

FALLEN FINEST

AUXILIARY POLICE SERGEANTS LARRY L. COHEN & NOEL R.T. FAIDE Highway Unit No. 1

COHEN

FAIDE

On Sunday, January 29, 1989, Auxiliary Sergeant Larry L. Cohen and Auxiliary Sergeant Noel R.T. Faide were struck and killed by a drunk driver while stopped to investigate a derelict vehicle on the side of the New England Thruway portion of I-95 in the Bronx.

The officers were pinned between the derelict auto and the highway divider when the vehicle being operated by the drunk driver struck the abandoned auto.

The drunk driver was apprehended and charged with manslaughter. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Sergeant Cohen was a professor of English at Middlesex Community College in New Jersey where his interests bridged many academic and community concerns. As an expert in Grant development, he was especially active in helping to raise funds for the Auxiliary Police Program.

Auxiliary Sergeant Larry L. Cohen served with the NYPD Auxiliary Police for 6 years and was 50 years old. He was survived by his wife, Georgia.

Sergeant Faide was a "Lead Mechanic" with Pan Am Airlines which is the "most senior" title a mechanic could hold. In addition, Sergeant Faide served as an Airman Second Class with the US Air Force.

Auxiliary Sergeant Noel R. T. Faide was 51 years old and served for 17 years. He was survived by his three children, Glynis, Glenn and Garrick; as well as his sister, Lynette.

