

RESCINDED BY BUILDINGS
BULLETIN 2023-014

ISSUANCE # 404

DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS

EXECUTIVE OFFICES
60 HUDSON STREET, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10013

RUDOLPH J. RINALDI, Commissioner

TECHNICAL
POLICY & PROCEDURE NOTICE # 3 /93

TO: BOROUGH COMMISSIONERS/SUPERINTENDENTS

FROM: Richard C. Visconti, A.I.A.
Acting Deputy Commissioner

DATE: May 18, 1993

SUBJECT: Guide to A Description of Uses on Schedule A & Certificate of Occupancy of One & Two Family Buildings

EFFECTIVE: All new applications filed after the effective date of this Technical Policy & Procedure Notice.

PURPOSE: To establish a uniform description of use on Schedule A filed with Alteration Type 1 or N.B application and the Certificate of Occupancy of buildings used as single or two family residence. Provide for the standardization of the location of text relative to data entry.

SPECIFICS: The following is a "Schedule A" sample to be used as a guideline of how the description of uses of each floor should be completed in addition to all required information regarding the number of dwelling units, the number of habitable rooms, zoning use group,
Building Code occupancy groups and live load.

RESCINDED BY BUILDINGS
BULLETIN 2023-014

Floor	Proposed Use
	Maximum Number of Persons	Live Load (psf)	Code Habitable Rooms	Building Code Occupancy Group	Dwelling/ Rooming Units	Zoning Use Group(s)	Description
Cellar	-	O.G.					Accessory Uses
First		40	3	J-3	1	2	One dwelling unit
Second		40	2	J-3	$\frac{1}{2}$		One dwelling unit
Third		40	2		$\frac{1}{2}$		-
	GENERAL NOTES:
	Two family residence with (2) off-street parking spaces.

Cellar Level shall be described in general as "Accessory Uses" except any other use that is not commonly found in a cellar level shall be specifically listed.

Basement: In the case that the basement is the lowest story, it should be listed as "Accessory Uses" unless it contains habitable rooms or any other use that is not commonly found in a basement level.

"Accessory Uses": as indicated above shall include rooms used for boiler, meter, storage, laundry, toilet, recreation or any other use that is commonly found in the cellar or basement levels of a one or two family residence.

General Notes: shall indicate type of residence, number of accessory off-street parking spaces, and/or attached or detached garages.