INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by Ravi Vaidyanaat Śivāchāriar, spiritual leader at The Hindu Temple Society of North America 45-57, Bowne Street, Flushing, New York 11355.

Namaste and good afternoon to all.
It's my privilege and honor to lead today's Invocation.

Dear leaders and members of this Council,
I offer my sincere prayers to Lord Ganesh for the smooth function of the Council and for the benefit of the people.
I wish to chant a verse from the Holy Book [...]
It is in Sanskrit language.
I will also read the meaning in English for the benefit of all.
This month is dedicated to Lord Ganesh and we celebrate it in our temple for nine days.
Due to the present pandemic situation and the restriction in congregation and gatherings in the temple, we live-streamed all the rituals and the people prayed safety staying at home.

The prayer is from [the Holy Book].
[chanting in Sanskrit]
Oh, God, may we hear [an] auspicious voice in the ears.
While engaging in fire worship
may we see auspicious things in the eyes.
While praising the gods with strong limbs,
may we enjoy a life that is beautiful and beneficial?
Dear Lord of Gods of ancient fame be auspicious to us.
May the supremely all-knowing God of the earth be propitious to us.
May the destroyer of evil be well-disposed towards us.
May preceptor of the guard ensure our welfare.
May peace thrive everywhere, peace, peace, and peace.
I would instruct the leaders [...]
[chanting in Sanskrit]
Leaders who leads with qualities such as enthusiasm, adventure, courage, intelligence, strength, bravery, and aggression
will always have the support of the Lord and the people.
[speaking in Sanskrit]
the moral code of conduct.
[speaking in Sanskrit]
May all beings be happy.
God bless you, Namaste, and thank you.

Council Member Koo moved to spread the Invocation in full upon the record.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) spoke of how New Yorkers have been battling the devastating health and economic impacts of the coronavirus pandemic. He spoke of being inspired by the ingenuity shown by New Yorkers during these challenging times. One example of such ingenuity was the spread of creative outdoor dining bringing renewed energy and excitement to city streets.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) noted that the parents of the city's 1.1 million public school children were wondering how their children could safely return to school. In response, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) announced that he and Council Member and Education chair Treyger had called upon the Mayor to allow for classes to be conducted outdoors. Both the Mayor and Council Member Treyger had released their own respective plans on the possibility for some outdoor education. He noted that it was important to move forward on the academic year but in a way that provided safety for our children, safety for our educators, and safety for the people who work in our schools.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged that the number of coronavirus deaths and probable deaths in New York had reached 22,669. He noted that this number included many civil servants who had committed themselves to serving the people of New York. On behalf of the Council, he offered his thoughts and prayers to those who had lost loved ones to the virus and to those who were battling the disease.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged the death of several more first responders to 9/11-related illnesses: veteran NYPD Detective Edward Gorczynski who died on August 26, 2020 at the age of 49; retired NYPD Sergeant David Yoo and Officer Robert J. Maradian; and Officer Dennis J. Howard, 60, who passed away on August 5, 2020. The FDNY lost Firefighter John P. Fogarty who passed away on August 25, 2020.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged the death of former Queens Borough President Claire Schulman. Borough President Schulman passed away on August 16, 2019 at the age of 94. He noted that her invaluable leadership and her love for New York's largest borough were irreplaceable. On behalf of the Council, he offered his thoughts and prayers to Borough President Shulman's children and loved ones.

On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) wished to send his condolences to Council Member Cabrera on the loss of his mother Iris Kitana and to the Majority Leader (Council Member Cumbo) on the loss of her stepmother Fiskisha Ella-Lois Sampson Cumbo.

On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) wished to send his condolences to former Speaker of the New York City Council Christine Quinn on the recent loss of her father Lawrence Quinn.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) also acknowledged the death of former New York State Assembly Member Nettie Mayersohn. Assembly Member Mayersohn passed away on August 13, 2020 at the age of 96.

Int. No. 1851

By Council Members Constantinides, Lander, Levin, Reynoso, Ayala, Brannan, Kallos, Louis and Rosenthal
(by request of the Mayor).

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, the New York city plumbing code and the New York city building code in relation to city-wide stormwater management controls

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 24-540 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 97 for the year 2017, is amended to read as follows:

§ 24-540 Policy. Land development and associated increases in site impervious cover increase stormwater runoff causing flooding, soil erosion, and sediment transport and deposition in waterways. A high percentage of impervious area correlates with a higher rate of stormwater runoff, which generates greater pollutant loadings to the city's separate stormwater and combined sewer systems. Pollutants found in urban runoff include, but are not limited to, nitrogen, phosphorus, silt and sediment, pathogens, floatables, petroleum hydrocarbons, heavy metals, and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs).

Clearing and grading during construction may increase soil erosion and add to the loss of native vegetation necessary for terrestrial and aquatic habitats. Improperly designed and constructed stormwater management practices increase the velocity of stormwater runoff thereby increasing erosion and sedimentation. Impervious surfaces allow less water to percolate into the soil, thereby decreasing groundwater recharge and stream baseflow. Stormwater runoff, soil erosion and nonpoint source pollution can be controlled and minimized through the regulation of stormwater runoff from land development activities. Regulation of land development activities by means of performance standards governing long-term stormwater management and site design produces development compatible with the natural functions of a particular site and thereby mitigates the adverse effects of erosion and sedimentation from development.

Material handling and storage, equipment maintenance and cleaning, and other activities at industrial facilities are often exposed to stormwater, which can pick up pollutants and transport them to surface waters directly or via a storm sewer. Appropriate stormwater management at industrial facilities can reduce these impacts.

This chapter establishes stormwater management controls [meeting the requirements of state and federal law in areas of the city where stormwater] for construction projects to reduce the flow of stormwater runoff and water borne pollutants into sewers that empty directly into the waters of the state or that overflow into such waters because of rain or snowmelt events that exceed the design capacity of wastewater treatment plants. [In these areas water borne pollutants in stormwater runoff are more likely to enter and have an adverse impact on the waters of the state].

The purpose and intent of this chapter is to (i) reduce pollutants discharged in stormwater runoff from construction activities [in such areas] to the maximum extent practicable through appropriate erosion and sediment controls; (ii) minimize, to the maximum extent practicable, increases in stormwater runoff volume and velocity, and pollutant loading in stormwater runoff, from development sites [in such areas] ; (iii) ensure the proper maintenance of post-construction stormwater management practices; and (iv) ensure compliance by certain industrial facilities [in such areas] served by the city separate storm sewer system with applicable requirements to manage stormwater runoff in order to reduce pollutants in stormwater from industrial activities to the maximum extent practicable.

§2. The definitions of “covered development project”, “MS4 SWPPP acceptance form”, “MS4 area”, “notice of intent” or “NOI”, “notice of termination” or “NOT” and “separate stormwater outfall” in section 24-541 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 97 for the year 2017, are amended to read as follows:

Covered development project. The term “covered development project” means development activity that involves or results in an amount of soil disturbance [within the MS4 area] greater than or equal to one acre or as established pursuant to rules of the department in accordance with subdivision d of section 24-553. Such term includes development activity that is part of a larger common plan of development or sale involving or resulting in soil disturbance [within the MS4 area] greater than or equal to one acre or as established pursuant to rules of the department in accordance with subdivision d of section 24-553. [Such term shall include all development activity within the MS4 area that requires a stormwater pollution prevention plan pursuant to the NYSDEC construction general permit.]

[MS4 area. The term “MS4 area” means those portions of the city of New York served by separate storm sewers and separate stormwater outfalls owned or operated by the city of New York and areas in which municipal operations and facilities drain by overland flow to waters of the state, as determined by the department and described on maps of the MS4 area set forth in the rules of the department.]

Notice of intent or NOI. The term “notice of intent” or “NOI” means for MS 4 projects the document submitted to NYSDEC to obtain coverage under the NYSDEC construction general permit.

Notice of termination or NOT. The term “notice of termination” or “NOT” means for MS 4 projects the document submitted to NYSDEC to terminate coverage under the NYSDEC construction general permit.

MS4 SWPPP acceptance form. The term “MS4 SWPPP acceptance form” means for MS 4 projects the form developed by NYSDEC to be used to indicate acceptance of a SWPPP by a municipality.

[Separate stormwater outfall. The term “separate stormwater outfall” means a point where stormwater from a storm sewer or other source of concentrated stormwater flow, owned or operated by the city of New York, is discharged into a water of the state or to a separate storm sewer system that requires coverage under the NYSDEC MS4 general permit.]

§3. Section 24-521 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding new definitions of “MS4” and “MS4 covered development project” or “MS 4 project” in alphabetical order to read as follows:

MS4. The term “MS4” means the city municipal separate storm sewer system.

MS4 covered development project or MS 4 project. The term “MS4 covered development project” or “MS 4 project” means a covered development project that is subject to the NYSDEC construction general permit.

§4. Sections 24-550, 24-552, 24-553, 24-554, 24-557, 24-559, 24-560 and 24-570 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 97 for the year 2017, are amended to read as follows:

§24-550 General. This subchapter [governs certain] regulates land development activities [within the MS4 area] of covered development projects.

§24-552 Review of stormwater pollution prevention plan or SWPPP. Before the commencement of development activity on the site of a covered development project the developer must submit [a copy of the notice of intent and] a stormwater pollution prevention plan, certified by a qualified professional, to the department for review in accordance with the rules of the department and for MS 4 projects a copy of the notice of intent. The department or a qualified professional designated by the department shall review the SWPPP within time periods to be specified in the rules of the department. If the department accepts the SWPPP and all other requested documentation, the department shall issue a stormwater construction permit to the developer and, for MS 4 projects subject to the NYSDEC construction general permit, shall issue an MS4 SWPPP acceptance form for filing with NYSDEC. If the department rejects the SWPPP the department shall send notice of such rejection to the developer indicating the specific deficiencies that caused the department to reject the SWPPP. The department may require that the SWPPP [or] and other documents be submitted electronically.

§24-553 Rules. The department shall promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of this subchapter [in accordance with the NYC MS4 permit and the NYSDEC construction general permit], including but not limited to rules that:

a. Set forth the content of SWPPPs, [consistent with the NYSDEC construction general permit], including identifying those development projects requiring only erosion and sediment controls during construction and those development projects requiring erosion and sediment controls and post-construction stormwater management facilities.

b. Establish design standards for erosion and sediment controls and post-construction stormwater management facilities [, which shall not be less stringent than the standards set forth or incorporated by reference in the NYSDEC construction general permit].

c. Establish exemptions from permit requirements, [consistent with the NYC MS4 permit and the NYSDEC construction general permit].

d. [After completion of the lot size soil disturbance study required by the NYC MS4 permit, provide] Provide for the regulation of development activity of less than one acre, based either on total disturbance of soil or on amount of impervious surface created or replaced, where the department determines an appropriate reduction in the threshold is necessary [in accordance with the NYC MS4 permit] to carry out the purposes of this chapter. In making such determination, the department shall evaluate the potential costs and the anticipated water quality benefits of lowering the threshold.

e. Establish procedures and fees for the review of SWPPPs and the issuance and renewal of permits required by this subchapter.

f. Establish training, experience and/or education requirements for qualified professionals and qualified inspectors [, which shall not be less stringent than those required by the NYSDEC construction general permit].

g. Establish record keeping, inspection and reporting requirements for applicants and permittees to monitor compliance with this subchapter and approved SWPPPs.

h. Establish requirements for compliance certifications by contractors to be included with SWPPPs.

i. Establish standards for the maintenance, inspection, repair and replacement of required erosion and sediment controls and post-construction stormwater management facilities.

j. For MS 4 projects, ensure that such rules are not less stringent than the NYC MS4 permit and the NYSDEC construction general permit.

§24-554 SWPPP to be retained on site. A copy of the SWPPP shall be retained at the site of the project from the date of initiation of development activities to the date [notice] of termination [is submitted to NYSDEC] of the project as determined in accordance with the rules of the department and shall be made available to officers and employees of the department and/or qualified inspectors authorized by the department in accordance with the rules of the department.

§24-557 Suspension or revocation of permit. The department may suspend or revoke a stormwater construction permit, after notice and the opportunity for a hearing in accordance with the rules of the department, when the department or, in the case of an MS 4 project, NYSDEC finds that there is substantial non-compliance with this subchapter, the rules of the department, the NYSDEC construction general permit or the SWPPP, including any major change to erosion or sediment controls or any change in a post-construction stormwater management facility during construction that has or could have an effect on the discharge of pollutants, or when a permit was issued in error and conditions are such that a permit should not have been issued. When a permit is revoked or suspended all development activity at the project site shall cease and shall not be resumed until the issuance of a new permit or until such suspension is terminated except that the department may allow performance of work that is necessary to ensure public safety or to stabilize the construction site.

§24-559 Post-construction stormwater management facilities. Where post-construction stormwater management facilities are required by the department, the department shall not [accept the SWPPP or] issue a stormwater construction permit for the project until the execution and recording of a maintenance easement, which shall be binding on all subsequent owners of the real property served by such post-construction stormwater management facility, except where the corporation counsel has determined that such a maintenance easement is not necessary due to the property's ownership or use by a public agency or instrumentality. For post-construction stormwater management facilities subject to such an exception, when there is a subsequent conveyance or cessation of public use, the corporation counsel may require the execution and recording of a maintenance easement at that time. The easement shall provide for access to post-construction stormwater management facilities at reasonable times in accordance with law for periodic inspection by the department or qualified professionals authorized by the department to ensure that such facilities are maintained in good working condition to meet the applicable design standards. The easement shall be recorded by the grantor in the office of the city register or, if applicable, the county clerk after approval by the corporation counsel.

§ 24-560 Stormwater maintenance permit. It is the duty of all owners of real property, jointly and severally, served by a post-construction stormwater management facility required by a SWPPP accepted by the department pursuant to this subchapter to provide for the inspection and maintenance of such facility in accordance with this section and the rules of the department. The department shall maintain a record of all such post-construction stormwater management facilities and the property served by each such facility. As soon as practicable after final stabilization of a site, the owner of property served by a post-construction stormwater management facility shall submit to the department [a copy of the notice of termination and] an application for a stormwater maintenance permit for such facility. Such owner shall provide for the renewal of such permit every 5 years in accordance with the rules of the department. The department shall issue or renew such permit upon receipt of a satisfactory inspection report certified by a qualified professional retained by the owner indicating that the facility has been installed and/or is operated and maintained in good working condition to meet applicable design standards and the rules of the department. A facility shall be maintained in good working condition throughout its useful life and replaced in accordance with the rules of the department.

§ 24-570 Applicability. This subchapter applies [only to portions of the city within the MS4 area] to sites served by the city municipal separate storm sewer system.

§ 5. Section 28-104.11 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 97 for the year 2017, is amended to read as follows:

§28-104.11.2 Disclosure required. It shall be the duty of an applicant for construction document approval to determine whether the site of the proposed work is part of a covered development project [located within the MS4 area] and to disclose such information on construction documents. Failure to disclose such information on construction documents shall be a violation of this code.

§28-104.11.3 Required documentation. Applications for construction document approval shall include copies of any required stormwater construction permit issued by the department of environmental protection and the stormwater pollution prevention plan for the covered development project.

§28-104.11.4 Revocation of approval of construction documents. Where the department finds after the approval of construction documents that the applicant failed to disclose the information required by this section, the department may revoke such approval and any associated work permits in accordance with the provisions of sections 28-104.2.10 and 28-104.2.10.1.

§ 6. Section 101.6.3 of the New York city plumbing code, as added by local law number 97 for the year 2017, is amended to read as follows:

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INT. NO. 1470-B
COMMITTEE: Small Business

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to legal services for small business tenants. Sponsors: By Council Members Levine, Rivera, Powers, Rosenthal, Ayala, Kallos and Vallone.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Int. No. 1470-B would require the Department of Small Business Services (“SBS”) to provide individualized legal assistance to small business tenants on commercial lease-related issues free of charge, through a designated organization. It would also empower SBS to provide legal representation in court for small business tenants facing eviction, lease termination or allegations that the businesses had breached their lease terms, at no cost to the small business tenant, through a designated organization. SBS would also be required to provide assistance to small businesses with regards to funding programs related to COVID-19, such as loans and grants, until 180 days after the Mayor’s declaration of a state of emergency expires. All these programs would be subject to appropriation.

Additionally, SBS would have to report on the outcomes of the programs established by the bill, including certain characteristics of the businesses served and the designated organizations who provided the programs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, provided that the section of this local law that would require SBS to provide services to small businesses impacted by COVID-19 would expire 180 days following the expiration of the local state of emergency declared by the mayor in emergency executive order number 98, issued on March 12, 2020, as extended.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2022

Expenditures (-)	$0	$0	$0
Net	$0	$0	$0

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of Proposed Int. No. 1470-B because the agency could utilize existing funds from its Commercial Lease Assistance program and other agency resources already allocated in the City’s Financial Plan to comply with the requirements of this legislation. While the legislation additionally empowers SBS to provide additional services subject to appropriation, it is premature to speculate on the magnitude of such authorized, contingent, expenditures.

II. BACKGROUND

In late December 2019, a new virus, SARS-CoV-2, was detected in Wuhan, China and by January 30, 2020, the World Health Organization (WHO) declared that COVID-19, the disease caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus, was now a Public Health Emergency of International Concern (PHEIC).¹ As of August 21, 2020, COVID-19

has infected over 23 million people across 213 countries and territories, and has killed over 799,000 people.² In the United States alone, there have been over 5.5 million infections and over 174,000 deaths.³ To date, New York has had over 427,000 infections and over 32,000 deaths, many of which took place in our City.⁴

The progressive nature by which the virus spreads has caused governments across the globe to shutdown businesses, schools, religious and cultural institutions, and mandate various levels of social isolation. While this has seemingly helped to limit the spread of the virus, stay-at-home orders have had a catastrophic impact on economic markets, in particular small businesses that thrive from regular contact with their community and neighbors.

1. The Impact on Restaurants Amid the COVID-19 Crisis

In New York, Governor Andrew Cuomo issued an executive order – New York State on PAUSE (PAUSE) – that closed all on-site, non-essential businesses, effective March 22, 2020, to help stop the spread of SARS-CoV-2.⁵ Restaurants and bars were permitted to operate statewide; however, they were only allowed to make sales through take-out and delivery.⁶

As New Yorkers stayed home to stop the spread of the virus, consumer spending declined in the City. In late March 2020, consumer spending dropped 44 percent year-over-year, according to Mastercard.⁷ While restaurants were open for take-out and delivery, they experienced drastic revenue declines. According to an April 2020 report from the New York State Restaurant Association, sales declined 79 percent in the first ten days of April compared to the same time period in 2019, and New York State restaurants were expected to lose $3.6 billion in sales revenue in April alone.⁸ Just over half (51 percent) of all restaurants had been able to move their operations online, and unemployment rates in this sector skyrocketed, as 80 percent of restaurant workers lost their jobs.⁹

The experiences of individual restaurant owners highlight the challenges the industry faces to remain stable throughout the pandemic. Business for all of June at the Nugget Spot, a restaurant on East 14th Street in Manhattan, equaled “one good Thursday” before the pandemic.¹⁰ Havana Central’s takeout and delivery business in Times Square equaled about three percent of its former revenue.¹¹ Outdoor dining provided a small boost to the restaurant, as revenue is up to 10 percent of its pre-COVID total.¹² According to Mark Fox, owner of The Ragrader, a restaurant on 36th Street in the Garment District, 70 percent of his customer base were commuters on their way home from their jobs, 20 percent were tourists, and 10 percent those shopping at retail stores in the area.¹³ The timeline of when the City will be able to fully reopen and therefore prompt restaurants to profit from their traditional business models remains uncertain. According to Eater NY writer Tanay Warekar, “This is definitely a life-altering situation for the restaurant industry in New York and I don’t think things will probably ever go back to the way they were, even though things may normalize to some extent.”¹⁴

Even as New York City advanced through Governor Cuomo’s phased re-openings, restaurants continued to struggle. As restaurants experienced drastic revenue declines, a majority of restaurant owners have been unable to pay their commercial rents. The Hospitality Alliance surveyed over 500 restaurants, bars, nightclubs, and event venues in NYC about their rent obligations in June. The resulting report found that approximately 80 percent of respondents did not pay their full rent in June, while over 70 percent of landlords did not waive rent payments for restaurants, bars and clubs.¹⁵ The Hospitality Alliance produced another nearly identical survey in July. It found that 83 percent of respondents did not pay their full July rent, up from 80 percent in June, and around 71 percent of landlords did not waive rent payments.¹⁶

As restaurants continue to face challenges paying their fixed monthly expenses without their pre-COVID revenues, many across the City have closed down. According to an August 2020 report by the City Comptroller, 187,000 of the 758,000 private sector jobs that have been lost in the City through June came from the food services industry.¹⁷ At least 2,800 small businesses closed permanently from March 1st through July 10th, including over 1,280 restaurants.¹⁸ These closures have affected restaurants of all sizes across the City, including Lucky Strike, a Soho “neighborhood institution” and the four-story McDonald’s flagship store in Times Square.¹⁹ Iconic City restaurants that have been in business in their respective neighborhoods for many years have closed permanently: Sarabeth’s on the Upper East Side (20 years), the Copacabana (80 years), kosher deli Jay and Lloyd’s (28 years), La Caridad 78 (52 years) and the Irish Cottage (60 years) are some examples.²⁰ The outlook is similarly dire if mandatory social distancing measures on restaurants continue. One model suggests that, if the City’s accommodation and food services industry experiences “frequent, blunt lockdowns” in 2021, revenue would be 53 percent lower than the same time period in 2019. Even less severe restrictions would result in a 43% reduction in revenue for the industry as compared with 2019.²¹

As restaurants have shut their doors, the livelihoods they generate for both the restaurant workers and business owners have disappeared. Partnership for New York City predicts that as many as a third of the 230,000 small businesses in NYC may never reopen.²² The unemployment rate in the City, at 20.4% as of June 2020,²³ was over 16 percentage points higher than the previous June,²⁴ and may continue to be high even after the pandemic subsides as thousands of restaurants might permanently close. A May 2020 report from the New York City Independent Budget Office projected that a total of 115,000 leisure and hospitality jobs would be lost by October 2020,²⁵ and that even if distancing restrictions are relaxed, industries with “strong ties to tourism,” such as hospitality, would continue to lose jobs due to a decline in foreign tourists.²⁶ The Partnership for New York City report classifies an estimated 679,000 accommodation and food service jobs as vulnerable to loss – the most of any sector in the city – 58% coming from small businesses that employ fewer than 100 employees.²⁷ The closure of City businesses will leave households “struggling to feed their families and pay rent,”²⁸ and the impact of job loss in the City may disproportionately fall on Black, Hispanic and Asian residents; one report estimates that they hold 40-50% of the total jobs at risk of loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic.²⁹ The survival of the restaurant industry is essential to ensure the City can have a strong, equitable economic recovery from the financial collapse caused by the pandemic.

In addition to providing employment opportunities to New Yorkers, the restaurant industry generates tens of millions of dollars for the City through tax collection. In Fiscal Year 2019, the City gained over $21.9 million from general sales taxes at restaurants and other eating establishments.³⁰ Twenty percent of the City’s revenue came from personal income tax, which may be significantly lower in future years than it was in FY19 due to the job losses caused by the closure of many City restaurants.³¹

Restaurants also contribute immensely to the culture of the City. According to Hannah Goldfield, a food critic for The New Yorker, “Restaurants, and the people who work in and around them, are essential to the fabric and the functioning of New York, and of society.”³² NYC’s 27,000 restaurants span across the City’s boroughs and neighborhoods, delivering a variety of global cuisines that match the City’s diversity.

Until restaurants can reopen to full-capacity indoor seating, they are unlikely to generate the revenue they produced pre-COVID, and therefore government involvement is necessary to help save the restaurant industry. The Partnership for New York City report identifies the accommodation and food services industries as “sectors that will require drastic intervention to survive.”³³ The City’s Open Restaurants program provided a major boost to the restaurant industry. While around 9,700 restaurants are participating in the program, that represents well under half of total restaurants in the city.³⁴ Many restaurants are unable to participate in the program, either due to the price of constructing outside seating areas, or because they are located in areas that prohibit adding outdoor tables, such as being near crosswalks or bus stops.³⁵ Even with the city’s expansion of outdoor dining options, however, the number of seated diners at restaurants is down 88% compared to before the pandemic hit New York.³⁶ During the week of August 14, restaurants were doing about 23 percent of last year’s volume in terms of people seated, according to data from a reservation company Resy, which many restaurants use for outdoor dining.³⁷ As restaurants have been unable to drive revenue through traditional on-premise dining, many have and continue to rely upon delivery for income, therefore engaging in the ever-popular third party delivery platforms. Even for the minority of restaurants maintaining revenue through current outdoor dining programs, this income generation will likely cease once the weather becomes cooler, and if predictions of COVID worsening in the winter come true.³⁸ Consumer spending and restaurant revenue may continue to plummet in the very near future.

The Council took action to try and save the restaurant industry by passing Local Laws 51 and 52 on May 13, 2020. During the Council’s hearing on August 13, 2020, restaurant owners offered testimony highlighting how these local laws have helped their businesses. Evan Franca, the owner of a Brooklyn juice shop testified he was able to save $7,000 since the enactment of the bills. Another restaurant owner, George Constantinou, testified at the hearing that before the passage of the bills he was sending around $6,000 in fees to one of the third-party platforms, while that number had since reduced to $1,500 after the bills' passage.

2. Third-Party Delivery Platforms

In contrast to restaurants, third-party platforms have experienced a surge in sales during the pandemic. Uber Technologies Inc.'s second-quarter earnings reflected a 103% jump in delivery revenue over the previous year, more than its revenue from ride-hailing for the first time ever.³⁹ For the same quarter, Grubhub Inc.'s revenue rose 41% and its number of active diners were up 35%.⁴⁰ The company's daily average orders increased by 32% over last year and its gross sales (2.3 billion) rose by 59%.⁴¹ This growth is sustained after promising first quarter 2020 results, about which Grubhub's CFO Adam Dewitt acknowledged, "COVID-19 has driven a significant uptick in new diners and orders from existing users as most restaurant dining rooms have been temporarily closed nationwide."⁴² In a letter to shareholders in July 2020, Grubhub executives wrote that they believed the growth would be long-term: "Given the strength we continue to see in the third quarter, we now believe the pandemic has been less of a temporary demand spike and more of a permanent catalyst putting our business on a higher, sustained trajectory."⁴³ One report asserts that, collectively, food delivery sales have doubled through the end of June 2020, as opposed to June of the previous year.⁴⁴ A report by the Rewards Network found that 42% of restaurants had added delivery services since March, and 31% planned to continue them.⁴⁵ Grubhub has added about 25,000 restaurant partners since May,⁴⁶ and its average order size during the second quarter of 2020 increased by 20% versus last year.⁴⁷ Similar to Grubhub's figures, DoorDash's average order grew to $36 in June, with gains experienced by the other food delivery platforms in May.⁴⁸

For many food delivery platforms, the COVID-19 outbreak has coincided with increased opportunities for growth and diversification. In June, Grubhub was acquired by Just Eat Takeaway in a $7.3 billion deal,⁴⁹ and Uber recently bought Postmates for $2.65 billion, which the company claims will make it profitable in 2021.⁵⁰ The companies have branched out with new services and high-profile restaurant partners. Uber began offering grocery delivery services this past July,⁵¹ and DoorDash has partnered with CVS to provide delivery of food, groceries and other products, including to the Bronx and Brooklyn.⁵² The platforms also gained access to large customer pools and wide advertising reach by partnering with restaurant chains such as Little Caesars Pizza,⁵³ Buffalo Wild Wings, The Cheesecake Factory and Chipotle, many of which reported a substantial portion of their June sales coming from delivery platforms.⁵⁵

Local Laws 51 and 52, which went into effect in June 2020, prohibited telephone orders that did not result in an actual transaction during the call and limited the amount of fees per order that may be charged by the platforms, respectively. Other jurisdictions have taken similar measures to limit third-party platform fees. The State of New Jersey has limited commission fees to 10 or 20 percent depending on whether the order is delivered by a restaurant worker or a restaurant's contractor;⁵⁶ Philadelphia,⁵⁷ Washington D.C.⁵⁸ and Portland⁵⁹ enacted laws limiting commission fees; and the mayors of Seattle⁶⁰ and San Francisco⁶¹ issued emergency orders temporarily capping commission fees at 15 percent (Jersey City at 10 percent)⁶². Despite a limit of 10 percent for delivery in Portland, Postmates and Grubhub are reportedly not complying, charging restaurants as high as 30 percent per order.⁶³ In response to Jersey City's executive order, Uber Eats reportedly charged customers an additional three dollar fee,⁶⁴ and in San Francisco, the company ceased delivery to one lower-income neighborhood.⁶⁵

3. SBS Loan and Grant Programs

On March 8, 2020, Mayor de Blasio announced that SBS would create two financial relief programs, the Employee Retention Grant Program and Small Business Continuity Loan Fund, to provide immediate financial relief to small businesses during the COVID-19 crisis.⁶⁶ The programs were intended to serve as a stop-gap for businesses before the Federal Small Business Association released a broader federal relief program.⁶⁷ To qualify for either the grant or loan program, businesses were required to provide documentation proving that over a two-month period in 2020 their revenues decreased by 25% due to COVID-19.⁶⁸ Businesses with fewer than five employees were eligible for the Employee Retention Grant Program, which provided a grant covering up to 40% of a business's payroll for two months, with a maximum amount of $27,000.⁶⁹ The Small Business Continuity Loan Fund provided a zero-interest loan to businesses with fewer than 100 employees for up to $75,000.⁷⁰

In total, SBS allocated $60 million for both programs.⁷¹ As of May, SBS had distributed $16.7 million to 293 businesses through the Small Business Continuity Loan Fund of the $20 million allocated to the program.⁷² SBS had distributed $23.4 million to 3,200 businesses through the Employee Retention Grant Program of the $40 million allocated to the program.⁷³

During the joint Committees on Small Business, and Consumer Affairs and Business Licensing hearing on April 29, 2020, then-SBS Commissioner Gregg Bishop broke down the amount of loans and grants the Administration distributed through the two relief programs. The Commissioner revealed that both programs disproportionately benefitted businesses in Manhattan.⁷⁴ According to a July 2020 report from the City Comptroller, only 40 minority or women owned businesses (M/WBEs) applied for the Continuity Loan. Of the 40, only six were approved.⁷⁵ Only 48 M/WBEs applied for the Employee Retention Grant Program. Of the 48, only 15 were approved.⁷⁶ The Committee would like a further breakdown of the loan and grant programs to investigate what demographics benefitted most from the City's relief efforts. The Committee is also interested in understanding why the Administration failed to distribute funds equitably.

4. Commercial Lease Assistance Program

In February of 2018, SBS created the Commercial Lease Assistance Program (CLA) to match small businesses with legal service providers that offer free pre-litigation services to small businesses experiencing lease-related issues.⁷⁷ The program was created to specifically assist small business owners who would otherwise be unable to afford an attorney, as the program focused on providing legal resources to immigrant, minority, women or veteran owned businesses, businesses that are located in rezoned or high-poverty areas, and businesses that employ local low-income City residents.⁷⁸ According to SBS's testimony at the Committee on Small Business' August 13th hearing, the Commercial Lease Assistance Program has helped over 800 businesses with lease-related issues since the program began, including over 200 businesses since the on-set of COVID-19.⁷⁹

To compensate for the multi-billion dollar deficit the City faced, however, the Administration cut the CLA from the City's Fiscal Year 2021 budget.⁸⁰ The CLA was cut when the need was highest for small businesses to Demand for the program’s services increased tenfold during the pandemic, according to participating legal service providers.⁸¹ During the Mayor’s press conference on August 11, 2020, he acknowledged the need for the program and announced that the Administration would renew it for $1.5 million. IV. LEGISLATIVE ANALYSIS

Preconsidered Int. No. 2043-A, A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to telephone order charges by third-party food delivery services while a state of emergency has been declared and food service establishments are prohibited from operating at maximum indoor occupancy and for 90 days thereafter

This bill would amend the conditions in existing law under which third-party food delivery services are prohibited from charging restaurants for telephone orders that did not result in a transaction during the call. Under the existing law, Local Law 51 of 2020, such charges are prohibited only during states of emergency when on-premises dining is prohibited entirely, plus an additional 90 days thereafter. This bill would instead prohibit such charges during states of emergency when restaurants are restricted from operating at maximum indoor occupancy, plus an additional 90 days thereafter.

The bill would take effect immediately after becoming law.

Preconsidered Int. No 2054-A, A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to fees charged by third-party food delivery services while an emergency has been declared and food service establishments are prohibited from operating at the maximum indoor occupancy, and for 90 days thereafter

This bill would amend an existing law limiting third-party food delivery service fees under certain circumstances. Under the existing law, Local Law 52 of 2020, third-party food delivery services are prohibited from charging restaurants more than 15 percent per order for delivery and more than five percent per order for all other fees during states of emergency when on-premises dining is prohibited entirely, plus an additional 90 days thereafter. This bill would instead limit such fees during states of emergency when restaurants are restricted from operating at maximum indoor occupancy, plus an additional 90 days thereafter. In addition, this bill would exempt from the five percent limit on non-delivery fees, any fees incurred by the third-party service for processing the customer transaction, for which the third-party service acts as a “pass-through” by charging such fees to the restaurant. Therefore, a third-party food delivery service would be required under the bill to limit their fees as follows: if providing a restaurant with a delivery service, the third-party service could charge the restaurant up to 15 percent for the provision of delivery services, five percent for any other fees (for example marketing or listing fees), and an additional percentage equal to processing fees incurred and passed on to the restaurant, as described above (for example, credit or debit card fees or other methods of payment customers use to place an order that involves a fee charged to a third-party delivery service). If a platform is not providing delivery services (for example the order is picked up by the customer or the restaurant uses its own delivery workers) the platform may only charge up to five percent for marketing or other fees, plus any such processing fees incurred, as described above.

As with the existing law, this bill would continue to apply to orders placed through a third-party delivery app, utilizing a third-party delivery service forwarding phone number, or any other order placed through or with the assistance of a third-party delivery service.

This bill would take effect immediately after becoming law.

Int. No. 1470, A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to legal services for small business tenants

Subject to appropriation, this bill would require SBS to provide individualized legal assistance to small business tenants on commercial lease-related issues free of charge, through a designated organization. Small business tenants would be defined as those with incomes no higher than 500% of federal poverty guidelines, who meet size requirements established by the Small Business Administration and are not chain businesses. It would also empower SBS to provide legal representation in court for small business tenants facing eviction, lease termination or allegations that the businesses had breached their lease terms, at no cost to the small business tenant, through a designated organization. SBS would also be required to provide assistance to small businesses with regards to funding programs related to COVID-19, such as loans and grants, until 180 days after the Mayor's declaration of a state of emergency expires.

Additionally, SBS would be required to report every two years on the outcomes of the programs established by the bill, including certain characteristics of the businesses served and a description of the types of legal matters addressed by the designated organizations who provided the programs.

This bill would take effect in 120 days, except that the requirement to provide assistance with COVID-19 funding programs would expire 180 days after the Mayor's declaration of a state of emergency in Executive Order 98, issued on March 12, 2020, as extended, expires.

Int. No. 1958, A Local Law in relation to reporting on financial assistance received by small businesses impacted by COVID-19

This bill would require SBS to prepare a report detailing which businesses received a grant or loan from the New York City Employee Retention Program or New York City Small Business Continuity Loan Fund. For each business that received a grant or loan, the report would include the Council District, zip code, industry type including whether the recipient is a mobile business, and the amount of grant or loan received by the business. SBS would submit the report to the Mayor and Speaker of the City Council and make the information publicly available by posting the report on its website. This bill would take effect immediately, but would expire and be repealed once the required report is submitted.

Report for Int. No. 1297-A

Report of the Committee on Technology in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the creation of an office of cyber command.

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On Thursday, August 27, 2020, the Committee on Technology, chaired by Council Member Robert Holden, held a hearing to consider Int. No. 1297-A. The committee previously heard the original version of the bill, Int. No. 1297, on December 13, 2018. More information on Int. No. 1297-A and materials from the previous hearing can be accessed online at <https://go.usa.gov/xGcKh>.

I. BACKGROUND

As cybersecurity becomes the new arms race between hacker and system, or illegitimate versus legitimate user, governments and private entities alike must develop resilient policies to address an insufficiency of laws and regulations.¹ Cyber threats can result in data breaches and can significantly affect critical infrastructure.

The centrality of digital technology in all facets of modern life coupled with the vulnerability of the technologies and infrastructures to threats and damage necessitates close attention to cybersecurity. Cyber attacks² are increasing at an alarming pace and could disrupt the supply of essential services people take for granted, including water, healthcare, electricity or mobile services.³ Threats are diverse and can have different origins including criminal, politically motivated, terrorist or state-sponsored attacks, as well as unintentional mistakes.

Cyber threats can result in data breaches or significantly affect critical infrastructure. In a recent hacking event, hackers compromised the confidential information of 145 million Equifax records in the United States, including 8,447,840⁴ in New York⁵, 500 million Marriott records,⁶ 145 million eBay records; 130 million

² Cyber attacks come in many forms: denials of service, malware, phishing, infected thumb drives, and unauthorized access to computer systems by third parties. The means of attack are only limited by the imaginations of the attackers. The consequences of cyber attacks are also myriad: stolen intellectual property, stolen credit card information, stolen social security numbers, paralyzed computer systems, and tarnished brands due to the ensuing lack of public trust in the hacked entity. ⁵ In 2017, companies and other entities reported a record-breaking 1,583 breaches to the New York State Office of the Attorney General.⁵ The breaches exposed the personal records of 9.2 million New Yorkers; see 2017 Data Breaches Reported to the New York Attorney General's Office, p.1, https://ag.ny.gov/sites/default/files/data_breach_report_2017.pdf.

Heartland records; 76 million JPMorgan Chase client records; 80 million Anthem records; 77 million Sony records; 70 million Target records; and 56 million Home Depot records.⁷

As our physical infrastructure becomes increasingly digitalized, it also becomes increasingly vulnerable to potential cyber attacks.⁸ Hackers, for example, have been trying to compromise the electrical infrastructure of the United States (U.S.). Other hackers successfully cut off power to hundreds of thousands of people throughout the Ukraine in 2015, and again in 2016.⁹ In the Ukraine, a power distribution station near Kiev unexpectedly switched off, leaving the northern part of the capital without electricity.¹⁰

Beyond our energy infrastructure, traffic signals are generally susceptible to being hijacked, as numerous demonstrations have proven.¹¹ Therefore, the City needs to ensure its systems continue to operate as intended and to meet the standards and best practices of cybersecurity.

a. The Office of New York City Cyber Command

The Office of New York Cyber Command (“NYC Cyber Command”) was established in 2017 pursuant to Executive Order 28 by Mayor Bill de Blasio. NYC Cyber Command is considered a center for cyber defense strategies in New York City. NYC Cyber Command works across more than 100 agencies and offices to prevent, detect, respond, and recover from cyber threats. NYC Cyber Command is committed to protecting NYC infrastructure and critical systems from malicious attacks through the use of the latest technologies, public-private partnerships, and regular training and exercises for City employees. In signing the executive order, Mayor de Blasio highlighted the need for the city to have centralized cyber defense and accountability to protect the City information infrastructure and City residents from cyber attacks.

The legislation before the Committee would codify New York Cyber Command to ensure that this centralized cyber defense center survives successive mayoralities and continues to protect the critical infrastructure of the City, defend from cyber-attacks and promote prosperity by nurturing a secure, thriving digital economy.

II. ANALYSIS OF INT. NO. 1297-A

Int. No. 1297-A would codify NYC Cyber Command into the Charter. This bill would provide NYC Cyber Command with the power and duty to establish cyber-security policies and standards for the city agencies, train appropriate city officers and employees on cybersecurity policies and standards, and direct cybersecurity defense and responses to cyber-attacks.

The bill would take effect immediately.

Update

On Thursday, August 27, 2020, the Committee adopted Int. No. 1297-A by a vote of six in the affirmative, zero in the negative, and zero abstentions.

Report of the Committee on Transportation

Report for Int. No. 1865-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law in relation to the creation of a black car and livery task force.

The Committee on Transportation, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on January 22, 2020 (Minutes, page 142), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On August 27, 2020, the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member Ydanis Rodriguez, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 1865-A, a Local Law in relation to the creation of a black car and livery task force. This is the second hearing that the Committee has held on this legislation. The first hearing on Int. No. 1865 was held on January 22, 2020. At that hearing, the Committee heard testimony from the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC), operators of app-based for-hire vehicles, liveries and black cars, industry advocates and other interested stakeholders.

BACKGROUND

The TLC is charged with the regulation and oversight of taxicabs, including yellow taxicabs and street hail liveries (also known as green or boro taxis), for-hire vehicles (FHVs), commuter vans and paratransit vehicles.¹ The category of FHVs includes black cars, liveries, and luxury limousines.² Liveries, also known as community cars, accept passengers by prearrangement.³ Similarly, black cars and luxury limousines are also limited to accepting rides through prearrangement, but must also receive more than 90 percent of payments in a non-cash method.⁴ Luxury limousines differ from black cars in that they may carry up to 20 passengers and have additional insurance requirements.⁵

Each FHV⁶ must be affiliated with a base that is authorized to dispatch vehicles.⁷ As such, when a vehicle owner applies for an FHV license, they must list the name of the base that the vehicle will affiliate with. A driver may accept dispatches from other bases, and may also change their base affiliation.⁸ For each trip, the dispatching base must provide the customer with the name and license number of both the affiliated base and the dispatching base.⁹

Base owners in the FHV sector can set their own fares, subject to the requirement that the base submit its rate schedules annually to the TLC,¹⁰ which must include surge or variable pricing policies, and any and all additional fees charged to the customer.¹¹ Owners must also submit rates to the TLC whenever rates are changed, with every renewal application, and with any application to change the ownership or location of the base.¹² In

2016, the City Council passed legislation that required black car bases to provide the passenger with an upfront binding fare quote.¹³ Additionally, black car bases must display an option that allows customers to acknowledge and accept that surge pricing is in effect prior to dispatching a vehicle to a customer.¹⁴

Livery bases are also required to have off-street parking and submit an application for service to the community board and Council Member in the impacted area.¹⁵ The application requires livery base owners to submit a business plan, indicate how many vehicles will affiliate with the base and how many trips they anticipate each vehicle will conduct per day.¹⁶ Black car bases are exempt from these requirements.¹⁷

GROWTH IN THE FOR-HIRE VEHICLE INDUSTRY

Smartphone technology has led to the development of the so-called “sharing economy,” which links consumers to peers providing a service, such as transportation or lodging, resulting in a new model of non-professional drivers offering passengers transportation in their own vehicle, often known as ridesharing. It was in this context that Uber, Lyft and other app-based companies first entered the New York City market between 2011 and 2014. These companies operate as FHV’s and must follow the same requirements.

App-based companies operate most of their bases under the black car designation due to the fact that more than 90 percent of their transactions are non-cash.¹⁸ Traditionally, black car companies served business clients; however, as many new providers elected to operate as black car services, this sector has exploded in growth and now caters to a much larger number and variety of customers.¹⁹

Number of Licensed For-Hire Vehicles²⁰

In response to the rapid growth of the FHV sector, the City Council and TLC have made several regulatory changes in recent years. On August 8, 2018, the Council passed legislation that became Local Law 149 of 2018, which created a new licensing category of High-Volume FHVs²¹ that dispatch 10,000 or more trips per day. The Council also passed legislation that became Local Law 147 of 2018 (Local Law 147), in relation to conducting a study of the impact vehicles for hire have on the City of New York, and authorizing the commission to establish and revise vehicle utilization standards for high-volume for-hire services and to regulate the issuance of new licenses to for-hire vehicles. The law also implemented a moratorium on the issuance of all new for-hire vehicle licenses (including those of traditional black car and livery services) while TLC studied and decided whether to adopt vehicle utilization standards and decided whether new for-hire vehicle licenses should be issued.²²

Pursuant to Local Law 147, TLC—in coordination with DOT—issued a report, in June 2019, recommending an extension of the vehicle license pause and the adoption of vehicle utilization or “cruising” standards in Manhattan below 96th Street (the Congestion Zone).²³ In August of 2019, TLC adopted rules extending the vehicle license moratorium and instituting, beginning in February of 2020, a 36 percent cap on high-volume for-hire services (HVs) cruising, which will be lowered to 31 percent beginning in August of 2020.²⁴ The current cruising rates across all HVs is 41 percent.²⁵ In this rule package, TLC also permitted cross-class dispatching meaning that a vehicle affiliated with a black car base can now be dispatched by a livery base and vice versa.²⁶

IMPACTS ON LIVERIES AND CORPORATE BLACK CARS

Some have argued that the less stringent rules and operating requirements given to app-based FHV's before the moratorium was in place, gave the high-volume FHV's an unfair advantage and led to their tremendous growth. As a result, liveries and traditional black car operators and drivers have been negatively impacted. While the city has seen an increase in the number of vehicles in the app-based black car sector due to the proliferation of app-based dispatches such as Uber and Lyft, it has also seen a decline in the number of cars affiliated with community car services (liveries), corporate black cars and luxury limousines. As of December 31, 2018, there were approximately 10,500 liveries, 103,000 black cars, and 4,100 luxury limousines operating in the City.²⁷ This is in contrast to the number of vehicles that were operating in each sector in beginning of 2014, when there were approximately 50,000 liveries, 10,000 black cars, and 7,000 luxury limousines operating in the City.²⁸ One particular community car service in East Harlem went from dispatching 325 vehicles before Uber was operating in the city to about 106 in September 2019.²⁹

Additionally, liveries and traditional black car operators contend that the moratorium recently imposed by Local Law 147 to ease congestion and stem the proliferation of High Volume FHV's on our city's streets has hurt them as well since they cannot replace the drivers they lose to the app-based companies or those who fail to renew their licenses.³⁰ TLC, however, indicates that liveries have been losing drivers to Uber and Lyft for years and that the cap has not made things significantly worse for them.³¹

Others have also called for the TLC to restructure their licensing requirements and create four different categories for the sectors in order to help liveries and corporate black bases survive. Currently, the TLC has three classes of FHV service which includes under that umbrella liveries, black cars, and luxury limousines.³² Under one of the proposed restructurings TLC would create a separate licensing scheme for yellow taxi medallion drivers, livery taxi drivers, corporate account black cars and app-based black cars.³³ Some have called for the new licenses to be restricted. For example, the drivers licensed and affiliated with a livery or traditional black car base could not transfer their vehicles to high volume FHV's like Uber and Lyft.³⁴

DRIVER INCOME

The TLC released a report in July 2018 on app-driver earnings titled “An Earnings Standard for New York City’s App-based Drivers: Economic Analysis and Policy Assessment” (the Earnings Standard Report). The report was prompted by concerns with how app companies compensate drivers. The Earnings Standard Report was based on the research of economists James Parrot and Michael Reich, who studied TLC trip data and driver pay data supplied by Uber, Lyft, Juno, and Via.³⁵

The report found that the majority of app-based drivers in New York City were immigrants.³⁶ Two-thirds of drivers list driving as their only occupation, which they rely on because they provide the bulk of their family’s income.³⁷ Almost 60 percent of these drivers work more than thirty hours per week.³⁸ The report found that 40 percent of drivers have incomes low enough to qualify for Medicaid and 16 percent of drivers have no coverage at all.³⁹ Additionally, 18 percent of drivers qualify for federal supplemental nutrition assistance (also known as SNAP), twice the rate for New York City workers overall.⁴⁰ Reich and Parrot determined that the current median net hourly earnings in the industry is $14.25, which 85 percent of app-based drivers are paid per week.⁴¹

The TLC commissioned the study in order to examine the effects of a potential raise of the pay floor to $17.22 per hour, which would be equivalent to the New York State minimum wage in New York City of $15 that took effect on December 31, 2018, plus an additional 90 cents for paid time off and the employee’s $1.32 share of payroll tax.⁴² ⁴³ At the time of the study, 85 percent of drivers earned below $15 per hour, after expenses.⁴⁴ This means that the hourly earnings for drivers is down more than $3 from between 2016 and 2017.

The Report recommended a pay floor, which would be met by companies based on a “minimum pay standard formula” for each trip, and recommended a $1 bonus per pickup for shared riders because 40 percent of drivers with the lowest estimated hourly earnings provided shared rides. It would allow the average driver to see their pay increase by 22.5 percent or $6,345 additionally per year.⁴⁵ For the remainder of drivers who do make above the proposed standard, most of them drive vehicles that qualify for premium services and higher fares.⁴⁶ The policy proposal encouraged the industry to reduce overcharging commissions rather than raising fares.⁴⁷ The pay floor was also intended to incentivize improved driver utilization (the amount of time a passenger is in a vehicle), shared rides, and reduce the growth in the number of new app-based drivers. The pay floor standard would not be based on the passenger fare and is not a mandated pay method, but rather sets a basis for a driver’s earnings floor.

The formula calculates the minimum pay per trip by multiplying distance of the trip in miles and $0.58 (which the authors determined based on drivers’ per mile expenses) to cover driving costs, as well as the time of the trip multiplied by $0.287 (which compensates drivers for their time at $17.22/60 minutes) to cover net expenses.⁴⁸ These factors are divided by the company’s specific utilization rate in the previous quarter. The utilization rate is the amount of time drivers had passengers in their vehicles, which TLC analyzed based on company trip data from the previous quarter.⁴⁹ The first chart below, from the Earnings Standard Report, indicates the app company utilization rate for 2017.

App-Company Utilization⁵⁰

Here are 2017 utilization rates for each of the four major app-dispatch companies serving New York City:

Juno	50%
Lyft	58%
Uber	58%
Via	70%

Below is an example, also from the Earnings Standard Report, of how the proposed pay standard applies to a typical trip.⁵¹

Exhibit 17: The Proposed Driver Pay Standard Applied to a Typical Trip

A typical FHV trip might be 7.5 miles in distance and 30 minutes in time.

Here is how the driver minimum pay standard (not the passenger fare) would be calculated under the proposal pay standard (assuming an industry-wide average utilization of 58%):

$$\frac{(.580 * 7.5 \text{ miles})}{.58 \text{ utilization}} + \frac{($0.287 * 30 \text{ minutes})}{.58 \text{ utilization}} = $22.34$$

Note: this is the minimum pay standard (for a non-shared ride), not the passenger fare, and the company and the driver can always agree that driver pay for any trip should be higher.

The driver pay standard ensures that the driver can cover vehicle expenses as well as get paid at least the independent contractor equivalent of $15.00 an hour.

The formula incentivizes each company to raise its company-wide utilization rate from one quarter to the next, by increasing the average number of trips per driver hour,⁵² since a higher company utilization rate lowers the company's costs for the expense and time components.⁵³

The proposed pay increase and shared ride bonus would cost companies an additional 13.2 percent,⁵⁴ but the authors argue that companies would limit the entry of new drivers onto the platform, queue future rides, allocate trips to drivers who drive longer hours, and promote more shared rides.⁵⁵ These efforts would assist in increasing the utilization rate, absorbing much of the effect of the proposed plan. The Parrott and Reich report projected response time to increase by an average of 18 seconds.⁵⁶

The authors reasoned that the proposed plan would likely have a moderate effect on improving congestion and it might also help taxi and street hail services, as it would reduce competition between the sectors. However, the authors noted that non-app FHV companies may continue to lose market share.⁵⁷

Since 2014, there has been a dramatic increase in the use of app-based FHVs. App-based FHV trips grew 800% from 2014 to 2017, from 20 to 160 million annual trips.⁵⁸ In May 2018, almost 18.5 million trips were dispatched by high-volume FHV companies, more than six times the trip volume in May 2015.⁵⁹ As of July 2018, over 78,000 vehicles were affiliated with high-volume FHV bases, up from about 12,500 in January 2015. These bases can also dispatch to any licensed FHV in their vehicle class (i.e., black car) that is not affiliated with their base.⁶⁰ Drivers were dispatched on almost 18.5 million trips per month for high-volume FHV bases in May 2018—twice as many trips as the yellow taxi industry—in 76,000 vehicles, or six times as many FHVs as taxis. App-based FHVs now providing over 575,000 trips a day during the week and nearly 675,000 trips on the weekend.⁶¹ As of May 2018, app-based FHV trips have increased by 520,000 trips per day compared to May 2015. Yellow cab trips have declined by 127,000 trips per day during the same period.

A report released in June 2019 jointly by the TLC and the New York City Department of Transportation found that high-volume FHV trips grew from approximately 1.9 million in January 2015 to almost 24 million trips in March of 2019.⁶² The report also highlighted that there were more than 120,000 FHV's operating in the city in 2019, up from the 40,000 vehicles that were operating in 2010.⁶³

Many have argued that drivers for app-based FHVs do not have sufficient worker protections, and are left vulnerable to the app-based companies.⁶⁴ If Uber's drivers were recognized as employees, Uber would be the largest private sector employer in the City of New York.⁶⁵ According to the Earning Standard Report, 85 percent of drivers for the four largest FHV companies (Uber, Lyft, Via, and Juno) earned below $17.22, the independent contractor equivalent of a $15 hourly wage, with an allowance for paid time off, which NYS recently implemented as the minimum wage.⁶⁶ Driver earnings before expenses have declined since 2014. Between 2016 and 2017, mean hourly earnings for drivers across all four companies decreased by more than $3 per hour.⁶⁷ Between 60-65 percent of FHV drivers work full-time and 80% acquired a car, at least in part, to drive professionally.⁶⁸ According to Reich and Parrott, "app companies have been able to expand their workforce by drawing principally immigrants without a four-year college degree and who face restricted labor market opportunities; and 60-65 percent of app drivers are full-time, without another job, and about 80 percent acquired a car to earn a living by driving.”⁶⁹ Moreover, “[t]he proposed policy would increase driver net earnings (after expenses) by 22.5 percent or an average of $6,345 per year among the 85 percent of drivers who would get increases The policy could be fully paid for by combining an increase of 2.4 minutes in driver trips with passengers per working hour with reductions in company commissions. Fare increases would then be small (five percent or less) and average wait times for passengers would increase by about 12 to 15 seconds.”⁷⁰

Pursuant to Local Law 150 of 2018, which required TLC to establish minimum payments to FHV drivers and authorized the establishment of minimum rates of fare,⁷¹ in December of 2018, TLC adopted rules establishing a driver pay floor for HV drivers, using methodology recommended by the Earnings Standard Report discussed above.⁷² The driver pay became effective February 1, 2019.⁷³ According to TLC, from February to August of 2019, the driver pay rules resulted in an additional $225 million being paid to more than 80,000 drivers.⁷⁴

INCOME FROM ADVERTISING ON FOR-HIRE VEHICLES

Yellow taxis in the city are allowed to have exterior and interior advertising on their vehicles,⁷⁵ including the option of having a rooftop advertising fixture,⁷⁶ as long as they are authorized by the TLC. In allowing taxis to advertise, TLC cites the type of technology that they are required to use for credit card payments and data collection and contends that the advertising helps defray the cost of the technology.⁷⁷ In contrast to those rules, FHV’s have been prohibited from displaying such advertisements since 1999,⁷⁸ except for a brief period of time between February 2018 and August of 2019 when the TLC allowed them to advertise after a Federal District Court ruled in a lawsuit that TLC’s ban was unconstitutional.⁷⁹ However, on an appeal from the TLC, the Second Circuit of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the lower court’s ruling and upheld TLC’s ban on advertising in FHV’s.⁸⁰ Following the appellate court’s decision, on August 31, 2019, the TLC resumed enforcing the ban on advertising in both the interior and exterior of FHV’s.⁸¹ Vehicles that are caught driving around with advertisements are subject to a $50 penalty.⁸²

Some FHV drivers argue that TLC’s ban on advertising prevents them from earning additional revenue that could be worth thousands of dollars per year.⁸³ The Independent Drivers Guild (IDG), an advocacy group that represents app-based drivers, indicated that their financially struggling drivers earned about $300 a month from the advertising, extra income that helped them pay for some of their industry expenses, like health insurance, and allowed them to spend less time on the road driving.⁸⁴ However, in reinstating the ban the TLC claimed that they saw no evidence of drivers benefiting from the advertising and stated that only 70 of the more than

IMPACT OF VEHICLE LEASE ARRANGEMENTS

In New York City, Uber has partnerships with dealerships that offer vehicle financing options to drivers with low credit scores.⁸⁶ The companies have payment plans for drivers that charge as high as $500 per week and that require drivers to sign a payment deduction authorization that allows the dealer take the fees directly from the driver's Uber earnings.⁸⁷ Drivers are incentivized with the promise that they will own their vehicle within three years. However, the driver may end up paying more than the actual sticker price of the vehicle.⁸⁸ A report released by IDG found that drivers who lease their vehicles have on average annual expenses up to $35,000 and drivers who own their vehicles or have a loan had an average annual cost of $30,000.⁸⁹

ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 1865-A

Proposed Int. No. 1865-A establishes a task force charged with studying the black car and livery industries for the purpose of identifying challenges to the viability of these industries. The task force would also study the potential impacts of advertising and the viability of advertising as an additional revenue source for drivers in the black car, livery and other for-hire vehicle industries. The task force would be responsible for issuing recommendations for legislation and policy in accordance with the findings of their study. The task force would be chaired by the Chair of the Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC) or someone designated to represent the Chair of the TLC Commission. Eight members of the task force will be appointed by the Mayor. One member will be appointed by the Speaker of the City Council and one member will be appointed by the Public Advocate. Appointments must be made no later than 60 days after this bill becomes law and all members of the task force will serve without compensation. The task force would be required to meet at least once a quarter, hold at least one public hearing and submit a report to the Mayor and the Speaker that includes their policy and legislative recommendations to address the challenges to the viability of the black car and livery industries. This report should be submitted no later than 250 days after the bill becomes law and published online by the TLC Chair. The task force would terminate 180 days after the submission of its report. Proposed Int. No. 1865-A would take effect immediately.

Proposed Int. No. 1865-A would define the terms "base," "black car," "livery" and "for-hire vehicle" as follows: The term "base" is defined as a business licensed by the TLC for dispatching for-hire vehicles as well as the physical location from which for-hire vehicles are dispatched. As defined by section one, a base can be any of the following: a black car base, a livery base, or a luxury limousine base. The term "black car" is defined as for-hire vehicle dispatched from a base whose owner holds a franchise from the corporation or other business entity that operates the base, or who is a member of a cooperative that operates the base. Black cars must be dispatched from a base that receives more than 90 percent of its payment by means other than direct cash payment by a passenger. The term "livery" is defined as a for-hire vehicle that is designed to carry fewer than six passengers, not including the driver, which is dispatched from a base and charges for service on the basis of a flat rate, time, mileage, or based on zones. A "for-hire vehicle" is defined as a vehicle licensed by the TLC with a seating capacity of 20 or fewer, three or more doors which is not a taxicab, commuter van or a bus.

INTRODUCTION AND READING OF BILLS

Res. No. 1387

Resolution calling upon the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S.8921, which relates to postponing the New York City 2020 tax lien sale until one year after the COVID-19 state of emergency has been lifted.

By Council Members Adams, Yeger, Brannan, Koo, Chin, Rose, Maisel, Grodenchik, Rosenthal, Miller, Ampry-Samuel, Moya, Rivera, Louis, Ayala, King, Menchaca, Reynoso, Eugene, Cumbo, Gibson, Lander, Cornegy, Cabrera, Gjonaj and Barron.

Whereas, New York City uses the tax lien sale to enforce the collection of certain municipal debt, including property taxes and water charges; and

Whereas, Pursuant to the provisions of the New York Administrative Code, the Department of Finance, the agency that administers the tax lien sale, sells outstanding eligible liens to a third party which is then empowered to collect the debt using tools including, but not limited to, foreclosure proceedings; and

Whereas, Typically, the Department of Finance conducts an annual lien sale in May, with notices sent and outreach conducted primarily in March and April; and

Whereas, This year, in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Department of Finance postponed the annual tax lien sale and rescheduled it for September 2020; and

Whereas, Although elements of the COVID-19 pandemic were more acutely felt in March, April, and May as the number of cases and deaths overwhelmed the City and its health system and all non-essential businesses were ordered to shut down, the fallout is far from over as the pandemic continues to inflict unrivaled economic pain on New York City and its residents; and

Whereas, In a matter of months, thousands of New York City families have been pushed from stability into financial uncertainty due to job and income losses, leaving many unsure of how they will continue to put food on their tables, or meet their housing expenses; and

Whereas, According to a report by the Coalition for Affordable Homes, Compounding Debt Race, Affordability, and NYC's Tax Lien Sale, New York City's tax lien sale has historically hit black and brown communities the hardest — the same populations that have been disproportionately impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

Whereas, According to the Coalition for Affordable Homes' report, the City's tax lien sale has also destabilized many seniors who have paid off their mortgage, or families who have inherited homes without a mortgage as they find their properties at risk of foreclosure as a result of the lien sale; and

Whereas, Because the risk of spreading the virus is still strong and many parts of the City remain shut down, for the rescheduled tax lien sale the Department of Finance has been unable to conduct in-person outreach, meaning that many property owners will be unable to access the information and resources they need to avoid the tax lien sale;

Whereas, While the Department of Finance is instead holding on virtual information sessions, they are no substitute for in-person assistance and many vulnerable property owners will not be reached by these efforts; and

Whereas, State Senator Leroy Comrie has introduced S.8921, which would require the postponement of the New York City tax lien sale until one year after the COVID-19 state of emergency has been lifted; and

Whereas, As the City continue to deal with the impacts of the pandemic, now is the time to provide wider protections for those most affected by the virus and not amplify housing insecurity and financial burdens of the City's most vulnerable communities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York, calls upon the State Legislature to introduce and pass, and the Governor to sign, S.8921, which relates to postponing the New York City 2020 tax lien sale until one year after the COVID-19 state of emergency has been lifted.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Res. No. 1388

Resolution calling on Congress to pass, and the President to sign, the “All Dependent Children Count Act” (H.R. 6420) and the “All Dependents Count Act” (S. 3652), bills that would extend the 2020 recovery rebates of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act to qualifying children over the age of 16.

By Council Member Barron.

Whereas, The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act was passed by Congress with overwhelming, bipartisan support and signed into law by the president on March 27, 2020; and

Whereas, The CARES Act was an over $2 trillion economic relief package that provided direct payments of $1,200 to each American making $75,000 a year or less with an additional $500 per qualifying dependent child; and

Whereas, The CARES Act defined a qualifying dependent child as someone under the age of 17, leaving out older children, young adults, and dependents with disabilities; and

Whereas, With high schools and colleges shuttered, parents and guardians of these students should be supported during the pandemic; and

Whereas, COVID-19 has been disruptive to all families, but the effects of school closures, medical equipment shortages, and social distancing are further exacerbated for families that include dependents with disabilities; and

Whereas, The economic relief money from the CARES Act should not be denied to those who need it most; and

Whereas, The “All Dependent Children Count Act” (H.R. 6420), sponsored by Representative Angie Craig (D-MN), and the “All Dependents Count Act” (S. 3652), sponsored by Senator Tina Smith (D-MN), would expand the qualifying age of a dependent under the CARES Act to 19, 24 for those who are a dependent and a student, and beyond 24 for individuals with disabilities; and

Whereas, These bills would extend the 2020 recovery rebates to all taxpayer dependents left out of the original CARES Act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on Congress to pass, and the President to sign, the “All Dependent Children Count Act” (H.R. 6420) and the “All Dependents Count Act” (S. 3652), bills that would extend the 2020 recovery rebates of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act to qualifying children over the age of 16.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring veterinarians to provide information on adverse events associated with an animal drug on the container of such drug

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The chapter heading of chapter 8 of title 17 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 7 for the year 2015, is amended to read as follows:

CHAPTER 8
ANIMAL CARE, SHELTERS, STERILIZATION[,] AND LICENSING

§ 2. Chapter 8 of title 17 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 17-820 to read as follows:

§ 17-820 Animal drugs; labels. a. Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Adverse event. The term “adverse event” means any undesirable medical occurrence associated with the use of a drug in an animal where such association is listed on the federal food and drug administration online label repository or other online resource for animal drug information made available by the federal food and drug administration.

Companion animal. The term “companion animal” means any dog or cat, and also means any other domesticated animal normally maintained in or near the household of the owner or person who cares for such other domesticated animal. “Companion animal” does not include a farm animal as defined in section 350 of the agriculture and markets law.

Veterinarian. The term “veterinarian” means a veterinarian licensed by the state of New York pursuant to section 6704 of the education law who provides veterinary services to companion animals pursuant to a contract with the city.

b. Where a veterinarian prescribes a drug for a companion animal pursuant to a contract with the city, the veterinarian shall write or print any adverse events associated with such drug on the label of the drug’s immediate container to be provided to the end user, except that if there is inadequate space on the immediate container, the veterinarian may provide such information in a separate document that accompanies such drug.

§ 3. This local law takes effect 60 days after it becomes law.

Referred to the Committee on Health.

Res. No. 1389

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to restore funding to the United States Army Corps of Engineers’ New York-New Jersey Harbor and Tributaries Focus Area Feasibility Study, and the States of New York and New Jersey to advance their shares of the next phase of funding to revive the study until it is fully restored by the Congress.

By Council Members Brannan and Chin.

Whereas, The New York-New Jersey Harbor and Tributaries Focus Area Feasibility Study (HATS) is a coastal storm risk management study covering the New York (N.Y.) and New Jersey (N.J.) Harbor and tidally affected tributaries encompassing all of New York City, the Hudson River to Troy, N.Y.; the lower Passaic, Hackensack, Rahway, and Raritan Rivers; the Upper and Lower Bays of New York Harbor; the bays of Newark, N.J., Jamaica, Raritan and Sandy Hook; the Kill Van Kull, Arthur Kill and East River tidal straits; and the western Long Island Sound; and

Whereas, HATS, initiated in 2016 and expected to finish in 2022, was one of nine studies that were recommended by the United States Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) 2015 North Atlantic Coast Comprehensive Study to manage future potential coastal storm risks facing the region, including those from predicted sea level rise and extreme weather events, by developing possible means of preventing the loss of human lives and damages to property; and

Whereas, The New York and New Jersey Harbor Region was severely impacted from Superstorm Sandy, which destroyed approximately 300 homes and damaged over 69,000 residential units; harmed critical public and private infrastructure; killed 44 City residents and displaced thousands more; and inflicted an estimated $19 billion in damages and lost economic activity across New York City in 2012, according to New York City data; and

Whereas, HATS, if completed, would have proposed a comprehensive plan for managing future potential coastal storm risks facing the New York and New Jersey Harbor Region, including those from predicted sea level rise and extreme weather events, and the study is a necessary precursor to beginning any federally funded harbor-wide resiliency projects; and

Whereas, In February 2020, the Trump Administration abruptly halted HATS by failing to fund USACE's work plan for the project, leaving it suspended until further notice—a decision that came six weeks after President Donald Trump, via Twitter, ridiculed a seawall proposed by the study; and

Whereas, Funding to HATS must be restored in order to develop plans to allay major future potential damages to New York, caused by coastal storms such as Superstorm Sandy and to protect against rising sea levels and other extreme weather events; and

Whereas, The States of New York and New Jersey are non-federal sponsors of HATS, via the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation and the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, and should move forward with financing their portions of the project until federal funding is revived; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to restore funding to the United States Army Corps of Engineers' New York-New Jersey Harbor and Tributaries Focus Area Feasibility Study, and the States of New York and New Jersey to advance their shares of the next phase of funding to revive the study until it is fully restored by the Congress.

Referred to the Committee on Resiliency and Waterfronts.

Int. No. 2029

By Council Members Cabrera and Kallos.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing a citywide incident management system

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 30 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 30-116 to read as follows:

§ 30-116 Incident management system.

a. Definitions. For purposes of this section the term "incident management system" means a nationally recognized and organized system of rules, responsibilities and standard operating procedures for emergency response and recovery operations.

b. The commissioner shall establish a mandatory citywide incident management system, which shall be the city's protocol for responding to and recovering from all local emergencies and incidents which require a multi-agency response within the city. The citywide incident management system shall comply with the minimum standards and guidelines established by the national incident management system, as defined in paragraph (7) of section 311 of title 6 of the United States code, or its successor.

c. The commissioner shall develop and implement a written protocol for the citywide incident management system established pursuant to this section and shall update and maintain such protocol to ensure the citywide incident management system complies with federal incident management standards and requirements, is compatible with new technologies and trends in incident management, and incorporates lessons learned and corrective actions identified in after-action reviews of emergency incidents and events.

d. The commissioner, in coordination with other agencies, shall establish and maintain a citywide incident management system training curriculum to be utilized by all agencies. The training and curriculum developed pursuant to this subdivision shall meet the training requirements of the national incident management system or its successor.

e. All agencies shall comply with the standards and requirements of the citywide incident management system as set forth in the written protocol developed by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision c of this section.

§ 2. This local law takes effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the commissioner of emergency management may promulgate rules or take other actions for the implementation of this local law prior to such effective date.

Referred to the Committee on Fire and Emergency Management.

Res. No. 1390

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would expand language access to the New York State Board of Elections and Department of Motor Vehicles' telephone and online voter registration services.

By Council Members Cabrera, Maisel and Chin.

Whereas, The right to vote is the most fundamental right of citizens in a democracy; and

Whereas, According to the United States Census Bureau, nearly six million people living in New York State speak a language other than English at home, and approximately two and a half million people in the State have limited English proficiency; and

Whereas, According to the United States Census Bureau, approximately 73 percent of limited English proficient New Yorkers live in New York City; and

Whereas, According to the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs (MOIA), immigrants comprise about 37 percent of New York City's population; and

Whereas, According to MOIA, 56 percent of immigrants in New York City are naturalized citizens who have the right to vote, and 40 percent of those naturalized citizens have limited English proficiency; and

Whereas, The State Board of Elections' statewide voter hotline, mandated by law to provide voters with information regarding their voter registration, only provides telephone services in English and Spanish; and

Whereas, Downloadable voter registration forms on the State Board of Elections' website are only available in English and Spanish; and

Whereas, The online voter registration form on the Department of Motor Vehicles' website, currently the only mechanism by which New York residents can register to vote online, is only available in English; and

Whereas, On October 6, 2011, in recognition of the millions of limited English proficient New Yorkers whose limited English proficiency presents potential barriers to accessing important government programs and services, Governor Cuomo issued Executive Order 26, the Statewide Language Access Policy, requiring that executive State agencies that provide direct public services translate vital documents and provide interpretation services in the top six non-English languages spoken in New York; and

Whereas, Executive Order 26 does not cover the State Board of Elections; and

Whereas, Pursuant to the federal Voting Rights Act, the New York City Board of Elections' voter hotline provides telephone interpretation services in Spanish, Chinese, Bengali, and Korean; and

Whereas, Pursuant to the federal Voting Rights Act, the New York City Board of Elections provides voter registration forms, which the New York City Campaign Finance Board (NYCCFB) makes available for download on its website, in Spanish, Chinese, Bengali, and Korean; and

Whereas, In coordination with MOIA, the NYCCB also makes voter downloadable registration forms available in 11 other non-English languages, but the forms must be completed in English in order for the City Board of Elections to process them; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Campaign Finance Board, the COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting inability to conduct in-person voter registration activities has resulted in a 50 percent decrease in the number of new voter registrations in the first six months of 2020 compared to the same period for 2016; and

Whereas, Voting rights activists, particularly those that work with limited English proficient communities, have said that language barriers at the State level have made the voter registration process difficult to navigate for people who struggle with English; and

Whereas, In a presidential election year in which the State expects high voter turnout, it is vital that the voter registration process be as accessible as possible to limited English proficient New Yorkers, the vast majority of whom live in New York City; and

Whereas, At a minimum, the State Board of Elections should offer its voter hotline telephone services and downloadable voter registration forms, and the Department of Motor Vehicles should offer its online voter registration form, in the same languages offered by the City Board of Elections' voter registration forms; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation that would expand language access to the New York State Board of Elections and Department of Motor Vehicles' telephone and online voter registration services.

Referred to the Committee on Governmental Operations.

Res. No. 1391

Resolution calling on the United States Department of Justice to implement the Death in Custody Reporting Act of 2013 in accordance with the December 2016 implementation plan and make the data accessible to the public.

By Council Members Cabrera and Chin.

Whereas, In the aftermath of the high profile police killing of Michael Brown, an African American, in 2014, Congress adopted the then pending Death in Custody Reporting Act of 2013 (DCRA), to address the lack of reliable data on custodial and arrest-related deaths; and

Whereas, DRCA requires states receiving federal "Byrne JAG" funds to provide data on custodial and arrest-related deaths under their jurisdiction to the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ); and

Whereas, DCRA directed DOJ to prepare a report, within two years of enactment, on arrest-related death data provided by states; and

Whereas, DOJ published a near-final compliance plan and guidelines in late 2016, which required the Bureau of Justice (BJA) to use open sources to verify the accuracy of state-reported data, a technique that the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) found promising in identifying more arrest-related deaths than mere reliance on state-reported data; and

Whereas, However, the DOJ abandoned its 2016 compliance plan and guidelines and has made plans to implement a data collection methodology that will not fully leverage open sources to validate state-reported data, according to DOJ's Office of Inspector General (OIG) report on the implementation of DCRA; and

Whereas, The OIG has expressed concern that this data collection methodology, along with DOJ's plan to collect data from state-level agencies instead of local agencies may produce unreliable data; and

Whereas, The OIG reported that DOJ delayed the implementation of DCRA until Fiscal Year 2020, a full five years after it was signed into law and two years after DOJ published its 2016 compliance plan and guidelines; and

Whereas, The recent police killings of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, and Tony McDade, all African Americans, have reignited calls for reliable national data on custodial and arrest-related deaths, including demographic impact, mortality rates, and circumstances of the deaths; and

Whereas, Knowing the number and circumstances of police-involved deaths is essential to developing policies to reduce the number of fatalities in police custody; and

Whereas, Police-caused fatalities data is also crucial to providing the public and DOJ with information needed to ensure law enforcement agencies are complying with civil rights laws; and, now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Department of Justice to implement the Death in Custody Reporting Act of 2013 in accordance with the December 2016 implementation plan and make the data accessible to the public.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to adopt and the Governor to sign legislation to defer the requirement to file returns and remit sales and uses taxes for small businesses due on or before September 30, 2020.

By Council Members Chin and Yeger.

Whereas, The Sales and Use Tax Law provides a broad-based state sales tax, including on charges and sales of services which previously were largely exempted from sales taxation; and

Whereas, Unless specifically exempted, the sales tax applies to retail sales of tangible personal property and to certain services, and a compensating use tax applies to the use within the State of tangible personal property and services purchased outside the State, according to the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance's 2012 Handbook of New York State and Local Taxes; and

Whereas, In an effort to alleviate the impacts of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak on businesses, New York State Governor Andrew M. Cuomo issued Executive Order No. 202.8, which contained a directive expanding the authority of the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance to allow for the abatement of interest for a period of 60 days for taxpayers who are required to file returns and remit sales and use taxes by March 20, 2020, for the sales tax quarterly period that ended February 29, 2020; and

Whereas, Executive Order No. 202.32 was later issued which expanded the period to file returns and remit sales and use taxes to 100 days, thereby extending the filing date to June 28, 2020; and

Whereas, The extension provided to the sales tax was crucial as many non-essential, small businesses were forced to close during the pandemic, or otherwise saw their operations and sales dramatically decline, and as a result faced severe cashflow issues; and hereas, Additionally, the closure of non-essential businesses across the state left thousands of individuals out of work and had a detrimental effect on the state and local economies;

Whereas, In May 2020, sales tax revenue for local governments dropped 32.3 percent compared to the same period last year, according to New York State Comptroller Thomas P. DiNapoli, and sales tax collections for counties and cities totaled $918 million, or $437 million less than 2019; and

Whereas, New York City experienced a 31.9 percent decline, amounting to $196 million in lost revenues for a single month, according to the Comptroller; and

Whereas, As small businesses continue to face unprecedented economic disruption due to COVID-19, financial assistance should be provided to those impacted as they reenter the marketplace; and

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to adopt and the Governor to sign legislation to defer the requirement to file returns and remit sales and uses taxes for small businesses due on or before September 30, 2020.

e. Employees who are [not covered by] exempt from the overtime requirements of New York state law or regulations, including the wage orders promulgated by the New York commissioner of labor pursuant to article 19 or 19-A of the labor law, shall be assumed to work forty hours in each work week for purposes of safe/sick time accrual unless their regular work week is less than forty hours, in which case [sick] safe/sick time accrues based upon that regular work week.

f. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to (i) work study programs under 42 U.S.C. section 2753, (ii) employees for the hours worked and compensated by or through qualified scholarships as defined in 26 U.S.C. section 117, (iii) independent contractors who do not meet the definition of employee under subdivision 2 of section 190 of the labor law, and (iv) hourly professional employees.

j. If an employee is transferred to a separate division, entity or location in the city of New York, but remains employed by the same employer, such employee is entitled to all safe/sick time accrued at the prior division, entity or location and is entitled to retain or use all safe/sick time as provided pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. (g) to take other actions necessary to maintain, improve, or restore the physical, psychological, or economic health or safety of the employee or the employee's family member or to protect those who associate or work with the employee.

2. For an absence of more than three consecutive work days for safe time, an employer may require reasonable documentation that the use of safe time was authorized by this subdivision. For safe time used pursuant to this subdivision, documentation signed by an employee, agent, or volunteer of a victim services organization, an attorney, a member of the clergy, or a medical or other professional service provider from whom the employee or that employee's family member has sought assistance in addressing domestic violence, family offense matters, sex offenses, stalking, or human trafficking and their effects; a police or court record; or a notarized letter from the employee explaining the need for such time shall be considered reasonable documentation and an employer shall not require that such documentation specify the details of the domestic violence, family offense matter, sexual offense, stalking, or human trafficking. An employer shall reimburse an employee for all reasonable costs or expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining such documentation for an employer.

c. An employer may require reasonable notice of the need to use safe/sick time. Where such need is foreseeable, an employer may require reasonable advance notice of the intention to use such safe/sick time, not to exceed seven days prior to the date such safe/sick time is to begin. Where such need is not foreseeable, an employer may require an employee to provide notice of the need for the use of safe/sick time as soon as practicable.

e. An employer shall not require an employee, as a condition of taking safe/sick time, to search for or find a replacement worker to cover the hours during which such employee is utilizing time.

f. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit an employer from taking disciplinary action, up to and including termination, against a worker who uses safe/sick time provided pursuant to this chapter for purposes other than those described in this section.

§ 20-915 Changing schedule. Upon mutual consent of the employee and the employer, an employee who is absent for a reason listed in subdivision a of section 20-914 of this chapter may work additional hours during the immediately preceding seven days if the absence was foreseeable or within the immediately subsequent seven days from that absence without using safe/sick time to make up for the original hours for which such employee was absent, provided that an adjunct professor who is an employee at an institute of higher education may work such additional hours at any time during the academic term. An employer shall not require such employee to work additional hours to make up for the original hours for which such employee was absent or to search for or find a replacement employee to cover the hours during which the employee is absent pursuant to this section. If such employee works additional hours, and such hours are fewer than the number of hours such employee was originally scheduled to work, then such employee shall be able to use safe/sick time provided pursuant to this chapter for the difference. Should the employee work additional hours, the employer shall comply with any applicable federal, state or local labor laws.

§ 20-916 Collective bargaining agreements. a. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any employee covered by a valid collective bargaining agreement if (i) such provisions are expressly waived in such collective bargaining agreement and (ii) such agreement provides for a comparable benefit for the employees covered by such agreement in the form of paid days off; such paid days off shall be in the form of leave, compensation, other employee benefits, or some combination thereof. Comparable benefits shall include, but are not limited to, vacation time, personal time, safe/sick time, and holiday and Sunday time pay at premium rates.

b. Notwithstanding subdivision a of this section, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any employee in the construction or grocery industry covered by a valid collective bargaining agreement if such provisions are expressly waived in such collective bargaining agreement.

§ 20-918 Retaliation and interference prohibited. a. No [employer] person shall [engage in retaliation or threaten retaliation against an employee for exercising or attempting to exercise any right provided pursuant to this chapter, or] interfere with any investigation, proceeding or hearing pursuant to this chapter. [The protections of this chapter shall apply to any person who mistakenly but in good faith alleges a violation of this chapter. Rights under this chapter shall include, but not be limited to, the right to request and use sick time, file a complaint for alleged violations of this chapter with the department, communicate with any person about any violation of this chapter, participate in any administrative or judicial action regarding an alleged violation of this chapter, or inform any person of his or her potential rights under this chapter.]

b. No person shall take any adverse action against an employee that penalizes an employee for, or is reasonably likely to deter an employee from, exercising or attempting to exercise rights under this chapter or interfere with an employee's exercise of rights under this chapter and implementing rules.

c. Adverse actions include, but are not limited to, threats, intimidation, discipline, discharge, demotion, suspension, harassment, discrimination, reduction in hours or pay, informing another employer of an employee's exercise of rights under this chapter, blacklisting, and maintenance or application of an absence control policy that counts protected leave for safe/sick time as an absence that may lead to or result in an adverse action. Adverse actions include actions related to perceived immigration status or work authorization.

d. An employee need not explicitly refer to a provision of this chapter or implementing rules to be protected from an adverse action.

e. The protections of this section shall apply to any person who mistakenly but in good faith asserts their rights or alleges a violation of this chapter.

f. A causal connection between the exercise, attempted exercise, or anticipated exercise of rights protected by this chapter and implementing rules and an employer's adverse action against an employee or a group of employees may be established by indirect or direct evidence.

§ 20-919 Notice of rights. a. 1. An employer shall provide an employee [either at the commencement of employment or within thirty days of the effective date of this section, whichever is later,] with written notice of such employee's right to safe/sick time pursuant to this chapter, including the accrual and use of safe/sick time, the calendar year of the employer, and the right to be free from retaliation and to [bring] file a complaint [to] with the department. Such notice shall be in English and the primary language spoken by that employee, provided that the department has made available a translation of such notice in such language pursuant to subdivision b of this section. Such notice [may] shall also be conspicuously posted at an employer's place of business in an area accessible to employees.

2. [Notices provided to employees pursuant to this section on and after the effective date of this paragraph shall in addition inform employees of their right to safe time under this chapter. Employers shall give employees who have already received notice of their right to sick time pursuant to this section notice of their right to safe time within thirty days of the effective date of this paragraph.] Such notice shall be provided to each employee at the commencement of employment. For employees who were already employed prior to the effective dates of provisions of this chapter establishing their right to safe/sick time, such notice shall be provided within thirty days of the effective date of the local law that established each such right.

b. The department shall create and make available notices that contain the information required pursuant to subdivision a of this section concerning [sick] safe/sick time [and safe time] and such notices shall allow for the employer to fill in applicable dates for such employer's calendar year. § 20-920 Employer records. Employers shall make and retain records documenting such employer's compliance with the requirements of this chapter for a period of three years unless otherwise required pursuant to any other law, rule or regulation, and shall allow the department to access such records, with appropriate notice and at a mutually agreeable time of day, in furtherance of an investigation conducted pursuant to this chapter.

§ 20-921 Confidentiality and nondisclosure. An employer may not require the disclosure of details relating to an employee's or his or her family member's medical condition or require the disclosure of details relating to an employee's or his or her family member's status as a victim of domestic violence, family offenses, sexual offenses, stalking, or human trafficking as a condition of providing safe/sick time under this chapter. Health information about an employee or an employee's family member, and information concerning an employee's or his or her family member's status or perceived status as a victim of domestic violence, family offenses, sexual offenses, stalking or human trafficking obtained solely for the purposes of utilizing safe/sick time pursuant to this chapter, shall be treated as confidential and shall not be disclosed except by the affected employee, with the written permission of the affected employee or as required by law. Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall preclude an employer from considering information provided in connection with a request for safe time in connection with a request for reasonable accommodation pursuant to subdivision 27 of section 8-107.

§ 20-922 Encouragement of more generous policies; no effect on more generous policies. a. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to discourage or prohibit the adoption or retention of a safe time or sick time policy more generous than that which is required herein.

b. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as diminishing the obligation of an employer to comply with any contract, collective bargaining agreement, employment benefit plan or other agreement providing more generous safe time or sick time to an employee than required herein.

c. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as diminishing the rights of public employees regarding safe time or sick time as provided pursuant to federal, state or city law.

§ 20-923 Other legal requirements. a. This chapter provides minimum requirements pertaining to safe time and sick time and shall not be construed to preempt, limit or otherwise affect the applicability of any other law, regulation, rule, requirement, policy or standard that provides for greater accrual or use by employees of safe [leave or] time or sick [leave or] time, whether paid or unpaid, or that extends other protections to employees.

b. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as creating or imposing any requirement in conflict with any federal or state law, rule or regulation, nor shall anything in this chapter be construed to diminish or impair the rights of an employee or employer under any valid collective bargaining agreement.

c. Where section 196-b of the labor law, or any regulation issued thereunder, sets forth a standard or requirement for minimum hour or use of safe/sick time that exceeds any provision in this chapter, such standard or requirement shall be incorporated by reference and shall be enforceable by the department in the manner set forth in this chapter and subject to the penalties and remedies set forth in the labor law.

§ 20-924 Enforcement and penalties. a. The department shall enforce the provisions of this chapter. In effectuating such enforcement, the department shall establish a system utilizing multiple means of communication to receive complaints regarding non-compliance with this chapter and investigate complaints received by the department in a timely manner. The department may open an investigation upon receipt of a complaint or on its own initiative.

b. Any person alleging a violation of this chapter shall have the right to file a complaint with the department within two years of the date the person knew or should have known of the alleged violation. The department shall maintain confidential the identity of any [complainant] natural person providing information relevant to enforcement of this chapter unless disclosure of such [complainant's] person's identity is necessary to the department for resolution of [the] its investigation or otherwise required by federal or state law. The department shall, to the extent practicable, notify such [complainant] person that the department will be disclosing his or her identity prior to such disclosure.

c. Upon receiving a complaint alleging a violation of this chapter, the department shall investigate such complaint [and attempt to resolve it through mediation]. Within [thirty] fourteen days of written notification of [a complaint] an investigation by the department, the person or entity under investigation [identified in the complaint] shall provide the department with a written response and such other information as the department may request. The department shall keep complainants reasonably notified regarding the status of their complaint and any resultant investigation. If, as a result of an investigation of a complaint or an investigation conducted upon its own initiative, the department believes that a violation has occurred, it shall issue to the offending person or entity a notice of violation. The commissioner shall prescribe the form and wording of such notices of violation. The notice of violation shall be returnable to the administrative tribunal authorized to adjudicate violations of this chapter.

d. The department shall have the power to impose penalties provided for in this chapter and to grant [an] each and every employee or former employee all appropriate relief. Such relief shall include: (i) for each instance of [sick] safe/sick time taken by an employee but unlawfully not compensated by the employer: three times the wages that should have been paid under this chapter or two hundred fifty dollars, whichever is greater; (ii) for each instance of [sick] safe/sick time requested by an employee but unlawfully denied by the employer and not taken by the employee or unlawfully conditioned upon searching for or finding a replacement worker, or for each instance an employer requires an employee to work additional hours without the mutual consent of such employer and employee in violation of section 20-915 of this chapter to make up for the original hours during which such employee is absent pursuant to this chapter: five hundred dollars; (iii) for each [instance of unlawful retaliation] violation of section 20-918 not including discharge from employment: full compensation including wages and benefits lost, five hundred dollars and equitable relief as appropriate; [and] (iv) for each instance of unlawful discharge from employment: full compensation including wages and benefits lost, two thousand five hundred dollars and equitable relief, including reinstatement, as appropriate; and (v) for each employee covered by an employer's official or unofficial policy or practice of not providing or refusing to allow the use of accrued safe/sick time in violation of section 20-913, five hundred dollars.

e. Any entity or person found to be in violation of the provisions of sections 20-913, 20-914, 20-915 or 20-918 of this chapter shall be liable for a civil penalty payable to the city not to exceed five hundred dollars for the first violation and, for subsequent violations that occur within two years of any previous violation, not to exceed seven hundred [and] fifty dollars for the second violation and not to exceed one thousand dollars for each succeeding violation. Penalties shall be imposed on a per employee basis.

f. The department shall annually report on its website the number and nature of the complaints received pursuant to this chapter, the results of investigations undertaken pursuant to this chapter, including the number of complaints not substantiated and the number of notices of violations issued, the number and nature of adjudications pursuant to this chapter, and the average time for a complaint to be resolved pursuant to this chapter.

§ 20-924.1 Enforcement by the corporation counsel. The corporation counsel or such other persons designated by the corporation counsel on behalf of the department may initiate in any court of competent jurisdiction any action or proceeding that may be appropriate or necessary for the enforcement of any order issued by the department pursuant to this chapter or for the correction of any violation issued pursuant to section 20-924, including actions to mandate compliance with the provisions of such order, secure permanent injunctions, enjoining any acts or practices that constitute such violation, mandating compliance with the provisions of this chapter or such other relief as may be appropriate.

§ 20-924.2 Civil action by corporation counsel for pattern or practice of violations. a. Cause of action. 1. Where reasonable cause exists to believe that an employer is engaged in a pattern or practice of violations of this chapter, the corporation counsel may commence a civil action on behalf of the city in a court of competent jurisdiction.

2. The corporation counsel shall commence such action by filing a complaint setting forth facts relating to such pattern or practice and requesting relief, which may include injunctive relief, civil penalties and any other appropriate relief.

3. Such action may be commenced only by the corporation counsel or such other persons designated by the corporation counsel.

4. Nothing in this section prohibits the department from exercising its authority under section 20-924, provided that a civil action pursuant to this section shall not have previously been commenced.

A Local Law to amend the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the terms “inmate,” “prisoner” and “incarcerated individual” and other similar terminology as used therein

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Declaration of legislative intent and findings. The council finds that it should be the policy of this city to promote the dignified and fair treatment of persons in the criminal justice system and in other institutions of confinement. The council declares that the use of outmoded terms, including “inmate” and “prisoner,” to refer to persons in custody in the criminal justice system and other institutions, is dehumanizing and demeaning to such persons, and that such terms should be eliminated from use in local law and replaced with terms that emphasize persons first, and not their circumstances. Through the elimination and replacement of such terminology, the council does not intend to alter the substantive meaning of the affected provisions of local law.

Each such institution shall keep a book in which it shall cause to be entered the name and address of each parent, relative or other person visiting [an inmate of] a child residing in such institution who is in whole or in part a charge upon the city, and such name and address shall be entered upon the occasion of each visit by any such person.

§ 73. Section 21-106 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended to read as follows:

§ 21-106 Payments to private institutions. Payments shall not be made by the city to any charitable, eleemosynary or reformatory institutions wholly or partly under private control, for the care, support, secular education or maintenance of any destitute, neglected or delinquent child therein, except upon the certificate of the commissioner that such child has been received and is retained by such institution pursuant to the rules and regulations established by the state board of social welfare. Moneys paid by the city to any such institution for the care, support, secular education or maintenance of [its inmates] such children shall not be expended for any other purpose. Whenever the commissioner shall decide, after reasonable notice to such institution and a hearing, that any such child who is received and retained in such institution is not a proper charge against the public, and written notice of such decision is given by the commissioner to such institution, thereupon all right on the part of such institution to receive compensation from the city for the further retention of the child shall cease. The commissioner shall file in the office of the department a statement of the reasons for his or her decision and of the facts upon which it is founded, and shall furnish a copy to such institution where the child is detained. The commissioner's decision may be reviewed on certiorari by the supreme court. No money shall be paid out of any appropriation to any charitable, eleemosynary or reformatory institution which shall deny or limit admission to any destitute, neglected or delinquent children duly committed by the commissioner or a court of appropriate jurisdiction, because of the race, color or religion of such children, provided, however, that no institution of a particular religious faith shall be required to accept children adhering to a religious faith other than its own. The commission on foster care of children shall have the power and continuing duty to investigate and determine, upon complaint made and shall have the power on its own initiative to investigate and determine whether any institution is practicing discrimination in violation of the provisions of the preceding paragraph. The commission may direct that such investigation shall be conducted by one or more of its members or by its secretary or assistant secretary. Whenever in the judgment of the commission, such investigation discloses that there is reason to believe that an institution is practicing discrimination, the commission shall cause a hearing to be held before the commission or before two or more of its members, as it may direct, upon reasonable notice to such institution. The commission shall dismiss the proceedings if it finds upon the basis of such hearing, that such institution is not practicing discrimination. In the event the commission shall find on the basis of such hearing, that such institution is practicing discrimination, it shall certify to the commissioner its findings of fact, together with its determination of the period of time, not to exceed one year, within which the institution shall be permitted to amend its practices and comply with said provisions. The commissioner shall thereupon serve notice of such certification on such institution. All right on the part of such institution to receive moneys from the city shall cease upon the date specified in said certification unless, prior to the expiration thereof, such institution shall have submitted to the commission proof that it has ceased to engage in said violations and the commission shall have found and certified to the commissioner that said institution has complied with said provisions. The institution shall not be deprived of payments for services rendered prior to the date specified in the certification. The determination of the commission that an institution is practicing discrimination, or having been ordered to cease said discrimination has failed to cease, may be reviewed by the supreme court, which may, for good cause shown, during the pendency of such review, stay the termination of the right of such institution to receive moneys from the city. The commission, or any of its members authorized by it to conduct a hearing, may, at any such hearing, compel the attendance of witnesses, administer oaths, take the testimony of any person under oath and require the production of any evidence relating to the matter in question at the hearing. The department and the corporation counsel are authorized upon request by the commission, to make members of their respective staffs available, upon a temporary basis, to the commission, to assist it in conducting the investigations and hearings provided by this section.

Res. No. 1395

Resolution recognizing May as Lupus Awareness Month in the city of New York.

By Council Members Gibson, Rosenthal, Perkins, Ayala and Ampry-Samuel.

Whereas, Lupus is a chronic autoimmune disease that causes inflammation and pain in any part of the body, most commonly impacting the skin, joints and internal organs; and

Whereas, There are a number of types of lupus, including cutaneous lupus, drug-induced lupus and neonatal lupus, however, when people generally talk about lupus, they are usually talking about systemic lupus; and

Whereas, Because lupus can impact any part of the body and is an autoimmune disease, meaning that a person's immune system is actually attacking healthy tissue, a wide range of acute and chronic symptoms can occur, including extreme fatigue, headaches, painful joints, fever, hair loss, anemia, abnormal blood clotting and mouth or nose ulcers; and

Whereas, In addition to the health impacts of lupus, the disease also carries large economic impacts, with some studies estimating the mean annual total costs for people with lupus (combining direct and indirect costs) being as high as $50,000; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), lupus is relatively uncommon, difficult to diagnose, not a reportable disease and thus, is expensive to reliably track and count all diagnosed cases for epidemiologic studies; and

Whereas, Despite challenges in accurately tracking and counting the number of cases, the Lupus Foundation of America estimates that 1.5 million Americans and at least five million people worldwide have some form of lupus, with women of childbearing age and women of color being disproportionately impacted; and

Whereas, In New York City (NYC), the most accurate estimates of the number of cases of lupus, although only counting those residing in Manhattan, comes from the Manhattan Lupus Surveillance Program (MLSP), a collaboration between NYU Langone Health and NYC's Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, with supportive funding from the CDC; and

Whereas, The MLSP's research, first published in September of 2017, reviewed medical records from 2007 through 2009 of Manhattan residents and estimated that overall lupus prevalence rates per 100,000 cases per year by race were: White 51.4 cases; Black 133.1 cases; Hispanic 84.6 cases and Asian 75.5 cases; and

Whereas, According to MLSP investigators, its findings emphasize the need for improvements in the diagnosis of lupus in the aforementioned demographic groups and will help support future efforts to expand awareness and improve access to care for those at risk of lupus; and

Whereas, According to the Lupus Foundation of America, May is recognized as Lupus Awareness Month nationwide, with World Lupus Day occurring on May 10, and Put on Purple Day occurring on May 15, which is an effort to wear purple and encourage awareness around lupus; and

Whereas, As a 2019 survey conducted by the Lupus Foundation of America shows that 63% of Americans surveyed have never heard of lupus or know little or nothing about the disease, and as NYC residents are impacted by lupus, the month of May should be recognized as Lupus Awareness Month throughout the city in an effort to increase awareness, educate the public about lupus and its impacts and ensure that proper funding is provided for critical research, programs and services related to lupus; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the city of New York recognizes May as Lupus Awareness Month in the city of New York.

A Local Law in relation to accessory sign violations and waiving penalties and fees for signs that are accessory to a use on the same zoning lot

Section 1. Section 3 of local law number 28 for the year 2019 is amended to read as follows:

§ 3. Violations for existing accessory signs. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no applicable violations shall be issued on or after [the effective date of this section] September 1, 2020 for an accessory sign in existence on or before [the effective date of this section] such date for a period of two years [commencing] ending on September 1, 2022 [the effective date of this section], unless such accessory sign creates an imminent threat to public health or safety or the commissioner of buildings determines that such sign is otherwise not eligible for the temporary waiver created under this section.

3. A waiver of [75 percent of] all fees in connection with permits relevant to the installation of an accessory sign[; and].

Res. No. 1396

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation in relation to providing tax breaks to pet dealers that facilitate the adoption of household pets.

By Council Member Holden.

Whereas, The Humane Society of the United States estimates that each year more than one million adoptable dogs and cats are euthanized in the United States, simply because too many pets come into shelters and too few people consider adoption when looking for a pet; and

Whereas, In New York City, there is a great need to encourage more people to adopt dogs and cats from animal shelters; and

Whereas, Animal Care Centers of New York City (ACC) is a not-for-profit rescue organization in New York City under contract with the City with a mission to end animal homelessness in New York City; and

Whereas, ACC is an open admission shelter, meaning the organization will accept any animal, regardless of breed or species; and

Whereas, ACC is the largest pet organization in the northeast and had an adjusted total intake of 21,514 animals in 2018; and

Whereas, While the ACC has made substantial progress in reducing euthanasia of animals at its shelters, from a high of 74% in 2002, and in 2018 reported a live release rate of 92.5%, it has thus-far failed to become a true no-kill shelter, putting 3,194 dogs and cats to death in 2018; and

Whereas, ACC strives to find loving homes for homeless and abandoned cats, dogs, and rabbits, both by adopting animals directly to the public and by partnering with more than 200 dedicated animal placement organizations; and

Whereas, Incentivizing private pet dealers to help ACC, and organizations like it, to place animals for adoption would assist such organizations in their missions to find homes for the tens of thousands of pets that flow through their doors each year; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign legislation that would provide tax breaks to pet dealers that facilitate the adoption of household pets accepted by a qualifying pound, duly incorporated professional organization or duly incorporated humane society

Resolution calling upon the New York City Department of Education to prohibit the use of screens for admission into community school district middle schools for the 2021-2022 school year.

By Council Members Lander, Rivera, Torres, Barron, Powers, Reynoso, Menchaca, Chin, Rosenthal, Rose and Levin.

Whereas, In 1954, the United States Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Board of Education that segregated schools were unconstitutional under the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment; and

Whereas, While the Supreme Court's ruling declared school segregation unconstitutional over 65 years ago, research shows that today the United States school system remains segregated, with New York City (NYC), one of the most diverse cities in the world, having one of the most segregated school systems in the entire country; and

Whereas, Most public elementary schools and some middle schools are zoned schools that prioritize students who live in the neighborhood for admissions; however, some middle schools are unzoned and select students from across the city based on different criteria, including those set forth through screening processes; and

Whereas, New York Appleseed reports that 37% of middle school programs use some form of competitive screening which evaluate students based on their attendance, interviews, grades, test scores, an exam, or some combination of these criteria, and advocates contend that these criteria limit choice for students who are struggling academically and students who have behavioral challenges; and

Whereas, Limited unscreened schools, which unlike screened schools do not consider academic and attendance records, give priority to students who have attended a school's open house event, table at a high school fair, or informational session; however, attending these events may be challenging for parents who work long hours and therefore cannot attend such events with their children; and

Whereas, According to some researchers, such as Gary Orfield of the University of California, Los Angeles, screening processes often perpetuate racial and economic segregation; and

Whereas, The School Diversity Advisory Group reports that Black and Latinx students are disproportionately excluded from screened programs, as well as students with disabilities, English Language Learners and students who qualify for free and reduced priced lunch; and

Whereas, Research shows that schools that are racially and socioeconomically integrated provide a host of academic benefits for students; and

Whereas, According to the Century Foundation, students in integrated schools nationwide have higher average test scores, and a 2016 analysis by Citizens' Committee for Children of New York found that students in integrated schools were more than twice as likely to meet proficiency standards on the English Language Arts exam than students in intensely segregated schools; and

Whereas, The Century Foundation also reports that students in integrated schools are less likely to drop out of school and more likely to enroll in college and that these students benefit from more equitable access to resources, such as highly qualified teachers, better facilities, more challenging courses, and increased funding; and

Whereas, Recognizing the benefits of school integration, schools and school districts across the city have implemented diversity plans, including District 15, which is the only community school district to eliminate all academic screens for middle school enrollment, opting instead for a lottery system; and

Whereas, In November 2019, the New York Daily News reported that District 15's plan increased diversity with schools like M.S. 51 shifting from 47 percent White during school year (SY) 2018-19 to 28 percent in SY 2019-20, and the percentage of students who were living in temporary housing, experiencing poverty or learning English increasing from 34 percent to 50 percent from SY 2018-19 to SY 2019-20 respectively; and

Whereas, In August 2019, NYC's Department of Education (DOE) announced changes to the middle school and high school admissions process that included reducing admission rounds from two rounds to one round and wait-listing students for schools they list higher on their application than the school that they receive an offer for; and

Whereas, The Department's announcement and plans were silent on how it intended to address the consequences of screened and limited unscreened schools across the school system, and today advocates contend that the implications of the coronavirus pandemic on the education system may exacerbate an already inequitable admissions process; and

Whereas, As reported by The Century Foundation, New York State canceled state exams due to the coronavirus, remote learning has made it challenging for schools to accurately track student punctuality and attendance, and DOE amended its grading policies to include broader categories such as "meets standards," "needs improvement" and "course in progress" in lieu of traditional letter and numerical grades; and

Whereas, The Century Foundation also notes that while some may contend that schools should use state test scores from the previous years, this process would be dubious as a student's ability could have dramatically improved or declined from 12 months ago, and SY 2019-20 was many third grade students' first year taking a statewide exam; and

Whereas, There are also some issues with using student grades from SY 2019-20 as during remote learning, not every student had a quiet place to study or sufficient technology and bandwidth to learn from home, and while some people may consider using grades from the first semester of school, one semester of school does not adequately show a student's complete academic abilities; and

Whereas, While The Century Foundation contends that that the DOE should, in the short-term, suspend the use of screening processes for SY 2020-21 given the impact of the current pandemic, it also contends that, in the long-term, DOE should consider changing the way students are admitted into public schools; and

Whereas, New York City is one of the most diverse cities in the world, but the school system does not reflect that diversity; this is true for many reasons but is at least in part because it has adopted a screening process that disallows many of its students from benefiting from such diversity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York City Department of Education to prohibit the use of screens for admission into community school district middle schools for the 2021-2022 school year.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting housing discrimination on the basis of arrest or criminal record

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 8-107 of title 8 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subdivision 5-a to read as follows:

5-a. Arrest and criminal conviction records; housing. (a) Definitions. For purposes of this subdivision, "landlord" means owner, lessor, sub-lessor, lessee, sub-lessee, assignee, mortgagee, vendee or managing agent of, or other person having the right to sell, rent or lease or approve the sale, rental or lease of a housing accommodation, constructed or to be constructed, or any other person, firm, or corporation directly or indirectly in control of a dwelling; "applicant" means any person or persons seeking to rent, lease, sublease, or enter into an occupancy agreement for a housing accommodation, or who requests information from a landlord or real estate broker related to seeking a rental, lease, sublease, or occupancy agreement for a housing accommodation; "conviction" means any sentence arising from a verdict or plea of guilty or nolo contendere, including a sentence of incarceration, a suspended sentence, a sentence of probation, or a sentence of unconditional discharge; "criminal history inquiry" means any question communicated to an applicant in writing or otherwise, directly or indirectly, or any searches of publicly available records, or any criminal background checks or any such other conduct intended to gather information from or about an applicant's criminal history, including any criminal convictions, any arrests, any records which have been expunged, the subject of an executive pardon, the subject of a certificate of relief from disabilities, or otherwise legally nullified or vacated, any adjudications of juvenile delinquency or youthful offender adjudications, or any records which have been sealed; and "adverse action" means a denial of, an increase in charge for, a failure to take action on an application for, additional requirements in connection with, or other unfavorable change in the terms of a rental, lease, sublease or occupancy agreement for a housing accommodation, including but not limited to termination of or failure to renew such rental, lease, sublease, or occupancy agreement.

(b) It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any real estate broker, landlord, or employee or agent thereof to make a criminal history inquiry regarding an applicant or to take adverse action against an applicant for having been arrested or convicted of one or more criminal offenses.

(c) Advertising. In connection with any rental, lease, sublease or occupancy agreement for any housing accommodation, it shall be unlawful for any real estate broker, landlord, or employee or agent thereof to declare, print or circulate or cause to be declared, printed or circulated any solicitation, advertisement or publication, which expresses, directly or indirectly, any limitation in such housing accommodation based on a person's arrest or criminal conviction record.

(d) Applicability. This subdivision shall not apply to:

(1) Any actions taken by a real estate broker or landlord pursuant to any federal or state law or regulation that requires consideration of criminal history for housing purposes.

(2) The rental of a room or rooms in a housing accommodation, if such rental is by the occupant of the housing accommodation or by the owner of the housing accommodation, and the owner or members of the owner's family reside in such housing accommodation.

§2. This local law shall take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the commission may take such actions as are necessary to implement this local law, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10753/S.8715 and A.10570/S.8732, exempting face coverings, including face masks or shields and cloth face coverings, from sales and use tax.

By Council Members Levin and Yeger,

Whereas, A novel coronavirus, called SARS-CoV-2, first emerged in late 2019 and spread rapidly around the world; and

Whereas, The virus has greatly impacted New York City, which was the epicenter of the pandemic for months; and

Whereas, As of August 18, 2020, 227,158 residents of New York City had tested positive for COVID-19, the disease caused by SARS-CoV-2, with nearly 57,000 hospitalized for treatment; and

Whereas, COVID-19 has disproportionately impacted New Yorkers who are Black, Latinx, and lower income; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), masks act as a simple barrier to help prevent respiratory droplets from traveling into the air and onto other people when the individual wearing the mask coughs, sneezes, talks, or raises their voice; and

Whereas, According to the CDC, masks are most likely to reduce the spread of COVID-19 when they are widely used by people in public settings; and

Whereas, In early April 2020, New York City and State started mandating New Yorkers wear face coverings when they go outside and are unable to socially distance, or maintain at least six feet of distance between themselves and others; and

Whereas, The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) defines face coverings as any well-secured paper or cloth, like a bandana or scarf, that covers a person's nose and mouth; and

Whereas, A.10753/S.8715, sponsored by Assembly Member Jo Ann Simon and Senator Roxanne J. Persaud, and A.10570/S.8732, sponsored by Assembly Member Kimberly Jean-Pierre and Senator Kevin S. Parker, all call for face coverings of various types to be exempt from sales and use tax; and

Whereas, A.10753/S.8715 exempts protective face masks or shields worn to help slow the spread of COVID-19 from sales and compensating use taxes; and

Whereas, A.10570/S.8732 exempts the sale of cloth face coverings used to prevent the spread of COVID-19 from sales and use taxes; and

Whereas, A.10753/S.8715 and A.10570/S.8732 would apply to materials manufactured with the intent of covering the nose and mouth, and would exempt them from the 4 percent state sales tax/compensating use tax; and

Whereas, A.10753/S.8715 includes face shields, which are designed to protect the wearer against infection from airborne droplets, and are primarily used for eye protection for persons wearing them; and

Whereas, Since all New Yorkers over the age of two years old are required to wear a face mask when they cannot socially distance, the State should do all it can to ensure that masks are as accessible and affordable as possible; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10753/S.8715 and A.10570/S.8732, exempting face coverings, including face masks or shields and cloth face coverings, from sales and use tax

Such notification shall describe: (i) the nature of the service disruption, and the extent of its effect on reservations, bookings, and agreements to use hotel services; and (ii) the right to cancel the reservation, booking, or agreement to use hotel services without the imposition of any fee, penalty or other charge, and obtain a full refund of any deposit paid.

d. A guest shall be provided a full refund of the amount paid for any portion of a stay affected by a service disruption, including one which arises only after the guest has checked-in, unless the hotel provided prominent and clear notice to the guest of such service disruption, pursuant to subdivision b, prior to the guest's arrival at the hotel.

§ 20-852. Penalties. a. A hotel owner who violates or causes another person to violate a provision of this subchapter or any rule promulgated pursuant to such subchapter, shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows:

4. for the fourth and any subsequent violations issued for the same offense within a period of two years of the date of the first violation, a civil penalty of $5,000.

b. A proceeding to recover any civil penalty pursuant to this section shall be commenced by the service of a summons or notice of violation which shall be returnable to the office of administrative trials and hearings.

Res. No. 1399

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A10433/S5167, which would allow for state agencies, municipalities, and authorities to provide state or local public benefits regardless of immigration status.

By Council Members Menchaca and Chin.

Whereas, In 1996, President Bill Clinton signed into law the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act (PRWORA), enacting drastic changes to the nation's welfare and safety net programs; and

Whereas, Among the many changes set in motion by the PRWORA, the Act explicitly restricted eligibility for most means-tested benefits and many services offered at the federal, state and local level for all categories of non-citizens, with certain exceptions; and

Whereas, The PRWORA barred states and localities, in addition to the federal government, from providing "any retirement, welfare, health, disability, public or assisted housing, postsecondary education, food assistance, unemployment benefit, or any other similar benefit for which payments or assistance are provided to an individual, household, or family eligibility unit;" and

Whereas, Generally, emergency healthcare and services, short-term in-kind emergency disaster relief, public health assistance for immunization and treatment of communicable diseases, and programs, services or assistance specified by the U.S. Attorney General, are exempt from the noncitizen eligibility restriction; and

Whereas, Refugees, Asylees, Lawful Permanent Residents having resided at least five years in the U.S., certain individuals granted parole or whose deportations have been withheld by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Cuban/Haitian entrants, and survivors of domestic violence and severe forms of trafficking, are considered exempt from the restricted eligibility set out in the PWRORA; and

Whereas, In 2002, the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 broadly restored food assistance eligibility to most lawfully permanent non-citizens, including individuals who resided in the US for five years, children under 18, and individuals receiving disability-related assistance; and

Whereas, While the PRWORA restricts the provision of benefits and services to ineligible noncitizens by states and localities, it grants states the authority to pass laws to extend state- and local-funded benefits and services to ineligible noncitizens through the enactment of state laws; and

Whereas, Under this last provision, several states have enacted laws that extend eligibility to certain categories of noncitizens explicitly excluded from benefits eligibility by PWRORA; and

Whereas, For example, in 1998, California enacted legislation that extended state-funded cash assistance to elderly and/or disabled noncitizens who would otherwise be eligible for SSI/SSP cash assistance, but for their immigration status; and

Whereas, California also enacted legislation to extend food assistance to noncitizens who had been eligible for such assistance prior to the passage of PRWORA, and remained eligible but for their immigrant status; and

Whereas, Other examples of states enacting legislation to expand eligibility to residents otherwise restricted by PRWORA include expanding occupational and professional licenses to eligible individuals in California and Illinois, and expanding access to locally-funded nonemergency health benefits regardless of immigration status in Texas; and

Whereas, Another category of benefit that has been extended in at least 21 states and the District of Columbia, including New York, regards extending in-state tuition to all state residents, regardless of immigration status, with 12 states and the District of Columbia additionally offering state-funded financial aid to residents regardless of immigration status; and

Whereas, In its 2019-2020 legislative session, the New York State Legislature is contemplating legislation (A10433/S05167), currently sponsored by Assembly Member Catalina Cruz and State Senator Roxanne Persaud that would allow for state agencies, municipalities, and authorities to provide state or local public benefits regardless of immigration status; and

Whereas, This bill would be the first of its kind in the nation to expressly grant broad authority for the extension of any or all state and local public benefits, and could potentially provide much needed relief to vulnerable foreign-born communities, largely excluded from public benefits since 1996; and

Whereas, More than 3.1 million immigrants call New York City home, nearly half of whom could be currently ineligible for most public benefits, under PRWORA restrictions; and

Whereas, Non-citizen New Yorkers have significantly lower median earnings, less than $30,000, as compared to $48,000 for U.S.-born New Yorkers, despite having similar or greater labor participation; and

Whereas, According to NYC’s Mayor’s Office of Immigrant Affairs, more than a quarter of all noncitizen New Yorkers currently live at or below the poverty rate; and

Whereas, Those currently excluded from public benefits under PRWORA includes more than 500,000 undocumented New Yorkers, who are almost twice as likely as their U.S.-citizen counterparts to lack health insurance; and

Whereas, Passage of A10433/S5167 would extend the right to localities, specifically New York City, to extend city-funded public benefits programs such as cash assistance to all residents, regardless of immigration status; and

Whereas, In the wake of the coronavirus pandemic, and in anticipation of future crises, this legislation could have far-reaching impact by allowing the City to provide directly for the needs of its most vulnerable, and heretofore excluded, immigrant communities; and

Whereas, Half of immigrant workers in New York City have experienced job losses due to the pandemic, further exacerbating the vulnerability of individuals who are barred from public benefits and safety net assistance; now, therefore, be it,

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign into law, A10433/S5167, which would allow for state agencies, municipalities, and authorities to provide state or local public benefits regardless of immigration status.

Res. No. 1400

Resolution calling upon the New York City Department of Education to remove attendance measures as criteria for admissions to screened schools and programs in New York City public schools.

By Council Member Powers.

Whereas, The New York City Department of Education (DOE) is the largest public school system in the United States (U.S.) with approximately 1.1 million students; and

Whereas, As of September 2019, there are 1,866 schools within the DOE including 260 charter schools; and

Whereas, DOE's policies and procedures regarding student admissions and transfers are detailed in Chancellor's Regulation A-101 and are implemented through the Office of Student Enrollment; and

Whereas, Admission to all school levels (pre-K, elementary, middle school and high school) is now centralized and in all cases applications can be submitted online, or in person at a Family Welcome Center; and

Whereas, At all levels, students can apply to up to 12 schools or programs in order of preference; and

Whereas, Admissions priorities for elementary school, which starts with Kindergarten, are primarily based on whether the student lives in the zone or district served by the school and whether they have a sibling at the school; and

Whereas, Most elementary students attend their "zoned" elementary school, which means they live in an area zoned for a specific school, but can also apply to any non-zoned schools in their district or borough; and

Whereas, However, at the middle school and high school levels, there are far fewer zoned schools; and

Whereas, Admissions priorities vary for each non-zoned school or program and there are a variety of admissions methods; and

Whereas, For some programs, applicants receive admissions offers based on random selection, while for other programs, applicants are evaluated based on selection criteria and then ranked based on that evaluation; and

Whereas, Programs that admit students based on specific selection criteria such as academic record, talent, or English Language Learner status are called "screened" programs; and

Whereas, Schools and programs that use a screened admission method evaluate applicants based on selection criteria that may include report card grades, standardized test scores, internal assessments, and/or attendance and punctuality, which are then used to rank students based on that evaluation; and

Whereas, Admissions offers are made to ranked students by priority group and in ranking number order; and

Whereas, Using a student's attendance record, including the number of absences and/or late arrivals to school, for admissions eligibility to various schools and programs is problematic as it is often out of the student's control; and

Whereas, Tardiness may be caused by the student's parent or other challenging circumstances such as transportation problems, and should not be held against the student; and

Whereas, Similarly, an elementary or middle school student's absence is generally determined by a parent and may be due to illness or appointments with medical professionals or social service offices, or other critical needs and therefore should not be held against the student; and

Whereas, Further, it is important to encourage students who are sick to remain at home and not come to school where they can spread the illness to others; and

Whereas, In fact, due to the COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent closure of school buildings in March 2020 for the remainder of the school year, the DOE temporarily suspended use of attendance in determining admissions in the upcoming school year in recognition of the extraordinary circumstances some students faced; and

Whereas, DOE's temporary suspension of attendance measures for use in admissions criteria should be made permanent; and

Whereas, Counting absences against students in school admissions provides a strong incentive for students to come to school even when they are sick; and

Whereas, To safeguard students' health, as well as to fairly evaluate students based on criteria that are under their control; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York City Department of Education to remove attendance measures as criteria for admissions to screened schools and programs in New York City public schools.

Res. No. 1401

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10731/S.8847, which would repeal the 1971 Hecht-Calandra Act and transfer control of admissions to New York City's specialized high schools to the City.

By Council Members Powers, Barron and Lander.

Whereas, The New York City ("NYC" or "City") Department of Education (DOE) school district is the largest public school system in the United States (U.S.), serving 1.1 million students in more than 1,800 schools across the five boroughs; and

Whereas, Of those 1,800 schools, there are nine Specialized High Schools supporting the education needs of students who excel academically and/or artistically, including the Bronx High School of Science; the Brooklyn Latin School; the Brooklyn Technical High School; High School for Mathematics, Science and Engineering at City College of New York; High School of American Studies at Lehman College; Queens High School for the Sciences at York College; Staten Island Technical High School; Stuyvesant High School; and Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts ("LaGuardia"); and

Whereas, LaGuardia is considered to be one of the most prestigious performing art schools in the U.S., while the other eight schools rank among the top 10 high schools in the state of New York ("State"), according to the U.S. News' 2019 rankings; and

Whereas, Apart from LaGuardia, which bases admission on an audition and a review of a student's academic records, admission to the Specialized High Schools is determined by a student's performance on a single standardized exam, known as the Specialized High School Admissions Test ("SHSAT"); and

Whereas, In 1971, the State Legislature passed the Hecht-Calandra Act, which made the SHSAT the single metric that can be used to admit students to the then four Specialized High Schools in NYC; and

Whereas, The Hecht-Calandra Act effectively prevents the City from making decisions about admissions to its Specialized High Schools; and

Whereas, No other public school district in the U.S. uses a single measure entrance exam; and

Whereas, Many studies have shown that racial bias in standardized testing shows up in multiples ways; and

Whereas, While Black and Latinx students comprise 70 percent of the City's public school population and 45 percent of all students who took the SHSAT in 2020, only 11 percent of students admitted to the Specialized High Schools were Black or Latinx; and

Whereas, At Stuyvesant High School, the City's most selective public high school, out of 766 students accepted, only 10 were Black and 20 Latinx; and

Whereas, These numbers continue a long trend of low Black and Latinx enrollment at the City's Specialized High Schools; and

Whereas, Despite the fact that the landmark 1954 Brown v. Board of Education decision made integrating public schools a nationwide objective, NYC public schools remain among the most segregated in the country; and

Whereas, A.10731, sponsored by State Assembly Member Walter Mosley, and S.8847, sponsored by State Senator Julia Salazar, would repeal the 1971 Hecht-Calandra Act, which required that NYC Specialized High Schools utilize the SHSAT as the sole criterion for admission; and

Whereas, This law would remove the state mandate as to how the City must determine admissions to NYC's Specialized High Schools; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10731/S.08847, which would repeal the 1971 Hecht-Calandra Act and transfer control of admissions to New York City's specialized high schools to the City.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing an emergency student food plan

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 30-104.1 to read as follows:

§ 30-104.1 Emergency student food plan. a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Chancellor. The term “chancellor” means the chancellor of the city school district of the city of New York.

School. The term “school” means any elementary, middle or high school within the jurisdiction of the New York city department of education and in any educational facility owned or leased by the city of New York, holding some combination thereof, including, but not limited to, district 75 schools.

Such plan shall include, but not be limited to the following features, provided that nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the ability of agencies responding to an emergency to implement plans, modify plans, or take steps not described in any written plan, in a manner appropriate to circumstances particular to that emergency:

1. A description of how the city will provide students with access to breakfast, lunch and dinner, including but not limited to how and to what extent the city will disseminate information to the public about the availability of food; manage requests for support from emergency, not-for-profit entities that provide food and water; arrange for or coordinate disaster feeding for students; and coordinate food donations, food business and emergency food providers that may want to provide for feeding students;

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the department of education to report on remote learning attendance

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Title 21-A of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new chapter 29 to read as follows:

*CHAPTER 29
REMOTE LEARNING ATTENDANCE*

§ 21-1000 Report on remote learning. a. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

COVID-19. The term “COVID-19” means the 2019 novel coronavirus or 2019-nCoV.

School. The term “school” means a school of the city school district of the city of New York.

b. No later than October 1, 2020, and every week thereafter, the department shall submit to the mayor, the speaker of the council, the public advocate, the school diversity advisory group, all community education councils and post on the department’s website a report on student attendance throughout the previous week during which remote learning was utilized in place of in-person instruction. The department shall include student attendance data where remote learning was utilized along with part time in-person instruction. Such data shall be disaggregated by school, school district, grade, race, individualized education plan status, multilingual language learner status and English language learner status.

c. If any category of data reporting required by subdivision b of this section contains between one and five students, or allows another category to be narrowed to between one and five students, the number shall be replaced with a symbol. A category that contains zero shall be reported as zero, unless such reporting would violate any applicable provision of federal, state or local law relating to the privacy of student information.

d. No information that is required to be reported pursuant to this section shall be reported in a manner that would violate any applicable provision of federal, state or local law relating to the privacy of personal information or that would interfere with law enforcement investigations or otherwise conflict with the interests of law enforcement.

§ 2. This local law takes effect immediately.

Res. No. 1402

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.4987/S.1931, which would restore voting rights to parolees.

By The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams).

Whereas, The right to vote is the most fundamental right of citizens and the bedrock of democracy; and

Whereas, New York State law currently rescinds the right to vote from any person convicted of a felony, unless he or she has completed his or her maximum sentence of imprisonment, been discharged from parole, or been pardoned or restored to the rights of citizenship by the Governor; and

Whereas, New York State law allows individuals on probation to vote, but not those on parole, a distinction that causes administrative confusion and has often led to illegal disenfranchisement; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Department of Corrections and Community Supervision's most recent annual report, as of December 31, 2018, there were 36,127 individuals on active parole in New York State; and

Whereas, According to the same report, parolees were disproportionately African-American (47 percent) or Hispanic (23 percent); and

Whereas, According to the same report, the majority (51 percent) of parolees in New York State were New York City residents; and

Whereas, According to the New York City Department of Correction's figures for Fiscal Year 2018, African-American and Hispanic individuals were also disproportionately represented in New York City jails, which are often points along the road to State prison, at 53 percent and 33 percent, respectively; and

Whereas, in December 2018, the New York City Council passed three local laws requiring the Department of Probation to inform individuals on probation of their voting rights, requiring the Department of Correction to inform individuals released from City jails of their voting rights, and requiring agencies to assist eligible parolees with voter registration, enacted as Local Laws 2, 6, and 11 of 2019, respectively; and

Whereas, On April 18, 2018, Governor Cuomo signed Executive Order 181, which set forth a process by which, on a monthly basis, the Governor would grant conditional pardons to individuals on parole, thereby restoring their voting rights; and

Whereas, On May 22, 2018, Governor Cuomo issued his first set of conditional pardons, pardoning 24,086 individuals and restoring them to the franchise; and

Whereas, As of December 2019, more than 49,000 individuals on parole have had their voting rights restored; and

Whereas, While Executive Order 181 has restored voting rights to tens of thousands of parolees, it is not a permanent legislative fix; and

Whereas, Changing the law to restore voting rights to parolees would reduce administrative confusion and reduce the administrative burden of processing tens of thousands of pardons each month; and

Whereas, Restoring parolees' right to vote would help mitigate the systemic racism perpetuated by a system that disproportionately disenfranchises people of color on account of being on parole; and

Whereas, Civic engagement through voting is an essential element of being an adult member of civil society, and essential to rehabilitating individuals who have been removed from civil society while in prison; and

Whereas, Parolees are already fully functioning members of society who work and pay taxes, and should be permitted to express their opinions about issues that affect their community, as any other citizen is; and

Whereas, By changing the law to restore voting rights to parolees, New York would join 18 other states and the District of Columbia in allowing parolees to vote; and

Whereas, In January 2019, New York State Senator Leroy Comrie introduced S.1931, which would restore voting rights to parolees; and

Whereas, In February 2019, New York State Assembly members Latrice Walker and David Weprin introduced A.4987, the companion bill to S.1931; and

Whereas, A.4987/S.1931 would, among other things, restore voting rights to those on parole, and require that individuals about to be released from State or Local correctional facilities be informed verbally and in writing of the restoration of their voting rights and provided voter registration materials and assistance in registering to vote; and

Whereas, Passing A.4987/S.1931 would help make New York a more fair and just society, and would strengthen its democracy; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.4987/S.1931, which would restore voting rights to parolees.

Referred to the Committee on Criminal Justice.

Res. No. 1403

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10255, in relation to establishing a “COVID-19 emergency small landlord assistance fund”.

By The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Gjonaj and Chin.

Whereas, On March 20, 2020, Governor Andrew Cuomo signed an executive order which required all non-essential New York businesses to reduce their in person workforce by 100% in order to limit the spread of COVID-19 and established a moratorium on residential and commercial evictions during the COVID-19 state of emergency; and

Whereas, According to a May 22, 2020 news article in the New York Daily News entitled, “I’ve Tried Everything’: NYC Residents Struggle For Food Stamps Amid Historic Unemployment Levels,” many New Yorkers are currently unemployed due to the COVID-19 pandemic and are struggling to receive access to government assisted programs such as unemployment insurance and food stamps; and

Whereas, To address the financial hardship that many New Yorkers are facing, the New York State legislature is currently considering several bills that aims to provide mortgage relief and rent suspension payments for commercial and residential tenants who have been impacted by the COVID-19 state of emergency; and

Whereas, A negative consequence of these state bills is that they could still result in a financial hardship for property owners who are accumulating operating and maintenance expenses during the COVID-19 pandemic; and

Whereas, There are also some property owners who do not have mortgages, yet will still need help to address the financial hardship that a rent suspension would create; and

Whereas, A.10255, introduced by State Assembly Member Yuh Line Niou, would establish a COVID-19 emergency small homeowner assistance fund for property owners who could have their rent payment suspended by state law due to the COVID-19 outbreak response; and

Whereas, A.10255, would establish the following criteria for a property owner to receive assistance: A) the property is made up of no more than 50 residential units, B) one third or more of the properties’ residential or commercial tenants had their rent payment suspended due to state law related to the COVID-19 response and C) the property is required to show financial hardship due to the suspension of the rental income; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.10255, in relation to establishing a “COVID-19 emergency small landlord assistance fund.”

Referred to the Committee on Housing and Buildings.

Res. No. 1404

Resolution calling on the United States Department of Justice to issue guidance that establishes protocols for the Executive Office of Immigration Review in times of public health crises, such as the SARS-CoV-2 outbreak.

By the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams).

Whereas, SARS-CoV-2 is the virus responsible for causing the new infectious disease known as COVID-19; and

Whereas, The first cases of humans infected with COVID-19 were identified in Wuhan, China in December 2019; and

Whereas, By June 2020, there were more than five million cases reported across the world and more than 300,000 deaths linked to the disease; and

Whereas, In New York City, there were more than 190,000 confirmed cases of COVID-19 and more than 16,000 confirmed deaths from the disease by June 2020; and

Whereas, In order to help slow the spread of the virus, New York Governor Cuomo signed the New York State on PAUSE executive order that, among other mandates, closed all non-essential businesses effective March 22, 2020; and

Whereas, This executive order led State and City government agencies to work remotely, where possible, and State courts either offered remote hearing options or postponed cases; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Justice' Executive Office of Immigration Review (EOIR) did not immediately issue a blanket policy on immigration court proceedings but rather delegated authority to each EOIR office throughout the United States, and on a case-by-case basis, specific judges made their own decisions about in-person hearings; and

Whereas, A lack of clear instructions and immediate options for filing documentation electronically meant that defendants and their attorneys, in addition to EOIR's own staff, put themselves at risk of contracting COVID-19 by continuing to attend in-person proceedings; and

Whereas, Official EOIR updates regarding court openings were regularly issued after business hours, solely in English, and on the social media platform Twitter; and

Whereas, In mid-March 2020, EOIR created a webpage on which court openings and closures appeared, as related to COVID-19; and

Whereas, In late March, EOIR also populated this webpage with other procedural updates, but as of June 2020, all this information is only available in English; and

Whereas, It was not until 11:55pm on March 17 that a notice was posted to Twitter that all non-detained cases were postponed, beginning, presumably at 12:00am on March 18, and it was not until March 31 that electronic filings were permitted for ongoing cases; and

Whereas, Advocates and public defenders representing clients before EOIR have expressed frustration at the e-filing system's file size limit and EOIR itself tweeted that it "cannot provide technical support or confirm receipt of filings" when the system was initially made available nationally; and

Whereas, Court protocols informed by public health experts are critical to ensure due process for all individuals interacting with the immigration court system while lowering the health risk posed to all individuals interacting in person with this system; and

Whereas, These protocols must additionally be translated into multiple languages and be broadly disseminated; and

Whereas, New York City is home to more than three million immigrants who speak over 200 languages; and

Whereas, As of March 2020, the New York City-area EOIR court had more than 100,000 cases pending, including over 30,000 new deportation orders filed in 2019 alone, and

Whereas, As a matter of policy, New York City is committed to the due process rights of all New Yorkers, regardless of immigration status, and has enshrined this commitment by funding deportation defense attorneys through the City Council's New York Immigrant Family Unity Project, in addition to the provision of other legal services; and

Whereas, Anti-immigrant policies furthered by the Trump administration have made the current climate particularly hostile to immigrants everywhere, especially New Yorkers; and

Whereas, As New York City begins to re-open non-essential services, in tandem with New York State and Federal guidance, under the advice of public health experts, it is imperative that official guidance on immigration court re-openings be informed by public health professionals, disseminated through official channels, and in multiple languages, in a timely fashion; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the city of New York calls on the United States Department of Justice to issue guidance that establishes protocols for the Executive Office of Immigration Review in times of public health crises, such as the SARS-CoV-2 outbreak.

Referred to the Committee on Immigration.

Res. No. 1405

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign A.10265/S.8175, in relation to prohibiting the rent guidelines board from increasing rents on one year leases during a state disaster emergency.

By The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Powers and Chin.

Whereas, According to the 2017 New York City Housing and Vacancy Survey, New York City has 946,514 rent stabilized apartments; and

Whereas, Rent stabilization provides many New Yorkers affordable housing by protecting tenants from steep rent increases; and

Whereas, The New York City Rent Guidelines Board (RGB) establishes an allowable rent increase each year for rent stabilized apartments based on a comprehensive review of data that includes recent statistics on tenant income, economic trends, owner revenue, owner costs, and other changes in the housing supply to determine rent increases; and

Whereas, According to the 2020 Income and Affordability Study from the New York City Rent Guidelines Board, the median income for a rent stabilized household was $49,000 per year; and

Whereas, Public health crises, such as the COVID-19 outbreak, can create a dramatic downturn in economic activity that may result in significantly elevated unemployment levels, businesses declaring bankruptcies, economic inflation or deflation, budget shortfalls for state and local governments and a decrease in available credit for businesses and consumers; and

Whereas, Rent stabilized tenants who have lost their jobs and incurred other unexpected costs, such as medical bills, are facing financial ruin due to the COVID-19 pandemic and should not have to bear an additional burden, such as rising rents; and

Whereas, A.10265, introduced by State Assembly Member Harvey Epstein, and companion bill S.8175, introduced by State Senator Julia Salazar, would prohibit the rent guidelines board from increasing the rent for any one year lease during a declared state disaster emergency; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign A.10265/S.8175, in relation to prohibiting the rent guidelines board from increasing rents on one year leases during a state disaster emergency.

Res. No. 1406

Resolution calling on the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, H.R.7027 and S.3874, the Child Care is Essential Act.

By Council Members Rivera and Chin.

Whereas, The outbreak of the new coronavirus, COVID-19, has sparked the largest economic recession since the Great Depression, according to the International Monetary Fund; and

Whereas, In May, 2020, The Washington Post indicated that the country's fragile child care system is at risk of collapse from the reduced enrollments and revenues caused by the COVID-19 crisis; and

Whereas, According to the Center for American Progress, the COVID-19 pandemic has put nearly half of the country's child care programs in danger of permanent closure; and

Whereas, Child care providers that ensure children are cared for during the COVID-19 pandemic allow essential workers on the front lines to serve our communities and support our economy; and

Whereas, The closure of New York City's schools, the nation's largest school district, has directly impacted the well-being of over 1.1 million students by sending families scrambling for resources and child care during a time of economic uncertainty; and

Whereas, The Center for American Progress has emphasized that disproportionate effects in the child care crisis currently keep many women out of the workforce due to the lack of available child care programs; and

Whereas, The New York State Department of Labor reported that New York City's unemployment rate was 20.4 percent in June 2020, growing over two percent from May 2020 and a rise of 16.4 percent from June 2019; and

Whereas, The Child Care is Essential Act, H.R.7027, introduced by U.S. Representative Rosa DeLauro, and S.3874, introduced by U.S. Senator Patty Murray, would establish a $50 billion stabilization fund to award grants to child care providers during and after the COVID-19 public health emergency; and

Whereas, Other industries have received large bailouts to ensure they survive the COVID-19 pandemic, yet child care has not seen the major investments needed to stabilize the industry during the crisis; and

Whereas, To help our economy and families thrive, workers in New York City and across the country should be provided with the child care resources and support needed to help them return to work; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, H.R.7027 and S.3874, the Child Care is Essential Act.

Res. No. 1407

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation granting the City of New York long-term borrowing authority for City expenditures arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and resulting fiscal crisis.

By Council Members Rosenthal, Treyger, Van Bramer, Koo, Cohen, Chin, Maisel, Richards, Levin, Vallone, Salamanca, Dromm, Levine, King, Constantinides, Rose, Miller, Cumbo, Gibson and the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams).

Whereas, New York City has been the epicenter of the COVID-19 pandemic with over 237,000 cases and more than 23,000 deaths; and

Whereas, As a result of the pandemic, businesses and offices were required to shut down in order to stop the spread of the virus, leading to a quick and significant contraction of the City's economy; and

Whereas, The City is also facing skyrocketing unemployment with a June 2020 unemployment rate of 20.4 percent compared to only 3.9 percent just a year before, as reported by the New York State Department of Labor; and

Whereas, Because of the decreased business activity and the high unemployment rate, the City's forecasted tax revenues plummeted by $7 billion between the Fiscal 2021 Preliminary and Adopted Budgets; and

Whereas, The combined impact of the COVID-19 pandemic itself and the resulting budget shortfall and economic downturn arguably makes this one of the most extraordinary crises in the City's history; and

Whereas, In the past, when the City has had to deal with a sudden hit to its budget and economy, the State Legislature and the Governor granted the City the authority to engage in long-term borrowing to cover operational expenses; and

Whereas, For example, after the September 11, 2001 terrorist attack, the State authorized the Transitional Finance Authority to issue bonds to borrow billions of dollars for both operational and long-term spending related to the recovery efforts; and

Whereas, That borrowing allowed the City to pay for the expenses related to September 11 without having to sacrifice critical City services; and

Whereas, The City is currently facing a similar situation and would benefit from similar borrowing authority; and

Whereas, The additional influx of revenue could allow the City to avert the layoff of thousands of critical City workers and help maintain the City's social safety net services; and

Whereas, To date, the federal government has not stepped up to provide the City with the level of federal stimulus that is truly needed to help us deal with our current budget situation, hasten our economic recovery, and avoid the need for long-term borrowing; and

Whereas, The City cannot wait for the federal government to act and must instead look to the State for assistance; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation granting the City of New York long-term borrowing authority for City expenditures arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and resulting fiscal crisis.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Res. No. 1408

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A. 10440/S. 8307, relating to accreditation, approval, and operation of midwifery birth centers.

By Council Members Rosenthal and Gibson.

Whereas, A novel coronavirus, called SARS-CoV-2, first emerged in late 2019 and spread rapidly around the world; and

Whereas, The virus has greatly impacted New York City, which was the epicenter of the pandemic for months; and

Whereas, As of July 28, 2020, 220,907 residents of New York City had tested positive for the disease caused by SARS-CoV-2, called COVID-19, with over 56,000 hospitalized for treatment; and

Whereas, COVID-19 has disproportionately impacted New Yorkers who are Black, Latinx, and lower income; and

Whereas, New York City's hospital systems were stretched dangerously thin during the crisis, with hospitals concerned about access to equipment and resources; and

Whereas, Pregnant people and people giving birth during the pandemic are facing additional stress and barriers to care, along with the typical stress associated with childbirth; and

Whereas, According to the New York Times, people who gave birth during the peak of cases in the city in spring 2020 reported issues with being able to have their partners with them for the duration of their recovery, with being separated from their newborns if they test positive for COVID-19, and with other issues; and

Whereas, According to the American Association of Birth Centers, a birth center is a freestanding health care facility for childbirth where care is provided in the midwifery and wellness model, and is not a hospital; and

Whereas, In 2016, Public Health Law Article 28 was amended to promote midwifery birth centers (MBCs), and, almost four years later, there is not a single MBC licensed under Article 28; and

Whereas, According to the New York Times, as of 2018, New York State had only three free-standing birthing centers, whereas Texas had more than 70 centers and California had about 40; and

Whereas, To better address the needs of pregnant people and newborns during the pandemic, the State developed a COVID-19 Maternity Task Force; and

Whereas; The Task Force recommended the New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH) move to expedite the finalization of the licensure process for the establishment of midwifery led birthing centers in New York State; and

Whereas, By expediting the final licensure process, NYSDOH will help to ensure there are sufficient birthing facilities available to meet community need during emergency situations; and

Whereas, Governor Andrew Cuomo, in response to the recommendations, announced that NYSDOH approved two new temporary birthing centers and is also now accepting Certificate of Need applications for MBCs pursuant to Public Health Law Article 28; and

Whereas, A. 10440/S. 8307, sponsored by Assembly Member Richard Gottfried and Senator Gustavo Rivera, relates to the accreditation, approval, and operation of MBCs; and

Whereas, This legislation would provide that if a proposed MBC meets the standards of a national accrediting organization that specializes in accrediting MBCs and is recognized by NYSDOH, then the proposed MBC shall be deemed to meet New York's requirements for issues covered by those standards; and

Whereas, A. 10440/S. 8307 would make it easier for MBCs to be established in New York, which will provide more birthing options for pregnant people; and

Whereas, COVID-19 and maternal mortality and morbidity disproportionately impact those who are Black and Latinx, therefore, the state should act to ensure individuals have as many safe birthing options as possible and work to further address racial health disparities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, The Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A. 10440/S. 8307, relating to accreditation, approval, and operation of midwifery birth centers

Referred to the Committee on Health.

Res. No. 1409

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.6983-B/S.4981-B, which would amend the New York State Criminal Procedure Law by strengthening protections for victims of human and sex trafficking.

By Council Members Rosenthal, Gjonaj and Chin.

Whereas, According to the United Nations, human trafficking is one of the fastest-growing international criminal industries in the world; and

Whereas, According to the United States Department of Health and Human Services, victims of human trafficking are often subjected to force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of sexual exploitation; and

Whereas, Victims of sex trafficking are often difficult to identify or track due to the nature of the industry in which they are involved; such victims engage in street prostitution and work for online escort services; and

Whereas, Because New York State, and in particular New York City, is a known destination for trafficked persons from all over the world who are commercially sexually exploited and forced into labor servitude, the State enacted an anti-trafficking law in 2010 which permitted victims of human trafficking to vacate prostitution-related criminal convictions that were directly related to their victimization; and

Whereas, A.6983-B, introduced by New York State Assemblymember Richard N. Gottfried, and companion bill S.4981-B, introduced by New York State Senator Jessica Ramos, seek to strengthen existing state laws by amending the New York State Criminal Procedure Law by vacating convictions for offenses resulting from sex trafficking, labor trafficking, and compelling prostitution; and

Whereas, A.6983-B/S.4981-B would include documentation with regard to sex trafficking, labor trafficking, and aggravated labor trafficking as additional grounds for a presumption that a victim was indeed a victim of trafficking; and

Whereas, A.6983-B/S.4981-B would require that judgments be vacated on the merits because the defendant's participation in the offense was a result of having been a victim of trafficking; and

Whereas, A.6983-B passed the Assembly and was delivered to the Senate on July 21, 2020; and

Whereas, Enacting this legislation would strengthen the state human trafficking law and focus on protecting victims; now, therefore, be it resolved

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.6983-B/S.4981-B, which would amend the New York State Criminal Procedure Law by strengthening protections for victims of human and sex trafficking.

d. The disclosures required by subdivisions b and c of this section shall be made as soon as practicable by a method reasonable under the circumstances. Provided said method is not inconsistent with the legitimate needs of law enforcement or any other investigative or protective measures necessary to restore the reasonable integrity of the data system, disclosure shall be made by at least one of the following means:

1. Written notice to the individual at his or her last known address; or
 2. Verbal notification to the individual by telephonic communication; or

- § 3. This local law takes effect 120 days after it becomes law.

Whereas, On March 1, 2020, New York City (NYC) announced its first case of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) as a result of infection with severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2); and

Whereas, The Centers for Disease Control reports that SARS-CoV-2 primarily spreads from person to person through respiratory droplets emitted when an infected individual sneezes or coughs; and

Whereas, On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the rapid spreading of the SARS-CoV-2 causing the disease COVID-19 a global pandemic; and

Whereas, To curb the spread of the coronavirus, NYC's public school system closed its school buildings to students on March 16, 2020, and on March 23, 2020 to teachers, shifting the City's 1.1 million students to fully remote learning for the remainder of the 2019-20 academic school year; and

Whereas, As of June 22, 2020, 79 Department of Education (DOE) employees, including 31 teachers, 28 paraprofessionals, two administrators, as well as other members of the school community, including bus drivers and other school staff, lost their lives to coronavirus-related illness; and

Whereas, As of August 25, 2020 NYC reported 23,666 deaths due to COVID-19; and

Whereas, On August 20, 2020, New York City Emergency Management reported that there were over 22 million COVID-19 positive cases globally and nearly 230,000 COVID-19 positive cases in NYC; and

Whereas, School districts in other states, including Georgia and Indiana, that opened their school buildings in August 2020 had to close their buildings due to widespread transmission of COVID-19; and

Whereas, In June and July 2020, many colleges and universities, including the City University of New York, announced that they will provide online instruction for the fall 2020 semester to curb the spread of COVID-19; and

Whereas, Colleges and universities, including The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, reverted to remote learning after the opening of its campus in August 2020 caused a spread of COVID-19 during the first week of classes; and

Whereas, Colleges and universities that have in-person learning plans, including Cornell University and Syracuse University, require that all undergraduate and graduate students provide proof of a negative COVID-19 test result before returning to campus; and

Whereas, On July 31, 2020, the City announced that it would reopen its school buildings in September with a hybrid schedule that includes a combination of onsite instruction and remote learning for students; and

Whereas, New York City is the only large school district in the country that is planning to reopen its school buildings this fall; and

Whereas, The City's school reopening plan does not require proof of a negative COVID-19 test result or an antibody test of its school staff and students before school buildings reopen and has not yet ensured that every school building in the City has been deemed safe and equipped with enough supplies and staff to curb the spread of the virus; and

Whereas, Families can choose to opt their children out of in-person learning and into fully remote learning; and

Whereas, Teachers can apply to teach remotely if they have underlying health conditions, but cannot if a family member has co-morbidities; and

Whereas, The de Blasio Administration has introduced a list of safety precautions it plans to take to reopen schools, including providing personal protective equipment (PPE) and cleaning supplies to all schools, providing access to a full-time nurse in every school building, and closing (or not reopening) school buildings if the infection rate of positive COVID-19 cases in NYC reaches three percent or above; and

Whereas, The de Blasio Administration has also stated that the City will prioritize free COVID-19 testing and expedite results for school staff, that the NYC Test + Trace Corps will investigate confirmed cases of COVID-19, and that the DOE will implement cleaning and quarantines when confirmed cases are reported in a school; and

Whereas, However, several news outlets, school administrators, teachers, and parents have reported that the implementation of such plans and protocols may be inadequate, and that the de Blasio Administration has not provided clear guidance or sufficient resources to school-based staff; and

Whereas, On August 12, 2020, the City's school administrators, represented by the Council of School Supervisors and Administrators, delivered a letter to the de Blasio Administration questioning the lack of adequate planning for school buildings to reopen and requesting a delay to the start of in-person learning; and

Whereas, During an August 19, 2020 press conference, United Federation of Teachers (UFT) president Michael Mulgrew, representing the teachers of the City, indicated that while teachers prefer and want in-person learning, individual school buildings should not reopen on September 10, 2020 unless they meet stringent health and safety standards proposed by the union; and

Whereas, The UFT proposed a three-point health and safety plan that would require that each school: pass the UFT's comprehensive safety review on PPE, ventilation, school nurse staffing, eating areas, and hallway movement; have a COVID-19 building response team responsible for implementing the procedures needed to keep the virus at bay and to isolate and deal with it quickly if there is a case; that every child and adult be tested for the virus before entering a school building whether it be an antibody or diagnostic test; and have a rigorous protocol of random intermittent testing and tracing in place; and

Whereas, The number of families opting to have their students receive fully remote instruction in the fall continues to grow, hitting 300,000 on August 12, 2020, and as of that date, approximately 15% of teachers requested to teach remotely; and

Whereas, According to a poll released on August 20, 2020 by The Education Trust–New York, across New York State, only 47% of Black parents and 61% of Latinx parents reported that their child will attend in-person instruction this fall where given the option, versus 74% of White parents; and

Whereas, According to the same poll, for families who are choosing to have their children learn from home, concerns of contracting COVID-19 were reported to be a major factor in their decision-making; now, therefore, be it,

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York City Department of Education to delay the reopening of public schools until each school meets the safety standards children and school staff require.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) made the following comments:

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged the August 23, 2020 shooting and serious injuring of an unarmed black man by police officers in Kenosha, Wisconsin. Jacob Blake, 29, was shot several times in the back as he entered his automobile where his three young sons were waiting for him. The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) asked that we not forget the black men and women who were lost to police violence. He acknowledged the lifetime of grief and fear experienced by the families of those who were killed. The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) urged that everyone work together to do better. He also thanked Council Member Cornegy for his words delivered earlier in the meeting condemning the ongoing loss of black lives to police misconduct and acts of violence throughout the country

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged the one hundredth anniversary of the adoption of the 19th Amendment that guaranteed women the right to vote in the United States. On behalf of all New Yorkers, he expressed gratitude to the trailblazers of the women’s suffrage movement for their tireless effort and commitment to justice. He also added that despite the passage of this amendment, black and Latina women would continue to face suppression in the exercise of this essential right.

The Speaker (Council Member Johnson) acknowledged that two staff members were leaving the Council: Alana Sivin and Alex Washington. Ms. Sivin was described as an instrumental member of the Criminal Justice team who worked on the effort to close Rikers Island. Mr. Washington was described as a vital member supporting the Transportation committee who recently worked to legalize e-bikes and e-scooters throughout the city. On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) expressed his gratitude for their service and he wished them the best on their future endeavors.

On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Johnson) offered his thoughts and prayers to the people of Texas and Louisiana on the devastating consequences of Hurricane Laura making landfall on August 27, 2020.

Whereupon on motion of the Speaker (Council Member Johnson), the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) adjourned these virtual proceedings to meet again for the Stated Meeting of Wednesday, September 16, 2020.
