OneNYC

About OneNYC

In April 2015, the City of New York released a new long-term strategic plan to address our most pressing challenges. The plan envisions how we want our City to look in ten years, twenty years, and beyond. OneNYC connects with other City efforts, including the Ten-year Capital Strategy, the Executive Budget, and the Center for Economic Opportunity's Poverty Report. The plan also helps ground and focus other Planning initiatives including the Department of City Planning PLACES studies.

What do you want to see in Gowanus? Give us your thoughts and suggestions!

Progress since April 2015

- Yorkers

Four Visions This plan is organized across four strategic visions for growth, equity, sustainability, and resiliency.

	Our Just and Equitable City
New York City will have the space and assets to be a global economic leader and grow quality jobs across a diverse range of sectors		Early Childhood	Every child in New York City will be nurtured, will b will thrive
New York City will have a workforce equipped with the skills needed to participate in the 21st century economy		Integrated Government & Social Services	All New Yorkers will have access to high-quality, c located, community-based City resources that pro- engagement and enable them to thrive
New Yorkers will have access to affordable, high-quality housing coupled with robust infrastructure and neighborhood services	(ig)	Healthy Neighborhoods,	New Yorkers of all ages will live, work, learn, and p
New York City's neighborhoods will continue to be thriving and well-served		Active Living	neighborhoods that promote an active and healthy
All New Yorkers will have easy access to cultural resources and activities		Healthcare Access	All New Yorkers will have access to the physical a healthcare services that they need
New York City's transportation network will be reliable, safe, sustainable, and accessible, meeting the needs of all New Yorkers and supporting the city's growing economy		Criminal Justice Reform	Among large U.S. cities, New York will continue to and will have the lowest rate of incarceration, with justice system that leads the nation in fairness and
New York City's infrastructure and built environment will exemplify global economic, environmental, and social leadership		Vision Zero	New Yorkers will continue to embrace Vision Zero traffic fatalities on New York City streets
	Our Resilient City
By 2050, New York City's greenhouse gas emissions will be 80% lower than in 2005		Neighborhoods	Every city neighborhood will be safer by stren social, and economic resiliency
New York City will be sending zero waste to landfills by 2030		Buildings	The city's buildings will be upgraded against impacts
New York City will have the best air quality of all large U.S. cities by 2030		Infrastructure	Infrastructure systems across the region will services
New York City's land remediation practices support the use of its entire stock of land to its full potential		Coastal Defense	New York City's coastal defenses will be stre flooding and sea level rise
New York City mitigates neighborhood flooding and offers every neighborhood high-quality water services, and more water fountains
New York City's useful, accessible, and beautiful outdoor or spaces benefit all New Yorkers			OnoNIVC doals and

Quadrupled solar energy citywide since 2013 to 96 Megawatts

• Energy and water efficiency programs serving nearly 4,000 buildings, almost 10% of the built square footage of NYC

• Expanded curbside organics collection to over 700,000 New to be the safes and efficiency ro and accept r enathenina communi st changing climate ill adapt to enable continue

engthened agains

OneNYC goals and initiatives