3 – How does the agency assess whether primary language determinations are properly recorded?

At DSS/HRA/DHS, a client’s preferred written and spoken languages are recorded when the client first encounters the Agency. These questions may be asked as part of an initial interview and the answers recorded by staff. Alternatively, clients may make their own selections from an online drop-down menu if they are applying online via AccessHRA (AHRA) or mark their language preferences on a paper application. DSS/HRA/DHS are aware that client’s lives are always changing. To provide clients with services in the language that works best for their current situation, the Agency provides clients with multiple, easy options to update their language indicators, without requiring that clients declare that it was previously incorrect. DSS/HRA/DHS clients can update their preferred language in one of three ways: 1. They can ask staff to update their language indicator. During some types of interactions, including applications and recertifications, staff are required to confirm that the language indicators recorded for a client are correct. Staff are always encouraged to confirm a client's language and, if appropriate, ask if the client would like it updated. 2. Clients can update their own language indicator via the AHRA website or ask a Community Based Organization (CBO) representative to do it for them through the provider portal. 3. Clients can call or email the Agency (via the website, Infoline, 311, etc.) and ask to change their language indicator.

4 – How does the agency assess whether documents are translated accurately and disseminated properly?

DSS/HRA/DHS staff members do not translate documents. All Agency documents are translated by Language Line Solutions, the largest provider of language services in the country. Language Line puts each document through an in-depth, multi-stage review process. Once the translations are returned to staff in the Office of Policy, Procedures and Training, they are again reviewed for formatting errors and inconsistencies. In addition to Language Line's internal review, DSS/HRA/DHS has contracted with a secondary translation vendor to provide professional quality assurance on our highest profile documents. As a part of the language access training that all front-line staff members receive every year, workers are told that if staff or clients identify any errors, or possible errors, in our translations, please submit them to the DSS Office of Refugee and Immigrant Affairs for consideration by our professional vendors. The same message is relayed to advocates. DSS/HRA primarily disseminates documents and materials through system-generated mailings. These mailings are automatically sent in the client's language of preference. If clients erroneously receive mail in the wrong language, they can correct their language indicators by contacting the Agency or by using AccessHRA, as described.
