

Zoning for Flood Resilience: Howard Beach Workshop

Do you own a home in the floodplain?

Do you live in the Howard Beach area?

Come to our workshop to learn how zoning changes can help make your neighborhood more resilient to flooding!

Tuesday, October 17
7:30 pm

St Helen Catholic Academy
83-09 157th Ave, Howard Beach

NYC Department of City Planning is holding an informational meeting and workshop about design and development in the floodplain, hosted at St. Helen Catholic Academy. Following a short presentation on zoning rules that were adopted after Hurricane Sandy to facilitate resilient buildings, participants will have the opportunity to share their ideas on how to shape a future update to these rules to advance resiliency in Howard Beach and across the city.

Workshop Goals:

- Learn about strategies to floodproof your home and protect it from future floods;
- Find out how zoning can make promote floodproofing strategies and make neighborhoods more resilient to flooding;
- Establish urban design priorities for Howard Beach and other coastal neighborhoods;
- Help shape a future change to the special zoning rules that govern development in the floodplain.

Co-Sponsored By:

NY State Senator Joseph P. Addabbo, Jr., NY State Assemblywoman Stacey Pheffer Amato, NYC Council Member Eric A. Ulrich, Queens Community Board 10, and Howard Beach Lindenwood Civic

RSVP:

<https://howardbeachresilienceworkshop.eventbrite.com>

resilientneighborhoods@planning.nyc.gov

www.nyc.gov/resilientneighborhoods

NYC
PLANNING

