New York City – Environmental Justice Alliance

Juan Camilo Osorio, Director of Research

NYC-EJA is a non-profit organization that advocates for improved environmental conditions and against inequitable environmental burdens on low-income communities and communities of color. NYC-EJA's waterfront justice program addresses climate change impacts on industrial waterfront communities with the goal of building climate resilient industrial waterfronts while promoting local industrial jobs.

Waterfront Alliance

Michael Porto, Director of Outreach and Planning

The Waterfront Alliance is a coalition of nearly 900 organizations with the goal of making the New York and New Jersey harbor a shared, resilient, and accessible resource. The Waterfront Edge Design Guidelines (WEDG) program was developed by the Waterfront Alliance to promote resilient industrial and maritime sites and businesses.

Cutrona Architecture

Glen Cutrona, Chief Executive Officer

Cutrona Architecture is an award winning architectural firm engaged in the practice of architecture, interior design, and space planning. Cutrona Architecture recently led the design of a new, state of the art headquarters for the Sandy Hook Pilots.

International Center for Enterprise Preparedness (InterCEP)

Bill Raisch, Director

InterCEP is a research and development center housed at NYU dedicated to strategic risk management and organizational resilience. InterCEP leads the Metropolitan Resilience Network, an effort championed by the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to help businesses, government, and other stakeholders collaborate and enhance capabilities to address shared risks.
