WHAT WE DO
The City University of New York (CUNY) provides higher education to more than 243,000 degree and nondegree seeking students and offers adult and continuing education with almost 160,000 course registrations. CUNY consists of 25 institutions: 11 senior colleges, seven community colleges, and seven graduate, honors and professional schools offering over 50 doctoral programs. CUNY enrolls students in 1,900 academic programs and has approximately 7,000 full-time faculty and 11,400 part-time faculty. In the academic year 2020–2021, CUNY granted 10,600 graduate and professional degrees, 29,600 baccalaureate degrees, 17,600 associate degrees, 300 certificates and 1,100 advanced certificates.

FOCUS ON EQUITY
CUNY is of vital importance for the upward mobility of the people of New York City. Ten of CUNY’s senior colleges are among the nation’s best in providing a pathway to economic mobility for low- and moderate-income graduates. CUNY offers all levels of training, from certificate programs to doctoral degrees, and an unprecedented number of students currently take advantage of this opportunity to obtain an excellent and affordable education. CUNY serves the diverse people of New York City; over 34 percent of CUNY students were born outside the US mainland, over 50 percent report an annual household income of less than $30,000 and two in three undergraduate students attend tuition-free. Last spring, over 59,000 new CUNY graduates entered the workforce or began work on more advanced degrees. In the key areas of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM), the Mayor’s critical multi-year investment in CUNY’s community colleges continues to enable thousands of students to earn STEM degrees and enter New York City’s vibrant high-tech sector.

With funding from the City, CUNY has expanded its highly successful Accelerated Study in Associate Programs (ASAP) initiative from 4,000 students in 2014–15, to 25,000 students each academic year. ASAP has more than doubled associate degree completion rates for participating students, aiming to graduate at least 50 percent of students in three years. ASAP is now considered a national model, having received the distinguished 2020 Innovations in American Government Award from the Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation at Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government. In the academic year 2021–2022, CUNY ASAP enrolled 20,427 (9,513 new) students and has served over 80,000 students since inception in 2007. Consistent with the Mayor’s investment in STEM success, ASAP expansion has an explicit focus on serving more STEM majors and a campus-wide expansion at Bronx Community College that guides all eligible incoming first-time, full-time freshmen into the program.

ASAP students are diverse and representative of the larger population of CUNY associate degree seeking students with 43 percent Hispanic, 33 percent Black, 13 percent Asian/Pacific Islander and 11 percent White. Over 87 percent of ASAP students receive federal Pell and/or New York State Tuition Assistance Program grants. ASAP students in all of these groups have three-year graduation rates of close to or above 50 percent. In addition, ASAP serves as an important entry point to CUNY’s senior colleges with close to 60 percent of students transferring to a baccalaureate program within six years of entering ASAP.
