ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Affordable housing applications are selected for review through a lottery process. If your number comes up in the lottery and your application appears to qualify, you will be invited to make an appointment to confirm your eligibility. That appointment is to review the documents that support the information on your application.

Appointments are usually scheduled from two to ten months after the application deadline. You will be asked to bring in documents about who will be living with you, how much money everyone you will be living with makes, your current apartment, and other information.

This guide helps you prepare for the appointment, if your number comes up in the lottery. It lists the documents you may need to bring and offers tips on how to find and prepare the copies you need.
Household Documents

If you are contacted for an appointment to confirm your eligibility, you will be asked to bring COPIES of documents that verify the people in your household. Please do not bring original documents, unless asked. Copies of these documents will remain on file – you will not get them back.

The developer will let you know which documents you are required to bring with you. All of the items below may be required.

DO YOU HAVE THESE DOCUMENTS?

Current Apartment

- □ Copy of your current lease, if you rent your own apartment. If you do not have a lease, a notarized letter from your landlord.
- □ Copies of your last three (3) to twelve (12) rent receipts or cancelled rent checks.
- □ Copies of your most recent electric and gas bills (in your name and showing your current address).
- □ Copy of your most recent telephone bill (in your name and showing your current address).
- □ If you do not rent your own apartment and you are living with someone else, bring a notarized letter from your housemate along with a copy of their lease and copies of their utility bills.

Where can I get documents notarized?

- Property management agents and local tax or law offices often have notaries on staff.
- Most banks will be able to notarize documents and the fee is nominal.

Household Members

- □ Copies of birth certificates for each person in the household
- □ Copies of Social Security cards for each person in the household
- □ Copies of picture ID for all persons over 18 (examples: driver’s license, passport, Military ID, NYC Municipal ID, non-driver ID)
- □ Copies of school letters verifying enrolment for everyone attending school (examples: New York City public school, private school, college, university)

Income Documents

Your household’s annual income is the “gross amount” earned by everyone over 18 who lives with you. “Gross amount” means what you were paid by your employer before taxes. Your gross income is usually more than your take-home pay. (Note: If you’re self-employed, you report your net income after deductions.)

Collect as much documentation as you can. The IRS says the documents below are acceptable proof of income. Provide income documents for every household member over 18.

DO YOU HAVE THESE DOCUMENTS?

Why are all these documents necessary?
HPD and HDC require all of these documents to confirm and calculate the total annual amount that your household makes – from regular employment and from other income sources.

Household Employment Income

Does anyone in your household earn a salary or hourly wages? The developer will tell you what documents are required. You’ll usually be asked to bring the following, for each household member:

- Copies of last six (6) most recent consecutive pay stubs
- Copies of last year’s W-2 forms (all pages)
- Copies of signed & completed federal and state tax returns from the last year
- Proof of cash payments (notarized letters from employers)
- Bank statements that support deposits

Is anyone in your household self-employed? For each self-employed household member, provide copies of:

- Copies of past 3 years’ signed Form 1040, with schedule C, E or F
- Copies of all 1099s from the last 3 years
- Copies of 3 years of state tax returns
Household Income from Other Sources

You must show documents about all the money you receive, even if it's not from a job. The developer will tell you what documents are required. You'll usually be asked to bring the following, for each household member:

Do you receive benefits or income listed below?
Copies of documentation for:

- Social Security award letter(s) for most recent calendar year (dated less than 30 days)
- Veteran’s Benefits (annual documentation)
- Income from rental properties
- Public Assistance Budget Letter
- Armed Forces Reserves

Do you receive dividends and/or annuities?
- Copies of statement from issuing institution(s)

Do you receive scholarship and/or grant money?
- Copies of dated award letters

Do you receive alimony and/or child support?
Provide copies of:

- Copies of separation or settlement agreement(s) stating the amount and type of support and payment schedule
- Copies of any official statement or print-out (dated within the last 120 days and showing activity and amounts), or a notarized affidavit.

Disability insurance, workers’ compensation, and/or severance payments?
- Copies of last six (6) current consecutive pay stubs or a verification letter

Do you receive recurring contributions and/or gifts?
Do you receive other forms of periodic income?

- Notarized statement and/or affidavit signed by the person providing assistance, including the purpose of the income, dates and value of gift(s), and how often the gift is provided (weekly, monthly, annually).
- Bank statements supporting receipt of these payments
You should document any problems you’ve had with your past landlords or with your credit. Even with these documents, there is no guarantee that you will be eligible for an apartment. Your application could still be rejected, even with good documentation.

Past Landlord Problems

Has a landlord ever filed legal action against you for any reason? If yes, bring copies of:

- All legal stipulations
- Any final legal judgments
- Satisfactions filed with court

Past Credit Problems

How is your credit history?

If you are selected for an appointment to confirm eligibility, your credit can be a factor in the decision-making process. You cannot be disqualified based solely on your credit score, but the information in your credit history matters. If you have any documentation about your credit, you may want collect it in advance. For example:

- Correspondence that shows the resolution of credit problems or debts
- Satisfaction of paid liens or judgments
- Current account balances
- Any final legal judgments

Please note that providing this information does not guarantee that you will be eligible for an apartment. To receive a free copy of your credit report visit http://www.annualcreditreport.gov.
