brooklyn, after October 27, 2016, only the following applications, Board of Standards and Appeals Calendar numbers 2016-4218-BZ, 234-15-BZ and 2016-4163-BZ, may be granted a special permit pursuant to this Section. In addition, the provisions of Section 73-70 (LAPSE of PERMIT) and paragraph (f) of Section 73-03 (General Findings Required for All Special Permit Uses and Modifications), shall not apply to such applications and such special permit shall automatically lapse and shall not be renewed if substantial construction, in compliance with the approved plans for which the special permit was granted, has not been completed within two years from the effective date of issuance of such special permit.

Such enlargement may create a new non-compliance, or increase the amount or degree of any existing non-compliance, with the applicable bulk regulations for lot coverage, open space, floor area, side yard, rear yard or perimeter wall height regulations, provided that:

1. any enlargement within a side yard shall be limited to an enlargement within an existing non-complying side yard and such enlargement shall not result in a decrease in the existing minimum width of open area between the building that is being enlarged and the side lot line;
2. any enlargement that is located in a rear yard is not located within 20 feet of the rear lot line; and
3. any enlargement resulting in a non-complying perimeter wall height shall only be permitted in R2X, R3, R4, R4A and R4-1 Districts, and only where the enlarged building is adjacent to a single- or two-family detached or semi-detached residence with an existing non-complying perimeter wall facing the street. The increased height of the perimeter wall of the enlarged building shall be equal to or less than the height of the adjacent building's non-complying perimeter wall facing the street, measured at the lowest point before a setback or pitched roof begins. Above such height, the setback regulations of Section 23-631, paragraph (b), shall continue to apply.

The Board shall find that the enlarged building will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area. The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination herein is also subject to and guided by, inter alia, ZR §§ 73-01 through 73-04; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes further that the subject application seeks to enlarge an existing detached single-family residence, as contemplated in ZR § 73-622; and

WHEREAS, the existing single-family residence is a two-story plus cellar detached residence with 0.57 FAR (2,294 square feet of floor area), 113% OSR (2,580 square feet of open space), two side yards with widths of 3'-11" and 8'-10", and a rear yard with a depth of 22'-11"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to horizontally enlarge the single-family detached residence resulting in a two-story plus attic and cellar single-family detached residence with 0.97 FAR (3,867 square feet of floor area), 63% OSR (2,420 square feet of open space), two side yards with widths of 3'-11" and 8'-10", and a rear yard with a depth of 22'-11" at the first floor, 27 feet at the second floor, and 30 feet above; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, a maximum of 0.5 FAR (2,000 square feet of floor area) is permitted, a minimum of 150% OSR (3,000 square feet of open space assuming a complying 0.5 FAR) is required, two side yards, each with minimum widths of five (5) feet and a minimum of 13 feet of total side yards are required, and a rear yard with a minimum depth of 30 feet is required pursuant to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the floor area at the first floor from 1,421 square feet to 1,580 square feet, the second floor from 873 square feet to 1,537 square feet, and create an attic with 749 square feet of floor area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the proposed single-family residence as enlarged is consistent with the built character of the neighborhood; and

applicant surveyed single- and two-family residences within 400 feet of the subject site and in an R2 zoning district (the "Study Area"), finding that, of the 104 qualifying residences, 96 residences (92 percent) have an FAR greater than 0.5, ranging from 0.51 to 1.04 and 13 residences have an FAR of 0.97 or greater; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted an open space ratio study, demonstrating that 103 lots (99 percent) within the Study Area have an open space ratio less than 150%, ranging from 146% to 48%, and 19 lots have an open space ratio of 63% or less; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted a rear yard study demonstrating that, on the subject block, 30 interior lots (100 percent) have rear yards with depths less than 30 feet, ranging from 27 feet to 0 feet, and 20 lots have rear yards with a depth of less than 23 feet; and

WHEREAS, the proposed enlargement includes an extension of the existing non-complying 3'-11" northern side yard, and, pursuant to a 1950 Sanborn Map including the subject site provided by the applicant, the subject site was developed with a detached dwelling in approximately the same location and orientation as the site is occupied today and, thus, the non-complying side yard predated the 1961 Zoning Resolution and is a legal non-compliance; and

WHEREAS, based upon its review of the record and inspections of the subject site and surrounding neighborhood, the Board finds that the proposed building as enlarged will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed modification of bulk regulations is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed modification of bulk regulations will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-050K, dated October 22, 2018; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-622 and 73-03 to permit the enlargement of an existing two-story plus cellar single-family detached residence that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area ratio ("FAR"), open space ratio ("OSR"), side yards, and rear yards contrary to ZR §§ 23-141, 23-461, and 23-47; on condition that all work and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "November 22, 2019"-fifteen (15) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum of 0.97 FAR (3,867 square feet of floor area), a minimum of 63% OSR (2,420 square feet of open space), two side yards with widths of 8'-10" and a minimum width of 3'-11", and a rear yard with minimum depths of 22'-11" at the first floor, 27 feet at the second floor, and 30 feet above, as illustrated on the Board-approved plans; and

THAT removal of existing joists or perimeter walls in excess of that shown on the Board-approved plans shall void the special permit;

THAT the above conditions shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number ("BSA Cal. No. 2018-167-BZ"), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by December 17, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated March 29, 2017, acting on Alteration Application No. 321356215, reads in pertinent part:

1. Enlargement to the proposed Use Group 3 school is contrary to ZR 42-10.
2. The proposed enlargement does not comply with the rear yard requirements of ZR 43-26; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR §§ 73-19 and 73-03 to permit, in an M1-2 zoning district, the operation of a school, contrary to ZR § 42-10, and under ZR § 72-21 to permit an enlargement of the school building that does not comply with rear yard requirements, contrary to ZR § 43-46; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of Bnos Zion of Bobov (the “School”), a private school, in conjunction with a variance application under BSA Calendar Number 2016-4339-BZ to permit the development of a seven-story, with cellar and sub-cellar, school building at 5018 14th Avenue, Brooklyn, comprised of Tax Lot 44, Tax Lot 46 and Tax Lot 49 on Block 5649; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 17, 2017, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on

June 19, 2018, and December 11, 2018, and then to decision on February 26, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the west side of 39th Street, between 14th Avenue and 15th Avenue, in an M1-2 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 80 feet of frontage along 39th Street, between 93 and 160 feet of depth, 10,268 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a two-story commercial building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing building for the School’s use with 31,470 square feet of floor area (3.06 FAR) and a rear yard depth of 10 feet for the two-story enlargement; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, at the subject site, school use is not permitted under ZR § 42-10, and the two-story enlargement must have a rear yard with a minimum depth of 20 feet under ZR § 43-26; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19 provides:

In C8 or M1 Districts, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit schools which have no residential accommodations except accessory accommodations for a caretaker, provided that the following findings are made:

- (a) that within the neighborhood to be served by the proposed school there is no practical possibility of obtaining a site of adequate size located in a district wherein it is permitted as of right, because appropriate sites in such districts are occupied by substantial improvements;
- (b) that such school is located not more than 400 feet from the boundary of a district wherein such school is permitted as-of-right;
- (c) that an adequate separation from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of the surrounding non-Residential Districts is achieved through the use of sound-attenuating exterior wall and window construction or by the provision of adequate open areas along lot lines of the zoning lot; and
- (d) that the movement of traffic through the street on which the school is located can be controlled so as to protect children going to and from the school. The Board shall refer the application to the Department of Traffic for its report with respect to vehicular hazards to the safety of children within the block and in the immediate vicinity of the proposed site.

The Board may prescribe additional appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area.

WHEREAS, the Board notes that in addition to the foregoing, its determination is also subject to and guided by ZR § 73-03; and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that, pursuant to ZR § 73-04, it has prescribed certain conditions and safeguards to the subject special permit in order to minimize the adverse effects of the special permit upon other property and community at large; the Board notes further that such conditions and safeguards shall be incorporated in the building permit and certificate of occupancy of the subject building, and that failure to comply with such conditions or restrictions shall constitute a violation of the Zoning Resolution and may constitute the basis for denial or revocation of a building permit or certificate of occupancy and for all other applicable remedies; and

WHEREAS, as a threshold matter, the Board notes that the site is within the boundaries of a designated area in which the subject special permit is available; and

WHEREAS, as to the threshold issue of whether the School qualifies as a school for purposes of ZR § 73-19, the applicant states that the School meets the ZR § 12-10 definition of "school" because it provides full-time day instruction and a course of study that meets the requirements of Sections 3204, 3205 and 3210 of the New York State Education Law; and

WHEREAS, with respect to ZR § 73-19(a), an applicant must demonstrate its inability to obtain a site for the development of a school within the neighborhood to be served, and with a size sufficient to meet the programmatic needs of the school, within a district where the school is permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, the School requires a development site that can accommodate a building with at minimum of 30,000 square feet of floor area and no more than seven stories; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted a comprehensive study of the School's programmatic needs, demonstrating that the School requires two separate expansion sites (namely, the site located at 5018 14th Avenue and the subject site) in order to accommodate its projected increase in enrollment from 2,031 students to 3,362 students, necessitating an increase of approximately 120,000 gross square footage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the School currently faces programmatic deficiencies to be resolved by the School's proposed expansion with respect to the crowding of classrooms; the lack of any science laboratory or facilities devoted to home economics, sewing or cooking; insufficient faculty spaces with no conference rooms; and small library spaces and lacking support spaces for tutoring and occupational and physical therapy; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant has demonstrated that the School's stated requirements related to size and configuration are justified by the School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the School has conducted an exhaustive search for potential expansion sites using the following criteria: suitability for a building with at least 30,000 square feet of floor area and no more than seven stories in height, as required by the School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that the School considered sites located within an R6 zoning district, where the maximum permitted Floor Area Ratio is 4.8, and sites located within an R5 zoning district, where the maximum permitted Floor Area Ratio is 2.0; however, none of the sites have sufficient lot area to accommodate the School's search criteria; and

WHEREAS, thus, the applicant maintains that the site search establishes that there is no practical possibility of obtaining a site of adequate size in a nearby zoning district where a school would be permitted as-of-right; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19(a) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19(b) requires an applicant to demonstrate that the proposed school is located no more than 400 feet from the boundary of a district in which such a school is permitted as of right; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the subject site is in the immediate vicinity of an R6 zoning district boundary line and that the entire site is within 400 feet of said R6 zoning district, and notes that school uses are permitted as-of-right in R6 zoning districts; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted a radius diagram and zoning map which reflect that the subject site is adjacent to an R6 zoning district; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19(b) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19(c) requires an applicant to demonstrate how it will achieve adequate separation from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of the surrounding non-residential district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that there are a number of automotive and manufacturing uses in the vicinity of the subject site but that, by proposing three-hour rated fireproof construction with composite window-wall noise attenuation of 28 dbA, the School will be adequately separated from these uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that, with respect to soil vapor and potential vapor encroachment, coating the building slab with a liquid epoxy vapor barrier will prevent future soil vapor migration and that any other hazardous materials that may be present in the existing building materials will be subject to standard abatement procedures and remediated in accordance with applicable

regulations; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, based on an assessment of the surrounding area, no significant adverse air quality impacts are expected; and

WHEREAS, the applicant studied sound levels between 70 dBA and 80 dBA, the proposed building has been designed to provide noise attenuation to reduce the interior sound levels by 28 dBA; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the conditions surrounding the site and the proposed building's use will adequately separate the proposed school use from noise, traffic and other adverse effects of any of the uses within the surrounding M1-2 zoning district; accordingly, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19(c) are met; and

WHEREAS, ZR § 73-19(d) requires an applicant to demonstrate how the movement of traffic through the street on which the school will be located can be controlled so as to protect children traveling to and from the school; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, with respect to transportation, there would be no potential for significant adverse transportation impacts and, after evaluating safety conditions around the subject site, no pedestrian concerns were identified; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that the School has requested a "no standing" zone between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. to be provided in front of the subject site; that the School's staff will employ two-way radio telecommunication devices to guide students to and from school buses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submitted an operational plan designed to ensure the safety of the School's arrivals and departures including the following measures: placement of a crossing guard at the subject site; providing at least four teachers at the entrances and exits of the proposed building to escort students to and from school buses; coordinating with local businesses to ensure loading and unloading activities will be scheduled outside the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. when the School is in session; installation of protective bollards on the sidewalk to the east of the subject site to provide a physical barrier between pedestrians and vehicles; the implementation of a "no standing" zone for buses along the front of the subject site; and the off-site parking of school buses; and

WHEREAS, with respect to bus parking, the applicant submitted a parking lease to allow bus parking at 1453 62nd Street (Block 5727, Tax Lot 46), Brooklyn as well as an off-street bus parking restrictive declaration to be recorded against the property to ensure that at all times the School will provide off-street bus parking for all of its school buses, when not in use; and

WHEREAS, the Board referred the application to the School Safety Engineering Office of the Department of Transportation ("DOT"); and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 28, 2018, DOT states that, with respect to the subject site, the School shall close unutilized existing curb cuts along the School's proposed frontage, including an existing curb cut along frontage on the north side of 39th Street, approximately 5–10 feet west of the School's entrance, and an existing curb cut along frontage on the north side of 39th Street, approximately 5–10 feet east of the School's entrance, and that, upon approval of this application and near the end of construction, the School shall notify DOT so that DOT can determine if any additional traffic safety improvements or parking regulation changes are necessary, including the placement of appropriate school warning signage and school loading zones to be sited in accordance with DOT standards; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the abovementioned measures will control traffic so as to protect children going to and from the proposed school; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the requirements of ZR § 73-19(d) are met; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon pro-grammatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board must grant an educational or religious institution's application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety or welfare of the community and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that, under the conditions and safeguards imposed, any hazard or disadvantage to the community at large due to the proposed special permit use is outweighed by the advantages to be derived by the community and finds no adverse effect on the privacy, quiet, light and air in the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the proposed special permit use will not interfere with any pending public improvement project; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant submits that the School's proposed building is necessary to accommodate the School's programmatic needs and, as discussed above, submitted a study of the School's programmatic needs, which require the following: both secular and religious educational spaces, including classrooms, specialized instructional spaces (including computer training, art, music, sewing and cooking), library resources, food service and space for public assemblies and administrative functions; the pairing of every two grades into a single academic unit under interrelated supervision; and conformance to planning standards and design guidelines for comparable educational facilities (including the provision of light and air to every classroom); and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed and detailed the deleterious effects that the complying building form would have on the School's programmatic needs based on the

school's educational mission and projected occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that an as-of-right development would not meet the School's programmatic needs because only 109 classrooms would be allowed, where 129 are required; only 15 of 16 classrooms would have light and air; and the classrooms would be of insufficient size; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the School's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the School is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the School's programmatic needs with adequate space, facilities and organization; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building would not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or impair the use or development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, the applicant studied the surrounding area, noting that, as discussed above regarding the School's use, schools are permitted as of right in areas immediately surrounding the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the subject site is characterized by a mix of residential, commercial and manufacturing uses and that there are other educational facilities in the vicinity; and

WHEREAS, the applicant represents that, with respect to the rear of the subject site, adjacent lots are occupied by commercial, manufacturing and automotive uses with a vacant lot to the north of the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further represents that none of the uses immediately adjacent to the surroundings site will be adversely affected by a reduction in the depth of the rear yard for the School's proposed enlargement; and

WHEREAS, with respect to the built form of the proposed building, the applicant notes that the façade is primarily composed of brick with the base faced with precast concrete; and

WHEREAS, with respect to refuse, the applicant submits that the School's proposed building will provide areas for refrigerated trash storage space located within the interior of the building; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site, as reflected by evidence of School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board with respect to the size of spaces within the School's proposed building, the applicant submitted detailed schedules for each space demonstrating full utilization based on the School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further provided evidence that, based on comparisons to square footages for schools constructed within the City, the square footage per student proposed for the School is consistent with other schools recently constructed by the School Construction Authority; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 17BSA032K, dated February 6, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction Impacts; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated February 23, 2017, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission represents that the proposed project would not result in any adverse impacts on architectural or archeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 16, 2017, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that the March 2017 Revised Remedial Action Plan ("RAP") for 5018 14th Avenue is acceptable on condition that, at the completion of the project, a professional engineer certified Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval for the proposed project indicating that all remedial requirements have been properly implemented (including proper transportation and disposal manifest and certificates from impacted soils removed and properly disposed of in accordance with all New York State Department of Environmental Conservation regulations and proof of installation of an engineering control system); and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 9, 2017, DEP states that the February 2017 Remedial Closure Report for the subject site (1411 39th Street), which summarizes the remedial activities completed, which include the installation of a new concrete lawyer over the existing slab of the building's ground floor, ensuring that any compromise or cracks in the existing slab were either filled or covered with new concrete, the installation of an epoxy vapor barrier over the new concrete layer and the indoor air sampling using a photoionization detector, is acceptable and that DEP has no objection to the issuance of any permits or a certificate of occupancy for the subject site; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 14, 2018, DEP states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts in regards to air quality; that, for 5018 14th Avenue, in order to attain an indoor noise level of 45 dBA within the proposed development, a composite window-wall noise attenuation of 31 dBA on the façade facing 14th Avenue and 28 dBA on the façade facing 51st Street and an alternative means of ventilation are required; and that, for the subject site (1411 39th Street), in order to attain an indoor noise level of 45 dBA within the enlarged building, a composite window-wall noise attenuation of 28 dBA on the southwestern façade facing 39th Street and an alternative means of ventilation are required; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 11, 2019, DOT states that, based on a levels of service analysis conducted at ten pedestrian elements (three crosswalks, four sidewalks and three corners), improvements at the intersection of 14th Avenue and 50th Street shall include widening the west crosswalk from 12 feet to 13.5 feet and widening the south crosswalk from 12.5 feet to 13 feet; that the applicant shall design and implement a 6-foot half-curb extension at the northwest corner of 14th Avenue and 51st Street to reduce the crossing distance across 14th Avenue, which shall be included as part of the Builder's Pavement Plan; that, with regard to unutilized existing curb cuts along the frontage of 5018 14th Avenue (at the north side of 51st Street, approximately 90 feet west of 14th Avenue, and the west side of 14th Avenue, approximately 50 feet north of 51st Street) and along the frontage of the subject site (1411 39th Street) (the north side of 39th Street, approximately 5–10 feet east and west of the School's entrances), the applicant shall close these unutilized existing curb cuts on the Builders Pavement Plan to be filed with DOB; that, because the subject site (1411 39th Street) is located in a manufacturing area, the applicant shall install a protective physical barrier (such as planters, posts or bollards) near the eastern lot line to be reviewed and approved by DOT Revocable Consent and the New York City Public Design Commission and shall implement a teacher monitoring system on the north side of 39th Street to provide active surveillance of students near the School's main entrance; that the School shall continue to implement its teacher-monitor safety system—including, at

5018 14th Avenue, teacher monitors to be stationed along the 50th Street, 51st Street and 14th Avenue frontages during arrival and departure times with two New York Police Department crossing guards (one at 14th Avenue and 50th Street, the other at 14th Avenue and 51st Street) with an additional crossing guard proposed at 14th Avenue and 39th Street; that, prior to the completion of construction, the applicant shall coordinate with DOT School Safety and the Brooklyn Borough Engineer for the placement of appropriate school warning and loading signage to ensure that school buses and parent vehicles have direct access to the curb during the School's arrival and departure hours; that the School shall not park school buses on the street and shall instead use an off-street parking lot located on 15th Avenue and 62nd Street to store buses when not in use, and the School shall ensure that buses be parked in an off-street facility in the event that the lease of the proposed off-street parking lot expires; that the proposed pedestrian and school safety measures are reasonable and feasible; and that the applicant shall inform DOT six (6) months prior to the project's completion to coordinate the implementation of the proposed improvement measures and that DOT will participate in the review process relating to all future modifications to geometric alignment, curb cuts, striping and signage during the preliminary and final design phases; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-19, 73 03 and 72 21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR §§ 73-19 and 73 03 to permit, in an M1-2 zoning district, the operation of a school, contrary to ZR § 42-10, and under ZR § 72-21 to permit an enlargement of the school building that does not comply with rear yard requirements, contrary to ZR § 43-46; on condition that all work, site conditions and operations shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received February 26, 2019"-Fifteen (15) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the school building at 1411 39th Street shall have a rear yard with a minimum depth of 10 feet, as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the School shall not permit, at 5018 14th

2. Maximum allowable Floor Area Ratio (ZR 24-11)
3. Maximum allowable Lot Coverage (ZR 24-11)
4. Maximum Street Wall Height (ZR 24-522)
5. Setback Requirements (ZR 24-522)
6. Sky Exposure Plane (ZR 24-522)
7. Rear Yard Requirements (ZR 24-36); and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R6 zoning district, the development of a school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, street wall height, setbacks, sky exposure plane and rear yards, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-522 and 24-36; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of Bnos Zion of Bobov (the “School”), a private school, in conjunction with a special permit and variance application under BSA Calendar Number 2016-4274-BZ to permit the enlargement of a two-story school building at 1411 39th Street, Brooklyn, comprised of Tax Lot 3 and Tax Lot 71 on Block 5347; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on October 17, 2017, after due notice by publication in The City Record, with continued hearings on

June 19, 2018, and December 11, 2018, and then to decision on February 26, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Chair Perlmutter, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 12, Brooklyn, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the northwest corner of 14th Avenue and 51st Street, in an R6 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 80 feet of frontage along 14th Avenue, 120 feet of frontage along 51st Street, 10,021 square feet of lot area and is occupied by an existing four-story building on Tax Lot 49 to be demolished; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to develop a new building at the subject site for the School’s use with 70,444 square feet of floor area (7.03 FAR), lot coverage of 95.3 percent (corner lot portion) and 100 percent (through lot portion), street wall height rising 94’-1” for seven stories, no setbacks along 14th Avenue or 51st Street, sky exposure plane of 0 and no rear yard; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that, at the subject site, floor area may not exceed 48,101 square feet (4.80 FAR) under ZR § 24-11; lot coverage may not exceed 70 percent (corner lot portion) or 65 percent (interior lot portion) under ZR § 24-11; street wall height may not exceed 60’-0” for six stories under ZR § 24-522; setbacks of 15 feet along 14th Avenue and 20 feet along 51st Street are required under ZR § 24-522; sky exposure plane may not exceed a ratio of 5.6 to 1 from the horizontal along 14th Avenue and 2.7 to 1 from the horizontal along 51st Street under ZR § 24-522; and a rear yard with a depth of 30 feet is required for the interior lot portion of the subject site under ZR § 24-36; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational institution, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon pro-grammatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board must grant an educational or religious institution’s application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety or welfare of the community and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the School’s proposed building is necessary to accommodate the School’s programmatic needs and that the School’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general

circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant submitted a comprehensive study of the School's programmatic needs, demonstrating that the School requires two separate expansion sites (namely, the site located at 1411 39th Street and the subject site) in order to accommodate its projected increase in enrollment from 2,031 students to 3,362 students, necessitating an increase of approximately 120,000 gross square footage, and that the School's programmatic needs require the following: both secular and religious educational spaces, including classrooms, specialized instructional spaces (including computer training, art, music, sewing and cooking), library resources, food service and space for public assemblies and administrative functions; the pairing of every two grades into a single academic unit under interrelated supervision; and conformance to planning standards and design guidelines for comparable educational facilities (including the provision of light and air to every classroom); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the School currently faces programmatic deficiencies to be resolved by the School's proposed development at the subject site with respect to the crowding of classrooms; the lack of any science laboratory or facilities devoted to home economics, sewing or cooking; insufficient faculty spaces with no conference rooms; and small library spaces and lacking support spaces for tutoring and occupational and physical therapy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant analyzed and detailed the deleterious effects that the complying building form would have on the School's programmatic needs based on the school's educational mission and projected occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that an as-of-right development at the subject site would not meet the School's programmatic needs because only 34 classrooms would be allowed, where 53 are required, and the classrooms would be of insufficient size; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the School's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the School is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the School's programmatic needs with adequate space, facilities and organization; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building would not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or impair the use or development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, the applicant studied the surrounding area, noting that schools are permitted as of right at the subject site; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the subject block is mainly characterized by educational facilities with non-compliances with respect to street wall heights and sky exposure plane regulations; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a streetscape study and photographic montage demonstrating that the height of the proposed development is consistent with the built form of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further submits that there are a number of six- and seven-story buildings in the vicinity that are of similar height to the proposed building; and

WHEREAS, with respect to refuse, the applicant submits that the School's proposed building will provide areas for refrigerated trash storage space located within the interior of the building; and

WHEREAS, with respect to transportation, the applicant states that there would be no potential for significant adverse transportation impacts and, after evaluating safety conditions around the subject site, no pedestrian concerns were identified; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further notes that there are existing "no standing" zones between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. already provided in front of the subject site on 14th Avenue and 50th Street and that the School's staff will employ two-way radio telecommunication devices to guide students to and from school buses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also submitted an operational plan designed to ensure the safety of the School's arrivals and departures including the following measures: placement of three or four crossing guards at the subject site; providing at least four teachers at the entrances and exits of the proposed building to escort students to and from school buses; the existing "no standing" zones for buses along the front of the subject site; and the off-site parking of school buses; and

WHEREAS, with respect to bus parking, the applicant submitted a parking lease to allow bus parking at 1453 62nd Street (Block 5727, Tax Lot 46), Brooklyn as well as an off-street bus parking restrictive declaration to be recorded against the property to ensure that at all times the School will provide off-street bus parking for all of its school buses, when not in use; and

WHEREAS, in response to concerns expressed by the Board at hearing, the applicant represents that the School shall not permit any commercial use of any multipurpose gymnasium or dining hall for commercial catering or operation as a banquet hall, which commercial uses are not permitted in R6 zoning districts; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or

development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to permit a productive use of the site, as reflected by evidence of School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, in response to questions from the Board with respect to the size of spaces within the School's proposed building, the applicant submitted detailed schedules for each space demonstrating full utilization based on the School's programmatic needs; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further provided evidence that, based on comparisons to square footages for schools constructed within the City, the square footage per student proposed for the School is consistent with other schools recently constructed by the School Construction Authority; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as an Unlisted action pursuant to 6 NYCRR, Part 617.2; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted an environmental review of the proposed action and has documented relevant information about the project in the Final Environmental Assessment Statement CEQR No. 17BSA032K, dated February 6, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the EAS documents that the project as proposed would not have significant adverse impacts on Land Use, Zoning and Public Policy; Socioeconomic Conditions; Community Facilities; Open Space; Shadows; Historic and Cultural Resources; Urban Design; Natural Resources; Hazardous Materials; Infrastructure; Solid Waste and Sanitation Services; Energy; Transportation; Air Quality; Greenhouse Gas Emissions; Noise; Public Health; Neighborhood Character; or Construction Impacts; and

WHEREAS, by correspondence dated February 23, 2017, the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission represents that the proposed project would not result in any adverse impacts on architectural or archeological resources; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated May 16, 2017, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") states that the March 2017 Revised Remedial Action Plan ("RAP") for the subject site (5018 14th Avenue) is acceptable on condition that, at the completion of the project, a professional engineer certified Remedial Closure Report be submitted to DEP for review and approval for the proposed project indicating that all remedial requirements

have been properly implemented (including proper transportation and disposal manifest and certificates from impacted soils removed and properly disposed of in accordance with all New York State Department of Environmental Conservation regulations and proof of installation of an engineering control system); and

WHEREAS, by letter dated August 9, 2017, DEP states that the February 2017 Remedial Closure Report for 1411 39th Street, which summarizes the remedial activities completed, which include the installation of a new concrete lawyer over the existing slab of the building's ground floor, ensuring that any compromise or cracks in the existing slab were either filled or covered with new concrete, the installation of an epoxy vapor barrier over the new concrete layer and the indoor air sampling using a photoionization detector, is acceptable and that DEP has no objection to the issuance of any permits or a certificate of occupancy for 1411 39th Street; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated November 14, 2018, DEP states that the proposed project would not result in any potential for significant adverse impacts in regards to air quality; that, for the subject site (5018 14th Avenue), in order to attain an indoor noise level of 45 dBA within the proposed development, a composite window-wall noise attenuation of 31 dBA on the façade facing 14th Avenue and 28 dBA on the façade facing 51st Street and an alternative means of ventilation are required; and that, for 1411 39th Street, in order to attain an indoor noise level of 45 dBA within the enlarged building, a composite window-wall noise attenuation of 28 dBA on the southwestern façade facing 39th Street and an alternative means of ventilation are required; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated January 11, 2019, DOT states that, based on a levels of service analysis conducted at ten pedestrian elements (three crosswalks, four sidewalks and three corners), improvements at the intersection of 14th Avenue and 50th Street shall include widening the west crosswalk from 12 feet to 13.5 feet and widening the south crosswalk from 12.5 feet to 13 feet; that the applicant shall design and implement a 6-foot half-curb extension at the northwest corner of 14th Avenue and 51st Street to reduce the crossing distance across 14th Avenue, which shall be included as part of the Builder's Pavement Plan; that, with regard to unutilized existing curb cuts along the frontage of the subject site (5018 14th Avenue) (at the north side of 51st Street, approximately 90 feet west of 14th Avenue, and the west side of 14th Avenue, approximately 50 feet north of 51st Street) and along the frontage of 1411 39th Street (the north side of 39th Street, approximately 5–10 feet east and west of the School's entrances), the applicant shall close these unutilized existing curb cuts on the Builders Pavement Plan to be filed with DOB; that, because 1411 39th Street is located in a manufacturing area, the applicant shall install a protective physical barrier (such as planters, posts or bollards) near the eastern lot line to be reviewed and approved by DOT Revocable Consent and the New York City Public Design Commission and shall implement a teacher monitoring system on the north side of 39th Street to provide active surveillance of students near the School's main entrance; that the School shall continue to implement its teacher-monitor safety system—including, at the subject site (5018 14th Avenue), teacher monitors to be stationed along the 50th Street, 51st Street and 14th Avenue frontages during arrival and departure times with two New York Police Department crossing guards (one at 14th Avenue and 50th Street, the other at 14th Avenue and 51st Street) with an additional crossing guard proposed at 14th Avenue and 39th Street; that, prior to the completion of construction, the applicant shall coordinate with DOT School Safety and the Brooklyn Borough Engineer for the placement of appropriate school warning and loading signage to ensure that school buses and parent vehicles have direct access to the curb during the School's arrival and departure hours; that the School shall not park school buses on the street and shall instead use an off-street parking lot located on 15th Avenue and 62nd Street to store buses when not in use, and the School shall ensure that buses be parked in an off-street facility in the event that the lease of the proposed off-street parking lot expires; that the proposed pedestrian and school safety measures are reasonable and feasible; and that the applicant shall inform DOT six (6) months prior to the project's completion to coordinate the implementation of the proposed improvement measures and that DOT will participate in the review process relating to all future modifications to geometric alignment, curb cuts, striping and signage during the preliminary and final design phases; and

WHEREAS, no other significant effects upon the environment that would require an Environmental Impact Statement are foreseeable; and

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the proposed action will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR §§ 73-19, 73-03 and 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Negative Declaration prepared in accordance with Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law and 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and Executive Order No. 91 of 1997, as amended, and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R6 zoning district, the development of a school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for floor area, lot coverage, street wall height, setbacks, sky exposure plane and rear yards, contrary to ZR §§ 24-11, 24-522 and 24-36; on condition that all work, site conditions and operations shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received

WHEREAS, this application is brought on behalf of the property owner by the Build it Back Program, which was created to assist New York City residents affected by Superstorm Sandy; and

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the City’s effort to rebuilt homes impacted by Superstorm Sandy expeditiously and effectively, the Board, pursuant to 2 RCNY § 1-14.2, waives the following of its Rules of Practice and Procedure: (1) 2 RCNY § 1-05.1 (Objection Issued by the Department of Buildings); (2) 2 RCNY § 1-05.3 (Filing Period); (3) 2 RCNY § 1-05.4 (Application Referral); (4) 2 RCNY § 1-05.6 (Hearing Notice); (5) 2 RCNY § 1-05.7 (List of Affected Property Owners); (6) 2 RCNY § 1-09.4 (Owner’s Authorization); and (7) 2 RCNY § 1-10.7 (Proof of Service for Application Referral and Hearing Notice); and

WHEREAS, the Board notes that the subject application is exempt from fees pursuant to 2 RCNY § 1-

09.2 and NYC Admin. Code § 25-202(6); and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the east side of Lake Avenue, in an R4-1 zoning district, in Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the site has approximately 24 feet of frontage along Lake Avenue, 50 feet of depth, 1,090 square feet of lot area, and is occupied by a one-story single-family home, which is set back 3.9 feet from the northern lot line, 4.1 (southeast smallest setback) to 9.9 (northeast larger setback) feet from the eastern lot line, 0.2 (southwest smallest setback) to 0.0 (southeast setback on the lot line) feet from the southern lot line, 0.4 (southwest smallest setback) to 8.64 (northwest larger setback) feet from the western lot line and is non-compliant with the applicable yard regulations; and

WHEREAS, the Board has exercised jurisdiction over the subject site since January 22, 2016, when, under BSA Cal. No. 2016-394-A, the Board granted a waiver of General City Law (“GCL”) § 36 permitting the elevation or reconstruction of a one-family dwelling that does not front on a mapped street; and

WHEREAS, the waiver was conditioned, inter alia, upon the reconstructed dwelling having a fire sprinkler system in accordance with Chapter 9 and Appendix Q of the New York City Building Code; the dwelling being provided with interconnected smoke and carbon monoxide alarms, designed and installed in accordance with Section 907.2.11 of the New York City Building Code; the underside of the exterior of the dwelling where the foundation is not closed having a floor assembly that provides a 2-hour fire resistance rating; and the height from grade plane to the highest window-sill leading to a habitable space not exceeding 32 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now seeks a special permit, pursuant to ZR § 64-92, to allow the construction of a two-story one-family detached residence with 677 square feet of floor area (0.62 FAR), set back approximately 3.6 feet from the northern lot line, approximately 3.9 feet from the eastern lot line, approximately 0.4 feet from the southern lot line, and approximately 0.2 feet from the western lot line; and

WHEREAS, at the subject site, the minimum lot area required for a single-family detached residence is 2,375 square feet and the minimum lot width required is 25 feet, pursuant to ZR § 25-32; and

WHEREAS, yard requirements for the subject site are set forth as follows: minimum front yard depth requirements are set forth in ZR §§ 23-45 and 64-A351; side yard requirements are set forth in ZR § 23-461(a), and 64-A352; and rear yard requirements are set forth in ZR § 23-47 and 64-A353; and

WHEREAS, open area and lot coverage requirements for the subject site are set forth in ZR §§ 23-142 and 64-A311; and

WHEREAS, the requirement of an open area of at least 8 feet between residences on adjacent zoning lots set forth in ZR § 23-461(c) is waived at the site pursuant to ZR

§ 64-A352(c); and

WHEREAS, the subject site does not front a “street,” as defined in ZR § 12-10, and is accessed, instead, by a private path having an average width of 4 feet, allowing from ingress and egress to the surrounding public streets; and

WHEREAS, consequently the subject site lacks a “front lot line,” a “front yard,” a “rear lot line,” a “rear yard” and “side yards,” as those terms are defined in the same section and, therefore, proposes open areas, in lieu of yards, along its lot lines and seeks waivers of the applicable yard regulations; and

In order to allow for the alteration of existing buildings in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards and for developments and enlargements in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards, the Board of Standards and Appeals may permit modification of Section 64-60 (DESIGN REQUIREMENTS), the bulk regulations of Section 64-30, 64-40 (SPECIAL BULK REGULATIONS FOR BUILDINGS EXISTING ON OCTOBER 28, 2012) and 64-70 (SPECIAL REGULATIONS FOR NON-CONFORMING USES AND NON-COMPLYING BUILDINGS), as well as all other applicable bulk regulations of the Zoning Resolution, except floor area ratio regulations, provided the following findings are made:

- (a) that there would be a practical difficulty in complying with flood-resistant construction standards without such modifications, and that such modifications are the minimum necessary to allow for an appropriate building in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards;
- (b) that any modifications of bulk regulations related to height is limited to no more than 10 feet in height or 10 percent of permitted height as measured from flood-resistant construction elevation, whichever is less; and
- (c) the proposed modifications will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood in which the building is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area in consideration of the neighborhood’s potential development in accordance with flood-resistant construction standards.

The Board may prescribe appropriate conditions and safeguards to minimize adverse effects on the character of the surrounding area; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with ZR § 64-92(a), the need to reconstruct the existing residence, which, as it exists, is non-compliant with yard regulations, creates practical difficulties in complying with flood-resistant construction standards without the modification of the yard requirements and that waivers of the same is the minimum necessary to allow for a building compliant with flood-resistant construction standards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the proposal does not include a request to modify the maximum permitted height in the underlying district; thus, the finding pursuant to ZR § 64-92(b) is inapplicable in this case; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, pursuant to ZR § 64-92(c), the proposal will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood in which the dwelling is located, nor impair the future use or development of the surrounding area in consideration of the neighborhood's potential development in accordance with flood-resistant construction standards; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the surrounding neighborhood is a mixed density waterfront community that the majority of homes within a 200-foot radius of the subject site are one- and two- story detached bungalows, a significant number of which are also participating in the Build it Back program by being elevated or reconstructed; and

WHEREAS, accordingly, the Board has reviewed the proposal and determined that the proposed alteration and elevation satisfies all of the relevant requirements of ZR § 64-92; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 17BSA128K, dated May 19, 2017; and

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals waives its Rules of Practice and Procedure and issues a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3 and §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review, and makes the required findings under ZR § 64-92 to permit, on a site within an R4-1 zoning district, the construction of a two-story single-family detached dwelling in compliance with flood-resistant construction standards that does not comply with the zoning requirements for front yards, side yards rear yards, open space and lot coverage, contrary to ZR §§ 23-45, 23-461(a), 23-47, 23-142, 64-A351, 64-A352, 64-A353 and 64-A311; on condition that all work shall substantially conform to the drawings filed with this application and marked "Received May 19, 2017"- Five (5) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: setbacks of approximately 3.6 feet from the northern lot line, approximately 3.9 feet from the eastern lot line, approximately 0.4 feet from the southern lot line, and approximately 0.2 feet from the western lot line, with obstructions permitted, as illustrated on the BSA-approved drawings;

THAT the building shall have a fire sprinkler system in accordance with Chapter 9 and Appendix Q of the New York City Building Code;

THAT the dwelling shall be provided with interconnected smoke and carbon monoxide alarms, designed and installed in accordance with Section 907.2.11 of the New York City Building Code;

THAT the underside of the exterior of the dwelling where the foundation is not closed shall have a floor assembly that provides a 2-hour fire resistance rating;

THAT the height from grade plane to the highest window-sill leading to a habitable space may not exceed 32 feet;

THAT this approval shall be limited to the Build It Back program;

THAT all DOB and related agency application(s) filed in connection with the authorize use and/or bulk shall be signed off by DOB and all other relevant agencies by May 25, 2021;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT DOB must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction irrespective of the plan(s)/configuration(s) not related to the relief granted.

THE RESOLUTION –

WHEREAS, the decision of the Department of Buildings (“DOB”), dated January 30, 2019, acting on Alteration Application No. 121188222, reads in pertinent part:

“Proposed height of street wall does not comply with ZR 24-522”; and

WHEREAS, this is an application under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R7-2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for height and setback, contrary to ZR § 24-522; and

WHEREAS, this application has been brought on behalf of The Reece School (the “School”), a not-for-profit education corporation chartered by the New York State Board of Regents; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on August 13, 2019, after due notice by publication in The City Record, and then to decision on September 10, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Vice-Chair Chanda, Commissioner Ottley-Brown, and Commissioner Scibetta performed inspections of the site and surrounding neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, Community Board 11, Manhattan, recommends approval of this application; and

WHEREAS, the subject site is located on the north side of East 104th Street, between Fifth Avenue and Madison Avenue, in an R7-2 zoning district, in Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the subject site has approximately 50 feet

of frontage along East 104th Street, 101 feet of depth, 5,045 square feet of lot area and is occupied by a five-story, with cellar, community-facility building used as a school; and

WHEREAS, the applicant proposes to enlarge the existing building from 15,616 square feet of floor area (3.1 FAR) to 25,471 square feet of floor area (5.0 FAR) with a building height of 101'-2½” with a setback of 6'-0”; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that, at the subject site, the maximum street wall height permitted is the lesser of six stories or 60 feet, after which a 20 foot setback is required with the remainder of the building subject to a sky exposure plane of 2.7 to 1 (vertical to horizontal) under ZR § 24-522; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Resolution vests the Board with wide discretion to “vary or modify [its] provision[s] so that the spirit of the law shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done,” ZR § 72-21; and

WHEREAS, the Board acknowledges that the School, as an educational facility, is entitled to deference under the law of the State of New York as to zoning and its ability to rely upon programmatic needs in support of this application; and

WHEREAS, specifically, as held in Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), a zoning board is to grant an educational or religious institution’s application unless it can be shown to have an adverse effect on the health, safety, or welfare of the community, and general concerns about traffic and disruption of the residential character of the neighborhood are insufficient grounds for the denial of such applications; and

WHEREAS, consistent with ZR § 72-21, the applicant represents that the School’s proposed enlargement is necessary to accommodate the School’s programmatic needs and that the School’s programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant provided a comprehensive report on the School’s programmatic needs, demonstrating an enrollment of approximately 130 students, the necessity of small student-to-staff ratio in classrooms to provide a supportive and nurturing learning environment with separate spaces for individual and small-group instruction and activities with mandated services based on each student’s needs (including speech and language, counseling, occupational therapy, and physical therapy), and access to healthy-living and arts programs (including general science with horticulture, creative arts, physical education, and music); and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that currently, in attempting to meet the School’s programmatic needs and enrollment, a library and a staff lounge have been converted into a classroom with occupational-therapy programs’ displacing related service providers from offices, relegating some educational services to hallways and corners of the

gymnasium; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submits that an as-of-right enlargement would result in an additional five stories with a setback of 20 feet but a maximum building height of 122 feet, constraining floorplates within the enlargement to sizes ranging from 2,054 square feet to 2,270 square feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant provided architectural diagrams demonstrating that floorplates of these sizes would be inefficient—and would require constant movement between floors for students with disabilities—and would thereby fail to accommodate the School's programmatic need to provide each student with an individualized education; and

WHEREAS, in sum, the applicant analyzed and detailed the deleterious effects that the School's current facility as well as a complying building form have on the School's programmatic needs based on the School's educational mission and projected occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that the proposed enlargement alleviates these constraints by facilitating the needed creation of an enhanced occupational-therapy and physical-therapy support space, five additional classrooms, a music room, a tutoring room and offices for behavioral support specialists and clinicians; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Cornell University v. Bagnardi, 68 N.Y.2d 583 (1986), the Board finds that the School's programmatic needs create practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in complying strictly with applicable zoning regulations that are not created by general circumstances in the neighborhood or district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant notes that, because the School is a non-profit organization, this application need not demonstrate financial hardship; and

WHEREAS, instead, the applicant notes and the Board finds that the variance requested is necessary to accommodate the School's programmatic needs with adequate space, facilities and organization; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement reflects a modest increase in the massing of the existing building and would not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or impair the use or development of adjacent properties; and

WHEREAS, in support of this contention, the applicant surveyed the surrounding area, finding that the proposed educational use is consistent with the vibrant mix of uses in the vicinity—including community facilities, residences, and commercial uses; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed enlargement is substantially shorter than an as-of-right building height, which is permitted to rise to 122 feet; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also notes that buildings in the vicinity range in height from five to 15 stories and submitted evidence demonstrating that the proposed enlargement is consistent with the surrounding area's built environment; and

WHEREAS, by letter dated September 4, 2019, the Fire Department states that it has no objection to this application; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the subject site is located; will not substantially impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property; and will not be detrimental to the public welfare; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship do not constitute a self-created hardship; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the above practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship have not been created by the owner or by a predecessor in title; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to accommodate the School's programmatic needs by providing adequate floorplates that would not compromise the School's program, as reflected above and in the School's programmatic-needs report; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the proposed variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief within the intent and purposes of the Zoning Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the project is classified as a Type II action pursuant to 6 NYCRR Part 617.5; and

WHEREAS, the Board has conducted a review of the proposed Type II action noted in the CEQR Checklist No. 19-BSA-092M, dated February 19, 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Board finds that the evidence in the record supports the findings required to be made under ZR § 72-21 and that the applicant has substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion.

Therefore, it is Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby issue a Type II determination under 6 NYCRR Part 617.5 and 617.3, §§ 5-02(a) and 5-02(b)(2) of the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review and makes each and every one of the required findings under ZR § 72-21 to permit, in an R7-2 zoning district, the enlargement of an existing school building that does not comply with zoning regulations for height and setback, contrary to ZR § 24-522; on condition that all work, operations and site conditions shall conform to drawings filed with this application marked "Received August 29, 2019"-Seventeen (17) sheets; and on further condition:

THAT the bulk parameters of the building shall be as follows: a maximum building height of 101'-2½" with a setback of 6'-0", as illustrated on the Board-approved drawings;

THAT the above condition shall appear on the certificate of occupancy;

THAT a certificate of occupancy, also indicating this approval and calendar number (“BSA Cal No 2019-34-BZ”), shall be obtained within four (4) years, by August 6, 2023;

THAT this approval is limited to the relief granted by the Board in response to objections cited and filed by the Department of Buildings;

THAT the approved plans shall be considered approved only for the portions related to the specific relief granted; and

THAT the Department of Buildings must ensure compliance with all other applicable provisions of the Zoning Resolution, the Administrative Code, and any other relevant laws under its jurisdiction regardless of plans or configurations not related to the relief granted.

Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, September 10, 2019.
