

Zoning for Flood Resilience: Southern Brooklyn Workshop

Do you own a home in the floodplain?
Do you live in the Southern Brooklyn area?
Come to our workshop to learn how zoning changes can help make your neighborhood more resilient to flooding!

Wednesday, October 18 @ Coney Island YMCA
6:30 - 8:30 pm 2980 W 29th St, Coney Island

NYC Department of City Planning is holding a workshop on zoning for flood resilience, hosted at the Coney Island YMCA. The event will begin with a short presentation, followed by a workshop to help shape a future change to special zoning rules that govern development in the floodplain. Participants will also be able to meet with representatives from NYC Housing Authority (NYCHA), the Mayor's Office of Recovery and Resiliency (ORR), NYC Emergency Management, and NYC Housing Recovery Office/Build it Back.

NYC Mayor's Office of Recovery & Resiliency

NYC
Emergency Management

NYC
Recovery

Workshop Goals:

- Find out how zoning can make promote floodproofing strategies and make neighborhoods more resilient to flooding;
- Meet with agency representatives to learn about flood insurance, flood risk, coastal protection strategies, resiliency investments at NYCHA campuses, and emergency preparedness;
- Provide feedback on how zoning can help achieve building-scale resiliency and help establish urban design priorities for Southern Brooklyn and other coastal neighborhoods.
- Help shape a future change to the special zoning rules that govern development in the floodplain.

Co-sponsored by: Council Member Mark Treyger and Brooklyn Community Board 13

Interpretation available in Russian, Cantonese, and Spanish

RSVP:
<https://southernBKresilienceworkshop.eventbrite.com>

resilientneighborhoods@planning.nyc.gov

www.nyc.gov/resilientneighborhoods

NYC
PLANNING