INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Bishop Carlos Jesse, New Life Covenant Fellowship, 1476 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn N.Y. 11216.

Before I give the invocation,
I would just like to say it's an honor and I'm thankful for this invitation to share with you on this day.

While we're standing, on yesterday,
we lost one of our great literary minds.

And, so I am going to ask if you would be so kind as to just have a moment of silence for the life and the legacy of Dr. Maya Angelou. [pause]
Thank you.

And, now, I will make you happy twice.
Happy to see me come, and happy to see me go.

Our Father, and our God, I approach you
at this moment in time,
to ask your blessings upon this City Council,
upon the members that gather here
to serve and to do business
on behalf of our great diversity.
We ask that you will grant them compassion,
wisdom, in their deliberation and direction
in their decisions on legislation, budget, land use, and oversight.
King Solomon asked for wisdom and knowledge.
You gave him that and more.
I ask you to add spiritual insight
That they may see the impact and the effects,
the good and the ills, the progress and the setbacks
of their decisions that they make for our City.
Bless our Speaker. Bless our Public Advocate and all of the members, again.
Grant them creativity to solve
and resolve the issues before them.
Keep them humble and remind them each day
that as they gather in these hollow chambers,
that they are here not on their own behalf,
but they're here for the voice, the voiceless,
the homeless, the homeowner, the educated,
the uneducated, the incarcerated and the free.
Let them know that their labor will pay off one day.
For after all they have done all that they can do,
at the end of the day, let us all hear
You say, "Well done, my good and faithful servants."
We ask this in Your wonderful name.
Amen.

At this point, Council Member Cumbo yielded the floor to Council Member Barron. Council Member Barron moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the Record.

At this point, the Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) asked for a Moment of Silence in memory of the following individuals:

Maya Angelou, 86, noted writer and poet of African-American heritage, died on May 28, 2014. Ms. Angelou grew up in the Jim Crow South and rose to become one of the most celebrated writers of the twentieth and twenty-first century. She subsequently received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 2011.

Catherine Abate, 66, former New York State Senator, died on May 17, 2014. Ms. Abate also served as a City Commissioner for the New York City Corrections

Department. After leaving public office, Ms. Abate dedicated her time to fight for reproductive health programs as well as for medical care for the underserved.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS:

Sections 1 and 12 of the bill amend section 1212-A(a)(3) of the Tax Law and section 11-2040(a) of the New York City Administrative Code ("Administrative Code"), relating to New York City's ("City") 4.5 percent sales tax on credit rating and credit reporting services. The amendment extends the existing personal income tax rates (the rates set forth in 11-1701(a)) for an additional three years (for taxable years beginning before 2018) and delays the implementation of lower personal income tax-rates (the rates set forth in 11-1701(b)) for three years (until taxable years beginning after 2017).

Sections 3 and 9 of the bill amend Tax Law section 1301-A(a) and Administrative Code section 11-1702, relating to the City minimum income tax. The Tax Law amendment extends the authority of the City to impose the minimum income tax at 2.85 percent for an additional three years (for taxable years beginning before 2018). (The rate is scheduled to fall to 2.5 percent beginning in 2015.) The Administrative Code amendment imposes the minimum tax at the existing rate of 2.85 percent for an additional three years (for taxable years beginning before 2018).

Sections 4 and 8 of the bill amend Tax Law section 1304(b) and Administrative Code section 11-1701(b), relating to the tax on the personal income of residents of the City. They make conforming changes to the lower personal income tax rates, delaying their implementation for three years (until taxable years beginning after 2017).

Sections 5 and 10 of the bill amend Tax Law section 1304-B(a) and Administrative Code section 11.1704.1(a)(1), relating to the additional tax on City taxable income. The Tax Law amendment authorizes the City to impose the additional tax for an additional three years at the rate of 14 percent (for taxable years beginning before 2018) and extends the authority of the City to reduce the additional tax by local law for taxable years beginning before 2018. The Administrative Code amendment imposes the additional tax for an additional three years at the rate of 14 percent (for taxable years beginning before 2018).

Sections 6, 14 and 15 of the bill amend section 11-604(1)(E) of the Administrative Code; Chapter 884 of the Laws of 1975 and Chapter 882 of the Laws of 1977, relating to the City general corporation tax. The current tax rate is the greater of 8.85 percent on income, 1.5 mills on business and investment capital, 8.85 percent of 15 percent of income plus the amount of salaries and other compensation paid to any person who at any time during the taxable year owned more than 5 percent of the taxpayer's capital stock or a minimum tax based on the amount of New York city receipts. There is also a 0.75 mill tax on subsidiary capital. (On January 1, 2015, the rates are scheduled to drop to 6.7 percent, 1 mill, 6.7 percent and $25, respectively, and .5 mill on subsidiary capital.) The amendments will continue the current rates until December 31, 2017.

Section 11 of the bill amends Administrative Code section 11-2002(a), relating to the 4.5 percent sales tax on beauty and barbering services. The amendment imposes the tax for an additional three years (until November 30, 2017). (Tax Law section 1212-A(a)(2) authorizes the City to impose a sales tax on beauty and barbering services.)

Section 13 of the bill amends Chapter 877 of the laws of 1975, relating to the New York City cigarette tax. The current cigarette tax rate is 75 cents for each ten cigarettes, but is set to decline to between 2 and 4 cents for each ten cigarettes, depending on tar and nicotine content, as of January 1, 2015. The amendment extends the existing rate of tax for an additional three years (until December 31, 2017).

Section 16 of the bill provides that it shall take effect immediately.

REASONS FOR SUPPORT: Most of the taxes that are extended by this legislation have been in effect for nearly forty years and as such have become an accepted and expected part of the City's tax and budgeting structure. The $7 billion in annual revenue (beginning in City Fiscal Year 2016) at stake in this legislation is a large percentage of the support necessary for critical municipal services, such as the core public safety functions performed by the City's police and fire departments. It is, therefore, of crucial importance that the revenue generated by these taxes will continue into the foreseeable future.

In the event that these taxes were allowed to expire, the effect of the loss of such revenue would be nothing short of devastating to the City's budget and the City's ability to provide basic services to its residents - a citizenry which comprises over 42% of the total population of the State of New York. It is important to note that these taxes have been regularly extended, most recently by Chapter 209 of the Laws of 2011.

NEW YORK STATE SENATE
INTRODUCER'S MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT

BILL NUMBER: S6624

SPONSOR: LANZA

TITLE OF BILL: An act to amend chapter 130 of the laws of 1998, amending the general municipal law relating to temporary investments by local governments, in relation to extending the expiration of the provisions thereof

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS:

Section two would extend the sunset date of the subdivision 3 of section n of the General Municipal Law to July 1, 2017.

Section three sets forth the effective date.

JUSTIFICATION:

The "Temporary Investments" subdivision of the General Municipal Law, affecting only New York City, sunsets June 30, 2014. This bill would extend the sunset date to July 1, 2017.

Under the statute, New York City is permitted to invest in certain low risk, short term obligations, including top quality commercial paper. In an analysis done by New York City Comptroller Scott Stringer's office, New York City could lose around $10 million annually without this extension of the law.

This Legislature has voted to extend and the Governor has approved extending the sunset provision for three years on multiple occasions, most recently in 2011. This has provided New York City with increased flexibility in its investment decisions and has consequently allowed the City to achieve higher yields on its investments, without a significant increase in risk.

This bill is supported by the New York City Comptroller.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY:

2011: S.5486 /A.7735 - Chapter 107.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS:

None to the State

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This act shall take effect immediately; provided however, if this act shall have become a law after July 1, 2014 it shall be deemed to have been full force and effect on and after July 1, 2014.

Referred to the Committee on State and Federal Legislation.

Report for Int. No. 360

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a partial abatement of real property taxes on real property that was rebuilt after being seriously damaged by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve in a city having a population of one million or more.

The Committee on Finance, to which the annexed proposed local law was referred on May 29, 2014, respectfully

REPORTS:

Background

Pursuant to State Real Property Tax Law, property owners are safeguarded from large increases in the valuation of their property. Smaller properties have increases in their assessments capped, while larger properties have changes in their valuation phased-in over a 5 year period.

However, these protections do not apply to physical changes, such as repairs and construction. However, these safeguards only apply to changes in valuation due to market forces; changes due to physical changes and construction are not subject to the aforementioned protective caps and phase-ins. The rationale behind this distinction is that a property owner makes a proactive decision when undertaking physical improvements that raise the value of his or her property and are therefore able to plan for the associated increase in assessment that the improvement causes. Increases in valuation due to market conditions on the other hand are largely outside the control of the property owner.

The destruction and subsequent rebuilding triggered by Super Storm Sandy has resulted in a number of physical changes to properties that have affected their valuation. Prior to the storm, because of the assessment caps and phase-ins, a typical residential property may have had an assessment that was slowly increasing over the past several years, and would have likely grown for a number of years more before it finally reflected the true value of the home. After the storm, however, and after the necessary rebuilding was made, many property owners saw, or will see, their assessment jump to the target value. This is true when the property owner simply rebuilds the property to put it in pre-storm condition.

In effect, Sandy has short circuited the protections generally provided to property owners and will cause large assessment increases on properties that would not have seen such increases had the storm not occurred. It should be noted that as Class 1 (1 to 3 family homes) and Class 2 (other residential properties) with less than 11 units have the stronger protections of caps, they are more likely to be adversely affected by this “short circuiting” than the large Class 2 and Class 4 buildings.

Preconsidered Int. 360

For Fiscal Year (FY) 2015 only, this bill would provide real property tax relief to New York City residents who repaired or rebuilt properties that were severely damaged by Super Storm Sandy. In order to assist property owners who saw their assessed value increase to a level higher than its pre-storm level as a result of repairs due to Sandy damage, this bill provides that the Commissioner of Finance shall grant a partial abatement of real property taxes so that the owners of these properties will not incur such an increase in real property taxes for fiscal year 2015 over the bill they received in Fiscal 2013.

Section one of this bill adds a new section 11-243.1 to the Administrative Code authorizing the Commissioner of Finance to grant a partial abatement of real property taxes for certain class one, two and four properties.

Class 1, Class 2, and Class 4 properties which:

- The Department of Finance reduced the assessed valuation of the property in FY 14 as a result of Sandy damage;
- In FY 15, the Department of Finance increased the assessed valuation of the building as result of repairs for such damage;
- The assessed valuation of the building in FY 15 exceeds the value of the property in FY 14; and
- Owners of such property made repairs on or before January 5, 2014. To the extent the square footage used to determine the assessed valuation of the building on the property for fiscal year 2015 exceeds that for fiscal year 2013, the bill provides that the Department of Finance will recalculate the abatement to reduce the abatement by the portion of the tax for fiscal year 2015 that is attributable to the excess square footage of the building.

The bill also includes provisions for the correction of erroneous abatements and the collection of the amount of abatements granted in error, and for the adjustment of abatements granted to properties for which the assessed valuation and the corresponding real property tax have been reduced.

Effect of the Preconsidered Introduction

According to the Department of Finance, it is estimated a total of 7,456 tax parcels (1,684 buildings) will receive the abatement:

- Class 1: 2,109 parcels (1,458 buildings)
- Class 2: 4,931 parcels (126 buildings)
- Class 4: 416 parcels (100 buildings)

The amount of the abatement will reflect the increase in the real property tax attributable to improvements (repairs made for Sandy damage) on the eligible property. (The calculation varies slightly for the large Class 2 properties with more than 10 units, and Class 4 properties). This abatement will provide an estimated $4,083,018 in much-needed tax relief to 1,684 buildings. 1,458 of those buildings are 1 to 3 family homes who will see an estimated average abatement of $1,077 off their tax bill.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: For Fiscal Year (FY) 2015 only, this bill would provide real property tax relief to New York City residents who repaired or rebuilt properties that were severely damaged by Super Storm Sandy. In order to assist property owners who saw their assessed value increase to a level higher than its pre-storm level as a result of repairs due to Sandy damage, this bill provides that the Commissioner of Finance shall grant a partial abatement of real property taxes so that the owners of these properties will not incur such an increase in real property taxes for fiscal year 2015 over the bill they received in Fiscal 2013.

To the extent the square footage used to determine the assessed valuation of the building on the property for fiscal year 2015 exceeds that for fiscal year 2013, the bill provides that the Department of Finance will recalculate the abatement to reduce the abatement by the portion of the tax for fiscal year 2015 that is attributable to the excess square footage of the building.

The bill also includes provisions for the correction of erroneous abatements and the collection of the amount of abatements granted in error, and for the adjustment of abatements granted to properties for which the assessed valuation and the corresponding real property tax have been reduced.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law shall take effect on the same date as a chapter of the laws of 2014 amending the real property tax law relating to establishing a partial abatement of real property taxes on real property that was rebuilt after being seriously damaged by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve in a city having a population of one million or more, as proposed in legislative bill number S.7257, takes effect.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2015

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY14	FY Succeeding Effective FY15	Full Fiscal Impact FY15

Expenditures	$0	$0	$0
Net	$0	($4,000,000)	($4,000,000)

IMPACT ON REVENUES: The bill would provide about $4,000,000 in abatements to 7,372 property tax parcels. The exact value of the abatements will not be known until the City adopts the tax rates for Fiscal 2015, which is done as part of the adoption process for the Fiscal 2015 budget. The $4,000,000 figure is therefore based on the final assessed values for Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2014 tax rates used as an estimate for the Fiscal 2015 rates. The final figure is not expected to vary greatly from this estimate.

a. the department of finance reduced the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen from the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve as a result of damage caused by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve;

b. Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision and except as provided in paragraph c of this subdivision, the amount of the partial abatement of the real property taxes due on eligible real property classified as class two or class four real property as defined in subdivision one of section eighteen hundred two of this chapter to which subdivision three of section eighteen hundred five of this chapter applies shall be equal to the amount of (1) the increase in the actual assessed valuation attributable to an addition to or improvement of the property as provided in subdivision five of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen, (2) reduced by the increase in the actual assessed valuation attributable to an addition to or improvement of the property as provided in subdivision five of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the transitional assessed valuation for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen, and the denominator of which is the actual assessed valuation for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen, (3) multiplied by the real property tax rate that is applicable to the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen. Eligible real property shall not be eligible for an abatement under this section if the fraction calculated in subparagraph two of this paragraph is equal to or greater than one.

c. In the event that the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen exceeds the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve, the amount of the partial abatement shall be the amount computed by multiplying the amount calculated under paragraph a or b of this subdivision by a fraction, the numerator of which is equal to the amount of the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve, and the denominator of which is equal to the amount of the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen.

d. For property held in the cooperative form of ownership, the abatement shall be credited to each unit therein in an amount equal to that proportion of the amount calculated under this subdivision that is attributable to such unit, as determined by the proportional relationship of the owner's share or shares of stock in the cooperative corporation that owns such real property to the total outstanding stock of the cooperative corporation.

e. Eligible real property shall not be eligible for an abatement under this section if the amount of the abatement calculated pursuant to this subdivision exceeds the annual tax on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen.

5. Recovery of erroneous abatement.

a. For purposes of this section, an "erroneous abatement" means that:

(1) an abatement was granted to a property that was not entitled to an abatement under this section, or

(2) an abatement was applied or calculated in error under this section. In such event, the amount of the erroneous abatement shall be equal to the difference between the amount of the abatement originally received and the amount to which the property was entitled.

b. If the commissioner of finance determines that a property received an erroneous abatement, he or she shall recover such erroneous abatement by deducting the amount of the erroneous abatement from any refund or rebate otherwise payable to the owner, and any balance of the amount of the erroneous abatement remaining unpaid shall constitute a tax lien on the real property, as of the due and payable date provided on the next tax bill mailed by the commissioner of finance containing such amount. If such amount is not paid by such due and payable date, interest at the rate applicable to delinquent real property taxes on such property shall be charged and collected on such amount from the due and payable date provided on such notice to the date of payment. Such tax lien shall be enforceable in accordance with the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of tax liens in any such city.

6. Reduction of assessed value. If the taxable assessed value of a property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen is reduced after the assessment roll applicable to such fiscal year becomes final, any abatement already granted pursuant to this section shall be adjusted accordingly. The difference between the original abatement and the adjusted abatement shall be deducted from any credit otherwise due.

7. Rulemaking. The commissioner of finance shall be authorized to promulgate rules necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section.

§ 2. This local law shall take effect on the same date as a chapter of the laws of 2014 amending the real property tax law relating to establishing a partial abatement of real property taxes on real property that was rebuilt after being seriously damaged by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve in a city having a population of one million or more, as proposed in legislative bill number S.7257, takes effect.

RE: Finance Committee Agenda of May 29, 2014- Resolution approving a tax exemption for 2 Land Use Items (Council Districts 1 and 18).

The Open Door Senior Citizens Apartments located at 50 Norfolk Street in Council Member Chin's District consists of one multi-family residential building with 155 units of rental housing for elderly persons of low income. The Chinatown Planning Council Housing Development Fund Company ("HDFC") developed the project under the Section 202 Supportive Housing Program for the Elderly, with financing and operating subsidies from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD") and tax exemption from the City. HDFC now wishes to refinance its original HUD mortgage in order to fund needed repairs, decrease debt service, and meet other financial obligations. In order to facilitate the project, the Prior Tax Exemption must be terminated and replaced with a new exemption that is coterminous with the new 20-year term of the new regulatory agreement the HDFC will enter into with HPD. As such, HPD is requesting that the Council approve a new, 20 year tax exemption under the same terms pursuant to Section 577 of the Private Housing Finance Law.

This item has the approval of Council Member Chin.

St. Andrews Housing Development Fund Company located at 2155 Virgil Place in Council Member Palma's District consists of one multi-family residential building with 79 units of rental housing for elderly persons of low income. St. Andrews Housing Development Fund Company ("HDFC") developed the project under the Section 202 Supportive Housing Program for the Elderly, with financing and operating subsidies from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD") and tax exemption from the City. The HDFC wishes to refinance its original HUD mortgage in order to fund needed repairs, decrease debt service, and meet other financial obligations. In order to facilitate the project, the Prior Tax Exemption must be terminated and replaced with a new exemption that is coterminous with the new 35-year term of the new HUD mortgage loan. As such, HPD is requesting that the Council approve a new, 35 year, partial tax exemption under the same terms pursuant to Section 577 of the Private Housing Finance Law.

This item has the approval of Council Member Palma.

In connection herewith, Council Member Ferreras offered the following resolution:

Res. No. 265

Resolution approving a partial exemption from real property taxes for property located at 2155 Virgil Place (Block 3612, Lot 13) the Bronx, pursuant to Section 577 of the Private Housing Finance Law (Preconsidered L.U. No. 77).

By Council Member Ferreras.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD") submitted to the Council its request dated April 21, 2014 that the Council take the following action regarding a housing project located at 2155 Virgil Place (Block 3612, Lot 13) the Bronx ("Exemption Area"):

Approve a partial exemption of the Project from real property taxes pursuant to Section 577 of the Real Property Tax Law (the "Tax Exemption");

WHEREAS, the project description that HPD provided to the Council states that the purchaser of the Project (the "Sponsor") is a duly organized housing development fund company under Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law;

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the financial implications relating to the Tax Exemption;

RESOLVED:

The Council hereby grants a partial exemption from real property taxes provided:

(a) "Effective Date" shall mean the date of repayment or refinancing of the HUD Mortgage.

(b) "Exemption Area" shall mean the real property located in the Borough of the Bronx, City and State of New York, identified as Block 3612, Lot 13 on the Tax Map of the City of New York.

(c) "Expiration Date" shall mean the earlier to occur of (i) a date which is thirty-five (35) years from the Effective Date, (ii) the date of the expiration or termination of the Regulatory Agreement, or (iii) the date upon which the Exemption Area ceases to be owned by either a housing development fund company or an entity wholly controlled by a housing development fund company.

(d) "HDFC" shall mean St. Andrews Housing Development Fund Company, Inc.

(e) "HPD" shall mean the Department of Housing Preservation and Development of the City of New York.

(f) "HUD" shall mean the Department of Housing and Urban Development of the United States of America.

(g) "HUD Mortgage" shall mean the original loan made by HUD to the HDFC in connection with the Section 202 Supportive Housing Program for the Elderly, which loan was secured by a mortgage on the Exemption Area.

(h) "New Exemption" shall mean the exemption from real property taxation provided hereunder with respect to the Exemption Area.

(i) "Owner" shall mean the HDFC or any future owner of the Exemption Area.

(j) "Prior Exemption" shall mean the exemption from real property taxation for the Exemption Area approved by the Board of Estimate on November 13, 1981 (Cal. No. 222).

(k) "Regulatory Agreement" shall mean the regulatory agreement between HPD and the Owner establishing certain controls upon the operation of the Exemption Area during the term of the New Exemption.

(l) "Use Agreement" shall mean the use agreement by and between the HDFC and HUD which commences on or before the Effective Date, runs with the land, binds all subsequent owners and creditors of the Exemption Area, and requires that the housing project on the Exemption Area continue to operate on terms at least as advantageous to existing and future tenants as the terms required by the original Section 202 loan agreement or any Section 8 rental assistance payments contract or any other rental housing assistance contract and all applicable federal regulations.

2. The Prior Exemption shall terminate upon the Effective Date.

3. All of the value of the property in the Exemption Area, including both the land and any improvements (excluding those portions, if any, devoted to business or commercial use), shall be exempt from real property taxation, other than assessments for local improvements, for a period commencing upon the Effective Date and terminating upon the Expiration Date.

Commencing upon the Effective Date, and during each year thereafter until the Expiration Date, the HDFC shall make real property tax payments in the sum of (i) $197,402, plus (ii) an additional amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount by which the total contract rents applicable to the housing project for that year (as adjusted and established pursuant to Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended) exceed the total contract rents which are authorized as of the Effective Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the total annual real property tax payment by the HDFC shall not at any time exceed the amount of real property taxes that would otherwise be due in the absence of any form of exemption from or abatement of real property taxation provided by an existing or future local, state, or federal law, rule or regulation.

5. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary:

a. The New Exemption shall terminate if HPD determines at any time that (i) the Exemption Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law, (ii) the Exemption Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of the Regulatory Agreement, (iii) the Exemption Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of any other agreement with, or for the benefit of, the City of New York, (iv) the Exemption Area is conveyed to a new owner without the prior written approval of HPD, or (v) the demolition of any private or multiple dwelling on the Exemption Area has commenced without the prior written consent of HPD. HPD shall deliver written notice of any such determination to Owner and all mortgagees of record, which notice shall provide for an opportunity to cure of not less than sixty (60) days. If the noncompliance specified in such notice is not cured within the time period specified therein, the New Exemption shall prospectively terminate.

b. The New Exemption shall only apply to a building on the Exemption Area that exists on the Effective Date.

c. Nothing herein shall entitle the HDFC to a refund of any real property taxes which accrued and were paid with respect to the Exemption Area prior to the Effective Date.

d. All previous resolutions, if any, providing an exemption from or abatement of real property taxation with respect to the Exemption Area are hereby revoked.

6. In consideration of the New Exemption, the owner of the Exemption Area, for so long as the New Exemption shall remain in effect, shall waive the benefits of any additional or concurrent exemption from or abatement of real property taxation which may be authorized under any existing or future local, state or federal law, rule or regulation.

WHEREAS, upon due notice, the Council held a public hearing on the Project on May 20, 2014;

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the land use and financial implications and other policy issues relating to the Project;

RESOLVED:

The Council waives the area designation requirement pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law.

Reports of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation

At this point the Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) announced that the following items had been preconsidered by the Committee on Finance and had been favorably reported for adoption.

Report for M-65

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Communication from the Mayor - "An act to amend the tax law, the administrative code of the city of New York, chapter 877 of the laws of 1975, chapter 884 of the laws of 1975 and chapter 882 of the laws of 1977, relating to the imposition of certain taxes in the city of New York, in relation to postponing the expiration of certain tax rates and taxes in the city of New York" A.9462 / S.7386.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation, to which the annexed communication was referred on May 29, 2014, respectfully

REPORTS:

(The following report refers to pending State legislation which requires a Home Rule Message for passage in the State Senate and State Assembly in Albany, N.Y. This Committee is to decide whether to recommend the adoption of this respective Mayor's Message by the Council. By adopting this item, the Council would be formally requesting the New York State Legislature to act favorably in this matter)

BACKGROUND:

The proposed legislation provides for the extension of the City's authority to continue to impose certain taxes. Specifically, in many instances such as with the City's personal income tax, cigarette tax and general corporation tax, failure to extend this authority could result in a return to "default" tax rates which are very outdated and are substantially below current rates.

According to the two sponsor's memorandum in support if the current levels of taxation are allowed to expire at the end of 2014, the City will lose approximately $12 billion in revenue in Fiscal 2015. Most of these taxes have been in effect since the 1970s and have become an accepted part of the City's tax structure. The loss of such revenue would have a devastating affect on the City's budget. According to the Memorandum, these taxes are extended periodically, most recently in 2011.

- This legislation extends the current rates associated with the City's personal income tax through 2017. These rates are due to sunset on December 31, 2014. Should the rates sunset, they revert to lower tax rate with a maximum rate of 1.48 percent.

- It extends the City's current general corporation tax's rates, which would otherwise sunset on December 31, 2014, reverting to lower rates. The rates are set by formula and can be based on the larger of a respective firm's income, business and investment capital, or combined firm's income and salaries paid to persons owning over five percent of taxpayer's capital stock.

- It extends the 4.5% City sales tax on credit rating & reporting services beyond its sunset date November 30, 2014 to November 30, 2017.

- It also extends the City's sales tax on beauty and barbering services beyond its sunset date November 30, 2014 to November 30, 2017.

- Finally, it extends the City's current cigarette tax rates. The current rate is 75 cents for each 10 cigarettes, but is set to decline to between 2 and 4 cents for each 10 cigarettes, depending on tar and nicotine content, as of December 31, 2014.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

According to the Sponsor's Memorandum in Support, the provisions of the legislation is the following: Sections 1 and 12 of this legislation would amend Section 1212-A(a)(3) of the Tax Law and Section 11-2040(a) of the Administrative Code, relating to the City's 4.5% sales tax on credit rating and credit reporting services. This tax is set to expire on November 30, 2014. The Tax Law amendment authorizes the City to impose the tax for an additional three years, until November 30, 2017. The Administrative Code amendment imposes the tax for an additional three years until November 30, 2017.

Section 2 of the bill amends Tax Law Section 1310 (a), relating to the tax on personal income of residents of the City. The amendment of the Tax Law section 1301 (a)(1) authorizes the City to extend existing rates of the personal income tax (the rates set forth in Tax Law section 1304 (a)(1)(A), (a)(2)(A) and (a)(3)(A) for an additional three years (for taxable years beginning before 2018) and delays implementation of lower personal income tax rates for three years.

Section 7 of the bill makes a conforming change to the opening paragraph of Administrative Code section 11-1701, which relates to the tax on personal income of residents of the City. The amendment extends the existing personal income rates an additional three years (for taxable years beginning in 2015) and delays the implementation of lower personal income tax rates for three years.

Sections 4 and 8 of the bill amends the Tax Law section 1304(b) and Administrative Code section 11-1701 (b), relating to the tax on the personal income of residents of the City. They make conforming changes to the lower personal income tax rates, delaying their implementation for three years (until taxable years beginning after 2017).

Section 5 and 10 of the bill amends the Tax Law section 1304 (B) (a) and the Administrative code section 11-1704.1 (a)(1), relating to the additional tax on City taxable income. The Tax Law amendment authorizes the City to impose the additional tax for an additional three years at the rate of 14% (for taxable years beginning before 2018).

Section 6, 14, and 15 of the bill amend section 11-604-E of the Administrative Code, Chapter 884 of the Laws of 1975 and Chapter 882 of the Laws of 1977, relating to the City general corporation tax. The current tax rate is the greater of 8.85% on income, 1.5 mills on business and investment capital, 8.85% multiplied by 15% of income plus the amount of salaries and other compensation paid to any person who at any time during the taxable year owned more than 5% of the taxpayer's capital stock or a minimum tax based on the amount of New York City receipts.

Section 11 of the bill amends the Administrative Code section 11-2002 (a) relating to the 4.5% sales tax on beauty and barbering services. The amendment imposes the tax for another three years.

Section 13 of the bill amends Chapter 877 of the laws of 1975 relating to the New York City cigarette tax. The current cigarette tax rate is 75 cents for each ten cigarettes, but is set to decline to 2 cents for each ten cigarettes on January 1, 2015. The amendment extends the existing rate of tax for an additional three years (until December 31, 2017).

Report for M-66

Report of the Committee on State and Federal Legislation in favor of approving a Communication from the Mayor - "AN ACT to amend chapter 130 of the laws of 1998, amending the general municipal law relating to temporary investments by local governments, in relation to extending the expiration of the provisions thereof" S.6624.

The Committee on State and Federal Legislation, to which the annexed communication was referred on May 29, 2014, respectfully

REPORTS:

(The following report refers to pending State legislation which requires a Home Rule Message for passage in the State Senate in Albany, N.Y. This Committee is to decide whether to recommend the adoption of this respective Mayor's Message by the Council. By adopting this item, the Council would be formally requesting the New York State Legislature to act favorably in this matter)

BACKGROUND

The State General Municipal Law explicitly identifies the types of instruments in which local governments can temporarily invest their funds. New York City is given additional authority to choose between a broader array of temporary instruments than smaller cities. The Legislature has recognized the need to allow the City to modernize the management of its finances by expanding the types of instruments in which the City may invest, within prudent limits. The expansion has provided the City with increased flexibility in its investment decisions and has consequently allowed the City to achieve higher yields on its investments without a significant increase of risk. According to the Memorandum in Support, in an analysis done by New York City Comptroller Scott Stringer’s office, New York City could lose around $10 million annually without the extension of this law.

This bill extends to 2017 the City’s authority to hold commercial paper and short term securities issued by other states and localities. Without it the City is limited to bank deposits, Treasuries, agency securities and NYS paper as ways of managing its cash.

LEGISLATION

This legislation extends the July 1, 2014 sunset provisions on the City’s additional authority over temporary investments by three years to July 1, 2017. A new three-year extension will allow the City to continue to achieve the increased flexibility and higher yields made possible by the past changes.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

See Council Finance Division fiscal impact statement.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The act would take effect immediately; provided however, if this act shall have become law after July 1, 2014 it shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after July 1, 2014.

BACKGROUND

In 2013, 286 people, including 168 pedestrians and 11 cyclists, were killed in traffic crashes in New York City, a 24 percent increase in pedestrians killed compared to 2012.¹ There were over 16,000 pedestrian and cyclist injuries in 2013 among over 54,000 total traffic-related injuries.²

The beginning of 2014 brought a particularly tragic series of pedestrian and cyclist fatalities. On January 10, 2014, a 9-year-old boy walking with his father on West End Avenue at 97th Street in Manhattan was struck and killed by a taxi.³ On the same day, a 73-year-old man was fatally struck by a tour bus at 96th Street and Broadway.⁴ On January 18, 2014, Angela Hurtado was killed when she was struck by a vehicle as she crossed Grand Avenue at 69th Place in Queens; the driver of the vehicle, Abel Tinoco, 28, was charged with a misdemeanor for driving with a suspended license.⁵ On the same day, a Ford Expedition fatally struck a man in Queens, near Cross Island Parkway and Union Turnpike.⁶ On January 19, 2014, an ambulance clipped Samantha Lee as she was crossing midblock on West 96th Street between Broadway and West End Avenue in Manhattan, knocking her down and into the path of another car that struck and killed her.⁷ On the same day, bicyclist Pedro Santiago was struck and killed by a

Vision Zero Action Plan

On January 15, 2014, Mayor de Blasio announced the creation of the Vision Zero Working Group.⁹ The Group included the NYPD, DOT, TLC, and Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH), and it was tasked with “developing a comprehensive roadmap to eliminate deadly crashes, especially those involving pedestrians.”¹⁰

On February 18, 2014, the Working Group issued an Action Plan which included 63 recommendations for ways to reduce traffic fatalities on the City's streets.¹¹ The proposals fell within the jurisdiction of various City agencies and included several State and City legislative suggestions.

In the past, traffic safety advocates have criticized the NYPD for appearing to focus on vehicle violations less directly related to preventing collisions, such as tinted windows and broken taillights, at the expense of other violations such as speeding and failure to yield. According to the Action Plan, “70% of pedestrian fatalities have causes outside of the pedestrian's control, particularly drivers speeding or failing to yield.”¹² To combat the types of behavior that play a direct role in causing collisions, the Action Plan recommends that the NYPD “increase enforcement against dangerous moving violations, including speeding, failing to yield to pedestrians, signal violations, improper turns/disobeying signage, and phoning/texting while driving.”¹³ The Action Plan also reaffirms the NYPD's commitment to expanding Collision Investigation Squad (“CIS”) investigations to “critical injury” cases and enhancing collision investigations with increased training and personnel.¹⁴

In the wake of the pedestrian deaths that have occurred this year, discussion has ensued regarding the appropriate role that the enforcement of pedestrian violations should play in the City's efforts to increase traffic safety. Media reports revealed a jaywalking crackdown on the Upper West Side in January and a nearly eightfold increase in jaywalking tickets citywide as a result.¹⁵ However, in his presentation of the Action Plan, Mayor de Blasio said that jaywalking enforcement is not a part of the overall Vision Zero priorities but that precinct commanders have discretion to direct pedestrian enforcement as they deem necessary.¹⁶

The Action Plan also lays out actions to be taken beyond police enforcement and investigations. DOT is tasked with making a wide variety of street design changes aimed at improving traffic safety, including intersection redesigns, new slow zones, more speed humps, programming more intersections with leading pedestrian intervals, and more pedestrian safety islands, among many others.¹⁷ The Plan calls on TLC to create a safety enforcement squad, equipped with speed radar equipment, to enforce speed and safety regulations, in addition to exploring new technology and enhancing driver education to increase safety.¹⁸

Furthermore, the Plan calls for a series of State legislative actions, including granting New York City local control over speed camera and red light camera enforcement, giving the City the ability to lower its citywide speed limit to 25 miles per hour, and strengthening Hayley and Diego's Law as discussed above.¹⁹ The Plan also includes ideas for City legislative actions, particularly related to bolstering enforcement efforts against dangerous TLC-licensed drivers. Finally the plan calls for extensive public education and outreach efforts in order to both solicit the public's input regarding Vision Zero initiatives and to encourage all New Yorkers to take street safety into account as they go about their daily lives.

The Council & Vision Zero

On February 24, 2014, the Committee on Transportation and the Committee on Public Safety held a joint oversight hearing examining the Vision Zero Action Plan, at which time the Committees heard testimony from the Administration regarding their plans and strategies related to Vision Zero. Safety advocates and victims' families, as well Manhattan Borough President Gale Brewer and representatives of the New York County District Attorney and the New York Taxi Workers Alliance also offered their views on the Plan and ideas for how to increase traffic safety in New York City.

The Council held Vision Zero town hall meetings in each borough in order to gather feedback from the public regarding Vision Zero, in particular new ideas for street safety-related legislative and policy proposals. The first town hall meeting was held in Manhattan on March 26, 2014, followed by one in Brooklyn on April 1, 2014 and one in Queens on April 23, 2014, Staten Island on May 7, 2014 and in the Bronx on May 22, 2014. Individual Council Members have also held their own Vision Zero-themed events in recent weeks.

Vision Zero Legislative Package

The bills and resolutions the Committee will hold a hearing on today relate to the street safety goals of Vision Zero. The bills proposed would require the City to study factors found to be related to serious crashes, impose penalties for certain dangerous behaviors, regulate DOT's actions concerning work zones and traffic signal replacement, require safety equipment on trucks, lower the speed limit on certain streets, require the installation of “slow zones,” mandate more publicly available crash data, including crashes involving TLC-licensed vehicles, and strengthen penalties against TLC-licensed drivers involved in serious collisions and who exhibit dangerous driving behaviors. The specific provisions of each bill and resolution are discussed below.

Proposed Int. No. 43-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 43-A would amend section 19-182 of the Administrative Code by adding a new subdivision c. Currently, section 19-182 requires DOT to conduct a comprehensive pedestrian safety study and report on such study every five years, with the first study to be released and sent to the Mayor, City Council Speaker and posted on DOT’s website on or before November 30, 2015.

Paragraph 1 of new subdivision c would define three terms: “exclusive pedestrian phase” would be defined as a pedestrian control signal that allows pedestrians an exclusive interval of time to completely cross a street using any of the existing crosswalks within the intersection while traffic is stopped in all directions; “leading pedestrian signal” would be defined as a pedestrian control signal where the walk signal would be shown for an interval of time prior to a green light being shown for the corresponding or parallel direction of traffic; and “motor vehicle” would have the same meaning as in the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law.

Paragraph 2 of new subdivision c would require that as part of the comprehensive studies and plans required pursuant to section 19-182, left turns be studied, with a goal of reducing crashes and the severity of crashes. Included in the study would be a consideration of the removal of parking near left turn location, and the installation of leading pedestrian interval, the designation of lanes exclusive for left turn, and the installation of exclusive phase.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 43-A would have the bill take effect immediately upon enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 46-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 46-A would amend section 19-128 of the Administrative Code by amending subdivisions a and b and by adding new subdivisions e and f. Subdivision a would be amended to add a paragraph 2, which would define “traffic control signal” with the same meaning as in the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law. Subdivision b would be amended to require DOT to maintain a log of when DOT was notified of a traffic control signal having malfunctioned. The log would have to have the date and time the notice was received, the date and time of when it was repaired, or the date and time of when it was determined that repair was not necessary.

New subdivision e would require DOT to either repair a traffic control signal, implement alternative measures to control traffic, or determine that repair is not needed within 24 hours of the notice that the signal was in need of repair.

New subdivision f would specify that the requirements of the section will not apply as long as at least one other traffic signal facing the same direction as the broken or missing signal remains operational.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 46-A would have the bill take effect ninety days following enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 80-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 80-A would amend subchapter 1 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the Administrative Code by adding a new section 19-156. Subdivision a of new section 19-156 would define the term “bridge” as a span that includes a roadway for vehicle use that is located above another surface. Work zone would be defined as a location where workers are engaged in a stationary operation for more than four hours and are not mostly separated from traffic by a temporary concrete or similar such barrier.

Subdivision b of new section 19-156 would require that on or before January 1, 2015, DOT would have to conduct a review of guidelines and best practices with regard to work zone safety on bridges under DOT’s jurisdiction. A written report detailing those guidelines and best practices would have to be submitted to the Speaker of the Council and posted on DOT’s website.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 80-A would have the bill take effect immediately upon enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 140-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 140-A would amend section 19-177 of the Administrative Code by adding subdivisions d, e, and f. The title of the section would be amended to read: “Speed Limits; posting of signs; neighborhood slow zones; speed limits near schools.”

Paragraph 1 of new subdivision d of section 19-177 would require seven neighborhood slow zones established annually in 2014 and 2015, with each slow zone containing at least five blocks. The slow zones would have the speed limit reduced to 20 miles per hour in that area, with appropriate traffic calming measures implemented (traffic calming measures defined as “any physical engineering measure or measures that reduce the negative effects of motor vehicle use, alter driver behavior and improve conditions for non-motorized street users such as pedestrians and bicyclists.”) Paragraph 2 of such new subdivision d would require DOT to produce annual reports listing the location of all neighborhood slow zones, reviewing whether such zones have minimized the risk of traffic crashes, critical injuries or death, and would include a determination as to whether DOT will continue to establish seven neighborhood slow zones annually.

New subdivision e of section 19-177 would have three paragraphs. Paragraph 1 would require DOT to establish speed limits between 15 and 20 mph at fifty school locations annually. Paragraph 2 of new subdivision e of such section would require the DOT Commissioner to inform the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council if such speed limits will be established at less than fifty schools within a year and the reason thereof. Paragraph 3 of new subdivision e, would allow DOT to determine, after evaluating every school in the City for the establishment of such speed limits, not to establish any further such speed limits. DOT would have to inform the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council in writing and continue to evaluate the need to establish such speed limits.

New subdivision f of such section would require the DOT Commissioner to annually, starting February 1, 2015, list on DOT’s website all locations established pursuant to new subdivision e of section 19-177.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 140 would have the bill take effect immediately upon its enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 167-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 167-A would amend section 10-163 of the Administrative Code. The title of the section would be amended to read “Speed contests and stunt behavior.”

Subdivision a would provide three definitions: “vehicle” would be as defined in the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law; “engage” or “aid or abet” would mean “actions or circumstances that reasonably indicate that a race, exhibition or contest of speed or stunt behavior has occurred or is imminent, including, but not limited to: the presence of a canister appearing to hold nitrous oxide attached to a vehicle; an explicit invitation to race; the presence of a starting or ending point marked in some way; wagering on the race’s outcome; the exhibiting of stunt behavior; acting as a starter or flagperson; pushing vehicles to a starting line; or directing traffic at such an event or gathering;” and “stunt behavior” would mean operating a motor vehicle in a manner that would unreasonably interfere with the public’s use of public streets or private streets that are held open to public use, and/or endangers the health or safety of the public, the vehicle operator, or the passengers of the vehicle. This would occur through actions including but not limited to accelerating the vehicle rapidly, performing a “wheelie”, or spinning the vehicle into a circle (“a “donut”), heating the rear tire (a “burnout”) or revving the engine.

Subdivision b of section 10-163 would make technical amendments, but would still make it illegal for an individual to participate in or aid or abet in a speed contest involving a vehicle. New subdivision c of section 10-163 would make it illegal for a person to participate in or aid or abet a stunt behavior involving a vehicle, except as provided in the Vehicle and Traffic Law. Subdivision d of such section would make it illegal to participate in a speed contest or stunt behavior by taking specific overt actions encouraging the individuals involved in the speed contest or stunt behavior or by wagering on the outcome of the contest. Subdivision e of section 10-163 would make it illegal for a person to operate, drive or park a motorcycle unless the license plate is easily readable and is not obstructed.

Subdivision f of such section would make violation of subdivisions b or c of section 10 163 misdemeanors punishable by a fine of not more than $600, imprisonment of up to 6 months, or both, except that the imprisonment for a violation of such subdivision c could not be more than sixty days. A second or subsequent conviction of subdivision b or c within 10 years would increase the penalty to up to $1000, 1 year in jail, or both, except that the imprisonment for a violation of such subdivision c could not be more than one hundred twenty days. A violation of subdivisions d or e of such section would be punishable by up to $250, fifteen days in jail, or both.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 167-A would have the bill take effect ninety days after its enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 168-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 168-A would amend section 19-182 of the Administrative Code by adding a new subdivision d. Currently, section 19-182 requires the DOT to conduct a comprehensive pedestrian safety study and report on such study every five years, with the first study to be released and sent to the Mayor, City Council Speaker and posted on DOT’s website on or before November 30, 2015. Paragraph 1 of new subdivision d would define “arterial streets” as “high-capacity” streets. Paragraph 2 of new subdivision d would require that as part of the comprehensive studies and plans required pursuant to section 19-182, arterial streets be studied, with a goal of reducing crashes and the severity of crashes to minimize the risk of critical injury or death.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 168-A would have the bill take effect immediately upon enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 171-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 171-A would amend chapter 5 of title 19 of the Administrative Code to add a new section 19-541 titled “serious crashes.” New section 19-541 would allow the summary suspension of a TLC driver when a crash has occurred involving that driver, critical injury or death occurred as a result of that crash and a summons was issued to the driver for a traffic infraction. Upon the conviction of such driver for a violation that caused the serious injury or death, the drivers, TLC-issued license of the driver would be revoked. Where the traffic violation was dismissed or where there was a not guilty finding, the summary suspension would be lifted. Critical injury would be defined for the purposes of section 19-541 as any injury determined to be critical by emergency services workers present at the scene of the crash. The proposed section would not limit the TLC's authority to summarily suspend drivers for any other reasons.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 171-A would have the bill take effect ninety days following enactment into law, except that the TLC would take all necessary actions, including the adoption of rules prior to the effective date.

Proposed Int. No. 174-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 174-A would amend chapter 5 of title 19 of the Administrative Code by adding a new section 19-540. New section 19-540 would be titled "Review of crashes" and subdivision a of this new section would require TLC to review the results of the Police Department's investigation prior to or at the conclusion of the investigation where a crash occurred involving a TLC licensed vehicle and where critical injury or death resulted to one or more people. Furthermore, the TLC would be required to assess the fitness of the driver to continue to drive. The commission would have the authority to summarily suspend the TLC-licensed driver while any fitness review or enforcement action is pending. Critical injury would be defined in the section as any injury determined to be critical by emergency services workers present at the scene of the crash.

Subdivision b of new section 19-540 would require TLC to provide a quarterly report beginning February 1, 2015, to the Council Speaker detailing the number of crashes in the prior quarter that triggered the fitness review required by subdivision a of the new section, how many summary suspensions occurred, and in how many instances enforcement action was brought. The report would also need to be posted to TLC's website.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 174-A would have the bill take effect ninety days following enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 238-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 238-A would amend subchapter 3 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the Administrative Code by adding a new section 19-190 to be titled "right of way." Subdivision a of new section 19-190 would make it a traffic infraction for a motorist to interfere with the right of way of a pedestrian or bicyclist by failing to yield to the pedestrian or bicyclist while the pedestrian is in the crosswalk or otherwise lawfully crossing the street, and while the bicyclist is lawfully riding the bicyclist. The penalty for such an infraction would be a fine of up to $50 dollars, up to fifteen days in jail, or both. In addition, a civil penalty of up to $100 could be assessed.

Subdivision b of new section 19-190 would make it a misdemeanor for a motorist to interfere with the right of way of a pedestrian by causing contact with a pedestrian on the sidewalk or while the pedestrian was in the crosswalk or otherwise lawfully crossing the street, and as a result of the contact physical injury to the pedestrian or bicyclist occurs. The punishment would be a fine of up to $250, up to 30 days in jail, or both. In addition, a violator could be assessed a civil penalty of up to $250 as an alternative punishment or an additional punishment.

Subdivision c of new section 19-190 would provide a defense to a violation of the section that the occurrence was fully outside of the control of the motorist, including but not limited to when the contact was initiated by the pedestrian.

Subdivision d exempts persons, teams, or vehicles working on behalf of the City of New York, the state of New York, or the federal government. However, such persons, teams, or vehicles would still be required to exercise due care towards pedestrians or bicyclists.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. No. 238-A would have the bill take effect sixty days after its enactment into law.

Proposed Int. No. 272-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 272-A would amend subdivisions a, b, c and e of section 19-507.1 of the Administrative Code and would add new subdivisions i and j to this section. Subdivisions a, b, c, and e would remove now unnecessary language. Subdivision a would allow a driver to attend an approved remedial or refresher course in order to deduct 3 points from the number of points that they had accumulated under the persistent violators program, increased from the current 2 points. In the event that an approved course is not available the driver would be allowed to take a course approved by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles. Upon completion of such a course the driver would be allowed to deduct 3 points from the point accumulated under the persistent violators program or the critical drivers program, but not from both. The driver would decide from which program the points should be deducted. In addition, subdivision b would be amended to provide that any suspensions for accruing up to 6, but fewer than 10 points on a TLC driver's license would lead to a suspension of up to 30 days (currently, it is mandated that the suspension be 30 days.) Subdivision e would be amended to allow for points assessed pursuant to the section discussing the critical driver program to be added to the points assessed pursuant to the section discussing the persistent violator program, but would still not allow for there to be both program points assessed for the same occurrence.

New subdivision i of section 19-507.1 would allow a drivers TLC issued license to be suspended for up to 30 days if the driver accumulates 6 or more points, but fewer than 10, within a period of 15 months on his or her TLC license and Department of Motor Vehicle issued license. However, the points would have to be related to violations that threaten the safety or passengers or any other person. New subdivision j would allow a drivers TLC issued license to be revoked by the TLC if the driver accumulates 10 or more points within 15 month period on his or her TLC issued license and Department of Motor Vehicle license. However, the points would have to be related to violations that threaten the safety or passengers or any other person.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 272-A would amend subdivisions a and b of section 19-507.2 of the Administrative Code. Subdivisions a and b would both have technical amendments. Subdivision c would allow a driver to attend a DMV approved course in order to deduct 3 points from the number of points that they had accumulated under the critical drivers program, increased from the current 2 points. In the event that a TLC approved course is not available the driver would be allowed to take a DMV approved course to deduct 3 points from the points accumulated under the persistent violators program or the critical drivers program, but not from both. The driver would decide from which program the points should be deducted.

Section 3 of Int. 272 would have the bill take effect one hundred twenty days after enactment into law. Newly added subdivision i and j of section 19-507.1 would only be applicable to points accumulated subsequent to the effective date of this section. The TLC would be required to take all necessary action, including the promulgation of rules, prior to the effective date.

Proposed Int. No. 277-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 277-A would amend chapter 5 of title 19 of the Administrative Code by adding a new section 19-542. New section 19-542 would require that beginning February 1, 2015, and every quarter thereafter, the TLC provide a report to the Council and post on TLC's website regarding the number of crashes involving a TLC licensed vehicle. The report would be required to be disaggregated by the type of TLC vehicle involved and whether critical injury or death resulted. Critical injury would be defined in the section as any injury determined to be critical by emergency services workers present at the scene of the crash. Finally, TLC would have to maintain within its records the number of crashes involving a specific TLC licensed driver.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. 277-A would have the bill take effect immediately upon its enactment into law.

Res. No. 6

Res. No. 6 would state that New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law ("VTL") section 1212 defines reckless driving as driving or using any motor vehicle, motorcycle or any other vehicle in a manner which unreasonably interferes with the free and proper use of the public highway, or unreasonably endangers users of the public highway. The Resolution would note that people found to have violated VTL section 1212 are guilty of a misdemeanor and may be imprisoned for up to 180 days, in addition to a $300 fine and 5 points on their driver's license.

The Resolution would state that while those penalties may be appropriate where nobody was injured or killed as a result of the reckless driving, they are wholly inadequate punishment when the reckless driving results in serious injury or death. The Resolution would point out that additional charges such as vehicular assault, vehicular manslaughter, vehicular homicide or manslaughter may be brought against a person who drives recklessly and seriously injures or kills someone.

The Resolution would state that while those charges subject the guilty person to much more time in prison than a conviction of reckless driving, those charges are often hard to prove and require certain factors such as the driver having been previously convicted of driving recklessly, being intoxicated at the time of the accident or been driving on a revoked or suspended license. The Resolution would state that according to various reports, On June 4, 2013, Ariel Russo, a 4-year old girl, and her grandmother, were struck by an SUV at an intersection at West 97th Street and Amsterdam Avenue in Manhattan driven by a 17-year old unlicensed driver who was fleeing police who had pulled him over for driving recklessly.

The Resolution would state that Ariel Russo tragically died as the result of her injuries and her grandmother was hospitalized for several weeks as a result of hers.

The Resolution would state that the 17-year-old driver, Franklyn Reyes, was subsequently reportedly charged with manslaughter and vehicular manslaughter. The Resolution would further state that this in addition to the burden of proof problems, the current penalties associated with leaving the scene of an accident do not accurately reflect the severity of the crime.

The Resolution would state that reports indicate there was a 4 minute delay in dispatching an ambulance to assist Ariel and her grandmother. The Resolution would state that this delay could potentially be a factor in any criminal case against the driver but particularly in a case for manslaughter or vehicular manslaughter.

The Resolution would state that had the criminal penalty for reckless driving been more significant, there would have been an additional opportunity for some modicum of justice beyond 180 days in prison.

The Resolution would state that while the law cannot be changed to impact the Russo case, it can be changed to act as a future deterrent to those that might drive recklessly and to exact a more appropriate punishment for those found guilty of driving recklessly and seriously injuring or killing someone. The Resolution would further state that the New York State Legislature should immediately determine more appropriate criminal penalties and change the law accordingly.

Finally, Res. No. 6 would call upon the New York State Legislature to amend the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law to increase the criminal penalty for reckless driving when serious physical injury or death of a person results from the reckless driving.

Res. No. 51

Res. No. 51 would state that hit-and-run drivers not only endanger the lives of others, but also evade personal responsibility. The Resolution would note that according to the American Automobile Association Foundation for Traffic Safety, approximately 11 percent of all police reported crashes involve at least one driver who flees the scene and nearly 1,500 people die annually in hit and run crashes.

The Resolution would state that in order to hold drivers accountable for their actions, in May 2005, the New York State Legislature amended §600 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law ("VTL"), entitled "leaving scene of an incident without reporting," to remedy gaps in the law that gave intoxicated and reckless drivers an incentive to leave the scene of an accident when serious physical injury or death had occurred. The Resolution would point out that prior to the May 2005 revision, a driver who was intoxicated and caused a death could, depending on the circumstances, be charged with vehicular manslaughter in the second degree, a class D felony carrying a penalty of up to 7 years imprisonment, yet if the driver left the scene and was no longer intoxicated at the time he or she was apprehended, the most with which the driver could be charged was criminally negligent homicide, a class E felony, carrying a penalty of up to 4 years imprisonment.

The Resolution would state that the State Legislature closed this gap by making it a class D felony for a person to leave the scene of an accident when death results from the accident; the Legislature also increased the penalty for those who leave the scene of an accident when personal injury results, from a B misdemeanor to an A misdemeanor. The Resolution would argue that despite these changes to the law, the State Legislature failed to address the burden of proof problems in prosecuting these cases.

The Resolution would state that in order to secure a conviction, a prosecutor must still prove that the driver knew or had reason to know that personal injury, serious physical injury, or death resulted from the accident. The Resolution would also state prosecutors often face substantial difficulties attempting to prove that a driver fleeing the scene of an accident knew or should have known of an injury or death, particularly when the driver who is fleeing is intoxicated.

The Resolution would state that in cases where a serious physical injury or death results, a driver who leaves the scene of an accident should be strictly liable and charged with leaving the scene and causing the injury or death without the prosecutor being required to demonstrate that the driver knew of or had cause to know of the injury or death. The Resolution would further state that this in addition to the burden of proof problems, the current penalties associated with leaving the scene of an accident do not accurately reflect the severity of the crime.

The Resolution would state that A.1533, sponsored by Assembly Member Steven Cymbrowitz and currently pending in the New York State Assembly, and companion bill S.2503, sponsored by State Senator Martin J. Golden and currently pending in the New York State Senate, seek to amend the VTL by increasing various penalties associated with the offense of leaving the scene of an accident without reporting it.

The Resolution would state that while A.1533/S.2503 would allow prosecutors to charge a driver who leaves the scene of an accident where personal injury results from the accident with a class E felony and subject them to a fine of between $1,000 and $1,500; any subsequent offense would constitute a class D felony and carry a fine of between $1,500 and $3,000. The Resolution would state that furthermore, under this legislation, a driver convicted of leaving the scene when serious physical injury resulted from the accident would be charged with a class D felony and subject to a fine of between $1,500 and $5,500; if the accident resulted in a death, the driver would be charged with a class C felony and subject to a fine of between $2,500 and $5,500.

The Resolution would state that drivers who are irresponsible and callous should be penalized appropriately, and drivers who seriously injure and kill others, then flee the scene, should be strictly liable for such actions. Finally, Res. No. 51 would call upon the New York State Legislature to remedy several deficiencies in the law regarding leaving the scene of an accident.

Proposed Res. No. 68-A

Proposed Res. No. 68-A would state that Section 1225-a of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law prohibits any individual from driving "a motor vehicle on or across a sidewalk" with minor exceptions, such as to gain access to adjacent buildings or driveways. The Resolution would note that a violation of §1225-a is a traffic infraction, resulting in an escalating range of penalties, including a fine of up to $150 for a first offense.

The Resolution would state that driving on the sidewalk presents a grave risk to pedestrians. The Resolution would point out that during a 30-day period in February and March 2013, there were five instances of a motorist hitting a pedestrian on a sidewalk, resulting in three deaths and two serious injuries.

The Resolution would state that on September 12, 2013, five children were injured in Maspeth, Queens when an SUV hit them while they were walking on the sidewalk. The Resolution would argue that in light of the inexcusable and serious nature of driving on the sidewalk and the dangerous conditions it creates, the fine for violation of §1225-a of the Vehicle and Traffic Law should be increased to up to $250 for a first offense and the infraction should also result in three points being added to the driver's license.

Finally, Proposed Res. No. 68-A would call upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation increasing the penalty for driving on the sidewalk.

Proposed Res. No. 117-A

Proposed Res. No. 117-A would state that in 2013, 286 people, including 168 pedestrians, were killed in traffic crashes in New York City, according to New York City Police Department (NYPD) data. The Resolution would note that in 2013,

"unsafe speed" was cited as a contributing factor in over 3,000 collisions that resulted in injuries or fatalities in the City, also according to NYPD data.

The Resolution would state that many studies have concluded that the chances of a pedestrian surviving a motor vehicle collision decrease dramatically as the speed of the vehicle increases. The Resolution would point out that one such study by the United Kingdom Transportation Department determined that while a pedestrian has a 45 percent chance of dying if struck by a vehicle traveling at 30 miles per hour, the chance of death drops to 5 percent if the vehicle is traveling at 20 miles per hour.

The Resolution would state that slower speeds also decrease stopping distance, giving drivers a better chance to take action to prevent collisions from occurring in the first place. The Resolution would highlight that according to Mayor de Blasio's Vision Zero Action Plan ("Action Plan"), since 1988, New York City's 190 red light cameras have issued over 4 million violations, and intersections where red light cameras were installed saw a 20 percent decline in all injuries, a 31 percent decrease in pedestrian injuries, and a 25 percent decrease in serious injuries in the three years after installation.

The Resolution would state that according to the Action Plan, evidence exists that the red light cameras have deterred dangerous driving behavior, as the number of violations issued by the cameras declined by 22% from 2010 to 2011. The Resolution would point out that in Washington D.C., at intersections where speed cameras are in use the number of crashes and injuries has gone down by 20%, according to the Action Plan.

The Resolution would state that in 2013, the State Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, legislation authorizing New York City to implement a demonstration program in which it can use cameras to automatically enforce speeding laws at no more than 20 locations near schools, during school hours, for five years. The Resolution would note that in a four-month period at the beginning of 2014, the five speed cameras in operation in the City caught 14,500 drivers going at least 40 miles per hour. It would also point out that the State Legislature recently passed legislation which would increase to 140 the number of locations where speed cameras can operate under the demonstration program. The Resolution would state that in the interest of safety, the City should be able to control the number and placement of speed cameras within its borders as it sees fit.

Finally, Proposed Res. No. 117-A would call upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would give New York City control over its own speed camera program.

Res. No. 118

Res. No. 118 would state that in 2013, 286 people, including 168 pedestrians, were killed in traffic crashes in New York City, according to New York City Police Department data. The Resolution would note that according to Mayor de Blasio's Vision Zero Action Plan ("Action Plan"), since 1988, New York City's red light cameras have issued over 4 million violations, and intersections where red light cameras were installed saw a 20 percent decline in all injuries, a 31 percent decrease in pedestrian injuries, and a 25 percent decrease in serious injuries in the three years after installation.

The Resolution would state that according to the Action Plan, evidence exists that the red light cameras have deterred dangerous driving behavior, as the number of violations issued by the cameras declined by 22% from 2010 to 2011. The Resolution would point out that current State law only allows the City to operate red light cameras at 150 intersections at any one time.

The Resolution would state that the authorization for the City's red light program will expire on December 1, 2014 unless State law is amended. The Resolution would highlight that in the interest of safety, the City should be able to control the number and placement of red light cameras within its borders as it sees fit.

Finally, Res. No. 118 would call upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would give New York City control over its own red light camera program.

Res. No. 144

Res. No. 144 would state that in 2010, the New York State Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, Hayley and Diego's Law, which makes it a traffic infraction for a driver to injure a pedestrian or bicyclist while failing to "exercise due care". The Resolution would note that a violation of Hayley and Diego's Law is punishable by a fine of up to $500 (or up to $750 if the driver causes "serious physical injury") or by imprisonment for up to 15 days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The Resolution would state that Hayley and Diego's Law is named after two children who were killed in 2009 in Chinatown in Manhattan when a delivery van that had been left idling and in reverse climbed the curb and hit them. The Resolution would point out that the driver in question was not charged with any infraction resulting from the children's deaths.

The Resolution would state that enforcement of Hayley and Diego's Law has been limited because a police officer needs to witness a traffic infraction in order to issue a summons or make an arrest. The Resolution would highlight that making violation of Hayley and Diego's Law a misdemeanor would increase the penalties associated with carelessly harming a pedestrian or bicyclist.

The Resolution would state that the change would also make enforcement easier by allowing a police officer to issue a summons for failing to exercise due care and injuring someone based upon probable cause, even if the officer was not present to witness the crash. The Resolution would further state that in the interest of enhancing pedestrian and bicyclist safety, a violation of Hayley and Diego's Law should be a misdemeanor.

Finally, Res. No. 144 would call upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would make a violation of Hayley and Diego’s Law a misdemeanor.

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the Sponsor: By Council Members

administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to traffic control signals. Cabrera, Koo, Palma, Rose, Koslowitz, Levin, Arroyo and Van Bramer

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would amend subdivisions a and b of section 19-128 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 49 for the year 2007 to include traffic signals. The Administrative Code currently requires DOT to maintain a log regarding missing priority regulatory signs (which include stop signs, yield signs, do not enter signs, and one way signs) with information about when the problem was reported and when it was fixed. This bill would require traffic signals to be a part of this log as well. Additionally, the bill would require that DOT repair a missing or damaged traffic signal within 24 hours of receiving notice that the signal is not operational or visible; however, it would allow DOT to implement alternative measures to control traffic if the repair or replacement would take more than 24 hours or DOT can make a determination within those 24 hours that the repair or replacement is not warranted. Lastly, the bill would not apply if at least one other traffic signal facing the same direction remains operational.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect ninety days after its enactment into law.

(i) "priority regulatory sign" shall mean a stop sign, yield sign, do not enter sign, or one way sign[.];

§ 2. Section 19-128 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding two new subdivisions e and f to read as follows:

e. Within twenty-four hours of receiving notice that a traffic control signal is missing or damaged to the extent that such signal is not operational or visible to a motorist who must obey or rely upon such signal the department shall:

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing neighborhood slow zones and speed limits near schools.

Sponsor: By Council Members Greenfield, Chin, Constantinides, Espinal, Gentile, Gibson, Johnson, Koo, Levine, Reynoso, Richards, Torres, Van Bramer, Mendez, Rosenthal, Kallos and Arroyo

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would retitle section 19-177 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 6 for the year 1996 and subdivisions d, e and f to require the City Department of Transportation (DOT) to establish at least seven 20mph neighborhood slow zones in both 2014 and 2015 that would contain traffic calming measures. Every year starting in 2015, DOT would have to issue a report listing the location of all neighborhood slow zones, assessing whether such zones have minimized the risk of traffic crashes, critical injuries, and death, and include a determination of whether or not it will continue to establish seven neighborhood slow zones annually.

Also, the bill would require that DOT establish speed zones with speed limits of 15-20mph at 50 school locations annually. DOT would have to inform the Mayor and Speaker in writing if it determines that such speed limits would be established at fewer than 50 school locations within a year or if it determines, after evaluating every school in the City, that no more school speed zones would be installed. The bill would require that every year DOT provide a listing of all school speed zones established pursuant to this law to the Mayor and Speaker of the Council, and on the Department's website.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately upon its enactment into law.

Int. No. 140-A

By Council Members Greenfield, Chin, Constantinides, Espinal, Gentile, Gibson, Johnson, Koo, Levine, Reynoso, Richards, Torres, Van Bramer, Mendez, Rosenthal, Kallos, Arroyo, Levin, Vallone, Barron and Dromm.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing neighborhood slow zones and speed limits near schools.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 19-177 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 6 for the year 1996, is retitled and subdivisions d, e and f are added to read as follows:

§ 19-177 Speed Limits; posting of signs; neighborhood slow zones; speed limits near schools.

d. (1) The commissioner shall establish neighborhood slow zones in which speed limits of twenty miles per hour apply on or along designated highways for the purpose of implementing traffic calming measures. The commissioner shall establish not less than seven neighborhood slow zones, which shall contain not less than five blocks per zone, annually in the years 2014 and 2015. For purposes of this subdivision, "traffic calming measures" shall mean any physical engineering measure or measures that reduce the negative effects of motor vehicle use, alter driver behavior and improve conditions for non-motorized street users such as pedestrians and bicyclists.

(2) Upon the establishment of neighborhood slow zones pursuant to paragraph 1 of this subdivision, commencing on or before February 1, 2015, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall provide to the mayor and speaker of the council, and shall post on the department’s website, a report listing the location of all neighborhood slow zones. This report shall include, but not be limited to, a review of whether such zones have minimized the risk of traffic crashes, critical injuries or death, and a determination of whether the department shall continue to establish seven neighborhood slow zones annually.

e. (1) Except as provided in paragraph two of this subdivision, the commissioner shall establish speed limits of not less than fifteen nor more than twenty miles per hour at fifty school locations annually, for a distance not to exceed one thousand three hundred twenty feet, on highways passing any school building, entrance or exit of a school abutting on the highway. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "school" shall have the same meaning as in section 19-189 of this title.

(2) Should the commissioner determine that such speed limits will be established at fewer than fifty school locations within a year, the commissioner shall inform the mayor and the speaker of the council in writing of such determination and the reason therefore.

(3) After evaluating every school in the city for the establishment of such speed limits, the commissioner may determine not to establish any further such speed limits and shall inform the mayor and the speaker of the council in writing and shall continue to evaluate the need to establish such speed limits after such notice is given.

COMMITTEE: Transportation

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting certain stunt behavior with vehicles.

Sponsor: By Council Members Rodriguez, Chin, Koo, Levine, Treyger, Levin, Arroyo and Van Bramer

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would amend section 10-163 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 46 for the year 2004 broaden the prohibition speed contests to include “stunt behavior” such as wheelies, donuts, burnouts, and revving. A first violation of the stunt behavior prohibition would be a misdemeanor punishable by up to 60 days in jail and/or a fine of up to $600. A second or subsequent violation committed within ten years would result in up to 120 days in jail and/or a fine up to $1,000.

In addition, existing City law prohibits individuals from participating as a spectator in speed contests or stunt behavior. This bill would extend that prohibition to include stunt behavior and defines participation by a spectator as taking “specific overt actions” encouraging the people engaged in the speed contest or stunt behavior or wagering on the outcome. A violation would result in up to 15 days in jail and/or a fine of up to $250.

The bill would also require motorcycles’ license plates to be clearly visible at all times. A violation would result in up to 15 days in jail and/or a fine of up to $250.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 90 days after its enactment into law.

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the right of way of pedestrians and bicyclists.

Sponsor: By Council Members Weprin, Rodriguez, Levine, Levin, Arroyo and Van Bramer

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would amend subchapter 3 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York by adding a new section 19-190 by requiring any driver of a motor vehicle who fails to yield to a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle when such pedestrian or person has the right of way shall be guilty of a traffic infraction, which shall be punishable by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or imprisonment for not more than fifteen days or both such fine and imprisonment. In addition to or as an alternative to such penalty, such driver shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars which may be recovered in a proceeding before the environmental control board. Furthermore, the bill would require that any driver of a motor vehicle who violates this local law and whose motor vehicle causes contact with a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle and thereby causes physical injury, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, which shall be punishable by a fine of not more than two hundred fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days or both such fine and imprisonment. In addition to or as an alternative to such penalty, such driver shall also be subject to a civil penalty of not more than two hundred fifty dollars which may be recovered in a proceeding before the environmental control board. Physical injury shall be as defined in the Penal Law.

However, it shall not be a violation of this local law if the failure to yield and/or physical injury was not caused by the driver's failure to exercise due care. Additionally, the bill does not apply to persons, teams, motor vehicles, and other equipment working on behalf of the city of New York, the state of New York or the federal government while actively engaged in work requiring the presence of a motor vehicle in a location that interferes with the right of way of a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle. Additionally, such persons, teams, motor vehicles, and other equipment shall proceed at all times during all phases of such work exercising due regard for the safety of all persons and consistent with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations. Nothing in this local law shall relieve such persons or teams or such operators of motor vehicles or other equipment from the consequences of failure to exercise due care or the consequences of their reckless disregard for the safety of others.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect sixty days following its enactment into law.

Section 1. Subchapter 3 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 19-190 to read as follows:

§19-190 Right of way. a. Except as provided in subdivision b of this section, any driver of a motor vehicle who fails to yield to a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle when such pedestrian or person has the right of way shall be guilty of a traffic infraction, which shall be punishable by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or imprisonment for not more than fifteen days or both such fine and imprisonment. In addition to or as an alternative to such penalty, such driver shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars which may be recovered in a proceeding before the environmental control board. For purposes of this section, "motor vehicle" shall have the same meaning as in section one hundred twenty-five of the vehicle and traffic law.

b. Except as provided in subdivision c of this section, any driver of a motor vehicle who violates subdivision a of this section and whose motor vehicle causes contact with a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle and thereby causes physical injury, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, which shall be punishable by a fine of not more than two hundred fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days or both such fine and imprisonment. In addition to or as an alternative to such penalty, such driver shall also be subject to a civil penalty of not more than two hundred fifty dollars which may be recovered in a proceeding before the environmental control board. For purposes of this section, "physical injury" shall have the same meaning as in section 10.00 of the penal law.

c. It shall not be a violation of this section if the failure to yield and/or physical injury was not caused by the driver's failure to exercise due care.

d. This section shall not apply to persons, teams, motor vehicles, and other equipment working on behalf of the city of New York, the state of New York or the federal government while actively engaged in work requiring the presence of a motor vehicle in a location that interferes with the right of way of a pedestrian or person riding a bicycle. Such persons, teams, motor vehicles, and other equipment shall proceed at all times during all phases of such work exercising due regard for the safety of all persons and consistent with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations. Nothing in this section shall relieve such persons or teams or such operators of motor vehicles or other equipment from the consequences of failure to exercise due care or the consequences of their reckless disregard for the safety of others.

§2. This local law shall take effect sixty days following enactment into law.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 272-A
COMMITTEE: Transportation

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission's critical drivers and persistent violators programs.
Sponsor: By Council Members Rodriguez, Gibson, Levine, Levin, Rosenthal, Arroyo and Van Bramer (by request of the Mayor)

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would amend section 19-507.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 20 for the year 1999, by amending subdivisions a, b, c and e, and adding new subdivisions i and j to allow the Taxi and Limousine Commission "TLC" to more quickly identify and take action against drivers who have a history of safety related violations.

Under current rules, violation points issued against the driver by the TLC and the State Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) are kept separate. As a result, the TLC is not allowed to take action against drivers who might have accumulated enough combined DMV and TLC points to warrant suspension or revocation of their license. The proposed legislation would allow the TLC to aggregate points issued by the TLC and DMV for purposes of suspension and revocation, if those points are safety related. In addition, the legislation would allow for the taking of a vehicle safety course to remove three of such points from the driver's record.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect one hundred twenty days following enactment; newly added subdivisions i and j of section 19-507.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York shall only be applicable to points accrued subsequent to the effective date of this local law. The TLC shall take all necessary action, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: There would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: Because the Commission will use existing resources to implement this local law, it is anticipated that there would be minimal to no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

Int. No. 272-A

By Council Members Rodriguez, Gibson, Levine, Levin, Rosenthal, Arroyo, Van Bramer and Barron (by request of the Mayor).

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the New York city taxi and limousine commission's critical drivers and persistent violators programs.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 19-507.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 20 for the year 1999, is amended by amending subdivisions a,b,c and e, and adding new subdivisions i and j, to read as follows:

§ 19-507.1 Persistent Violators of Rules Relating to Drivers of Taxicabs and For-Hire Vehicles. a. (1) [On or after September 1, 1999, any] Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver may attend a remedial or refresher course approved by the commission. Upon presentation to the commission of proof of satisfactory completion of a commission-approved course by such driver, [two] three points shall be deducted from the number of points assessed under the persistent violators program against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. A taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver shall be eligible for a point reduction pursuant to this subdivision only once within [the] a five-year period [commencing on or after September 1, 1999]. In the event no such approved course is available at the time such driver seeks to enroll, such driver may take a course provided for in paragraph one of subdivision c of section 19-507.2 of this chapter. In such instance, completion of a course taken pursuant to this paragraph or pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision c of section 19-507.2 shall result in the removal of three points from either the number of points accrued under the persistent violators program or from the number of points accrued under the critical drivers program, but not from both, upon the election of the driver who completes such course.

(2) [Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph one of this subdivision, any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver may attend one remedial or refresher course approved by the commission between the effective date of this local law and August 31, 1999. Upon satisfactory completion of a commission-approved course by such driver two points shall be deducted from the number of points assessed under the persistent violators program against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license.

(3) [Notwithstanding the provisions of [paragraphs] paragraph one [or two] of this subdivision, no point reduction shall affect any suspension or revocation action which may be taken by the commission pursuant to this program prior to the completion of the course and no taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver shall receive a point reduction unless attendance at the course is voluntary on the part of the driver. [If the commission has no approved remedial or refresher course on the effective date of this subdivision, then a department of motor vehicles-approved course shall be deemed acceptable until such time as the commission approves a course.

b. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations of the commission's rules such that six or more points but fewer than ten points have been assessed against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license within any fifteen-month period and whose license has not been revoked shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license suspended for up to thirty days. [The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to violations issued on or after July 26, 1998.]

c. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations of the commission's rules such that ten or more points have been assessed against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license within any fifteen-month period shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license revoked. [The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to violations issued on or after July 26, 1998.]

e. A taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver shall not be subject to an assessment of points against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license or the imposition of duplicate penalties where the same act is a violation under provisions of law other than commission rules and where such violations duplicate each other or are substantively the same and any such driver may be issued only one summons or notice of violation for such violation. Points assessed [by the department of motor vehicles by reason of violations under the vehicle and traffic law] pursuant to section 19-507.2 of this chapter may [not], pursuant to subdivisions i and j of this section, be added to points assessed by the commission under this section for violations of commission rules.

i. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations such that six or more points but fewer than ten points in total have been assessed within any fifteen-month period against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license pursuant to this section and against the driver license issued to such taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver by the department of motor vehicles or an equivalent licensing agency of the driver's state of residence pursuant to section 19-507.2 of this chapter and whose taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license has not been revoked shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license suspended for up to thirty days; provided, however, that only points assessed against a taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license for violations that threaten the safety of passengers or any other persons, as specified by rule of the commission, may be applied for purposes of this subdivision.

j. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations such that ten or more points in total have been assessed within any fifteen-month period against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license pursuant to this section and against the driver's license issued to such taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver by the department of motor vehicles or an equivalent licensing agency of the driver's state of residence pursuant to section 19-507.2 of this chapter shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license revoked; provided, however, that only points assessed against a taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license for violations that threaten the safety of passengers or any other persons, as specified by rule of the commission, may be applied for purposes of this subdivision.

§2. Section 19-507.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 20 for the year 1999, is amended to read as follows:

§19-507.2 Critical driver program a. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations such that six or more points have been assessed by the department of motor vehicles or an equivalent licensing agency of the driver's state of residence against the driver license issued to such taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver within any fifteen-month period and whose taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license has not been revoked shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license suspended for thirty days. [The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to violations issued on or after February 15, 1999.]

b. Any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who has been found guilty of violations such that ten or more points have been assessed by the department of motor vehicles or an equivalent licensing agency of the driver's state of residence against the driver license issued to such taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver within any fifteen-month period shall have his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license revoked. [The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to violations issued on or after February 15, 1999.]

c. (1) [On or after September 1, 1999, a] A taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver shall be eligible to receive a [two] three point reduction in the number of points assessed pursuant to the critical driver program upon the submission to the commission of proof of the satisfactory completion of a motor vehicle accident prevention course approved by the department of motor vehicles. Such point reduction shall be considered in computing the total number of points accumulated by such driver as a result of violations which occurred within fifteen months prior to the date of the completion of the course. In the event that no commission approved course is available pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision a of section 19-507.1 of this chapter, completion of a course taken pursuant to this paragraph shall result in the removal of three points from either the number of points accrued under the persistent violators program or from the number of points accrued under the critical drivers program, but not from both, upon the election of the driver who completes such course.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph one of this subdivision no point reduction shall affect any suspension or revocation action which may be taken by the commission pursuant to this program prior to the completion of the course. No person shall receive a point reduction more than once in any eighteen month period and no person shall receive a point reduction unless attendance at the course is voluntary on the part of the driver.

[(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs one and two of this subdivision, any taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver who voluntarily attends and satisfactorily completes one motor vehicle accident prevention course approved by the department of motor vehicles between the effective date of this local law and August 31, 1999, shall have two points deducted from the total number of points assessed pursuant to the critical driver program against his or her taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver's license. No point reduction shall affect any suspension or revocation action which may be taken by the commission pursuant to this program prior to the completion of the course.]

§3. This local law shall take effect one hundred twenty days following enactment; newly added subdivisions i and j of section 19-507.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York shall only be applicable to points accrued subsequent to the effective date of this local law. The commission shall take all necessary action, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would amend chapter five of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York by adding a new section 19-542 to require that beginning on February 1, 2015, and every three months thereafter that the Taxi and Limousine Commission "TLC" would provide a report to the Council regarding the number of crashes involving a TLC licensed vehicle.

Also, the legislation would require that these reports disaggregate such crashes by the type of vehicle involved (for example livery or taxicab) and by whether the crash resulted in critical injury or death. The legislation would also require that the TLC maintain within its records the number of crashes each licensed driver has been involved in while operating a TLC licensed vehicle.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately upon its enactment into law.

Res. No. 6

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to amend the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law to increase the criminal penalty for reckless driving when serious physical injury or death of a person results from the reckless driving.

By Council Members Crowley, Constantinides, Gentile, King, Koo, Koslowitz, Palma, Williams, Vallone, Mendez, Levin, Rosenthal, Arroyo, Van Bramer, Dromm, Greenfield and Ulrich.

Whereas, New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law ("VTL") section 1212 defines reckless driving as driving or using any motor vehicle, motorcycle or any other vehicle in a manner which unreasonably interferes with the free and proper use of the public highway, or unreasonably endangers users of the public highway; and

Whereas, People found to have violated VTL section 1212 are guilty of a misdemeanor and may be imprisoned for up to 180 days, in addition to a $300 fine and 5 points on their driver's license; and

Whereas, While those penalties may be appropriate where nobody was injured or killed as a result of the reckless driving, they are wholly inadequate punishment when the reckless driving results in serious injury or death; and

Whereas, Additional charges such as vehicular assault, vehicular manslaughter, vehicular homicide or manslaughter may be brought against a person who drives recklessly and seriously injures or kills someone; and

Whereas, While those charges subject the guilty person to much more time in prison than a conviction of reckless driving, those charges are often hard to prove and require certain factors such as the driver having been previously convicted of driving recklessly, being intoxicated at the time of the accident or been driving on a revoked or suspended license; and

Whereas, According to various reports, on June 4, 2013, Ariel Russo, a 4-year old girl, and her grandmother, were struck by an SUV at an intersection at West 97th Street and Amsterdam Avenue in Manhattan driven by a 17-year old unlicensed driver who was fleeing police who had pulled him over for driving recklessly; and

Whereas, Ariel Russo tragically died as the result of her injuries and her grandmother was hospitalized for several weeks as a result of hers; and

Whereas, The 17-year-old driver, Franklyn Reyes, was subsequently reportedly charged with manslaughter and vehicular manslaughter; and

Whereas, Reports indicate there was a 4 minute delay in dispatching an ambulance to assist Ariel and her grandmother; and

Whereas, This delay could potentially be a factor in any criminal case against the driver but particularly in a case for manslaughter or vehicular manslaughter; and

Whereas, Had the criminal penalty for reckless driving been more significant, there would have been an additional opportunity for some modicum of justice beyond 180 days in prison; and

Whereas, While the law cannot be changed to impact the Russo case, it can be changed to act as a future deterrent to those that might drive recklessly and to exact a more appropriate punishment for those found guilty of driving recklessly and seriously injuring or killing someone; and

Whereas, The New York State Legislature should immediately determine more appropriate criminal penalties and change the law accordingly; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to amend the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law to increase the criminal penalty for reckless driving when serious physical injury or death of a person results from the reckless driving.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 51

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving a Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to remedy several deficiencies in the law regarding leaving the scene of an accident.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

Res. No. 51

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to remedy several deficiencies in the law regarding leaving the scene of an accident.

By Council Members Crowley, Constantinides, Koo, Palma, Vacca, Reynoso, Gibson, Menchaca, Rodriguez, Levin, Arroyo, Van Bramer and Vallone.

Whereas, Hit-and-run drivers not only endanger the lives of others, but also evade personal responsibility; and

Whereas, According to the American Automobile Association Foundation for Traffic Safety, approximately 11 percent of all police reported crashes involve at least one driver who flees the scene and nearly 1,500 people die annually in hit and run crashes; and

Whereas, In order to hold drivers accountable for their actions, in May 2005, the New York State Legislature amended §600 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law ("VTL"), entitled "leaving scene of an incident without reporting," to remedy gaps in the law that gave intoxicated and reckless drivers an incentive to leave the scene of an accident when serious physical injury or death had occurred; and

Whereas, Prior to the May 2005 revision, a driver who was intoxicated and caused a death could, depending on the circumstances, be charged with vehicular manslaughter in the second degree, a class D felony carrying a penalty of up to 7 years imprisonment, yet if the driver left the scene and was no longer intoxicated at the time he or she was apprehended, the most with which the driver could be charged was criminally negligent homicide, a class E felony, carrying a penalty of up to 4 years imprisonment; and

Whereas, The State Legislature closed this gap by making it a class D felony for a person to leave the scene of an accident when death results from the accident; the Legislature also increased the penalty for those who leave the scene of an accident when personal injury results, from a B misdemeanor to an A misdemeanor; and

Whereas, Despite these changes to the law, the State Legislature failed to address the burden of proof problems in prosecuting these cases; and

Whereas, In order to secure a conviction, a prosecutor must still prove that the driver knew or had reason to know that personal injury, serious physical injury, or death resulted from the accident; and

Whereas, Prosecutors often face substantial difficulties attempting to prove that a driver fleeing the scene of an accident knew or should have known of an injury or death, particularly when the driver who is fleeing is intoxicated; and

Whereas, In cases where a serious physical injury or death results, a driver who leaves the scene of an accident should be strictly liable and charged with leaving the scene and causing the injury or death without the prosecutor being required to demonstrate that the driver knew of or had cause to know of the injury or death; and

Whereas, In addition to the burden of proof problems, the current penalties associated with leaving the scene of an accident do not accurately reflect the severity of the crime; and

Whereas, A.1533, sponsored by Assembly Member Steven Cymbrowitz and currently pending in the New York State Assembly, and companion bill S.2503, sponsored by State Senator Martin J. Golden and currently pending in the New York State Senate, seek to amend the VTL by increasing various penalties associated with the offense of leaving the scene of an accident without reporting it; and

Whereas, A.1533/S.2503 would allow prosecutors to charge a driver who leaves the scene of an accident where personal injury results from the accident with a class E felony and subject them to a fine of between $1,000 and $1,500; any subsequent offense would constitute a class D felony and carry a fine of between $1,500 and $3,000; and

Whereas, Furthermore, under this legislation, a driver convicted of leaving the scene when serious physical injury resulted from the accident would be charged with a class D felony and subject to a fine of between $1,500 and $5,500; if the accident resulted in a death, the driver would be charged with a class C felony and subject to a fine of between $2,500 and $5,500; and

Whereas, Drivers who are irresponsible and callous should be penalized appropriately, and drivers who seriously injure and kill others, then flee the scene, should be strictly liable for such actions; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to remedy several deficiencies in the law regarding leaving the scene of an accident.

Res. No. 68-A

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation increasing the penalty for driving on the sidewalk.

By Council Members Weprin, Constantinides, Levine, Mendez, Rosenthal, Reynoso, Menchaca, Levin, Arroyo, Van Brammer, Vallone and Dromm.

Whereas, Section 1225-a of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law prohibits any individual from driving “a motor vehicle on or across a sidewalk” with minor exceptions, such as to gain access to adjacent buildings or driveways; and

Whereas, A violation of §1225-a is a traffic infraction, resulting in an escalating range of penalties, including a fine of up to $150 for a first offense; and

Whereas, Driving on the sidewalk presents a grave risk to pedestrians; and

Whereas, During a 30-day period in February and March 2013, there were five instances of a motorist hitting a pedestrian on a sidewalk, resulting in three deaths and two serious injuries; and

Whereas, On September 12, 2013, five children were injured in Maspeth, Queens when an SUV hit them while they were walking on the sidewalk; and

Whereas, In light of the inexcusable and serious nature of driving on the sidewalk and the dangerous conditions it creates, the fine for violation of §1225-a of the Vehicle and Traffic Law should be increased to up to $250 for a first offense and the infraction should also result in three points being added to the driver’s license; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation increasing the penalty for driving on the sidewalk.

Report for voice-vote Res. No. 103

Report of the Committee on Veterans in favor of approving a Resolution urging Congress to pass and the President to sign H.R.1726 and S.1174, to award a Congressional Gold Medal to the 65th Infantry Regiment, known as Borinqueneers.

The Committee on Veterans, to which the annexed resolution was referred on March 12, 2014 (Minutes, page 611), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On May 28, 2014, the Committee on Veterans, chaired by Council Member Eric Ulrich, held a hearing on Res. No. 103, a Resolution urging Congress to pass and the President to sign H.R.1726 and S.1174, to award a Congressional Gold Medal to the 65th Infantry Regiment, known as Borinqueneers. The first hearing was held on May 23, 2014. At the second hearing, the resolution passed by a vote of 5-0.

BACKGROUND

Puerto Rico’s establishment as United States (U.S.) territory in 1898 and the subsequent extension of U.S. citizenship to its residents in 1917 helped to create the framework for a bond between the two places that has persisted in the decades since.¹ Today, more than 4.5 million Americans are of Puerto Rican heritage.² Puerto Rican roots run particularly deep in New York City, where more than 700,000 residents are of Puerto Rican origin.³ Puerto Ricans have made outsized contributions to the U.S. in a number of fields, including a legacy of outstanding military service.

The first American military unit based in Puerto Rico, the Puerto Rico Battalion of Volunteer Infantry, was created in 1899 through Congressional authorization.⁴ Early successes by the unit led to its official incorporation into the U.S. Army nine years later.⁵ The unit went on to serve in World War I, defending the Panama Canal and U.S. installations in the Caribbean.⁶ Following World War I, the unit was re-designated the 65th Infantry Regiment and continued to train during the interwar period.⁷ The Regiment was called up to serve in various locations during World War II, including the Panama Canal Zone, North Africa, and Europe.⁸

The 65th Infantry Regiment is perhaps best known for its heroic service during the Korean War. The unit, which adopted the nickname of “the Borinqueneers,” was instrumental in battles against the Chinese Army in 1950 and 1951.⁹ The unit’s service during the war earned its men and the unit itself a number of awards, including four Distinguished Service Crosses, 125 Silver Stars, the Presidential and Meritorious Unit Commendations, two Korean Presidential Unit Citations, and the Greek Gold Medal for Bravery.¹⁰ In 2014, Master Sergeant Juan E. Negron was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor, the U.S.’s highest military award, for his service in the 65th Infantry Regiment during combat operations in Kalma-Eri, Korea.¹¹ The City Council has also acted to honor the Borinqueneers. In November 2012, following the passage of authorizing legislation, Southern Boulevard in the Bronx, between Bruckner Boulevard and East Fordham Road, was renamed “La 65 de Infanteria Boulevard.”¹²

However, during their service in Korea, the Borinqueneers faced discrimination, upheavals in leadership, and communication issues as non-Spanish speaking officers were assigned to the unit.¹³ Ninety-five soldiers in the regiment were court-marshaled for failure to obey orders, but the Army later moved to pardon the soldiers, citing language barriers between the men and the officers involved.¹⁴ The Borinqueneers also faced serious logistical challenges, including a lack of proper gear for the cold-weather conditions in Korea.¹⁵ The 65th Infantry Regiment also suffered great losses during deployments to Korea, resulting in Puerto Rico bearing a disproportionate share of casualties during the Korean War compared to those hailing from mainland States.¹⁶

Congressional Gold Medal Campaign

In 2013, Representative Bill Posey of Florida and Senator Richard Blumenthal of Connecticut introduced legislation calling on Congress to award the Borinqueneers the Congressional Gold Medal for their service and sacrifices in the face of unique hardships and discrimination.¹⁷ The Congressional Gold Medal was first awarded to George Washington for his services as commander of the Continental Army by the Continental Congress in March 1776, more than two decades before the U.S. Congress was convened.¹⁸

Congressional Gold Medals are awarded according to rules established by each Congress. According to current rules of the House Committee on Financial Services, a hearing on Congressional Gold Medal legislation may not be held until it is co-sponsored by at least 290 Members of the House.¹⁹ Rules of the Senate Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs Committee require at least 67 Senator cosponsors before a Congressional Gold Medal bill may be considered.²⁰ On May 21, with 301 sponsors signed onto the bill, the House voted to award the Congressional Gold Medal to the 65th Infantry Regiment.²¹ The following day, the Senate bill reached the requisite number of sponsors and voted out the legislation, which must now be signed into law by President Barack Obama.²² The companion bills are cosponsored by the entire New York City Congressional delegation: Representatives Charles Rangel, Jose Serrano, Nydia Velazquez, Grace Meng, Joseph Crowley, Yvette Clark, Gregory Meeks, Jerrold Nadler, Eliot Engel, Carolyn Maloney, Michael Grimm, Hakeem Jeffries, and William Owens; and Senators Charles Schumer and Kirsten Gillibrand.²³

A substantial portion of Congressional Gold Medals awarded have been in recognition of military service. Recently, a number of collective Gold Medals have been awarded to military units comprised of minorities. These collective Congressional Gold Medals include awards in 2000, to the Native American Marines known as the Navajo Code Talkers who transmitted secret tactical messages through the use of their native language; in 2006, to the Tuskegee Airmen, the first African-American military aviators; in 2009, to the Women's Air Service Pilots (WASP) of World War II; in 2010, to Japanese American soldiers serving in the 100th Infantry Battalion and the 442nd Regimental Combat Team during World War II; in 2011, to the Montford Point Marines, the first African-Americans to break the race barrier in the Marines; and in 2013, to the First Special Service Force, an elite commando unit comprised of Canadian and American volunteers known as the Devil's Brigade for their service during World War II.²⁴

Res. No. 103 states that there are nearly five million United States (U.S.) citizens who are of Puerto Rican descent, more than 750,000 of whom live in New York City. The resolution goes on to describe the history of U.S. military units based in Puerto Rico following its establishment as a territory in 1898, following the end of the Spanish-American War, including the organization of the Porto Rico Provisional Regiment of Infantry, later renamed the 65th Infantry Regiment, in 1901. The resolution indicates that the 65th Infantry Regiment fought in World War I as a division of the U.S. Army, defending the Panama Canal and San Juan Bay. The resolution recounts the 65th Infantry's deployments and participation in battles in North Africa and Europe during World War II and describes how the unit performed high-risk operations in Germany.

The resolution describes the heroic service of the 65th Infantry Regiment and the more than 61,000 Puerto Ricans that served during the Korean War and notes that Puerto Rico suffered more casualties than most U.S. states. The resolution states that during the Korean War, members of 65th Infantry Regiment began calling themselves the Borinqueneers, after Puerto Rico's indigenous Taino name. The resolution lists the awards earned by the regiment during the conflict in Korea, which include nine Korean Battle Campaign Awards, the Presidential and Meritorious Unit Commendations, two Korean Presidential Unit Citations, the Greek Gold Medal, a Navy Unit Commendation, and the Medal of Honor, awarded posthumously to Master Sergeant Juan E. Negron. The resolution states that since the establishment of the regiment, its service members have also received 10 Distinguished Service Crosses, 256 Silver Stars, 606 Bronze Stars, and 2,771 Purple Hearts.

The resolution notes that while the 65th Infantry Regiment has received a number of awards and honors, including a street co-naming in the Bronx, it has never received a Congressional Gold Medal. The resolution declares that Borinqueneers deserve to be awarded the Congressional Gold Medal, alongside other distinguished military unit recipients such as the Native American Marines, known as the Navajo Wind Talkers; Japanese American intelligence soldiers during World War II, known as the Nisei Soldiers, and the first African American military aviators, known as the Tuskegee Airmen.

The resolution expresses support for H.R.1726, sponsored by Congressman Bill Posey, and S.1174, sponsored by Senator Richard Blumenthal, which would award a Congressional Gold Medal to the 65th Infantry Regiment. The resolution cites the 65th Infantry's bravery while loyally defending America against all enemies while facing discrimination, segregation and unusual obstacles. The resolution urges Congress to pass and the President to sign H.R.1726 and S.1174, to award a Congressional Gold Medal to the 65th Infantry Regiment, known as Borinqueneers.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

Res. No. 117-A

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would give New York City control over its own speed camera program.

By Council Members Vacca, Levine, Van Bramer, Chin, Cohen, Ferreras, Lander, Reynoso, Torres, Rosenthal, Mendez, Koslowitz, Menchaca, Levin, Barron and Dromm.

Whereas, In 2013, 286 people, including 168 pedestrians, were killed in traffic crashes in New York City, according to New York City Police Department (NYPD) data; and

Whereas, In 2013, "unsafe speed" was cited as a contributing factor in over 3,000 collisions that resulted in injuries or fatalities in the City, also according to NYPD data; and

Whereas, Many studies have concluded that the chances of a pedestrian surviving a motor vehicle collision decrease dramatically as the speed of the vehicle increases; and

Whereas, One such study by the United Kingdom Transportation Department determined that while a pedestrian has a 45 percent chance of dying if struck by a vehicle traveling at 30 miles per hour, the chance of death drops to 5 percent if the vehicle is traveling at 20 miles per hour; and

Whereas, Slower speeds also decrease stopping distance, giving drivers a better chance to take action to prevent collisions from occurring in the first place; and

Whereas, According to Mayor de Blasio's Vision Zero Action Plan ("Action Plan"), since 1988, New York City's 190 red light cameras have issued over 4 million violations, and intersections where red light cameras were installed saw a 20 percent decline in all injuries, a 31 percent decrease in pedestrian injuries, and a 25 percent decrease in serious injuries in the three years after installation; and

Whereas, According to the Action Plan, evidence exists that the red light cameras have deterred dangerous driving behavior, as the number of violations issued by the cameras declined by 22 percent from 2010 to 2011; and

Whereas, In Washington D.C., at intersections where speed cameras are in use the number of crashes and injuries has gone down by 20 percent, according to the Action Plan; and

Whereas, In 2013, the New York State Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, legislation authorizing New York City to implement a demonstration program in which it can use cameras to automatically enforce speeding laws at no more than 20 locations near schools, during school hours, for five years; and

Whereas, In a four-month period at the beginning of 2014, the five speed cameras in operation in the City caught 14,500 drivers going at least 40 miles per hour; and

Whereas, The State Legislature recently passed legislation which would increase to 140 the number of locations where speed cameras can operate under the demonstration program; and

Whereas, In the interest of safety, the City should be able to control the number and placement of speed cameras within its borders as it sees fit; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would give New York City control over its own speed camera program.

Whereas, Hayley and Diego's Law is named after two children who were killed in 2009 in Chinatown in Manhattan when a delivery van that had been left idling and in reverse climbed the curb and hit them; and

Whereas, The driver in question was not charged with any infraction resulting from the children's deaths; and

Whereas, Enforcement of Hayley and Diego's Law has been limited because a police officer needs to witness a traffic infraction in order to issue a summons or make an arrest; and

Whereas, Making violation of Hayley and Diego's Law a misdemeanor would increase the penalties associated with carelessly harming a pedestrian or bicyclist; and

Whereas, The change would also make enforcement easier by allowing a police officer to issue a summons for failing to exercise due care and injuring someone based upon probable cause, even if the officer was not present to witness the crash; and

Whereas, In the interest of enhancing pedestrian and bicyclist safety, a violation of Hayley and Diego's Law should be a misdemeanor; now, therefore, be it

Report of the Committee on Veterans in favor of approving a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.4714 and A.6974, legislation that would allow credit to members of the public retirement systems of New York State for military service.

The Committee on Veterans, to which the annexed resolution was re-referred on May 12, 2014 pursuant to from the Committee on Civil Service and Labor to which this item was originally referred on April 29, 2014 (Minutes, page 1402), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On May 28, 2014, the Committee on Veterans, chaired by Council Member Eric Ulrich, held a hearing on Res. No. 200, a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.4714 and A.6974, legislation that would allow credit to members of the public retirement systems of New York State for military service. This is the second hearing on this resolution. The first hearing was held on May 23, 2014. At the second hearing, the resolution passed by a vote of 5-0.

BACKGROUND

After leaving the military, many veterans choose to continue pursuing careers in public service through employment with federal, state, or local governments.¹ In order to attract veterans, and in appreciation for their service, many governments offer incentives to applicants and current employees that served in the military. For example, the New York State Constitution and Civil Service Law contain point preferences for veterans seeking civil service appointments and promotions, awarding non-disabled veterans a five point preference and disabled veterans a ten point preference.² The State also offers veterans special benefits under its retirement program.

Employees of New York State are eligible for service and disability benefits under the New York State and Local Retirement System (NYSLRS).³ NYSLRS is composed of the Employees' Retirement System (ERS) and the Police and Fire Retirement System (PFRS), which currently provides pensions to more than 400,000 retirees and beneficiaries.⁴ Members of NYSLRS who have previous public service may receive credit for that service toward their retirement by purchasing credit, a process known as "buy back."⁵ Under State law, veterans can buy back military service to apply toward retirement, but only if their service occurred during certain listed periods of conflict.⁶ Currently, in order to buy back time served in the military, a veteran must have served in World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, operations in Lebanon between 1983 and 1987, operations in Grenada in 1983, operations in Panama between 1989 and 1990, or in the "theater of operations including Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Qatar, United Arab Emirates, Oman, the Gulf of Aden, the Gulf of Oman, the Persian Gulf, and the Red Sea, and the airspace above" beginning in 1990.⁷ As women were until recently excluded from serving in combat, many women who served are excluded from participating in the buy back as they would not have been deployed to many of the conflict zones listed in State law, regardless of their desire to serve.⁸

In 2013, legislation was introduced in the New York State Legislature by State Senator William J. Larkin and Assembly Member Amy Paulin to amend State law to allow all veterans, no matter in what era they served, to participate in the military service buy back program.⁹ The bills would delete all references to dates and specific periods of conflict from State law, so that current and future public employees would be eligible to apply up to three years of military service toward retirement.¹⁰ Further, as the amended language would remove references to service in specific combat zones, many women who served would be newly eligible to buy back time spent in the military.

Res. No. 200 states that approximately 200,000 live in New York City and that a number of these veterans work in the public sector. The resolution argues that the State should honor veterans regardless of whether their service was during a period of conflict. The resolution indicates that the State only allows veterans serving as public employees to apply for credit for time in the military toward the State's public retirement systems if that service was during certain periods of conflict. The resolution points out that New York's veterans who have accrued peacetime military service are excluded from buying back such time to count toward their retirement with the State. The resolution notes that buying and applying military service credit toward retirement can substantially increase an employee's retirement benefits.

The resolution indicates that New York State Senator William J. Larkin and Assembly Member Amy Paulin introduced S.4714 and A.6974, bills that would provide credit to members of public retirement systems for military service regardless of whether such service was during a time of conflict. The resolution states that the legislation would allow New York to honor its veterans and their sacrifices by allowing them to purchase and apply for up to three years credit toward retirement. The resolution discusses how the State could do more to recognize veterans and acknowledge their military service. The resolution further recognizes and acknowledges that our veterans were ready to make sacrifices for their country, including combat service, if such services were required. The resolution calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.4714 and A.6974, legislation that would allow credit to members of the public retirement systems of New York State for military service.

Res. No. 200

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.4714 and A.6974, legislation that would allow credit to members of the public retirement systems of New York State for military service.

By Council Members Ulrich, Dickens, Gentile, Gibson, Rose, Barron and Dromm.

Whereas, New York City is home to roughly 200,000 veterans, a number of whom are currently public employees that have served in the armed forces throughout various conflicts and during peacetime; and

Whereas, New York State should recognize the sacrifices made by veterans, regardless of whether they have served during conflicts or peacetime eras; and

Whereas, New York State only permits active public employees who have accrued military service during certain wartime dates to purchase and apply credit for military time served to New York State's public retirement system; and presently excluded from purchasing and applying military service credit to the State's retirement system; and

Whereas, in most cases, purchasing and applying military service credit toward the State's retirement system would substantially increase an employee's retirement benefits; and

Whereas, in 2013, New York State Senator William J. Larkin and Assembly Member Amy Paulin introduced S.4714 and A.6974, respectively, legislation that would provide credit to members of public retirement systems for military service rendered during both peacetime and wartime; and

Whereas, S.4714 and A.6974 would allow eligible veterans to purchase and apply for up to a maximum of three years credit toward retirement for military service; and

Whereas, S.4714 and A.6974 would provide an opportunity for New York to honor its veterans by acknowledging the sacrifices they made through military service; and

Whereas, New York State should do more to recognize and acknowledge our veterans, whether peacetime or wartime, who were ready to make any sacrifices, including combat services, if their nation asked; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign, S.4714 and A.6974, legislation that would allow credit to members of the public retirement systems of New York State for military service.

Res. No. 251

Resolution calling on the Borough of Engelwood Cliffs, New Jersey, to withdraw the variance it issued to the LG Corporation that would allow LG to build its new headquarters to exceed the 35 foot height limit established in the Borough's zoning law and reverse the zoning law change that would allow structures to be built over 35 feet without a variance, and calling on the LG Corporation to respect the integrity of the Palisades by voluntarily redesigning its proposal to comply with the current zoning law.

By Council Members Cohen, Levine, Rodriguez and Rosenthal.

Whereas, The Palisades, cliffs that line the Hudson River from just across the Hudson from New York City, in New Jersey, to the Tappan Zee Bridge, have long been renowned for and protected because of their natural beauty and geologic significance; and

Whereas, The Palisades were designated as a National Historic Landmark in 1965, as a National Natural Landmark in 1983 for being "the best example of a thick diabase sill in the United States," and as a National Treasure by the National Trust for Historic Preservation in 2014; and

Whereas, Conservation efforts to protect the Palisades from degradation started in the 1890s and represents one of the earliest such conservation efforts in the United States, resulting in the Interstate Park Commission established by New York and New Jersey governors, Theodore Roosevelt and Foster Voorhees, respectively, and the purchase and donation of the current park land by John D. Rockefeller in the early 1930s; and

Whereas, Until recently, the town of Englewood Cliffs' zoning laws prevented building structures over 35 feet without a variance; and

Whereas, Englewood Cliffs, in February of 2012, issued a variance to the LG Corporation to build an eight-story tower that would be 143 feet high and would represent the first breach of the viewscape of the Palisades north of the George Washington Bridge in over 100 years; and

Whereas, The town of Englewood Cliffs amended their zoning law in October of 2012 so that no variance would be needed to build structures over 35 feet tall; and

Whereas, This tower, and other potential future developments, would mar the viewscape of thousands of New Yorkers and significantly harm a long-cherished natural area in close proximity to large urban areas; and

Whereas, the LG Corporation could develop their headquarters without causing harm to this natural area; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the Borough of Engelwood Cliffs, New Jersey, to withdraw the variance it issued to the LG Corporation that would allow LG to build its new headquarters to exceed the 35 foot height limit established in the Borough's zoning law and reverse the zoning law change that would allow structures to be built over 35 feet without a variance, and calling on the LG Corporation to respect the integrity of the Palisades by voluntarily redesigning its proposal to comply with the current zoning law.

All information required by this subdivision shall be available on the city's website as soon as practicable but in no case less than one week prior to any such closure or change, except closures which were applied for or planned less than one week prior to any such closure or change, which shall be available on such interactive map within seventy-two hours of the permit and approval of such closure. Where a permitted and approved street closure is due to a special event, the sponsor of the event with appropriate contact information shall be provided as part of such interactive map. Res. No. 252

Resolution calling upon New York City's public library systems and not-for-profit organizations that receive city funding to have a workforce representative on the respective Boards of Trustees and Board of Directors.

By Council Members Crowley, Gentile, Rose and Rodriguez.

Whereas, Library services in the City are provided through three independent systems: the Brooklyn Public Library, The New York Public Library, which serves the boroughs of Manhattan, Staten Island and the Bronx, and the Queens Borough Public Library; and

Whereas, The library systems are not-for-profit corporations that provide a public service though their operations and programs are substantially funded by the City; and

Whereas, Although City officials are included among the ex-officio members of each library board, each library is governed by its own board of trustees and is not subject to the jurisdiction of any city agency; and

Whereas, While many not-for-profit corporations receive city funding, State law dictates that such corporations shall be managed by its board of directors; and

Whereas, The addition of a workforce representative on each of the separate and respective boards would help ensure just compensation for certain services rendered to the libraries or not-for-profit corporations; and

Whereas, In cases where the workforce is unionized, such representative can be the president of the union or some other union representative; and

Whereas, In workplaces where the employer recognizes trade unions and trade unions are recognized for collective bargaining purposes the workforce representative could be a point of contact between board and union; and

Whereas, A workforce representative could take measures to promote workforce development and other workforce initiatives, including best practices and emerging approaches in workforce development; and

Whereas, Ideally, the workforce representative would have expertise with labor issues that may not otherwise be present on a board of trustees or board of directors; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon New York City's public library systems and not-for-profit organizations that receive city funding to have a workforce representative on the respective Boards of Trustees and Board of Directors.

Res. No. 253

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation to amend the Education Law to require more than one school staff person to be trained to administer CPR at all schools during regular school hours.

By Council Members Eugene, Chin, Constantinides, Gentile, King, Koo, Rose, Wills, Rodriguez, Mendez, Crowley, and Rosenthal.

Whereas, The Mayo Clinic states that cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) is a lifesaving technique for someone whose heart or breathing has stopped; and

Whereas, The treatment for cardiac arrest is CPR, followed by the use of an Automated External Defibrillator (AED); and

Whereas, Whereas, The United States National Library of Medicine describes CPR as an emergency technique that combines rescue breathing and chest compressions to manually keep blood and oxygen flowing through the body until further advanced measures can be taken; and

Whereas, Cardiac arrest can occur because of heart disease, heart attacks, respiratory arrest, drowning or choking; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Department of Health, choking is the fourth leading cause of unintentional death in children under the age of 5; and

Whereas, An average of 12,400 children ages 0 to 14 years of age were treated in emergency departments for nonfatal food-related choking annually, which equals 34 children per day, according to a study by the American Academy of Pediatrics; and

Whereas, Without medical attention, a person in cardiac arrest will die within a few minutes; and

Whereas, According to the American Heart Association, a bystander who performs CPR immediately after a sudden cardiac arrest can double or triple a victim's chance of survival; and

Whereas, On December 5, 2011, a fourth grade student at Public School 47 in the Bronx choked on a meatball, which resulted in cardiac arrest; and

Whereas, Various media accounts of the incident raise concerns that school staff did not respond appropriately or in a timely fashion; and

Whereas, Ultimately, the child was unable to be resuscitated and died; and

Whereas, Currently, section 917 of the New York State Education Law requires that at least one staff person who is trained in using an AED be in each public school during school-sponsored curricular or extra-curricular events; and

Whereas, However, the law should be amended to require staff members to be certified not only in using an AED, but also in CPR, and to require more than one staff member to be certified in CPR; and

Whereas, The American Heart Association and the American Red Cross offer combination courses in CPR/ First Aid/ AED training; and

Whereas, The State of New York should take precautionary measures to avoid delays in emergency treatment to ensure the health and well-being of students in public schools; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation to amend the Education Law to require more than one school staff person to be trained to administer CPR at all schools during regular school hours.

Res. No. 254

Resolution declaring the fourth Wednesday in May as "Stroke Awareness Day" in the City of New York.

By Council Members Eugene, Koo, Rose, Rodriguez and Rosenthal.

Whereas, The National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke (NINDS) defines stroke, also known as a cerebrovascular accident, as an event that occurs when the blood supply to part of the brain is suddenly interrupted or when a blood vessel in the brain bursts, spilling blood into the spaces surrounding brain cells; and

Whereas, NINDS indicates that brain cells die when they no longer receive oxygen and nutrients from the blood or there is sudden bleeding into or around the brain; and

Whereas, Two million brain cells die every minute during a stroke, increasing the risk of permanent brain damage, disability or death; and

Whereas, Stroke is the fourth leading cause of death nationwide, killing 137,000 people each year, and the leading cause of adult disability, according to the American Stroke Association (ASA); and

Whereas, Every forty seconds in the United States, a person experiences a stroke; and

Whereas, According to the National Stroke Association (NSA), approximately 795,000 strokes occur annually, averaging one every forty seconds; and

Whereas, Up to 80 percent of strokes can be prevented; and

Whereas, Recognizing stroke symptoms and acting fast to get medical attention can save a life and limit any potential disabilities; and

Whereas, ASA states the chance of having a stroke approximately doubles for each decade of life after age 55; and

Whereas, Persons over age 55, females, African-Americans, persons with diabetes, and those with a family history of stroke are at a greater risk of having a stroke; and

Whereas, Few Americans know the symptoms of a stroke, however learning to recognize such symptoms and knowing what to do when they occur could save lives; and

Whereas, Prevention includes learning about lifestyle and medical risk factors that may contribute to stroke such as smoking, being overweight, drinking too much alcohol, high cholesterol, high blood pressure, heart disease, and carotid artery disease; and

Whereas, The month of May is National Stroke Awareness Month; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York declares the fourth Wednesday in May as "Stroke Awareness Day" in the City of New York.

Resolution calling upon the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to equip its buses with partitions designed to protect the bus operator.

By Council Members Eugene, Crowley, Chin, Constantinides, Dickens, King, Koo, Lancman, Rose, Cumbo, Mendez and Richards.

Whereas, The State of New York recognizes the particular risks mass transit employees face during the course of performing their duties by considering the assault of such workers a Class D felony; and

Whereas, The Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) and transit worker union representatives have testified and raised concerns regarding the extent of the safety issues faced by transit workers as well as various measures that could be designed to address such issues; and

Whereas, It has become readily apparent that bus operators are at particular risk of assault and personal injury as a result of direct interactions with bus riders; and

Whereas, Between January and mid-November 2013, 79 New York City Transit bus drivers were physically assaulted; and

Whereas, Particularly heinous attacks on bus operators in recent years include the 2008 murder of bus driver Edwin Thomas in Brooklyn, as well as the assault of bus driver Nelson Diaz in the Bronx in September 2012 by a passenger who refused to pay his fare; and

Whereas, State-of-the-art enclosures designed to protect bus operators from random acts of violence are in use on several mass transit systems including New Jersey Transit and Miami-Dade Transit; and

Whereas, As of November 2013, only 1,505 of the MTA's 4,560 local buses were outfitted with driver safety partitions; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to equip its buses with partitions designed to protect the bus operator.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a partial abatement of real property taxes on real property that was rebuilt after being seriously damaged by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve in a city having a population of one million or more.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 11 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 11-243.1 to read as follows:

§ 11-243.1. Partial abatement for certain rebuilt real property seriously damaged by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve in a city having a population of one million or more.

1. Generally. Notwithstanding any provision of any general, special or local law to the contrary, for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen, the commissioner of finance shall grant a partial abatement of real property taxes in the amount provided in this section to eligible real property as defined in subdivision three of this section on the first of July, two thousand fourteen. If legal title to eligible real property is held by one or more trustees, the beneficial owner or owners shall be deemed to own the property for purposes of this section. Notwithstanding any provision of article four of the real property tax law to the contrary, a property that is receiving benefits pursuant to any other section of article four of the real property tax law shall not be prohibited from receiving a partial abatement pursuant to this section if such property is otherwise eligible to receive such abatement.

2. Definitions. As used in this section:

a. "Actual assessed valuation" means the assessed valuation of real property prior to the calculation of any transitional assessed valuation pursuant to subdivision three of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law, and which is not reduced by any exemption from real property taxes.

b. "Annual tax" means the amount of real property tax that is imposed on a property for a fiscal year, determined after reduction for any amount from which the property is exempt, or which is abated, pursuant to applicable law.

d. "Assessed valuation" means the assessed valuation of real property that was used to determine the annual tax as defined in paragraph b of this subdivision, and which is not reduced by any exemption from real property taxes. For real property classified as class two or class four real property as defined in subdivision one of section eighteen hundred two of the real property tax law to which subdivision three of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law applies, unless otherwise provided, the assessed valuation is the lower of the actual assessed valuation as defined in paragraph a of this subdivision and transitional assessed valuation as defined in paragraph j of this subdivision.

g. "Department of finance" means the department of finance of the city of New York.

j. "Transitional assessed valuation" is the assessed valuation calculated pursuant to subdivision three of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law, and which is not reduced by any exemption from real property taxes.

3. Eligible real property. For purposes of this section, "eligible real property" means any tax lot that contained, on the applicable taxable status date, class one, class two or class four real property as such class of real property is defined in subdivision one of section eighteen hundred two of the real property tax law, as to which:

a. the department of finance reduced the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen from the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve as a result of damage caused by the severe storm that occurred on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth of October, two thousand twelve;

b. the department of finance increased the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen from the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen; and

c. the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen exceeds the assessed valuation attributable to improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve.

4. Amount of partial abatement. a. Except as provided in paragraph c of this subdivision, eligible real property shall receive a partial abatement of the real property taxes due on such property equal to the amount by which (1) the annual tax on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen exceeds (2) the annual tax on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve.

b. Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision and except as provided in paragraph c of this subdivision, the amount of the partial abatement of the real property taxes due on eligible real property classified as class two or class four real property as defined in subdivision one of section eighteen hundred two of this chapter to which subdivision three of section eighteen hundred five of this chapter applies shall be equal to the amount of (1) the increase in the actual assessed valuation attributable to an addition to or improvement of the property as provided in subdivision five of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen, (2) reduced by the increase in the actual assessed valuation attributable to an addition to or improvement of the property as provided in subdivision five of section eighteen hundred five of the real property tax law for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the transitional assessed valuation for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen, and the denominator of which is the actual assessed valuation for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand thirteen, (3) multiplied by the real property tax rate that is applicable to the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen. Eligible real property shall not be eligible for an abatement under this section if the fraction calculated in subparagraph two of this paragraph is equal to or greater than one.

c. In the event that the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen exceeds the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve, the amount of the partial abatement shall be the amount computed by multiplying the amount calculated under paragraph a or b of this subdivision by a fraction, the numerator of which is equal to the amount of the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand twelve, and the denominator of which is equal to the amount of the total square footage of the improvements on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen.

d. For property held in the cooperative form of ownership, the abatement shall be credited to each unit therein in an amount equal to that proportion of the amount calculated under this subdivision that is attributable to such unit, as determined by the proportional relationship of the owner's share or shares of stock in the cooperative corporation that owns such real property to the total outstanding stock of the cooperative corporation.

e. Eligible real property shall not be eligible for an abatement under this section if the amount of the abatement calculated pursuant to this subdivision exceeds the annual tax on the property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen.

5. Recovery of erroneous abatement.

a. For purposes of this section, an "erroneous abatement" means that:

(1) an abatement was granted to a property that was not entitled to an abatement under this section, or

(2) an abatement was applied or calculated in error under this section. In such event, the amount of the erroneous abatement shall be equal to the difference between the amount of the abatement originally received and the amount to which the property was entitled.

b. If the commissioner of finance determines that a property received an erroneous abatement, he or she shall recover such erroneous abatement by deducting the amount of the erroneous abatement from any refund or rebate otherwise payable to the owner, and any balance of the amount of the erroneous abatement remaining unpaid shall constitute a tax lien on the real property, as of the due and payable date provided on the next tax bill mailed by the commissioner of finance containing such amount. If such amount is not paid by such due and payable date, interest at the rate applicable to delinquent real property taxes on such property shall be charged and collected on such amount from the due and payable date provided on such notice to the date of payment. Such tax lien shall be enforceable in accordance with the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of tax liens in any such city.

6. Reduction of assessed value. If the taxable assessed value of a property for the fiscal year beginning on the first of July, two thousand fourteen is reduced after the assessment roll applicable to such fiscal year becomes final, any abatement already granted pursuant to this section shall be adjusted accordingly. The difference between the original abatement and the adjusted abatement shall be deducted from any credit otherwise due.

Int. No. 366

By Council Members Kallos and Koo.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to free and open source software.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. The Council hereby finds and declares that it is in the best interest of New York City and its agencies to purchase software with a free and open source license. The cost of obtaining software for the city's computer systems has become a significant expense to the city of New York. The personnel costs of maintaining the software on city computers has also become a significant expense to the city of New York. It is necessary for the functioning of the city that computer data owned by the city be permanently available to the city throughout its useful life. To guarantee the succession and permanence of public data, it is necessary that the city's accessibility to that data be independent of the goodwill of the city's computer system suppliers and the conditions imposed by these suppliers. It is in the public interest to ensure interoperability of computer systems through the use of software and products that promote open, platform-neutral standards. It is also in the public interest that the city be free, to the greatest extent possible, of conditions imposed by parties outside the city's control on how, and for how long, the city may use the software it has acquired. Finally, it is not in the public interest and it is a violation of the fundamental right to privacy for the city to use software that, in addition to its stated function, also transmits data to, or allows control and modification of its systems by, parties outside of the city's control.

The acquisition and widespread deployment of free and open source software can significantly reduce the city's costs of obtaining and maintaining software: Free and open source software guarantees that the encoding of data is not tied to a single provider; free and open source software enables interoperability through adherence to open, platform-neutral standards; free and open source software contains no restrictions on how, or for how long, it may be used; and since free and open source software fully discloses its internal operations, it can be audited, at any time and by anyone of the city's choosing, for internal functions that are contrary to the public's interests and rights.

§2. Title six of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new chapter four to read as follows:

CHAPTER 4
SOFTWARE PURCHASING

§6-401. Definitions. As used in this chapter:

a. Definitions set forth in section 23-501 of the administrative code of the city of New York is incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein.

b. The following terms shall have the following meanings:

“Agency” shall mean a city, county, borough, or other office, position, administration, department, division, bureau, board or commission, or a corporation, institution or agency of government, the expenses of which are paid in whole or in part from the city treasury.

“City chief procurement officer” shall mean the person to whom the mayor has delegated authority to coordinate and oversee the procurement activity of mayoral agency staff, including the agency chief contracting officers and any offices that have oversight responsibility for procurement.

“Civic Commons software” shall mean software purchased collaboratively with jurisdictions outside of the city of new york in accordance with section 403 and section 404 of this chapter.

“Free software” means software that provides access to the source code and guarantees users the freedom to run, copy, distribute, study, change and improve the software through the four essential freedoms:

- (i) The freedom to run the program, for any purpose;
- (ii) The freedom to study how the program works, and change it so it does your computing as you wish.
- (iii) The freedom to redistribute copies to help your neighbor; and
- (iv) The freedom to distribute copies of your modified versions to others

“Free and open source software” means software that satisfies all the criteria set forth in the definitions of “free software” and “open source software” under this chapter.

“Open source software” shall mean software that complies with the following criteria:

(1) Free redistribution. The license shall not restrict any party from selling or giving away the software as a component of an aggregate software distribution containing programs from several different sources. The license shall not require a royalty or other fee for such sale.

(2) Source code. The program must include source code, and must allow distribution in source code as well as compiled form. Where some form of a product is not distributed with source code, there must be a well-publicized means of obtaining the source code for no more than a reasonable reproduction cost preferably, downloading via the internet without charge. The source code must be the preferred form in which a programmer would modify the program. Deliberately obfuscated source code is not allowed. Intermediate forms such as the output of a preprocessor or translator are not allowed.

(3) Derived works. The license must allow modifications and derived works, and must allow them to be distributed under the same terms as the license of the original software.

(4) Integrity of the author's source code. The license may restrict source-code from being distributed in modified form only if the license allows the distribution of "patch files" with the source code for the purpose of modifying the program at build time. The license must explicitly permit distribution of software built from modified source code. The license may require derived works to carry a different name or version number from the original software.

(5) No discrimination against persons or groups. The license must not discriminate against any person or group of persons.

(6) No discrimination against fields of endeavor. The license must not restrict anyone from making use of the program in a specific field of endeavor.

(7) Distribution of license. The rights attached to the program must apply to all to whom the program is redistributed without the need for execution of an additional license by those parties.

(8) License must not be specific to a product. The rights attached to the program must not depend on the program's being part of a particular software distribution. If the program is extracted from that distribution and used or distributed within the terms of the program's license, all parties to whom the program is redistributed should have the same rights as those that are granted in conjunction with the original software distribution.

(9) License must not restrict other software. The license must not place restrictions on other software that is distributed along with the licensed software. For example, the license must not insist that all other programs distributed on the same medium must be open-source software.

(10) License must be technology-neutral. No provision of the license may be predicated on any individual technology or style of interface.

“Proprietary software” means software that does not fulfill all of the guarantees provided by open source software.

§6-402. Free and open source software.

a. Within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of the local law that added this section, the city chief procurement officer, in conjunction with the commissioner of the department of information technology and telecommunications, shall develop a plan to minimize the city's procurement of proprietary software. Such plan shall include a detailed schedule with annual goals for the planned reduction of the purchase of proprietary software and increase in the purchase of free and open source software. The city chief procurement officer shall publish such plan on the mayor's office of contract services website.

b. To advance the goals of such plan, the city chief procurement officer, in conjunction with the commissioner of the department of information technology and telecommunications, shall:

- (1) establish guidelines for agencies that will assist in increasing the purchase of free and open source software;
- (2) publish such guidelines on the mayor's office of contract services website;
- (3) disseminate such guidelines to agencies and train agency contracting personnel on implementing such guidelines; and
- (4) monitor agency implementation of such guidelines.

c. Not later than October first of each year, the city chief procurement officer shall submit to the mayor and the speaker of the city council, and publish on the mayor's office of contract services website, a report detailing the city's efforts during the preceding fiscal year to implement such plan. Such report shall include the total dollar value of software procured by agencies, disaggregated by open source software and proprietary software, and an analysis of estimated cost savings resulting from the purchase of open source software.

§3. This local law shall take effect 90 days after its enactment into law, provided, however, that city agencies, officers and employees, including but not limited to the city chief procurement officer, shall take such actions as are necessary for its implementation prior to such effective date.

Res. No. 257

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.7119A/S.5120A, legislation that would amend the social services law, in relation to prohibiting work experience programs in New York.

By Council Members Mealy, Dickens, King, Rose, Chin, Johnson, Levine, Kallos, Palma, Levin, Torres, Rosenthal and Menchaca.

Whereas, The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families ("TANF") program provides public assistance including, but not limited to, cash assistance and work opportunities to families in need by granting states federal funds through the TANF block grant; and

Whereas, States that receive the TANF block grant funds are given the flexibility to design and implement their own programs to accomplish the goals of TANF; and

Whereas, The goals of the TANF program are to: 1) assist families in need so that children can be cared for in their own homes; 2) reduce the dependency of parents in need by promoting job preparation, work and marriage; 3) prevent out-of-wedlock pregnancies; and 4) encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families; and

Whereas, TANF places an emphasis on working for one's benefits and requires each state to meet a 50 percent work activity engagement rate for all families receiving public assistance in order for the state to receive the maximum TANF grant amount, the remaining 50 percent of a state's caseload is work-exempt and does not need to be engaged in a work activity; and

Whereas, The Work Experience Program ("WEP"), is a work program in New York City administered by the Human Resources Administration ("HRA"), designed to place public assistance recipients in work experience assignments in order to receive cash assistance and help meet the state's mandated work engagement requirement; and

Whereas, As of May 4, 2014 there were 11,450 people enrolled in WEP receiving public assistance in New York City; and

Whereas, WEP participants are not considered employees, do not receive a paycheck, are not eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit, collective bargaining, unemployment or social security benefits; and

Whereas, Additionally, WEP participants do not receive education or training and rarely advance from their assigned position; and

Whereas, WEP provides New York City with a source of inexpensive labor because WEP participants are not paid by their employers and instead are subsidized by TANF; and

Whereas, According to the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, TANF benefit levels are not high enough in any state to raise a family's income above 50 percent of the poverty line and TANF does much less to help families overcome deep poverty than it did prior to welfare reform, which required recipients to work in order to receive public benefits; and

Whereas, Therefore, because WEP does not provide enough financial resources to help a family overcome poverty and also does not provide appropriate training or education so a recipient could become qualified for a higher wage job, its effectiveness is questionable; and

Whereas, State legislation A.7119A/S.5120A, by Assemblyman Keith Wright and Senator Diane Savino, respectively, aims to improve work activity options to public assistance recipients in New York by prohibiting counties within the state from using WEP to fulfill TANF work requirements; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.7119A/S.5120A, legislation that would amend the social services law, in relation to prohibiting work experience programs in New York.

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to provide the Highway Trust Fund with sufficient resources to continue vital transportation infrastructure construction.

By Council Members Miller, Chin, Dromm, Gentile, Johnson, Koo, Rose, Wills, Rodriguez, Mendez, Richards and Rosenthal.

Whereas, Established in 1956, the Highway Trust Fund (HTF) receives revenue from federal gasoline, diesel, and related taxes and is the federal government's primary means of funding transportation projects across the country; and

Whereas, The HTF provides $46 billion in surface transportation funding each year, with New York State receiving over $3 billion in total funding in federal fiscal year 2014; and

Whereas, The federal gas tax has not been raised since 1993; and

Whereas, The effects of inflation, increased vehicle fuel efficiency, and the slowing growth of driving in the country have led to HTF revenues being unable to keep pace with investment needs; and

Whereas, The federal government has periodically made up for these shortfalls with transfers from the general fund to the HTF; and

Whereas, The current law, known as Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century, that authorizes federal surface transportation programs, including the most recent transfers from the general fund, expires on September 30, 2014; and

Whereas, The HTF's Highway Account is expected to run out of money as early as July 2014; and

Whereas, This depletion would potentially paralyze vital road, bridge, bicycle, and pedestrian construction projects integral to providing reliable and safe transportation infrastructure throughout the country and puts as many as 700,000 jobs in jeopardy; and

Whereas, While not quite as dire as the outlook of the Highway Account, the HTF's Mass Transit Account, the primary source of federal funding for public transit programs, faces a similarly precarious situation without action by Congress; and

Whereas, Efficient and environmentally-friendly mass transit is the lifeblood of New York City and mass transit funding must be made a priority when Congress moves to shore up transportation funding; and

Whereas, In particular, Congress should heed the recommendations of advocacy alliance groups like Transportation for America to provide an additional $30 billion per year to support all modes of surface transportation and to encourage local initiative and innovation through competition and incentives, providing greater local access to federal funding; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to provide the Highway Trust Fund with sufficient resources to continue vital transportation infrastructure construction.

Res. No. 259

Resolution calling upon the Mayor of the City of New York to acquire, by direct purchase or through eminent domain, the property at 211 Ainslie Street, Brooklyn, which is home to the Swinging Sixties Senior Center and the Small World Daycare, in order to maintain the property's public purpose.

By Council Members Reynoso and Mendez.

Whereas, For nearly four decades, the property at 211 Ainslie Street, Brooklyn, has been home to the Swinging Sixties Senior Center and the Small World Daycare, both operated by the Conselyea Street Block Association (CSBA); and

Whereas, Until recently, the senior center and daycare were funded by the New York City Department for the Aging (DFTA) and the New York City Administration for Children's Services (ACS), respectively; and

Whereas, On a daily basis, at least 100 seniors, 90 preschoolers and 70 after-school students visit the centers; and

Whereas, The Swinging Sixties Senior Center is also home to monthly Community Board 1 meetings; and

Whereas, Additionally, the senior center and daycare have at least 40 employees, many of whom reside in the surrounding community; and

Whereas, The Small World Daycare has recently expressed interest in providing Full-Day Universal Pre-Kindergarten Services, which if implemented, would prepare children in the surrounding community for success; and

Whereas, While CSBA operates the senior center and daycare, it does not own the property; and

Whereas, After new owners acquired the building in 2013, CSBA has had their rent increased by $7,000 to approximately $40,000 a month; and

Whereas, As a result of having its bids rejected due to competition in the district and losing its funding from DFTA and ACS and having their rent dramatically increased, the CSBA is at risk of having to close the senior center and daycare; and

Whereas, The City Council has secured the necessary funding to keep the senior center and daycare open for the remainder of 2014; and

Whereas, If the Swinging Sixties Senior Center closes its doors after that time, seniors who have been frequenting the center for many years may be unable or unwilling to travel to a center that is farther away; and

Whereas, The City may acquire real property by purchase or eminent domain, for any public or municipal use or purpose or for the promotion of public utility, comfort, health, enjoyment or adornment; and

Whereas, Ensuring that the community can continue to avail itself of the programs and services offered at the senior center and daycare is a public purpose and the property was constructed using public funds so it is appropriate that it be used to benefit the community; and

Whereas, In order to ensure that the Swinging Sixties Senior Center and the Small World Daycare continue to provide services to its surrounding community and some of its most vulnerable residents, including seniors and children, the City should acquire the property at 211 Ainslie Street, Brooklyn, and lease it to CSBA at reasonable terms; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Mayor of the City of New York to acquire, by direct purchase or through eminent domain, the property at 211 Ainslie Street, Brooklyn, which is home to the Swinging Sixties Senior Center and the Small World Daycare, in order to maintain the property's public purpose.

Res. No. 260

Resolution calling upon Congress to pass and the President to sign H.R. 357 and S. 257, which would expand higher educational opportunities for veterans.

By Council Members Ulrich, Chin, Dickens, Eugene, Gentile, Koo, Rose, Wills, Rodriguez, Mendez and Rosenthal.

Whereas, Legislation known as the G.I. Bill Tuition Fairness Act of 2014, H.R. 357 and S. 257, would allow expanded educational opportunities for veterans, by allowing them to attend the state-run higher-education institution of their choice at the in-state rate; and

Whereas, H.R. 357 and S. 257, were introduced by House Representative Jeffrey Miller and Senator John Boozman, respectively; and

Whereas, Under current law, the Post 9/11 G.I. Bill covers tuition and fees only at the in-state rate of public colleges and universities; and

Whereas, According to the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), due to the wide variance in state residency laws, veterans often have a difficult task in establishing legal residency where they live; and

Whereas, The legislation would require public colleges and universities to charge in-state tuition rates to all veterans in order for the school to be eligible to receive G.I. Bill educational payments; and

Whereas, According to a College Board study of the 2012-2013 academic year, the average non-resident rate at public 4-year schools is $21,706, while resident rates average $8,655; and

Whereas, H.R. 357 and S. 257 would ensure that veterans can attend an institution of higher learning that meets their specific needs without the burden of worrying about the significantly higher costs out-of-state residents must pay; and

Whereas, The Act would provide a simple solution to the difficulties veterans often face in establishing permanent residency; and

Whereas, According to the VFW, "[o]ver the last couple of years, the VFW has heard from countless veterans driven into more expensive college programs because public schools offered no flexibility in residency requirements, prohibiting veterans from attending at the in-state rate"; and

Whereas, The Student Veterans of America has said that the proposed legislation "addresses the issue of inequality within the Post 9/11 G.I. Bill and will do a great deal to support veterans' success in higher education"; and

Whereas, According to the bill's sponsor and House Veterans Committee Chairperson Miller, "[t]he men and women who served this nation did not just defend the citizens of their home states, but the citizens of all 50 states"; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City of New York calls upon Congress to pass and the President to sign HR 357 and S 257, which legislation would expand educational opportunities for veterans.

Referred to the Committee on Veterans.

Res. No. 261

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign S.1702, an Act to amend the public housing law, in relation to veterans' eligibility for public housing.

By Council Members Ulrich, Chin, Constantinides, Dickens, Eugene, Koo, Wills, Rodriguez, Koslowitz and Rosenthal.

Whereas, According to the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), New York City is home to roughly 200,000 veterans; and

Whereas, As the United States (U.S.) decreases its involvement in overseas conflicts and reduces the size of the military, greater numbers of service members will transition back to civilian life; and

Whereas, According to the United War Veterans Council, 44,000 service members are expected to return home from active duty to the New York City metropolitan area in the subsequent months and years; and

Whereas, One of the biggest challenges facing veterans and returning service members is locating safe and affordable housing for themselves and their families; and

Whereas, However, New York City has one of the lowest residential vacancy rates in the nation and a widespread affordable housing shortage; and

Whereas, The New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) is a public housing agency that provides affordable housing options for low and moderate income residents throughout the five boroughs of New York City; and

Whereas, NYCHA has a significant backlog of applicants seeking affordable housing accommodations; and

Whereas, Current New York State law grants priority admission preferences to public housing for those veterans who were honorably discharged and served in the military between February 2, 1961 and May 1, 1975; and

Whereas, Conversely, there are currently no public housing preferences afforded to veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan conflicts, or to service-connected disabled veterans and their families under any existing public housing laws; and

Whereas, In 2013, Senator Anthony Avella introduced S.1702, an Act to amend the public housing law, in relation to veterans' eligibility for public housing; and

Whereas, This Act would expand public housing opportunities and grant priority access to veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan conflicts provided some portion of the service period was between September 14, 2001 to December 31, 2014; and

Whereas, This legislation would also allow a preference to veterans or families of veterans who have a military service-connected disability as designated by the VA; and

Whereas, New York State has a commitment to honor the service of all veterans regardless of era or conflict, and to honor those veterans who sustained injuries in battle defending their country; and

Whereas, To ease the transition into civilian life, it is more crucial than ever that affordable housing assistance be provided to all veterans and their families; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign S.1702, an Act to amend the public housing law, in relation to veterans' eligibility for public housing.

Referred to the Committee on Veterans.

Res. No. 262

Resolution calling upon the Department for the Aging to ensure that halal meals are available as part of the home delivered meals program.

By Council Members Ulrich, Espinal, Chin, Constantinides, Dromm, Eugene, Gentile, Koo, Lancman, Levine, Vallone, Williams, Rodriguez, Mendez, Richards, Miller and Rosenthal.

Whereas, The federal government provides local agencies on aging with funding for nutritional programs for seniors through the Older Americans Act; and

Whereas, The New York City Department for the Aging (DFTA) contracts with non-profit organizations to operate nutrition programs offering seniors home delivered meals; and

Whereas, In 2013, DFTA contractors delivered 4.25 million meals to seniors throughout the City, serving approximately 17,000 each day; and

Whereas, According to DFTA, a number of home delivered meal providers offer specialized meals such as kosher meals and culturally relevant meals to those identifying as Chinese, Polish, and Korean; and

Whereas, It is estimated that between 600,000 and one million Muslims live in New York City; and

Whereas, Observant Muslims adhere to a halal diet, consuming only approved foods that have been prepared in accordance with Islamic law; and

Whereas, Currently, none of the 16 contractors currently participating in DFTA's home delivered meal program offer halal meals; and

Whereas, Free home delivered meals can help prevent disease, reduce the effects of chronic illnesses, promote socialization, and keep low-income seniors from going hungry; and

Whereas, Offering culturally and religiously appropriate meals allows more seniors in the City's increasingly diverse aging population to benefit from the home delivered meals program; and

Whereas, Many Muslim seniors would go hungry rather than go against their religious beliefs by eating non-halal meals; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Department for the Aging to ensure that halal meals are available as part of the home delivered meals program.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to civil penalties for leaving the scene of an accident without reporting.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 3 of chapter one of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 19-190 to read as follows:

§19-190 Civil penalties for leaving the scene of an incident without reporting.
a. Except as provided in the vehicle and traffic law, in addition to or as an alternative to any criminal penalties assessed, any driver who leaves the scene of an incident without complying with all of the provisions of paragraph a of subdivision one of section six hundred of the vehicle and traffic law, shall be liable for a civil penalty, recoverable at the environmental control board, of not more than two hundred fifty dollars. Where the driver knows or has cause to know that physical injury has occurred and does not abide by all of the provisions of paragraph a of subdivision two of section six hundred of the vehicle and traffic law, such civil penalty shall be not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, where such injury is serious physical injury, of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and where such injury results in death, of not less than two thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. For purposes of this section, "physical injury" and "serious physical injury" shall have the same meaning as in section 10.00 of the penal law.

§2. This local law shall take effect ninety days after enactment.

Res. No. 263

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass the "corporate political activity accountability to shareholders act," requiring that corporate political spending be approved by a majority of shareholders in advance, and for detailed spending reports to be made available to shareholders and the general public.

By Council Members Van Bramer, Chin, Johnson, Rodriguez, Mendez and Rosenthal.

Whereas, In 2010 the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, holding that independent spending on elections by corporations and other groups could not be limited by government regulations; and

Whereas, A major implication of this decision is corporate freedom to spend unlimited amounts on political advertising without a requirement that the recipient of the funding disclose the sources of their funding; and

Whereas, According to US PIRG, as a result of this decision, 30 percent of outside group spending in the 2012 elections was anonymous; and

Whereas, High levels of anonymous election spending by corporations and other groups significantly hinders transparency and accountability in the political process; and

Whereas, Reduced transparency in campaign finance increases the risk of political corruption and undue influence by special interest groups over the political process; and

Whereas, A corporation's shareholders have an interest in overseeing the use of corporate funds; and

Whereas, The New York State Legislature is currently considering the "corporate political activity accountability to shareholders act" (S.177 and A.7287), introduced by State Senator Daniel Squadron and Assemblyman Nily Rozic respectively, which would amend the business corporation law by requiring corporations to obtain shareholder approval prior to making any political contributions or independent expenditures in New York State; and

Whereas, The Act would also require these entities to submit a report to shareholders, as well as to the New York Secretary of State who would be required to publish the report online, detailing these expenditures, including the business rationale for them; and

Whereas, If enacted this bill would increase the transparency of political spending and help ensure that shareholders, as well as the general public, are aware of how entity resources are spent, and whether this spending is consistent with their interests; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass the "corporate political activity accountability to shareholders act," requiring that corporate political spending be approved by a majority of shareholders in advance, and for detailed spending reports to be made available to shareholders and the general public.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to notification of responsible parties and inspection of construction sites by the department of environmental protection where noise complaints are received for emergency work.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 24-207 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by re-lettering existing subdivisions c and d as subdivisions d and e, respectively, and adding a new subdivision c to read as follows:

c. (1) Where the department receives two or more complaints for unreasonable noise within any twenty-four hour period regarding emergency work performed at the construction site during such period of time, the department shall notify the responsible party at a construction site. Such notice shall occur on the business day immediately following the day upon which the second of such complaints is received.

(2) The department shall inspect any construction site for which the department receives four or more complaints for unreasonable noise within a forty-eight hour period regarding emergency work performed at that construction site during such period. Such inspection shall occur on the business day immediately following the day upon which the fourth of such reports is received.

§ 2. Subdivisions b and c of section 24-220 of the administrative code of the city of New York are amended to read as follows:

(b) Such plan shall be adopted prior to the commencement of construction at the site or, with respect to emergency work, as defined in the department's rules, within [three days] one day thereafter, and shall apply to all work at the site throughout the construction process. The plan shall provide in detail the noise mitigation strategies, methods, procedures and technology, as prescribed in the rules of the department or specifically approved by the commissioner in accordance with section 24-221 of this code, for each device or activity employed or performed at the site. Each permit holder or other person in charge of such construction site will be accountable for compliance with such rules and shall ensure that each person performing construction work at the site shall be aware of the plan and shall be responsible for complying with those provisions that affect his or her work.

(c) A copy of the plan shall be kept at the construction site and shall be made available for inspection upon the request of persons authorized to enforce the provisions of this code. Where emergency work is performed, a notice to residents shall be posted which shall provide information regarding how to report unreasonable noise and to serve a citizen's complaint pursuant to section 24-261 of this chapter relating to emergency work performed at any such construction site.

§ 3. This local law shall take effect immediately.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the department of homeless services to provide community notification.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 3 of title 21 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 21-316 to read as follows:

§ 21-316 Community notification. a. Definitions. For the purposes of this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

1. "Community board" shall mean the group of persons that represent the interests of a community district as defined by section 2800 of the New York city charter.

2. "Transitional housing" shall mean temporary emergency housing provided to homeless adults, adult families, and families with children by the department or a provider under contract or similar agreement with the department.

b. When the department enters into a contract for the development of transitional housing and any change to the contracted capacity or use of such transitional housing is sought through a contract modification, including, but not limited to, an increase of capacity or a change in the intended population to be housed in the transitional housing facility, the department shall provide written notice of such change to all parties who originally received notice of the transitional housing, including, but not limited to, the affected community board and council member within ten days of the comptroller's registration of such contract modification.

§2. This local law shall take effect immediately.

Res. No. 264

Resolution in support of A.2736/S.1379, which would amend state law by prohibiting using possession of a condom as evidence in prostitution and prostitution related trials, hearings or proceedings.

By Council Members Williams, Menchaca, Weprin, Chin, Dickens, Dromm, Johnson, Levine, Rose, Wills, Rodriguez, Palma, Reynoso, Kallos, Lander, Torres and Rosenthal.

Whereas, New York City is arguably the epicenter of the HIV/AIDS epidemic, and according to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene ("DOHMH"), in 2012, there were 114,926 New Yorkers living with HIV/AIDS and thousands more are unaware of their status; and

Whereas, According to DOHMH, of those who are newly infected by HIV in New York City, 77 percent are black and Hispanic men; and

Whereas, According to the to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention ("CDC"), latex condoms, when used consistently and correctly, are a highly effective method of preventing the sexual transmission of HIV and reducing the risk of other sexually-transmitted diseases; and

Whereas, Since 1971, New York City has distributed free condoms to the public in order to combat the transmission of sexually-transmitted infections and diseases as well as to promote safer sex practices; and

Whereas, DOHMH distributes more than 38 million condoms per year at approximately 3,500 locations throughout New York City including, but not limited to: bars, nightclubs, restaurants, hospitals, clinics and community based organizations; and

Whereas, A 2006 study conducted by experienced HIV care providers found that each case of HIV prevented could save $303,100 in lifetime medical costs; and

Whereas, Condom distribution is a recognized public health intervention which protects individuals from HIV/AIDS and other sexually-transmitted diseases and the CDC has cited barriers to condom access as one of the contributing factors to continuing HIV infections; and

Whereas, Nevertheless, under existing law, the possession of condoms may be introduced as evidence of prostitution and prostitution related offenses; and

Whereas, Despite the noted public health benefit of condom use, according to research conducted by DOHMH and the PROS Network, a coalition of public health organizations and service providers, the admissibility of condoms as evidence of prostitution leads to frequent confiscation of condoms by New York City Police (NYPD) officers, which discourages certain groups from possessing and thereby using condoms, all of which deeply undermines public health efforts to encourage safe sex; and

Whereas, On May 12, 2014, NYPD Commissioner Bratton announced a policy change, which would limit the NYPD's practice of confiscating condoms in three prostitution-related offenses: prostitution, prostitution in a school zone, and loitering for the purposes of prostitution; and

Whereas, However, condoms will still be invoiced as evidence for arrests made for promoting prostitution and sex trafficking cases; and

Whereas, The policy of using possession of a condom as evidence in more serious prostitution-related offenses detrimentally affects vulnerable sex workers and individuals who have been profiled by police as being sex workers, as they will remain reluctant of carrying any form of contraception or sexually-transmitted infection prevention tool because they will still fear the legal ramifications of doing so; and

Whereas, Current state law, notwithstanding NYPD's updated policy, puts any person who carries, possesses, or has condoms on a premises at risk of being suspected of criminal activity and endangers the public health of all New Yorkers; and

Whereas, Although the NYPD's recent policy change should be praised, New York State needs to further restrict the possession of a condom from being used in evidence in all prostitution related offenses; and

Whereas, A.2736, introduced by Assembly Member Barbara Clark and pending in the New York State Assembly, and S.1379 introduced by Senator Velmanette Montgomery and pending in the New York State Senate, seek to take the NYPD's new policy a step further by prohibiting possession of a condom from being received in evidence in any trial, hearing or proceeding as evidence of prostitution-related offenses; and

Whereas, Over 70 public health, anti-trafficking, reproductive justice, women's, LGBT, sex workers', civil and human rights advocates and organizations have expressed support for passage of legislation that would prohibit the citation of condoms as evidence of intent to engage in prostitution-related offenses; and

Whereas, The passage of A.2736/S.1379 would ensure that all New Yorkers are not deterred from continuing to use condoms to protect against the threat of sexually transmitted diseases; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York supports A.2736/S.1379, which would amend state law by prohibiting using possession of a condom as evidence in prostitution and prostitution related trials, hearings or proceedings.
