INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Rev. Daryl G. Bloodsaw, Pastor First Baptist Church of Crown Heights, 450 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11225.

Please bow.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
thou who has brought us thus far on the way, thou who has by thy might led us into the light,
keep us forever in the path we pray.
Oh God we lift up this august body of legislators today;
we thank you oh God for a day that you never promised us we'd get to see,
but here we are oh God,
ready, willing and able to do your will.
God we pray today for purpose that this body, oh God, might never forget that they are here, oh God, to legislate for the common good of the City of New York;
that they might forever keep state in the front of their minds the least of these and their needs.
We pray oh God right now for provision, that through this body the hunger might be fed,
the naked might be clothed, the thirsty might receive water;
oh God we just thank you right now.
We thank you and we pray right now for peace in our city, peace oh God, that our differences might not be used against us, but that our differences oh God might be lifted up and draw us closer together.

God we just thank you right now and pray that the peace in this room oh God might be made manifest on the streets of our communities, that the guns may be put down, oh God,
that angry fists might be unfolded, oh God;
that the intolerance oh God might just dissipate, for we know that your spirit is a spirit of love.
God, we just thank you, we love you and we praise you;
we offer this prayer in the name of Jesus. Amen.

Council Member Cumbo moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the Record.

Report for Int. No. 712-A

Report of the Committee on Health in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code, in relation to requiring the department of health and mental hygiene to conduct community air quality surveys and publish the results annually.

The Committee on Health, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on March 11, 2015 (Minutes, page 801), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

Today, the Committee on Health, chaired by Council Member Corey Johnson, will hear Proposed Int. No. 712-A. This bill was previously heard before this Committee on June 24, 2015. Among those testifying at the previous hearing on this bill were representatives from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH), the Department for the Aging, and the Office of Emergency Management. This bill was amended after its first hearing to change the numeric standard for air quality monitoring stations to a performance-based standard, among other changes detailed in section III below.

II. BACKGROUND

Air pollution in New York City is a major concern, contributing to approximately six percent of all deaths.¹ Air pollution has been linked to cancer, reduced birth weight and possibly impaired brain development and function.² Pollutants of concern include fine particulate matter (PM_{2.5}), nitrogen oxides (NO₂), elemental carbon, sulfur dioxide (SO₂), and ozone.³ Fine particulate matter is caused by the operation of motor vehicles and boilers and “can penetrate deep into the lungs, causing inflammation of the airways, exacerbating lung and heart disease, increasing hospital admissions and contributing to premature mortality.”⁴ Nitrogen oxides are gases produced by fuel combustion and is associated with lung irritation, emergency department visits and hospital admissions for respiratory conditions.⁵ Elemental carbon is a component of fine particulate matter emitted from fossil fuel combustion and can cause irritation of the airways and exacerbate asthma, may increase the risk of lung cancer, and can contribute to hotter temperatures in cities.⁶ Sulfur dioxide is a gas emitted from fossil fuel combustion at power plants and other industrial facilities, can cause acid rain and is associated with increased respiratory illnesses.⁷ Ozone is a gas which is created from natural sources but also from motor vehicle exhaust and industrial emissions.⁸ While it can protect us from the sun’s rays when it is 10-30 miles above the earth’s surface, it creates smog at ground level triggering a variety of health problems including asthma and other respiratory illnesses.⁹

New York City’s air quality has violated the EPA’s National Ambient Air Quality Standards for various criteria pollutants over the years, and in January 2015, the most recent data available, exceeded these standards for ozone and carbon monoxide pursuant to the Clean Air Act.¹⁰ However, the City has made progress recently in PM_{2.5} concentrations in the air, moving from seventh to fourth place out of the nine largest cities in the United States as of 2013.¹¹

A collaborative effort between DOHMH and Queens College to undertake air monitoring to track quality and improvements was launched in December 2008 and the first New York City Community Air Survey was released in December 2009.¹² As part of the survey, researchers tested air samples at 150 locations in the first two years and 60 to 100 locations in the years following. Since the beginning of the survey to 2013, PM_{2.5}, NO₂, and SO₂ have all declined; however, they remain high in densely built neighborhoods and high traffic areas.

III. ANALYSIS OF, AND CHANGES TO, PROPOSED INT. NO. 712-A

Proposed Int. No. 712-A would require DOHMH to conduct an annual community air quality survey. The survey would be required to measure street-level air pollution around New York City, and to determine the relationship between air pollution levels around the city and factors such as traffic and building emissions. The pollutants covered by Proposed Int. No. 712-A are particulate matter less than 2.5 micrometers in diameter, nitrogen oxide, nitric oxide, sulfur dioxide, and ground-level ozone. The number and location of monitoring sites would be required to be selected so as to ensure that neighborhood pollution levels could be accurately modeled across the city.

Based on the data collected, DOHMH would be required to issue an annual report to the Council by April 22 of each year, and to post the report on its website. Among other requirements, the report would be required to identify major sources of pollution and polluted areas, include pollution maps, and describe the methodology for selecting monitoring sites. Proposed Int. No. 712-A would take effect 120 days after its enactment into law.

Since it was heard in June, this bill has been amended. Highlights of these changes are as follows. The requirement that a specific number of air quality monitoring sites be used was replaced with a performance standard that requires the number and placement of sites be such that DOHMH ensures that it has adequate information to assess the sources and concentrations of air pollution across the city. The requirement that DOHMH include an assessment of regional sources of pollution was removed, as such sources are outside the scope of the community air quality survey. The requirement that DOHMH make recommendations in its annual survey for local, state, and federal action to reduce pollution was removed. The allowance for DOHMH to add additional pollutants to the survey was eliminated, as such authorization is not needed in order for DOHMH to do so.

COMMITTEE: Health

TITLE: A local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the department of health and mental hygiene to conduct community air quality surveys and publish the results annually

SPONSORS: Council Members Johnson, Constantinides, Arroyo, Chin, Gentile, Richards, Rose, Wills, Koslowitz, Rodriguez, Rosenthal, Menchaca and Ulrich

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 712-A would require the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) to conduct an annual community air quality survey to measure air pollution around New York City.

Specifically, such survey must measure pollutants at street-level monitoring sites, determine how pollutant concentrations vary at monitoring sites across the City and the relationship to local factors, identify major sources and patterns of pollutants, and produce maps indicating the varying concentration levels of pollutants across the City by pollutant.

In addition, by April 22 of each year, DOHMH would be required to issue a report to the Speaker of the City Council summarizing the results of that year's community air quality survey. Such report must also be made available on DOHMH's website in a machine-readable format.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 120 days after enactment, provided that the Commissioner of DOHMH may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code, in relation to requiring the department of health and mental hygiene to conduct community air quality surveys and publish the results annually.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter one of title 17 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 17-125 to read as follows:

§ 17-125 Community air quality surveys and annual report. a. For the purposes of this section, "pollutants" means particulate matter that is less than 2.5 micrometers in diameter, nitrogen dioxide, nitric oxide, sulfur dioxide and ground-level ozone.

b. The department shall conduct a community air quality survey on an annual basis. Such survey shall:

1. Measure pollutants at street-level at monitoring sites across the city of New York over every season of the year, selected to ensure that the number of monitoring sites provides adequate information to assess the range of common emissions sources and neighborhood pollutant concentrations across the city, as determined by the department. At the discretion of the department, data on ozone may be measured in the summer months only and data on sulfur dioxide may be measured in the winter months only;

2. Determine whether and how concentrations of pollutants near monitor sites vary across the city and the relationship, if any, of such concentrations to local traffic, building emissions and other factors;

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings

Report for Int. No. 462-A

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the referral of certain elevator-related violations to the department of housing preservation and development for consideration under the emergency repair program.

The Committee on Housing and Buildings, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on August 21, 2014 (Minutes, page 3153), respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction

On October 13, 2015, the Committee on Housing and Buildings, chaired by Council Member Jumaane D. Williams, will hold a hearing to consider Proposed Int. No. 462-A.

The Committee previously considered Int. No. 462 on February 27, 2015 and received testimony from representatives of the Department of Buildings (DOB), members of the real estate industry, and legal service providers.

Proposed Int. No. 462-A

Under the Emergency Repair Program (ERP), HPD has the power to repair, or order an owner to repair, any condition in a dwelling that is dangerous to human life and safety or detrimental to health. HPD has not used this power to repair elevator-related violations.

This legislation would require DOB to refer immediately hazardous elevator-related violations to HPD for a determination as to whether such violations are dangerous to human life and safety or detrimental to health pursuant to the ERP if, upon reinspection, DOB finds that the owner has not corrected such violations.¹ It would also require HPD to report on the number of such referrals and on any actions taken under the ERP in response to such referrals.

Section one of Proposed Int. No. 462-A would add a new section 28-219.4 to the Administrative Code of the City of New York (the Code). New section 28-219.4 would require DOB to refer immediately hazardous elevator-related violations that are located in multiple dwellings to HPD for a determination as to whether such violations qualify for ERP, if, upon reinspection, DOB finds that such violations have not been corrected. It would also require DOB to include in such referral whether any unit served by such elevator is not served by another operable elevator and any other relevant information. DOB would also be required to notify HPD if the owner began to take corrective action. Finally, DOB would have to notify owners of any such referrals to HPD.

This section would create an exception to such requirements where such elevator services only an owner-occupied dwelling unit and such dwelling unit is not occupied by boarders, roomers, or lodgers. It also creates an exception where such elevator is located within convents or rectories that are not open to non-occupants on a regular basis.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 462-A would add a new section 27-2129.1 to the Code. New section 27-2129.1 would require HPD to report to the mayor and the council on elevator-related violations that were referred to HPD. Such report would have to include, among other things, the number of multiple dwelling with immediately hazardous elevator-related violations that were referred to HPD and the actions HPD took in response to such referrals.

Section three of this legislation contains the enactment clause and provides that this local law take effect on July 1, 2016.

Changes to Int. No. 462

In addition to various technical edits, Proposed Int. No. 462-A has been amended in the following manner:

- The referrals of uncorrected elevator-related violations from DOB to HPD are now required to state whether any unit in the building served by such elevator is not served by another elevator and any other relevant information.
- DOB is now required to notify building owners of the referral of any such violations to HPD.
- HPD is now required to report on, among other things, the number of such referrals and any actions taken under the emergency repair program in response to such referrals.

¹ Immediately hazardous violations must be addressed immediately. For elevators the DOB re-inspects after 10 days.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 462-A

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the referral of certain elevator-related violations to the department of housing preservation and development for consideration under the emergency repair program.

SPONSOR(S): Council Members Vacca, Barron, Chin, Gentile, Gibson, King, Koo, Mendez, Koslowitz, Rose, Vallone, Cohen, Rodriguez, Rosenthal, Van Bramer, Kallos, Mealy, Palma, Arroyo, Johnson, Richards, Cornegy, Lancman, Dromm, Greenfield, Espinal, Treyger, Cumbo, Wills, Constantinides, Deutsch, Cabrera, Weprin, Levin, Garodnick, Menchaca, Reynoso, Ulrich and the Public Advocate (Ms. James)

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would require the Department of Buildings (DOB) to refer to the Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) an immediately hazardous violation relating to an elevator that services one or more units in a multiple dwelling building, if upon reinspection DOB finds that the owner has not corrected that violation. This referral would be required to occur within one week of the reinspection and requires DOB to include information about whether or not another operable elevator that services the units exists. Upon referral, HPD would make a determination as to whether the violation is dangerous to human life and safety or detrimental to health pursuant to the City's Housing Maintenance Code. HPD may then take steps to have the elevator repaired, pursuant to its existing powers under the emergency repair program. DOB would be required to notify the building owner of the notification to HPD as well as inform HPD if and when the building owner takes corrective action.

The legislation would exempt elevators located in owner-occupied multiple dwellings that service only the owner-occupied dwelling unit, provided that such unit is not occupied by boarders, roomers, or lodgers, and elevators located within convents and rectories that are not open to non-occupants on a regular basis.

The legislation would also require HPD to submit an annual report to the Council detailing the number and nature of referrals made to HPD for corrective action. The report would include, but not be limited to, the number of multiple dwellings issued immediately hazardous elevator-related violations and the number of those referred to HPD, the number that corrected the violations both before and after referral to HPD, the number of multiple dwellings where violations posed a danger to life or safety, and the number of multiple dwellings where violations were corrected by HPD and the cost of those corrections.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect on July 1, 2016, except that the commissioner of DOB and the commissioner of HPD may take such measures, including the promulgation of rules, as are necessary for its implementation prior to such effective date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2017

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY17	FY Succeeding Effective FY18	Full Fiscal Impact FY18
Expenditures	$0	$0	$0
Net	$0	$0	$0

IMPACT ON REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that this legislation would not have a significant impact on revenues or expenditures. Additionally, it is estimated that this legislation would not have an impact on expenditures on personnel costs and associated fringe because DOB and HPD would use existing resources to inspect elevators and scope related repair work.

SOURCE OF FUNDS TO COVER ESTIMATED COSTS: Not applicable.

Section 1. Article 219 of chapter 2 of title 28 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 28-219.4 to read as follows:

§ 28-219.4 Notice to the department of housing preservation and development for certain elevator-related violations. If, upon reinspection of an immediately hazardous violation relating to an elevator that services one or more dwelling units in a multiple dwelling, the department determines that such owner has failed to correct the condition constituting such violation then the commissioner shall refer such violation, within one week of such reinspection, to the commissioner of housing preservation and development for a determination as to whether such violation is dangerous to human life and safety or detrimental to health pursuant to section 27-2125 of the housing maintenance code. § 27-2129.1 Report on certain elevators referred to the department. In December 2016 and in each December thereafter, the department shall submit to the mayor and the speaker of the council, and make publicly available online, a report on the multiple dwellings that were referred to the department during such fiscal year pursuant to section 28-219.4 of the administrative code, containing, at a minimum:

Report of the Committee on Parks and Recreation

Report for Int. No. 154-A

Report of the Committee on Parks and Recreation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to an annual report on park maintenance and capital expenditures.

The Committee on Parks and Recreation, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on March 12, 2014 (Minutes, page 665), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On October 14, 2015, the Committee on Parks and Recreation, chaired by Council Member Mark Levine, will hold a hearing to vote on Proposed Int. No. 154-A, A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to an annual report on park maintenance and capital expenditures. The Committee first considered an earlier version of this bill at a hearing held on June 19, 2015.

BACKGROUND

Throughout the last decade the amount of open space in the City has grown tremendously, as 750 acres of parkland have been added with $3.9 billion in capital funding invested in new and renovated parks.¹ Large destination parks, such as the High Line, Hudson River Park and Brooklyn Bridge Park have been built, and large sums of capital money have been invested for the growth of additional space. These signature parks, many of which are operated by conservancies, have also attracted large private donations. For example, in 2012, $100 million was donated to Central Park and $20 million donated to the High Line. To contrast, Flushing Meadows Corona Park, in Queens, attracted only $5,000 in donations for the entire year.² Some advocates have argued that such donations and private funding have exacerbated the difference in status between parks in well-off areas and those in less affluent communities that do not have access to large sums of private donations.³

The equitable allocation of resources throughout the City's Parks system has been a longstanding concern for City policy makers and park advocates. As the trend of privately funding part of the parks system has grown since the fiscal crises of the 1970s through increased reliance on conservancies and private donations, public spending has remained mostly stagnant and even decreased when accounting for inflation. For example, park spending represented about 1.4 percent of the City budget in 1960, 0.86 percent in 1986, 0.65 in 1991 and 0.52 in 2000.⁴ Currently, DPR's expense budget for fiscal year 2015 is $429.5 million, which by dollar amount is the largest operating budget ever for DPR, but only represents about 0.6 percent of the City budget.⁵ Additionally, DPR has faced numerous budget cuts in recent years, resulting in less staff and hiring freezes that have hindered the department's ability to care for its 29,000 acre system.⁶ The budget for DPR fell from $367 million in 2008 to $337.5 million by Fiscal Year 2013, though the two most recent budgets have seen a reversal in this trend.⁷

Those who argue that park inequity remains a serious issue, often focus on the allocation of resources as it relates to proper park maintenance. DPR determines the overall condition of parks through its Parks Inspection Program (PIP). Each inspected park is given a rating for overall condition and for cleanliness, which includes numerous ratable park features.⁸ The most recent data from the beginning of Fiscal Year 2014 indicates that the ratings for overall condition and cleanliness were respectively as follows: Citywide, 87.8% and 92.1%; the Bronx, 86.8% and 91%; Brooklyn, 86% and 90%; Manhattan, 87.8% and 92.3%; Queens, 89.1% and 93.2%; and Staten Island, 91.5% and 96.4%.⁹ Though improvements have been made over time, many parks are still maintained inadequately and those that were not deemed adequate were often found in lower income neighborhoods.¹⁰ A 2013 study on the condition of 43 large parks between 20 and 500 acres in size concluded that DPR does not have enough resources to keep up with the demand of maintaining its 29,000 acres of parkland.¹¹ The study, which examined lawns, drinking fountains, sitting areas, courts, playgrounds, trees and bathrooms also found that such large parks found that while more features improved than declined between 2010 and 2012, the pattern was not consistent as features such as water fountains and lawns improved in some parks, while other features such as playground equipment declined, resulting in scores that "mask considerable variability in the performance of features from park to park and within parks from year to year." Part of the maintenance inconsistencies may have to do with the fact that DPR doesn't have a system for tracking park use and the allocation of resources to such parks. Another factor relates to DPR's increased reliance on private dollars regarding its capital process. For the vast majority of capital projects, DPR is reliant on discretionary allocations from various elected officials whose priorities might differ with those of DPR, leading some to argue that DPR should have its own discretionary capital budget to enable it to better plan and budget for capital projects over the long term.¹² The result of all this is that it is currently unknown to policy makers and the general public precisely how much money is being spent on a per-park basis by DPR in caring for the system's green spaces, as well as what the status is of many capital projects meant to improve the condition of various DPR properties.

This makes it difficult to assess what the specific maintenance needs are for specific parks as well as immediate staffing needs.¹³ DPR is however in the process of addressing this issue with the development of a program called OPS 21 that will use data analytics to provide daily feedback and tracking of maintenance work and improve staff allocation for park maintenance.¹⁴

Proposed Int. No. 154-A would require DPR to report to the Council and the Mayor on the resources it allocates for maintenance on a park by park basis and post updated information regarding the status of its funded capital projects.

Section one of Proposed Int. No. 154-A would add a new section 18-143 to the administrative code and would require DPR to submit an annual report to the Mayor and Council on maintenance work performed at each property under the jurisdiction of DPR.

Subdivision a of Proposed Int. No. 154-A would define the terms “fixed-post maintenance staff,” “functional acreage” and “mobile maintenance crew staff,” which are terms used throughout the bill.

Subdivision b of the bill would require that on or before December 1 of each year, DPR, for the most recent fiscal year, submit a report on maintenance work performed by staff at each property under its jurisdiction. The report would include:

1. The name, type and identification number of each property;
2. The size of each property, in total acreage and functional acreage;
3. Whether the property hosts fixed-post or permanent maintenance staff;
4. The weekly mean of work-hours for staff allocated to perform maintenance activities at each property, for both fixed-post maintenance staff and mobile maintenance crew staff on a quarterly basis;
5. The dollar value of the weekly mean of work hours for both fixed-post maintenance staff and mobile maintenance crew staff at each property on a quarterly basis;;
6. The weekly mean dollar value of estimated regional, district or borough-wide maintenance services provided at each property on a quarterly basis; and
7. The total weekly mean dollar value of maintenance services provided at each property. This provision would also allow the DPR commissioner, upon 30 days notice to the Mayor and the Council, amend the data included in the report if a different method of collecting the same or similar data is developed.

Subdivision c of this bill would require that the report include, per quarter, the total dollar amount for any specialized maintenance services performed, if any, at each property, including but not limited to plumbing and electrical services.

Subdivision d of this bill would require that as of at least one date per quarter, the report provide the current total headcount by borough of park enforcement patrol

(PEP) officers assigned to work on properties under the jurisdiction of the commissioner, as determined by the existing headcount on that date.

Subdivision e of this bill would create a timetable by which the abovementioned maintenance data collected by DPR must be reported to the Mayor and Council:

1. On or before December 1, 2016, information on maintenance work performed at the one hundred largest properties as determined by functional acreage and the headcount of PEP officers; and

2. On or before December 1, 2017, information on maintenance work performed at all properties under the jurisdiction of the commissioner, the headcount of PEP officers and the data collected pursuant to subdivision c of this bill.

Subdivision f of this bill would require that each annual report be posted on DPR's website and the data collected in each report be posted on the city's website in a non-proprietary format that permits automated processing.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 154-A would add a new section 18-144 to the administrative code and would require DPR post information on park capital projects on its website. Specifically, DPR would be required to include on its website (i) the starting date and estimated completion date of each capital project; (ii) the total amount of funds allocated to each project; (iii) the identification of each separate source of funding allocated to each project; (iv) a description of each project; (v) the location of such project; and (vi) be updated at least on a quarterly basis.

Section three of Proposed Int. No. 154-A contains the enactment clause and provides that the bill would take effect immediately after it becomes law.

By Council Members Crowley, Eugene, Johnson, Mealy, Mendez and Palma.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring direct telephone access to 911 service.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 15 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to add new section 15-131 to read as follows:

§15-131 Direct telephone access to emergency services. a. Definitions. For purposes of this section:

“Covered business” means any sole proprietorship, partnership, association, joint venture, corporation or other form of business organization which opens its facilities to the general public for the sale and purchase of goods or services.

“Multi-line telephone system” means any system comprised of common control unit(s), telephone sets, control hardware and software, and adjunct systems which enables users to make and receive telephone calls using shared resources such as telephone network trunks or data link bandwidth. This term includes, but is not limited to, network-based and premises-based systems such as Centrex service, premises-based, hosted and cloud-based VoIP, as well as PBX, Hybrid and Key Telephone Systems, as classified by the FCC under Part 68 of its rules.

b. Notwithstanding any other law or rule, all covered businesses which operate a multi-line telephone system shall configure said system to allow a person initiating a 911 call on the system to directly access 911 service by dialing the digits 911 without an additional code, digit, prefix, postfix, or trunk-access code, as well as by dialing the system’s existing access code.

c. All covered businesses shall configure their multi-line telephone system to provide notification of any 911 call made on its system, to a centralized location on the same system, provided, however, this subdivision shall not apply where the improvement of system hardware would be needed for the sole purpose of compliance with this subdivision.

d. The requirements of subdivisions b and c shall also apply to any telephone system owned or operated by the city of New York, or an agency thereof.

e. Exemptions. The commissioner may grant a waiver of the requirements set forth in subdivisions b and c to any covered business if the commissioner finds that:

(1) the requirements would be unduly and unreasonably costly for such entity to comply with; and

(2) the entity provides an affidavit not later than September 1 of each year stating: (i) the manufacturer and model number of the telephone system that needs to be reprogrammed or replaced; (ii) that the entity made a good faith attempt to reprogram or replace the system; and (iii) if the telephone system does not comply with subdivision b, that the entity agrees to place an instructional sticker on or immediately adjacent to each telephone informing users of the phone's inability to directly dial 911 and the procedures to follow in case of an emergency. Each instructional sticker shall be printed in bold, easy to read font in a contrasting color with a minimum print size of 16 point font.

f. Penalties. Any covered business subject to the provisions of this section or rules promulgated thereunder, who has not received a waiver pursuant to subdivision e and has failed to comply with this section, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $250 for the first violation and for each succeeding violation a civil penalty of not less than $500. Every ten days that such entity is not in compliance shall constitute a succeeding violation.

g. Commencing on or before February 1, 2017, and on or before February 1 of each year thereafter, the commissioner shall provide to the council a report containing the following data for the prior calendar year, disaggregated by type of entity: (i) the number of affidavits received pursuant to paragraph 2 of subdivision e of this section; (ii) the number of waivers granted by the commissioner pursuant to such subdivision; and (iii) the number of civil penalties assessed for failure to comply with the requirements of this section, disaggregated by the number of penalties assessed to repeat violators.

h. The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section.

§ 2. This local law takes effect 180 days after it becomes law, except that the commissioner shall take such measures as are necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such date.

Referred to the Committee on Technology.

Res. No. 874

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would require institutions of higher education to provide survivors of sexual assaults that occur on campus with resources and assistance on obtaining information regarding their legal rights.

By Council Members Crowley, Cumbo, Mealy, Arroyo, Chin, Eugene, Gentile, Johnson, Mendez, Palma, Richards, Rose and Cohen.

Whereas, According to the most recent United States Census Bureau data and the New York State Education Department's Office of Higher Education, there are over 678,000 students enrolled at 131 private and public college and university campuses in New York City; and

Whereas, New York is home to some of the best colleges and universities in the country but for some students, the dream of obtaining a high quality education in the city is upended by sexual violence; and

Whereas, Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 ("Title IX") is a federal civil rights law that prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in federally-funded education programs and activities; and

Whereas, Under Title IX, a school violates a student's rights regarding sexual violence when the alleged conduct limits or denies a student's ability to participate in or benefit from the school's educational program and the school, upon notice, fails to implement prompt and effective measures to end the sexual violence, eliminate the hostile environment, prevent recurrence and, as appropriate, remedy its effects; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Education (DOE) defines sexual violence as "physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent... including [but not limited to] rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual abuse, and sexual coercion"; and

Whereas, As of September 9, 2015, the DOE's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) reported that there are 159 sexual violence cases at 136 postsecondary institutions currently under Title IX investigation for potentially mishandling of such cases; and

Whereas, New York State, with 25 cases at 22 schools, including nine cases at eight NYC schools, has more postsecondary institutions under federal investigation for mishandling sexual violence than any other state in the country; and

Whereas, OCR does not make public the number of postsecondary institutions currently under Title IX investigations for potentially mishandling sexual harassment cases; and

Whereas, According to a three-month investigation of campus crime logs from 15 NYC colleges recording crimes from January 2010 to September 2014, conducted by Al Jazeera America, only 43 percent of reported sexual offenses met with some form of discipline and only 27 percent were referred to the New York City Police Department; and

Whereas, According to a national Washington Post-Kaiser Family Foundation poll ("poll") published on June 12, 2015, 20 percent of young women and 7 percent of young men who attended college during the past four years say they experienced sexual assault while at school; and

Whereas, Sexual violence on campus is severely underreported, with the poll revealing that while 71 percent of survivors said they told someone about the incident, only 12 percent informed police or college authorities; and

Whereas, Sexual violence devastates the survivor and can have serious consequences, including physical injury, depression, low self-esteem and anxiety disorders, potentially damaging his or her education and future; and

Whereas, Sexual violence can also result in unexpected expenses, including the loss of income; and

Whereas, Catherine Lhamon, OCR Assistant Secretary, testified on June 26, 2014 before the U.S. Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions that since the beginning of the Obama Administration, her office has investigated over a hundred sexual violence cases at the postsecondary level and has become aware that some schools have been unsupportive and even hostile to survivors; and

Whereas, Survivors of sexual violence have the right to have their voices heard, the crime investigated and receive medical attention vital to their physical and psychological well-being; and

Whereas, Survivors of sexual violence have the right to bring legal action and obtain counsel who can assist not only in a university action or civil case, but can also inform the survivor of their legal rights and be a personal advocate and support system; and

Whereas, The search for legal representation can be stressful and frustrating for survivors of sexual violence and they should not have to bear the burden of navigating it alone; and

Whereas, There is a need for institutions of higher learning to seriously commit to justice and better assist survivors by taking measures to provide any known victim with a hard copy document with clear and accurate information on where and how to access local legal assistance; and

Whereas, It is imperative that New York State empower sexual violence survivors and provide them with the information they need to seek justice themselves, so that they may be given the respect and dignity that they deserve; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would require institutions of higher education to provide survivors of sexual assaults that occur on campus with resources and assistance on obtaining information regarding their legal rights.

Referred to the Committee on Higher Education.

Res. No. 876

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass legislation requiring all New York City charter schools to reserve 5% of their seats for late-enrolling “over the counter” students.

By Council Members Levine, Chin, Palma, Rose and Rodriguez.

Whereas, In 1998 the State Legislature passed the New York Charter Schools Act authorizing the creation of up to 100 charter schools, which are publicly funded but privately operated schools; and

Whereas, Subsequent amendments to State Law have expanded the charter school cap to 460 schools statewide; and

Whereas, New York State currently has 214 charter schools in operation, 197 or 92% of which are in New York City, according to data compiled by the New York City Charter School Center in June 2015; and

Whereas, New York City charter schools currently serve over 83,000 students according to the New York City Charter School Center; and

Whereas, Further, according to a report published in July 2015 by the New York City Independent Budget Office, charter school enrollment in the City has grown by 364% over the past 7 years; and

Whereas, New York State Law currently requires that charter schools accept students on a first-come, first-served basis, unless more students register than there are seats available in which case the charter school must admit students by a random lottery selection process; and

Whereas, The New York City Charter School Center estimated that there were 70,700 applicants for 21,000 available seats in New York City charter schools in 2014, leaving nearly 50,000 students waitlisted; and

Whereas, Charter schools currently have no obligation to “backfill”, or fill vacant seats with students who may be on the waiting list, and some choose to leave seats empty; and

Whereas, According to an April 2015 report by the advocacy group Democracy Builders, New York City charter schools lose an average of between 6% and 11% of students annually and left more than 2,500 seats empty in grades 3 through 8 alone in 2014; and

Whereas, Further, the State’s charter school law does not make provisions for charter schools to reserve seats for students who arrive in the City after their April admissions lotteries; and

Whereas, Late-enrolling students are referred to as “over the counter” or OTC students by the New York City Department of Education (DOE); and

Whereas, OTC students include those who are new to the New York City school system, those who left the City's school system and have returned, those who are seeking transfers and those who did not participate in school admission processes for some other reason; and

Whereas, Many of these OTC students are among New York City's highest need students, such as new immigrants, special needs students, teens who have been incarcerated or have come from juvenile detention, students over age for grade, and those from transient families or homeless youth as well as students with histories of behavioral incidents in their previous schools; and

Whereas, A 2013 study of New York City's late-enrolling high school students conducted by the Annenberg Institute for School Reform revealed that there were well over 100,000 such OTC students in the City, with more than 36,000 assigned annually to high schools alone; and

Whereas, This 2013 Annenberg study found that many OTC students were concentrated in high-need schools that were unequipped to serve them; and

Whereas, According to the Annenberg report, the concentration of OTC students in high-need schools may exacerbate a school's weaknesses and contribute to closure; and

Whereas, Assigning some of these OTC students to charter schools would help reduce the concentration of these high-need students in district schools, decreasing the burden on these schools; and

Whereas, Allowing charter schools to enroll OTC students would also provide such students with more school choices; and

Whereas, Charter schools in at least one other large urban district currently enroll late-arriving students; and

Whereas, In October of 2011, charter schools in Denver, Colorado signed an agreement to admit students who enroll after the start of the school year, according to the Denver Post; and

Whereas, This agreement required all Denver charter schools to reserve 5% of the school's seats at the beginning of the year for midyear students; and

Whereas, The City of New York would benefit from introducing a system like Denver's that requires charter schools to reserve a percentage of their seats for late-enrolling students to reduce pressure on district schools and give children, who would otherwise be excluded from charter school admissions, more options; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the New York City Council calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass legislation requiring all New York City charter schools to reserve 5% of their seats for late-enrolling "over the counter" students.

Res. No. 877

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation that would establish a state carbon tax.

By Council Members Richards, Chin, Johnson, Cohen and Rodriguez.

Whereas, Climate change is occurring at a rapid rate; and

Whereas, The current trend of warming in Earth's climate system over the last several decades is clear and unprecedented – the atmosphere and ocean have warmed, the sea level has risen, and snow and ice levels have decreased; and

Whereas, In the Northern Hemisphere, the temperature at the Earth's surface between 1983 and 2012 was likely the warmest 30-year period in the last 1400 years, and globally, each of the last three decades has been warmer than any decade since 1850; and

Whereas, Over the next 100 years, average global temperature is expected to warm twice as much as it has during the past 100 years, with a projected global temperature increase of 2°F to 11.5°F expected by 2100; and

Whereas, Over the last several decades, Arctic sea ice and Northern Hemisphere snow cover have decreased, ice sheets in the Antarctic and Greenland have lost mass, and glaciers worldwide have retreated at an accelerated rate; and

Whereas, Between 1901 and 2010, mean global sea level rose 7.48 inches, and the rate of sea level rise since the 1850 is greater than the rate for the 2000 years prior to 1850; and

Whereas, It is expected that, globally, sea ice, snow cover and glaciers will continue to diminish, and permafrost will continue to thaw; and

Whereas, The concentration of greenhouse gases in Earth's atmosphere has been and is increasing, and this is a main cause of rapid climate change; and

Whereas, Greenhouse gases are gases in the Earth's atmosphere that have the physical property of absorbing solar radiation, trapping it in the atmosphere, and effectively acting like a blanket around the Earth, keeping it warmer than it would otherwise be; and

Whereas, The principal human activity that is affecting climate change is the emission of greenhouse gases, primarily carbon dioxide, by burning fossil fuels such as coal, petroleum and natural gas; and

Whereas, Since 1750, the beginning of the industrial revolution, human activity has increasingly contributed to the concentration of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases in Earth's atmosphere; and

Whereas, Atmospheric carbon dioxide concentrations have increased by almost 40% compared to the pre-industrial era; and

Whereas, According to the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the rate and magnitude of future climate change will depend in large part on the rate at which levels of greenhouse gas concentrations in Earth's atmosphere continue to increase; and

Whereas, Climate change threatens to impact New York City's public health, critical infrastructure, communities, vulnerable populations, natural systems, buildings and economy; and

Whereas, Impacts that are anticipated by experts such as the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the National Academy of Sciences, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, and the New York City Mayor's Office of Long-Term Planning and Sustainability, include severe weather such as droughts and hurricanes, human health impacts, environmental justice impacts, economic impacts, damage to infrastructure, sea level rise, changes to coastlines and coastal wetlands, disruption of ecosystems and loss of biodiversity; and

Whereas, The New York City Panel on Climate Change projects that by 2050, in New York City, extreme weather events are likely to worsen; heat waves are likely to increase in frequency, intensity, and duration; heavy downpours are likely to increase in frequency, intensity and duration; and coastal flooding is likely to increase in frequency, extent, and height; and

Whereas, One way New York State can curb its contribution to climate change and help mitigate climate change impacts is by reducing its carbon dioxide emissions by establishing a state carbon tax; and

Whereas, A carbon tax is a tax levied on the carbon content of hydrocarbon-containing fossil fuels; and

Whereas, A New York State carbon tax could be imposed either at a fuel's point of distribution or production, if it is produced in the state; and

Whereas, By levying such a carbon tax on fossil fuels, the state would incent fuel consumers to reduce their use of such fuels, thereby reducing New York State's carbon dioxide and greenhouse gas emissions; and

October 15, 2015

Whereas, By levying a carbon tax the state would also include in the price of fossil fuels the cost of negative externalities associated with the use of such fuels, such as air pollution and its impacts on public health, which impose real costs on society and which are not currently accounted for in the price of fossil fuels; and

Whereas, The implementation of a carbon tax could also make renewable energy resources a more cost-competitive, viable source of energy in New York State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation establishing a state carbon tax.

Res. No. 878

Resolution calling upon the City University of New York to divest from fossil fuel company investments and reinvest those funds in renewable energy, sustainability, and social-minded companies.

By Council Members Richards, Barron, Arroyo, Chin, Johnson, Mendez, Rose and Cohen.

Whereas, The City University of New York (CUNY) is the public university system of New York City and the largest urban university in the United States, with more than 269,000 degree-credit students and 247,000 continuing and professional education students enrolled at 24 campuses located in all five New York City boroughs; and

Whereas, CUNY's Investment Office manages its Long Term Investment Pool, a diversified portfolio intended to serve the financial needs of the University and participating colleges interested in investing in both endowed and non-endowed assets and the Short Term Investment Pool, a diversified portfolio intended to provide the colleges and related entities with a centralized alternative to money market funds and other low-yielding investment vehicles; and

Whereas, According to the CUNY website, the Investment Pools operate under a CUNY Board of Trustees-approved Investment Policy and are governed by the Board and two Board Committees, Fiscal Affairs and its Subcommittee on Investments, and together with CUNY Investment staff and Pool consultants, are responsible for reviewing asset allocation, new asset classes, investment strategies and manager performance; and

Whereas, According to the CUNY Investment Policy (effective as amended on June 25, 2012), the Board of Trustees is responsible for approving the Policy and all its amendments as well as approving the selection of the Investment Consultant(s); and

Whereas, The Subcommittee on Investments ("Subcommittee") is responsible for the total investment program and providing prudent oversight of the Portfolio in order to further the goals and mission of CUNY, its Colleges and the participating College Foundations; and

Whereas, Vice Chancellor for Budget and Finance Matthew Sapienza is responsible for overseeing and managing the finances of CUNY's 24 colleges and professional schools and of the University's central administration, including its investment portfolio; and

Whereas, According to multiple studies published in peer-reviewed scientific journals, 97 percent, or more, of actively publishing climate scientists agree that climate-warming trends over the past century are very likely due to human activities; and

Whereas, According to Professional Staff Congress-CUNY, the CUNY Long Term Investment Pool invests in mutual funds that own shares in the top 200 fossil fuel companies; and

Whereas, A major driving factor forcing climate change is the burning of fossil fuels, which have increased atmospheric CO₂ concentration by a third since the start of the Industrial Revolution; and

Whereas, The increasingly apparent negative effects of climate change have given birth to a movement, CUNY Divest, with a coalition of current students, alumni, and faculty that believe such investment supports continued degradation and destruction of the planet and are pressuring Vice Chancellor Sapienza and the CUNY Board of Trustees to end the University's $10 million investment in fossil fuel companies and reinvest those funds in renewable energy, sustainability, and social-minded companies; and

Whereas, Fossil fuel divestment is now a full-fledged student-led movement at over 350 colleges and universities across the United States, nine of which have committed to divestment; and

Whereas, The CUNY Board of Trustees has twice approved divestment in the past, once in 1984, divesting from companies conducting business in apartheid South Africa, and again in 1991, divesting from tobacco companies; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the City University of New York to divest from fossil fuel company investments and reinvest those funds in renewable energy, sustainability, and social-minded companies.

Res. No. 879

Resolution calling upon the Governor to sign S.2905/A.2177-A and S.4279/A.5508, which would establish tax incentives for the sale, purchase and installation of geothermal energy systems in New York.

By Council Members Richards, Constantinides, Arroyo, Chin, Gentile, Johnson, Rose and Cohen.

Whereas, Geothermal energy is a renewable energy source utilized by tapping into the stable temperature that exists beneath the Earth's surface; and

Whereas, Geothermal energy systems are central heating and cooling systems which can be installed in buildings; and

Whereas, Geothermal energy systems generally consist of pipes, pumps, fluids that transmit heat, and a building's heating and cooling distribution system, and they work by transferring heat from underground into buildings during cold weather months and transferring heat from buildings into the underground during warm weather months; and

Whereas, The use of geothermal energy systems instead of petroleum fuel- or electricity-based heating and cooling systems reduces greenhouse gas emissions because geothermal energy systems generally do not require the combustion of petroleum fuels to operate; and

Whereas, In 2009, Governor David Paterson issued Executive Order No. 24, establishing a goal to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from New York State by 80%, relative to 1999 levels, by the year 2050; and

Whereas, In 2014, the Council passed, and Mayor Bill de Blasio signed, Local Law 66, requiring New York City to reduce citywide greenhouse gas emissions by 80%, relative to 2005 levels, by the year 2050; and

Whereas, According to the United States Department of Energy, geothermal energy systems are among the most energy- and cost-efficient heating and cooling systems available, and they use less electricity and produce fewer emissions than conventional systems; and

Whereas, Geothermal energy systems generally have a significant upfront cost associated with their purchase and installation, serving as a barrier to their wider use, but once installed they pay for themselves in reduced heating and cooling costs and cost savings accrued over time; and

Whereas, In January 2015, New York State Senator Robert Ortz introduced S.2905 and New York State Assemblyman Sean Ryan introduced A.2177A, which would establish a tax credit for the purchase and installation of geothermal energy systems, and in March 2015, New York State Senator Robert Ortz introduced S.4279 and New York State Assemblywoman Ellen Jaffee introduced A.5508, which would eliminate sales tax on the equipment and installation of geothermal energy systems in residential and commercial buildings; and

Whereas, If enacted, these bills would reduce costs associated with the sale, purchase and installation of geothermal energy systems in New York City and New York state and would incent their wider use; and

Whereas, In 2015, the New York State Legislature passed S.2905/A.2177-A and S.4279/A.5508; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Governor to sign S.2905/A.2177-A and S.4279/A.5508, which would establish tax incentives for the sale, purchase and installation of geothermal energy systems in New York.

Resolution calling upon the New York City Department of Education to implement a uniform curriculum on healthy relationships for the purpose of domestic violence prevention in all schools.

By Council Members Torres, Cumbo, Arroyo, Chin, Gentile, Mealy, Mendez, Richards, Rose and Cohen.

Whereas, Domestic violence is a serious problem in New York City, with New York City Police responding to 280,531 domestic violence incidents and the City's Domestic Violence Hotline answering 99,719 calls in 2013, according to the Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence's Annual Fact Sheet 2013; and

Whereas, According to the Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance survey conducted by the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, among the 73.9% of students nationwide who dated or went out with someone during the 12 months before the survey, 10.3% were subjected to physical violence by someone they were dating or going out with one or more times in 2013; and

Whereas, This study reported that 10.5% of New York City students experienced physical dating violence in 2013, an estimated total of 34,585 that year; and

Whereas, According to the Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence (the "Office") Teen Dating Violence Fact Sheet 2013, among adult victims of rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner, 22.4% of women and 15% of men first experienced some form of partner violence between 11 and 17 years of age;

Whereas, In 2007, the Office also reported that 16,861 teen calls were received by the City's Domestic Violence Hotline; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH), each year in New York City, approximately 4,000 women and 900 men are treated in emergency rooms for intimate partner violence related injuries; and

Whereas, According to the New York City DOHMH, about 40% of women killed in New York City each year are killed by their intimate partners; and

Whereas, According to an analysis of the New York City DOHMH's Injury Surveillance System data from 2000-2007, 160 women between ages of 15 and 19 visited an emergency room department because of injuries resulting from intimate partner violence; and

Whereas, Under New York State Law and Regulations of the Commissioner, all schools under the jurisdiction of the State Education Department must provide a program of health and physical education including health and safety education; and

Whereas, The New York City Department of Education (DOE) provides a multi-level Health Education Curricula that is aligned with New York State health education standards and provided free of charge to NYC DOE teachers; and

Whereas, The DOE health curricula for Middle and High Schools, called HealthSmart, provides a comprehensive health education curriculum encompassing matters of dating and domestic violence; and

Whereas, The DOE recommends but does not require all schools to use the HealthSmart curricula, instead requiring schools choosing not to use the curricula to use an NYSED Guidance Document to select a curricula meeting health education requirements ; and

Whereas, Not requiring the same curricula in every school creates potential curriculum gaps, including but not limited to domestic violence education and prevention; and

Whereas, Teen domestic violence continues to be a problem faced by many youths; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York City Department of Education to implement a uniform curriculum on healthy relationships for the purpose of domestic violence prevention in all schools.

Res. No. 881

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign S.713/H.R. 1340, also known as the International Violence Against Women Act of 2015.

By Council Members Williams, Cumbo, Arroyo, Chin, Gentile, Johnson, Mealy and Mendez.

Whereas, A recent United Nations report indicated that one out of every three women worldwide will be physically, sexually, or otherwise abused during her lifetime; and

Whereas, Additionally, the report found that one in 10 girls under the age of 18 are forced to have sex; and

Whereas, Further data showed that 38 percent of women who are murdered are killed by their intimate partners; and

Whereas, In March 2015, S.713/H.R. 1340, legislation also known as the International Violence Against Women Act of 2015 was introduced by Sen. Barbara Boxer and Rep. Janice. Schakowsky to help address these alarming findings; and

Whereas, This legislation would direct the United States (U.S.) Secretary of State to establish an Office of Global Women's Issues which would be headed by an Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues; and

Whereas, In addition the Act would establish in the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) a Senior Coordinator for Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment who shall direct USAID activities, policies, programs, and funding relating to gender equality and women's empowerment; and

Whereas, Furthermore, the Act would direct the Ambassador-at-Large to: (1) develop or update annually for five years (after the 2012 United States Strategy to Prevent and Respond to Gender-Based Violence Globally which shall be deemed to be the first required strategy) a U.S. global strategy to prevent and respond to violence against women and girls, and (2) coordinate U.S. government efforts regarding gender integration and advancing the status of women and girls in U.S. foreign policy; and

Whereas, The legislation would direct the Ambassador-at-Large and Senior Coordinator to: (1) include in each strategy an analysis of best practices for preventing and addressing violence against women and girls internationally; and (2) develop a plan for monitoring programs, projects, and activities carried out under this Act; and

Whereas, Violence against women and girls is an international human rights issue with long reaching health, social and economic impacts and needs immediate attention; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign S.713/H.R. 1340, also known as the International Violence Against Women Act of 2015.
