INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Pastor Brenda Starks-Ross, spiritual leader of Trinity Pentecostal House of Prayer located at 548 Fountain Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11208.

Good afternoon, Speaker Corey Johnson,
Majority Leader Laurie Cumbo,
Public Advocate Jumaane Williams,
Council Member Inez Barron,
who I affectionately call the queen of East New York,
Mark Levine, and the entire council.

It is an honor, privilege, and pleasure to be at the Stated Meeting with the City Council.
I would like you all to know that I pray for you on a weekly basis.
My prayer is that you use the authority given you to govern New York with vision and wisdom.
The Bible informs without vision people perish.
Therefore, I am thanking God today for leaders such as yourselves to continue to use your God-given vision and wisdom to make the hard decisions that will improve the lives of New Yorkers.
I appreciate the dedication, devotion of service, and stamina you bring to the decision-making table on a consistent basis.
Father, I thank you for these fearless leaders.
Permit them to use vision, wisdom, and collective decision-making every time they are tasked with coming up with solutions for your people.
Let them remember Proverbs 13:10,
“Where there is strife there is pride,

but wisdom is found in those who take advice".
Let them continue to advise one another and do what they have done consistently to protect your people.
Matthew 25:40 says,
"Verily I say unto you in such as ye have done it unto one of the least these of my brethren ye have done it unto me".
God bless you and may his mighty hand
keep you in his perfect peace.
Amen.

Council Member Barron moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the record.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) asked for a Moment of Silence in memory of two first responders who died of 9/11 related illnesses: FDNY Firefighter Richard Jones, 63, and FDNY Lieutenant Paul Deyo, Jr., 74. They both passed away on February 7, 2020. On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) offered his condolences to their families and to the FDNY.

At this point, a Moment of Silence was observed in the Chambers.

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Report of the Committee on Economic Development

Report for Int. No. 1664-A

Report of the Committee on Economic Development in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to requiring the office of food policy to formulate a 10-year food policy plan.

The Committee on Economic Development, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 14, 2019 (Minutes, page 2737), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On February 10, 2020, the Committee on Economic Development, chaired by Council Member Paul A. Vallone, held a second hearing on Int. 1664-A, in relation to requiring the office of food policy to formulate a 10-year food policy plan, sponsored by Council Member Vanessa Gibson, and on Int. 1666-A, in relation to the establishment of an office of food policy, sponsored by Council Member Ben Kallos. The Committee first heard prior versions of these bills on September 18, 2019. The bills were unanimously approved by the Committee by a vote of nine in the affirmative, zero in the negative and zero abstentions.

Int. No. 1664-A would require the Mayor's Office of Food Policy ("MOFP") to develop a 10-year food policy plan. Int. No. 1666-A would establish the Mayor's Office of Food Policy and its responsibilities.

II. BACKGROUND

On August 1, 2019, New York City Council Speaker Corey Johnson released the report Growing Food Equity in New York City: A City Council Agenda ("Growing Food Equity").¹ The report outlines budget and legislative proposals to build food equity in the areas of food governance; hunger; food waste; school food and nutrition education; equitable access to healthy food; and urban agriculture. Every person regardless of their income, race, gender, education, age, birthplace, or neighborhood should have equitable access to healthy food, which can come from many sources such as supermarkets, small grocers, non-profit stores, bodegas, restaurants, green carts, farmers' markets, Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs, fresh food boxes, and community gardens. Yet many New Yorkers experience food insecurity and food-related illnesses, and there is inequitable access to fresh and healthy food options in many neighborhoods throughout the city, particularly in low-income communities of color.²

There are numerous areas in our food system where more and improved interventions are needed to tackle food inequities. Many low-income areas continue to be underserved by affordable full-service grocery stores, and some gentrifying neighborhoods are losing affordable stores and gaining higher-priced ones. Farm-to-city programs like farmers' markets, CSAs, and food box programs can struggle to compete in the food market with a growing influx of grocery and meal-delivery businesses and without growth in local farm businesses, who are themselves combatting low profit margins as they try to have competitive prices with other food retailers.³ Additionally, our food system has the opportunity to increase access to healthier, fresh, scratch-cooked meals to New York City's 1.1 million school children. School food menus and kitchen and cafeteria infrastructure need significant investments to increase the participation rates and access to healthy food for our school-age children.

Further, New York City continues to face a “meal gap”—the number of missing meals that result from insufficient household resources to purchase food—of nearly 208 million meals.⁴ An estimated 1.09 million New Yorkers are “food insecure,” meaning that they had difficulty at some time during the year accessing enough food due to a lack of resources.⁵ New York City's food insecurity rate is 12% higher than the national rate, and 21% higher than New York State's.⁶ While New York City's current rate of food insecurity is declining, it is still higher than prior to the 2008 recession.⁷ From 2015-2017, 18% of all children, almost 9% of working adults, and almost 11% of seniors experienced food insecurity.⁸ Moreover, food insecurity is a significant challenge among college students. A March 2019 survey of 22,000 CUNY students across 19 campuses found almost half (48%) of respondents indicated that they experienced food insecurity in the previous 30 days.⁹

Meanwhile, the inefficiency of our food system is staggering. While almost 41 million Americans do not have enough to eat, we also paradoxically waste food at alarming rates.¹⁰ Approximately 40% of all food grown in the U.S. is thrown away before it is eaten.¹¹ Saving just one-third of food from becoming waste would feed the 41 million Americans who face hunger.¹² On average, a New York City household wastes 8.7 pounds of food every week, despite that six pounds of this food is edible at the time it is thrown out.¹³ Food waste at individual and institutional levels can be curbed. Each year, 11 City agencies serve almost 240 million meals and snacks in a variety of settings, including schools, after school programs, public hospitals, and correctional facilities.¹⁴ Not only is this buying power an opportunity to reduce food waste, but to advance good food purchasing standards that help ensure that city-procured food advances goals that support five value areas: local economies, nutrition, valued workforce, animal welfare, and environmental sustainability.

The City also needs equitable access to green spaces, including through urban agriculture. Urban agriculture in New York City includes a rich history of community gardens, and newer food production and greening models, such as green roofs, and rooftop and vertical farms. Even after decades of existence, some community gardens still face struggles for survival against competing land interests. Urban agriculture spaces are key neighborhood assets in terms of food, education, community development, environmental protection, and improved health and quality of life. They are also one important tool cities have in the fight against climate change and the myriad of public health concerns that follow rising temperatures, such as asthma attacks and heat-related illnesses. Due to the “urban heat island effect,” cities are often two to eight degrees warmer than their neighboring suburban and rural areas.¹⁵ This is due to a combination of factors, including tall buildings, dark roofs and pavement that absorb heat, and lack of green space.¹⁶ The heat island effect is exacerbated in low-income communities of color that have long faced disinvestment and have less access to green space.¹⁷

Government is uniquely positioned to partner with communities in the fight for a just and fair food system. Policy makers can ensure that systems are designed with food justice goals in mind to protect those most impacted by food inequities, and that more resources are reaching the communities where neighbors are engaged in this work. Government can also coordinate actions across agencies and systems, since we know that policy decisions made in areas like housing, environmental protection, climate change, criminal justice, education, transportation, and more have a direct impact on hunger, healthy food access, food business development, and green space. Yet food and agriculture work being done across many different City agencies continues without a codified, well-resourced office of food policy; a unified, comprehensive food plan with a formal community engagement strategy; or consistent and meaningful tools for measuring the impact of City agencies’ efforts to address food issues. Without governance reforms, the impact of City interventions to combat the social and economic food inequities that millions of our city’s residents combat each day remain limited.

Growing Food Equity includes tangible steps the City can take to make a difference in how our food system is run and ensure its risks and benefits are shared and not distributed inequitably. Along with budget priorities, Growing Food Equity outlines a legislative agenda to improve food equity, combat food insecurity and increase healthy food access for all New Yorkers. The following legislation is highlighted in Growing Food Equity and is being considered at today’s hearing.

III. LEGISLATION

INT. NO. 1664-A

Int. No. 1664-A would require the Mayor’s Office of Food Policy (“MOFP”) to consult with relevant agencies, community based organizations, community leaders and food system stakeholders that focus on food policy, food equity, food justice and food insecurity in the development of its 10-year food policy plan. The plan would set goals to reduce hunger, improve nutrition, increase access to healthy food, reduce food waste, develop and improve food and farm economies, and increase urban agriculture and sustainability. The MOFP would also be required to submit to the Mayor, the Speaker of the Council, and post on its website a report assessing the city’s progress toward the identified goals. This version was amended from the original to include recommendations from stakeholders and the administration to require a progress report every two years after the initial ten-year plan is released, as well as a sunset provision to repeal the local law after twelve years.

INT. NO. 1666-A

Int. No. 1666-A would establish the Mayor’s Office of Food Policy. The office would be responsible for, among other things, providing recommendations to the mayor and agencies regarding food policy; coordinating multi-agency initiatives relating to food policy; performing outreach to food policy advocates, community based organizations, academic institutions, and other entities to advance the city’s food policy; and supporting initiatives that are designed to promote access to healthy food. This version was amended from the original to include recommendations from stakeholders and the administration regarding outreach to food industry advocates as well as coordination across mayoral agencies.

Report of the Committee on Finance

Report for Int. No. 113-A

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the creation of a database to track capital projects citywide, and to repeal section 18-145 of such administrative code.

The Committee on Finance, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on January 31, 2018 (Minutes, page 264), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On February 11, 2020, the Committee on Finance (Committee), chaired by Council Member Daniel Dromm, will hold a second hearing on Proposed Introduction (Int.) Number (No.) 113-A, introduced by Council Member Lander, titled a Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the creation of a database to track capital projects citywide, and to repeal section 18-145 of such administrative code. This is the second hearing on this bill, which was amended after introduction. At the first hearing on the bill, which was jointly held with the Subcommittee of Capital Budget, chaired by Council Member Vanessa Gibson, the Committee heard testimony from representatives from the Mayor's Office of Operations and the Department of Design and Construction, and members of the public.

II. Background

Over the past decade, the City's spending on capital projects has averaged about $9 billion in annual commitments.¹ The Capital Budget covers large long-term investments in facilities and infrastructure, or capital projects, which involve "the construction, reconstruction, acquisition or installation of a physical public betterment or improvement" with a value of $35,000 or more, and a "useful life" of at least five years.² Physical public improvements consist of, but are not limited to, streets, parks, bridges, tunnels, sewers, housing, etc.³

In November of every even-numbered year, the Mayor's Office of Management and Budget ("OMB") and the Department of City Planning ("DCP") are required to jointly prepare a draft Ten-Year Capital Strategy ("Capital Strategy") which provides the long-range goals and guiding principles for the management of the City's capital assets for the next ten years.⁴ The document must include the anticipated sources of financing for identified projects, and outline the implications of the strategy, including any possible economic, social, and environmental effects.⁵ After a public hearing is held and a report by the City Planning Commission is provided, the final version of the Capital Strategy must be released with the Executive Budget in odd-numbered years.⁶

By January 16 of each year, the Mayor must submit a Preliminary Capital Budget to the Council, and by April 26 of each year an Executive Capital Budget.⁷ The Capital Budget proposes funding for capital projects for the upcoming fiscal year, and estimates the amounts needed in each of the three succeeding fiscal years in such categories.⁸ The final Capital Budget is adopted by the Council.⁹ Spending for individual capital projects may not exceed the amount appropriated in the Adopted Capital Budget, and funds that are not allocated in the fiscal year in which they are appropriated are usually re-appropriated in the subsequent Capital Budget.

In addition to the Capital Budget, the Capital Commitment Plan ("Commitment Plan"), is issued three times each fiscal year.¹⁰ The Commitment Plan lays out the anticipated implementation schedule for the current fiscal year and for the subsequent three years.¹¹ The first Commitment Plan is published within 90 days of the adoption of the Capital Budget.¹² Updated Commitment Plans are issued with the Preliminary and Executive budget proposals, in January and April thereafter.¹³ The Commitment Plans are intended, in part, to provide a report of the progress of the City's capital projects, including schedules and clear explanations of any delays for particular prospects and summary information on each agency's record on such matters.¹⁴

III. Mechanisms for Tracking Capital Projects

a. Existing Report and Online Tracking Tools

The New York City Charter (“City Charter”) requires the Administration to provide to the Council certain information on capital projects enabling the Council to assess the appropriateness of proposed projects, evaluate the projects in comparison to other similar projects, and monitor their progress. The SCA, for instance, is required to provide quarterly reports on all school capital projects in-progress.¹⁵ The report includes, for each project, the managing agency, planned and actual start and end times of each phase (scope; design; construction; and construction management, furniture, and equipment), and the budget and actual spending for each phase of the project. The report also provides explanations for projects in which the final cost estimate exceeds the project budget by ten percent or more, and provides an explanation for those projects in which the current phase completion date exceeds the planned completion date by 60 days or more. The report identifies the organization responsible for managing the project, and provides the relevant data points for that project.

In 2013, the City launched the NYC Capital Projects Dashboard (“Dashboard”), which provides a snapshot view of the City’s public building, infrastructure and information technology projects with budgets of $25 million or more.¹⁶ The Dashboard, which is maintained by the Mayor’s Office of Operations, was established with the intent of centralizing reporting of capital projects across city agencies, using standardized metrics, and facilitating project management transparency and accountability.¹⁷ The Dashboard provides various different data points on active capital projects, which includes: the lead/managing agency; the client agency; the phase of the project for the reporting period (phases are defined as the “design” phase, the “construction procurement” phase, and the “construction” phase); the project’s budget forecast; and the start and completion date of the project.¹⁸ The Dashboard also provides the history of capital projects, which includes budget changes, defined as the number of dollars the project is over or under budget since the last reporting period, and schedule changes, defined as the number of months the project is ahead or behind schedule since the last reporting period.¹⁹

In addition to the Dashboard, the City has other resources it uses to track capital projects. The NYC Parks Capital Projects Dashboard, for instance, is a dashboard maintained by the New York City Department of Parks and Recreation (“DPR”), which tracks all active capital projects throughout the city, ranging from improvements to parks, playgrounds, and greenways, to renovations of ball fields and recreational facilities, to resiliency efforts for beaches and boardwalks.²⁰ Aside from providing the status of all active DPR capital projects, the tracker also provides a listing of proposed project sites, partner projects and completed projects by borough and citywide.

Another resource made publicly available by the City on capital assets is the NYC Facilities Explorer, which is an interactive dataset maintained by the New York City Department of City Planning (“DCP”), of existing public and private facilities and program sites throughout the City.²¹ The database aggregates information on facilities and program sites by neighborhood, and that are owned, operated, funded, licensed, or certified by a City, State, or Federal agency.²² These facilities and programs are divided into seven domains, which include: Health and Human Services; Education, Child Welfare, and Youth; Parks, Gardens, and Historical Sites; Libraries and Cultural Programs; Public Safety, Emergency Services, and Administration of Justice; Core

Infrastructure and Transportation; and Administration of Government.²³ Within each of these domains, each record is further categorized into a set of facility groups, subgroups, and types.²⁴

According to DCP, this database and its interactive map builds on its Selected Facilities and Program Sites Database, and includes various product improvements, such as more facility types, improved data quality, and a restructured the database for easier use.²⁵

Other mechanisms used to report on capital projects related to certain initiatives, or particular agencies, such as the aforementioned SCA Quarterly Report and Parks Capital Project Tracker, include: the New York City's Police Department's Quarterly Report on Capital Projects, which tracks projects funded by the City Council; the Sandy Funding Tracker, a database that tracks the expenditures of funds, including on capital projects, provided in connection with the recovery efforts of Hurricane Sandy;²⁶ and the Zoning Commitments Tracker, which lists written commitments made by the Mayor to the Council or a Council member in connection with applications submitted through the Uniform Land Use Review Procedure, including capital projects²⁷.

b. Notification Requirements

Although the City Charter mandates the Mayor to require each agency to prepare and submit periodic reports regarding the progress of its capital projects, there is currently no mechanism for City agencies to provide electronic notification of capital project cost changes and delays.

Few agencies are required to provide notice on changes to capital projects they manage. As mentioned above, the SCA is required to provide notice on school capital projects under the jurisdiction of all City agencies.²⁸ DPR is also required to provide notice on its capital projects as well by notifying Council Members (who allocated funding to a capital project) within 30 days whenever a change order is implemented that has a value greater than 10 percent of an original contract value greater than $500,000.²⁹

Lastly, the Mayor's Office of Contracts Services, on behalf of the Mayor, is required to track certain cost increases in construction and service contracts with a value of $10 million or more that are associated with projects in the capital budget, and notify the Council on such contracts on a quarterly basis.³⁰

IV. Inefficiencies of the Current Tracking Mechanisms

Although the Dashboard and other tracking mechanisms were designed to capture capital projects, a more comprehensive, centralized tracking system is still needed. The Dashboard is limited in that it only captures certain information on capital projects with a budget of above $25 million. Currently, there are approximately 287 active capital projects listed on the Dashboard.³¹ This represents only a subset of the tens of thousands of funded capital projects citywide. Additionally, the interactive map provided on the NYC Facilities Explorer needs to be enhanced to address integrity issues with the data source, and account for missing and/or duplicate records for facilities and inconsistencies of facility site locations.³²

It is because of the above-mentioned reasons in which a centralized tracking system is needed to capture the full universe of capital projects, with data and records from all city agencies with qualifying capital projects, irrelevant of contract value, while providing an interactive map that accurately depicts capital projects citywide.

V. Creating Effective and Efficient Management Tools for Capital Projects

The Council is aware that city agencies utilize a system known as the Financial Management System (“FMS”) to control spending and track what is owed. The system is capable, among other things, of providing certain information on capital projects, such as the total forecast and plan amount for the years of the commitment plan; actual commitments and liquidations with dates and amounts; and project start and end date, duration, location, and description. The Council is also aware that the City creates a detailed, multi-volume report, known as the Capital Project Detail Data report, to track capital project status and present information on cost, budget, scope, and milestones, and, where applicable, the community board in which the project was located.³³ These are some of the existing resources that can be used to create a centralized tracking system for all capital projects citywide.

Proposed Int. No. 113-A would take a step towards improving the current capital project process, and utilizing existing City resources in providing an efficient, centralized system that tracks all pending capital projects citywide. The database and interactive map would allow residents to view pending projects occurring in their neighborhoods, and potentially hold managing agencies accountable to pre-established projects schedules and subsequent delays. The legislation would also allow for increased construction-related data analyses for revealing gaps in the process, and innovating change in the current policies and practices on both an agency and citywide level.

VI. Analysis of Proposed Int. No. 113-A

Section 1 of Proposed Int. No. 113-A would amend the reporting requirements of each City agency in regard to the progress of its capital projects. Such reports would be required to be published at least three times each year: no later than 120 days after the adoption of the capital budget; no later than 30 days after submission of the preliminary capital budget; and no later than 30 days after submission of the executive capital budget. Copies of such reports must be transmitted by the City Council, the City Planning Commission, the Community Boards, the Borough Boards and Borough Presidents, and posted online on the website of the Office of Management and Budget in a machine-readable format.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. No. 113-A would require the establishment of an interagency task force to create and implement a public online capital projects database. Such task force would consist of representatives from the Office of Management and Budget, the Mayor’s Office of Operations, the Department of Parks and Recreation, the Department of Environmental Protection, the Department of Transportation, the Department of Design and Construction, the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications, and any other agencies or offices deemed appropriate.

This section would also require the establishment of an advisory board, consisting of representatives from the Mayor’s office, the Council, and the Comptroller, that would advise the task force on the development of the public online capital projects database.

The task force would also be required to do the following:

- develop a data dictionary for the public online capital projects database that includes, but is not limited to, standardized terms, data elements, labels and fields, and phase of the capital construction process;
- review and assess existing capital management systems and databases at all agencies that manage capital projects, including the useful lifespan of any tangible or intangible assets supporting such systems and databases;
- develop and implement a plan to review the accuracy of data included in existing capital management systems and databases, and enter such data as the task force deems to be accurate and appropriate into the public online capital projects database, provided that such data shall include, but not be limited to, information that the task force deems relevant and appropriate contained in the reports required pursuant to subdivision d of section 219 of the New York city charter;

³³ See A Guide to the Capital Budget, supra note 1.

- make recommendations for new or improved integrated capital management systems and databases;
- establish mechanisms to merge and transfer data, including but not limited to, data contained in existing capital management systems and databases, into the public online capital project database; and
- take other steps deemed necessary by the task force to create and implement the public online capital projects database.

To the extent deemed practicable by the task force, the database would include information for each capital project, including:

- the name of the capital project and the borough in which such project will be located;
- the agency implementing the capital project and any agencies contributing capital funds for such capital project;
- the current phase of the capital project;
- information regarding the capital project's schedule, such as the baseline project schedule and, if applicable, the actual schedule variance and the schedule variance as a percentage of the planned duration of the project; and
- information regarding the capital project's cost, such as the current dollar amount spent to date and, if applicable, the actual cost variance and the cost variance as a percentage of the baseline cost.

The task force and advisory board would cease to exist upon the publication of the public online capital projects database.

Section 3 of Proposed Int. No. 113-A would add new § 5-108 of the administrative code of the City of New York ("Administrative Code") to require that upon the publication of the public online capital projects database, an agency or office would be required to maintain such database on the City website, and update the information contained in such database on a triannual basis. Any agency implementing a capital project for which information or data is published in the public online capital projects database would be required to include a link to the public online capital projects database on that agency's website.

Section 4 of Proposed Int. No. 113-A would repeal § 18-145 of the Administrative Code, which relates to reporting on capital project expenditures in parks under DPR's jurisdiction.

Section 5 of Proposed Int. No. 113-A would require that such local law take effect immediately, except, section two requiring the creation and implementation of the public online capital projects database would be repealed after the database is published and section four, which relates to the annual report on park maintenance and capital expenditures in DPR's jurisdiction that is published on the agency's website, would be repealed provided that the public online capital projects database contains information and data regarding the DPR's capital projects.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT
PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 113-A

COMMITTEE: Finance

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the creation of a database to track capital projects citywide, and to repeal section 18-145 of such administrative code.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Int. No. 113-A would require the establishment of an interagency task force consisting of representatives of at least seven Mayoral agencies and offices to create and implement a public online capital projects database. The database would consist of an interactive and searchable public database (updated on a triannual basis) containing information about capital projects citywide. The bill would also require an advisory board, consisting of representatives from the Mayor's office, the Council, and the Comptroller, that would advise the task force on the development of the public online capital projects database. To the extent deemed practicable by the task force, the database would include information for each project including the name, location and current phase, as well as information related to the project schedule and cost. Upon publication of the database, this bill would require any agency implementing a capital project for which information or data is published in the database to include a link to the public online capital projects database on that agency's website.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately, except, section two requiring the creation and implementation of the public online capital projects database would be repealed after the database is published and section four, which relates to the annual report on park maintenance and capital expenditures in the Department of Parks and Recreation's (DPR) jurisdiction that is published on the agency's website, would be repealed provided that the public online capital projects database contains information and data regarding the DPR's capital projects.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that there would be minimal to no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because agencies would use existing resources to comply with this law. In addition, the City will most likely release an RFP for software to manage the required database; however, the cost of this software and the timeframe for its procurement is unknown at this time.

RE: Finance Committee Agenda of February 11, 2020 – Resolution approving a tax exemption for two Land Use items (Council Districts 2 and 39)

Item 1: 528 East 11th Street

538 East 11th Street Housing Development Fund Corporation (HDFC) acquired its 33-unit residential building from the City in 1981. These units include 25 two-bedroom apartments and eight three-bedroom apartments. Since the 1981 acquisition, the HDFC has encountered various delays reincorporating and converting from affordable rental to affordable limited-equity homeownership. The HDFC is now assisted in this effort by the Brooklyn Law School Corporate and Real Estate Clinic.

The New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) is requesting that the Council approve a full, 40-year Article XI exemption, retroactive to July 1, 1998. The HDFC's Division of Alternative Management (DAMP) tax partial abatement, in place since March 20, 1989, would be terminated as of June 30, 1998.

HPD and the HDFC would enter into a regulatory agreement that would restrict the sales of shares corresponding to each unit to households with income at or below 120% of the Area Median Income (AMI). While current renters who exceed the 120% AMI income threshold would be permitted to purchase shares, resale of their shares would be restricted by the terms of the agreement.

Item 2: Carroll Gardens Portfolio

Court Carroll Sackett HDFC acquired this portfolio in August 2019 with a Community Preservation Corporation acquisition bridge loan. At acquisition closing, the HDFC and HPD entered into a regulatory agreement. At permanent closing, the HDFC will replace its bridge debt with a loan from the New York City Housing Development Corporation (HDC) and receive HPD subsidy to complete moderate rehabilitation work, including roof replacement, window replacement, electric upgrades, and boiler replacement.

HPD is requesting that Council approve a full, 40-year Article XI exemption. HPD, HDC and the HDFC would enter into a superseding 40-year regulatory agreement that would require that 10 units be leased to households with incomes up to 60% of AMI, 15 units be leased to households with incomes up to 80%, and six units be leased to household with incomes up to 135%. Half of each tranche of units would remain permanently affordable. Ten of the units would be reserved for referrals of formerly homeless families.

Report of the Committee on General Welfare

Report for Int. No. 1650-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the provision of information regarding the health bucks program and farmers' markets.

The Committee on General Welfare, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 14, 2019 (Minutes, page 2719), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On February 10, 2020, the Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Stephen Levin, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 1650-A, Proposed Int. 1659-A, Proposed Res. No. 1024-A, and Res. No. 1025. The Committee previously held a hearing on the above legislation as part of a legislative package containing bills related to food governance; hunger; food waste; school food and nutrition education; equitable access to healthy food; and urban agriculture on September 18, 2019, jointly with the Committee on Economic Development, chaired by Council Member Paul A. Vallone, and the Committee on Education, chaired by Council Member Mark Treyger,

II. BACKGROUND

On August 1, 2019, New York City Council Speaker Corey Johnson released the report Growing Food Equity in New York City: A City Council Agenda ("Growing Food Equity").¹ The report outlines budget and legislative proposals to build food equity in the areas of food governance; hunger; food waste; school food and nutrition education; equitable access to healthy food; and urban agriculture. Every person regardless of their income, race, gender, education, age, birthplace, or neighborhood should have equitable access to healthy food, which can come from many sources such as supermarkets, small grocers, non-profit stores, bodegas, restaurants, green carts, farmers' markets, Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs, fresh food boxes, and community gardens. Yet many New Yorkers experience food insecurity and food-related illnesses, and there is inequitable access to fresh and healthy food options in many neighborhoods throughout the city, particularly in low-income communities of color.²

There are numerous areas in our food system where more and improved interventions are needed to tackle food inequities. Many low-income areas continue to be underserved by affordable full-service grocery stores, and some gentrifying neighborhoods are losing affordable stores and gaining higher-priced ones. Farm-to-city programs like farmers' markets, CSAs, and food box programs can struggle to compete in the food market with a growing influx of grocery and meal-delivery businesses and without growth in local farm businesses, who are themselves combatting low profit margins as they try to have competitive prices with other food retailers.³ Additionally, our food system has the opportunity to increase access to healthier, fresh, scratch-cooked meals to New York City's 1.1 million school children. School food menus and kitchen and cafeteria infrastructure need significant investments to increase the participation rates and access to healthy food for our school-age children.

Further, New York City continues to face a “meal gap”—the number of missing meals that result from insufficient household resources to purchase food—of nearly 208 million meals.⁴ An estimated 1.09 million New Yorkers are “food insecure,” meaning that they had difficulty at some time during the year accessing enough food due to a lack of resources.⁵ New York City's food insecurity rate is 12% higher than the national rate, and 21% higher than New York State's.⁶ While New York City's current rate of food insecurity is declining, it is still higher than prior to the 2008 recession.⁷ From 2015-2017, 18% of all children, almost 9% of working adults, and almost 11% of seniors experienced food insecurity.⁸ Moreover, food insecurity is a significant challenge among college students. A March 2019 survey of 22,000 CUNY students across 19 campuses found almost half (48%) of respondents indicated that they experienced food insecurity in the previous 30 days.⁹

Meanwhile, the inefficiency of our food system is staggering. While almost 41 million Americans do not have enough to eat, we also paradoxically waste food at alarming rates.¹⁰ Approximately 40% of all food grown in the U.S. is thrown away before it is eaten.¹¹ Saving just one-third of food from becoming waste would feed the 41 million Americans who face hunger.¹² On average, a New York City household wastes 8.7 pounds of food every week, despite that six pounds of this food is edible at the time it is thrown out.¹³ Food waste at individual and institutional levels can be curbed. Each year, 11 City agencies serve almost 240 million meals and snacks in a variety of settings, including schools, after school programs, public hospitals, and correctional facilities.¹⁴ Not only is this buying power an opportunity to reduce food waste, but to advance good food purchasing standards that help ensure that city-procured food advances goals that support five value areas: local economies, nutrition, valued workforce, animal welfare, and environmental sustainability.

The City also needs equitable access to green spaces, including through urban agriculture. Urban agriculture in New York City includes a rich history of community gardens, and newer food production and greening models, such as green roofs, and rooftop and vertical farms. Even after decades of existence, some community gardens still face struggles for survival against competing land interests. Urban agriculture spaces are key neighborhood assets in terms of food, education, community development, environmental protection, and improved health and quality of life. They are also one important tool cities have in the fight against climate change and the myriad of public health concerns that follow rising temperatures, such as asthma attacks and heat-related illnesses. Due to the “urban heat island effect,” cities are often two to eight degrees warmer than their neighboring suburban and rural areas.¹⁵ This is due to a combination of factors, including tall buildings, dark roofs and pavement that absorb heat, and lack of green space.¹⁶ The heat island effect is exacerbated in low-income communities of color that have long faced disinvestment and have less access to green space.¹⁷

Government is uniquely positioned to partner with communities in the fight for a just and fair food system. Policy makers can ensure that systems are designed with food justice goals in mind to protect those most impacted by food inequities, and that more resources are reaching the communities where neighbors are engaged in this work. Government can also coordinate actions across agencies and systems, since we know that policy decisions made in areas like housing, environmental protection, climate change, criminal justice, education, transportation, and more have a direct impact on hunger, healthy food access, food business development, and green space. Yet food and agriculture work being done across many different City agencies continues without a codified, well-resourced office of food policy; a unified, comprehensive food plan with a formal community engagement strategy; or consistent and meaningful tools for measuring the impact of City agencies’ efforts to address food issues. Without governance reforms, the impact of City interventions to combat the social and economic food inequities that millions of our city’s residents combat each day remain limited.

Growing Food Equity includes tangible steps the City can take to make a difference in how our food system is run and ensure its risks and benefits are shared and not distributed inequitably. Along with budget priorities, Growing Food Equity outlines a legislative agenda to improve food equity, combat food insecurity and increase healthy food access for all New Yorkers. The following legislation is highlighted in Growing Food Equity and is being considered at today’s hearing.

III. LEGISLATION

PROPOSED INT. NO. 1650-A

Proposed Int. No. 1650-A would require the Human Resources Administration (HRA) to provide information about the health bucks program and farmers’ markets in the city to all individuals who receive or apply to receive supplemental nutrition assistance program benefits. This local law would take effect 180 days after it becomes law.

Since introduction, this bill has not significantly changed.

PROPOSED INT. NO. 1659-A

Proposed Int. No. 1659-A would require the Department of Social Services (DSS), in collaboration with the Department for the Aging (DFTA), to develop a plan to identify and enroll seniors who are eligible for supplement nutritional assistance program (SNAP) benefits, but who are not yet enrolled to receive such benefits, and to assist enrolled seniors with SNAP recertification. This local law would take effect immediately.

Since introduction, this bill has been amended to additionally include that, beginning on April 1, 2021, and annually thereafter, DSS and DFTA would be required to provide a report to the Council regarding the method of SNAP enrollment and recertification, an overview of the public campaign for seniors eligible for SNAP, and year-over-year comparison of senior SNAP enrollment versus eligible seniors.

PROPOSED RES. NO. 1024-A

Proposed Res. No. 1024-A calls upon the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance (OTDA) to expand eligibility for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) to public college students. In 2011, researchers at the City University of New York (CUNY) estimated that 39 percent of CUNY students were food insecure. Due to federal law, most able-bodied students who are enrolled in college at least half-time are not eligible for SNAP unless they work 20 hours a week. However, states can expand the regulations by exempting students in certain college and training programs from the work requirement. New York should join Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Illinois, and New Jersey in taking state action to increase college students' eligibility for SNAP.

RES. NO. 1025

Res. No. 1025 calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to opt into the SNAP Restaurant Meals Program to allow disabled, elderly and homeless SNAP recipients to use their benefits on hot meals and other prepared foods at participating grocery stores, delis and restaurants. Some disabled, elderly, or homeless SNAP recipients cannot easily cook meals or do not have access to needed kitchen facilities. Currently in New York State, SNAP recipients cannot use their benefits to purchase prepared foods. However, any state can allow for the purchase of prepared food by opting into the Restaurant Meals Program authorized under the 1977 Farm Bill. Currently Illinois, Arizona, 11 counties in California and one county in Rhode Island participate in the program.

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 10, 2020, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member Ydanis Rodriguez, held a hearing on Int. No. 971-A, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a creating a dangerous vehicle abatement program. This was the second hearing that the Committee has held on this item. The first hearing on Int. No. 971 was held on August 15, 2018. BACKGROUND

Speed Cameras

In 2013, the State of New York passed a law that permitted New York City to install 20 photo speed violation monitoring systems (“speed cameras”) in school zones.¹ Speed cameras are devices that measure an oncoming vehicle’s speed. If the vehicle is traveling more than ten miles an hour above the speed limit, the camera will photograph the vehicle at different points of the road, proving that the vehicle is moving too fast. The penalty for a speed camera violation is a $50 fine to the owner of the vehicle.² In 2014, the State of New York passed a law amending this provision to permit 140 speed camera zones in the city, effective until July 25, 2018.³ In 2019, the State further enhanced the speed camera law to allow the City to operate up to an additional 610 camera zones, for a potential total of 750 speed camera zones citywide.⁴ The new law also allows speed cameras to operate year round on weekdays between 6am and 10pm⁵ and requires the City to use speed and crash data to help determine where to place the cameras.⁶

These speed cameras have proven to be one of the most effective means of promoting pedestrian safety. Speeding in areas with the cameras declined by more than 60 percent, with over 80 percent of violators not getting a second ticket.⁷ Additionally, there has been a decline in crashes, injuries, and fatalities of motor vehicle occupants, pedestrians, and cyclists in areas where the speed cameras were used.⁸ Most significantly, the number of pedestrian fatalities dropped 55 percent.⁹

Red Light Cameras

In 1988, New York State granted the City the authority to demonstrate the effectiveness of traffic-control signal photo violation-monitoring systems.¹⁰ With this authorization the City launched the Red Light Camera program in 1994.¹¹ Since that initial authorization, the State Legislature has extended the program seven times with the next expiration date set for December 2024.¹² The program has been determined to deter drivers from running through red lights.¹³ In 2015, there were 184 red light cameras spread out through 150 intersections in the city.¹⁴ Below is a breakdown of where the cameras were situated in 2015:

According to data from DOT, in 1994 the average camera issued 31.8 notices of liability on a daily basis. That number had dropped to an average of 7.8 notices of liability by 2015, which is a 75% drop during that time span.¹⁵ Below is a chart detailing the change in the number of daily notices of liability issued from 1994-2015.

Penalties for Speed Camera and Red Light Violations

Under New York State law,¹⁶ the penalty for any violation by a red light or speed camera is limited to $50, and issued to a vehicle, based on the license number of the vehicle that the camera captures, regardless of the number of prior violations or how many miles per hour (“MPH”) above the speed limit that vehicle was traveling. For a speed camera violation, the vehicle must have been traveling more than 10 MPH above the posted school speed limit.¹⁷ The DMV may not use red light or speed camera violations to assess points to a driver’s license and insurers may not use such violations to set rates.¹⁸

Penalties for Other Than Speed and Red Light Camera Enforcement

When a police officer stops a driver for speeding and issues a moving traffic violation directly to the driver, there is an entirely different penalty scheme than the violations issued for red light or speed camera infractions. In those situations, when a vehicle exceeds the applicable speed limit by less than 10 MPH, the driver may be fined between $45 and $150. Such driver may also receive three driver penalty points. When a vehicle exceeds the applicable speed limit by more than 10 MPH but less than 30 MPH, the driver may be fined between $90 and $300 and is subject to 15 days of imprisonment. Such driver may also receive four to six driver penalty points. When a vehicle exceeds the applicable speed limit by more than 30 MPH, the driver may be fined between $180 and $600, and is subject to 30 days of imprisonment. Such driver may also receive eight to eleven driver penalty points. In New York State, a driver’s license is suspended after the accumulation of 11 points in 18 months.¹⁹

Further, if a vehicle is traveling at a speed greater than what is considered “reasonable and prudent under the conditions”—even if within the speed limit—the driver could be stopped by a police officer, fined an amount between $45 and $150 and is subject to 15 days imprisonment. Fines increase if a driver is convicted of more than one speeding violation in 18 months. A driver’s license is revoked after three convictions in 18 months. Fines may vary for speeding in school zones or restricted highways. Fines are also doubled in work zones.²⁰

In New York State, the Department of Motor Vehicles (“DMV”) administers the Driver Violation Point System in order to identify high risk drivers.²¹ Under this system, the DMV assigns points to drivers charged with certain traffic violations. If a driver accumulates a total of 11 points within an 18 month period, the DMV may suspend their license.²² The number of points a driver can accumulate for speeding can range from three points for speeding between one to ten miles per hour over the speed to limit, to eleven points for speeding forty miles per hour over the posted speed limit.²³ Drivers also incur three points on their license for disobeying a traffic control signal, like a red light.²⁴

Driver Accountability Program

In 2015, the Center for Court Innovation launched the Driver Accountability Program at the Red Hook Community Justice Center to help improve traffic safety by increasing accountability among those who have committed criminal driving offenses.²⁷ As part of the curriculum, participants engage in exercises and discussions on the principles of restorative justice, self-reflection and self-empowerment.²⁸ Participants are also required to identify certain driving behaviors about themselves that they are willing to change.²⁹

The Driver Accountability Program was expanded in 2019 to serve the criminal courts in Brooklyn, The Bronx, Staten Island and Manhattan.³⁰ Since 2015 there have been more than 2,000 people who have participated in the program's sessions.³¹ According to the Center for Court Innovation's website, 40 percent of the participants in the Driver Accountability Program are less likely to be rearrested for traffic related offenses and 86 percent have reported that their driving behavior had changed.³²

Dangerous Vehicle Abatement Program

Int. No. 971-A is designed to abate the public nuisance of dangerous vehicles. These are vehicles that have become "dangerous instruments" because they regularly exceed the posted speed limits near schools by more than ten miles per hour, or which regularly go through red lights. These vehicles have a detrimental effect on public health, safety and welfare because they are more likely to be involved in crashes, causing injuries or death to pedestrians, bicyclists, and vehicle occupants.

The City has a long history of taking action against public nuisances. Although the models for this bill have involved buildings or property that are a threat to public health, safety and welfare because of illegal activities occurring within such buildings or on such property, vehicles driven with disregard for traffic regulations are similarly a threat to public health, safety and welfare – if not more so.

UPDATE

On February 10, 2020, the Committee on Transportation passed Int. No. 971-A by a vote of eight in the affirmative, one in the negative, and one abstention.

ANALYSIS OF INT. NO. 971-A

Int. No. 971-A creates a "dangerous vehicle abatement program" that requires vehicle owners to take a safe vehicle operation course or risk having their vehicle impounded. Vehicles covered by the program include any vehicle that has accumulated five or more red light camera violations or 15 or more school speed camera violations within a twelve-month period, provided that these violations must be determined by the Department of Transportation to be finally adjudicated. Safe vehicle operation courses must be approved by DOT. If the vehicle is owned by an organization such as a corporation, that corporation will be required to identify a natural person who will be responsible for attending the safe vehicle operation course. DOT will determine the amount of time within which owners must complete the safe vehicle operation course.

Any person who receives a red light camera violation or a school speed camera violation will receive written notice by mail that each violation counts towards the dangerous vehicle abatement program. Any owner of a vehicle that has been determined to be covered by the dangerous vehicle abatement program will receive written notice of this determination by mail. Owners may contest this determination before the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (“OATH”) and raise defenses that include, but are not limited to the following: (1) another person was driving the vehicle and will take the course; (2) the vehicle has not accrued a sufficient number of tickets; (3) the owner was not able to enroll in the course, through no fault of their own; and (4) personal circumstances beyond the control of the owner would cause undue hardship and prevent them from completing the course.

Covered vehicles may be impounded if owners fail to complete the safe vehicle operation course within the timeframe designated by DOT. Before a vehicle is impounded, the owner will receive an order to certify completion of the course or appear before OATH and present a reason that the vehicle should not be impounded. If OATH determines that the vehicle can be impounded, DOT will direct the Sheriff to seize and impound the vehicle. The vehicle will not be released to the owner until the owner provides certification of completion of the safety course. Following successful completion of the safety course, if the owner does not incur any additional red light camera or speed camera violations for six months, owners of covered vehicles will receive a clean slate for purposes of the dangerous vehicle abatement program.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 971-A

COMMITTEE: Transportation

TITLE: A local law in relation to creating a dangerous vehicle abatement program.

SPONSORS: Council Members Lander, Torres, Reynoso, Richards, Menchaca, Adams, Levin, Van Bramer, Gibson, Treyger, Rosenthal, Powers, Brannan, Ayala, Rodriguez, Rivera, Ampy-Samuel, Holden, Koslowitz, Constantinides, Chin, the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams), Cumbo, Levine, Salamanca, Cornegy, Kallos, Dromm, Moya, Deutsch, Barron, Louis and Cohen.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 971-A would create a “dangerous vehicle abatement program” that would require owners of vehicles with five or more red light camera violations or 15 or more speed camera violations within 12 months to take a safe vehicle operation course offered by the Department of Transportation (DOT). If an owner failed to complete the course, the Sheriff would be empowered to impound the owner’s vehicle.

Owners who receive a red light or speed camera violation would be notified that those violations would count toward dangerous vehicle abatement program. After receiving notice that a vehicle is covered under the program, an owner would have the opportunity to contest.

The program would run for three years. Each year, DOT would report on the number of drivers who completed the course and the number of vehicles impounded. At least three months before its end, DOT would issue a report on how certain driving behaviors correlate with traffic crashes and on the effectiveness of the program.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect eight months after it becomes law and would remain in effect for 36 months, after which it would be deemed repealed.

Int. No. 971-A

By Council Members Lander, Torres, Reynoso, Richards, Menchaca, Adams, Levin, Van Bramer, Gibson, Treyger, Rosenthal, Powers, Brannan, Ayala, Rodriguez, Rivera, Ampry-Samuel, Holden, Koslowitz, Constantinides, Chin, the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams), Cumbo, Levine, Salamanca, Cornegy, Kallos, Dromm, Moya, Barron, Louis, Cohen, Rose and Eugene.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a creating a dangerous vehicle abatement program

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative intent and findings. The council finds and declares that more than 200 people in New York city are killed each year in traffic crashes. Being struck by a vehicle is the leading cause of injury-related death for children under 14, and the second leading cause for senior citizens. The council notes that in a recent analysis by the New York city department of transportation, vehicles with the most school speed camera violations per year or the most red light camera violations per year were more likely to be involved in injury crashes than vehicles with few or no violations. The council believes that vehicles which have been involved in multiple red light camera and school speed camera violations would be less dangerous if their registered owners were educated regarding the dangers of exceeding speed limits and failing to comply with traffic signals. The council therefore finds it necessary and appropriate to establish a program to require such education for the registered owners of such vehicles to the extent practicable.

§ 2. Chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subchapter 4 to read as follows:

*Subchapter 4
Dangerous Vehicle Abatement Law*

§ 19-199.2 Definitions. For the purposes of this subchapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

Covered vehicle. The term “covered vehicle” means any motor vehicle that, in accordance with the records of the department of finance, has accumulated five or more finally adjudicated red light camera violations as determined by the department, or 15 or more finally adjudicated school speed camera violations as determined by the department, within any 12-month period. Such term shall not include any vehicle owned or leased by the United States government or any state or local government.

Person. The term “person” means a natural person, co-partnership, firm, company, association, joint stock association, corporation or other like organization.

Predicate violation. The term “predicate violation” means a red light camera violation or school speed camera violation.

Red light camera violation. The term “red light camera violation” means the notice of liability issued for failure of a vehicle operator to comply with section 1111-a of the vehicle and traffic law or section 19-210.

School speed camera violation. The term “school speed camera violation” means the notice of liability issued for failure of a vehicle operator to comply with section 1180-b of the vehicle and traffic law.

Safe vehicle operation course. The term “safe vehicle operation course” means a course approved by the department that educates vehicle owners about the dangers resulting from vehicle operators exceeding posted speed limits and failing to comply with traffic signals, including the potential to cause injury or death, by utilizing a skilled facilitator to actively engage participants in self-reflection and discussion to identify and commit to specific safe driving practices. The goal of such course is to prevent vehicles from becoming dangerous instruments by educating owners about responsible vehicle ownership.

§ 19-199.3 Notice to vehicle owners. The department shall send by first-class mail, to all persons receiving a red light camera violation or a school speed camera violation, a notice that pursuant to this subchapter, a vehicle that incurs five or more red light camera violations or 15 or more school speed camera violations within any 12-month period may be determined to be a covered vehicle, and that such vehicle’s registered owner may thereafter be required to enroll in and complete a safe vehicle operation course pursuant to this subchapter and the rules of the department. Such notice shall also contain a warning that failure to enroll in and complete such course may result in the seizure and impoundment of such vehicle, pending completion of such course.

§ 19-199.4 Covered vehicle notice. a. The department may require a registered owner of a covered vehicle, pursuant to this subchapter, to complete a safe vehicle operation course in accordance with rules promulgated by the department and to certify completion of such course to the department within the time period set forth in such rules. The department shall serve a notice of such requirement by first-class mail to the registered owner.

b. The registered owner may request review of the notice by the department, within the time period set forth in rules promulgated by the department. The registered owner shall have the opportunity to contest such notice from the department made pursuant to subdivision a of this section before the office of administrative trials and hearings. At such hearing, the owner may assert defenses, including but not limited to:

- (1) a person other than the registered owner was driving the vehicle when the predicate violations were issued, provided that such other person has or will complete the course on behalf of the registered owner;
- (2) there are insufficient finally adjudicated predicate violations for such covered vehicle notice;
- (3) the registered owner in good faith attempted to enroll in the safe vehicle operation course but was unable to do so, due to no fault of their own; or
- (4) employment, health or family circumstances beyond the control of the registered owner would cause undue hardship and prevent them from completing the safe vehicle operation course within the time frame required by this subchapter.

c. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of subdivision b of this section, where the registered owner of a covered vehicle is a person other than a natural person, the registered owner shall identify to the department the natural person who operated or is responsible for overseeing the operation of such covered vehicle. The department may require proof that such person operated or is responsible for the operation of such covered vehicle. Such person shall complete the safe vehicle operation course on behalf of the registered owner, as set forth in rules promulgated by the department.

d. If the office of administrative trials and hearings finds that such registered owner must complete the safe vehicle operation course, such registered owner shall complete such course within a period of time after such determination, as set forth in rules promulgated by the department.

§ 19-199.5 Seizure and impoundment. a. Where a registered owner fails to complete the safe vehicle operation course in accordance with this subchapter, the covered vehicle may be subject to impoundment in accordance with this section.

b. The department shall serve an order by first-class mail upon the registered owner of such covered vehicle. Such order shall require the owner to complete the safe vehicle operation course and certify to the department completion of such course within a period of time to be set forth in such order, or appear at a hearing before the office of administrative trials and hearings at a time and place set forth in such order, at which such registered owner may present reasons why their covered vehicle should not be seized and impounded until such registered owner completes the safe vehicle operation course. The determination of the office of administrative trials and hearings shall be a final determination for purposes of review, pursuant to article 78 of the civil practice law and rules.

c. If the office of administrative trials and hearings sustains the order of seizure and impoundment, the department shall direct the city sheriff, after twenty days have passed from the date of such final determination, to seize and impound the covered vehicle. Such covered vehicle shall not be released until the owner provides certification of completion of the safe vehicle operation course, in accordance with rules promulgated by the department, and pays fees in the amount of the city's expenses for the seizure and impoundment of such covered vehicle.

§ 19-199.6 Successful completion of safe vehicle operation course. If within six months after completing a safe vehicle operation course a vehicle does not accumulate any additional predicate violations, any red light camera or school speed camera violations accrued prior to the completion of such course shall not be counted as predicate violations for purposes of this subchapter.

§ 19-199.7 Program evaluation. The department shall publish on its website and report to the mayor and the speaker of the city council on the implementation of this subchapter and the department's efforts to reduce dangerous driving, which shall contain, at a minimum, the following information:

a. no later than 13 months after the effective date of the local law that added this subchapter, and every year thereafter, a report on the number of individuals who registered for the safe vehicle operation course and the number of individuals who completed such program, during the previous 12-month period;

b. no later than 13 months after the effective date of the local law that added this subchapter, and every year thereafter, a report on the number of vehicles impounded pursuant to this subchapter, within the previous 12-month period;

c. no less than three months prior to the expiration of the program established by the local law that added this subchapter, an evaluation of the effectiveness of the safe vehicle operation course, including, but not limited to, the number of individuals who completed such course found liable for a predicate violation following completion of such course and the number of such violations;

d. no less than three months prior to the expiration of the program established by the local law that added this subchapter, a study of driving behavior to identify specific behaviors indicating a pattern of dangerous driving associated with traffic crashes, injuries, and fatalities, including, but limited to, and to the extent feasible, an analysis of hit-and-run police reports, convictions for traffic-related violations or crimes, including convictions pursuant to section 19-190 and section 1212 of the vehicle and traffic law; MV104AN crash reports attributing dangerous conduct to the driver, driving activity of vehicles registered to people with suspended or revoked licenses; and

e. no less than three months prior to the expiration of the program established by the local law that added this subchapter, changes in patterns of dangerous driving and any additional interventions undertaken by the department or another city agency designed to address dangerous driving.

§ 3. This local law takes effect eight months after it becomes law and applies to red light camera and school speed camera violations, as defined in section 19-199.2 of subchapter 4 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by section two of this local law, committed on and after such effective date, provided that:

(i) section 19-199.4, 19-199.5 and 19-199.6 of subchapter 4 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by section two of this local law, shall take effect twelve months after it becomes law;

(ii) that the department of transportation, the department of finance, the office of administrative trials and hearings, and the city sheriff shall take such measures as are necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such date; and

(iii) this local law shall remain in effect for 36 months, after which it is deemed repealed.

Notwithstanding the repeal of this local law, the provisions of this local law shall remain in effect for any registered owner required to take a safe vehicle operation course pursuant to subchapter 4 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by this local law, prior to such repeal.

Whereas, Locally, in 2011, researchers at the City University of New York (CUNY) estimated that 39 percent of CUNY students were food insecure; and

Whereas, A small survey of low-income students at CUNY found that 74 percent experienced “very low food security” while the remaining 26 percent experienced “low food security”; and

Whereas, Another recent survey study cites that one in four CUNY students, or approximately 60,000 undergraduates, experience food insecurity; and

Whereas, The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly known as the Food Stamp Program) is the nation's largest domestic food and nutrition assistance program, providing assistance to millions of eligible low-income people; and

Whereas, SNAP provides assistance to recipients by offering monthly electronic benefits that can be used to purchase food at authorized stores and farmers' markets; and

Whereas, Benefit levels for SNAP are based on criteria including, but not limited to, household size and income levels; and

Whereas, To participate in SNAP, a student in college at least half time must meet the income eligibility for SNAP and be employed for an average of 20 hours per week; and

Whereas, If a college student is enrolled in a SNAP Employment and Training (SNAP E&T) program, they are exempt from the 20 hour work requirement; and

Whereas, Federal regulations allow states to determine whether certain training programs not funded under the SNAP program are comparable to a SNAP E&T activity; and

Whereas, Students enrolled in a training program that has been deemed comparable to a SNAP E&T activity may receive SNAP if otherwise eligible; and

Whereas, Some states, such as Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, have made regulatory changes to their state SNAP programs to expand eligibility to community college students by determining their enrollment in community college is comparable to a SNAP E&T activity; and

Whereas, As the State agency that administers SNAP, the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance (OTDA) should certify academic programs within CUNY and State University of New York (SUNY) as comparable to a SNAP E&T program so that students will be eligible for SNAP; and

Whereas, In January 2020, Governor Cuomo included the expansion of college student enrollment in the State of the State presentation, which would allow for community college students working at least half-time in career and technical education courses to be exempt from the 20 hour work requirement for SNAP; and

Whereas, As low-income public college students are elevating their job prospects and earning potential, they should not be denied access to benefits providing a basic necessity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance (OTDA) to expand eligibility for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) to public college students.

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving a Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to opt into the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) Restaurant Meals Program to allow disabled, elderly and homeless SNAP recipients to use their benefits on hot meals and other prepared foods at participating grocery stores, delis and restaurants.

REPORTS:

(For text of report, please see the Report of the Committee on General Welfare for Int. No. 1650-A printed in the Reports of the Standing Committee section of these Minutes)

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

(The following is the text of Res. No. 1025:)

Res. No. 1025

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to opt into the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) Restaurant Meals Program to allow disabled, elderly and homeless SNAP recipients to use their benefits on hot meals and other prepared foods at participating grocery stores, delis and restaurants.

By Council Members Louis, Kallos, Chin, Ayala, Gibson, Reynoso, Lander, Powers, Brannan, Rosenthal, Adams, Cohen, Vallone, Holden, Levin and Eugene.

Whereas, According to Feeding America, the nation's leading hunger-relief organization, 1.2 million New Yorkers were food insecure in 2017; and

Whereas, Food insecurity is the lack of access, at times, to enough nutritionally adequate food for an active, healthy life for all members of a household; and

Whereas, New York City's food insecurity rate is 12 percent higher than the national rate, and 21 percent higher than the New York State rate; and

Whereas, The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as the Food Stamp Program, is the cornerstone of the nation's safety net and nutrition assistance programs, providing assistance to millions of eligible low-income people; and

Whereas, Benefit levels for SNAP are based on criteria including, but not limited to, household size and income levels; and

Whereas, SNAP provides assistance to recipients by offering monthly electronic benefits that can be used to purchase food at authorized stores and farmers' markets; and

Whereas, SNAP not only helps low-income people purchase food, but it also provides an economic benefit to communities; and

Whereas, As of May 2019, over 1.5 million people were receiving SNAP benefits in New York City; and

Whereas, Currently in New York, SNAP recipients cannot use their benefits to purchase prepared foods; and

Whereas, However, any state can allow for the purchase of prepared food with SNAP by opting into the Restaurant Meals Program authorized under the United States Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 (known as the Farm Bill); and

Whereas, The United States Department of Agriculture, which funds and runs SNAP, allows states to make restaurants available to SNAP recipients who are aged 60 and over, have proof of disability or have a homeless certification letter from a shelter or other provider; and

Whereas, Currently Illinois, Arizona, 11 counties in California and one county in Rhode Island participate in the program; and

Whereas, Allowing the disabled and elderly to use SNAP benefits for prepared meals will help those who may have physical limitations to preparing a meal; and

Whereas, New Yorkers experiencing homelessness can only use their SNAP benefits on limited items that do not require cooking due to lack of access to cooking facilities; and

Whereas, While the Department of Homeless Services provides meals to these individuals at their homeless shelter or commercial hotel, SNAP recipients who are experiencing homelessness do not have the flexibility to buy food on the go and choose their own food; and

Whereas, Allowing SNAP benefits to be used on prepared foods would allow people the choice and flexibility to use their SNAP benefits to feed themselves and their families; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to opt into the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) Restaurant Meals Program to allow disabled, elderly and homeless SNAP recipients to use their benefits on hot meals and other prepared foods at participating grocery stores, delis and restaurants.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the provision of information about pediatric emergency rooms

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 17 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 17-199.12 to read as follows:

§ 17-199.12 Information regarding pediatric emergency rooms. a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Child care program. The term “child care program” means a child care program as defined in section 47.01 of the of the health code of the city of New York.

Pediatric emergency room. The term “pediatric emergency room” means an emergency room of a hospital that specializes in treatment of children and adolescents.

Student. The term “student” means any child who is enrolled in pre-kindergarten through grade eight in a school of the city school district of the city of New York, any child who is enrolled in an early education center with which the department of education contracts to provide pre-kindergarten, and any child who is enrolled in a free full-day early education program for three-year-old children offered by the department of education.

b. The department shall maintain, and post on the department’s website, a list of pediatric emergency rooms which includes information about such emergency rooms including their locations and available medical services. In addition, the department shall:

1. Provide such list to the 311 customer service center to be posted on the 311 customer service website and to be made available by operators of the 311 system to any caller requesting information about pediatric emergency rooms;

2. Coordinate with hospitals to provide such list to the parents of every infant born in the city whose birth has been reported to the department;

3. Provide such list to pediatricians practicing in the city with materials indicating that such list should be distributed to parents and guardians; and

4. Provide such list to the department of education and each child care program to be distributed to the parents and guardians of every student and every child enrolled in a child care program at least once a year.

Res. No. 1233

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to introduce and pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation amending Section 1402 of the New York State Tax Law to raise the minimum threshold for imposition of the “Mansion Tax” from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 in New York City and increasing the tax due on transfers exceeding $2,000,000.

By Council Members Brannan, Yeger, Holden, Gjonaj, Grodenchik, Borelli, Ulrich and Kallos.

Whereas, Section 1402-a of the New York State Tax Law, passed in 1989 and commonly referred to as the “Mansion Tax,” levies a one percent tax on residential properties in New York State that sell for $1,000,000 or more; and

Whereas, Section 1402-b of the New York State Tax Law, passed in 2019, increased the Mansion Tax on transfers of residential real property in New York City with a consideration of $2,000,000 or more by creating seven additional tax brackets with higher tax rates, and dedicated such additional revenue therefrom to the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA); and

Whereas, While adding additional tax brackets for transfers of more expensive residential real property is progressive, common-sense tax policy and creating new revenue for the MTA is an important policy goal, such legislation left in place the 30-year-old, $1,000,000 threshold for imposition of the Mansion Tax; and

Whereas, According to the Bureau of Labor Statistic's Consumer Price Index Inflation Calculator, the purchasing power of $1,000,000 in 1989 is different from the purchasing power of $1,000,000 in 2019 and vice versa; and

Whereas, $1,000,000 in 1989 is equivalent to $2,078,546.66 in 2019, and conversely $1,000,000 in 2019, adjusted for inflation, is equivalent to $481,105.39 in 1989; and

Whereas, According to the REBNY Residential Sales Report, the average sales price of a residence in New York City during the third quarter of 2018 was $1,026,000; and

Whereas, The original law was intended to impose an additional tax on purchasers of luxury properties, however it currently is a burden on the purchaser of the average residence in New York City; and

Whereas, A $1,000,000 property in today's market in New York City is no longer a luxury property; and

Whereas, By keeping the imposition of the tax at the $1,000,000 threshold, prospective buyers of the average New York City residence are being forced to pay a tax that was intended to be paid only by purchasers of luxury, high-end homes; and

Whereas, Increasing the threshold to $2,000,000 would reflect the economic changes of the past thirty years, more accurately reflect the current New York City real estate market, and align the law with its original intention; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to introduce and pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation amending Section 1402 of the New York State Tax Law to raise the minimum threshold for imposition of the “Mansion Tax” from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

MERCURY EXPOSURE AND REMEDIATION*

§ 24-191 Legislative purpose; applicability. The purpose of this subchapter is to protect public health and safety by minimizing the emission of mercury vapor into the air of the city when properties that contain quantities

2. Any kindergarten or pre-kindergarten class operated as part of or located within any elementary school, except that school programs that provide care to children younger than three years of age shall be deemed child care programs subject to article 47 of the New York city health code. “Operated as part of an elementary school” means that there is identical ownership, operation, management and control of kindergarten or pre-kindergarten classes and elementary school classes;

3. Any “Mommy and me” or equivalent program in which each child is accompanied by a parent or another adult escorting the child, who is not employed by the child care program;

1. No person on such property or an adjacent school, child care facility or facility providing day care services shall be exposed to a level of mercury vapor exposure in excess of 750 nanograms per cubic meter of air averaged over an eight-hour work shift of a 40-hour work week.

2. No child on such property or an adjacent school, child care facility or facility providing day care services shall be exposed to a level of mercury vapor exposure in excess of 750 nanograms per cubic meter of air during 16 hours or less per week averaged over the school year.

b. The owner of such covered property shall be responsible for maintaining compliance with the requirements of this subdivision.

e. The commissioner shall promulgate such rules as may be necessary for the implementation of this section. Such rules shall include an inspection or audit procedure to secure compliance with the requirements of subdivision a of this section.

§ 24-194 Remediation of mercury. a. Determining presence of mercury. Before the commencement of any foundation work or earthwork requiring the filing of an application pursuant to section 28-105.2.1, the owner of the covered property that will undergo such work shall analyze available public records to determine whether any industrial or commercial activity involving a use of elemental mercury has ever taken place on the property. Such owner shall submit this determination about the likely presence of mercury in writing to the department and to the department of buildings. The department of buildings shall not issue any permit granted pursuant to section 28-105.2.1 until such determination has been made and submitted to such department, and, when required, elemental mercury remediation of the property has been completed pursuant to this section.

b. Testing. When the owner of a covered property has determined that industrial or commercial activity involving a use of elemental mercury has taken place on the property and has determined the likely presence of mercury on the property pursuant to subdivision a of this section, such owner shall test for the actual presence of elemental mercury on the property.

c. Remediation plan. Where the actual presence of elemental mercury on the covered property is determined through testing conducted pursuant to subdivision b of this section, the owner shall submit simultaneously with such determination an elemental mercury remediation plan and an application to the commissioner for approval of such plan.

d. Contents of remediation plan. 1. A remediation plan pursuant to this section shall comply with the rules of the department. The commissioner may approve such a plan only upon a satisfactory showing that it will effect compliance with all applicable provisions of this subchapter, rules promulgated thereunder, and applicable federal or state laws or regulations. Where a remediation plan is required by this section, the commissioner of buildings shall not issue any permit for foundation work or earthwork requiring the filing of an application pursuant to section 28-105.2.1 until after such remediation has been completed.

2. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of buildings and the commissioner of health and mental hygiene, shall promulgate rules:

(a) Specifying the types of work that are exempt from the requirement to submit a remediation plan pursuant to subdivision b of this section;

(b) Setting standards for the remediation of all forms of elemental mercury, including but not limited to mercury vapor, from properties located adjacent to schools, child care facilities and facilities providing day care services;

(c) Establishing procedures for safeguarding the health and safety of the public and all persons present at or near properties where elemental mercury is present that are located adjacent to schools, child care facilities and facilities providing day care services;

(d) Specifying the form and manner for submission of a remediation plan; and

(e) Establishing a fee to be submitted with such remediation plan.

e. Consideration of remediation plan. 1. No later than 60 days after the submission of an application for approval of an elemental mercury remediation plan, the commissioner shall notify the applicant, in writing, of the approval or disapproval of such application. If an application is disapproved, the commissioner shall set forth a list of objections in the notice of disapproval. Within 60 days after service on the applicant of the notice of disapproval, the applicant may request that the commissioner reconsider the application by responding in writing to the stated objections. The commissioner shall consider the applicant's responses to the objections, and, within 60 days after submission of such responses, shall notify the applicant, in writing, of the approval or denial of the application. Where an applicant fails to respond to the commissioner's stated objections or to request an extension of time within 60 days after service of the notice of disapproval, denial of the application shall be deemed final, without prejudice to filing a new remediation plan and application for approval.

2. Following a denial of such application, the department of buildings shall deny any permit for work that requires the filing of an application pursuant to section 28-105.2.1. Denial of such permit for work shall be without prejudice to the approval of any subsequent application that satisfies the requirements of this subchapter.

f. Stop work order. Where (i) elemental mercury is discovered on a covered property after the commencement of any foundation work or earthwork requiring the filing of an application pursuant to section 28-105.2.1 or (ii) work is being performed in violation of the provisions of this subchapter or any rules promulgated thereunder and poses a threat to human safety, health or well-being, the commissioner of buildings may issue a notice or order to stop work. Such notice or order may be given orally or in writing to the owner of the property involved, the owner's agent or the persons performing the work and may require all persons in or about the building or premises to vacate the same immediately, and also may require such work to be done as, in the opinion of the commissioner, may be necessary to remove the danger therefrom.

g. Variance. The commissioner may grant an individual variance from a requirement of this subchapter or rules promulgated thereunder, or from an order of the commissioner related to remediation of elemental mercury, upon presentation of adequate proof that compliance with such requirement or order would cause unreasonable hardship. In granting a variance, the commissioner may impose reasonable conditions in furtherance of the policies of this subchapter. No later than seven days after granting such a variance, the commissioner shall publish online and in the City Record a statement of the reasons the variance was granted.

h. Information sharing. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of buildings, shall establish a procedure for sharing information about violations issued pursuant to this section, in accordance with the requirements of section 28-103.7.1.

i. Rules for non-remediation projects. The commissioner may promulgate any rules the commissioner deems necessary to protect the health and safety of the public in connection with work not constituting an elemental mercury remediation project in which elemental mercury is or is likely to be disturbed.

§ 24-195 Publication of best practices. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of health and mental hygiene, shall develop, publish and make publicly available online recommendations and best practices for the protection of children attending schools, child care facilities and facilities providing day care services when adjacent properties undergo elemental mercury remediation.

§ 2. This local law takes effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the commissioner of environmental protection, the commissioner of buildings and the commissioner of health and mental hygiene shall take any actions necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Res. No. 1234

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.7209/S.5100, in relation to providing a tax credit for qualified caregiving expenses.

By Council Members Chin, Ayala, Rosenthal, Louis, Yeger and Gibson.

Whereas, Every day, tens of millions of Americans provide unpaid care for others who are unable to care for themselves due to a mental and/or physical impairment; and

Whereas, According to the report on Caregiving in the U.S. 2015 by the National Alliance for Caregiving and the AARP Public Policy Institute, there are approximately 34.2 million adults in the United States who have provided unpaid care to an adult age 50 or older; and

Whereas, According to the 2009 report on Supporting and Strengthening Caregivers in New York State by the New York State Family Caregiver Council, the New York ranks third in the nation for the highest number of unpaid caregivers with over 2.2 million caregivers statewide; and

Whereas, Close to one-fifth of the caregiver population in New York reported household incomes below $20,000, according to the New York State Family Caregiver Council report; and

Whereas, In 2016, the New York City Council passed Local Law 97 which required the New York City Department for the Aging (DFTA) to conduct a survey of informal caregivers, public and private service providers, and service recipients within the City, to assess existing resources for informal caregivers and identify their needs, and to develop a comprehensive plan to address those needs of unpaid caregivers in the City; and

Whereas, According to A Survey of Informal Caregivers in New York City by DFTA in 2017, the economic value of the work family caregivers perform across the United States is estimated at $470 billion a year, and the economic impact of unpaid caregiving on the families who both require and deliver those services is enormous; and

Whereas, Caregivers are often required to pay out of pocket for caregiving expenses, which was estimated to be an average of nearly $7,000 a year and represented approximately 20 percent of caregivers incomes, according to DFTA's survey; and

Whereas, Additionally, some caregivers opt to leave the workforce early so that they can provide full-time care to a family member, which resulted on an average loss of $304,000 in wages and benefits over the course of their lives, according to DFTA's survey; and

Whereas, According to DFTA's survey, the City is home to an estimated 900,000 to 1.3 million caregivers, many of whom are women or older adults who provide at least 30 hours of care each week while also working outside the home; and

Whereas, At least one-third of the City's caregiver population struggled financially, and many lacked the knowledge and financial resources to obtain the necessary services to care for their loved ones, according to DFTA's survey; and

Whereas, In April 2019, the State Senate introduced S.5100, sponsored by Senator Rachel May, and the State Assembly introduced A.7209, sponsored by Assembly Member Harry Bronson, that would provide a tax credit for qualified caregiving expenses; and

Whereas, The legislation would provide a tax credit to an individual with a gross annual income of $75,000 or less, and a couple with a gross annual income of $150,000 or less, of up to $3,500, or for expenses for goods and services provided to or for the benefit of a qualifying family member or to assist a qualified caregiver in caring for a qualifying family member; and

Whereas, With one of the largest population of caregivers in the nation, the State has an obligation to provide a tax credit to caregivers as they provide a significant economic benefit to the City and State by performing a number of activities allowing those in their care to remain at home in the community, while also taking on the majority of all long-term care services to both older adults and individuals with disabilities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.7209/S.5100, in relation to providing a tax credit for qualified caregiving expenses.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision a of section 19-175.2 of the administrative code is amended to read as follows:

a. Following any permanent change in parking restrictions posted by the department, the department shall post notice, in the affected areas, indicating the effective date of such change. Within thirty days of posting notice of the effective date of such a permanent change, no vehicle may be towed for a violation pursuant to such change unless it is necessary for public safety. An owner of a motor vehicle parked in the affected areas who receives a notice of a parking violation that occurred within [five] fifteen days of posting of the notice of the parking restriction change shall have an affirmative defense that the vehicle of the owner was parked in compliance with the applicable parking restriction that was in effect prior to such change. Within one business day of making a permanent change in parking restrictions, such change will be reflected on the website containing parking restrictions as required by section 19-175.1 of the code.

Res. No. 1236

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign Senate Bill S6821, which would ensure all people in custody have the right to vote and require the Department of Corrections and Community Supervision to collaborate state and local board of elections to facilitate voter registration and voting among all incarcerated people.

By The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Louis and Kallos.

Whereas, A 2016 report from The Sentencing Project estimated that 6.1 million Americans are ineligible to vote as a result of felony disenfranchisement laws; and

Whereas, Even as a number of states have moved to extend voting rights to individuals on parole or probation and to those who have completed their sentence, people convicted of a felony remain disenfranchised while incarcerated; and

Whereas, New York is among the forty-eight states, as well as the District of Columbia, in which persons convicted of a felony lose their right to vote while incarcerated; and

Whereas, New York's felony disenfranchisement law has a disparate effects on Latinx and Black people as a result of their disproportionate felony arrest and conviction rates driven in part by the over-policing of their communities; and

Whereas, As a result, felony disenfranchisement reduces the scale of the Latinx and Black electorates and the political impact of those communities; and

Whereas, Vermont and Maine remain the only two states where incarcerated people, no matter what their conviction is for, do not lose their vote; and

Whereas, The right to vote is a fundamental tenet of democracy and should not be denied to any incarcerated individuals; and

Whereas, S.6821 introduced by State Senator Kevin Parker would repeal section 5-106 of New York Election Law, which disenfranchises incarcerated people convicted of a felony, and would require the Department of Corrections and Community Supervision, in collaboration with the state and county board of election, to establish a program to facilitate voter registration and voting among all incarcerated people, which includes access and assistance with voter registration forms and a mechanism for voting, including absentee ballots; and

Whereas, Lawmakers in New Mexico, Virginia, Hawaii, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia have all introduced legislation in 2019 that would ensure all people in custody have the right to vote; and

Whereas, A survey published by Laleh Ispahani in 2009 examining disenfranchisement in Europe found that seventeen European nations imposed no bar on incarcerated people voting; and

Whereas, The right of incarcerated people to vote has been affirmed in constitutional court decisions in Canada, South Africa, Israel, Australia, and Kenya; and

Whereas, Permitting incarcerated people to participate in the electoral process improves their chances of successful reentry as it allows them to foster meaningful and positive connections with institutions in their community; and, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, Senate Bill S6821, which would ensure all ensure all people in custody have the right to vote and require the Department of Corrections and Community Supervision to collaborate state and local board of elections to facilitate voter registration and voting among all incarcerated people.

Res. No. 1237

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S6793/A8943, which would require MTA police officers to wear body-worn cameras

By The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Member Louis.

Whereas, In June 2019, Governor Andrew Cuomo announced a plan to hire 500 additional MTA police officers to patrol New York City's subway system; and

Whereas, In December 2019, the MTA board approved Governor Cuomo's plan, allocating an estimated $250 million over four years to expand the MTA's police force by 64 percent to purportedly combat crime, fare evasion, and the system's homelessness population; and

Whereas, The increase in police presence in the subway system for the last several months has generated community outrage as it has resulted in controversial incidents, including police officers arresting two churro sellers on a subway platform, pointing their firearms inside a crowded subway car, punching teenagers in the face, and holding up an L train to remove a man seen dozing off on a bench; and

Whereas, The New York Police Department (NYPD) has equipped all uniformed patrol officers with body-worn cameras to record their interactions with community residents; and

Whereas, Because MTA police are not considered members of the NYPD, they are exempt from wearing body-worn cameras; and

Whereas, Research from Arizona State University shows officers with body-worn cameras have fewer complaints lodged against them; and

Whereas, A study conducted with Rialto Police Department in California shows decreases in civilian complaints lodged against officers wearing body-worn camera and decreases in use-of-force incidents by the police; and

Whereas, S6793 introduced by State Senator Jessica Ramos, and companion bill A8943 introduced by Assemblymember Karines Reyes, would require MTA police to wear body-worn cameras and directs the chief of the MTA Police Department to establish rules and regulations pertaining to body-worn cameras; and

Whereas, The use of body-worn cameras would increase transparency and accountability, which can help improve law enforcement legitimacy at a time when communities lack trust and confidence in law enforcement; and

Whereas, The use of body-worn cameras also offer the opportunity to improve training as law enforcement officials can assess police activities and behaviors captured by body-worn cameras; and now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S6793/A8943, which would require MTA police officers to wear body-worn cameras

Res. No. 1238

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A4071/S870, relating to increasing membership on the public health and health planning council and directing the appointment of members representing particular areas of concern.

By Council Member Rivera.

Whereas, According to Kaiser Health News, across the nation hospitals are shifting away from traditional inpatient facilities, with health care providers investing in outpatient clinics, same-day surgery centers, free-standing emergency rooms, and microhospitals; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Health Foundation, as the health care industry's focus shifts to community-based outpatient care, hospital transformations, including closures and consolidations, have increased in frequency; and

Whereas, Over the last 20 years, 41 hospitals in New York State have closed all of their inpatient services, and the overall number of community hospitals has decreased; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH), 78 hospital mergers or acquisitions were approved or pending between 2011 and September 2017; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Health Foundation, 764 hospital beds were lost between 2015 and 2017 throughout the state, and now the twelve largest non-profit health systems in the state are in control of half of all acute care hospitals and 70 percent of inpatient acute care beds; and

Whereas, Hospital shifts and consolidations have various effects on the community; and

Whereas, While experts say that large health organizations can more easily manage population health and health care, facilitate electronic information exchange, accept risk in value-based purchasing arrangements, and provide support to failing community hospitals through consolidation, studies show that prices increase when hospitals consolidate, with one study finding that prices were 12 percent higher on average in areas where one hospital dominated the market versus areas with at least four competitors; and

Whereas, There is concern that hospital consolidation and transformation will leave people with little to no access to needed inpatient services; and

Whereas, According to the Independent Budget Office, New York City Health + Hospitals (H+H) has seen a significant increase in the hospitalization of patients requiring mental health services in recent years, coinciding with increased hospital consolidations; and

Whereas, In July of 2017, mental health hospitalizations at the 11 hospitals that comprise H+H grew roughly 20 percent while, over the same six-year period, mental health hospitalizations decreased by approximately five percent among the voluntary hospitals in New York City; and

Whereas, Hospital transformation also impacts the medical community and, according to the New York Times, doctors in small practices feel pressured to join large health systems; and

Whereas, As of 2016, large hospital groups employed 43 percent of the nation's primary care doctors; and

Whereas, A state-mandated review process, known as the Certificate of Need (CON) program, governs the establishment, ownership, construction, renovation, and change in service of health care facilities in New York; and

Whereas, According to NYSDOH, prior to establishing or constructing new facilities, renovating existing facilities or programs, adding or deleting services, modifying service areas, acquiring major medical equipment, or changing ownership of facilities, agencies, or programs, health care facilities are required to submit a CON application and obtain approval from NYSDOH or the Public Health and Health Planning Council (PHHPC); and

Whereas, A year-long study by MergerWatch, funded by the New York State Health Foundation, found that the CON process lacks transparency, consumer engagement, and sufficient oversight of health care providers; and

Whereas, For example, summaries of CON applications made available to the public often do not explain how the proposed change would meet the needs of medically-underserved people, such as those who are low income, racial and ethnic minorities, women, and people with disabilities; and

Whereas, A4071/S870, sponsored by Senator Brad Hoylman and Assembly Member Dick Gottfried, calls for an increase in membership on the PHHPC and directs the appointment of members representing particular areas of concern; and

Whereas, A4071/S870 would expand the PHHPC to include additional consumer and labor representatives and legislative appointees; and

Whereas, The PHHPC should aim to be more transparent and accessible to consumers, and the consumer voice needs to be represented in the decision making process; and

Whereas, This goal would be more achievable if advocates have more seats at the table; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A4071/S870, relating to increasing membership on the public health and health planning council and directing the appointment of members representing particular areas of concern.

Whereas, According to DONA International, a doula is a trained professional who provides continuous physical, emotional, and informational support to a pregnant person and the family before, during, and shortly after childbirth; and

Whereas, Doulas have proven to be beneficial to pregnant people and their health; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene’s (DOHMH’s) report The State of Doula Care in NYC 2019 (“doula report”), doula care has been associated with lower rates of Cesarean birth, preterm birth, low birthweight, and postpartum depression, as well as with increased rates of breastfeeding, and greater patient satisfaction with maternity care; and

Whereas, A recent report published by Cochrane reveals that people who had doula support were 39 percent less likely to have a caesarean section and 15 percent more likely to give birth without needing drugs or labor-inducing techniques; and

Whereas, According to Choices in Childbirth, a survey regarding doula care in New York City reveals that 72 percent of people reported that their doula helped them communicate their preferences and needs, while 80 percent of those surveyed reported that their doula helped them feel more empowered; and

Whereas, 83 percent of survey respondents reported having a doula made their labor and birth experience “much better” than if they had not used a doula, and it made them more relaxed before, during, and after birth; and

Whereas, 88 percent of this cohort reported that cost was an issue when opting to work with a doula; and

Whereas, According to DOHMH’s doula report, the average cost of birth-doula services was $1,550 per client among doulas surveyed for the report, with a range of $225 to $5,000; and

Whereas, Doula services are generally not covered by Medicaid or private insurance; and

Whereas, Doula care should be more accessible, especially given the maternal mortality and morbidity rates in New York City as well as the inequitable health outcomes for women of color and infants of color, specifically those who are Black; and

Whereas, Of the 15 pregnancy-related deaths in New York City in 2016, six were of people who were Black and six were of people who were Latina, accounting for nearly every pregnancy-related death; and

Whereas, In New York City in 2016, the rate of severe maternal morbidity was highest among Black people (428.6 per 10,000 births), followed by people of other, multiple, or not reported races (354.5), people who are Latina (288.3), Asian/Pacific Islander (207.9), and, last, people who are White (160.8); and

Whereas, By expanding access to doulas, New York City could better tackle these insidious inequities; and

Whereas, Doulas face barriers providing care to all those who need it; and

Whereas, According to DOHMH's doula report, among doulas surveyed, 9 of every 10 have turned clients away, for reasons including clients' living outside their coverage area (47 percent), being already booked with other families (43 percent), and clients' being unable to afford their fee (37 percent); and

Whereas, Currently New York State is considering legislation to include doula services in Medicaid coverage, and, in April 2018, New York State announced the launch of a Medicaid pilot program to cover doula services; and

Whereas, This legislation and pilot are extremely controversial in the doula community for numerous reasons; and

Whereas, As of DOHMH's doula report, the Medicaid pilot program has yet to launch in Brooklyn because of lack of doula participation; and

Whereas, There are many flaws with the pilot program, including a reimbursement rate that would likely be lower than minimum wage; and

Whereas, DOHMH's doula report on doula care provides numerous recommendations for stakeholders to improve access to doulas; and

Whereas, Recommendations fall within four key components, including increasing access for underserved communities, making hospital environments more welcoming of doulas, amplifying community voices to help expand access to doula services, and improving data collection; and

Whereas, The New York State Legislature should consider these recommendations, and should develop legislation, in collaboration with doulas and people with lived experience, in order to best understand the most effective and significant ways to expand access to doula services; now, therefore, be it,

Resolved, The Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation making doulas more accessible to individuals with Medicaid and those without health insurance

By Council Member Rosenthal.

Whereas, Housing, without discrimination and including protection from eviction, is essential for a standard of living that includes shelter, security, health and well-being; and

Whereas, In 2018, a New York Times investigative report entitled “Unsheltered” described how New York City has been in varying levels of a housing crisis for a century; and

Whereas, In 2019, a report published by the Coalition for the Homeless entitled “The Tale of Two Housing Markets,” reported that the homelessness crisis in New York City remains unabated despite Mayor de Blasio’s efforts and assertions that housing would be a top priority for his administration; and

Whereas, According to the Department of Homeless Services, in 2019, nearly 60,000 individuals were using shelters daily as a means for housing in New York City; and

Whereas, Advocates from various public interest community and housing organizations, such as Habitat for Humanity, have called on New York City and State to support families, neighborhoods, and communities by increasing investments in affordable housing; and

Whereas, According to the International Justice Resource Center, individuals cannot claim the legal protections of the ICESCR unless the treaty has been ratified by their respective government; and

Whereas, According to the United Nations Treaty Collection, 170 countries across the world have ratified the ICESCR, with the United States being a notable hold out; and

Whereas, All human rights are universal and to ensure that housing rights are secured for individuals struggling with income inequality, housing discrimination, and lack of access to affordable housing, the United States should take steps to follow the actions of the international community by implementing the ICESCR; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon Congress to ratify the United Nations Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights, to ensure that housing is recognized as a human right.

Res. No. 1241

Resolution calling upon the Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA) to make subways and buses fare free year round.

By Council Member Treyger.

Whereas, Millions of people in the United States rely on public transportation everyday as their link to employment, education, child care and their communities; and improving access to transit can be a critical part of addressing urgencies such as climate change, rising income inequality and socioeconomic disparity; and

Whereas, According to TransitCenter, a foundation that works on the improvement of public transit, as of January 2019, there are 97 cities and towns across the world that provide fully fare free public transit and there is a growing movement both in the United States and abroad; and

Whereas, Cities such as Brussels, Seoul, Melbourne, Paris and Oslo, among others, have considered or experimented with offering temporarily free public transit programs as part of measures to address environmental concerns like air pollution and smog; and

Whereas, Cities in the United States offer portions of their transit systems for no cost, such as free airport transit on the Silver Line in Boston, Baltimore's bus system, the automated train Metromover in Miami; and

Whereas, Chapel Hill, North Carolina introduced free public transit since 2002 and has seen ridership dramatically increase; and

Whereas, Currently, the Department of Transportation (DOT) suspends alternate side parking on 36 legal and major holidays in New York City as of 2019, and DOT also suspends parking meter regulations on some major legal holidays including New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas; and

Whereas, Transit affordability remains an issue despite strides such as the Fair Fares program which has yet to be fully implemented and doesn't cover the full cost of the fare; and

Whereas, The MTA, in conjunction with enforcement from the New York City Police Department (NYPD), continue to penalize those who may be unable to afford the cost of riding, and according to the NYPD's 2018 data on fare evasion stops, 90% of arrestees and 65% of those receiving a summons were people of color; and

Whereas, Implementing a free public transit system in the City would help to bring equity to all riders; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA) to make subways and buses fare free year round.

Rev. 2-6-2020

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged the targeted shootings of NYPD Officer Paul Stroffalino and NYPD Lieutenant Jose Gautreaux that took place over the weekend of February 8th-9th, 2020. On behalf of the Council, he expressed thanks for their recovery and gratitude for their service. He reiterated that the work of each member of the NYPD could not be underestimated or overstated. The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) emphasized that any act that incites violence against our police officers needed to be condemned. He noted that one could be for further reform but also stand against irresponsible and dangerous rhetoric that divides New Yorkers. He asked everyone to stand in appreciation for Officer Stroffalino and Lieutenant Gautreaux and to wish them well in their recovery -- in response, those assembled in the Chambers stood and applauded.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged that February marks Black History Month when we honor and celebrate the achievements that black people have made to the country and to the city. He praised the Majority Leader (Council Member Cumbo) for her recent daily posts highlighting individuals who had not always received the recognition they had deserved. The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) noted that the Council would be committed to tackling the historic inequalities that still exist and helping New York become a national model for equity. He pledged that the Council would continue to engage in the fight for equality.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged that February is also American Health Month. He encouraged everyone to take as many preventative measures as possible to avoid contracting heart disease -- such measures would include checking one's blood pressure and cholesterol regularly.

Whereupon on motion of the Speaker (Council Member Johnson), the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) adjourned these proceedings to meet again for the Stated Meeting on Thursday, February 27, 2020.

MICHAEL M. McSWEENEY, City Clerk
Clerk of the Council
